NEW ISSUE BOOK-ENTRY ONLY

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under existing federal laws and assuming continuing compliance by THDA with federal tax law requirements, interest on the Issue 2011-1 Bonds is excluded from gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. Bond Counsel is also of the opinion that (i) interest on the Issue 2011-1A Bonds will be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax on individuals and corporations, (ii) interest on the Issue 2011-1B Bonds and the Issue 2011-1C Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, (iii) interest on the Issue 2011-1B Bonds will be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 as amended (the "Code"), and (iv) interest on the Issue 2011-1A Bonds will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code. In addition, Bond Counsel is of the opinion that, under existing laws of the State of Tennessee, the interest on the Issue 2011-1 Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Issue 2011-1 Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee. See "TAX MATTERS" herein.

The Issue 2011-1A Bonds (the "Issue 2011-1A Bonds"), the Issue 2011-1B Bonds (the "Issue 2011-1B Bonds") and the Issue 2011-1C Bonds (the "Issue 2011-1C Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2011-1A Bonds and the Issue 2011-1B Bonds, the "Issue 2011-1 Bonds" or the "Offered Bonds") are being issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in book-entry form and when delivered will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, New York, to which principal and interest payments on the Offered Bonds will be made. So long as Cede & Co. or another nominee of DTC is the registered owner of the Offered Bonds, payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Offered Bonds will be made directly to DTC. Disbursement of such payments to DTC's Direct Participants (as herein defined) is the responsibility of DTC and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners (as herein defined) is the responsibility of the Direct Participants and Indirect Participants (as herein defined). Beneficial Owners of the Offered Bonds will not receive physical delivery of bond certificates. See Appendix F - "Book-Entry-Only System." The Offered Bonds will be issued in denominations of $5,000 and integral multiples thereof. Interest on the Offered Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Offered Bonds and is payable on July 1, 2012, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, as more fully described herein.

The Offered Bonds are subject to redemption at par prior to their stated maturities at the times and under the conditions set forth under the caption "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS."

The Offered Bonds are general obligations of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution (as defined herein) for the payment of the principal or redemption price of and interest on Offered Bonds and other funds of THDA legally available therefor.

THDA has no taxing power. The Offered Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State of Tennessee (the "State") or any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof, are pledged for the payment of the principal of or interest on the Offered Bonds.

This cover page contains certain information for quick reference only. It is not a summary of this issue. Investors must read the entire Official Statement to obtain information essential to making an informed investment decision.

The Offered Bonds are being offered when, as and if issued by THDA, subject to delivery of the opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel, and certain other conditions. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York, and certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller. It is expected that the Offered Bonds will be available for book-entry delivery through DTC on or about December 1, 2011.

INTRODUCTION

This Official Statement (the "Official Statement") provides certain information in connection with the issuance by the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") of its Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2011-1A in the aggregate principal amount of $97,105,000 (the "Issue 2011-1A Bonds"), the Issue 2011-1B in the aggregate principal amount of $35,950,000 (the "Issue 2011-1B Bonds") and the Issue 2011-1C in the aggregate principal amount of $8,200,000 (the "Issue 2011-1C Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2011-1A Bonds and the Issue 2011-1B Bonds, the "Issue 2011-1 Bonds" or the "Offered Bonds").

THDA is authorized to issue and sell its bonds and to conduct its other activities by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 13-23-101 et seq., as amended (the "Act"). The issuance and sale of the Offered Bonds is authorized by the General Homeownership Program Bond Resolution, adopted by THDA on June 6, 1985, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on September 27, 2011, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee of THDA (the "Bond Finance Committee") on November 9, 2011 (the "Issue 2011-1 Supplemental Resolution"). The General Resolution and the Issue 2011-1 Supplemental Resolution are herein collectively referred to as the "Resolution."

The Act requires submission to the Bond Finance Committee of THDA, which consists of the Chairman of THDA and the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, the Secretary of State of the State of Tennessee, the State Treasurer of the State of Tennessee, and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration of the State of Tennessee, of a plan of financing pertaining to the sale of any bonds or notes by THDA and to request that the Bond Finance Committee sell such bonds or notes on behalf of THDA, under the terms and conditions set forth in the Act. The Bond Finance Committee approved the plan of financing with respect to Issue 2011-1 Bonds on September 27, 2011. The Act does not permit THDA to have outstanding bonds and notes in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $2,930,000,000, excluding bonds and notes which have been refunded. As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $1,460,335,000 were outstanding under the Resolution, bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $72,195,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution") and bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $584,730,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Finance Program Resolution (the "2009 General Resolution").

Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Offered Bonds, are and will be general obligations of THDA, payable from (i) the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution for the payment of the principal and redemption price thereof and the interest thereon, including the Debt Service Reserve Fund established pursuant to the Resolution, as more fully described herein under the caption "SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS" and (ii) other funds of THDA legally available therefor. All bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Offered Bonds, are equally and ratably secured by the pledges and covenants contained therein and all such bonds, including the Offered Bonds, are sometimes referred to herein as the "Bonds". The security interest created by the pledge of the General Resolution is governed by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 9-22-101 et seq., as amended, relating to the perfection, priority and enforcement of public pledges and liens (the "Public Pledge Act"). Security interests governed under the Public Pledge Act are expressly exempt from Tennessee's codification of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

The revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution are not pledged as security for bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution or the 2009 General Resolution. The revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the 1974 General Resolution and the 2009 General Resolution, respectively, are not pledged as security for the Offered Bonds. See Appendix E for a description of the 1974 General Resolution and the 2009 General Resolution.

[†] Interest on the Issue 2011-1C Bonds is not included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State or of any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of principal or interest on the Bonds.

THDA's Program Loan portfolio includes only first lien, fixed interest rate single-family Program Loans with equal monthly installments of principal and interest. As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), 18,795 Program Loans were outstanding under the Resolution having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $1,474,417,880. Based on the outstanding principal balance of Program Loans as of September 30, 2011, approximately 63.47% were FHA insured, approximately 3.24% were VA guaranteed, approximately 19.18% were insured by private mortgage insurance companies, approximately 10.74% were guaranteed by United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD"), and approximately 3.37% were uninsured (i.e. Program Loans for which the borrower has at least a 22% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing, or at least a 25% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing for Program Loans closed prior to July 29, 1999, or Program Loans which were privately insured at the time of closing but have since met the requirements of the Homeowner Protection Act of 1998 for termination of private mortgage insurance). See "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOAN PORTFOLIO – Homeownership Program Portfolio Data" and Appendix B under the heading "Private Mortgage Insurance Programs".

THDA expects to use the proceeds from the issuance of the Issue 2011-1A Bonds and the Issue 2011-1B Bonds to refund Issue 2001-1 Bonds, Issue 2001-2 Bonds, Issue 2001-3 Bonds, Issue 2002-1 Bonds, and Issue 2002-2 Bonds, all issued and outstanding under the General Resolution (the "Prior Bonds"). As a result of the refunding, mortgage loans previously allocable to the Prior Bonds in an expected aggregate outstanding amount of approximately $107,000,000 will be allocated to the Offered Bonds (the "Transferred Program Loans"). See "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOANS—Description of the Transferred Program Loans" for information about the Transferred Program Loans In addition, Debt Service Reserve Fund investments and Revenue Fund investments allocable to the Prior Bonds in the projected amount of approximately $39,000,000 will be transferred to accounts established for the Offered Bonds under the General Resolution (the "Transferred Investments"). It is anticipated that the Prior Bonds will be redeemed prior to maturity on January 1, 2012 at a redemption price of 100% plus accrued interest. No assurance can be provided that each such issue will actually be refunded.

THDA expects that the proceeds of the Issue 2011-1C Bonds, and a contribution from THDA, will be used to: (i) finance first lien single-family Program Loans (or participations therein) for single-family, owner-occupied housing (one to four dwelling units); (ii) pay capitalized interest, if any; (iii) pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' Fees and other transaction costs; and (iv) make a deposit to the Debt Service Reserve Fund, if required. See "APPLICATION OF BOND PROCEEDS" The terms and conditions of Program Loans, including Program Loans financed with amounts made available by the issuance of the Offered Bonds, are described herein under the caption "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" and in Appendix G.,

As used herein, the term "Program Loans" refers to all mortgage loans financed under the General Resolution, including the Transferred Program Loans and mortgage loans to be financed with proceeds of the Offered Bonds, and the phrase "Program Loans allocable to (or allocated to) the Offered Bonds" shall include the Transferred Program Loans as well as any new Program Loans (or participations therein) financed with the proceeds of the Offered Bonds.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee") is trustee and paying agent for all Bonds issued under the General Resolution.

A brief description of the Offered Bonds, THDA and its Program Loans follows, together with summaries of the terms of the Bonds, the Resolution and certain provisions of the Act and other activities of THDA. Such summaries do not purport to be complete and all such summaries and references to the Act and the Resolution are qualified in their entirety by reference to each such document, copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Certain capitalized terms utilized herein are defined in Appendix D hereto. Capitalized terms utilized herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Resolution.

DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS

General

The Offered Bonds will be issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in denominations of $5,000 principal amount and any integral multiple thereof and will be available in book-entry only form. Purchasers of Offered Bonds will not receive certificates representing their interest in the Offered Bonds. The Depository Trust Company, ("DTC"), New York, New York, will act as securities depository for the Offered Bonds. The ownership of one fully registered certificated bond, without coupons, for each series and maturity set forth on the inside cover page hereof, each in the aggregate principal amount of such series and maturity, will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for DTC, and deposited with DTC via the FAST system. See Appendix F "Book-Entry Only System" for a description of the DTC book-entry only system.

The Offered Bonds will mature on the dates and bear interest from the date of delivery at the rates indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement. Interest on the Offered Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds and is payable on July 1, 2012, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

Optional Redemption. The Issue 2011-1 Bonds maturing on and after July 1, 2021, are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their respective maturities, either as a whole or in part, at any time, on or after January 1, 2021, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds. The Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Account representing Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds on any Interest Payment Date commencing July 1, 2012; provided, however, Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds may be redeemed between Interest Payment Dates on the first Business Day of any month for which adequate notice of redemption may be given.

While any Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds remain Outstanding, Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments shall be used as follows:

FIRST, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds are equal to or less than 400% PSA (as defined below under "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE OFFERED BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds"), as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments shall first be applied to redeem Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) for Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, other than the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds; and

SECOND, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds are in excess of 400% PSA, as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) shall first be applied to redeem Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds (any such remainder used to redeem Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds being an "Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption"); provided, however, that (i) the source of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption is restricted to that portion of the available Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments which is in excess of 400% PSA and (ii) the principal amount of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption may not be an amount in excess of the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds' proportionate amount of all Issue 2011-B Bonds then Outstanding.

"Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments" means, as of any date of computation, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Offered Bonds.

"Planned Amortization Amount" means the dollar amount for each Interest Payment Date set forth in the Issue 2011-1 Supplemental Resolution. Each Planned Amortization Amount represents the cumulative principal amount of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds assumed to be redeemed from Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments as of a particular Interest Payment Date based on receipt of principal prepayments at a 75% PSA prepayment rate for Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE OFFERED BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds" for a description of PSA prepayment rates.

The Planned Amortization Amounts for the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds (which assumes the full origination of Program Loans with proceeds allocable to the Offered Bonds in accordance with the expected schedule for such origination, the allocation of the Transferred Program Loans to the Offered Bonds in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $107,000,000 with an approximate weighted average maturity of 225 months, and receipt of principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds at a rate equal to 75% of the PSA prepayment rate), as of each payment date is set forth below:

Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds Planned Amortization Schedule

Date	Planned Amortization Amount
July 1, 2012	$ 2,515,000
January 1, 2013	4,930,000
July 1, 2013	7,250,000

July 1, 2017	22,460,000
January 1, 2018	23,970,000
July 1, 2018	25,395,000
January 1, 2019	26,745,000
July 1, 2019	28,015,000
January 1, 2020	29,215,000
July 1, 2020	30,340,000
January 1, 2021	31,400,000
July 1, 2021	32,395,000
January 1, 2022	33,330,000
July 1, 2022	34,210,000

For a description of the impact on the weighted average life of the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds on the receipt of prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds at various speeds, see “ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE OFFERED BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds.”

Special Optional Redemption of the Offered Bonds, including Cross Calls The Offered Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part, at any time prior to maturity, in accordance with the provisions of the Resolution, and in an amount equal to amounts available for such purposes from (i) proceeds of the Offered Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans; (ii) except as otherwise described under the headings “DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds”, and “-Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule”, repayments and prepayments of Program Loans allocated to the Offered Bonds in excess of regularly scheduled debt service payments on the Offered Bonds; (iii) repayments and prepayments of Program Loans financed with the proceeds of any other Bonds issued under the Resolution, subject to limitations contained in the Code, and (iv) other amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund of the Resolution in excess of the amounts then required for the payment of Debt Service and Program Expenses; provided, however, that only the Issue 2011-1C Bonds are subject to redemption under clause (i) above and the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds (a) are only subject to redemption under clause (ii) above as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds” and (b) shall not be subject to redemption as described in clauses (iii) and (iv) above if such redemption would cause amortization of the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds to exceed the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds Amortization Schedule. The Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Offered Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading “The Program”), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans,

The date of redemption shall be determined by the Trustee upon the direction of THDA, subject to the provisions of and in accordance with the Resolution. The Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the redemption date, if applicable. The Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption, unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of Offered Bonds to be so redeemed. See “ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS – Prepayments” and “ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS - THDA Redemption Practices”.

Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule. To the extent not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments on the Offered Bonds or otherwise required to be applied to the redemption of the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds, repayments and prepayments of principal of the Program Loans or portions thereof allocable to the Offered Bonds, shall be applied to redeem Offered Bonds in such principal amounts as are required to satisfy the requirements of the Code. The redemption price of Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable. Subject to the redemption procedures under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds,” THDA shall direct the redemption of the Offered Bonds pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Offered Bonds to be redeemed; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds may be redeemed in an amount that exceeds the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds Planned Amortization Schedule only if there are no other Offered Bonds outstanding.

THDA will, to the extent required by the Code, redeem Offered Bonds from prepayments and repayments on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Offered Bonds in accordance with the following approximate 10 year rule percentages to the extent such amounts are not otherwise applied to pay maturing principal on the Offered Bonds, to redeem Offered Bonds from Sinking Fund Payments or to redeem Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds:

Commencement Date	% Prepayments and Repayments Applied to Payment or Redemption
December 1, 2011	80.0%
April 18, 2012	88.1
July 31, 2012	94.2
December 1, 2021	100.0

THDA will redeem the Offered Bonds in accordance with this schedule to the extent required to comply with the Code. THDA reserves the right to modify this schedule at any time to the extent the Code permits or requires such modification.

Redemption of Issue 2011-1C Bonds from Unexpended Proceeds. The Issue 2011-1C Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part on any date at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable, from proceeds of the Issue 2011-1C Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans (or participations therein). In addition, the Issue 2011-1C Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on June 1, 2015, in the event and to the extent that there are unexpended proceeds of the Issue 2011-1C Bonds on deposit in the Issue 2011-1 Bonds Subaccount of the Loan Fund on such date, at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable. THDA shall direct the redemption of the Issue 2011-1C Bonds pro rata among all maturities of such Issue 2011-1C Bonds then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall also deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Issue 2011-1C Bonds to be so redeemed.

Selection By Lot

If less than all of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds of like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the particular Issue 2011-1 Bonds of such series and maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in accordance with the Resolution.

Notice of Redemption

When the Trustee shall receive notice from THDA of its election or direction to redeem Bonds, and when redemption of Bonds is required by the Resolution, the Trustee shall give notice, in the name of THDA, of the redemption of such Bonds, which notice shall specify the series and maturities of the Bonds to be redeemed, the redemption date and the place or places where amounts due upon such redemption will be payable and, if less than all of the Bonds of any like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the letters and numbers or other distinguishing marks of such Bonds so to be redeemed, and, in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, such notice shall also specify the respective portions of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Such notice shall further state that on such date there shall become due and payable upon each Bond to be redeemed the Redemption Price thereof, or the Redemption Price of the specified portions of the principal thereof in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, together with interest accrued to the redemption date, and that from and after such date interest thereon shall cease to accrue and be payable. In the event that the Trustee does not, at the time notice of any redemption is required to be given under the Resolution, hold on deposit in the Redemption Fund an amount sufficient to pay the Redemption Price of, plus interest accrued and unpaid to the redemption, such notice shall further state that the redemption is conditional upon sufficient funds being so deposited or transferred by or at the direction of THDA to the Redemption Fund and that, in the event such funds are not so deposited or transferred, the redemption shall be canceled, or reduced to the extent of funds actually on deposit, and written notice of such cancellation or reduction shall be given to the holders of Bonds which are not to be redeemed within ten (10) days following the proposed redemption date in the same manner as provided for notice of the redemption.

Notice of redemption of Bonds shall be mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid (and by reputable overnight delivery service in the case of Bonds held by any securities depository), no less than twenty (20) days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to DTC) before the redemption date, to the registered owners of any Bonds or portions thereof which are to be redeemed at their last addresses appearing upon the registry book. So long as DTC or its nominee is the registered owner of the Bonds, THDA shall not be responsible for mailing notices of redemption to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants or to the Beneficial Owners of the Bonds. See Appendix F – "Book-Entry-Only System" for a discussion of DTC practices.

SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS

Security of Bonds and Sources of Payment

The Bonds are general obligations of THDA payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution and other funds of THDA legally available therefor. Subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application of certain monies for the purposes and under the terms set forth therein, and to the payment to the Trustee and the Paying Agents and depositories of compensation for their services and expenses, such Bonds are secured equally and ratably by a pledge of the following:

(a) Revenues, which include scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of principal of and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicers as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loans and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan;

(b) Non-Mortgage Receipts, which includes all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses from investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, including the Escrow Fund;

(c) All Funds and Accounts created by the Resolution, including the Debt Service Reserve Fund, and monies and securities therein, and amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited in the Escrow Fund (see Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION");

(d) Any monies paid by the State and deposited in the Debt Service Reserve Fund pursuant to the Act and the Resolution;

(e) All right, title and interest of THDA in and to the Program Loans made or purchased pursuant to the Resolution; and

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds do not constitute a debt, liability or obligation of the State or any other political subdivision thereof (except THDA). Neither the full faith and credit nor taxing power of the State or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of the principal of, redemption price or interest on the Bonds. The Bonds are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

Debt Service Reserve Fund

The Act authorizes THDA to establish one or more reserve funds to be known as debt service reserve funds. In accordance with the Act and the Resolution, THDA has established a Debt Service Reserve Fund for the Bonds. The Resolution provides that THDA may not issue any Bond unless the amount in the Debt Service Reserve Fund is at least equal to the maximum amount of principal, sinking fund installments and interest required to be made and becoming due on all Bonds then outstanding for the then current or any succeeding State fiscal year (July 1 to June 30) or any succeeding calendar year, whichever is greater (the "Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement"). On the date of issuance of the Offered Bonds, the Debt Service Reserve Fund will contain an amount at least equal to the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement. The Resolution requires that if, at any time, there is not a sufficient amount available in the Debt Service and Expense Account to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund installments maturing and becoming due on the Bonds, the Trustee must transfer the amount of the deficiency from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to the Debt Service and Expense Account.

The Act establishes a mechanism for certifying an amount, if any, needed to restore the Debt Service Reserve Fund to an amount equal to the maximum amount of principal, or sinking fund payments, and interest, maturing, required to be made and becoming due in any succeeding state fiscal year on THDA's bonds. These provisions of the Act do not constitute a legally enforceable obligation upon the State to pay such amounts. Under the Constitution of the State, no monies may be withdrawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. With respect to any sum so certified by the Chairman of THDA to the Governor and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration in accordance with the Act, the General Assembly is authorized to appropriate, to expend and to provide for the payment of such sum, but is not legally required to do so. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with the provisions of the Act relating to the requisite certification by the Chairman of THDA to the Governor and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration concerning the Debt Service Reserve Fund and has also covenanted to make and deliver such certification annually on or before November 1 and to deposit all monies received pursuant to any such certification into the Debt Service Reserve Fund. THDA has never requested the State to appropriate monies for the Debt Service Reserve Fund or for any other debt service reserve fund established pursuant to the Act or any other bond resolution of THDA.

Additional Bonds

THDA is authorized to issue additional series of Bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such Bonds, when issued, shall, with the Offered Bonds and other outstanding Bonds, be entitled to the equal benefit, protection, and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution, except as otherwise described herein.

ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS

General

The General Resolution requires THDA to file Projected Cash Flow Statements with the Trustee periodically in connection with various actions THDA may take pursuant to the General Resolution including, without limitation, the issuance of Bonds. (See Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION" for a description of Projected Cash Flow Statements and the circumstances under which they are required.) A Projected Cash Flow Statement meets the requirements of the General Resolution if it shows that sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service on Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution, including the Offered Bonds, and Program Expenses and that the amount of all assets held under the General Resolution equals or exceeds the total liability of all Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution. In connection with the preparation of Projected Cash Flow Statements upon the issuance or remarketing of Bonds, including the Offered Bonds, THDA makes certain assumptions concerning revenues derived from Program Loans, Program Expenses, rate and amount of prepayments, earnings on investments, rate of origination of Program Loans, and Bond redemptions.

THDA has prepared and filed a Projected Cash Flow Statement in connection with the issuance of the Offered Bonds (the "Projected Cash Flow Statement"). The Projected Cash Flow Statement has been based, among other assumptions, on the assumptions that (i) Transferred Program Loans in the aggregate principal amount of approximately $107,000,000, with a weighted average maturity of approximately 225 months and a weighted average interest rate of approximately 5.83%, will be allocated to the Offered Bonds upon the refunding of the Prior Bonds and (ii) THDA originates approximately $16,400,000 of thirty year Program Loans (or participations therein) bearing interest at a weighted average interest rate of approximately 4.507%; approximately 50% of which are participations funded with proceeds of the Issue 2011-1C Bonds for which none of the interest is allocable to the Offered Bonds. The Projected Cash Flow Statement has evidenced that, upon the issuance of the Offered Bonds, sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service for all Bonds Outstanding, including the Offered Bonds. THDA believes the assumptions used in connection with the preparation of the Projected Cash Flow Statement are reasonable. THDA cannot, however, guarantee that actual results will not vary materially from such assumptions. If subsequent events do not correspond to such assumptions, the amount of Revenues available to make payments of principal and interest on the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds, when scheduled, may be adversely affected and the expected life of the Offered Bonds may be affected.

Payments of Principal and Interest on the Bonds

The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that payments of principal and interest on the Offered Bonds will be made, when scheduled, from scheduled payments and prepayments of principal and interest on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Offered Bonds and from other moneys available under the Resolution including, without limitation, income expected to be derived from the investment of monies in the funds and accounts established under the Resolution. For purposes of preparing the Projected Cash Flow Statement, it has been assumed that scheduled payments of principal and interest on the Program Loans will be received 29 days from the date on which they are due. Such sources of available monies may be insufficient to make such payments in the event that (i) regularly scheduled payments on Program Loans are not made on a timely basis in accordance with their terms, (ii) THDA incurs uninsured losses in connection with the foreclosure of Program Loans or insured losses which the insurer does not pay, (iii) THDA is not able to finance Program Loans in accordance with its expectations, (iv) actual investment rates on Investment Securities are less than those assumed, or (v) prepayments are not received as anticipated to the extent the Projected Cash Flow Statement was based on an assumed level of prepayments.

Program Loans

Certain moneys made available from the issuance of the Offered Bonds will be deposited in the Issue 2011-1 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund and will be used to continue THDA's program of financing Program Loans for single family, owner occupied residential housing for low and moderate income persons and families. THDA may use amounts made available as a result of the issuance of Offered Bonds to finance Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans. In addition, THDA may use amounts made available from the issuance of the Offered Bonds to finance Program Loans on a blended basis with proceeds of other bonds of THDA, including participation interests bearing interest at 0% in order to satisfy mortgage yield limitations of the Code. See "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" – Homeownership Choices" and Appendix G – "PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES" for more information about specific program requirements.

Program Loans are made on a continuing, first-come, first served basis by Originating Agents approved by THDA. The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that proceeds of the Issue 2011-1C Bonds will be applied to finance participation interests in Program Loans which will be first-lien, thirty-year, fixed-rate mortgages, with equal monthly installments of principal and interest bearing interest at a weighted average of 4.507%; none of the interest of which will be allocable to the Offered Bonds and that Program Loans purchased by THDA from Originating Agents will be purchased at par.

THDA's general policy is to maintain a steadily available supply of funds to finance program loans at competitive interest rates. THDA generally establishes interest rates for its program loans when bonds are sold by taking into account the maximum permitted interest rate under the Code and the spread between that rate and the then prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. THDA prefers to maintain the same interest rates throughout the period of origination of program loans for each issue of bonds, however, THDA regularly reviews these interest rates in light of market conditions and retains the flexibility to modify its interest rates to meet changing needs and conditions. No assumptions can be made regarding the length of time an interest rate set by THDA will remain available or what effect a particular interest rate will have on the origination of Program Loans.

THDA issued $300,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") in December, 2009 as taxable, variable interest rate escrow bonds under the Single Family New Issue Bond Program (the "New Issue Bond Program") announced by the United States Department of the Treasury, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. The Issue 2009-B Bonds were purchased by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac (the "Purchasers") pursuant to the New Issue Bond Program and proceeds derived from the sale of the Issue 2009-B Bonds in an amount equal to $300,000,000 were deposited in an escrow account established under the General Housing Finance Resolution adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009 ("2009 General Resolution"). On November 3, 2011, THDA released its last tranche of Issue 2009-B Bonds in the principal amount of $34,710,000 and, simultaneously therewith, issued Market Bonds in an aggregate principal amount of $65,290,000. As of the date of such release, bonds were outstanding under the 2009 General Resolution in an aggregate principal amount of $650,020,000. THDA currently expects to finance a significant portion of its mortgage loan financing activities under the 2009 General Resolution until all proceeds of the released Issue 2009-B Bonds and Market Bonds have been used to purchase Program Loans.

Nonorigination of Program Loans

While THDA retains the flexibility to modify the interest rates at which Program Loans are offered, there are circumstances under which these interest rates may not be competitive with prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. Under these circumstances, it will be more difficult for THDA to originate Program Loans. The ability of THDA to finance Program Loans as described may also be affected by the availability of residences that meet THDA's acquisition cost limits and the willingness of potential borrowers to assume potential federal recapture tax liability. Although THDA expects that all lendable proceeds available from the Issue 2011-1C Bonds will be used to finance Program Loans, no assurance can be given whether this will occur or the speed at which this may occur.

The last transaction that resulted in an unexpended proceeds redemption under the General Resolution was Issue 1996-3 as shown on the chart under the heading "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM BONDS – Origination Experience" herein. THDA has not redeemed any bonds from unexpended proceeds under the 2009 General Resolution or the 1974 General Resolution. As of November 9, 2011, however, proceeds of bonds issued under the 2009 General Resolution in the amount of approximately $125,500,000 had not been expended for the purchase of Program Loans. This amount includes $100,000,000 in proceeds of bonds issued under the 2009 General Resolution which first became available for the purchase of Program Loans on November 3, 2011. Notwithstanding past performance, no assurances can be given that proceeds from the Issue 2011-1C Bonds will be fully expended for Program Loans.

Disruption in Mortgage Market and Other Financial Markets

The mortgage and financial markets have recently been subject to significant disruptions, including limited liquidity. Continuing instability in the mortgage market that adversely impacts financial institution participants may result in delays in originating Program Loans or failure to originate Program Loans which could result in redemption of the Offered Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds".

Instability in the mortgage markets, increases in delinquencies and defaults and limited access to credit have placed pressures on all participants in the industry, including but not limited to lenders, servicers and mortgage insurers. These pressures may have an adverse impact on transaction participants and their ability to conduct business. THDA can offer no guidance as to whether the recent volatility in the mortgage market and the financial markets generally will continue, and if it does, how these conditions might impact the ability of such participants to perform their obligations in connection with the Offered Bonds.

Changes in Federal or State Law

Legislation affecting the Offered Bonds and THDA's single family mortgage loans may be considered and enacted by the United States Congress or the Tennessee General Assembly. No assurance can be given that the consideration or enactment of any such legislation will not have an adverse effect on the value of, the timing or amount of payments of, or the security for the Offered Bonds or other risks.

Over the past several years a number of financial institutions and related entities have announced large losses as a result of their mortgage activities and the increasing number of defaults and foreclosures on such mortgages. The United States Congress has passed the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), and may pass additional consumer protection and bankruptcy legislation, as a result of the adverse effects of the mortgage situation on individuals and families in the United States. Likewise, the Tennessee General Assembly may enact consumer protection legislation relating to mortgage loan origination and servicing. The Dodd-Frank Act has not, to date, had a material adverse effect on THDA's single family mortgage program, including its ability to originate new single family mortgage loans, to collect payments under single family mortgage loans and to foreclose on property securing single family mortgage loans; however, additional legislation, if enacted, or regulations, if promulgated to effectuate the purposes of the Dodd-Frank Act or other state or federal regulations, could have an adverse effect on THDA's activities.

A number of state regulatory authorities have recently taken action against certain loan originators and servicers for alleged violations of state laws. Certain of those actions prohibit those servicers from pursuing foreclosure actions. In response to alleged abusive lending and servicing practices, the State of Tennessee could enact legislation or implement regulatory requirements that impose limitations on the ability of mortgage loan servicers to take actions (such as pursuing foreclosures) that may be essential to service and preserve the value of the single-family loans. Any such limitations that applied to the THDA's single-family loans could adversely affect the THDA's ability to collect amounts due on such loans and could impair the value of such loans.

On March 4, 2009, the U.S. Department of the Treasury announced guidelines to enable mortgage loan servicers to begin modifications of eligible mortgage loans under the Homeowner Affordability and Stability Plan. These guidelines stated that FHA would formulate a program for modification of FHA loans. FHA released the details of the program called the Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP") on July 31, 2009, with an effective date of August 15, 2009. By letter dated November 3, 2009, THDA received a variance to the HAMP requirements. As a consequence, THDA is not obligated to satisfy HAMP requirements with respect to Program Loans.

On July 7, 2011, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced changes to Federal Housing Administration and Making Home Affordable Program requirements that direct servicers to extend the period of time during which eligible borrowers may skip part or all of their monthly payments from three or four months to twelve months whenever possible. These requirements became effective on August 1, 2011, with a subsequent sixty day implementation period. At present, THDA cannot predict what effect, if any, these requirements would have on the Program Loan portfolio, which, together with other revenues and assets available under the Resolution, is the source of payment and security for the Offered Bonds.

The Hardest Hit Housing Markets (HFA Hardest Hit Fund) initiative, under the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, is designed to support foreclosure prevention and housing market stabilization initiatives (the "HHF Program"). THDA is administering the HHF Program in Tennessee and was awarded $236 million which will provide loans to unemployed or substantially underemployed homeowners who, through no fault of their own, are financially unable to make their mortgage payments and are in danger of losing their homes to foreclosure. Loan proceeds will be used to pay all mortgage and mortgage-related expenses (e.g., property taxes, homeowner insurance, homeowner dues) up to $20,000 for up to 18 months in 29 targeted counties and up to $15,000 for up to 12 months in 66 counties. For homeowners who have found a new job, but during a period of unemployment accumulated payment arrearages, reinstatement assistance will be available. Homeowners with THDA Program Loans may be eligible for the HHF Program. As of September 30, 2011, 404 loans made under the HHF Program have closed. Thirty-three of these loans have been made with respect to Program Loans previously financed under the Resolution. None of the loans made under the HHF Program are pledged as security for the Bonds.

Prepayments

THDA, from time to time, receives monies from (i) partial or complete prepayment of Program Loans (which is permitted, without penalty) or (ii) termination of Program Loans prior to their respective final payment date due to default, sale, condemnation or casualty loss. In addition, the Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Offered Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans. The rate at which such prepayments, if any, of Program Loans (including Transferred Program Loans) will be received by THDA cannot be predicted. The actual rate of such prepayments may be influenced by a variety of economic, social and other factors, including proposed legislative and regulatory changes and there is no reliable basis for predicting the actual average life of the Program Loans. Consequently, THDA makes no assumptions or representations as to the factors that will affect the rate of prepayments, if any, or the relative importance of such factors and their potential impact on the actual average life of Program Loans and the expected life of the Offered Bonds. To the extent THDA is required or elects to redeem the Offered Bonds, it is probable that the Offered Bonds will have a shorter life than their stated maturity.

Subject to the requirements of the Resolution, the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution and the Code, such prepayments may (i) be required to pay regularly scheduled debt service to the extent a series of the Bonds was based upon an assumed prepayment level; (ii) be used to redeem Bonds of the related series; (iii) be used to redeem Bonds of any series; or (iv) be recycled into additional Program Loans. Further, prepayments attributable to the Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Offered Bonds, or other Bonds, or portions thereof, may or will be applied to redeem Offered Bonds as described herein under "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-1 – PAC Bonds," "- Special Optional Redemption of the Offered Bonds, including Cross Calls" and "– Mandatory Redemption – 10-Year Rule".

THDA Redemption Practices

The Resolution and the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution specify when THDA is required to redeem Bonds and when THDA may elect to redeem Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds."

To the extent THDA has discretion to redeem Bonds and select the maturities and Issues to be redeemed, THDA's general redemption policy had been to first redeem those Bonds bearing the highest interest rate; however, due to universal cap implications and economic decisions by THDA, THDA's current general redemption policy is to call term bonds on a pro-rata basis within bond issues or to redeem the highest coupon serial bonds where doing so would reduce debt service requirements under the Resolution when possible. Adherence to either policy may be affected by a series of factors including, but not limited to, (i) certain restrictions or limitations imposed by the Code including, but not limited to, 10-year rule requirements and universal cap considerations; (ii) certain limitations or restrictions imposed by the Resolution and/or resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution including, but not limited to, redemption provisions; (iii) economic considerations; (iv) cash flow requirements; and (v) the amount of prepayments and other monies available to THDA for optional redemption of Bonds.

These factors are regularly considered in determining which Bonds may be selected for redemption. No assumptions or representations can be made as to how or which of these factors or whether any other factors will affect THDA's determination, from time to time, regarding particular Bonds selected for redemption.

Payment of Program Expenses

The Resolution authorizes payment of all Program Expenses from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund established under the Resolution, so long as the Debt Service and Expense Account and the Debt Service Reserve Fund contain amounts sufficient to meet the requirements of the Resolution. See Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION" for a description of Program Expenses. THDA expects to pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees and certain Program Expenses, including ongoing Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs, and other similar costs, from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund. To the extent funds are available therefor, THDA currently expects to continue to pay other Program Expenses and other operating and administrative costs and expenses of THDA from the Housing Program Fund, a fund of THDA created in 1988 that is not subject to the lien of the Resolution. To the extent funds are not available from the Housing Program Fund, THDA expects to pay Program Expenses from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund under the Resolution and other operating and administrative costs and expenses that are not Program Expenses from other resources of THDA. For more information about the payment of Program Expenses and other operating and administrative costs of THDA, see "THDA – THDA Funds" and for more information about the Housing Program Fund, see Appendix E – "OTHER FINANCINGS, THDA FUNDS AND THDA ACTIVITIES – THDA Funds".

While THDA does not currently receive funds from the State of Tennessee for operating and administrative costs and expenses, the Act establishes a mechanism for certifying an amount, if any, estimated to be required for payment of expenses of THDA for the next ensuing State fiscal year. The amount so certified is the amount by which anticipated operating expenses of THDA, including Program Expenses, will exceed available THDA operating revenues. The Act further provides that to assure the continued operation and solvency of THDA for the fulfillment of the purposes of the Act, there shall be apportioned and paid to THDA, after audit by appropriate State officials, not more than the amount so stated. These provisions of the Act do not constitute a legally enforceable obligation of the State to pay such amounts. Under the Constitution of the State of Tennessee, no monies may be withdrawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. The General Assembly is authorized to appropriate, to expend and to provide for the payment of the amount so certified, but is not legally required to do so.

THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with this provision of the Act relating to the certification of the amounts required for the payment of operating and administrative costs and expenses, to the extent such operating and administrative costs and expenses exceed available THDA operating revenues. THDA has never requested the State to appropriate monies to cover operating or administrative costs or expenses, including Program Expenses, of THDA.

Investment Assumptions

Estimated available investment income attributable to the Offered Bonds is calculated assuming that (i) existing Investment Securities in the Revenue Fund and the Debt Service Reserve Fund pay scheduled interest and principal payments until the earlier of their call date or maturity date; (ii) proceeds of Investment Securities and other receipts in the Revenue Fund are invested at 0.00% per annum until June 30, 2021, and, 0.75% per annum thereafter; and (iii) funds on deposit in the Issue 2011-1 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund prior to origination of Program Loans, are invested at a rate of 0.00% per annum.

There can be no assurance that the Investment Securities will provide the investment income projected. If THDA experiences losses or delays in payments on the Investment Securities, there may be insufficient funds to make payments of principal and interest on the Offered Bonds when scheduled.

Average Life of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds

The term “weighted average life” refers to the average amount of time that will elapse from the date of issuance of a security until each dollar of principal of such security will be repaid to the investor. The weighted average life of the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds will be influenced by the rate at which principal of the Program Loans allocated to the Offered Bonds is repaid. Principal payments of Program Loans may be in the form of scheduled amortization or prepayments (for this purpose, the term “prepayment” includes prepayments and liquidations due to default or other dispositions of the Program Loans, including payments on FHA mortgage insurance, VA guarantees, and private mortgage insurance policies). Prepayments on mortgage loans are commonly measured by a prepayment standard or model. The model used in the following discussion is the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association (formerly known as the Public Security Association (“PSA”)) prepayment standard or model (commonly referred to as the “PSA Prepayment Model”).

The PSA Prepayment Model is based on an assumed rate of prepayment each month of the then unpaid principal balance of a pool of mortgage loans, beginning at the inception of each mortgage loan. The PSA Prepayment Model starts with 0.2% annualized prepayment rate in the first month, increases the prepayment rate by 0.2% in each succeeding month until the thirtieth month (when a 6.0% annualized prepayment rate is reached) and then assumes a constant prepayment rate of 6.0% per annum of the unpaid principal balance for the remaining life of the mortgage loans.

Prepayment speeds are commonly referred to as a percentage of the PSA Prepayment Model. For instance, “0% PSA” assumes no prepayments of principal on the Program Loans. “25% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-quarter as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “50% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-half as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “75% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay three-quarters as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “100% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “150% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate 1.50 times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “200% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate twice as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “300% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate three times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “400% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate four times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “500% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate five times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model.

There is no assurance, however, that prepayments of the principal on Program Loans will conform to any particular level of the PSA Prepayment Model. The rate of principal payment on pools of mortgage loans is influenced by a variety of economic, geographic, social and other factors, including the level of mortgage loan interest rates, the rate at which homeowners sell their homes or default on their mortgage loans and changes in mortgagors’ housing needs, job transfers, unemployment and mortgagors’ net equity in the mortgage properties. In general, if prevailing interest rates fall significantly, the Program Loans are likely to be subject to higher prepayment rates than if prevailing rates remain at or above the interest rates on the Program Loans. As homeowners move or default on their mortgage loans, the houses are generally sold and the mortgage loan prepaid, although under certain circumstances, the mortgage loans may be assumed by a new buyer. Because of the foregoing influences upon prepayments and since the rate of prepayment of principal of Bonds will depend on the rate of repayment (including prepayments) of the Program Loans, the full repayment of any Bonds is likely to occur earlier, and could occur significantly earlier, than its stated maturity.

The Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds may be terminated prior to final maturity as a result of prepayment, default, sale, condemnation, casualty loss or noncompliance. In addition, matters discussed under “Changes in Federal or State Law” above could have an effect on terminations. Consequently, it is impossible to predict the timing of the repayment of principal of the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds and hence the weighted average life of the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds. THDA has provided for the redemption of the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds—Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds”, and the weighted average lives of the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds set forth below have been calculated based upon various assumptions, including assumptions that (i) 100% of the money deposited in the Issue 2011-1 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund is applied to finance Program Loans, (ii) approximately $107,000,000 of Transferred Program Loans with an approximate weighted average maturity of approximately 225 months and an approximate weighted average interest rate of 5.83% will be allocated to the Offered Bonds, (iii) Excess 2011-1 Principal Payments will be used to redeem Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds only on Interest Payment Dates, and (iv) the Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds will be redeemed only in Planned Amortization Amounts as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-1A PAC Bonds” and will not otherwise be redeemed in whole or in part. There can be no assurance that such assumptions will in fact prove accurate. For certain information regarding Transferred Program Loans see “DESCRIPTION OF THE TRANSFERRED PROGRAM LOANS” herein.

Origination Experience

Other than bond issues currently being originated, between January 1, 1995, and September 30, 2011, THDA fully originated all bond issues with the exception of the following two transactions which experienced unexpended proceeds redemptions:

Issue of Bonds	Lendable Proceeds	Program Loans Financed Amount	%	Non-Origination Bond Redemptions	Mortgage Interest Rate(s)
1995-1	$ 59,309,056	$ 23,702,408	39.96%	$35,600,000	7.40/5.50

THDA's experience from January 1, 2000, to September 30, 2011, regarding origination of Program Loans[1] from lendable proceeds of Bonds issued since January 1, 2000, is shown in the following table:

(1) See "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOAN PORTFOLIO—Description of Program Loans" for more information about Program Loans.

(2) Only Program Loans that have closed are included. Program Loans for which THDA has issued commitments are not included.

(4) These lendable proceeds include $50,000,000 in proceeds from Issue 2008-2A/B plus $9,000,000 released from the lien of the 1974 General Resolution in accordance with its terms and transferred to the Issue 2008-2 Loan Fund of the General Resolution.

(5) These lendable proceeds do not include proceeds that must be lent at 0% interest as participations in other Program Loans.

THDA is currently originating mortgage loans with the proceeds of bonds issued under the 2009 General Resolution through the New Issue Bond Program. Proceeds of Issue 2011-C, the most recent Market Bonds issued by THDA under the 2009 General Resolution, and proceeds of Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5, the last tranche of bonds released from escrow under the New Issue Bond Program, are expected to be used to purchase Program Loans through February 2012.

HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOANS

Description of Homeownership Program Loans

General

THDA generally offers a primary loan program and may, from time to time, offer certain special loan programs. THDA Household Income Limits for all loan programs have typically been more restrictive than those permitted under the Code. THDA Acquisition Cost Limits are set in compliance with Code requirements. Household Income Limits and Acquisition Cost Limits may be further restricted for certain special loan programs. The current THDA Acquisition Cost Limit is $200,160 for all counties except those counties in the Nashville Metropolitan Statistical Area ("MSA"). The THDA Acquisition Cost Limit is $226,100 for those counties in the Nashville MSA. The THDA Household Income Limits range from $54,480 to $92,680 depending on household size and geographic location. See Appendix G for a description of Homeownership Program Loan Procedures related to Code requirements.

THDA currently offers Homeownership Choices as its primary loan program. A brief description of this loan program, and the loan types available thereunder, together with a description of certain loan programs previously available follows.

Effective April 15, 2009, THDA imposed certain underwriting changes that apply to Program Loans made after that date. The changes include (i) a minimum credit score of 620 for all borrowers; (ii) no manual underwriting; and (iii) a required monthly debt to income ratio that does not exceed 45%. THDA may, from time to time, initiate certain special limited programs for which some of these requirements may be waived.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

Homeownership Choices

The Homeownership Choices Program includes Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans, with choice of loan type left to the borrower. Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans are thirty year, fixed interest rate loans, fully amortized, with full documentation, and secured by a first lien on the property purchased. Interest rates for each type of Program Loan are established at rates which result in a blended yield on such Program Loans not in excess of 1.125% above the yield on the related issue of Bonds. As of September 1, 2011, the current interest rate for Great Rate Program Loans is 3.95%, the current interest rate for the Great Advantage Program Loans is 4.25% and the current interest rate for Great Start Program Loans is 4.55%.

An amount equal to 4% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Start Program Loans. An amount equal to 2% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Advantage Program Loans. THDA finances this downpayment and closing cost assistance from excess revenues outside the General Resolution and retains a portion of the interest collected on Great Start Program Loans and Great Advantage Program Loans to reimburse itself for the amount of this assistance. All other THDA Program Loan requirements remain applicable.

See Appendix B for a summary of the mortgage insurance or guarantee programs applicable to these Program Loans.

New Start Program Loans

The New Start Loan Program is designed to promote the construction of new homes for very low-income Tennesseans. The New Start Loan Program is delivered through non-profit organizations with established programs for the construction of single family housing for low and very low income households. The non-profit organization selects the homebuyer, determines eligibility, constructs the home, provides homebuyer education, originates, processes, closes and services the New Start Program Loan. New Start Program Loans have loan terms up to thirty years and are secured by a first lien on the property purchased. A 0% interest rate is available to borrowers who have a maximum family income of $32,760, with a maximum loan amount equal to the lesser of 75% of the value of the property or the applicable county limit for the Homeownership Choices Program. An interest rate equal to one-half of the current interest rate for Great Rate Program Loans is available to borrowers who have a maximum family income of $38,220, with a maximum loan amount equal to the lesser of 75% of the value of the property or the applicable county limit for the Homeownership Choices Program. All other THDA Program Loan requirements remain applicable. As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), 335 New Start Program Loans, with an aggregate principal balance of approximately $15,795,563, were outstanding under the General Resolution. THDA may continue to finance New Start Program Loans, from time to time, from proceeds of the Offered Bonds as well as from proceeds of other bonds.

Prior Programs

THDA previously offered specialized mortgage loan products under the START Program, the RIC Program and the LIFT Program, which programs targeted lower income borrowers or borrowers who resided either in rural counties or inner cities. Program Loans under these programs constitute, in the aggregate, 0.2% of all Program Loans by principal amount and 1.0% of all Program Loans by number of loans. THDA no longer finances Program Loans under these programs.

Homeownership Program Portfolio Data

General

As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), 18,795 Program Loans for single-family owner-occupied housing having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $1,474,417,880 were outstanding under the General Resolution. These Program Loans had an approximate remaining weighted average maturity of 282.73 months and an approximate weighted average interest rate of 5.80%.

Privately Insured Program Loans

Since January 2, 2009, THDA has not purchased conventional, privately insured loans because no private mortgage insurers, since January 2, 2009, have or have had ratings of at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Services, a division of the McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P"). Should any private mortgage insurers regain a rating of at least AA from S&P, THDA will reconsider whether to resume purchasing conventional loans. Notwithstanding the foregoing, certain Transferred Loans are privately insured and are shown under the heading "Privately insured" in the chart above.

Each private mortgage insurer insuring conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans was authorized by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in the State of Tennessee and was approved by THDA. Since June 1994, only private mortgage insurance providers rated at least AA by S&P were permitted to provide private mortgage insurance coverage for conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans. THDA does, however, have conventional, privately insured Program Loans that were made prior to January 2, 2009, outstanding under the Resolution that were insured by private mortgage insurers who are not currently rated at least AA by S&P.

THDA makes no representation regarding the financial condition of any of the private mortgage insurance companies or their ability to make full and timely payment to THDA of claims on Program Loans on which losses are incurred. Recent rating agency reviews of private mortgage insurers may be indicative of some future inability of private mortgage insurers generally to fulfill in full their obligations, if and when required upon a mortgage default, to make timely payments on policies. Any failure to make timely payments on the private mortgage insurance policies may disrupt the flow of revenues available for the payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), 2,820[1] privately insured Program Loans having an aggregate balance of approximately $282,806,541 were outstanding under the General Resolution. As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), THDA had the following information regarding the private mortgage insurer for 2,531 of these privately insured Program Loans:

Delinquency and Foreclosure Process

For all Program Loans, THDA tracks (i) exceptions to normal, expected monthly payments; (ii) individual Program Loan balances; and (iii) remittances based on automated data received directly from its Servicers. THDA uses this data to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosures. Those Program Loans for which two payment dates have passed with no payment received by the last business day of the month in which the second payment was due are considered 60 to 89 days past due. Those Program Loans for which three or more payment dates have passed with no payments received by the last business day of the month in which the third payment was due are considered 90 or more days past due. The status of Program Loans to borrowers who are in bankruptcy is fixed beginning at the time bankruptcy proceedings commenced. The definitions used by THDA to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosure rates are consistent with those used by the Mortgage Bankers Association of America ("MBA").

The financial institutions who service Program Loans manage delinquencies by working with borrowers in an attempt to avoid defaults and by sending payment requests to borrowers who are delinquent. THDA supports counseling programs for delinquent as well as prospective borrowers. These counseling services are provided by lenders, non-profit organizations and social service agencies located throughout the State. THDA maintains an inventory of housing counseling services, reviews materials used, and encourages grant recipients to provide counseling.

Delinquencies and Foreclosures as of September 30, 2011

As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), the overall delinquency rate for Program Loans that were sixty (60) to eighty-nine (89) days past due was 2.62%, based on a total of 18,795 Program Loans as of September 30, 2011.

DESCRIPTION OF THE TRANSFERRED PROGRAM LOANS

General

The Transferred Program Loans are expected to have an approximate weighted average maturity of 225 months and a weighted average interest rate of 5.83% per annum. Average prepayment rate information for the Transferred Program Loans is discussed in "DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Prepayment Experience of Transferred Program Loans" herein. It is anticipated that the characteristics of the pool of Transferred Program Loans will be substantially similar to the loans described below (such information below is as of September 30, 2011; the Transferred Program Loans will not be allocable to the Offered Bonds until January 3, 2012, and Transferred Program Loan characteristics may change slightly from September 30, 2011, to January 3, 2012).

Privately Insured Transferred Program Loans

Each private mortgage insurer insuring conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans was authorized by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in the State of Tennessee and was approved by THDA. Since June 1994, only private mortgage insurance providers rated at least AA by S&P were permitted to provide private mortgage insurance coverage for conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans. THDA does, however, have conventional, privately insured Program Loans that were made prior to January 2, 2009, outstanding under the Resolution that were insured by private mortgage insurers who are not currently rated at least AA by S&P.

THDA makes no representation regarding the financial condition of any of the private mortgage insurance companies or their ability to make full and timely payment to THDA of claims on Program Loans on which losses are incurred. Recent rating agency reviews of private mortgage insurers may be indicative of some future inability of private mortgage insurers generally to fulfill in full their obligations, if and when required upon a mortgage default, to make timely payments on policies. Any failure to make timely payments on the private mortgage insurance policies may disrupt the flow of revenues available for the payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), $1,157,711[(1)] principal amount of the Transferred Program Loans are privately insured. As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), THDA has the following information regarding the private mortgage insurer for two (2) of these privately insured Transferred Program Loans:

Investments

THDA's non-mortgage investments of funds held under the Resolution consist of Investment Securities as authorized in the Resolution. Bids are solicited by THDA in an effort to obtain the highest available yield with consideration given to maintaining a balanced portfolio. As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), the short-term investment portfolio was placed as follows:

Types of Investments	Amount
Federal Farm Credit Bank Notes	$ 11,929,790
Federal Home Loan Bank Notes	59,390,751
Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Notes	9,496,474
Fannie Mae Notes	74,974,919
Repurchase Agreements	25,790,000
United States Treasury Bonds	60,530,550
TOTAL	$242,112,484

As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), amounts in the Debt Service Reserve Fund, a portion of the short-term investment portfolio described above, were invested as follows:

Types of Investments	Amount
Federal Farm Credit Bank Notes	$ 8,560,187
Federal Home Loan Bank Notes	10,437,124
Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Notes	3,026,094
Fannie Mae Notes	61,543,835
United States Treasury Bonds	60,530,550
TOTAL	$114,097,790

THDA

Purpose and Organization

THDA is a body, politic and corporate, and a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State. THDA was established in 1973 by the Act for the purpose, among other things, of raising funds through the issuance of its bonds and notes to assure a steady flow of production of new housing units for lower and moderate income persons and families. To carry out its public purposes, THDA has various powers under the Act including, without limitation, powers relating to the issuance of bonds or notes and the financing of residential housing in the State.

THDA is subject to periodic review by the General Assembly to evaluate the necessity for its continued existence. THDA's existence has been continued until June 30, 2014.

Under the Act, THDA may have bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $2,930,000,000. As of September 30, 2011 (unaudited), THDA has bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount of $2,117,170,000, calculated in accordance with the Act.

Board of Directors

THDA is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of THDA. The Act provides that the remaining board members be appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. The Act also provides that board members be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, the First, Second or Third U.S. Congressional District, the Fourth, Fifth or Sixth U.S. Congressional District and the Seventh, Eighth or Ninth U.S. Congressional District and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. Any change in the status or profession of an appointed board member does not affect the position or term of that board member. The Executive Director of THDA serves as Secretary to the board.

Board members (other than ex officio members and the federally required resident member) are appointed for four year terms, serve until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, and receive no compensation except for reimbursement of expenses. Certain board members may be affiliated with institutions which may originate or service

Program Loans on behalf of THDA. One of the appointed board members is designated by the Governor to serve as Chairman. The Chairman's term extends until the earlier of the date of expiration of his or her term or a date six months after expiration of the term of the Governor designating such Chairman.

The name, term of office and principal occupation of the current members of the Board of Directors are shown below:

THDA's principal office is located at 404 James Robertson Parkway, Suite 1200, Nashville, Tennessee 37243-0900, and its telephone number is (615) 815-2200. THDA has regional offices in nine (9) locations elsewhere in the State for the purpose of administering the Section 8 program.

THDA Funds

Statutorily Created Funds

In 1988, the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee (the "State") amended the Act to provide, among other things, for the creation of the Housing Program Fund and the Assets Fund, which funds are financially separate from the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program and any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Housing Program Fund originally contained, among other things, state tax revenue statutorily directed to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a statutorily authorized grant program administered by THDA that is not related to the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program or any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Assets Fund is a segregated fund of THDA that originally contained assets transferred in 1989 from the 1974 General Resolution in accordance with its terms, together with related investment earnings. These funds are not pledged as security for the Bonds. See Appendix E under the heading "THDA Funds," for a description of each of these statutorily created funds.

While amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund are not specifically pledged as security for bonds issued under the General Resolution or any other bond resolution of THDA, the Assets Fund is a general asset of THDA and may, subject to the respective terms of the Act, the General Resolution, or any other general bond resolution of THDA, serve as supplemental security for bonds issued under any such general bond resolutions. As a result of transfers required by the State and subsequent action by THDA, no amounts are currently on deposit in the Assets Fund. See "SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS – Security of Bonds and Sources of Payment" herein for a description of sources of payment for the Offered Bonds.

The Constitution of the State requires, for current operations, that expenditures for any fiscal year not exceed the State's revenues and reserves, including the proceeds of any debt obligations, for that year. When faced with budget deficits in the past, the State has called upon THDA and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to THDA.

As of June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 in THDA's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1994-1995.

As of June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from THDA to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1997-1998. The $43,000,000 transferred from THDA to the State General Fund came from the following resources of THDA: (i) $15,459,157 from state tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. In addition, in conjunction with the transfer from the Housing Program Reserve Fund described in clause (ii), the Housing Program Reserve Fund was statutorily abolished.

Amendments to the Act in 1999 and in 2000, temporarily, then permanently, redirected to the State General Fund, all tax revenue previously directed by the Act to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a grant program described above. As a result of the permanent redirection of these state tax revenues, no state tax revenues currently are directed to THDA.

As of June 30, 2002, $35,367,449.26 was transferred from THDA's Assets Fund to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 2001-2002. The remaining balance of the Assets Fund, approximately $1,387,000 of mortgage loans, was not required to be liquidated and the proceeds transferred. THDA subsequently transferred these mortgage loans to the General Fund of the Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) which reduced the balance in the Assets Fund to $0.

No additional resources of THDA have been redirected or transferred to the State General Fund to close out any fiscal year since the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002. See "State Budget" below with respect to these matters for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012.

Payment of THDA Operating Expenses, Including Program Expenses

THDA administers certain federal programs such as the low income housing tax credit program, the Section 8 voucher program and the HOME program and pays operating expenses associated with these programs from administrative fees earned or other fees charged in connection with the administration of these programs. Neither investment earnings from the Assets Fund nor amounts in the General Resolution have been used to pay the operating expenses associated with these programs.

From 1988 to 2002, investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund, as supplemented with investment earnings on other THDA funds, were a primary source for paying THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses, including staff salaries, Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs) and substantially all other expenses associated with the Homeownership Program and the other general bond resolutions and mortgage loan programs of THDA. Investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund were annually transferred by THDA to the Housing Program Fund, from which referenced expenses were paid. Although such investment earnings on amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund no longer exist due to the transfers from the Assets Fund to the State General Fund described above, THDA currently expects to continue to pay Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure cost and other similar costs) and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses from the Housing Program Fund and other available funds under the 1974 General Resolution and the General Resolution. In the future, however, THDA expects to use more of the amounts available under the General Resolution and the 1974 General Resolution for the payment of Program Expenses in addition to the payment of Costs of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs. From this combination of resources, THDA believes it will have sufficient resources to pay Program Expenses and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses. Regardless of THDA's best efforts and in the event of additional transfers, however, THDA could become reliant on State appropriations for the funding of THDA operations. No assurances can be given as to the amount of appropriation that may be available at any time.

State Budget

The State-approved budget for fiscal year 2011-2012 which ends June 30, 2012 (the "FY 2011-2012 Budget") is balanced and includes no redirection or transfer of THDA resources to the State General Fund. The FY 2011-2012 Budget, as adopted by the General Assembly, is based on State revenue growth estimates that reflect 3.35% growth in revenue collections in fiscal year 2011-2012.

On an accrual basis, September was the second month of fiscal year 2011-2012. Year-to-date state tax collections for the first two months of the fiscal year were $23.6 million more than the budgeted estimate, and the general fund collections were $22.8 million more than budgeted. Reserves are available as an additional hedge against a revenue shortfall. The Rainy Day Fund is projected to be $311 million at June 30, 2012.

If projected State budget needs outstrip actual or projected revenues, the State may seek additional sources of funds or seek to realize program savings through reductions or more efficient delivery of services; however, THDA cannot predict whether or not this will occur or, if it does, what actions may be proposed or eventually taken and what effect, if any, such actions may have on THDA. If action is taken to redirect or transfer THDA resources to the State General Fund, such amounts could include THDA resources that are not pledged to any bonds of THDA, as well as any available excess revenues eligible for withdrawal under THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution. No assurance can be made that the current ratings on the Bonds or other bonds of THDA can be maintained in the event funds are withdrawn from THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution.

Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System

General Information

THDA employees are authorized to participate in the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System ("TCRS"), a defined benefit pension plan, pursuant to Tennessee Code Annotated Section 13-23-115(21). The general administration and responsibility for the proper operation of TCRS are vested in a twenty member Board of Trustees. The Treasury Department, a constitutional office in the legislative branch of state government, is responsible for the administration of TCRS, including the investment of assets in the plan, in accordance with state statute and in accordance with the policies, rules, and regulations established by the Board of Trustees.

The TCRS covers four large groups of public employees; state employees (including THDA employees), higher education employees, teachers, and employees of certain local governments. There are 58,551 active members in TCRS in the state and higher education employee group at June 30, 2011. This total includes xxx employees of THDA who are members of TCRS.

The state of Tennessee is ultimately responsible for the financial obligation of the benefits provided by TCRS to state employees (including THDA employees) and higher education employees to the extent such obligations are not covered by employee contributions and investment earnings. The obligation is funded by employer contributions as determined by an actuarial valuation. Employees in the state and higher education group, including THDA employees, are noncontributory.

By statute, an actuarial valuation of TCRS is to be conducted at least once in each two year period. The purpose of the actuarial valuation is to determine the financial position of the plan and to determine the appropriate employer contribution rate. By practice, an actuarial valuation is performed every other year. The last valuation was effective July 1, 2009. The next valuation was effective July 1, 2011, and the results should be available in late December 2011.

Actuarial

At June 30, 2009, the date of the latest actuarial valuation, the unfunded actuarial liability when based on the actuarial value of assets was $2.719 billion, resulting in a funded ratio of 90.6%. The unfunded actuarial liability would have been $7.108 billion if based on the market value of assets. The employer contribution rate, as determined by an actuarial valuation, includes funding for the normal cost, the accrued liability cost, and the TCRS administrative cost.

THDA Employer Contributions to TCRS

For THDA, the employer contribution rate, stated as a percentage of salary, for the period beginning July 1, 2011, and ending June 30, 2012, is 14.91% based on the actuarial valuation effective July 1, 2009. The July 1, 2011, actuarial valuation will establish the employer contribution rate for the two year period beginning July 1, 2012, and ending June 30, 2014. The results of the 2011 valuation should be available in late December of 2011.

A history of THDA's contributions to TCRS is reflected in the following table:

2012	14.91%	$12,151,100*	$1,811,729*	1.36%
2011	14.91%	10,593,944	1,585,654	1.25
2010	13.02%	9,956,646	1,295,272	1.03
2009	13.02%	9,267,262	1,201,303	0.98
2008	13.66%	9,602,067	1,297,298	1.02
2007	13.58%	8,644,241	1,175,459	0.96

*Estimated

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2011, the salary of THDA employees totaled $10,593,944, which represents 0.43% of the $2.510 billion of salary for all state and higher education employees in TCRS.

It is anticipated that there will be upward pressure on the employer contribution rate in future actuarial valuations as deferred market losses that have been actuarially smoothed are recognized over the next ten years.

GASB Exposure Draft Amending Statement 27

The Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) has issued an exposure draft amending GASB statement number 27 relative to accounting and reporting for pensions. If adopted as proposed, it would separate pension accounting from pension funding, which heretofore have been tied together. The amendment proposes a methodology for measuring pension expense to be presented in the employer's financial statements. Moreover, the amendment proposes a methodology for measuring the pension liability to be presented in the employer's financial statement. No prediction can be made as to whether and in what form it might be adopted and as to any actual effects. However, financial statement presentation will not affect the pension funding methodologies described herein.

Other Post-Employment Benefits

Certain Governmental Accounting Standards Board ("GASB") GASB Statements (nos. 43 and 45) provide accounting and financial reporting requirements for retiree healthcare plans and employer participants, commonly known as Other Post-Employment Benefits ("OPEB"). To date, the State has reported OPEB costs in the aggregate for all State employees. The State received an actuarial study as of July 1, 2009, which was updated as of July 1, 2010, that includes OPEB costs attributable to the State and, separately, for certain of its component units (including THDA) that are required to participate in the State's retirement and benefit plans. The study, which used a projected unit credit actuarial cost method, indicates that the total unfunded actuarial liability of THDA is approximately $3,316,000 and the annual required contribution for THDA is approximately $358,000. The annual required contribution consists of the normal cost (the portion of the actuarial present value of OPEB benefits which is allocated to a valuation year by the actuarial cost method) and an amortization of the unfunded actuarial liability. The report may be reviewed at http://www.tennessee.gov/finance/act/OPEB.html. A new actuarial study is expected to be published in the fall of 2012. The State does not currently expect to fund any actuarially determined OPEB liability, but will continue to use pay-as-you-go funding of actual costs of OPEB liabilities incurred for the fiscal year. The State will charge THDA for these actual costs allocable to THDA's employees, but not for any actuarially determined OPEB liability. The State has the flexibility to adjust the various plan options on an annual basis, and will continue to analyze the cost of the choices available to current employees and retirees and the cost of the choices on the employees, retirees and the State's cash flow to manage these expenditures going forward.

General Resolution Requirements

The General Resolution requires certain tests to be met prior to any withdrawal of funds from the lien of the General Resolution. See Appendix D. In addition, certain tests must also be met prior to any withdrawal of funds under the lien of the 1974 General Resolution and the 2009 General Resolution. THDA funds which are not pledged under the General Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or the 2009 General Resolution can be removed without meeting such tests.

Absence of Interest Rate Swap Transactions

THDA has never entered into an interest rate swap transaction and no such transaction is currently anticipated by THDA.

TAX MATTERS

THDA has included provisions in the Resolution, the Guide for Originating Agents issued by THDA and other relevant documents and has established procedures, including receipt of certain affidavits and warranties from Originating Agents and borrowers (the "Program Documents") in order to assure compliance with the Program Loan eligibility requirements and other requirements which must be met subsequent to the issuance of the Offered Bonds. Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with applicable federal tax law and, for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. THDA believes that the procedures and documentation requirements established for the purpose of fulfilling this covenant are sufficient to assure that the proceeds of the Offered Bonds will be applied in accordance with the requirements of applicable federal tax law so as to assure that interest on the Offered Bonds will not be included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes.

Opinion of Bond Counsel

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Issue 2011-1 Bonds will be excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes under existing laws as enacted and construed on the date of the issuance of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds, assuming the accuracy of the certifications of THDA and continuing compliance by THDA with the requirements of the federal tax laws. Bond Counsel is also of the opinion that (i) interest on the Issue 2011-1A Bonds will be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations; (ii) interest on the Issue 2011-1B Bonds and the Issue 2011-1C Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, (iii) interest on the Issue 2011-1B Bonds will be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code, and (iv) interest on the Issue 2011-1B Bonds will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

Ownership of the Offered Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, financial institutions, property and casualty insurance companies, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, certain S corporations with "excess net passive income", taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred or continued debt to purchase or carry the Offered Bonds and taxpayers otherwise eligible to claim the earned income credit. Bond Counsel expresses no opinion as to such collateral tax consequences.

Certain recipients of interest on the Offered Bonds may be subject to backup withholding under Section 3406 of the Code, unless the recipient of interest furnishes its taxpayer identification number with the payor of the interest or is otherwise exempt from backup withholding tax.

From time to time, there are legislative proposals in the Congress and in the states that, if enacted, could alter or amend the federal and state tax matters referred to above or adversely affect the market value of the Offered Bonds. An example of such legislation is the American Jobs Act of 2011 (S. 1549), proposed by the President and introduced in the Senate on September 13, 2011. If enacted as introduced, a provision of S. 1549 would limit the amount of exclusions (including tax-exempt interest) and deductions available to certain high income taxpayers for taxable years after 2012, and as a result could affect the market price or marketability of the Offered Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether or in what form any such proposal might be enacted or whether if enacted it would apply to bonds issued prior to enactment. In addition, regulatory actions are from time to time announced or proposed and litigation is threatened or commenced which, if implemented or concluded in a particular manner, could adversely affect the market value of the Offered Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether any such regulatory action will be implemented, how any particular litigation or judicial action will be resolved, or whether the Offered Bonds or the market value thereof would be impacted thereby. Purchasers of the Offered Bonds should consult their tax advisors regarding any pending or proposed legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation. The opinions to be expressed by Bond Counsel will be based upon existing legislation and regulations as interpreted by relevant judicial and regulatory authorities as of the date of issuance and delivery of the Offered Bonds and Bond Counsel will express no opinion as of any date subsequent thereto or with respect to any pending legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under the laws of the State of Tennessee as enacted and construed on the date of issuance of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds, as applicable, interest on the Offered Bonds is exempt from income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Offered Bonds and interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee.

An amount equal to the excess of the issue price of an Offered Bond sold at a premium (a “Premium Bond”) over its stated redemption price at maturity constitutes premium on such Premium Bond. An initial purchaser of a Premium Bond must amortize any premium over such Premium Bond’s term using constant yield principles, based on the purchaser’s yield to maturity (or, in the case of Premium Bonds callable prior to their maturity, by amortizing the premium to the call date, based on the purchaser’s yield to the call date and giving effect to any call premium). As premium is amortized, the amount of the amortization offsets a corresponding amount of interest for the period and the purchaser’s basis in such Premium Bond is reduced by a corresponding amount resulting in an increase in the gain (or decrease in the loss) to be recognized for federal income tax purposes upon a sale or disposition of such Premium Bond prior to its maturity. Even though the purchaser’s basis may be reduced, no federal income tax deduction is allowed. Purchasers of the Premium Bonds should consult with their tax advisors with respect to the determination and treatment of premium for federal income tax purposes and with respect to the state and local tax consequences of owning a Premium Bond.

LEGAL INVESTMENT

The Act provides that the bonds of THDA are securities in which all public officers and bodies of the State and all municipal subdivisions, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on insurance business, all banks, bankers, trust companies, including savings and loan associations, building and loan associations, investment banking companies and other persons carrying on an investment banking business, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of the State, may properly and legally invest in the bonds of THDA with funds, including capital, in their own control or belonging to them.

RATINGS

Moody’s Investors Service, Inc. (“Moody’s”) has assigned the Offered Bonds a rating of Aa1 and Standard & Poor’s Ratings Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. (“S&P”) has assigned the Offered Bonds a rating of AA+. Such ratings reflect only the views of the respective rating agency and an explanation of the criteria for and the significance of such ratings may be obtained from Moody’s and Standard & Poor’s. THDA has furnished to Moody’s and Standard & Poor’s certain information and materials with respect to the Offered Bonds. Generally, rating agencies base their ratings on such information and materials, and on investigations, studies and assumptions made by the rating agencies. There is no assurance that the ratings will continue for any given period of time or that the ratings will not be revised or withdrawn entirely by these rating agencies, if in the judgment of the rating agency, circumstances so warrant. A downward revision or withdrawal of the ratings may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Offered Bonds.

DISCLOSURE

Secondary Market Disclosure

THDA is currently disseminating and presently intends to continue to disseminate information relating to its various single-family mortgage revenue bonds in accordance with the quarterly secondary market disclosure project sponsored by the National Council of State Housing Agencies. THDA has filed quarterly reports, beginning with the quarter ending June 30, 1994, with each then nationally recognized municipal securities information repository. THDA also expects that its official statements, which contain audited financial information about THDA, with respect to bonds issued under the General Resolution, the 2009 General Resolution, and the 1974 General Resolution will be filed with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (the "MSRB") through its Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA) system if and when bonds are so issued. It is the present intent of THDA to continue making voluntary secondary market disclosure as described above.

Continuing Disclosure Undertaking

In order to comply with the requirements of Rule 15c2-12 (the "Rule") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, THDA, in the Issue 2011-1 Supplemental Resolution for the benefit of the Beneficial Owners of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds, agrees to file:

(a) With the MSRB, within 210 days after the end of each THDA fiscal year, a copy of its annual financial statements, prepared as described in "FINANCIAL STATEMENTS" below, and an annual updating of certain information relating to the Program Loans, including, without limitation, information with respect to the outstanding balances of such Program Loans, by mortgage type, and delinquency information, acquisition costs and income limits, and in Appendix E (collectively, "Annual Financial Information") and annual required contributions for employee pension plan and other post-employment benefits to the extent not included in annual financial statements. If unaudited financial statements are provided as part of the Annual Financial Information by the above date, then THDA shall provide, when and if available, a copy of THDA's audited financial statements to the MSRB;

(b) In a timely manner, with (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of the occurrence of any of the following events (if applicable) with respect to the Offered Bonds: (i) principal and interest payment delinquencies; (ii) non-payment related defaults, if material; (iii) unscheduled draws on the Debt Service Reserve Fund reflecting financial difficulties; (iv) unscheduled draws on credit enhancements, if any, for the Offered Bonds, reflecting financial difficulties; (v) substitution of credit or liquidity providers, if any, for the Offered Bonds, or their failure to perform; (vi) adverse tax opinions, or material notices of determinations with respect to the tax status of the Offered Bonds or other material events affecting the tax-exempt status of the Offered Bonds; (vii) modifications to rights of holders of the Offered Bonds, if material; (viii) bond calls, if material, and tender offers; (ix) defeasances; (x) release, substitution, or sale of property securing repayment of the Offered Bonds, if material; (xi) rating changes; (xii) bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or similar event of the Issuer (which event is considered to occur when any of the following occur: the appointment of a receiver, fiscal agent of similar officer for the Issuer in a proceeding under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or in any other proceeding under state or federal law in which a court or government authority has assumed jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of the Issuer, or if such jurisdiction has been assumed by leaving the existing governing body and officials or officers in possession but subject to the supervision and orders of a court of governmental authority, or the entry of an order confirming a plan of reorganization, arrangement or liquidation by a court or governmental authority having supervision or jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of THDA); (xiii) the consummation of a merger, consolidation, or acquisition involving THDA or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of THDA, other than in the ordinary course of business, the entry into a definitive agreement to undertake such action or the termination of a definitive agreement relating to any such actions, other than pursuant to its terms, if material; and (xiv) appointment of a successor or additional trustee or the change of name of a trustee, if material.

(c) In a timely manner to (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of a failure by THDA to provide the Annual Financial Information set forth in (a) above within the time limit specified above.

THDA may amend the Issue 2011-1 Supplemental Resolution, with respect to the above agreements, without the consent of the Beneficial Owners of the applicable Issue of Offered Bonds (except to the extent required under clause (4)(ii) below), if all of the following conditions are satisfied: (1) such amendment is made in connection with a change in circumstances that arises from a change in legal (including regulatory) requirements, a change in law (including rules or regulations) or in interpretations thereof, or a change in the identity, nature or status of THDA or the type of business conducted thereby; (2) these agreements as so amended would have complied with the requirements of the Rule as of the date of the Issue 2011-1 Supplemental Resolution, after taking into account any amendments or interpretations of the Rule, as well as any change in circumstances; (3) THDA shall have delivered to the Trustee an opinion of counsel, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the same effect as set forth in clause (2) above; (4) either (i) THDA shall deliver to the Trustee an opinion of or determination by a person unaffiliated with THDA (which may include the Trustee or bond counsel), acceptable to THDA and the Trustee, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the effect that the amendment does not materially impair the interests of the holders of the Offered Bonds, or (ii) the holders of the Offered Bonds consent to the amendment pursuant to the same procedures as are required for amendments to the General Resolution with consent of the holders of Offered Bonds pursuant to the General Resolution as in effect on the date of the Issue 2011-1 Supplemental Resolution, and (5) THDA shall have delivered copies of such opinion(s) and the amendment to the MRSB.

THDA's obligations under these agreements as set forth in the Issue 2011-1 Supplemental Resolution terminate upon a legal defeasance pursuant to the General Resolution, prior redemption or payment in full of all of the Offered Bonds. THDA shall give notice of any such termination to the MSRB.

THDA acknowledges that its undertaking pursuant to the Rule described under this heading is intended to be for the benefit for the Beneficial Owners of the Offered Bonds whether or not the Rule applies to such Bonds. Breach of this undertaking will not be a default under the Resolution but this undertaking may be enforced by any Beneficial Owner of the Offered Bonds exclusively by an action for specific performance. This undertaking shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State, and any suits and actions arising out of this undertaking shall be instituted in a court of competent jurisdiction in the State.

THDA has materially complied with all previous similar Rule undertakings during at least the past five years.

ABSENCE OF MATERIAL LITIGATION

At the time of delivery of and payment for the Offered Bonds, a certificate of THDA and an opinion of counsel will be furnished, dated the date of delivery, to the effect that there is no controversy or litigation of any nature at such time pending or threatened to restrain or enjoin the issuance, sale, execution or delivery of the Offered Bonds, or in any way contesting or affecting the validity of the Offered Bonds or any proceedings of THDA taken with respect to the issuance or sale thereof or the pledge or application of any moneys or security provided for the payment of the Offered Bonds or the existence or powers of THDA.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The issuance of the Offered Bonds is subject to the delivery of the legal opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel with respect to legal matters incident to the authorization, issuance, sale, and delivery of the Offered Bonds in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix H. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller, and for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Appendix A contains the audited financial statements of THDA and supplementary data as of and for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, together with the letter thereon from Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA, Director, Division of State Audit in the Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee. Such audited financial statements and supplementary data are included herein in reliance upon the report thereon of such official. The audited financial statements are audited in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board ("GASB").

UNDERWRITING

RBC Capital Markets, LLC, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated, Morgan Keegan & Company, Inc., Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Raymond James & Associates, Inc., M.R. Beal & Company and Wiley Bros.—Aintree Capital, LLC (collectively, the "Underwriters") have agreed, subject to certain conditions, to purchase the Offered Bonds from THDA at a purchase price of 100% of the principal amount thereof. The Underwriters will be paid a fee in connection with the purchase of the Offered Bonds in an amount equal to $915,599.15. The obligations of the Underwriters to purchase the Offered Bonds are subject to certain conditions precedent. The Underwriters will be obligated to purchase all such Offered Bonds if any such Offered Bonds are purchased.

The Underwriters and their respective affiliates are full service financial institutions engaged in various activities, which may include securities trading, commercial and investment banking, financial advisory, investment management, principal investment, hedging, financing and brokerage activities. Certain of the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may have, from time to time, performed and may in the future perform, various investment banking services for THDA, for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses. In the ordinary course of their various business activities, the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (which may include bank loans and/or credit default swaps) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers and may at any time hold long and short positions in such securities and instruments. Such investment and securities activities may involve securities and instruments of THDA.

Citigroup Inc., parent company of Citigroup Global Markets Inc., an underwriter of the 2011-1 Bonds, has entered into a retail brokerage joint venture with Morgan Stanley. As part of the joint venture, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. will distribute municipal securities to retail investors through the financial advisor network of a new broker-dealer, Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC. This distribution arrangement became effective on June 1, 2009. As part of this arrangement, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. will compensate Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC for its selling efforts with respect to the Issue 2011-1 Bonds.

MISCELLANEOUS

Any statements in this Official Statement involving matters of opinion or estimates, whether or not expressly so stated, are intended as such and not as representatives of fact. No representation is made that such statements will be realized. All financial and other information presented in this Official Statement has been provided by THDA from its records, except for information expressly attributed to other sources. The presentation of information is intended to show recent historic information, and it is not intended to indicate future or continuing trends in the financial position or other affairs of THDA. No representation is made that past experience, as it might be shown by such financial and other information, will necessarily continue or be repeated in the future. References to and summaries of provisions of the laws of the State or of any other documents referred to in this Official Statement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the complete provisions thereof. This Official Statement is not to be construed as a contract or agreement between THDA and the purchasers or holders of any of the Offered Bonds.

The information contained herein is subject to change without notice and no implication should be derived therefrom or from the issuance, as applicable, of the Offered Bonds that there has been no change in the affairs of THDA from the date hereof. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has covenanted to keep proper books of record and account in which full, true and correct entries will be made of all its dealings and transactions under the Resolution and to cause such books to be audited for each fiscal year. The Resolution requires that such books be open to inspection by the holder of any Bond during regular business hours of THDA and that THDA furnish a copy of the auditor's report, when available, upon request of the holder of any outstanding Bond. This Official Statement is submitted in connection with the sale of the securities referred to herein which are proposed to be issued by THDA. It may not be reproduced or used in part, or, as a whole or in part, for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report

September 30, 2011

The Honorable Bill Haslam, Governor
and
Members of the General Assembly
State Capitol
Nashville, Tennessee 37243
and
Members of the Board of Directors
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
and
Mr. Ted Fellman, Executive Director
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
404 James Robertson Parkway, Suite 1200
Nashville, Tennessee 37243

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency, a component unit of the State of Tennessee, as of June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the agency's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements, based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in generally accepted government auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion. Tennessee statutes, in addition to audit responsibilities, entrust certain other responsibilities to the Comptroller of the Treasury. Those responsibilities include serving as a member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. We do not believe that the Comptroller's service in this capacity affected our ability to conduct an independent audit of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency as of June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, and the changes in its financial position and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The management's discussion and analysis and the schedule of funding progress are not required parts of the basic financial statements but are supplementary information required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We have applied certain limited procedures, which consisted principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion on it.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements. The accompanying supplementary information, following the schedule of funding progress, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

In accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards, we will issue a report dated September 30, 2011, on our consideration of the agency's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Sincerely,

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr.

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA
Director

This section of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency's (THDA) annual financial statements presents management's discussion and analysis of THDA's financial performance for the years ended June 30, 2011 and June 30, 2010. This information is being presented to provide additional information regarding the activities of THDA and to meet the reporting and disclosure requirements of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement Number 34, Basic Financial Statements -- and Management's Discussion and Analysis -- for State and Local Governments. This section should be read in conjunction with the Independent Auditor's Report and the audited financial statements and accompanying notes.

INTRODUCTION – THE TENNESSEE HOUSING DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

The mission statement of THDA is "Leading Tennessee Home by creating safe, sound, affordable housing opportunities." THDA's goal is to provide housing assistance to those in need by offering a variety of housing-related programs. One of the primary ways THDA assists Tennesseans is by offering mortgages for first-time homebuyers at below conventional market interest rates. At the close of fiscal year 2011, THDA has originated over 106,000 single-family mortgage loans in its 38-year history, and serves as the master servicer for all active mortgages it funds. In addition to helping homebuyers, THDA administers Section 8 rental assistance programs, including the tenant-based Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program in approximately 74 of Tennessee's 95 counties, as well as the project-based Contract Administration program for approximately 400 contracts throughout all of Tennessee. THDA also administers grant programs, awarded on a competitive annual cycle, for rehabilitation and new construction of owner-occupied units and small rental projects. THDA is also involved in the development and rehabilitation of multifamily rental housing for low-income families by administering the federal Low-Income Housing Tax Credit, which is a competitive process, and by setting aside a portion of bond authority to be allocated to local issuing authorities for specific multifamily developments.

More recently, THDA has administered programs under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), including the Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program (HPRP), the Tax Credit Assistance Program (TCAP), the Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP), and a Low Income Housing Tax Credit exchange program under Section 1602 of the Act.

As established by statute, "The agency shall have a board of directors which shall be responsible for carrying out the powers given to the agency. . ." (Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-105). This board meets regularly on a bi-monthly basis; however, some committees may meet more often as situations dictate.

OVERVIEW OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The basic financial statements include statements of net assets, statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets, statements of cash flows, as well as notes to the financial statements. The statements of net assets provide financial information on the overall financial position of THDA at each year end. The statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets summarize the results of operations over the course of each fiscal year. The statements of cash flows provide relevant information about THDA's cash receipts and cash payments during each fiscal year. The notes to the financial statements provide essential information regarding THDA's significant accounting policies, significant account balances and activities, certain material risks, obligations, commitments, contingencies and subsequent events. THDA's financial statements are presented using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. In addition to the basic financial statements, other supplementary information is included.

THDA is also considered to be a "component unit" for the State of Tennessee, and therefore, its financial information is reported in the State of Tennessee's government-wide Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. This report may be viewed at http://tennessee.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

FINANCIAL ANALYSIS OF THE AGENCY

Net Assets. The following table focuses on the changes in net assets between fiscal years (expressed in thousands):

	2011	2010	2009
Current assets	$ 304,429	$ 397,864	$ 313,017
Capital assets	157	79	29
Other noncurrent assets	2,430,331	2,516,989	2,247,094
Total assets	2,734,917	2,914,932	2,560,140
Current liabilities	150,534	193,765	145,096
Noncurrent liabilities	2,064,427	2,202,405	1,905,071
Total liabilities	2,214,961	2,396,170	2,050,167
Invested in capital assets	157	79	29
Restricted net assets	517,587	514,383	508,036
Unrestricted net assets	2,212	4,300	1,908
Total net assets	$ 519,956	$ 518,762	$ 509,973

2011to 2010

- THDA's total net assets increased $1.2 million, or 0.2%, from $518.8 million at June 30, 2010 to $520.0 million at June 30, 2011. While various factors accounted for this change, the most significant factors include a decrease in interest expense, an increase in mortgage interest income, a decrease in the net increase/decrease in the fair value of investments, an increase in other program expenses, and a decrease in federal grant administration fees.

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $3.8 million, or 0.2%, from $2,115.6 million at June 30, 2010 to $2,119.4 million at June 30, 2011. During FY 2011, single-family mortgage loan originations decreased $113.0 million, or 32.8% from $344.1 million in FY 2010 to $231.1 million in FY 2011. Conversely, mortgage loan prepayments (which includes loans in which a foreclosure sale has occurred) increased $0.9 million, or 0.5%, from $179.3 million in FY 2010 to $180.2 million in FY 2011.

- Total liabilities decreased $181.2 million, or 7.6%, from $2,396.2 million at June 30, 2010 to $2,215.0 million at June 30, 2011. The decrease is primarily due to a reduction in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2011 as compared to fiscal year 2010, as well as an increase in the redemption of bonds as compared to fiscal year 2010.

- THDA's total net assets increased $8.8 million, or 1.7%, from $510.0 million at June 30, 2009 to $518.8 million at June 30, 2010. This resulted from operating revenues that exceeded operating expenses.

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $116.2 million, or 5.8%, from $1,999.4 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,115.6 million at June 30, 2010. This increase resulted from mortgage loan originations that exceeded mortgage loan prepayments and repayments.

- Total liabilities increased $346.0 million, or 16.9%, from $2,050.2 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,396.2 million at June 30, 2010. The increase is primarily due to a increase in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2010 as compared to fiscal year 2009, primarily, the issuance of bonds in the Housing Finance Program Bonds Resolution.

Changes in Net Assets. The following table summarizes the changes in revenues, expenses and changes in net assets between fiscal years (expressed in thousands):

	2011	2010	2009
Operating revenues
Mortgage interest income	$ 119,406	$ 118,572	$ 119,500
Investment income	6,156	14,517	17,905
Other	17,041	17,588	14,186
Total operating revenues	142,603	150,677	151,591
Operating expenses
Interest expense	88,301	93,154	93,103
Other	38,905	32,677	29,931
Total operating expenses	127,206	125,831	123,034
Operating income	15,397	24,846	28,557
Nonoperating revenues (expenses)
Grant revenues	355,754	254,417	186,800
Grant expenses	(369,957)	(270,474)	(199,132)
Total nonoperating revenues (expenses)	(14,203)	(16,057)	(12,332)
Change in net assets	$ 1,194	$ 8,789	$ 16,225

2011 to 2010
Total operating revenues decreased $8.1 million from $150.7 million for the year ended June 30, 2010 to $142.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2011. The primary reasons for this decrease are as follows:

- Investment income decreased $8.4 million, or 57.6%, from $14.5 million in 2010 to $6.2 million in 2011. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in the fair value of investments of $4.9 million in FY 2011 as compared to an increase in the fair value of investments of $1.7 million in FY 2010.

- Federal grant administration fees decreased $1.2 million, or 8.1%, from $15.1 million in 2010 to $13.9 million in 2011. This primarily resulted from a decrease in federal administrative fees earned on the Section 8 tenant-based HCV program.

For the year ended June 30, 2011, total operating expenses increased $1.4 million, or 1.1%, from $125.8 million in 2010 to $127.2 million in 2011. The primary reasons for this increase are as follows:

- Interest expense decreased $4.9 million, or 5.2%, from $93.2 million in 2010 to $88.3 million in 2011. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in bonds payable during FY 2011.

- Other program expenses increased $5.4 million, or 84.6%, from $6.4 million in 2010 to $11.9 million in 2011. There were several factors that contributed to this increase, among which were an increase in expenses related to mortgage loan foreclosures and incurring administrative expenses in administering ARRA grants as well as in implementing the Hardest Hit Fund (HHF).

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating revenues decreased $.9 million from $151.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2009, to $150.7 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating expenses increased $2.8 million, or 2.3%, from $123.0 million in 2009 to $125.8 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

While the total net assets for fiscal year 2010 increased $8.8 million from the previous year, the non-monetary change in the fair value of investments contributed $3.8 million toward this increase. When considered without these non-monetary components, net assets would have increased $5.0 million.

DEBT ACTIVITY

Bonds and notes outstanding at June 30 were as follows (expressed in thousands):

	2011	2010	2009
Bonds payable	$ 2,140,486	$ 2,316,748	$ 1,972,561
Notes payable	3,250	3,672	3,250
Total bonds and notes payable	$ 2,143,736	$ 2,320,420	$ 1,975,811

Year Ended June 30, 2011

Total bonds and notes payable decreased $176.7 million, or 7.6%, due primarily to a decrease in the amount of bonds issued as well as an increase in the redemption of bonds as compared to recent fiscal years. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $201.9 million, with activity arising from three bond issues.

Year Ended June 30, 2010

Total bonds and notes payable increased $344.6 million, or 17.4%, due primarily to an increase in the issuance of THDA's bonds. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $551.0 million, with activity arising from four bond issues. During FY 2010, THDA participated in the New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) as established by the United States Treasury Department. Principal redemptions during FY 2010 totaled $203.6 million.

New Issue Bond Program (NIBP)
The New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) provides temporary financing for Housing Finance Agencies (HFAs) to issue new housing bonds to fund new mortgages. The United States Treasury Department will purchase securities of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac backed by these new housing bonds. This will temporarily allow the HFAs to issue an amount of new housing bonds equal to what they would ordinarily be able to issue with the allocations provided them by Congress but are generally unable to issue given the current challenges in housing and related markets.

On December 23, 2009, THDA issued $360 million of bonds under the NIBP, which were $60 million (Bond Issue 2009-A2) and $300 million (Bond Issue 2009-B1). The $300 million 2009-B1 bonds are variable-rate taxable debt, and are to be held in escrow. Upon being placed in escrow, the proceeds from these bonds are re-invested into permissible investments as required by the United States Treasury Department (generally, 28-day Treasury Bills purchased at auction). These bonds are scheduled to be released from escrow, re-designated and be converted to fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds upon the issuance of market bonds within the framework and guidelines of the NIBP.

Subsequently, THDA released, re-designed, and converted escrowed bonds (Bond Issue 2009-B) into fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds as noted below:

Date	Amount	New Bond Issue
June 17, 2010	$ 85,290,000	Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1
October 27, 2010	60,000,000	Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-2
March 24, 2011	60,000,000	Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3

As of June 30, 2011, the amount of bonds remaining in the Issue 2009-B1 escrowed bonds was $94,710.000.

Considering the investment requirements for the NIBP escrowed bonds as established by the United States Treasury Department, the proceeds of these escrowed bonds are presented on the Statements of Net Assets as Non-Current Assets, Restricted Assets, Cash and Cash Equivalents. Bonds issued under the NIBP have been placed in the Housing Finance Program Bonds resolution.

Bond Ratings
For bonds issued under the Mortgage Finance Program, Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2 and Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA.

For bonds issued under the Homeownership Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa1 and S&P has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA+.

For bonds issued under the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2. These bonds are not rated by S&P.

There were no revisions to THDA's bond ratings during FY 2011 or FY 2010.

Debt Limits

In accordance with Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-121, THDA operates under a "debt ceiling" of $2,930,000,000.

GRANT PROGRAMS

During FY 2007 through FY 2009, the General Assembly has appropriated revenue to THDA for grant programs. Likewise, THDA's Board of Directors has allocated additional THDA funds for grants. These funds established a grant program that has been titled by the THDA as the "Tennessee Housing Trust Fund."

The four-level model for funding this grant program includes state appropriations, THDA funds, private sector investment, and matching funds from local grantees. The purpose of this grant program is to serve the needs of low and/or very low income, elderly, and special needs Tennesseans. Funding and uses for the Housing Trust Fund are as follows:

	FY 2011	FY 2010	FY 2009 and Prior	Total
Funding Sources:
THDA	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 18,000,000	$ 30,000,000
State Appropriation	-	-	4,350,000	4,350,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 22,350,000	$ 34,350,000
Approved Uses:
Rural repair program (USDA)	$ 700,000	$ 700,000	$ 2,100,000	$ 3,500,000
Ramp Program (UCP)	-	-	50,000	50,000
Ramp Program	-	-	400,000	400,000
Hsg Modification & Ramp Prg	150,000	150,000	-	300,000
Homebuyer Education Initiative	-	-	300,000	300,000
Emergency Repairs for Elderly	2,000,000	2,000,000	6,000,000	10,000,000
Competitive Grants	3,150,000	3,150,000	13,500,000	19,800,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 22,350,000	$ 34,350,000

In addition to the above funding, local grants could produce an additional $4 million or more funding each year. Also, the Emergency Repairs for the Elderly program and the Competitive Grants have a 50% grantee match requirement.

THDA is seeking additional private sector funding. In addition to the above approved uses, THDA received requests that merit funding. These requests totaled approximately $6 million more than the funds available.

CURRENT MORTGAGE PRODUCTS AND ENVIRONMENT

THDA offers three primary choices for single-family mortgages. The Great Rate mortgage product offers an attractive interest rate loan secured by a first mortgage. The Great Start program offers a loan with an interest rate that is, as of June 30, 2011, 60 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, but provides 4% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance. In addition, THDA introduced the Great Advantage product during fiscal year 2006, which offers a loan with an interest rate that is, as of June 30, 2011, 30 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, and 2% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance.

All loans made or purchased by THDA are fixed-rate mortgages with a maximum loan term of 360 months (30 years), and must conform to insurer / guarantor underwriting guidelines. THDA does not make or purchase adjustable rate mortgages (ARMs), interest-only mortgages, "buy-down" loans, mortgages with a future lump-sum payment due (balloon-type mortgage), or with other similar mortgage terms. THDA does not make or purchase "sub-prime" mortgage loans.

Single-family mortgage loans purchased by THDA with Loan-to-value (LTV) ratios between 78% and 97% must have an acceptable insurer/guarantor, which includes:

- FHA (United States Department of Housing and Urban Development)
- VA (Veterans Administration Guaranty Program)
- USDA/RD (the United States Department of Agriculture - Rural Development, formerly Farmers Home Administration)
- Private mortgage insurance

THDA will accept private mortgage insurance provided from private mortgage insurers, who are licensed by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in Tennessee; and are rated at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Group. THDA will allow privately insured loans underwritten using nationally accepted underwriting guidelines established by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. These loans must be approved through an automated underwriting system such as Desktop Underwriter or Loan Prospector with no expanded approvals. Such privately insured mortgage loans may have loan-to-value ratios up to and including 97% of the lesser of the purchase price or the appraised value.

Loans with a 78% LTV or lower do not require mortgage insurance.

A detailed chart of these mortgage loan products and primary mortgage loan terms may be obtained from THDA's internet site at http://www.thda.org/singlefamily/hochoices.html.

More recently, media attention has focused on mortgage loan delinquencies and foreclosures. For the past several years, THDA has closely monitored its loan portfolio for delinquency and foreclosures. This monitoring has included analysis based on loan type (Great Rate, Great Start, and Great Advantage), insurer/guarantor (FHA, VA, RECD, private mortgage insurer), mortgage loan servicer, down-payment assistance, and other factors as deemed necessary.

As of June 30, 2011, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	26,725	521	39,122,105	1.95%
90+ Days Past Due	26,725	1,085	81,167,263	4.06%
In Foreclosure	26,725	308	24,127,169	1.15%

As of June 30, 2010, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	26,756	657	46,015,708	2.46%
90+ Days Past Due	26,756	1,293	95,704,596	4.83%
In Foreclosure	26,756	136	10,466,566	0.51%

Note: Percentage is calculated by dividing the "Number of Loans in Status" by the "Total Number of Loans Serviced."

ECONOMIC FACTORS

In accordance with THDA's investment policy, THDA typically invests in short-term collateralized repurchase agreements, as well as short-term and long-term fixed-rate debt securities from federal agencies. As a bench-mark, THDA uses the one-, three-, and five year Constant Maturity Treasury (CMT) rates as established by the United States Treasury.

The continuation of relatively low interest rates from a historic perspective increased the likelihood of negative arbitrage, in which the interest rates on THDA's bond issues exceeds the current investment interest rates. THDA monitors prepayments and bond investment yields, and seeks to reduce negative arbitrage by calling bonds with the funds from prepayments.

CONTACTING THDA's FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

This financial report is designed to provide THDA's stakeholders with a general overview of THDA's finances and to show accountability for the funds that it receives, invests, and expends. NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Reporting Entity

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency was created by an act of the legislature (Chapter 241, Public Acts, 1973). The act was approved by the Governor on May 14, 1973. The enabling legislation can be found in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 13-23-101 et seq. The purpose of the agency is to improve housing and living conditions for lower- and moderate-income persons and families in Tennessee by making loans and mortgages to qualified sponsors, builders, developers, and purchasers of low- and moderate-income family dwellings.

The agency is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of the Agency. The remaining members are appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. Board members are to be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, and the three grand divisions of the state and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. One member of the board is a resident board member as required by Section 505 of the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998 and 24 CFR Part 964, Subpart E.

In order to accomplish its objectives, the agency is authorized to raise funds through the issuance of bonds and notes. Bonds and notes issued by the agency are not general obligations of the State of Tennessee or any of its political subdivisions, and neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state or any political subdivision is pledged for payment of the principal or interest on such bonds or notes.

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency is a component unit of the State of Tennessee. Although the agency is a separate legal entity, the state appoints a majority of its governing body, and approves its operating budget. The agency is discretely presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report.

b. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB). The agency generally follows private-sector standards of accounting and financial reporting issued prior to December 1, 1989, to the extent that these standards do not conflict with or contradict guidance of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. The agency also has the option of following subsequent private-sector guidance subject to this same limitation. The agency has elected not to follow subsequent private-sector guidance. Certain accounting policies and procedures are stipulated in the agency's Mortgage Finance Program, Single Family Program, Homeownership Program, and Housing Finance Program bond resolutions and the Single Family Mortgage Notes trust indenture. The agency follows these procedures in establishing and maintaining the various funds and accounts for its programs. Revenues and expenses applicable to each fund and account are recorded therein.

c. Basis of Accounting and Measurement Focus

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. Under this basis, revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recorded when liabilities are incurred. When both restricted and unrestricted resources are available for use, generally it is the agency's policy to use the restricted resources first.

d. Capital Assets

Capital assets, which include furniture and office equipment, are defined by the agency as assets with an initial, individual cost of $5,000 or more.

Capital assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives of the assets.

Description	Estimated Life
Furniture	10 years
Computer equipment	3 years

e. Restricted Assets

Restricted assets are comprised of the Debt Service Reserve Funds and the New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) 2009-B escrowed bond investments.

The bond resolutions require the agency to establish a Debt Service Reserve Fund for each bond issue. The bond resolutions require that if the Debt Service and Expense Funds or the Revenue Funds of a bond issue are not sufficient to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund requirements of that issue that funds be transferred from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to cover any deficiency.

The NIBP 2009-B escrowed bond investments are restricted for use in the 2009 resolution. These invested funds are restricted to be released, converted and blended with market rate bonds.

f. Bond Issuance Costs and Refunding Costs

1. Bond Issuance Costs: The agency amortizes bond issuance costs using the interest method over the life of the related bond issue. Unamortized bond issuance costs are reported as deferred charges.

2. Bond Refunding Costs: The agency amortizes bond refunding costs using the straight-line method. Bonds payable is reported net of the deferred amount on refundings.

3. Bond Premiums and Discounts: Bond premiums and discounts are deferred and amortized over the life of the bonds using the interest method. Bonds payable are reported net of the applicable unamortized bond premium or discount.

g. Cash and Cash Equivalents

In addition to demand deposits, petty cash, and deposits in the pooled investment fund administered by the State Treasurer, this classification includes short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

h. Investments

The agency has established guidelines for its funds to meet the requirements of the bond resolutions and to comply with the statutes of the State of Tennessee. Permitted investments include the following: direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury and U.S. Agencies; obligations guaranteed by the U.S.; public housing bonds secured by contracts with the U.S.; direct and general obligations of the State of Tennessee or obligations guaranteed by the State of Tennessee; obligations of other states or instrumentalities thereof which are rated in either of the two highest rating categories by Moody's Investor Service or Standard & Poor's Corporation; interest bearing time or demand deposits; collateralized certificates of deposit in authorized state depositories; and repurchase agreements collateralized by authorized securities.

Investments are stated at fair value, except for repurchase agreements which are reported at cost.

i. Accrual of Interest Income

Interest on first mortgage loans receivable and investment securities is credited to income as earned and classified as interest receivable.

j. Mortgages

Mortgages are carried at their original amount less principal collected.

k. Operating Revenues and Expenses

The agency was created with the authority to issue bonds to the investing public in order to create a flow of private capital through the agency into mortgage loans to certain qualified individuals and qualified housing sponsors. The agency's primary operation is to borrow funds in the bond market and issue those funds to make single-family and multi-family loans. The primary operating revenue is the interest income on outstanding mortgages and the investment income from proceeds of bonds. The primary operating expense of the agency is the interest expense on bonds outstanding.

NOTE 2. DEPOSITS AND INVESTMENTS

a. Deposits

Custodial Credit Risk. Custodial credit risk for deposits is the risk that in the event of a bank failure, the agency's deposits may not be returned to it.

The laws of the State of Tennessee require that collateral be pledged to secure all uninsured deposits. The agency's bond resolutions require deposits to be fully secured.

The agency's deposits are in financial institutions which participate in the bank collateral pool administered by the State Treasurer, except as noted below. The securities pledged to protect these accounts are pledged in the aggregate rather than against each individual account. The members of the pool may be required by agreement to pay an assessment to cover any deficiency. Under this additional assessment agreement, public fund accounts covered by the pool are considered to be insured for purposes of credit risk disclosure.

At June 30, 2011, the bank balance was $6,806,625. At June 30, 2010, the bank balance was $4,327,770. All bank balances at June 30, 2011 were insured, except the Bank of New York Mellon (BNYM) accounts. All bank balances at June 30, 2010 were insured. U.S. Department of the Treasury required the funds for the Hardest Hit Fund program to be deposited in the BNYM accounts. THDA has no obligation to ensure that the funds in the accounts are collateralized should the amount of money in the account be in excess of the FDIC insurance coverage of $250,000. THDA will not be responsible for a loss of the funds due to the bank's failure and the lack of adequate collateral. Of the bank balance at June 30, 2011, $4,304,256 was in the BNYM. Of this amount, $4,054,256 was above the FDIC insurance coverage. The agency has deposits in the State Pooled Investment Fund administered by the State Treasurer. The fund is not rated by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization. The fund's investment policy and required risk disclosures are presented in the State of Tennessee Treasurer's Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/treasury.

b. Investments

As stated in the agency's investment policy, the "prudent man rule" shall be the standard of prudence used by all officials responsible for the investment of assets. Investments are made as a prudent person would be expected to act in the management of their own affairs. That would be to consider the safety of capital and the probability of income, while avoiding speculative investments.

The agency's investment policy states that the agency portfolios will be diversified in order to reduce the risk of loss resulting from over concentration of assets in a specific maturity, a specific issuer, or a specific class of securities. The agency may invest one hundred percent (100%) of its portfolio in U.S. government securities due to the absence of credit risk. A minimum of five percent (5%) of the par value of total investments must mature within five years. No more than fifty percent (50%) of the par value of the combined portfolios can be invested in maturities greater than fifteen (15) years without approval of the Bond Finance Committee.

Portfolio maturities shall be staggered in a way that avoids undue concentrations of assets in a specific maturity sector. Maturities shall be selected which provide for stability of income and reasonable liquidity. It is the intent of this policy that sufficient investments be scheduled to mature to provide for the required liquidity for debt service and other expenditures per resolution requirements.

Interest Rate Risk. Interest Rate Risk is the risk that changes in interest rates of debt investments will adversely affect the fair value of an investment.

Duration is a measure of a debt investment's exposure to fair value changes arising from changing interest rates. It uses the present value of cash flows, weighted for those cash flows as a percentage of the investment's full price.

The Housing Finance Program Bonds were established on December 23, 2009, to allow the agency to participate in the U.S. Department of Treasury New Issue Bond Program (NIBP), which was created to assist state and local housing finance agencies in acquiring cost-effective mortgage loan capital. THDA may release funds from issue 2009-B up to six times before December 31, 2011.

The first release and conversion from 2009-B was on June 17, 2010, in the amount of $85,290,000. The $85,290,000 was blended with the market rate 2010-A bonds in the amount of $74,710,000 for a total of $160,000,000.

The second release and conversion from 2009-B was on November 10, 2010, in the amount of $60,000,000. The $60,000,000 was blended with the market rate 2010-B bonds in the amount of $40,000,000 for a total of $100,000,000.

The third release and conversion from 2009-B was on April 14, 2011, in the amount of $60,000,000. The $60,000,000 was blended with the market rate 2011-A bonds in the amount of $40,000,000 for a total of $100,000,000.

The interest rate on the 2009-B bonds is tied to the investment rate on proceeds of the bonds. Proceeds are required to be invested in U.S. Treasury securities maturing in 28 days or less.

b. Debt Service Requirements

Debt service requirements to maturity at June 30, 2011 are as follows (expressed in thousands):

For the Year(s) Ending June 30	Principal	Interest	Total Requirements
2012	$78,021	$90,083	$168,104
2013	50,000	89,091	139,091
2014	50,865	87,530	138,395
2015	51,550	85,803	137,353
2016	53,635	83,911	137,546
2017 – 2021	231,488	389,628	621,116
2022 – 2026	332,608	333,122	665,730

2037 – 2041	432,373	84,174	516,547
2042	299,770	3,743	303,513
Total	$2,146,560	$1,700,644	$3,847,204

The debt principal in the preceding table is $6,074,000 greater than that presented in the accompanying financial statements. This amount, which is a deduction from bonds payable for the deferred amount on refundings, is not reflected in the above presentation.

c. Redemption of Bonds and Notes

During the year ended June 30, 2011, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $12,260,000, in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $317,390,000 and in the Housing Finance Program in the amount of $5,780,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $12,214,245, $321,059,321 and $5,768,558. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $45,755 and to the Housing Finance Program of $11,442 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $3,669,321.

On October 13, 2010, the agency issued $120,700,000 in Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2010-1. On November 1, 2010, the agency used $99,835,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $99,835,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $99,371,651. The refunding resulted in a difference of $463,349 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $22,227,781 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $10,476,679.

During the year ended June 30, 2010, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $10,695,000 and in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $168,625,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $10,651,667 and $170,939,715. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $43,333 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,314,715.

On June 17, 2010, the agency issued $74,710,000 in Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2010-A. On June 17, 2010, the agency used $20,595,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $20,595,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $20,478,986. The refunding resulted in a difference of $116,014 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $5,910,703 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $2,812,047.

e. Notes Issued and Outstanding

The Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture, dated December 1, 1997 (the "Trust Indenture"), provided for the issuance of agency drawdown notes with a maximum aggregate principal amount of $65,000,000. On April 1, 1999, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $200,000,000. On December 1, 2002, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $450,000,000.

The notes bear interest, payable on the second Thursday of each succeeding month with respect to the principal amount drawn down by the agency. The interest rate is equal to ninety-nine percent (99%) of the bond equivalent yield as determined on the related rate date.

In October 2008, the Internal Revenue Service issued Notice 2008-88, amending Notice 2008-41. With an effective date of March 28, 2008, this notice provided temporary relief to issuers by allowing them to purchase their own bonds and commercial paper without causing an extinguishment of the debt for tax purposes. Therefore, on October 9, 2008, due to unstable credit markets, the Tennessee Housing Development Agency purchased at par $83,050,000 of its Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2009, after which the notes were to be available to reissue. Due to continuing unstable credit markets, on December 31, 2009, the Internal Revenue Service extended the amount of time the agency was allowed to hold its outstanding notes purchased from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2010; however, the notes matured on August 12, 2010. In accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement 76 Paragraph 3, the outstanding notes are not recorded for financial reporting purposes.

Promissory Note. On December 22, 2008, the agency borrowed $3,250,000 for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Interest is being charged quarterly at 3% with the principal maturing on December 22, 2011. On August 3, 2009, the agency borrowed $500,000 at 3% for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Principal and interest are paid monthly with the principal maturing on August 4, 2012, however the note was paid off on June 17, 2011.

The activity of the promissory note is also included in the summary of long-term liability activity in part d. of this note.

NOTE 5. RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

The amount shown on the Statement of Net Assets as Restricted for Single Family Bond Programs is contractually pledged, under the bond resolutions of the agency, to the owners of the bonds issued under such bond resolutions. As pledged assets, the contractual provisions of the bond resolutions restrict the use of such assets. However, the assets may be removed from the lien of the bond resolutions if certain parity tests, as established by the respective bond resolutions, are satisfied. Assets removed from the lien of the respective bond resolutions may be used for other purposes.

The amount shown as Restricted for Grant Programs represents unexpended grant money that has been awarded to grantees through various grant programs administered by the agency.

The amount shown as Restricted for Homebuyers Revolving Loan Program represents the amount of net assets that are restricted for a pilot program that funds zero interest loans for down payment and closing costs. The use of these net assets is restricted under legislation enacted in fiscal year 1986.

NOTE 6. DEFINED BENEFIT PENSION PLAN

The agency contributes to the State Employees, Teachers, and Higher Education Employees Pension Plan (SETHEEPP), a cost-sharing, multiple-employer defined benefit pension plan administered by the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS). TCRS provides retirement, death, and disability benefits as well as annual cost-of-living adjustments to plan members and their beneficiaries. Title 8, Chapters 34-37, Tennessee Code Annotated, establishes benefit provisions. State statutes are amended by the Tennessee General Assembly.

The TCRS issues a publicly available financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information for SETHEEPP. That report is available on the state’s website at www.tn.gov/treasury/tcrs.

Plan members are noncontributory. The agency is required to contribute at an actuarially determined rate. The current rate is 14.91% of annual covered payroll. Contribution requirements for the agency are established and may be amended by the TCRS’ Board of Trustees. The agency’s contributions to TCRS for the years ended June 30, 2011, 2010, and 2009, were $1,585,654, $1,295,272, and $1,201,303. Those contributions met the required contributions for each year.

NOTE 7. PROVISIONS FOR MORTGAGE LOAN LOSSES

Most mortgage loans are insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or an approved private mortgage insurance company, or are guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs. The agency's Board of Directors has established a loan loss reserve of $750,000 as a provision for potential loan losses arising from participation in the Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) Loan Guarantee Program. An additional $232,000 was established as a loan loss reserve against potential losses on loans not specifically covered under one of the above programs, and $500,000 was established as a loan loss reserve for self-insurance of second mortgages.

Since the amount of net assets restricted for single family bond programs exceeds the amounts necessary for these loan loss reserves, it is not necessary to designate unrestricted net assets for this purpose.

NOTE 8. RISK MANAGEMENT

a. Commercial Insurance

The agency carries commercial insurance for risks of loss related to employee dishonesty; general liability protection; and theft of, damage to, or destruction of real and personal property. Settled claims resulting from these risks have not exceeded commercial insurance coverage in any of the past three fiscal years.

b. Risk Management Fund

The state has set aside assets for claim settlement in an internal service fund, the Risk Management Fund. This fund services all claims for risk of loss to which the state is exposed, including general liability, automobile liability, professional malpractice, and workers' compensation. The agency participates in the Risk Management Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on a percentage of the agency's expected loss costs which include both experience and exposures. This charge considers recent trends in actual claims experience of the state as a whole. An actuarial valuation is performed as of each fiscal year-end to determine the fund liability and premium allocation. Information regarding the determination of the claims liabilities and the changes in the balances of the claims liabilities for the years ended June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, are presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. Since the agency participates in the Risk Management Fund, it is subject to the liability limitations under the provisions of the Tennessee Claims Commission Act, Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 9-8-101 et seq. Liability for negligence of the agency for bodily injury and property damage is limited to $300,000 per person and $1,000,000 per occurrence. The limits of liability under workers' compensation are set forth in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 50-6-101 et seq. Claims are paid through the state's Risk Management Fund.

c. Employee Group Insurance Fund

The state has also set aside assets in the Employee Group Insurance Fund, an internal service fund, to provide a program of health insurance coverage for the employees of the state with the risk retained by the state. The agency participates in the Employee Group Insurance Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on estimates of the ultimate cost of claims, including the cost of claims that have been reported but not settled and of claims that have been incurred but not reported. Employees and providers have 13 months to file medical claims.

NOTE 9. OTHER POSTEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS (OPEB)

Healthcare is the only "other postemployment benefit" (OPEB) provided to employees. The State of Tennessee administers a group health insurance program which provides postemployment health insurance benefits to eligible THDA retirees. This program includes two plans – the State Employee Group Plan and the Medicare Supplement Plan. For accounting purposes, the plans are agent multiple-employer defined benefit OPEB plans. Benefits are established and amended by an insurance committee created by Tennessee Code Annotated (TCA) Section 8-27-101. In previous fiscal years, prior to reaching the age of 65 all members had the option of choosing a preferred provider organization (PPO), point of service (POS), or health maintenance organization (HMO) plan for healthcare benefits. However, as of January 1, 2011, the insurance plan structure was changed and as a result all members now have the option of choosing between the standard or partnership preferred provider organization (PPO) plan for healthcare benefits. Subsequent to age 65, retirees who are also in the state's retirement system may participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan that does not include pharmacy. The plans are reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

Special Funding Situation. The State of Tennessee is legally responsible for contributions to the Medicare Supplement Plan that covers the retirees of other governmental entities, including the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. The state is the sole contributor for the THDA retirees that participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan and, therefore, is acting as the employer.

Funding Policy. The premium requirements of members of the State Employee Group Plan are established and may be amended by the insurance committee. The plan is self-insured and financed on a pay-as-you-go basis with the risk shared equally among the participants. Claims liabilities of the plan are periodically computed using actuarial and statistical techniques to establish premium rates. Administrative costs of the plan are allocated to participants. Retirees in the State Employee Group Plan who have not reached the age of 65 pay the same base premium as active employees in the plan adjusted for years of service. Retirees with 30 years of service pay 20% of the total premium. Retirees with 20 but less than 30 years of service pay 30% of the total premium. Retirees with less than 20 years of service pay 40% of the total premium. Retired employees who are 65 years of age or older have flat rate premium subsidies based on years of service. Retirees with 30 years of service receive $50 per month; 25 years, $37.50; and 20 years, $25.

Funded Status and Funding Progress. The funded status of THDA's portion of the State Employee Group Plan as of July 1, 2010, was as follows (Thousands):

Actuarial valuation date	7/01/2010
Actuarial accrued liability (AAL)	$ 3,316
Actuarial value of plan assets	-0-
Unfunded actuarial accrued liability (UAAL)	$ 3,316
Actuarial value of assets as a % of the AAL	0%
Covered payroll (active plan members)	$ 8,640
UAAL as a percentage of covered payroll	38%

Actuarial valuations involve estimates of the value of reported amounts and assumptions about the probability of events far into the future, and actuarially determined amounts are subject to continual revision as actual results are compared to past expectations and new estimates are made about the future. The schedule of funding progress, presented as required supplementary information following the notes to the financial statements, presents multiyear trend information about whether the actuarial value of plan assets is increasing or decreasing over time relative to the actuarial accrued liability for benefits.

Actuarial Methods and Assumptions. Calculations are based on the types of benefits provided under the terms of the substantive plan at the time of each valuation and on the pattern of sharing of costs between the employer and plan members to that point. Actuarial calculations reflect a long-term perspective. Consistent with that perspective, actuarial methods and assumptions used include techniques that are designed to reduce short-term volatility in actuarial accrued liabilities and the actuarial value of assets.

In the July 1, 2010, actuarial valuation for the Employee Group Plan, the Projected Unit Credit actuarial cost method was used. The actuarial assumptions included a 4.5 percent investment rate of return (net of administrative expenses) and an annual healthcare cost trend rate of 10 percent for fiscal year 2011. The rate decreased to 9.5 percent for fiscal year 2012 and then reduced by decrements of .5 percent per year to an ultimate rate of 5 percent in fiscal year 2021. All rates include a 3 percent inflation assumption. The unfunded actuarial accrued liability is being amortized as a level percentage of payroll on a closed basis over a 30 year period beginning with July 1, 2007.

NOTE 10. ON-BEHALF PAYMENTS

During the year ended June 30, 2011, the State of Tennessee made payments of $3,525 on behalf of THDA for retirees participating in the Medicare Supplement Plan, and during the year ended June 30, 2010, made payments of $2,657. The Medicare Supplement Plan is a postemployment benefit healthcare plan and is discussed further in Note 9. The plan is reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

NOTE 11. PAYMENTS TO PRIMARY GOVERNMENT

From time to time, the State of Tennessee has called upon the agency and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to the agency. On June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 from the agency's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund. On June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from the agency to the State General Fund. The $43,000,000 transferred from the agency came from the following resources of the agency: (i) $15,459,157 from tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. On June 30, 2002, a transfer from the agency to the primary government in the amount of $35,367,449 was made from the Assets Fund for the sole purpose of meeting the requirements of funding the operations of the primary government for the year ended June 30, 2002.

APPENDIX B

SUMMARY OF MORTGAGE INSURANCE AND GUARANTEE PROGRAMS

Introduction

All first lien Program Loans made or purchased by THDA with proceeds of Bonds issued under the General Resolution must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, or (b) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who, at the time of closing, have an acceptable equity interest in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price.

Originating Agents are responsible for obtaining Veteran's Administration ("VA") or U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD") guarantees, Federal Housing Administration ("FHA") insurance certificates or private mortgage insurance certificates as part of the process of originating and closing THDA Program Loans. Borrowers pay the costs associated with such insurance certificates or guarantees.

The following descriptions of certain mortgage insurance programs and loan guarantee programs are all only brief outlines and do not purport to summarize or describe all provisions of each respective program. For a more complete description of these programs, refer to the contract provisions embodied in FHA, USDA/RD (formerly FmHA) and VA regulations, respectively, and to the regulations, master insurance contracts and other such information from the private mortgage insurance providers.

FHA Insurance Programs

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, authorizes various FHA mortgage insurance programs, which differ primarily upon whether the property contains five or more dwelling units or less than five such units and whether the property is designed for occupancy by low and moderate income families.

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, imposes a minimum cash requirement for purchase money mortgages of 3.5% of the lesser of appraised value or sales price, resulting in a maximum loan to value percentage of 96.5%.

Under the FHA programs which insure THDA's Program Loans, insurance benefits generally are payable only upon foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance of the property to the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD"). The FHA insurance proceeds available under these programs upon conveyance of the property to HUD is equal to 100% of the outstanding principal balance of the Program Loan, plus interest and certain additional costs and expenses.

Under some FHA insurance programs, HUD pays insurance claims in cash unless the mortgage lender specifically requests payment in debentures issued by HUD. Under other programs, HUD, at its option, may pay insurance claims in cash or in such debentures. Currently, HUD makes insurance payments on mortgages covering less than five dwelling units in cash when it has discretion to determine the form of insurance payment. HUD debentures issued in satisfaction of FHA insurance claims bear interest at the HUD debentures interest rate in effect under HUD regulations on the date of the mortgage insurance commitment or of the initial insurance endorsement of the mortgage, whichever rate is higher.

When FHA insurance benefits are paid after foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance, the amount paid is computed as of the date of default by the borrower, as defined in HUD regulations, and the mortgage lender generally is not compensated for mortgage interest accrued and unpaid prior to that date. When FHA insurance benefits are paid under such circumstances, the insurance payment made is generally equal to the unpaid principal amount of the Program Loan, adjusted to reimburse the mortgage lender for certain tax, insurance and similar payments made by it and to deduct certain amounts received or retained by the mortgage lender after default, plus reimbursement not to exceed a specified percentage of the mortgage lender's foreclosure costs as determined by HUD based on certain criteria. The regulations under the FHA insurance programs which insure THDA's Program Loans provide that the insurance payment itself shall bear interest from the date of default to the date of payment of the claim at an interest rate equal to the monthly average yield, for the month in which the default occurred, on United States Treasury securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years.

When any property conveyed to HUD has been damaged by fire, earthquake, flood or tornado, it is generally required, as a condition to payment of an insurance claim, that the property be repaired by the mortgage lender prior to such conveyance or assignment.

To obtain title to and possession of the property upon foreclosure, the Trustee and the Servicer act under the power of sale provisions in the deed of trust, subject to constraints imposed by applicable state law and by HUD. HUD currently requires that, absent the consent of the borrower, at least three full monthly installments be due and unpaid under the deed of trust before the mortgage lender may initiate any action leading to foreclosure under the deed of trust. HUD also requires a face-to-face conference between the mortgage lender and the borrower in an effort to cure the delinquency without foreclosure. In any case, these requirements do not apply where the borrower has voluntarily abandoned the property, in which case, the mortgage lender may immediately initiate foreclosure proceedings (subject to applicable state law notice provisions).

Veterans Administration Guaranty Program

The Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended, permits a veteran (or in certain instances, the veteran's spouse or certain qualified reservists) to obtain a Program Loan guaranty from the VA covering the purchase of a one-to-four family dwelling unit at interest rates permitted by the VA. The program has no loan limits, requires no down payment from the purchaser and permits the guaranty of Program Loans of up to thirty years duration. The maximum guaranty that may be issued by the VA under this program is the lesser of the veteran's available entitlement or the statutory maximum guaranty based on date of origination, type of housing unit and loan amount. Notwithstanding the dollar and percentage limitations of the guaranty, a mortgage lender will ordinarily suffer a monetary loss only when the difference between the unsatisfied indebtedness and the proceeds of a foreclosure sale of a property is greater than the original guaranty, as adjusted. The VA may, at its option, and without regard to the guaranty, make full payment to a mortgage lender of unsatisfied indebtedness on a mortgage upon its assignment to the VA.

United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development (formerly Farmers Home Administration)

Guaranteed Rural Housing Program

The Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 revised and expanded the interest assistance program for guaranteed loans under Section 502 of Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, by creating the Guaranteed Rural Housing Loan Program. The guaranty covers the lesser of (a) any loss equal to 90% of the original principal amount of the loan or (b) any loss in full up to 35% of the original principal amount of the loan plus any additional loss on the remaining 65% to be shared approximately 85% by USDA/RD and approximately 15% by THDA.

Private Mortgage Insurance Programs

General

Program Loans are permitted under the General Resolution when insured under private mortgage insurance programs as described below.

Private mortgage insurance policies insure against certain losses sustained by reason of default in payments by borrowers. Under most policies, delinquencies must be reported to the insurer within two (2) months of default, and proceedings to recover title must, generally, be commenced within nine (9) months of default. It is standard practice for private mortgage insurers to require that the mortgage lender, prior to presenting a claim under the mortgage insurance policy, acquire and tender to the private mortgage insurer title to the property, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, including any right of redemption by the borrower. When such a claim is presented, the private mortgage insurer will normally retain the option to pay the claim in full and take title to the property and arrange for its sale, or to pay the insured percentage of the claim and allow the insured mortgage lender to retain title to the property. The amount of loss payable generally includes the principal balance due under the mortgage, plus accumulated interest, real estate taxes and hazard insurance premiums which have been advanced, expenses incurred in the preservation of the insured property, and other expenses necessarily incurred in the recovery proceedings.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

APPENDIX C

DESCRIPTION OF AGREEMENTS WITH ORIGINATING AGENTS AND SERVICERS

Working Agreements

THDA has working agreements with each of its Originating Agents (the "Working Agreements"). Under the Working Agreements, THDA reviews and makes or purchases approved Program Loans which have been originated and processed by an Originating Agent.

Each Working Agreement also contains certain representations and warranties by the Originating Agent regarding the Program Loan applications submitted to THDA to the effect that the Originating Agent has no adverse information regarding the credit or reputation of the applicant nor adverse information concerning the real property to be mortgaged that would materially lessen THDA's security or detract from the subsequent marketability of the Program Loan. Each Originating Agent further represents and warrants that it will receive and process for THDA all applications by applicants for Program Loans who qualify as lower and moderate income persons.

The Working Agreement requires that Program Loans meet all requirements contained in THDA's rules and regulations and the O. A. Guide (as defined below). These requirements include, among other things:

(1) a deed of trust securing the Program Loan in a form approved by THDA which creates a valid first lien on the property;

(2) for FHA insured or VA or USDA/RD guaranteed Program Loans, all FHA, VA or USDA/RD rules, regulations and requirements must be met;

(3) evidence of title satisfactory to THDA;

(4) an original hazard insurance policy, delivered at closing, which covers the property subject to the Program Loan, names THDA as first mortgagee, and is in an amount not less than the greater of 90% of the insurable value of the improvements on the property or the full amount of the Program Loan; and

(5) such other documents as are necessary to comply with the federal tax code.

Penalties may be imposed on Originating Agents for violating the Working Agreements. At the option of THDA, Originating Agents may also be required to purchase a Program Loan from THDA when there is a violation under the Working Agreement with respect to the Program Loan. THDA may terminate Working Agreements upon notice, with or without cause or, at its election, temporarily suspend Originating Agent's privilege to originate Program Loans as a result of inadequate performance.

Guide for Originating Agents

THDA provides each Originating Agent with a Guide for Originating Agents (the "O. A. Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax code requirements. The O. A. Guide sets forth requirements and procedures for originating, processing and closing Program Loans. The Guide includes a procedural checklist to be followed by the Originating Agent and copies of all THDA forms required in originating, processing and closing Program Loans.

Servicing Agreements

THDA currently has agreements with U.S. Bank, Magna Bank and First Horizon Bank (recently purchased by Met Life) (the "Servicers") to service Program Loans (the "Servicing Agreements"). U.S. Bank services approximately 80% of THDA's entire portfolio of mortgage loans. Magna Bank and Met Life, through a sub-servicing agreement with U.S. Bank, service the remainder. THDA itself is also permitted to service Program Loans although it has not done so to date. The Servicing Agreements provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. Prior to remittance, the Servicer deducts a servicing fee, late charges and amounts to be held in escrow accounts for real property taxes, mortgage and hazard insurance premiums, and assessments. The servicing fee under current Servicing Agreements is 3/8% annually. The Servicer is required to notify THDA in the event of any default on a Program Loan, and the Servicer may conduct foreclosure proceedings with the consent and at the expense of THDA. The Servicer is required to repurchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of the Servicer's failure to perform its obligations under the Servicing Agreement. THDA may also terminate a Servicing Agreement for inadequate performance by the Servicer.

Guide for Servicers

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers (the "Servicer Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax requirements. The Servicer Guide includes substantive servicing requirements, incorporates the limitation on assumption of mortgages contained in the federal tax code, and specifies the procedures to be followed by the Servicer to comply with THDA requirements and the federal tax code. The Servicer Guide also includes a list of the documents that must be maintained by the Servicer, copies of all THDA's servicing and loan assumption forms, together with instructions for their completion and a schedule for the submission of the required forms and reports to THDA.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers. Each Servicer's performance is monitored and its servicing record is subject to examination by THDA's staff. Examinations are performed monthly from documentation received from the Servicer.

Special Programs

For certain special programs, THDA may elect to enter into joint agreements for originating and servicing Program Loans made under such special programs. Any such joint agreements are substantially similar to the Working Agreements and Servicing Agreements described hereinabove.

APPENDIX D

SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION

The General Homeownership Resolution, as amended (the "General Resolution"), contains various covenants and security provisions, certain of which are summarized below. This summary does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive and is subject to all the terms and provisions of the General Resolution, to which reference is hereby made and copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Definitions (Section 1.2)

"Bond" means one of the bonds authenticated and delivered pursuant to the Resolution, including any additional or Refunding Bonds issued pursuant to Article II.

Debt Service Reserve Fund" means the Debt Service Reserve Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement" means, as of any date of calculation the greater of (i) an amount equal to the aggregate of the respective amounts for each Issue of Bonds established in the Supplemental Resolution authorizing such Issue or (ii) an amount equal to 3% of the then current balance of Program Loans plus any other amount on deposit in the Loan Fund which has not been designated to provide for the payment of Costs of Issuance or capitalized interest.

"Costs of Issuance" means all items of expense, directly or indirectly payable or reimbursable by or to THDA and related to the authorization, sale and issuance of Bonds, including but not limited to discount to be paid to the underwriters upon the initial delivery of Bonds, printing costs, costs of preparation and reproduction of documents, filing and recording fees, initial fees and charges of any Fiduciary, legal fees and charges, fees and disbursements of consultants and professionals, costs of credit ratings, fees and charges for the insurance of the payment of Bonds, initial premiums to obtain mortgage pool insurance, accrued interest in connection with the financing of Program Loans and any other cost, charge or fee in connection with the original issuance of Bonds.

"Debt Service" means, with respect to any particular Fiscal Year and any particular Series of Bonds, an amount equal to the sum of (i) all interest payable on such Bonds during such Fiscal Year, plus (ii) any Principal Installment of such Bonds during such Fiscal Year.

"Fund" means one or more, as the case may be, of the special Funds created and established pursuant to this Resolution.

"Interest Payment Date" means any date upon which interest on the Bonds is due and payable in accordance with their terms.

"Investment Securities" means and includes any of the following obligations, to the extent the same are at the time legal for investment of funds of THDA under the Act, including the amendments thereto hereafter made, or under other applicable law:

(1) Obligations of, or obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality thereof when such obligations are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America, including, but not limited to:

- All direct or fully guaranteed United States Treasury;
- Certificates of beneficial ownership issued by the Farmers Home Administration;
- Participation certificates issued by General Services Administration;
- U.S. Maritime Administration guaranteed Title XI financing;
- Guaranteed participation certificates and guaranteed pool certificates issued by the Small Business Administration;
- GNMA-guaranteed mortgage-backed securities and GNMA-guaranteed participation certificates issued by the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA);
- Local authority bonds of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development;

- Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority guaranteed transit bonds; and
- All fully guaranteed obligations of the United States Export-Import Bank;

(2) Federal Housing Administration debentures;

(3) Obligations of the following government-sponsored agencies which are not backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America:

- Participation certificates (those which are guaranteed as to timely payment of principal) and Senior debt obligations of Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. (FHLMC)
- Consolidated system-wide bonds and notes of the Farm Credit System (formerly: Federal Land Banks, Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, and Banks for Co-operatives)
- Consolidated debt obligations of the Federal Home Loan Banks (FHL Banks)
- Senior debt obligations and Mortgage-backed securities (excluding interest only stripped mortgage securities which are valued greater than par on the portion of unpaid principal) issued by Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA);
- Senior debt obligations (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date) and Letter of Credit (LOC) - backed issues issued by Student Loan Marketing Association (SLMA);
- Debt obligations issued by Financing Corp. (FICO);
- Debt obligations issued by Resolution Funding Corp. (REFCORP);

(4) Federal funds, unsecured certificates of deposit, time deposits, and banker's acceptances (having maturities of not more than 365 days) of any bank, the short-term obligations of which are rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(5) Deposits which are fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC);

(6) Debt obligations rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date);

(7) Commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's maturing not more than 365 days;

(8) Investment in money market funds rated at least 'aam' or 'AAm-G' by S&P and 'Aaa' by Moody's;

(9) Repurchase agreements and investment agreements with any financial institution with long-term unsecured debt rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's or commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(10) Stripped securities

(i) U.S. Treasury STRIPS

(ii) REFCORP STRIPS (stripped by Federal Reserve Bank of New York), and

(iii) Any stripped securities assessed or rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's; and

(11) Any other investments which would not adversely affect the then current rating assigned to the Bonds, as confirmed in writing by S&P and Moody's.

"Issuance Amount" shall mean the price, exclusive of accrued interest (if any) which is payable on a semiannual basis, at which a Bond was offered for sale to the public (or the price of such Bond to the initial purchaser if not publicly sold) at the time of issuance thereof by THDA pursuant to Section 2.6, irrespective of underwriter's compensation, commissions, placement agent's fees, concessions, THDA Costs of Issuance, or similar costs.

"Loan Fund" means the Loan Fund established in Section 5.1.

"Non-Mortgage Receipts" means all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses as a result of the investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, but shall not include Revenues.

"Outstanding", when used with reference to Bonds, means, as of any date, all Bonds theretofore or thereupon being authenticated and delivered under this Resolution except:

(1) any Bond canceled by the Trustee or delivered to the Trustee for cancellation at or prior to such date;

(2) any Bond (or portion of a Bond) for the payment or redemption of which there have been separately set aside and held in the Redemption Fund hereunder either:

(a) moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price thereof, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date;

(b) Investment Securities, as described in Section 12.1(13), in such principal amounts, of such maturities, bearing such interest and otherwise having such terms and qualifications as shall be necessary to provide moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price of such Bond, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date; or

(c) any combination of (a) and (b) above;

(3) any Bond in lieu of or in substitution for which other Bonds shall have been authenticated and delivered pursuant to Section 3.7, Section 6.6 or Section 9.6; and

(4) any Bond deemed to have been paid as provided in subsection (B) of Section 12.1.

"Program" means the program for the financing of loans for residential housing established by THDA pursuant to the Act and Program Guidelines, as the same may be amended from time to time consistent with this Resolution, but only to the extent that such program is financed through the issuance of Bonds or from amounts otherwise available out of the moneys and assets held or pledged pursuant to this Resolution.

"Program Expenses" means all of THDA's expenses in carrying out and administering its duties and corporate purposes under the Act and shall include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, salaries, supplies, utilities, mailing, labor, materials, office rent, maintenance, furnishings, equipment, machinery and apparatus, telephone, insurance premiums, legal, accounting, management, consulting and banking services and expenses, fees and expenses of the Fiduciaries, Costs of Issuance not paid from the proceeds of Bonds, travel, payments for pension, retirement, health and hospitalization and life and disability insurance benefits, payments for insurance against losses on the pool of Program Loans, payments to maintain letters of credit obtained to secure the ability of THDA to pay, redeem or purchase Bonds. Program Expenses may also include amounts for establishing and maintaining a two-month reserve to pay operating costs and a reasonable reserve for losses and expenses estimated to be incurred by THDA and amounts appropriate to reimburse THDA for Program Expenses paid from other sources. Program Expenses shall include the amount of any rebate required to be calculated and set aside by THDA pursuant to applicable federal tax law. THDA in its discretion may calculate the rebate amount annually or at the end of such other periods that it may choose as long as the first rebate calculation and all succeeding rebate calculations are performed no later than required by applicable federal tax law.

"Program Loan Loss Coverage" means that portion of the principal amount of Program Loans outstanding which must be treated as a loss for purposes of maintaining the current ratings on the Bonds.

"Projected Cash Flow Statement" means a certificate of an Authorized Officer of THDA setting forth for the current and each succeeding fiscal year in which Bonds are scheduled to be outstanding, THDA's estimate of, among other things: (i) the Revenues, other than Prepayments, expected to be received on all Program Loans financed or expected to be financed with proceeds of Outstanding Bonds; (ii) the aggregate amount of prepayments of Program Loans which THDA reasonably expects to receive with respect to such Program Loans and which are to be applied to the payment of Bonds as set forth in the Supplemental Resolution; (iii) all other Revenues, including the interest to be earned and other income to be derived from the investment of the Funds and Accounts and the rates used in estimating such amounts; (iv) the amount, if any, expected to be withdrawn from the Debt Service Reserve Fund, provided, the amount on deposit in such Fund is expected to at least equal the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such withdrawal and the withdrawal is permitted under the General Resolution; (v) the aggregate Debt Service on Outstanding Bonds during such fiscal year; and (vi) all Program Expenses during such fiscal year.

"Revenue Fund" means the Revenue Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Revenues" means all payments, proceeds, rents, charges, and other cash income received by THDA from or on account of any Program Loan including scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of any insurance proceeds with respect to principal and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicer as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loan and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan.

"Sinking Fund Payment" means, as of any particular date of calculation, the amount required to be paid at all events by THDA on a certain future date for the retirement of Outstanding Bonds which mature after said future date, but does not include any amount payable by THDA by reason of the maturity of a Bond or by call for redemption at the election of THDA.

Resolution Constitutes Contract (Section 2.2)

The General Resolution constitutes a contract between THDA and the holders of the Bonds and the pledges, covenants and agreements to be performed by THDA are for the equal benefit, protection and security of the holders of any and all of the Bonds..

Obligation of Bonds (Section 2.3)

The Bonds will be special limited obligations of THDA payable only from the revenues and assets pledged therefor. These revenues and assets include the following: mortgage receipts; non-mortgage receipts, including interest earned from the investment of funds in the Escrow Fund or any other Fund or Account; and right, title, and interest in and to the Program Loans.

Provisions for Issuance of Bonds (Sections 2.4, 2.6, 7.3, and 7.15)

The General Resolution authorizes Bonds to be issued from time to time in accordance with its terms without limitation as to amount except as provided by law. The Bonds of a Series may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things:

(1) a Bond Counsel's Opinion to the effect, among other things, that the Bonds of such Series have been duly and validly authorized and issued in accordance with the constitution and statutes of the State, including the Act as amended to the date of such opinion, and in accordance with the General Resolution;

(2) the amount of the proceeds of such Series to be deposited with the Trustee pursuant to the General Resolution (see "Application of Bond Proceeds" below):

(3) except in the case of the initial or a refunding issue, a certificate of an authorized officer stating that THDA is not in default in the performance of any of the covenants, conditions, agreements or provisions contained in the General Resolution and that all other conditions for the issuance of additional Bonds have been met; and

(4) except in the case of a refunding issue, a Projected Cash Flow Statement, as described in Appendix D, showing that the estimated Revenues for each fiscal year in which Bonds will be outstanding, together with any amount scheduled to be withdrawn from the Debt Service Reserve Fund (and permitted to be so withdrawn pursuant to the Resolution), will be sufficient for the payment of the estimated debt service and program expenses for such fiscal year.

Provisions for Refunding Issues (Section 2.7)

Refunding Bonds may be issued to refund any Outstanding Bonds. Refunding Bonds may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things, irrevocable instructions to give notice of the redemption of all Bonds to be refunded and to give published notice as required of the redemption of such Bonds and either (i) moneys sufficient to effect payment at the applicable Redemption Price of the Bonds to be refunded, together with interest accrued to the Redemption Date, or (ii) direct obligations of, or obligations insured or guaranteed by, the United States of America or certificates of deposit secured by such obligations, which by their terms will provide moneys sufficient to provide for the payment of such Redemption Price and accrued interest. Any such moneys, obligations or certificates are required to be held irrevocably in the Redemption Account established under the General Resolution.

Application of Bond Proceeds (Sections 4.1 and 4.3)

As soon as practicable upon the delivery of each Series of Bonds, other than refunding Bonds, an amount necessary to cause the amount on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Fund to at least equal the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such delivery is required to be deposited in the Debt Service Reserve Fund. Proceeds of such Series of Bonds which are not to be deposited in such Fund are to be deposited at the direction of an Authorized Officer.

Amounts in the Loan Fund may not be expended and applied for the financing of a Program Loan unless the note issued to evidence the Program Loan and a mortgage securing the Program Loan have been duly executed and, among other things:

(1) the mortgage securing such Program Loan constitutes a first lien, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, on the real property or interest therein securing such Program Loan and on the fixtures acquired with the proceeds of the Program Loan attached to or used in connection with such residential housing;

(2) the eligible borrower has entered into a binding agreement with or for the benefit of THDA that it will pay or escrow all taxes, assessments, water rates, sewer rents and municipal and other charges and fees and any prior liens levied against the premises or any part thereof, and in the case of default in the payment thereof THDA, without notice or demand to the mortgagor, may pay the same and the amount will be a lien on the premises added to the amount of the Program Loan;

(3) the eligible borrower must covenant that the proceeds of the Program Loan will be used solely to pay the reasonable and necessary costs of obtaining the residential housing financed by the Program Loan;

(4) the eligible borrower must covenant that it will keep the buildings on the premises insured against loss by fire and other hazards as required by THDA and that it will maintain the premises in good repair and comply with all requirements of governmental authorities relating thereto; and

(5) the eligible borrower must obtain a policy of title insurance insuring THDA that the mortgage is valid and enforceable in the full amount of the Program Loan.

(6) the Program Loan must be (i) insured by the Federal Housing Administration, (ii) guaranteed by the Rural Economic Community Development Corp. (formerly Farmers Home Administration) or the Veteran's Administration, (iii) insured or guaranteed by a successor federal or state agency, (iv) have a principal amount not exceeding 78% of the value of the property securing such Program Loan as determined in an appraisal by or acceptable to THDA, or (v) be insured to the extent of any excess over such percentage by a private mortgage insurance company acceptable to THDA and meeting the requirements of the Resolution.

Deposits and Investments (Sections 4.5, 4.6 and 4.7)

All amounts held by the Trustee, any Paying Agent or any Depository under the General Resolution may be deposited in interest-bearing time deposits, repurchase agreements or certificates of deposit or be the subject of similar banking arrangements with commercial banks, savings and loans or investment dealers and, in addition, any amounts held by the Trustee thereunder may be invested in Investment Securities. All amounts held under the General Resolution which are not held in trust for the payment of particular Bonds or which do not represent an investment of amounts held thereunder must be continuously and fully secured for the benefit of THDA and the holders of the Bonds by lodging Investment Securities with the Trustee or in such other manner as may then be required by applicable federal or state laws regarding the deposit of trust funds. In computing the amount in any Fund or Account, obligations purchased as an investment of moneys therein shall be valued at market, except that for purposes of determining the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement at the time of initial funding from Bond proceeds, the issuance of additional obligations and for any other purpose under the General Resolution, such obligations shall be valued at par if purchased at par value or at amortized value if purchased at other than par value. Valuation shall be made as soon as practicable prior to each interest payment date and at any other time required under the General Resolution and on any particular date shall not include the amount of interest then earned or accrued to such date on any deposit or investment.

The General Resolution establishes the following special trust funds and accounts which are to be held by the Trustee:

(1) Loan Fund;

(2) Revenue Fund,
Debt Service and Expense Account,
Non-Mortgage Receipts Account, and
Redemption Account;

(3) Debt Service Reserve Fund; and

Loan Fund (Section 5.2)

In addition to proceeds of a Series of Bonds, amounts are required to be deposited in the Loan Fund from the Revenue Fund under certain circumstances as more fully described below (see “Revenue Fund”). Amounts in the Loan Fund may be expended only to pay the cost of financing Program Loans, to pay reasonable and necessary Costs of Issuance, and to make deposits in the Debt Service and Expense Account with respect to capitalized interest. Amounts in the Loan Fund may, however, be transferred to the Revenue Fund if a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee. At the direction of THDA, the Trustee may transfer amounts in the Loan Fund to the Redemption Account or apply such amounts directly to the redemption, purchase or retirement of Bonds at any time that such Bonds are subject to redemption or payment from such amounts, but only if there is delivered to the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement and a certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that, in the judgment of THDA, the estimated Revenues available after the payment of estimated Debt Service on the Bonds and Program expenses are greater than they would have been if all or a portion of such amounts had been applied to the financing of Program Loans.

Revenue Fund (Section 5.3)

The General Resolution establishes the following trust accounts within the Revenue Fund: the Debt Service and Expense Account, the Redemption Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account.

Debt Service and Expense Account. All Revenues are to be deposited promptly with a Depository and transmitted to the Trustee at least monthly for deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account within the Revenue Fund. The Trustee is required to make payments out of the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Paying Agents as follows: (a) on or before each interest payment date, the amounts required for the payment of principal installments, if any, and interest due on the Bonds on such date and (b) on or before the Redemption Date or date of purchase, the amounts required for the payment of accrued interest on Bonds redeemed or purchased for retirement, unless such interest is otherwise provided for.

Prior to the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee may, and if so directed by THDA is required to, apply any amount accumulated in the Debt Service and Expense Account up to the unsatisfied balance of such Sinking Fund Payment (together with amounts accumulated in the Revenue Fund with respect to interest on the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established) as follows: (a) to the purchase of the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established, at prices not exceeding the Redemption Price for such Bonds if they are redeemable by application of said Sinking Fund Payment plus unpaid interest accrued to the date of purchase, or (b) to the redemption of such Bonds if then redeemable by their terms at the Redemption Price referred to in clause (a) hereof. Upon such purchase or redemption of any Bond, an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bond so purchased or redeemed will be credited to the Sinking Fund Payment next coming due. The excess of the amounts so credited over the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment will be credited by the Trustee against future Sinking Fund Payments in direct chronological order, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

As soon as practicable after the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee is to proceed to call for redemption on such due date Bonds of the Series and Maturity for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established in a principal amount equal to the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment. The Trustee is required to call such Bonds for redemption whether or not it then has moneys in the Debt Service and Expense Account sufficient to pay the applicable Redemption Price on the Redemption Date.

Within ninety days after the close of each Fiscal Year, THDA is required to file with the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement as of the first day of the then current Fiscal Year (but assuming the transfer of any amount to the Loan Fund as provided in clause (b) of this sentence) which states (a) the amount remaining in the Debt Service and Expense Account as of such first day after deducting all payments made on each interest payment date as described above and (b) the amount required to be transferred to the Loan Fund in accordance with the assumptions made in such Projected Cash Flow Statement. Upon receipt thereof, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the amount stated in clause (a) above as follows:

> FIRST: From the amount so available the amount, if any, by which the amount on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Fund is less than the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement shall be transferred to the Debt Service Reserve Fund.
> SECOND: From the amount, if any, so available after the transfer provided above has been made, the amount needed to be transferred to THDA to pay reasonable and necessary Program Expenses which are due and owing.
> THIRD: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after the transfers provided above have been made, the amount, if any, stated in such Projected Cash Flow Statement as to be transferred to the Loan Fund shall be so transferred and if such Projected Cash Flow Statement does not comply with subsection 7.11(C) the amount so available shall be transferred to the Loan Fund as set forth in the Certificate delivered in accordance with Section 5.3(H).
> FOURTH: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after any transfers provided for above have been made, the remaining amount shall be transferred to the Redemption Account as directed by THDA. If, however, the amount of Program Loans (valued at par) and Investment Securities held by the Trustee hereunder (other than Investment Securities in the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund) valued in accordance with this Resolution, is greater than 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, then the amount remaining, up to such excess above the 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, may be withdrawn from the Debt Service and Expense Account at any time during the then current Fiscal Year, upon receipt by the Trustee of a Certificate to such effect from an Authorized Officer of THDA and a Projected Cash Flow Statement after giving effect to such withdrawal, to be applied to any purpose of THDA consistent with THDA's tax covenants described below, free and clear of the lien of any pledge of this Resolution. The Projected Cash Flow Statement for purposes of this provision shall include all Program Loans, including any Program Loans which have been in payment default for sixty (60) or more consecutive days. For the purposes of this paragraph,

there shall be excluded from the amount of Program Loans and Investment Securities any Program Loans or Investment Securities which were acquired with amounts deposited in the Loan Fund or the Debt Service Reserve Fund from sources other than the proceeds of Bonds or transfers from the Revenue Fund, unless, at the time such amounts were deposited therein, the Trustee receives a Certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that such amounts are not necessary to be deposited therein in order to provide Revenues sufficient to provide for the payment of Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee may at any time, upon the written direction of an Authorized Officer (a) make transfers from the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Debt Service Reserve Fund or the Redemption Account for the purposes of such Fund or Account or (b) make payments to THDA for the purpose of paying reasonable and necessary Program Expenses for the then current Fiscal Year. No such transfer is to be made, however, unless there is on deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after such transfer or payment an amount equal to the principal and interest accrued on all Outstanding Bonds as of the date of such transfer or payment, plus an amount equal to the cumulative amount of prepayments received by THDA during such fiscal year which exceeds the amount of prepayments estimated to be applied to the payment of Debt Service during such fiscal year in the most recent Projected Cash Flow Statement delivered to the Trustee by THDA. In addition no such transfers shall be made until a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee and no payment for Program Expenses is to be made unless the revenue statement to be delivered to the Trustee for each preceding month as described below shows that accrued Revenues exceed accrued Debt Service.

No payments are required to be made into the Debt Service and Expense Account so long as the amount on deposit therein is sufficient to pay all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof) in accordance with their terms, and any Revenues thereafter received by THDA may be applied to any purpose of THDA free and clear of the lien of the pledge of the General Resolution.

Redemption Account. There are to be deposited in the Redemption Account any amounts required by the General Resolution to be so deposited and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein. The Trustee is required to apply the amounts deposited in the Redemption Account to the payment, purchase or redemption of Bonds at the earliest practicable Redemption Date as described under "Redemption of Bonds."

Upon the purchase or redemption of Bonds of any Series and maturity for which Sinking Fund Payments have been established from amounts in the Redemption Account, each future Sinking Fund Payment for such Bonds will be credited by an amount bearing the same ratio to such Sinking Fund Payment as the total principal amount of such Bonds to be so purchased or redeemed bears to the total amount of all such Sinking Fund Payments, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. All Non-Mortgage Receipts received by the Trustee are to be promptly deposited in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. The Trustee is required to maintain records sufficient to determine the average daily balance of the amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund, the Debt Service Reserve Fund and the Debt Service and Expense Account and Redemption Account in the Revenue Fund. If so directed by THDA, the Trustee must maintain such records separately for each Series of Bonds.

Semi-annually not later than each Interest Payment Date, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account to the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount needed to enable the Trustee to pay Debt Service on the Bonds on such Interest Payment Date and (ii) the balance then on deposit in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. If at any time the amount available prior to any Interest Payment Date shall be insufficient for the making of such transfers, then the Trustee shall make transfers to the Debt Service and Expense Account from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account from the first available Non-Mortgage Receipts received subsequent to such Interest Payment Date and the amount so transferred shall not reduce the amount required to be transferred prior to the next Interest Payment Date.

Any amount remaining in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after the semi-annual transfer to the Debt Service and Expense Account shall be transferred, at the direction of an Authorized Officer, to the Loan Fund, the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund.

Debt Service Reserve Fund (Section 5.4)

If on any Interest Payment Date or Redemption Date, the amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund and the Redemption Fund are less than the amount required for the payments due on the Bonds on such date, the Trustee is to apply amounts from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to the extent required to make good the deficiency.

If concurrently with the allocation from the Revenue Fund, the amount on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Fund is in excess of the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement, the Trustee may, if so directed, transfer the amount of such excess to the Redemption Account.

Whenever the amount in the Debt Service Reserve Fund, together with the amount in the Revenue Fund, is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof), all amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund are to be transferred to the Debt Service Reserve Fund. Prior to such transfer, all investments held in the Revenue Fund are to be liquidated and any Bonds constituting a part of such Fund will be deemed paid and canceled.

Escrow Fund (Section 5.5)

There shall be deposited in the Escrow Fund, all amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited therein and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein.

Amounts in the Escrow Fund may be applied to any lawful purpose of THDA consistent with the Resolution.

Redemption of Bonds (Sections 3.7, 5.3, 6.4 and 6.5)

Bonds may be redeemed from amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund or the Revenue Fund or from other amounts made available by THDA for such purpose. Amounts deposited in the Redemption Account within the Loan Fund must be applied to the redemption of Bonds at the earliest possible time, subject to their terms and the terms of their respective authorizing resolutions. If THDA directs the publication of a notice of redemption from amounts other than amounts in the Redemption Account, THDA is responsible to provide funds for such redemption to the appropriate Paying Agents prior to the date of redemption.

Amounts on deposit in the Revenue Account which are to be applied to the redemption of Bonds may, until the forty-fifth day prior to the date for redemption of such Bonds, be applied to the purchase of such Bonds at prices not exceeding the applicable redemption price, plus accrued interest, unless such Bonds are to be redeemed more than thirteen months from the date of purchase, in which event the purchase price may not exceed par. Any difference between the maximum price payable for such Bonds and the price actually paid is to be deposited in the Debt Service and Expense Account.

The selection of Bonds to be redeemed from the amounts to be applied to the redemption of Bonds of such particular Series and maturity is to be made by the Trustee by lot. For such purpose registered bonds of a denomination greater than $5,000 are to be assigned separate numbers for each $5,000 portion. In the event that the Trustee is required to redeem Appreciation Bonds by lot, the Trustee will assign a separate number to each Appreciation Bond on the basis of its Maturity Amount. The Trustee shall mail, postage prepaid, a copy of the notice of redemption not less than 20 days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to the provider of a central depository system) prior to the date of redemption to the registered owners of all registered Bonds subject to redemption at the last address of such registered owners appearing on the registry books in respect of the Bonds. Publication of notice of redemption is not required if all Bonds to be redeemed are registered bonds. THDA is not obliged to exchange or transfer Bonds within ten days preceding the giving of notice of redemption and is not obliged to exchange or transfer any Bonds which have previously been called for redemption.

Power as to Bonds and Pledge (Section 7.3)

THDA covenants that it is duly authorized pursuant to law to authorize and issue the Bonds and to adopt the General Resolution and to pledge the assets and revenues purported to be pledged by the General Resolution in the manner and to the extent provided in the General Resolution.

Payment of Bonds (Section 7.4)

THDA covenants that it will duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid the principal or Redemption Price, if any, of every Bond and the interest thereon, at the dates and places and in the manner stated in the Bonds, according to the true intent and meaning thereof, and shall duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid all Sinking Fund Payments, if any, becoming payable with respect to any Series of Bonds.

Tax Covenants (Section 7.9)

THDA covenants that (i) it will not permit at any time or times any of the proceeds of the Bonds or other funds of THDA to be used directly or indirectly to acquire any securities or obligations the acquisition of which would cause any Bond to be an “arbitrage bond” as defined in the applicable federal tax law and (ii) it will not permit such proceeds or other funds to be used in such manner as would result in the exclusion of any Bond from the treatment afforded by the applicable federal tax law by reason of the classification of such Bond as a “mortgage subsidy bond” pursuant to the applicable federal tax law or as an “industrial development bond” within the meaning of the applicable federal tax law, except in the case of Bonds held by a “substantial user” or “related person” within the meaning of Section 147(c) of the Code.

Accounts and Reports (Section 7.10)

THDA covenants that it will keep, or cause to be kept, proper books of record and account in which complete and accurate entries shall be made of all its transactions relating to the Homeownership Program and all Funds established by the General Resolution which shall at all reasonable times be subject to the inspection of the Trustee and the holders of an aggregate of not less than 5% in principal amount of Bonds then Outstanding or their representatives duly authorized in writing.

On or before the twenty-fifth day of each month or as soon as practicable thereafter, THDA is required to submit to the Trustee a statement of account for the preceding month setting forth the amount received as Revenues during such month and stating the cumulative amount of Revenues (including individual totals for prepayments and monthly Program Loan receipts) and Non-Mortgage Receipts which have been received since the date upon which the last Principal Installment on Outstanding Bonds was payable.

THDA must annually, within ninety days after the close of each fiscal year, file with the Trustee (1) a copy of an annual report for such fiscal year, setting forth its operations and accomplishments during such fiscal year and (2) financial statements of THDA for such fiscal year setting forth in reasonable detail: (a) a balance sheet for THDA and its programs showing the assets and liabilities of the Homeownership Program at the end of such fiscal year, and (b) a statement of revenues and expenses in accordance with the categories or classifications established by THDA so long as such financial statements for the Homeownership Program are separately identified and are consistent with the requirements of the General Resolution and satisfactory to the Trustee. The financial statements shall be accompanied by the certificate of an independent accountant stating that the financial statements examined present fairly the financial position of THDA at the end of the fiscal year, the results of its operations and the changes in financial position for the period examined, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. A copy of each annual Projected Cash Flow Statement and annual report or special report and any accountant’s certificate shall be mailed promptly thereafter by THDA to each Bondholder who shall have filed his name and address with THDA for such purposes.

Budgets (Section 7.12)

THDA must adopt an annual budget covering its fiscal operations for the succeeding fiscal year not later than the first day of each such fiscal year, and file the same with the Trustee and with such officials of THDA as required under the Act. The annual budget shall at least set forth for such fiscal year the estimated revenues, principal installments and interest due and payable or estimated to become due and payable during such fiscal year and estimated expenses of the Homeownership Program. THDA at any time may adopt and file with the Trustee an amended annual budget for the remainder of the then current fiscal year in the manner provided in the General Resolution for the adoption of the annual budget. Copies of the annual budget and any amended annual budget must be made available by the Trustee for inspection by any Bondholder.

THDA covenants from time to time, with all practical dispatch and in a sound and economical manner consistent in all respects with the Act, with the provisions of the General Resolution and with sound banking practices and principles, to use and apply the proceeds of the Bonds (to the extent not reasonably or otherwise required for other purposes of the Homeownership Program) to finance Program Loans, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect Revenues sufficient to pay the expenses of the Program and to diligently enforce, and take all steps, actions and proceedings reasonably necessary in the judgment of THDA to maintain any insurance on Program Loans and to enforce all terms, covenants and conditions of Program Loans.

Whenever necessary in order to protect and enforce the interest and security of the holders of the Bonds, THDA covenants to commence foreclosure or pursue other appropriate remedies with respect to any Program Loan which is in default. In the event that THDA shall, in its discretion, determine such action to be in the best interests of the holders of the Bonds, THDA may bid for and purchase the premises covered by any such Program Loan at any foreclosure sale thereof or may otherwise take possession of or acquire such premises.

THDA may sell, assign or otherwise dispose of a Program Loan or the premises to which such Program Loan is related:

(1) in order to realize the benefits of insurance with respect to such Program Loan or premises;

(2) in order to provide funds to provide for the redemption or purchase of an amount of Bonds having a value corresponding to the value of such Program Loan; or

(3) if a Projected Cash Flow Statement has been filed with the Trustee giving effect to the proposed sale thereof.

Upon the happening of an Event of Default resulting from nonpayment of the Bonds and at the written request of the Trustee or of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, THDA is required to deliver the Program Loans to the Trustee and take any other steps requested by the Trustee or such Bondholders in order to further effectuate the assignment of all of the Program Loans to the Trustee.

Powers of Amendment (Section 9.2)

Except with respect to certain modifications or amendments that do not require consent of bondholders as described in the General Resolution, any modification or amendment of any provision of the General Resolution or of the rights and obligations of THDA and of the holders of the Bonds may be made by a Supplemental Resolution, with the written consent given as provided in the General Resolution (a) of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, (b) in case less than all of the several Series of Bonds would be affected by such modification or amendment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of each Series so affected, or (c) in case the modification or amendment changes the terms of any Sinking Fund Payment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of the particular Series and maturity entitled to such Sinking Fund Payment, except that if such modification or amendment will, by its terms, not take effect so long as any Bonds of any specified like Series and maturity remain Outstanding, the consent of the holders of such Bonds shall not be required. No such modification or amendment shall permit a change in the terms of redemption or maturity of the principal of any Outstanding Bond or of any installment of interest thereon or a reduction in the principal amount or the Redemption Price thereof or in the rate of interest thereon without the consent of the holder of such Bond or shall reduce the percentages or otherwise affect the classes of Bonds, the consent of the holders of which is required to effect any such modification or amendment.

Events of Default (Sections 10.1 and 10.10)

It is an "event of default" if: (a) THDA shall default in the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if any, on any Bond when and as the same shall become due, whether at maturity or upon call for redemption or otherwise; (b) payment of any installment of interest on any of the Bonds shall not be made within thirty days after the same shall become due; or (c) THDA fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of the General Resolution, or shall default in the performance or observance of any of the covenants, agreements or conditions contained therein, in any Supplemental Resolution, or in the Bonds, and such failure, refusal or default shall continue for a period of forty-five days after written notice thereof by the Trustee or the holders of not less than 5% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee must give the Bondholders notice of each event of default known to the Trustee within ninety days, unless such event of default has been remedied or cured, except that, in the case of default in the payment of the principal of or Redemption Price or interest on any of the Bonds, or in the making of any payment required to be made into the Loan Fund, the Trustee may withhold such notice if and so long as the board of directors, the executive committee, or a trust committee of directors or responsible officers of the Trustee in good faith determines that the withholding of such notice is in the interest of the Bondholders. Each such notice is to be given by mail: (i) to all registered holders of Bonds, as their names and addresses appear upon the books for registration and transfer of Bonds as kept by the Trustee, (ii) to such holders of Bonds as have filed their names and addresses with the Trustee for that purpose, and (iii) to such other persons as is required by law.

Remedies (Sections 10.2 and 10.3)

Upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (a) and (b) above, the Trustee shall proceed, or upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (c) above, the Trustee may proceed, and upon the written request of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds (75% with respect to an acceleration) shall proceed, in its own name, subject to the General Resolution, to protect and enforce the rights of the Bondholders by such of the following remedies as the Trustee, being advised by counsel, shall deem most effectual to protect and enforce such rights: (a) by mandamus or other suit, action or proceeding at law or in equity, to enforce all rights of the Bondholders, including the right to require THDA to receive and collect Revenues adequate to carry out the covenants and agreements as to, and the assignment of, the Program Loans and to require THDA to carry out any other covenant or agreement with Bondholders and to perform its duties under the Act; (b) by bringing suit upon the Bonds; (c) by action or suit in equity, to require THDA to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the holders of the Bonds; (d) by action or suit in equity, to enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the holders of the Bonds; (e) by declaring all Bonds due and payable, and if all defaults shall be made good, then, with the written consent of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, by annulling such declaration and its consequences; or (f) in the event that all Bonds are declared due and payable, by selling Program Loans and Investment Securities.

Except upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default under the Resolution, THDA reserves and retains the privilege to receive and, subject to the terms and provisions of the Resolution, to keep or dispose of, claim, bring suit upon or otherwise exercise, enforce or realize upon its rights and interest in and to the Program Loans and the proceeds and collections therefrom, and neither the Trustee nor any Bondholder will be deemed to be an indispensable party for such purposes.

In the event that during the continuance of an event of default, the funds held by the Trustee and Paying Agents are insufficient for the payment of principal or Redemption Price, if any, and interest then due on the Bonds, such funds (other than funds held for the payment or redemption of particular Bonds which have theretofore become due at maturity or by call for redemption) and any other moneys received or collected by the Trustee acting pursuant to the Act and the General Resolution, after making provision for the payment of any expenses necessary in the opinion of the Trustee to protect the interests of the holders of the Bonds and for the payment of the charges and expenses and liabilities incurred and advances made by the Trustee or any Paying Agents in the performance of their duties under the General Resolution, are to be applied as follows:

(1) Unless the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable:

FIRST: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of all installments of interest then due in the order of the maturity of such installments, and, if the amount available is not sufficient to pay in full any installment, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts due on such installment, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

SECOND: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of the unpaid principal or Redemption Price of any Bonds which shall have become due, whether at maturity or by call for redemption, in the order of their due dates and, if the amounts available shall not be sufficient to pay in full all the Bonds due on any date, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts of principal or Redemption Price, if any, due on such date, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

(2) If the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable, to the payment of the principal and interest then due and unpaid upon the Bond without preference or priority of principal over interest or of interest over principal, or of any installment of interest over any other installment of interest, or of any Bond over any other Bond, ratably, according to the amounts due respectively for principal and interest, to the persons entitled thereto without any discrimination or preference except as to any difference in the respective rates of interest specified in the Bonds.

Bondholders' Direction of Remedial Proceedings (Section 10.5)

The holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding retain the right, upon a written instruction, to direct the method used by the Trustee in conducting all remedial proceedings, but only if such direction is in accordance with the law and the provisions of the Resolution, and is not unjustly, prejudicial, in the Trustee's opinion, to the remaining Bondholders.

Limitation on Rights of Bondholders (Section 10.6)

No individual Bondholder may initiate legal proceedings to enforce rights under the General Resolution unless such holder shall have given to the Trustee written notice of the event of default or breach of duty on account of which such proceeding is to be taken, and unless the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding have made written request of the Trustee after the right to exercise such right of action has occurred, and have afforded the Trustee a reasonable opportunity either to exercise the powers granted to it under the General Resolution or to institute such proceedings in its name and unless, also, there has been offered to the Trustee reasonable security and indemnity against costs, expenses and liabilities and the Trustee has refused or neglected to comply with such request within a reasonable time. No provision in the General Resolution on defaults and remedies affects or impairs the right of any Bondholder to enforce the payment of the principal of and interest on his Bonds, or the obligation of THDA to pay the same.

Compensation of Trustee and Paying Agents (Section 11.5)

THDA is required to pay reasonable compensation to the Trustee and to each Paying Agent for all services rendered under the General Resolution, and also all reasonable expenses, charges, counsel fees and other disbursements, including those of their attorneys, agents and employees, incurred in and about the performance of their powers and duties under the General Resolution, and the Trustee and each Paying Agent shall have a lien therefor on any and all funds at any time held by it under the General Resolution.

Removal of Trustee (Sections 11.8 and 11.9)

The Trustee is required to be removed if so requested by the holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding, excluding any Bonds held by or for the account of THDA. THDA may remove the Trustee at any time, except during the existence of an event of default, for such cause as THDA may determine in its sole discretion. In either such event, a successor is required to be appointed.

Defeasance (Section 12.1)

If THDA shall pay or cause to be paid to the holders of the Bonds, the principal and interest and Redemption Price, if any, to become due thereon, at the times and in the manner stipulated therein and in the General Resolution, then the pledge of any revenues and assets thereby pledged and all other rights granted thereby shall be discharged and satisfied.

Bonds or interest installments for the payment or redemption of which moneys have been set aside and held in trust by Fiduciaries (through deposit by THDA of funds for such payment or redemption or otherwise) at the maturity or Redemption Date thereof will be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect expressed in the above paragraph. Any Bonds shall prior to the maturity or Redemption Date thereof be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect so expressed if (a) in case any of said Bonds are to be redeemed on any date prior to their maturity, THDA has given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as provided in the General Resolution, notice of redemption on said date of such Bonds, (b) there have been deposited with the Trustee either moneys in an amount which are sufficient, or Investment Securities, the principal of and the interest on which when due will provide moneys which, together with the moneys, if any, deposited with the Trustee at the same time, will be sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest due and to become due on said Bonds on and prior to the Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and (c) in the event said Bonds are not by their terms subject to redemption within the next succeeding sixty days, THDA has given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as soon as practicable, at least twice, at an interval of not less than seven days between publications, in the Authorized Newspapers a notice to the holders of such Bonds that the deposit required by (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid and stating such maturity or Redemption Date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, on said Bonds. Neither the Investment Securities nor the moneys so deposited with the Trustee nor principal or interest payments on any such Investment Securities shall be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than (and shall be held in trust for) the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest on said Bonds, but any cash received from such principal or interest payments on such Investment Securities deposited with the Trustee, if not then needed for such purpose, shall, to the extent practicable, be reinvested in Investment Securities maturing at times and in amounts sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest to become due on said Bonds on and prior to such Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and interest earned from such reinvestments shall be paid over to THDA, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

TOTAL		$660,000,000	$300,000,000	$650,020,000

(1) Portions of such Bonds were converted and redesignated as Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-2, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4, and Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5.

As of September 30, 2011, 4,943 mortgage loans in the approximate aggregate principal amount of $488,531,397 were outstanding under the 2009 General Resolution.

THDA may, in the future, elect to issue new bonds under the 2009 General Resolution. The mortgage loans and investments financed with the proceeds of any new bonds issued under the 2009 General Resolution and the revenues therefrom will be pledged to the payment of such bonds (and will not be pledged to the payment of the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds, and will be available for the general purposes of THDA only as provided in the 2009 General Resolution).

Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution")

THDA has issued bonds in the initial aggregate principal amount of $191,885,000 under the 1974 General Resolution which were outstanding as shown on the table below after giving effect to redemptions and regularly scheduled payments of principal and accretion of interest:

Issue of Bonds	Dated	Issued	Outstanding as of September 30, 2011 (unaudited)	Mortgage Rates	Net Interest Cost
2003 Series A	September 4, 2003	$191,885,000	$72,195,000	7.05/7.75	4.90
TOTAL		$191,885,000	$72,195,000

As of September 30, 2011, 2,899 mortgage loans in the approximate aggregate principal amount of $139,584,047 were outstanding under the 1974 General Resolution.

THDA may, in the future, elect to issue new bonds under the 1974 General Resolution. The mortgage loans and investments financed with the proceeds of any new bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution and the revenues therefrom will be pledged to the payment of such bonds (and will not be pledged to the payment of the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds) and will be available for general purposes of THDA only as provided in the 1974 General Resolution.

Single Family Program Bond Resolution (the "1981 Resolution")

On February 2, 1994, THDA issued and sold Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 1994-1 (Taxable) in the aggregate principal amount of $33,500,000 (the "Issue 1994-1 Bonds") the proceeds of which were used to redeem all bonds then outstanding under the 1981 Resolution. All assets under the 1981 Resolution, including mortgages financed with the proceeds of bonds issued under the 1981 Resolution and remaining cash and investments held for the benefit of bondholders under the 1981 Resolution, were transferred out of the 1981 Resolution at the time of the issuance and sale of the Issue 1994-1 Bonds.

While no mortgages or bonds are currently outstanding under the 1981 Resolution, THDA may, in the future, elect to issue new bonds under the 1981 Resolution. The mortgages and investments financed with the proceeds of any new bonds issued under the 1981 Resolution and the revenues therefrom will be pledged to the payment of such bonds (and will not be pledged to the payment of the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds) and will be available for general purposes of THDA only as provided in the 1981 Resolution.

THDA Funds

Introduction

In 1988, the General Assembly of the State amended THDA's Act to create the Assets Fund, the Housing Program Fund, the Housing Program Reserve Fund, and the HOUSE Program. The funds were created to ensure the stability of the HOUSE Program and to enhance the self-sufficiency of THDA. The Housing Program Fund, the Housing Program Reserve Fund and the HOUSE Program, as well as other activities of THDA described herein, are financially separate from THDA's bond resolutions and loan programs, including the Resolution and the Homeownership Program. See Appendix A for additional financial information. Certain actions by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee have and may affect amounts in these funds. See "THDA - THDA Funds" for more information.

Assets Fund

The Act established the Assets Fund as a segregated fund and general asset of THDA. In 1989, THDA transferred monies and Mortgage Loans to the Assets Fund from the 1974 General Resolution; however, subsequent actions by the General Assembly resulted in the transfer of all monies in the Assets Fund to the State General Fund. THDA subsequently transferred all Mortgage Loans back to the General Fund of the 1974 General Resolution; consequently, the Assets Fund currently has a zero balance. For a description of these transfers, see "THDA – THDA Funds."

While there are no monies currently in the Assets Fund, the statutory structure of the Assets Fund remains. The statutory structure for the Assets Fund currently provides for the following:

1. Monies in the Assets Fund cannot be used for grant programs, may not be co-mingled with any proceeds of bonds issued by THDA and can be used only for the following purposes:
    a. To invest in investments permitted under State law and THDA's bond resolutions;
    b. To support rental rehabilitation programs supported by federal funds administered by THDA; and
    c. For constructions loans for housing as otherwise authorized by the Act.
2. Investment income and principal from the Assets Fund may be transferred to the Housing Program Fund in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

Housing Program Fund

The Housing Program Fund is the vehicle for funding non-mortgage programs not otherwise funded through federal programs. THDA also pays operating and administrative expenses, including certain Program Expenses of the Homeownership Program, from the Housing Program Fund. See "THDA - THDA Funds" and "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS - Payment of Program Expenses" for more information.

Essentially, all revenues of THDA derived from sources other than its Homeownership Program or its other bond resolutions are deposited into the Housing Program Fund. These revenues include state tax revenue, if any, and investment income. Specifically, the sources of the monies in the Housing Program Fund[1] are:

1. Investment income transferred from the Assets Fund[2];
2. Investment income from the Housing Program Fund;
3. Appropriate principal, if any, transferred from the Assets Fund[2];
4. Federal funds THDA receives for federal programs it administers; and
5. Fees charged by THDA in connection with its non-mortgage programs, including fees received from the Low Income Housing Tax Credit Program, the multi-family bond authority program and other programs.

THDA receives no funds from the State of Tennessee for operating and administrative expenses. THDA pays most operating and administrative expenses with funds available therefor in the Housing Program Fund. Although THDA is authorized to pay all expenses associated with its loan programs, including Program Expenses of the Homeownership Program, from monies held under THDA's bond resolutions, including the General Resolution, in accordance with their respective terms, THDA has elected to pay only certain expenses, such as Cost of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs from its bond resolutions. THDA currently expects to continue to pay Program Expenses (other than Cost of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs) and all other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses from the Housing Program Fund to the extent possible. Certain actions by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee may affect future payment of operating and administrative expenses, and THDA may elect, in the future, to pay some or all additional Program Expenses from the Resolution. See "THDA - THDA Funds" for more information.

In addition to paying THDA operating and administrative expenses, monies in the Housing Program Fund can be used to (i) pay certain expenses of THDA bond issues; (ii) support future bond issues by providing additional funds to make lower interest rate loans to targeted groups; and (iii) make HOUSE Program grants. See "THDA Activities – HOUSE Program" below for more information. THDA no longer makes HOUSE Program grants.

Other Information

The State Treasurer is the treasurer of THDA and is the custodian of the assets of THDA, except for those assets required to be in the custody of the Trustee pursuant to the provisions of the Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or any other resolution THDA may adopt. The Board of Directors of THDA has adopted an investment policy for THDA assets, other than its mortgage assets (the "non-mortgage assets"). These non-mortgage assets are invested only in investments authorized by the Act, THDA's investment policy, the Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution, the 2009 General Resolution or any other resolution THDA may adopt, and by the Treasurer. The Treasurer has delegated all duties and responsibilities in connection with THDA's investment of THDA non-mortgage assets to the Executive Director of THDA.

[1] Previously, state tax revenues, as authorized by T.C.A Section 13-23-402, consisting of 15.15% of the real estate transfer tax levied by T.C.A. Section 67-4-409(a) and 13% of the mortgage recording tax levied by T.C.A. Section 67-4-409(b) were deposited to the Housing Program Fund for HOUSE Program Grants. For fiscal year 1999-2000 and thereafter, these tax revenues are not available to THDA. See "THDA – THDA Funds" for a discussion of amendments to the Act that affect these tax revenues.

[2] The current Asset Fund balance is $0; therefore, no investment income or principal is currently available for transfer to the Housing Program Fund.

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION CONCERNING DTC AND DTC'S BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM HAS BEEN OBTAINED FROM SOURCES THAT THDA BELIEVES TO BE RELIABLE, BUT THDA TAKES NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACCURACY THEREOF. NEITHER THDA NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT WILL HAVE ANY RESPONSIBILITY OR OBLIGATION TO DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS, BENEFICIAL OWNERS OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS FOR (1) SENDING TRANSACTION STATEMENTS; (2) MAINTAINING, SUPERVISING OR REVIEWING, OR THE ACCURACY OF, ANY RECORDS MAINTAINED BY DTC OR ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS; (3) PAYMENT OR THE TIMELINESS OF PAYMENT BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNER, OF ANY AMOUNT DUE IN RESPECT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF OR REDEMPTION PREMIUM, IF ANY, OR INTEREST ON BONDS; (4) DELIVERY OR TIMELY DELIVERY BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNERS, OF ANY NOTICE (INCLUDING NOTICE OF REDEMPTION) OR OTHER COMMUNICATION WHICH IS REQUIRED OR PERMITTED UNDER THE TERMS OF THE RESOLUTION TO BE GIVEN TO HOLDERS OR OWNERS OF BONDS; (5) THE SELECTION OF THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO RECEIVE PAYMENT IN THE EVENT OF ANY PARTIAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS; OR (6) ANY ACTION TAKEN BY DTC OR ITS NOMINEE AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS.

NEITHER THDA, NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT, NOR ANY UNDERWRITER (OTHER THAN IN ITS CAPACITY, IF ANY, AS DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS), WILL HAVE ANY OBLIGATION TO THE DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT AS NOMINEES WITH RESPECT TO DTC'S PROCEDURES OR ANY PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS BETWEEN DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS, INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS AND THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT RELATING TO THE MAKING OF ANY DEMAND BY CEDE & CO. AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS, THE ADHERENCE TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS OR THE EFFECTIVENESS OF ANY ACTION TAKEN PURSUANT TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS.

1. The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, NY, will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds will be issued as fully-registered securities registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC's partnership nominee) or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC.

2. DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. DTC holds securities that its participants ("Direct Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organizations. DTC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com.

3. Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each Bond ("Beneficial Owner") is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction.

Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

4. To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. or such other nominee do not affect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

5. Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to take certain steps to augment the transmission to them of notices of significant events with respect to the Bonds, such as redemptions, tenders, defaults, and proposed amendments to the security documents. For example, Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to ascertain that the nominee holding the Bonds for their benefit has agreed to obtain and transmit notices to Beneficial Owners. In the alternative, Beneficial Owners may wish to provide their names and addresses to the registrar and request that copies of the notices be provided directly to them.

6. Redemption notices shall be sent to DTC. If less than all of the Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

7. Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds unless authorized by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC’s Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to THDA as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

8. Redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments on the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts, upon DTC's receipt of funds and corresponding detail information from the Trustee on payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, or the Trustee or THDA, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the Trustee, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants will be the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners will be the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

9. DTC may discontinue providing its services as depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Trustee or THDA. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor depository is not obtained, Bonds certificates are required to be printed and delivered.

10. THDA may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry only transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bonds certificates will be printed and delivered.

APPENDIX G

HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES

Income and Acquisition Cost Limits

THDA limits the maximum gross annual household income for eligible borrowers and the maximum acquisition cost for homes financed by Program Loans in accordance with Section 143 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and applicable regulations promulgated thereunder (the "Code"). The limits vary from county to county and are periodically adjusted. THDA's current income limits range from $54,480 to $92,680 depending on household size and geographic location. THDA's income limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor income limits established under the Code.

THDA's acquisition cost limits are either within the safe-harbor limitations established under the Code or are established, based on procedures in the Code, using THDA's actual data which justifies a higher limit. THDA's current maximum acquisition cost limit is $200,160 for all counties except counties in the Nashville MSA. For counties in the Nashville MSA, the maximum acquisition cost limit is $226,100. THDA acquisition cost limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor acquisition cost limits established under the Code.

THDA has in the past and may, at any time, further restrict or otherwise modify income and acquisition cost limits for certain specialized Program Loans THDA may elect to finance.

Loan Origination

THDA's Program Loans are originated by certain financial institutions located throughout the State who are approved by THDA to originate Program Loans in its behalf ("Originating Agents"). THDA may purchase Program Loans once they are closed by the Originating Agent or THDA may offer funds to Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis prior to the closings of Program Loans. Originating Agents may charge borrowers a fee, not to exceed 1% of the Program Loan amount, for originating Program Loans. The Originating Agents who may originate Program Loans from Bond proceeds include mortgage banking firms, commercial banks, and savings and loan associations. The lendable proceeds of the Bonds are made available throughout the State. See Appendix C for a description of THDA's Working Agreement with Originating Agents and Guide for Originating Agents.

THDA will set aside a portion of the lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds to make Targeted Area loans for one year as necessary to comply with Section 143(j) of the Code. In the event any of the amounts so reserved by THDA for Targeted Areas remain at the end of the time period specified by the Code, THDA will offer such funds to its Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis.

Requirements Imposed by the Code

Interest on the Bonds is not included in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes only if certain requirements are met, including (i) eligibility requirements for Program Loans and borrowers (see "Mortgage Eligibility Requirements" below), (ii) yield and investment requirements (see "Requirements Related to Arbitrage" below), and (iii) certain other requirements related to the Bonds and the use of proceeds of the Bonds, that are also imposed by the Code.

Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to assure that the interest on the Bonds is not included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. In addition, covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. To comply with these covenants, THDA periodically reviews and modifies its procedures for Originating Agents and Servicers to the extent necessary to operate its single-family mortgage programs in compliance with federal tax law and has established procedures under which such requirements can be met. Such procedures include monitoring the Program Loan applications to be financed with Bond proceeds to ensure compliance with applicable acquisition cost and income limitations. THDA believes that the procedures established are sufficient to ensure that the Bonds will satisfy the requirements of the Code. In the opinion of Bond Counsel, the Guide for Originating Agents, the Guide for Servicers and the Resolution establish procedures under which, if followed, the requirements of applicable federal tax law can be met.

Mortgage Eligibility Requirements -- The Code requires that Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Bonds meet certain mortgage eligibility requirements. THDA must, among other things, reasonably expect at the time each Program Loan is made that the borrower will make the residence financed by the Program Loan the borrower's principal residence within a reasonable time after the financing is provided. Under the procedures which THDA has established, the borrower must certify, at the closing of the Program Loan, that the borrower intends to make the financed residence the borrower's principal residence within sixty days, which is within the period considered reasonable under the Code.

In general, except with respect to Program Loans made in Targeted Areas and Program Loans made to qualified veterans, borrowers are not permitted to have had a present ownership interest in their principal residence during the three-year period prior to the date on which the Program Loan is closed. THDA will, in cases where the prior ownership limitation applies, require the borrower (i) to provide the most recent federal income tax return and (ii) to certify at the closing of the Program Loan that the borrower has not had a present ownership interest in a principal residence within the preceding three years. In addition, THDA will obtain credit reports for each borrower to determine prior ownership of a principal residence by the borrower.

THDA has established maximum acquisition costs for residences financed with proceeds of Bonds and maximum household income limits, all as permitted by the Code. From time to time, THDA may revise the maximum acquisition cost and the income limits, but in no event will THDA's acquisition cost limits or income limits exceed limits established as permitted under the Code. THDA requires the borrower to certify household income in connection with applying the income limits and requires the borrower and the seller to certify the acquisition cost of the financed residence. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the affidavits of the borrower and the seller and to determine that the Code requirements with respect to acquisition cost limits and income limits are met.

An existing Program Loan or any other existing loan may not be acquired or replaced with proceeds of a Program Loan except for certain initial temporary financing not exceeding a term of 24 months. THDA requires a borrower to certify, at the closing of a Program Loan, that the proceeds of the Program Loan will not be used to acquire or replace an existing loan. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the borrower's federal income tax returns for the preceding year (unless the borrower is not required to file such returns) and a credit report prior to closing to determine if the borrower has any outstanding loans which may have been acquired or replaced with proceeds of the Program Loan.

Program Loans cannot be assumed unless the principal residence, prior home ownership, income and acquisition cost requirements are met at the time of assumption. THDA requires that each of its Program Loans have a "due on sale" clause so that THDA may accelerate the Program Loan if it is assumed and all such requirements are not met. The FHA and VA allow a "due on sale" clause in their respective guaranteed Program Loan programs, provided that the borrower is fully informed and consents in writing to such requirements.

Under the Code, an issue of Bonds is treated as meeting the mortgage eligibility requirements if (i) the issuer in good faith attempted to meet all of the mortgage eligibility requirements before the mortgages were executed, (ii) any failure to comply with the mortgage eligibility requirements is corrected within a reasonable period after such failure is first discovered, and (iii) 95% or more of the lendable proceeds of the issue used to make Program Loans was devoted to finance residences which met all such mortgage eligibility requirements at the time the loans were executed or assumed. In determining whether 95% of the proceeds have been so used, THDA relies on an affidavit of the borrower (the "Borrower Affidavit") and of the seller (the "Seller Affidavit") and on examination of copies of the borrower's most recent federal income tax return, together with credit reports and other relevant documentation.

Requirements Related to Arbitrage -- The Code imposes certain arbitrage requirements in connection with Program Loans financed with the proceeds of Bonds. Generally, the yield on Program Loans financed with lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds may not exceed the yield on such Bonds by more than 1 1/8% and the amount of funds held in certain accounts for such Bonds invested at a yield greater than the yield on such Bonds may not exceed 150% of the current year's debt service on such Bonds.

The Code also requires THDA to periodically rebate to the United States Treasury certain investment earnings on non-mortgage investments to the extent such investment earnings exceed the amount that would have been earned on such investments if those investments were earning a return equal to the yield on the Bonds. THDA has established accounting procedures to determine the amount of such excess investment earnings.

Public Hearing and Approval Requirement -- The Code requires that qualified mortgage bonds be approved prior to issuance by the applicable elected official of the appropriate governmental unit, as specified by statute, after a public hearing held following reasonable public notice or by a voter referendum. THDA has adopted procedures to give public notice, to conduct public hearings, and to obtain approval from the Governor of the State to ensure compliance with the Code.

Reporting Requirement -- The Code requires the issuer of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds to submit to the IRS certain information with respect to the issuer and the particular issue, based on information and reasonable expectations determined as of the date of issue. In addition, each issuer must submit to the IRS a yearly report containing information with regard to the beneficiaries of the proceeds of Program Loans. THDA intends to file for each issue of tax-exempt mortgage bonds it issues, and for each year in which proceeds of any issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds are used to provide Program Loans, the information and reports required.

Certification Requirement -- The Code requires that the aggregate amount of all private activity bonds issued each year in Tennessee be within the volume limitation imposed on the principal amount of tax-exempt mortgage bonds which may be issued in Tennessee for that year. To meet this requirement, THDA requests a certification from an appropriate State official that an issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds is within the volume limitation and files such certification with the IRS or takes alternative action to satisfy this certification requirement.

Targeted Area Requirements -- THDA makes lendable proceeds of Bonds in amounts and for time periods as specified in the Code, available for financing qualified Program Loans for residences in Targeted Areas. Targeted Areas are those census tracts in the State in which seventy percent or more of the families have an income which is eighty percent or less of the statewide median family income or those areas of economic distress designated by the State and approved by the Secretaries of Housing and Urban Development and the Treasury under criteria specified in the Code. THDA has designated certain areas of the State as being in economic distress and such designation has been approved by HUD and the Treasury.

Monitoring for Compliance with the Mortgage Eligibility and Arbitrage Requirements -- Under the procedures which THDA has established to comply with the Code, Originating Agents are responsible for reviewing each Program Loan application and the accompanying documentation, including the Application Affidavit and the Seller Affidavit, for compliance with the Code. Originating Agents are required to take normal and appropriate measures to verify the information given, either independently or concurrently with credit review, when applicable. Originating Agents must cross-check all documentation to ensure that the information presented is complete and consistent. Originating Agents give warranties as to each Program Loan delivered to THDA that, among other things, each Program Loan is in compliance with the Code.

Prior to issuing a commitment to finance a Program Loan and again prior to financing a Program Loan, THDA reviews the Program Loan application submitted by the Originating Agent, which includes the borrower's application, the Application Affidavit, the Seller Affidavit, and the borrower's federal income tax returns, for compliance with the Code. To the extent that these provisions are not complied with, the Originating Agent is contacted to provide additional explanation or documentation to enable THDA to make a determination regarding the status of the Program Loan application. If the Originating Agent does not comply with requests from THDA to correct or complete documentation for any Program Loan or if the Originating Agent fails to comply with the Guide for Originating Agents (which failure is determined in the sole discretion of THDA without regard as to whether the Originating Agent may be at fault), or if the Originating Agent violates any other agreement with THDA, the Originating Agent is required to repurchase the Program Loan.

Loan Servicing

THDA has agreements with qualified financial institutions located in Tennessee or in the eight contiguous states to service Program Loans ("Servicers"). Originating Agents, who also qualify as Servicers, may service the Program Loans they originate. If an Originating Agent declines to service these Program Loans, the Originating Agent, with the approval of THDA, may choose another Servicer to do so. Servicers may be mortgage banking firms, commercial banks or savings and loan associations. THDA may also service Program Loans although it has elected only to service multi-family loans made under the 1974 General Resolution to date. A Servicer may transfer any or all of the Program Loans it services to another approved Servicer, with prior THDA approval.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers updating the total number of Program Loans serviced and providing certain information for each Program Loan including, without limitation, delinquency and foreclosure data.

THDA's agreements with Servicers (the "Servicing Agreements") provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. The Servicers' records relating to serviced Program Loans are subject to examination by THDA's Mortgage Administration and Internal Audit Divisions.

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers which sets forth complete requirements and procedures for servicing Program Loans. THDA may terminate any Servicing Agreement when there is inadequate performance by the Servicer. THDA may also require that a Servicer purchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of a Servicer's failure to perform its obligations with respect to the Program Loans under the Servicing Agreement. For information about Servicing Agreements and substantive requirements relating to servicing Program Loans, see Appendix C.

$8,200,000 Issue 2011-1C (Non-AMT)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined a record of proceedings related to the issuance and sale of $97,105,000 in aggregate principal amount of Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2011-1A (AMT) (the “Issue 2011-1A Bonds”), $35,950,000 in aggregate principal amount of Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2011-1B (Non-AMT) (the “Issue 2011-1B Bonds”) and $8,200,000 in aggregate principal amount of Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2011-1C (Non-AMT) (the “Issue 2011-1C Bonds,” and, together with the Issue 2011-1A Bonds and the Issue 2011-1B Bonds, the “Issue 2011-1 Bonds”) of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency (“THDA”), a body politic and corporate, constituting a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State of Tennessee (the “State”), organized and existing under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency Act, constituting Chapter 23 of Title 13 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, as amended (the “Act”), and other laws of the State. Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the General Resolution (as hereinafter defined).

The Issue 2011-1 Bonds were authorized to be issued pursuant to the Act, the General Homeownership Program Bond Resolution of THDA, adopted June 6, 1985, as amended and supplemented (the “General Resolution”) and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on September 27, 2011, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on November 9, 2011 (together, the “Supplemental Resolution,” and, together with the General Resolution, the “Resolution”).

THDA has issued and is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds are and, when issued, shall, with the Issue 2011-1 Bonds (collectively, the “Homeownership Program Bonds”) be entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution.

The Issue 2011-1 Bonds mature in the years and in the respective principal amounts, bear interest at the respective rates and are otherwise as described in the Supplemental Resolution. The Issue 2011-1 Bonds are being issued to refund certain outstanding obligations of THDA and to make funds available to make or purchase Program Loans, as defined in the General Resolution, in accordance with the program of THDA permitted under the Resolution (the “Program”).

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), establishes certain requirements which must be met subsequent to the delivery of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds in order that interest on the Issue 2011-1 Bonds be excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation. We have examined the Resolution and other relevant single family housing program documents which set forth such various federal tax law requirements which must be met by THDA. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with such requirements of federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures.

Based upon the foregoing we are of the opinion that:

1. Under the Constitution and laws of the State, THDA has lawful power and authority, among other things, to carry out the Program, to provide funds therefor by the adoption of the Resolution and the issuance and sale of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds and to perform its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Resolution, including the financing of single family mortgage loans and collecting and enforcing the collection of revenues and prepayments as covenanted in the Resolution.

2. The Resolution has been duly adopted by THDA and is valid and binding upon THDA.

3. The Issue 2011-1 Bonds are valid and legally binding general obligations of THDA, for the payment of which, in accordance with their terms, the full faith and credit of THDA have been legally and validly pledged and are entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the Resolution.

4. The Resolution creates, for the benefit of the holders of the Homeownership Program Bonds, including the Issue 2011-1 Bonds, the valid pledge of and lien on revenues, as defined in the Resolution, and moneys and securities held or set aside or to be held or set aside in the Funds and Accounts established thereunder, subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application thereof for the purposes and on the terms and conditions set forth in the Resolution.

5. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has validly covenanted in the manner and to the extent provided in the Resolution, among other things, to make or purchase mortgage loans under the Program with the proceeds of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect revenues and, when applicable, prepayments and to cause its Chairman on or before November 1 of each year to make and deliver to the Governor and Commissioner of Finance and Administration of the State his certificate stating such sum, if any, as may be necessary to restore the Debt Service Reserve Fund to an amount equal to the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement provided for by the Resolution pursuant to the Act. The provisions of the Constitution of Tennessee prohibit moneys from being withdrawn from the Treasury except in consequence of an appropriation made by law. However, the General Assembly of the State may validly appropriate the amount of such sum as so certified and upon such appropriation, such amount may validly be paid to THDA for deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Fund established pursuant to the Resolution, although the provisions of the Act do not constitute a legally enforceable obligation upon the State to pay such amounts.

6. The Issue 2011-C Bonds do not constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or a pledge of its full faith and credit or of its taxing power and are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

7. Under existing federal laws as presently enacted and construed and assuming continuing compliance by THDA with the covenants concerning federal tax described above, (i) interest on the Issue 2011-1 Bonds is excluded from gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes; (ii) interest on the Issue 2011-1A Bonds will be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax on individuals and corporations, (iii) interest on the Issue 2011-1B Bonds and the Issue 2011-1C Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, (iv) interest on the Issue 2011-1B Bonds will be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code and (v) interest on the Issue 2011-1C Bonds will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

8. Under the laws of the State as enacted and construed on the date hereof, the interest on the Issue 2011-1 Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State on interest income; however, the Issue 2011-1 Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State.

In addition to the opinions set forth in paragraph (7) above, certain individual owners of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds may have to take interest on such Issue 2011-1 Bonds into account for the purpose of calculating the amount of social security or railroad retirement benefits includible in gross income of such owners for federal income tax purposes. All owners of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds (including, but not limited to, insurance companies, financial institutions, S corporations and United States branches of foreign corporations) should consult their tax advisors concerning the effects of these and other applicable provisions of the Code on their individual tax liabilities. The extent of certain indirect tax consequences will depend upon the recipient's particular tax status or other items of income or deduction. We express no opinion regarding any such consequences.

In rendering this opinion, we are advising you that the enforceability of rights and remedies with respect to the Resolution and the Issue 2011-1 Bonds may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency and other laws affecting creditors' rights or remedies heretofore or hereafter enacted.

We express no opinion herein as to the adequacy or accuracy of the Official Statement pertaining to the issuance of the Issue 2011-1 Bonds.

Very truly yours,

NEW ISSUES AND CONVERSION ISSUE BOOK-ENTRY ONLY

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under existing federal laws and assuming continuing compliance by THDA with federal tax law requirements, (i) interest on the Issue 2011-A Bonds (the "Issue 2011-A Bonds") and the Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3 Bonds (the "Subseries B-3 Bonds" and, collectively with the Issue 2011-A Bonds, the "Series Bonds") is excluded from gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes and (ii) interest on the Series Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and is not included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code. In addition, Bond Counsel is of the opinion that, under existing laws of the State of Tennessee, the interest on the Series Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Series Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee. See "TAX MATTERS" herein.

Housing Finance Program Bonds
$60,000,000 Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3 (Non-AMT)*

Dated: Issue 2011-A Bonds: Date of Delivery Due: As shown on inside front cover
Subseries B-3 Bonds: December 21, 2009
(Interest to accrue from April 14, 2011)

The Issue 2011-A Bonds are being issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in book-entry form and when delivered will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, New York, to which principal and interest payments on the Issue 2011-A Bonds will be made. So long as Cede & Co. or another nominee of DTC is the registered owner of the Issue 2011-A Bonds, payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Issue 2011-A Bonds will be made directly to DTC. Disbursement of such payments to DTC's Direct Participants (as herein defined) is the responsibility of DTC and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners (as herein defined) is the responsibility of the Direct Participants and Indirect Participants (as herein defined). Beneficial Owners of the Issue 2011-A Bonds will not receive physical delivery of bond certificates. See Appendix G "Book-Entry-Only System." The Issue 2011-A Bonds will be issued in denominations of $5,000 and integral multiples thereof. Interest on the Issue 2011-A Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and is payable on July 1, 2011, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, as more fully described herein.

Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") previously issued $300,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") and, in connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds expects to convert and re-designate a portion of such bonds as the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3. See "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM." Interest on the Subseries B-3 Bonds accrues from the date of delivery of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and is payable on June 14, 2011, and thereafter on each January 1 and July 1, commencing July 1, 2011.

The Series Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their stated maturities at the times and under the conditions set forth under the caption "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for the Series Bonds."

The Series Bonds are special limited obligations of THDA payable only from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution (as defined herein) for the payment of the principal or redemption price of and interest on the Bonds.

THDA has no taxing power. The Series Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State of Tennessee (the "State") or any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof, are pledged for the payment of the principal of or interest on the Series Bonds.

This cover page contains certain information for quick reference only. It is not a summary of this issue. Investors must read the entire Official Statement to obtain information essential to making an informed investment decision.

The Issue 2011-A Bonds are being offered when, as and if issued by THDA, subject to delivery of the opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel, and certain other conditions. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York, and certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller. Certain legal matters in connection with the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds will be passed upon by Kutak Rock LLP. It is expected that the Series Bonds will be available for book-entry delivery through DTC on or about April 14, 2011.

INTRODUCTION

This Official Statement (the "Official Statement") provides certain information in connection with the issuance by the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") of the Issue 2011-A Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $40,000,000 (the "Issue 2011-A Bonds") and the conversion and re-designation of a portion of THDA's Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") as the Issue 2009-B Bonds, Subseries B-3 (the "Subseries B-3 Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2011-A Bonds, the "Series Bonds") in the aggregate principal amount of $60,000,000.

THDA is authorized to issue and sell its bonds and to conduct its other activities by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 13-23-101 et seq., as amended (the "Act"). The issuance and sale of the Issue 2011-A Bonds is authorized by the General Housing Finance Resolution, adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a resolution adopted by THDA on January 25, 2011, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee of THDA (the "Bond Finance Committee") on March 24, 2011 (the "Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution"). The General Resolution and the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution are herein collectively referred to as the "Resolution."

The Issue 2009-B Bonds were issued in the aggregate principal amount of $300,000,000 pursuant to the General Resolution and a resolution adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee on December 3, 2009 (the "Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution") and the New Issue Bond Program described herein under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM." In connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds, THDA expects to convert and redesignate a portion of the Issue 2009-B Bonds as Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3 (the "Subseries B-3 Bonds") pursuant to the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution as supplemented by the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution. The Subseries B-3 Bonds are not being offered pursuant to this Official Statement. See a description of the New Issue Bond Program under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM" herein.

The General Resolution was adopted in connection with THDA's implementation of the New Issue Bond Program. No assurance can be provided that THDA will continue to issue Bonds under the General Resolution upon the release of all proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds held in escrow as described under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM" herein.

The Act requires submission to the Bond Finance Committee of THDA, which consists of the Chairman of THDA and the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, the Secretary of State of the State of Tennessee, the State Treasurer of the State of Tennessee, and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration of the State of Tennessee, of a plan of financing pertaining to the sale of any bonds or notes by THDA and to request that the Bond Finance Committee sell such bonds or notes on behalf of THDA, under the terms and conditions set forth in the Act. The Bond Finance Committee approved the plan of financing with respect to the Bonds on January 24, 2011. The Act does not permit THDA to have outstanding bonds and notes in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $2,930,000,000, excluding bonds and notes which have been refunded. As of January 31, 2011 (unaudited), bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $510,265,000 were outstanding under the General Resolution. In addition, as of January 31, 2011 (unaudited), bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $1,561,570,000 were outstanding under THDA's Homeownership Program Bond Resolution (the "1985 General Resolution"), and bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $78,665,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution").

Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Series Bonds, are and will be special limited obligations of THDA, payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution for the payment of the principal and redemption price thereof and the interest thereon, including the Bond Reserve Fund established pursuant to the Resolution, as more fully described herein under the caption "SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS". Except as otherwise provided in the Resolution, all bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Series

*The Subseries B-3 Bonds are not offered hereby as described herein.

Bonds, are equally and ratably secured by the pledges and covenants contained therein and all such bonds, including the Series Bonds, are sometimes referred to herein as the "Bonds". The security interest created by the pledge of the General Resolution is governed by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 9-22-101 et seq., as amended, relating to the perfection, priority and enforcement of public pledges and liens (the "Public Pledge Act"). Security interests governed under the Public Pledge Act are expressly exempt from Tennessee's codification of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State or of any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of principal or interest on the Bonds.

The Issue 2011-A Bonds are being issued and the Subseries B-3 Bonds are being converted to make funds available to purchase Program Loans (or participations therein) to finance the ownership or improvement of single family housing within the State by eligible low and moderate income families. See "PROGRAM LOANS" herein. As used herein the term "Program Loan" includes mortgage loans originated since December 2009 directly financed with Bonds issued under the General Resolution together with certain loans transferred to the General Resolution ("Transferred Loans") as a result of the refunding of certain obligations under the 1985 General Resolution with the proceeds of a prior issue of Bonds under the General Resolution.

THDA's Program Loan portfolio includes only first lien, fixed interest rate single-family Program Loans with equal monthly installments of principal and interest. As of January 31, 2011 (unaudited), 3,704 Program Loans were outstanding under the Resolution having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $362,074,836. Based on the outstanding principal balance of Program Loans as of January 31, 2011, approximately 94.27% were FHA insured, approximately 1.03% were VA guaranteed, approximately 0.24% were insured by private mortgage insurance companies, approximately 3.21% were guaranteed by United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD"), and approximately 1.25% were uninsured (i.e. Program Loans for which the borrower has at least a 22% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing). See "HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS – Housing Finance Program Portfolio Data" and Appendix B under the heading "Private Mortgage Insurance Programs".

THDA expects that the funds made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds, the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds, and a contribution from THDA, will be made available to: (i) finance first lien single-family Program Loans (or participations therein) for single-family, owner-occupied housing (one to four dwelling units); (ii) pay capitalized interest, if any; (iii) pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' Fees and other transaction costs; and (iv) fund the Bond Reserve Fund. See "APPLICATION OF BOND PROCEEDS". The terms and conditions of Program Loans, including Program Loans financed with amounts made available by the issuance of the Series Bonds, are described herein under the caption "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" and in Appendix H.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds, will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix H. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee") is trustee and paying agent for all Bonds issued under the General Resolution.

A brief description of the Series Bonds, THDA and its Program Loans follows, together with summaries of the terms of the Series Bonds, the Resolution and certain provisions of the Act. Such summaries do not purport to be complete and all such summaries and references to the Act and the Resolution are qualified in their entirety by reference to each such document, copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Certain capitalized terms utilized herein are defined in Appendix D hereto. Capitalized terms utilized herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Resolution.

NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM

THDA issued $300,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Issue 2009-B Bonds in December, 2009 as taxable, variable interest rate escrow bonds under the Single Family New Issue Bond Program (the "New Issue Bond Program") announced by the United States Department of the Treasury ("Treasury"), Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. The Issue 2009-B Bonds were purchased by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac (the "Purchasers") pursuant to the New Issue Bond Program and proceeds derived from the sale of the Issue 2009-B Bonds in an amount equal to $300,000,000 were deposited in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund established by the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution. Under the New Issue Bond Program, the Purchasers exchanged the Issue 2009-B Bonds for securities issued by the Purchasers ("GSE Securities") backed by the Issue 2009-B Bonds which were purchased by the Treasury. Such GSE Securities are not part of the security for the Issue 2009-B Bonds. The Issue 2009-B Bonds bear interest at a short term variable rate and the interest rate calculation method may be converted in up to six tranches prior to December 31, 2011 (each such date, a "Release Date").

The release of amounts held in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount to become available to purchase Program Loans depends upon compliance with various conditions set forth in the agreement with the Purchasers and in the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, including a requirement that THDA shall have sold additional bonds to investors in accordance with standard bond underwriting practices (the "Market Bonds") in an aggregate principal amount at least equal to two-thirds of the amount of funds released. In order to release all amounts held in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount, THDA must issue a minimum of $200,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Market Bonds. For purposes of the New Issue Bond Program, the Issue 2011-A Bonds constitute Market Bonds, and upon the satisfaction of the conditions precedent to the release of a portion of the funds from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount, THDA expects to release $60,000,000 from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount (the "Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds") on the applicable Release Date which is expected to be the delivery date of the Issue 2011-A Bonds. The portion of the Issue 2009-B Bonds corresponding to the Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds will be re-designated as the Subseries B-3 Bonds on such Release Date. THDA previously released an aggregate principal amount of $145,290,000 of proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds in two prior releases. Upon the release of the Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds, $94,710,000 will remain on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount and available for future releases. No assurance can be provided that THDA will continue to issue Bonds under the General Resolution upon the release of all amounts on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount.

DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS

General

The Issue 2011-A Bonds will be issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in denominations of $5,000 and any integral multiple thereof and will be available in book-entry only form. Purchasers of the Issue 2011-A Bonds will not receive certificates representing their interest in the Issue 2011-A Bonds. The Depository Trust Company, ("DTC"), New York, New York, will act as securities depository for the Issue 2011-A Bonds. The ownership of one fully registered certificated bond, without coupons, for each series and maturity set forth on the inside cover page hereof, each in the aggregate principal amount of such series and maturity, will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for DTC, and deposited with DTC via the FAST system. See Appendix G "Book-Entry Only System" for a description of the DTC book-entry only system.

The Issue 2011-A Bonds will mature on the dates and bear interest from the date of delivery at the rates indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement. Interest on the Issue 2011-A Bonds is payable on July 1, 2011, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

The Subseries B-3 Bonds will mature on July 1, 2041. The Subseries B-3 Bonds are dated December 21, 2009, and will bear interest from April 14, 2011, at the rates indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement payable on June 14, 2011, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, commencing July 1, 2011, on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds

Sinking Fund Redemption

The Issue 2011-A Bonds maturing on January 1, 2021, are subject to redemption in part by lot on each January 1 and July 1 beginning January 1, 2020, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments in the principal amount for each of the dates set forth below:

2040	2,610,000	2,660,000
2041	2,710,000	2,760,000	(maturity)

Optional Redemption. The Issue 2011-A Bonds maturing on and after January 1, 2021, are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their respective maturities, either as a whole or in part at any time, on or after July 1, 2020, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

The Subseries B-3 Bonds are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their maturity, either as a whole or in part on the first Business Day of each month commencing May 1, 2011, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds. The Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Account representing Excess 2011-A Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess 2011-A Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds on any Interest Payment Date commencing January 1, 2012; provided, however, Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds may be redeemed between Interest Payment Dates on the first Business Day of any month for which adequate notice of redemption may be given.

While any Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds remain Outstanding, Excess 2011-A Principal Payments shall be used as follows:

FIRST, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds are equal to or less than 400% PSA (as defined below under "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds"), as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2011-A Principal Payments shall first be applied to redeem Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) for Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, other than the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds; and

SECOND, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds are in excess of 400% PSA, as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2011-A Principal Payments up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) shall first be applied to redeem Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds (any such remainder used to redeem Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds being an "Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption"); provided, however, that (i) the source of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption is restricted to that portion of the available Excess 2011-A Principal Payments which is in excess of 400% PSA and (ii) the principal amount of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption may not be an amount in excess of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds' proportionate amount of all Issue 2011-A Bonds then Outstanding.

"Excess 2011-A Principal Payments" means, as of any date of computation, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds which do not constitute Excess Subseries B-3 Principal Payments to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Series Bonds.

"Planned Amortization Amount" means the dollar amount for each Interest Payment Date set forth in the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution. Each Planned Amortization Amount represents the cumulative principal amount of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds assumed to be redeemed from Excess 2011-A Principal Payments as of a particular Interest Payment Date based on receipt of principal prepayments at a 75% PSA prepayment rate for Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds" for a description of PSA prepayment rates.

The amortization schedule of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds, including the Planned Amortization Amounts for the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds (which assumes the full origination of Program Loans with proceeds allocable to the Series Bonds in accordance with the expected schedule for such origination and receipt of principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds at a rate equal to 75% of the PSA prepayment rate) as of each payment date is set forth below:

Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds Amortization Schedule

Date	Planned Amortization Amount
January 1, 2012	$ 145,000
July 1, 2012	455,000
January 1, 2013	920,000
July 1, 2013	1,525,000
January 1, 2014	2,250,000
July 1, 2014	2,970,000
January 1, 2015	3,650,000
July 1, 2015	4,295,000
January 1, 2016	4,905,000
July 1, 2016	5,480,000
January 1, 2017	6,020,000
July 1, 2017	6,525,000
January 1, 2018	6,995,000
July 1, 2018	7,430,000
January 1, 2019	7,830,000
July 1, 2019	8,195,000
January 1, 2020	8,530,000
July 1, 2020	8,830,000
January 1, 2021	9,095,000
July 1, 2021	9,215,000

Each Planned Amortization Amount, as set forth in the table above, is subject to proportionate reduction to the extent Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds are redeemed from amounts on deposit in the Issue 2011-A/Subseries B-3 Subaccount of the Loan Fund and not applied to finance Program Loans.

For a description of the impact on the weighted average life of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds on the receipt of prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds at various speeds, see "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds."

Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-3 Bonds. The Subseries B-3 Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such Subseries B-3 Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Fund representing Excess Subseries B-3 Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess Subseries B-3 Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of Subseries B-3 Bonds at least once during each semi-annual period ending on January 1, or July 1, commencing July 1, 2011, to the extent there are at least $10,000 of Excess Subseries B-3 Principal Payments received during such semi-annual period.

"Excess Subseries B-3 Principal Payments" means, while any Issue 2011-A Bonds are Outstanding, a pro rata portion (calculated based on the outstanding principal amount of the Subseries B-3 Bonds divided by the outstanding principal amount of the Series Bonds), and subsequent to the payment, in full, of the Issue 2011-A Bonds, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Series Bonds.

Special Redemption of the Series Bonds, including Cross Calls. The Series Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part, at any time prior to maturity, in accordance with the provisions of the Resolution, and in an amount equal to amounts available for such purposes from (i) proceeds of the Series Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans; (ii) except as otherwise described under the headings "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds," "-Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-3 Bonds," and "-Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule" repayments and prepayments of Program Loans allocated to the Series Bonds in excess of regularly scheduled debt service payments on the Series Bonds; (iii) repayments and prepayments of Program Loans financed with the proceeds of any other Bonds issued under the Resolution, subject to limitations contained in the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and (iv) other amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund of the Resolution in excess of the amounts then required for the payment of Debt Service and Program Expenses; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds (a) are only subject to redemption under clause (ii) above as described under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds" and (b) shall not be subject to redemption as described in clauses (iii) and (iv) above if such redemption would cause amortization of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds to exceed the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds Amortization Schedule. The Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Series Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans.

The date of redemption shall be determined by the Trustee upon the direction of THDA, subject to the provisions of and in accordance with the Resolution. The Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the redemption date, if applicable; provided, however, the redemption price for the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds in the event of a redemption described in clause (i) above shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. The Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption, unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of Series Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in an amount in excess of their proportionate amount of all Issue 2011-A Bonds then Outstanding in the event of a redemption pursuant to clause (i) above. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Prepayments" and "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS - THDA Redemption Practices". See "TAX MATTERS" herein for a description of the potential tax consequences of a redemption of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds at their issue price.

Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule. To the extent not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments on the Series Bonds or otherwise required to be applied to the redemption of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds or the Subseries B-3 Bonds, repayments and prepayments of principal of the Program Loans or portions thereof allocable to the Series Bonds received on or after April 14, 2021, shall be applied to redeem Series Bonds in such principal amounts as are required to satisfy the requirements of the Code. The redemption price of Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable. Subject to the redemption procedures under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds," THDA shall direct the redemption of the Series Bonds pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Series Bonds to be redeemed; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds may be redeemed in an amount that exceeds the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds Amortization Table only if there are no other Series Bonds outstanding.

Mandatory Redemption – Unexpended Proceeds. The Series Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on January 1, 2012, in the event and to the extent that there are unexpended proceeds of the Series Bonds on deposit in the Issue 2011-A/Subseries B-3 Bonds Subaccount of the Loan Fund on December 1, 2011, provided that such redemption date may be extended, at the option of THDA, and subject to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution.

Notwithstanding any extension of the redemption date described above, in order to satisfy requirements of the Code, the Series Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on October 14, 2014, to the extent any amounts remain on deposit in the Issue 2011-A/Subseries B-3 Subaccount of the Loan Fund.

The redemption price of the Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable; provided, however, that the redemption price for the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. THDA shall direct the redemption of the Series Bonds pro rata among all maturities of such Series Bonds then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall also deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Series Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that (i) the Subseries B-3 Bonds shall be redeemed on a pro-rata basis from among all Series Bonds then Outstanding and (ii) the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in an amount in excess of their proportionate amount of all Series Bonds then Outstanding. See “TAX MATTERS” herein for a description of the potential tax consequences of a redemption of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds at their issue price.

Selection By Lot

If less than all of the Series Bonds of like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the particular Series Bonds of such series and maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in accordance with the Resolution.

Notice of Redemption

When the Trustee shall receive notice from THDA of its election or direction to redeem Bonds, and when redemption of Bonds is required by the Resolution, the Trustee shall give notice, in the name of THDA, of the redemption of such Bonds, which notice shall specify the series and maturities of the Bonds to be redeemed, the redemption date and the place or places where amounts due upon such redemption will be payable and, if less than all of the Bonds of any like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the letters and numbers or other distinguishing marks of such Bonds so to be redeemed, and, in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, such notice shall also specify the respective portions of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Such notice shall further state that on such date there shall become due and payable upon each Bond to be redeemed the Redemption Price thereof, or the Redemption Price of the specified portions of the principal thereof in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, together with interest accrued to the redemption date, and that from and after such date interest thereon shall cease to accrue and be payable. In the event that the Trustee does not, at the time notice of any redemption is required to be given under the Resolution, hold on deposit in the Redemption Fund an amount sufficient to pay the Redemption Price of, plus interest accrued and unpaid to the redemption, such notice shall further state that the redemption is conditional upon sufficient funds being so deposited or transferred by or at the direction of THDA to the Redemption Fund and that, in the event such funds are not so deposited or transferred, the redemption shall be canceled, or reduced to the extent of funds actually on deposit, and written notice of such cancellation or reduction shall be given to the holders of Bonds which are not to be redeemed within ten (10) days following the proposed redemption date in the same manner as provided for notice of the redemption.

Notice of redemption of Bonds shall be mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid (and by reputable overnight delivery service in the case of Bonds held by any securities depository), no less than twenty (20) days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to DTC) before the redemption date, to the registered owners of any Bonds or portions thereof which are to be redeemed at their last addresses appearing upon the registry book. So long as DTC or its nominee is the registered owner of the Bonds, THDA shall not be responsible for mailing notices of redemption to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants or to the Beneficial Owners of the Bonds. See Appendix G – “Book-Entry-Only System” for a discussion of DTC practices.

SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS

Security of Bonds and Sources of Payment

The Bonds are special limited obligations of THDA payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution. Subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application of certain monies for the purposes and under the terms set forth therein, and to the payment to the Trustee and the Paying Agents and depositories of compensation for their services and expenses, such Bonds are secured equally and ratably by a pledge of the following:

(a) Revenues, which include scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of principal of and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicers as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loans and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan;

(b) Non-Mortgage Receipts, which includes all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses from investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, including the Escrow Fund but excluding the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount, the investments in which are pledged solely to secure the Issue 2009-B Bonds which have not been the subject of a Conversion;

(c) All Funds and Accounts created by the Resolution, including the Bond Reserve Fund, and monies and securities therein, except amounts on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount which are pledged solely to secure the Issue 2009-B Bonds which have not been the subject of a Conversion and amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited in the Escrow Fund (see Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION"); and

(d) All right, title and interest of THDA in and to the Program Loans made or purchased pursuant to the Resolution.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds do not constitute a debt, liability or obligation of the State or any other political subdivision thereof (except THDA). Neither the full faith and credit nor taxing power of the State or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of the principal of, redemption price or interest on the Bonds. The Bonds are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

Bond Reserve Fund

The Act authorizes THDA to establish one or more reserve funds. In accordance with the Act and the Resolution, THDA has established a Bond Reserve Fund for the Bonds. The Resolution provides that THDA may not issue any Bond unless the amount in the Bond Reserve Fund is at least equal to the "Bond Reserve Fund Requirement". The Bond Reserve Fund Requirement is the greater of (i) an amount equal to the aggregate of the respective amounts for each Issue of Bonds established in the Supplemental Resolution authorizing such Issue or (ii) an amount equal to 3% of the then current balance of Program Loans plus any other amount on deposit in the Loan Fund which has not been designated to provide for the payment of Costs of Issuance or capitalized interest. On the date of issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds, the Bond Reserve Fund will contain an amount at least equal to the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement. The Resolution requires that if, at any time, there is not a sufficient amount available in the Debt Service and Expense Account to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund installments maturing and becoming due on the Bonds, the Trustee must transfer the amount of the deficiency from the Bond Reserve Fund to the Debt Service and Expense Account.

Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund

Amounts on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund are pledged solely to Issue 2009-B Bonds that have not been converted and re-designated as subseries bonds in connection with the issuance of Market Bonds, unless and until there is an Event of Default under the Resolution, in which event such funds shall be applied as required by the Resolution; provided, however, that THDA has agreed that upon any such Event of Default amounts on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund shall be applied to the payment of other Bonds under the Resolution only if there are no other funds under the Resolution available for such payment.

Additional Bonds

THDA is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds, when issued, shall, with the Series Bonds, be entitled to the equal benefit, protection, and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution, except as otherwise described herein.

ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS

General

The General Resolution requires THDA to file Projected Cash Flow Statements with the Trustee periodically in connection with various actions THDA may take pursuant to the General Resolution including, without limitation, the issuance of Bonds. (See Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION" for a description of Projected Cash Flow Statements and the circumstances under which they are required.) A Projected Cash Flow Statement meets the requirements of the General Resolution if it shows that sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service on Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution, including the Series Bonds, and Program Expenses and that the amount of all assets held under the General Resolution equals or exceeds the total liability of all Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution. In connection with the preparation of Projected Cash Flow Statements upon the issuance or remarketing of Bonds, including the Series Bonds, THDA makes certain assumptions concerning revenues derived from Program Loans, Program Expenses, rate and amount of prepayments, earnings on investments, rate of origination of Program Loans, and Bond redemptions.

THDA has prepared and filed a Projected Cash Flow Statement in connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds (the "Projected Cash Flow Statement"). The Projected Cash Flow Statement has been based, among other assumptions, on the assumption that THDA originates approximately $100,000,000 of thirty year Program Loans (or participations therein) bearing interest at a weighted average interest rate of approximately 5.09%. The maturities and Sinking Fund Payments for the Series Bonds have been structured on the assumption that Program Loans will experience no prepayments. The Projected Cash Flow Statement has evidenced that, upon the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds, sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service for Bonds Outstanding.

THDA believes the assumptions used in connection with the preparation of the Projected Cash Flow Statement are reasonable. THDA cannot, however, guarantee that actual results will not vary materially from such assumptions. If subsequent events do not correspond to such assumptions, the amount of Revenues available to make payments of principal and interest on the Bonds, including the Series Bonds, when scheduled, may be adversely affected and the expected life of the Series Bonds may be affected.

Payments of Principal and Interest on the Bonds

The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that payments of principal and interest on the Series Bonds will be made, when scheduled, from scheduled payments and prepayments of principal and interest on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Series Bonds and from other moneys available under the Resolution including, without limitation, income expected to be derived from the investment of monies in the funds and accounts established under the Resolution. For purposes of preparing the Projected Cash Flow Statement, it has been assumed that scheduled payments of principal and interest on Program Loans will be received 29 days from the date on which they are due. Such sources of available monies may be insufficient to make such payments in the event that (i) regularly scheduled payments on Program Loans are not made on a timely basis in accordance with their terms, (ii) THDA incurs uninsured losses in connection with the foreclosure of Program Loans or insured losses which the insurer does not pay, (iii) THDA is not able to finance Program Loans in accordance with its expectations, (iv) actual investment rates on Investment Securities are less than those assumed, or (v) prepayments are not received as anticipated to the extent the Projected Cash Flow Statement was based on an assumed level of prepayments.

Program Loans

Certain moneys made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds, will be deposited in the Issue 2011-A/Subseries B-3 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund and will be used to continue THDA’s program of financing Program Loans for single family, owner occupied residential housing for low and moderate income persons and families. THDA may use amounts made available as a result of the issuance of Issue 2011-A Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds to finance Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans. The current interest rates on Great Rate Program Loans are expected to be below the prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee at the time of delivery of the Series Bonds. In addition, THDA may use amounts made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds to finance Program Loans on a blended basis with proceeds of other bonds of THDA, including participation interests bearing interest at 0% in order to satisfy mortgage yield limitations of the Code. See “PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans” – Homeownership Choices” and Appendix H – “PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES” for more information about specific program requirements.

As of March 2, 2011, THDA has purchased Program Loans in the approximate aggregate principal amount of $26,578,000 and has commitments for additional Program Loans in the approximate aggregate principal amount of $12,884,073. The weighted average interest rate of purchased and committed Program Loans is approximately 4.59%.

Program Loans are made on a continuing, first-come, first served basis by Originating Agents approved by THDA. The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that Program Loans (or participations therein) financed with the proceeds of Bonds, including the Series Bonds, will be first-lien, thirty-year, fixed-rate mortgages, with equal monthly installments of principal and interest and that Program Loans purchased by THDA from Originating Agents will be purchased at par.

THDA’s general policy is to maintain a steadily available supply of funds to finance program loans at competitive interest rates. THDA generally establishes interest rates for its program loans when bonds are sold by taking into account the maximum permitted interest rate under the Code and the spread between that rate and the then prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. THDA prefers to maintain the same interest rates throughout the period of origination of program loans for each issue of bonds, however, THDA regularly reviews these interest rates in light of market conditions and retains the flexibility to modify its interest rates to meet changing needs and conditions. No assumptions can be made regarding the length of time an interest rate set by THDA will remain available or what effect a particular interest rate will have on the origination of program loans.

Nonorigination of Program Loans

While THDA retains the flexibility to modify the interest rates at which Program Loans are offered, there are circumstances under which these interest rates may not be competitive with prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. Under these circumstances, it will be more difficult for THDA to originate Program Loans. The ability of THDA to finance Program Loans as described may also be affected by the availability of residences that meet THDA's acquisition cost limits and the willingness of potential borrowers to assume potential federal recapture tax liability. Although THDA expects that all lendable proceeds available from the Bonds will be used to finance Program Loans, no assurance can be given whether this will occur or the speed at which this may occur.

THDA has not redeemed any bonds from unexpended proceeds under the General Resolution. The last transaction that resulted in an unexpended proceeds redemption was THDA's Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 1996-3 under the 1985 General Resolution. Notwithstanding past performance, no assurances can be given that proceeds from the Series Bonds will be fully expended for Program Loans.

Disruption in Mortgage Market and Other Financial Markets

The mortgage and financial markets have recently been subject to significant disruptions, including limited liquidity. Continuing instability in the mortgage market that adversely impacts financial institution participants may result in delays in originating Program Loans or failure to originate Program Loans which could result in redemption of the Series Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS".

Instability in the mortgage markets, increases in delinquencies and defaults and limited access to credit have placed pressures on all participants in the industry, including but not limited to lenders, servicers and mortgage insurers. These pressures may have an adverse impact on transaction participants and their ability to conduct business. THDA can offer no guidance as to whether the recent volatility in the mortgage market and the financial markets generally will continue, and if it does, how these conditions might impact the ability of such participants to perform their obligations in connection with the Series Bonds.

Changes in Federal or State Law

Legislation affecting the Series Bonds and THDA's single family mortgage loans may be considered and enacted by the United States Congress or the Tennessee General Assembly. No assurance can be given that the consideration or enactment of any such legislation will not have an adverse effect on the value of, the timing or amount of payments of, or the security for the Series Bonds or other risks.

Over the past several years a number of financial institutions and related entities have announced large losses as a result of their mortgage activities and the increasing number of defaults and foreclosures on such mortgages. The United States Congress has passed the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), and may pass additional consumer protection and bankruptcy legislation, as a result of the adverse effects of the mortgage situation on individuals and families in the United States. Likewise, the Tennessee General Assembly may enact consumer protection legislation relating to mortgage loan origination and servicing. The Dodd-Frank Act has not, to date, had a material adverse effect on THDA's single family mortgage program, including its ability to originate new single family mortgage loans, to collect payments under single family mortgage loans and to foreclose on property securing single family mortgage loans; however, additional legislation, if enacted, or regulations, if promulgated to effectuate the purposes of the Dodd-Frank Act or other state or federal regulations, could have an adverse effect on THDA's activities.

A number of state regulatory authorities have recently taken action against certain loan originators and servicers for alleged violations of state laws. Certain of those actions prohibit those servicers from pursuing foreclosure actions. In response to alleged abusive lending and servicing practices, the State of Tennessee could enact legislation or implement regulatory requirements that impose limitations on the ability of mortgage loan servicers to take actions (such as pursuing foreclosures) that may be essential to service and preserve the value of the single-family loans. Any such limitations that applied to the THDA's single-family loans could adversely affect the THDA's ability to collect amounts due on such loans and could impair the value of such loans.

On March 4, 2009, the U.S. Department of the Treasury announced guidelines to enable mortgage loan servicers to begin modifications of eligible mortgage loans under the Homeowner Affordability and Stability Plan. No assurance can be given whether the THDA, or THDA Servicers, will modify any of THDA's single family mortgage loans pursuant to such guidelines, none of which have been modified to date. See Appendix D under the heading "The Program".

The March 4, 2009, guidelines referred to above stated that FHA would formulate a program for modification of FHA loans. FHA released the details of the program called the Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP") on July 31, 2009, with an effective date of August 15, 2009. By letter dated November 3, 2009, THDA received a variance to the HAMP requirements. As a consequence, THDA is not obligated to satisfy HAMP requirements with respect to Program Loans.

The Hardest Hit Housing Markets (HFA Hardest Hit Fund) initiative, under the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, is designed to support foreclosure prevention and housing market stabilization initiatives (the "HHF Program"). THDA is administering the HHF Program in Tennessee and was awarded $236 million which will provide loans to unemployed or substantially underemployed homeowners who, through no fault of their own, are financially unable to make their mortgage payments and are in danger of losing their homes to foreclosure. Loan proceeds will be used to pay all mortgage and mortgage-related expenses (e.g., property taxes, homeowner insurance, homeowner dues) up to $20,000 for up to 18 months. For homeowners who have found a new job, but during a period of unemployment accumulated payment arrearages, reinstatement assistance will be available. Homeowners with THDA Program Loans may be eligible for the HHF Program. As of March 9, 2011, three loans under the HHF Program have closed.

Prepayments

THDA, from time to time, receives monies from (i) partial or complete prepayment of Program Loans (which is permitted, without penalty) or (ii) termination of Program Loans prior to their respective final payment date due to default, sale, condemnation or casualty loss. In addition, the Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Series Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans. The rate at which such prepayments, if any, of Program Loans will be received by THDA cannot be predicted. The actual rate of such prepayments may be influenced by a variety of economic, social and other factors, including proposed legislative and regulatory changes and there is no reliable basis for predicting the actual average life of the Program Loans. Consequently, THDA makes no assumptions or representations as to the factors that will affect the rate of prepayments, if any, or the relative importance of such factors and their potential impact on the actual average life of Program Loans and the expected life of the Series Bonds. To the extent THDA is required or elects to redeem the Series Bonds, it is probable that the Series Bonds will have a shorter life than their stated maturity.

Subject to the requirements of the General Resolution, the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution (the "Bond Resolutions") and the Code, such prepayments may (i) be required to pay regularly scheduled debt service to the extent a series of the Bonds was based upon an assumed prepayment level; (ii) be used to redeem Bonds of the related series; (iii) be used to redeem Bonds of any series; or (iv) be recycled into additional Program Loans. Further, prepayments attributable to the Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds, or other Bonds, or portions thereof, may or will be applied to redeem Series Bonds as described herein under "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds," "– Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-3 Bonds," "- Special Redemption of the Series Bonds, including Cross Calls" and "– Mandatory Redemption – 10-Year Rule".

THDA Redemption Practices

The General Resolution and the Bond Resolutions specify when THDA is required to redeem Bonds and when THDA may elect to redeem Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds."

To the extent THDA has discretion to redeem Bonds and select the maturities and Issues to be redeemed, THDA's general redemption policy had been to first redeem those Bonds bearing the highest interest rate; however, due to universal cap implications and economic decisions by THDA, THDA's current general redemption policy is to call term bonds on a pro-rata basis within bond issues or to redeem the highest coupon serial bonds where doing so would reduce debt service requirements under the Resolution when possible. Adherence to either policy may be affected by a series of factors including, but not limited to, (i) certain restrictions or limitations imposed by the Code including, but not limited to, 10-year rule requirements and universal cap considerations; (ii) certain limitations or restrictions imposed by the General Resolution and/or the Bond Resolutions including, but not limited to, redemption provisions; (iii) economic considerations; (iv) cash flow requirements; and (v) the amount of prepayments and other monies available to THDA for optional redemption of Bonds.

These factors are regularly considered in determining which Bonds may be selected for redemption. No assumptions or representations can be made as to how or which of these factors or whether any other factors will affect THDA's determination, from time to time, regarding particular Bonds selected for redemption.

Payment of Program Expenses

THDA expects to pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees and certain Program Expenses, including ongoing Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs, Operating Fees and Capital Replacement Fees, and other similar costs, from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund. To the extent funds are available therefor, THDA currently expects to continue to pay other Program Expenses and other operating and administrative costs and expenses of THDA from the Housing Program Fund, a fund of THDA created in 1988 that is not subject to the lien of the Resolution. To the extent funds are not available from the Housing Program Fund, THDA expects to pay Program Expenses from other THDA resources outside the Resolution. See "THDA – THDA Funds."

Investment Assumptions

Estimated available investment income attributable to the Series Bonds is calculated assuming that (i) existing Investment Securities in the Revenue Fund and the Bond Reserve Fund pay scheduled interest and principal payments until the earlier of their call date or maturity date; (ii) proceeds of Investment Securities and other receipts in the Revenue Fund are invested at 0% per annum until December 23, 2019, 1.0% until December 23, 2026, and 2.0% until the Series Bonds are fully redeemed; and (iii) funds on deposit in the Issue 2011-A/Subseries B-3 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund prior to origination of Program Loans, are invested at a rate of 0% per annum.

There can be no assurance that the Investment Securities will provide the investment income projected. If THDA experiences losses or delays in payments on the Investment Securities, there may be insufficient funds to make payments of principal and interest on the Series Bonds when scheduled.

Average Life of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds

The term "weighted average life" refers to the average amount of time that will elapse from the date of issuance of a security until each dollar of principal of such security will be repaid to the investor. The weighted average life of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds will be influenced by the rate at which principal of the Program Loans allocated to the Series Bonds is repaid. Principal payments of Program Loans may be in the form of scheduled amortization or prepayments (for this purpose, the term "prepayment" includes prepayments and liquidations due to default or other dispositions of the Program Loans, including payments on FHA mortgage insurance, VA guarantees, and private mortgage insurance policies). Prepayments on mortgage loans are commonly measured by a prepayment standard or model. The model used in the following discussion is the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association (formerly known as the Public Security Association ("PSA")) prepayment standard or model (commonly referred to as the "PSA Prepayment Model").

The PSA Prepayment Model is based on an assumed rate of prepayment each month of the then unpaid principal balance of a pool of mortgage loans. The PSA Prepayment Model starts with 0.2% annualized prepayment rate in the first month, increases the prepayment rate by 0.2% in each succeeding month until the thirtieth month (when a 6.0% annualized prepayment rate is reached) and then assumes a constant prepayment rate of 6.0% per annum of the unpaid principal balance for the remaining life of the mortgage loans.

Prepayment speeds are commonly referred to as a percentage of the PSA Prepayment Model. For instance, "0% PSA" assumes no prepayments of principal on the Program Loans. "25% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-quarter as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "50% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-half as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "75% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay three-quarters as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "100% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “150% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate 1.50 times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “200% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate twice as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “300% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate three times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “400% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate four times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “500% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate five times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model.

There is no assurance, however, that prepayment of the principal on Program Loans will conform to any particular level of the PSA Prepayment Model. The rate of principal payment on pools of mortgage loans is influenced by a variety of economic, geographic, social and other factors, including the level of mortgage loan interest rates, the rate at which homeowners sell their homes or default on their mortgage loans and changes in mortgagors’ housing needs, job transfers, unemployment and mortgagors’ net equity in the mortgage properties. In general, if prevailing interest rates fall significantly, the Program Loans are likely to be subject to higher prepayment rates than if prevailing rates remain at or above the interest rates on the Program Loans. As homeowners move or default on their mortgage loans, the houses are generally sold and the mortgage loan prepaid, although under certain circumstances, the mortgage loans may be assumed by a new buyer. Because of the foregoing influences upon prepayments and since the rate of prepayment of principal of Bonds will depend on the rate of repayment (including prepayments) of the Program Loans, the full repayment of any Bonds is likely to occur earlier, and could occur significantly earlier, than its stated maturity.

The Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds may be terminated prior to final maturity as a result of prepayment, default, sale, condemnation, casualty loss or noncompliance. In addition, matters discussed under “Changes in Federal or State Law” above could have an effect on terminations. Consequently, it is impossible to predict the timing of the repayment of principal of the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds and hence the weighted average life of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds. THDA has provided for the redemption of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds—Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds”, and the weighted average lives of the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds set forth below have been calculated based upon various assumptions, including assumptions that (i) 100% of the money deposited in the Issue 2011-A/Subseries B-3 Subaccount of the Loan Fund is applied to finance Program Loans, (ii) Excess 2011-A Principal Payments will be used to redeem Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds only on Interest Payment Dates, and (iii) the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds will be redeemed only in Planned Amortization Amounts as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds” and will not otherwise be redeemed in whole or in part. There can be no assurance that such assumptions will in fact prove accurate.

Bonds Outstanding Under the Resolution

THDA has issued $514,710,000 total original principal amount of Bonds under the General Resolution, of which $510,265,000 (unaudited) were outstanding as of January 31, 2011, as shown below:

Issue of Bonds	Issue/Release Date	Issued	Released from Escrow/Converted	Amount Outstanding as of January 31, 2011 (unaudited)	Original Net Interest Cost
2009-A	December 23, 2009	$100,000,000	--	$ 98,475,000	3.96%
2009-B[(1)]	December 23, 2009	300,000,000	--	154,710,000	[(2)]
2010-A/2009-B-1	June 17, 2010	74,710,000	$85,290,000	157,080,000	3.85
2010-B/2009-B-2	November 10, 2011	40,000,000	60,000,000	100,000,000	3.15
TOTAL		$514,710,000		$510,265,000

(1) A portion of such Bonds was previously converted and redesignated as Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1 and Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-2. An additional portion of such Bonds is being converted and redesignated as the Subseries B-3 Bonds in connection with the Issue 2011-A Bonds offered hereunder.

(2) Variable rate, taxable. Scheduled to convert to fixed rate, non-taxable in 2011. See "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM."

Origination Experience

THDA's experience from December 23, 2009, to January 31, 2011, regarding origination of Program Loans[(1)] from lendable proceeds of Bonds issued since December 23, 2009, is shown in the following table:

Issue of Bonds	Lendable Proceeds	Program Loans Financed[(2)] as of January 31, 2011 Amount	%	Weighted Average Mortgage Interest Rate
2009-A	$ 98,833,984	$ 98,833,984	100.00%	5.38%
2010-A/2009-B-1	136,547,095	136,547,095	100.00	5.20
2010-B/2009-B-2	95,990,100	95,418,396	99.40	4.83
TOTAL	$331,371,179	$330,799,475[(3)]

(1) See "HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS—Description of Program Loans" for more information about Program Loans.

(2) Only Program Loans that have closed are included. Program Loans for which THDA has issued commitments and Transferred Loans are not included.

(3) Excludes Transferred Loans.

In order to comply with the Code, certain Bonds issued by THDA resulted in the creation of pools of lendable proceeds which must be originated at very low or 0% interest to achieve yield compliance on such Bonds. The currently available amount of such pools of lendable proceeds, on an aggregate basis, is approximately $9,000,000 as of January 31, 2011. THDA intends to use such amounts, from time to time, to finance Program Loans on a blended basis, or at 0% interest, with the lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds or current or future Bonds to reduce interest rates on various types of Program Loans as determined by THDA.

HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS

Description of Program Loans

General

THDA generally offers a primary loan program and may, from time to time, offer certain special loan programs. THDA Household Income Limits for all loan programs have typically been more restrictive than those permitted under the Code. THDA Acquisition Cost Limits are set in compliance with Code requirements. Household Income Limits and Acquisition Cost Limits may be further restricted for certain special loan programs. See Appendix H for a description of Program Loan Procedures related to Code requirements and Appendix F for THDA Household Income Limits and Acquisition Cost Limits.

THDA currently offers Homeownership Choices as its primary loan program. A brief description of this loan program, and the loan types available thereunder, together with a description of certain loan programs previously available follows.

Effective April 15, 2009, THDA imposed certain underwriting changes that apply to Program Loans made after that date. The changes include (i) a minimum credit score of 620 for all borrowers; (ii) no manual underwriting; and (iii) a required monthly debt to income ratio that does not exceed 45%. THDA may, from time to time, initiate certain special limited programs for which some of these requirements may be waived.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix H. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

Homeownership Choices

The Homeownership Choices Program includes Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans, with choice of loan type left to the borrower. Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans are thirty year, fixed interest rate loans, fully amortized, with full documentation, and secured by a first lien on the property purchased. Interest rates for each type of Program Loan are established at rates which result in a blended yield on such Program Loans not in excess of 1.125% above the yield on the related issue of Bonds. The current interest rate for Great Rate Program Loans is 4.75%, the current interest rate for the Great Advantage Program Loans is 5.05% and the current interest rate for Great Start Program Loans is 5.35%.

An amount equal to 4% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Start Program Loans. An amount equal to 2% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Advantage Program Loans. THDA finances this downpayment and closing cost assistance from excess revenues identified in the General Resolution and retains a portion of the interest collected on Great Start Program Loans and Great Advantage Program Loans to reimburse itself for the amount of this assistance. All other THDA Program Loan requirements remain applicable.

See Appendix B for a summary of the mortgage insurance or guarantee programs applicable to these Program Loans.

Housing Finance Program Portfolio Data

General

As of January 31, 2011 (unaudited), 3,704 Program Loans for single-family owner-occupied housing having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $362,074,836 were outstanding under the General Resolution. These Program Loans had an approximate remaining weighted average maturity of 341.80 months and an approximate weighted average interest rate of 5.22%.

Program Loans By Type of Insurance or Guarantee

Privately Insured Program Loans

Since January 2, 2009, THDA has not purchased conventional, privately insured loans because no private mortgage insurers, since January 2, 2009, have or have had ratings of at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Services, a division of the McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P"). Should any private mortgage insurers regain a rating of at least AA from S&P, THDA will reconsider whether to resume purchasing conventional loans. Notwithstanding the foregoing, certain Transferred Loans are privately insured and are shown under the heading "Privately insured" in the chart above.

Each private mortgage insurer insuring conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans was authorized by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in the State of Tennessee and was approved by THDA. Since June 1994, only private mortgage insurance providers rated at least AA by S&P were permitted to provide private mortgage insurance coverage for conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans. THDA does, however, have conventional, privately insured Program Loans that were made prior to January 2, 2009, outstanding under the Resolution that were insured by private mortgage insurers who are not currently rated at least AA by S&P.

THDA makes no representation regarding the financial condition of any of the private mortgage insurance companies or their ability to make full and timely payment to THDA of claims on Program Loans on which losses are incurred. Recent rating agency reviews of private mortgage insurers may be indicative of some future inability of private mortgage insurers generally to fulfill in full their obligations, if and when required upon a mortgage default, to make timely payments on policies. Any failure to make timely payments on the private mortgage insurance policies may disrupt the flow of revenues available for the payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

As of January 31, 2011 (unaudited), 20 privately insured Program Loans all of which are Transferred Loans, having an aggregate balance of approximately $863,410 were outstanding under the General Resolution as shown below:

Delinquency and Foreclosure Process

For all Program Loans, THDA tracks (i) exceptions to normal, expected monthly payments; (ii) individual Program Loan balances; and (iii) remittances based on automated data received directly from its Servicers. THDA uses this data to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosures. Those Program Loans for which two payment dates have passed with no payment received by the last business day of the month in which the second payment was due are considered 60 to 89 days past due. Those Program Loans for which three or more payment dates have passed with no payments received by the last business day of the month in which the third payment was due are considered 90 or more days past due. The status of Program Loans to borrowers who are in bankruptcy is fixed beginning at the time bankruptcy proceedings commenced. The definitions used by THDA to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosure rates are consistent with those used by the Mortgage Bankers Association of America (“MBA”).

The financial institutions who service Program Loans manage delinquencies by working with borrowers in an attempt to avoid defaults and by sending payment requests to borrowers who are delinquent. THDA supports counseling programs for delinquent as well as prospective borrowers. These counseling services are provided by lenders, non-profit organizations and social service agencies located throughout the State. THDA maintains an inventory of housing counseling services, reviews materials used, and encourages grant recipients to provide counseling.

For information with respect to defaults and foreclosures relating to THDA's Homeownership Program under the 1985 General Resolution, see related Official Statements and quarterly reports on file with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board at www.msrb.org.

Delinquencies and Foreclosures as of January 31, 2011

Investments

THDA's non-mortgage investments of funds held under the Resolution consist of Investment Securities as authorized in the Resolution. Bids are solicited by THDA in an effort to obtain the highest available yield with consideration given to maintaining a balanced portfolio. As of January 31, 2011 (unaudited), the short-term investment portfolio was placed as follows:

Types of Investments	Amount
Federal Farm Credit Bank Notes	$ 3,009,350
Federal Home Loan Bank Notes	2,101,531
Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Notes	5,889,512
Fannie Mae Notes	237,405
TOTAL	$ 168,894,999

(1) $154,828,929 of such investment is allocated to the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund; investments allocated to the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund will proportionately diminish upon each release of proceeds from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund, including the release of $60,000,000 principal amount of proceeds in connection with the conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-3 Bonds.

As of January 31, 2011 (unaudited), amounts in the Bond Reserve Fund, a portion of the short-term investment portfolio described above, were invested as follows:

Types of Investments	Amount
Federal Farm Credit Bank Notes	$ 3,009,350
Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Notes	5,889,512
Fannie Mae Notes	237,405
United States Treasury Bonds	2,828,272
TOTAL	$ 11,964,539

THDA

Purpose and Organization

THDA is a body, politic and corporate, and a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State. THDA was established in 1973 by the Act for the purpose, among other things, of raising funds through the issuance of its bonds and notes to assure a steady flow of production of new housing units for lower and moderate income persons and families. To carry out its public purposes, THDA has various powers under the Act including, without limitation, powers relating to the issuance of bonds or notes and the financing of residential housing in the State.

THDA is subject to periodic review by the General Assembly to evaluate the necessity for its continued existence. THDA's existence has been continued until June 30, 2014.

Under the Act, THDA may have bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $2,930,000,000. As of January 31, 2011 (unaudited), THDA has bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount of $2,154,490,000, calculated in accordance with the Act.

Board of Directors

THDA is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of THDA. The Act provides that the remaining board members be appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. The Act also provides that board members be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, the First, Second or Third U.S. Congressional District, the Fourth, Fifth or Sixth U.S. Congressional District and the Seventh, Eighth or Ninth U.S. Congressional District and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. Any change in the status or profession of an appointed board member does not affect the position or term of that board member. The Executive Director of THDA serves as Secretary to the board.

Board members (other than ex officio members and the federally required resident member) are appointed for four year terms, serve until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, and receive no compensation except for reimbursement of expenses. Certain board members may be affiliated with institutions which may originate or service Program Loans on behalf of THDA. One of the appointed board members is designated by the Governor to serve as Chairman. The Chairman's term extends until the earlier of the date of expiration of his or her term or a date six months after expiration of the term of the Governor designating such Chairman.

THDA Funds

Statutorily Created Funds

In 1988, the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee (the "State") amended the Act to provide for the creation of the Housing Program Fund, the Housing Program Reserve Fund and the Assets Fund, which funds are financially separate from the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program and any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Housing Program Fund originally contained, among other things, state tax revenue statutorily directed to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a statutorily authorized grant program administered by THDA that is not related to the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program or any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Assets Fund is a segregated fund of THDA that originally contained assets transferred in 1989 from THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) in accordance with its terms, together with related investment earnings. The Housing Program Reserve Fund was created as a reserve for THDA's non-mortgage programs. See Appendix E under the heading "OTHER THDA FINANCINGS" for a description of each of these statutorily created funds. These funds are not pledged as security for the Bonds.

Prior Transfers from THDA

The Constitution of the State requires, for current operations, that expenditures for any fiscal year not exceed the State's revenues and reserves, including the proceeds of any debt obligations, for that year. When faced with budget deficits in the past, the State has called upon THDA and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to THDA:

As of June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 in THDA's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1994-1995.

As of June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from THDA to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1997-1998. The $43,000,000 transferred from THDA to the State General Fund came from the following resources of THDA: (i) $15,459,157 from state tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. In addition, in conjunction with the transfer from the Housing Program Reserve Fund described in clause (ii), the Housing Program Reserve Fund was statutorily abolished.

Amendments to the Act in 1999 and in 2000, temporarily, then permanently, redirected to the State General Fund, all tax revenue previously directed by the Act to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a grant program described above. As a result of the permanent redirection of these state tax revenues, no state tax revenues currently are directed to THDA.

As of June 30, 2002, $35,367,449.26 was transferred from THDA's Assets Fund to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 2001-2002. The remaining balance of the Assets Fund, approximately $1,387,000 of mortgage loans, was not required to be liquidated and the proceeds transferred. THDA subsequently transferred these mortgage loans to the General Fund of the Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) which reduced the balance in the Assets Fund to $0.

No additional resources of THDA have been redirected or transferred to the State General Fund to close out any fiscal year since the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002. See "State Budget" below with respect to these matters for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2011 and 2012.

Payment of THDA Operating Expenses, Including Program Expenses

THDA administers certain federal programs such as the low income housing tax credit program, the Section 8 program and the HOME program and pays operating expenses associated with these programs from administrative fees earned or other fees charged in connection with the administration of these programs. Neither investment earnings from the Assets Fund nor amounts in the General Resolution have been used to pay the operating expenses associated with these programs.

From 1988 to 2002, investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund, as supplemented with investment earnings on other THDA funds, were a primary source for paying THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses, including staff salaries, Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs) under the General Resolution and substantially all other expenses associated with the Homeownership Program and the other general bond resolutions and mortgage loan programs of THDA. Investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund were annually transferred by THDA to the Housing Program Fund, from which referenced expenses were paid. Although such investment earnings on amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund no longer exist due to the transfers from the Assets Fund to the State General Fund described above, THDA currently expects to continue to pay Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure cost and other similar costs) and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses from the Housing Program Fund. In the future, however, THDA expects to use more of the amounts available under THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution, for the payment of Program Expenses in addition to the payment of Costs of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs. From this combination of resources, THDA believes it will have sufficient resources to pay Program Expenses and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses. Regardless of THDA's best efforts and in the event of additional transfers, however, THDA could become reliant on State appropriations for the funding of THDA operations. No assurances can be given as to the amount of appropriation that may be available at any time.

State Budget

The State approved budget for fiscal year 2010-2011 which ends June 30, 2011 (the "FY 2010-2011 Budget") is balanced and includes no redirection or transfer of THDA resources to the State General Fund. The FY 2010-2011 Budget, as adopted by the General Assembly, recognizes the current economic situation and is based on State revenue growth estimates that reflect a modest two percent growth in revenue collections in 2010-2011.

On an accrual basis, February is the seventh month in the 2010-2011 fiscal year. For the month, General Fund collections were $8.6 million above the official budgeted estimate, and overall revenues were $7.2 million more than budgeted. Year-to-date for seven months, the General Fund is over collected by $123.5 million, and the four other funds that share in State tax revenue collections are $20.7 million over collected. The total year-to-date over collection through seven months is $144.2 million.

If projected State budget needs outstrip actual or projected revenues, the State may seek additional sources of funds or seek to realize program savings through reductions or more efficient delivery of services; however, THDA cannot predict whether or not this will occur or, if it does, what actions may be proposed or eventually taken and what effect, if any, such actions may have on THDA.

The Governor's budget proposal for fiscal year 2011-2012 has been released (the "FY2011-2012 Budget Proposal"). The FY2011-2012 Budget Proposal includes no redirection or transfer of THDA funds to the State General Fund. The State General Assembly is currently in session; however, the FY2011-2012 Budget Proposal has not been passed. THDA cannot predict whether or not the Governor or the General Assembly will modify the FY2011-2012 Budget Proposal and, if modified, what, if any, impact it may have on THDA.

If action is taken to redirect or transfer THDA resources to the State General Fund whether to close out fiscal year 2010-2011 or in connection with the fiscal year 2011-2012 budget, such amounts could include THDA resources that are not pledged to any bonds of THDA, as well as any available excess revenues eligible for withdrawal under THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution. No assurance can be made that the current ratings on the Bonds or other bonds of THDA can be maintained in the event funds are withdrawn from THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution.

Other Post-Employment Benefits

Certain Governmental Accounting Standards Board ("GASB") GASB Statements (nos. 43 and 45) provide accounting and financial reporting requirements for retiree healthcare plans and employer participants, commonly known as Other Post-Employment Benefits ("OPEB"). These GASB Statements have effective dates of fiscal year ended June 30, 2007, for the plan and June 30, 2008, for the employer. To date, the State has reported OPEB costs in the aggregate for all State employees. The State received an actuarial study as of July 1, 2009, that includes OPEB costs attributable to the State and, separately, for certain of its component units (including THDA) that are required to participate in the State's retirement and benefit plans. The study, which used a projected unit credit actuarial cost method, indicates that the total unfunded actuarial liability of THDA is approximately $3,629,000 and the annual required contribution for THDA is approximately $394,000. The annual required contribution consists of the normal cost (the portion of the actuarial present value of OPEB benefits which is allocated to a valuation year by the actuarial cost method) and an amortization of the unfunded actuarial liability. The report may be reviewed at http://www.tennessee.gov/finance/act/OPEB.html. A new actuarial study is expected to be published in the fall of 2012. The State does not currently expect to fund any actuarially determined OPEB liability, but will continue to use pay-as-you-go funding of actual costs of OPEB liabilities incurred for the fiscal year. The State will charge THDA for these actual costs allocable to THDA's employees, but not for any actuarially determined OPEB liability. The State has the flexibility to adjust the various plan options on an annual basis, and will continue to analyze the cost of the choices available to current employees and retirees and the cost of the choices on the employees, retirees and the State's cash flow to manage these expenditures going forward.

General Resolution Requirements

The General Resolution requires certain tests to be met prior to any withdrawal of funds from the lien of the General Resolution. See Appendix D. In addition, certain tests must also be met prior to any withdrawal of funds under the lien of the 1985 General Resolution or the 1974 General Resolution. THDA funds which are not pledged under the referenced Resolutions can be removed without meeting such tests.

Absence of Interest Rate Swap Transactions

THDA has never entered into an interest rate swap transaction and no such transaction is currently anticipated by THDA.

TAX MATTERS

THDA has included provisions in the Resolution, the Guide for Originating Agents issued by THDA and other relevant documents and has established procedures, including receipt of certain affidavits and warranties from Originating Agents and borrowers (the “Program Documents”) in order to assure compliance with the Program Loan eligibility requirements and other requirements which must be met subsequent to the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and the conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-3 Bonds. Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with applicable federal tax law and, for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. THDA believes that the procedures and documentation requirements established for the purpose of fulfilling this covenant are sufficient to assure that the proceeds of the Series Bonds will be applied in accordance with the requirements of applicable federal tax law so as to assure that interest on the Series Bonds will not be included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes.

Opinion of Bond Counsel

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Bonds will be excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes under existing laws as enacted and construed on the date of the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-3 Bonds, assuming the accuracy of the certifications of THDA and continuing compliance by THDA with the requirements of the federal tax laws. Interest on the Series Bonds (i) will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, and (ii) is not included in corporations’ calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

Ownership of the Series Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, financial institutions, property and casualty insurance companies, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, certain S corporations with “excess net passive income”, taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred or continued debt to purchase or carry the Series Bonds and taxpayers otherwise eligible to claim the earned income credit. Bond Counsel expresses no opinion as to such collateral tax consequences.

Certain recipients of interest on the Series Bonds may be subject to backup withholding under Section 3406 of the Code, unless the recipient of interest furnishes its taxpayer identification number with the payor of the interest or is otherwise exempt from backup withholding tax.

From time to time, there are legislative proposals in the Congress and in the states that, if enacted, could alter or amend the federal and state tax matters referred to above or adversely affect the market value of the Series Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether or in what form any such proposal might be enacted or whether if enacted it would apply to bonds issued prior to enactment. In addition, regulatory actions are from time to time announced or proposed and litigation is threatened or commenced which, if implemented or concluded in a particular manner, could adversely affect the market value of the Series Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether any such regulatory action will be implemented, how any particular litigation or judicial action will be resolved, or whether the Series Bonds or the market value thereof would be impacted thereby. Purchasers of the Series Bonds should consult their tax advisors regarding any pending or proposed legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation. The opinions to be expressed by Bond Counsel will be based upon existing legislation and regulations as interpreted by relevant judicial and regulatory authorities as of the date of issuance and delivery, or conversion, as applicable, of the Series Bonds and Bond Counsel will express no opinion as of any date subsequent thereto or with respect to any pending legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under the laws of the State of Tennessee as enacted and construed on the date of issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and conversion of Subseries B-3 Bonds, as applicable, interest on the Series Bonds is exempt from income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Series Bonds and interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee.

An amount equal to the excess of the issue price of a Series Bond sold at a premium (a "Premium Bond") over its stated redemption price at maturity constitutes premium on such Premium Bond. An initial purchaser of a Premium Bond must amortize any premium over such Premium Bond's term using constant yield principles, based on the purchaser's yield to maturity (or, in the case of Premium Bonds callable prior to their maturity, by amortizing the premium to the call date, based on the purchaser's yield to the call date and giving effect to any call premium). As premium is amortized, the amount of the amortization offsets a corresponding amount of interest for the period and the purchaser's basis in such Premium Bond is reduced by a corresponding amount resulting in an increase in the gain (or decrease in the loss) to be recognized for federal income tax purposes upon a sale or disposition of such Premium Bond prior to its maturity. Even though the purchaser's basis may be reduced, no federal income tax deduction is allowed. Purchasers of the Premium Bonds should consult with their tax advisors with respect to the determination and treatment of premium for federal income tax purposes and with respect to the state and local tax consequences of owning a Premium Bond.

LEGAL INVESTMENT

The Act provides that the bonds of THDA are securities in which all public officers and bodies of the State and all municipal subdivisions, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on insurance business, all banks, bankers, trust companies, including savings and loan associations, building and loan associations, investment banking companies and other persons carrying on an investment banking business, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of the State, may properly and legally invest in the bonds of THDA with funds, including capital, in their own control or belonging to them.

RATING

Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned the Series Bonds a rating of Aa2. Such rating reflects only the views of the rating agency and an explanation of the criteria for and the significance of such ratings may be obtained from Moody's. THDA has furnished to Moody's certain information and materials with respect to the Series Bonds. Generally, rating agencies base their ratings on such information and materials, and on investigations, studies and assumptions made by the rating agencies. There is no assurance that the rating will continue for any given period of time or that the rating will not be revised or withdrawn entirely, if in the judgment of the rating agency, circumstances so warrant. A downward revision or withdrawal of the rating may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Series Bonds.

DISCLOSURE

Secondary Market Disclosure

THDA is currently disseminating and presently intends to continue to disseminate information relating to its various single-family mortgage revenue bonds in accordance with the quarterly secondary market disclosure project sponsored by the National Council of State Housing Agencies. THDA has filed quarterly reports, beginning with the quarter ending June 30, 1994, with each then nationally recognized municipal securities information repository. THDA also expects that its official statements, which contain audited financial information about THDA, with respect to bonds issued under the General Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, and the 1974 General Resolution will be filed with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (the "MSRB") through its Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA) system if and when bonds are so issued. It is the present intent of THDA to continue making voluntary secondary market disclosure as described above.

Continuing Disclosure Undertaking

In order to comply with the requirements of Rule 15c2-12 (the "Rule") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, without regard to whether such Rule applies to the placement of the Subseries B-3 Bonds, THDA, in the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution and in the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution for the benefit of the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds, agrees to file:

(a) With the MSRB, within 210 days after the end of each THDA fiscal year, a copy of its annual financial statements, prepared as described in "FINANCIAL STATEMENTS" below, and an annual updating of certain information relating to the Program Loans, including, without limitation, information with respect to the outstanding balances of such Program Loans, by mortgage type, and delinquency information, and in Appendices E and F (collectively, "Annual Financial Information"). If unaudited financial statements are provided as part of the Annual Financial Information by the above date, then THDA shall provide, when and if available, a copy of THDA's audited financial statements to the MSRB;

(b) In a timely manner, with (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of the occurrence of any of the following events (if applicable) with respect to the Series Bonds: (i) principal and interest payment delinquencies; (ii) non-payment related defaults, if material; (iii) unscheduled draws on the Bond Reserve Fund reflecting financial difficulties; (iv) unscheduled draws on credit enhancements, if any, for the Series Bonds, reflecting financial difficulties; (v) substitution of credit or liquidity providers, if any, for the Series Bonds, or their failure to perform; (vi) adverse tax opinions, or material notices of determinations with respect to the tax status of the Series Bonds or other material events affecting the tax-exempt status of the Series Bonds; (vii) modifications to rights of holders of the Series Bonds, if material; (viii) bond calls, if material, and tender offers; (ix) defeasances; (x) release, substitution, or sale of property securing repayment of the Series Bonds, if material; (xi) rating changes; (xii) bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or similar event of the Issuer (which event is considered to occur when any of the following occur: the appointment of a receiver, fiscal agent of similar officer for the Issuer in a proceeding under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or in any other proceeding under state or federal law in which a court or government authority has assumed jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of the Issuer, or if such jurisdiction has been assumed by leaving the existing governing body and officials or officers in possession but subject to the supervision and orders of a court of governmental authority, or the entry of an order confirming a plan of reorganization, arrangement or liquidation by a court or governmental authority having supervision or jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of THDA); (xiii) the consummation of a merger, consolidation, or acquisition involving THDA or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of THDA, other than in the ordinary course of business, the entry into a definitive agreement to undertake such action or the termination of a definitive agreement relating to any such actions, other than pursuant to its terms, if material; and (xiv) appointment of a successor or additional trustee or the change of name of a trustee, if material.

(c) In a timely manner to (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of a failure by THDA to provide the Annual Financial Information set forth in (a) above within the time limit specified above.

THDA may amend the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, with respect to the above agreements, without the consent of the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds (except to the extent required under clause (4)(ii) below), if all of the following conditions are satisfied: (1) such amendment is made in connection with a change in circumstances that arises from a change in legal (including regulatory) requirements, a change in law (including rules or regulations) or in interpretations thereof, or a change in the identity, nature or status of THDA or the type of business conducted thereby; (2) these agreements as so amended would have complied with the requirements of the Rule as of the date of the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, as applicable, after taking into account any amendments or interpretations of the Rule, as well as any change in circumstances; (3) THDA shall have delivered to the Trustee an opinion of counsel, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the same effect as set forth in clause (2) above; (4) either (i) THDA shall deliver to the Trustee an opinion of or determination by a person unaffiliated with THDA (which may include the Trustee or bond counsel), acceptable to THDA and the Trustee, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the effect that the amendment does not materially impair the interests of the holders of the Series Bonds, or (ii) the holders of the Series Bonds consent to the amendment pursuant to the same procedures as are required for amendments to the General Resolution with consent of the holders of Series Bonds pursuant to the General Resolution as in effect on the date of the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, as applicable, and (5) THDA shall have delivered copies of such opinion(s) and the amendment to the MRSB.

THDA's obligations under these agreements as set forth in the Issue 2011-A Supplemental Resolution and the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution terminate upon a legal defeasance pursuant to the General Resolution, prior redemption or payment in full of all of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and the Issue 2009-B Bonds (including the Subseries B-3 Bonds), respectively. THDA shall give notice of any such termination to the MSRB.

THDA acknowledges that its undertaking pursuant to the Rule described under this heading is intended to be for the benefit for the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds whether or not the Rule applies to such Bonds. Breach of this undertaking will not be a default under the Resolution but this undertaking may be enforced by any Beneficial

Owner of the Series Bonds exclusively by an action for specific performance. This undertaking shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State, and any suits and actions arising out of this undertaking shall be instituted in a court of competent jurisdiction in the State.

THDA has materially complied with all previous similar Rule undertakings during at least the past five years.

ABSENCE OF MATERIAL LITIGATION

At the time of delivery of and payment for the Series Bonds, a certificate of THDA and the opinion of the General Counsel of THDA will be furnished, dated the date of delivery, to the effect that there is no controversy or litigation of any nature at such time pending or threatened to restrain or enjoin the issuance, sale, execution or delivery of the Series Bonds, or in any way contesting or affecting the validity of the Series Bonds or any proceedings of THDA taken with respect to the issuance or sale thereof or the pledge or application of any moneys or security provided for the payment of the Series Bonds or the existence or powers of THDA.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds is subject to the delivery of the legal opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel with respect to legal matters incident to the authorization, issuance, sale, and delivery of the Issue 2011-A Bonds in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix I. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller, and for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York. Certain legal matters incident to the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds will be passed upon by Kutak Rock LLP.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Appendix A contains the audited financial statements of THDA and supplementary data as of and for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2010, and June 30, 2009, together with the letter thereon from Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA, Director, Division of State Audit in the Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee. Such audited financial statements and supplementary data are included herein in reliance upon the report thereon of such official. The audited financial statements are audited in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (“GASB”).

UNDERWRITING

RBC Capital Markets, LLC, Morgan Keegan & Company, Inc., Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated, Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Raymond James & Associates, Inc., M.R. Beal & Company and FTN Financial Capital Markets, Inc. (collectively, the “Underwriters”) have agreed, subject to certain conditions (including the conversion of the Subseries B-3 Bonds), to purchase Issue 2011-A Bonds from THDA at a purchase price of 100% of the principal amount thereof and an initial issue premium with respect to the Issue 2011-A PAC Bonds in the amount of $419,651.10. The Underwriters will be paid a fee in connection with the purchase of the Issue 2011-A Bonds in an amount equal to $299,354.61. The obligations of the Underwriters to purchase the Issue 2011-A Bonds are subject to certain conditions precedent. The Underwriters will be obligated to purchase all such Issue 2011-A Bonds if any such Issue 2011-A Bonds are purchased. The Underwriters are not acting as placement agents with respect to the Subseries B-3 Bonds and such Subseries B-3 Bonds are not being offered or remarketed hereby.

MISCELLANEOUS

Any statements in this Official Statement involving matters of opinion or estimates, whether or not expressly so stated, are intended as such and not as representatives of fact. No representation is made that such statements will be realized. All financial and other information presented in this Official Statement has been provided by THDA from its records, except for information expressly attributed to other sources. The presentation of information is intended to show recent historic information, and it is not intended to indicate future or continuing trends in the financial position or other affairs of THDA. No representation is made that past experience, as it might be shown by such financial and other information, will necessarily continue or be repeated in the future. References to and summaries of provisions of the laws of the State or of any other documents referred to in this Official Statement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the complete provisions thereof. This Official Statement is not to be construed as a contract or agreement between THDA and the purchasers or holders of any of the Bonds.

With respect to the Subseries B-3 Bonds, this Official Statement is deemed to be a supplement to the Official Statement and Private Placement Memorandum of THDA dated December 3, 2009, provided in connection with the delivery of the Issue 2009-B Bonds.

The information contained herein is subject to change without notice and no implication should be derived therefrom or from the issuance, as applicable, of the Bonds that there has been no change in the affairs of THDA from the date hereof. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has covenanted to keep proper books of record and account in which full, true and correct entries will be made of all its dealings and transactions under the Resolution and to cause such books to be audited for each fiscal year. The Resolution requires that such books be open to inspection by the holder of any Bond during regular business hours of THDA and that THDA furnish a copy of the auditor's report, when available, upon request of the holder of any outstanding Bond. This Official Statement is submitted in connection with the sale of the securities referred to herein which are proposed to be issued by THDA. It may not be reproduced or used in part, or, as a whole or in part, for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report

December 30, 2010

The Honorable Phil Bredesen, Governor
and
Members of the General Assembly
State Capitol
Nashville, Tennessee 37243
and
Members of the Board of Directors
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
and
Mr. Ted Fellman, Executive Director
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
404 James Robertson Parkway, Suite 1200
Nashville, Tennessee 37243

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency, a component unit of the State of Tennessee, as of June 30, 2010, and June 30, 2009, and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the agency's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements, based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in generally accepted government auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion. Tennessee statutes, in addition to audit responsibilities, entrust certain other responsibilities to the Comptroller of the Treasury. Those responsibilities include serving as a member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. We do not believe that the Comptroller's service in this capacity affected our ability to conduct an independent audit of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency as of June 30, 2010, and June 30, 2009, and the changes in its financial position and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The management's discussion and analysis and the schedule of funding progress are not required parts of the basic financial statements but are supplementary information required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We have applied certain limited procedures, which consisted principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion on it.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements. The accompanying supplementary information, following the schedule of funding progress, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

In accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards, we have also issued our report dated December 30, 2010, on our consideration of the agency's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Sincerely,

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA
Director

This section of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency's (THDA) annual financial statements presents management's discussion and analysis of THDA's financial performance for the years ended June 30, 2010 and June 30, 2009. This information is being presented to provide additional information regarding the activities of THDA and to meet the reporting and disclosure requirements of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement Number 34, Basic Financial Statements -- and Management's Discussion and Analysis -- for State and Local Governments. This section should be read in conjunction with the Independent Auditor's Report and the audited financial statements and accompanying notes.

INTRODUCTION – THE TENNESSEE HOUSING DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

The mission statement of THDA is "Leading Tennessee Home by creating safe, sound, affordable housing opportunities." THDA's goal is to provide housing assistance to those in need by offering a variety of housing-related programs. One of the primary ways THDA assists people is by offering mortgages for first-time homebuyers at below conventional market interest rates. At the close of fiscal year 2010, THDA has originated over 104,000 single-family mortgage loans in its 37-year history, and serves as the master servicer for all active mortgages it funds. In addition to helping homebuyers, THDA administers Section 8 rental assistance programs, including the tenant-based Housing Choice Voucher program in approximately 74 of Tennessee's 95 counties, as well as project-based Contract Administration program for approximately 400 contracts throughout all of Tennessee. THDA also administers grant programs, awarded on a competitive annual cycle, for rehabilitation and new construction of owner-occupied units and small rental projects. THDA is also involved in the development and rehabilitation of multifamily rental housing for low-income families by administering the federal Low-Income Housing Tax Credit, which is a competitive process, and by setting aside a portion of bond authority to be allocated to local issuing authorities for specific multifamily developments.

As established by statute, "The agency shall have a board of directors which shall be responsible for carrying out the powers given to the agency. . ." (Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-105). This board meets regularly on a bi-monthly basis; however, some committees may meet more often as situations dictate.

OVERVIEW OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The basic financial statements include statements of net assets, statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets, statements of cash flows, as well as notes to the financial statements. The statements of net assets provide financial information on the overall financial position of THDA at each year end. The statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets summarize the results of operations over the course of each fiscal year. The statements of cash flows provide relevant information about THDA's cash receipts and cash payments during each fiscal year. The notes to the financial statements provide essential information regarding THDA's significant accounting policies, significant account balances and activities, certain material risks, obligations, commitments, contingencies and subsequent events. THDA's financial statements are presented using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. In addition to the basic financial statements, other supplementary information is included.

THDA is also considered to be a "component unit" for the State of Tennessee, and therefore, its financial information is reported in the State of Tennessee's government-wide Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. This report may be viewed at http://tennessee.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

FINANCIAL ANALYSIS OF THE AGENCY

Net Assets. The following table focuses on the changes in net assets between fiscal years (expressed in thousands):

	2010	2009	2008
Current assets	$ 397,864	$ 313,017	$ 376,194
Capital assets	79	29	79
Other noncurrent assets	2,516,989	2,247,094	2,230,603
Total assets	2,914,932	2,560,140	2,606,876
Current liabilities	193,765	145,096	165,375
Noncurrent liabilities	2,202,405	1,905,071	1,947,753
Total liabilities	2,396,170	2,050,167	2,113,128
Invested in capital assets	79	29	79
Restricted net assets	514,383	508,036	492,193
Unrestricted net assets	4,300	1,908	1,476
Total net assets	$ 518,762	$ 509,973	$ 493,748

- THDA's total net assets increased $8.8 million, or 1.7%, from $510.0 million at June 30, 2009 to $518.8 million at June 30, 2010. This resulted from operating revenues that exceeded operating expenses.

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $116.2 million, or 5.8%, from $1,999.4 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,115.6 million at June 30, 2010. This increase resulted from mortgage loan originations that exceeded mortgage loan prepayments and repayments.

- Total liabilities increased $346.0 million, or 16.9%, from $2,050.2 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,396.2 million at June 30, 2010. The increase is primarily due to a increase in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2010 as compared to fiscal year 2009, primarily, the issuance of bonds in the Housing Finance Program Bonds Resolution.

- THDA's total net assets increased $16.2 million, or 3.3%, from $493.8 million at June 30, 2008 to $510.0 million at June 30, 2009. This primarily resulted from an increase in mortgage interest income, and an increase in the fair value of investments. (The amount of net assets as of June 20, 2008 was revised from the amount previously reported as a result of a Prior Period Adjustment. Note 12 of the Notes to the Financial Statements contains full guidance regarding this adjustment.)

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $13.6 million, or 0.7%, from $1,985.8 million at June 30, 2008 to $1,999.4 million at June 30, 2009. This is not a significant change from the prior year.

- Total liabilities decreased $63.0 million, or 3.0%, from $2,113.1 million at June 30, 2008 to $2,050.2 million at June 30, 2009. The decrease is primarily due to a reduction in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2009 as compared to fiscal year 2008, as well as the redemption of $83.1 million of its Single Family Mortgage Notes (please refer to Note 4 of the Notes to the Financial Statements for more information).

Changes in Net Assets. The following table summarizes the changes in revenues, expenses and changes in net assets between fiscal years (expressed in thousands):

	2010	2009	2008
Operating revenues
Mortgage interest income	$ 118,572	$ 119,500	$ 111,142
Investment income	14,517	17,905	38,756

Change in net assets	$ 8,789	$ 16,225	$ 36,356

2010 to 2009

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating revenues decreased $.9 million from $151.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2009, to $150.7 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating expenses increased $2.8 million, or 2.3%, from $123.0 million in 2009 to $125.8 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

While the total net assets for fiscal year 2010 increased $8.8 million from the previous year, the non-monetary change in the fair value of investments contributed $3.8 million toward this increase. When considered without these non-monetary components, net assets would have increased $5.0 million.

For the year ended June 30, 2009, total operating revenues decreased $12.8 million from $164.4 million for the year ended June 30, 2008 to $151.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2009. The primary reasons for this decrease are as follows:

- Mortgage interest income increased $8.4 million, or 7.5%, from $111.1 million in 2008 to $119.5 million in 2009. This increase is due to record high origination of new mortgage loans as experienced during FY 2007 and FY 2008.

- Investment income decreased $20.9 million, or 53.8%, from $38.8 million in 2008 to $17.9 million in 2009. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in the total amount of invested funds during FY 2009 as compared to FY 2008, as well as a decrease in the investment interest rates.

For the year ended June 30, 2009, total operating expenses decreased $4.3 million, or 3.3%, from $127.3 million in 2008 to $123.0 million in 2009. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in interest expense as a result of debt management practices.

DEBT ACTIVITY

Bonds and notes outstanding at June 30 were as follows (expressed in thousands):

	2010	2009	2008
Bonds payable	$ 2,316,748	$ 1,972,561	$ 1,952,295
Notes payable	3,672	3,250	88,720
Total bonds and notes payable	$ 2,320,420	$ 1,975,811	$ 2,041,015

Year Ended June 30, 2010
Total bonds and notes payable increased $344.6 million, or 17.4%, due primarily to an increase in the issuance of THDA's bonds. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $551.0 million, with activity arising from four bond issues. During FY 2010, THDA participated in the New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) as established by the United States Treasury Department. Principal redemptions during FY 2010 totaled $203.6 million.

Year Ended June 30, 2009
Total bonds and notes payable decreased $65.2 million, or 3.2%, due primarily to a redemption of THDA's Single Family Mortgage Notes in the amount of $83.1 million. Please see Note 4 (e) for more information regarding this transaction. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $267.6 million, with activity arising from four bond issues totaling $220.0 million and one note draw under the single family mortgage note program totaling $44.3 million. In addition, THDA obtained a $3.25 million loan from a local financial institution for the Housing Trust Fund. Principal redemptions decreased $256.1 million, from $584.4 million in FY 2008 to $328.2 million in FY 2009.

New Issue Bond Program (NIBP)
The New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) will provide temporary financing for Housing Finance Agencies (HFAs) to issue new housing bonds to fund new mortgages. The United States Treasury Department will purchase securities of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac backed by these new housing bonds. This will temporarily allow the HFAs to issue an amount of new housing bonds equal to what they would ordinarily be able to issue with the allocations provided them by Congress but are generally unable to issue given the current challenges in housing and related markets.

On December 23, 2009, THDA issued $360 Million of bonds under the NIBP, which were $60 Million (Bond Issue 2009-A2) and $300 Million (Bond Issue 2009-B1). The $300 Million 2009-B1 bonds are variable-rate taxable debt, and are to be held in escrow. Upon being placed in escrow, the proceeds from these bonds are re-invested into permissible investments as required by the United States Treasury Department (generally, 28-day Treasury Bills purchased at auction). These bonds are scheduled to be released from escrow, re-designated and be converted to fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds upon the issuance of market bonds within the framework and guidelines of the NIBP.

Subsequently, on June 17, 2010, THDA released, re-designed, and converted $85,290,000 of escrowed bonds (Bond Issue 2009-B) into fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds (Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1).

Considering the investment requirements for the NIBP escrowed bonds as established by the United States Treasury Department, the proceeds of these escrowed bonds are presented on the Statements of Net Assets as Non-Current Assets, Restricted Assets, Cash and Cash Equivalents. Bonds issued under the NIBP have been placed in the Housing Finance Program Bonds resolution.

Bond Ratings
For bonds issued under the Mortgage Finance Program, Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2 and Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA.

For bonds issued under the Homeownership Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa1 and S&P has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA+.

For bonds issued under the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2. These bonds are not rated by S&P.

Debt Limits
In accordance with Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-121, THDA operates under a "debt ceiling" of $2,930,000,000.

GRANT PROGRAMS

During the past few years, the General Assembly has appropriated revenue to THDA for grant programs. Likewise, THDA's Board of Directors has allocated additional THDA funds for grants. These funds established a grant program that has been titled by the THDA as the "Tennessee Housing Trust Fund."

The four-level model for funding this grant program includes state appropriations, THDA funds, private sector investment, and matching funds from local grantees. The purpose of this grant program is to serve the needs of low and/or very low income, elderly, and special needs Tennesseans. Funding and uses for the Housing Trust Fund are as follows:

	FY 2010	FY 2009	FY 2008 and Prior	Total
Funding Sources:
THDA	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 12,000,000	$ 24,000,000
State Appropriation	-	350,000	4,000,000	4,350,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,350,000	$ 16,000,000	$ 28,350,000
Approved Uses:
Rural repair program (USDA)	$ 700,000	$ 700,000	$ 1,400,000	$ 2,800,000
Ramp Program (UCP)	-	-	50,000	50,000
Ramp Program	-	150,000	250,000	400,000
Hsg Modification & Ramp Prg	150,000	-	-	150,000
Homebuyer Education Initiative		-	300,000	300,000
Emergency Repairs for Elderly	2,000,000	2,000,000	4,000,000	8,000,000
Competitive Grants	3,150,000	3,500,000	10,000,000	16,650,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,350,000	$ 16,000,000	$ 28,350,000

In addition to the above funding, local grants could produce an additional $4 million or more funding each year. Also, the Emergency Repairs for the Elderly program and the Competitive Grants have a 50% grantee match requirement.

THDA is seeking additional private sector funding. In addition to the above approved uses, THDA received requests that merit funding. These requests totaled approximately $6 million more than the funds available.

During FY 2009, THDA received a loan of $3.25 million from a local financial institution for the Housing Trust Fund. Likewise, in FY 2010 THDA received a similar loan of $500,000. These funds will be used to fund short-term second mortgages for low income Tennesseans for homeowner rehabilitation. As required by these lending financial institutions, this program is limited to residents in geographic areas as specified by these financial institutions. THDA is actively pursuing additional financial institutions to also join this program throughout the state.

CURRENT MORTGAGE PRODUCTS AND ENVIRONMENT

THDA offers three primary choices for single-family mortgages. The Great Rate mortgage product offers a below market interest rate loan secured by a first mortgage. The Great Start program offers a loan with an interest rate that is 60 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, but provides 4% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance. In addition, THDA introduced the Great Advantage product during fiscal year 2006, which offers a loan with an interest rate that is 30 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, and 2% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance.

All loans made or purchased by THDA are fixed-rate mortgages with a maximum loan term of 360 months (30 years), and must conform to insurer / guarantor underwriting guidelines. THDA does not make or purchase adjustable rate mortgages (ARMs), interest-only mortgages, "buy-down" loans, mortgages with a future lump-sum payment due (balloon-type mortgage), or other similar mortgage terms. THDA does not make or purchase "sub-prime" mortgage loans.

Single-family mortgage loans purchased by THDA with Loan-to-value (LTV) ratios between 78% and 97% must have an acceptable insurer/guarantor, which includes:

- FHA (United States Department of Housing and Urban Development)
- VA (Veterans Administration Guaranty Program)
- USDA/RD (the United States Department of Agriculture - Rural Development, formerly Farmers Home Administration)
- Private mortgage insurance

THDA will accept private mortgage insurance provided from private mortgage insurers, who are licensed by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in Tennessee; who are rated at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Group; and who provide protection against involuntary job loss at no extra cost to the borrower. THDA will allow privately insured loans underwritten using nationally accepted underwriting guidelines established by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. These loans must be approved through an automated underwriting system such as Desktop Underwriter or Loan Prospector with no expanded approvals. Such privately insured mortgage loans may have loan-to-value ratios up to and including 97% of the lesser of the purchase price or the appraised value.

Loans with a 78% LTV or lower do not require mortgage insurance. The maximum acceptable LTV is 97%.

A detailed chart of these mortgage loan products and primary mortgage loan terms may be obtained from THDA's internet site at http://www.thda.org/singlefamily/hochoices.html.

More recently, media attention has focused on mortgage loan delinquencies and foreclosures. For the past several years, THDA has closely monitored its loan portfolio for delinquency and foreclosures. This monitoring has included analysis based on loan type (Great Rate, Great Start, and Great Advantage), insurer/guarantor (FHA, VA, RECD, private mortgage insurer), mortgage loan servicer, down-payment assistance, and other factors as deemed necessary.

As of June 30, 2010, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	26,756	657	46,015,708	2.46%
90+ Days Past Due	26,756	1,293	95,704,596	4.83%
In Foreclosure	26,756	136	10,466,566	0.51%

As of June 30, 2009, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	25,914	778	54,242,587	3.00%
90+ Days Past Due	25,914	1,452	103,219,318	5.60%
In Foreclosure	25,914	154	11,243,068	0.59%

Note: Percentage is calculated by dividing the "Number of Loans in Status" by the "Total Number of Loans Serviced."

ECONOMIC FACTORS

In accordance with THDA's investment policy, THDA typically invests in short-term collateralized repurchase agreements, as well as short-term and long-term fixed-rate debt securities from federal agencies. As a bench-mark, THDA uses the one-, three-, and five year Constant Maturity Treasury (CMT) rates as established by the United States Treasury.

The continuation of relatively low interest rates from a historic perspective increased the likelihood of negative arbitrage, in which the interest rates on THDA's bond issues exceeds the current investment interest rates. THDA monitors prepayments and bond investment yields, and seeks to reduce negative arbitrage by calling bonds with the funds from prepayments.

CONTACTING THDA's FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

This financial report is designed to provide THDA's stakeholders with a general overview of THDA's finances and to show accountability for the funds that it receives, invests, and expends. NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Reporting Entity

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency was created by an act of the legislature (Chapter 241, Public Acts, 1973). The act was approved by the Governor on May 14, 1973. The enabling legislation can be found in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 13-23-101 et seq. The purpose of the agency is to improve housing and living conditions for lower- and moderate-income persons and families in Tennessee by making loans and mortgages to qualified sponsors, builders, developers, and purchasers of low- and moderate-income family dwellings.

The agency is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of the Agency. The remaining members are appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. Board members are to be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, and the three grand divisions of the state and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. One member of the board is a resident board member as required by Section 505 of the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998 and 24 CFR Part 964, Subpart E.

In order to accomplish its objectives, the agency is authorized to raise funds through the issuance of bonds and notes. Bonds and notes issued by the agency are not general obligations of the State of Tennessee or any of its political subdivisions, and neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state or any political subdivision is pledged for payment of the principal or interest on such bonds or notes.

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency is a component unit of the State of Tennessee. Although the agency is a separate legal entity, the state appoints a majority of its governing body, approves its operating budget, and provides some financial support. The agency is discretely presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report.

b. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB). The agency generally follows private-sector standards of accounting and financial reporting issued prior to December 1, 1989, to the extent that these standards do not conflict with or contradict guidance of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. The agency also has the option of following subsequent private-sector guidance subject to this same limitation. The agency has elected not to follow subsequent private-sector guidance. Certain accounting policies and procedures are stipulated in the agency's Mortgage Finance Program, Single Family Program, and Homeownership Program bond resolutions and the Single Family Mortgage Notes trust indenture. The agency follows these procedures in establishing and maintaining the various funds and accounts for its programs. Revenues and expenses applicable to each fund and account are recorded therein.

c. Basis of Accounting and Measurement Focus

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. Under this basis, revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recorded when liabilities are incurred. When both restricted and unrestricted resources are available for use, generally it is the agency's policy to use the restricted resources first.

d. Capital Assets

Capital assets, which include furniture and office equipment, are defined by the agency as assets with an initial, individual cost of $5,000 or more.

Capital assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives of the assets.

Description	Estimated Life
Furniture	10 years
Computer equipment	3 years

e. Restricted Assets

Restricted assets are comprised of the Debt Service Reserve Funds. The bond resolutions require the agency to establish a Debt Service Reserve Fund for each bond issue. The bond resolutions require that if the Debt Service and Expense Funds or the Revenue Funds of a bond issue are not sufficient to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund requirements of that issue that funds be transferred from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to cover any deficiency.

f. Bond Issuance Costs and Refunding Costs

1. Bond Issuance Costs: The agency amortizes bond issuance costs using the interest method over the life of the related bond issue. Unamortized bond issuance costs are reported as deferred charges.

2. Bond and Note Refunding Costs: The agency amortizes bond and note refunding costs using the straight-line method. Bonds and notes payable are reported net of the deferred amount on refundings.

3. Bond Premiums and Discounts: Bond premiums and discounts are deferred and amortized over the life of the bonds using the interest method. Bonds payable are reported net of the applicable unamortized bond premium or discount.

4. Mortgage Discount: Discounts on 30-year mortgage loans purchased by the agency are amortized using the straight-line method over 17 years, the estimated average life of mortgages. The amount amortized is credited to interest income.

g. Cash and Cash Equivalents

In addition to demand deposits, petty cash, and deposits in the pooled investment fund administered by the State Treasurer, this classification includes short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

h. Investments

The agency has established guidelines for its funds to meet the requirements of the bond resolutions and to comply with the statutes of the State of Tennessee. Permitted investments include the following: direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury and U.S. Agencies; obligations guaranteed by the U.S.; public housing bonds secured by contracts with the U.S.; direct and general obligations of the State of Tennessee or obligations guaranteed by the State of Tennessee; obligations of other states or instrumentalities thereof which are rated in either of the two highest rating categories by Moody's Investor Service or Standard & Poor's Corporation; interest bearing time or demand deposits; collateralized certificates of deposit in authorized state depositories; and repurchase agreements collateralized by authorized securities.

Investments are stated at fair value.

i. Accrual of Interest Income

Interest on first mortgage loans receivable and investment securities is credited to income as earned and classified as interest receivable.

j. Mortgages

Mortgages are carried at their original amount less principal collected.

k. Operating Revenues and Expenses

The agency was created with the authority to issue bonds to the investing public in order to create a flow of private capital through the agency into mortgage loans to certain qualified individuals and qualified housing sponsors. The agency's primary operation is to borrow funds in the bond market and issue those funds to make single-family and multi-family loans. The primary operating revenue is the interest income on outstanding mortgages and the investment income from proceeds of bonds. The primary operating expense of the agency is the interest expense on bonds outstanding.

NOTE 2. DEPOSITS AND INVESTMENTS

a. Deposits

Custodial Credit Risk. Custodial credit risk for deposits is the risk that in the event of a bank failure, the agency's deposits may not be returned to it.

The laws of the State of Tennessee require that collateral be pledged to secure all uninsured deposits. The agency's bond resolutions require deposits to be fully secured.

The agency's deposits are in financial institutions which participate in the bank collateral pool administered by the State Treasurer. The securities pledged to protect these accounts are pledged in the aggregate rather than against each individual account. The members of the pool may be required by agreement to pay an assessment to cover any deficiency. Under this additional assessment agreement, public fund accounts covered by the pool are considered to be insured for purposes of credit risk disclosure.

At June 30, 2010, the bank balance was $533,214. At June 30, 2009, the bank balance was $1,404,893. All bank balances were insured. The agency has deposits in the State Pooled Investment Fund administered by the State Treasurer. The fund is not rated by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization. The fund's investment policy and required risk disclosures are presented in the State of Tennessee Treasurer's Report. That report may be obtained by writing to the Tennessee Department of the Treasury, 502 Deaderick Street, Nashville, Tennessee 37243-0225, or by calling (615) 741-2956.

b. Investments

As stated in the agency's investment policy, the "prudent man rule" shall be the standard of prudence used by all officials responsible for the investment of assets. Investments are made as a prudent person would be expected to act in the management of their own affairs. That would be to consider the safety of capital and the probability of income, while avoiding speculative investments.

The agency's investment policy states that the agency portfolios will be diversified in order to reduce the risk of loss resulting from over concentration of assets in a specific maturity, a specific issuer, or a specific class of securities. The agency may invest one hundred percent (100%) of its portfolio in U.S. government securities due to the absence of credit risk. A minimum of five percent (5%) of the par value of total investments must mature within five years. No more than fifty percent (50%) of the par value of the combined portfolios can be invested in maturities greater than fifteen (15) years without approval of the Bond Finance Committee.

Portfolio maturities shall be staggered in a way that avoids undue concentrations of assets in a specific maturity sector. Maturities shall be selected which provide for stability of income and reasonable liquidity. It is the intent of this policy that sufficient investments be scheduled to mature to provide for the required liquidity for debt service and other expenditures per resolution requirements.

Interest Rate Risk. Interest Rate Risk is the risk that changes in interest rates of debt investments will adversely affect the fair value of an investment.

Duration is a measure of a debt investment's exposure to fair value changes arising from changing interest rates. It uses the present value of cash flows, weighted for those cash flows as a percentage of the investment's full price.

The Housing Finance Program Bonds were established on December 23, 2009, to allow the agency to participate in the U.S. Department of Treasury New Issue Bond Program (NIBP), which was created to assist state and local housing finance agencies in acquiring cost-effective mortgage loan capital. THDA may release funds from issue 2009-B up to three times before December 31, 2010.

The first release and conversion from 2009-B was on June 17, 2010, in the amount of $85,290,000. The $85,290,000 was blended with the market rate 2010-A bonds in the amount of $74,710,000 for a total of $160,000,000 which is in the ending balance at June 30, 2010 column.

The interest rate on the 2009-B bonds is tied to the investment rate on proceeds of the bonds. Proceeds are required to be invested in U.S. Treasury securities maturing in 28 days or less.

b. Debt Service Requirements

Debt service requirements to maturity at June 30, 2010 are as follows (expressed in thousands):

For the Year(s) Ending June 30	Principal	Interest	Total Requirements
2011	$269,962	$92,960	$362,922

Total	$2,322,679	$1,729,594	$4,052,273

The debt principal in the preceding table is $5,931,000 greater than that presented in the accompanying financial statements. This amount, which is a deduction from bonds payable for the deferred amount on refundings, is not reflected in the above presentation.

c. Redemption of Bonds and Notes

During the year ended June 30, 2010, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $10,695,000 and in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $168,625,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $10,651,667 and $170,939,715. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $43,333 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,314,715.

On June 17, 2010, the agency issued $74,710,000 in Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2010-A. On June 17, 2010, the agency used $20,595,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $20,595,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $20,478,986. The refunding resulted in a difference of $116,014 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $5,910,703 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $2,812,047.

During the year ended June 30, 2009, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $11,245,000 and in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $107,985,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $11,187,700 and $110,279,862. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $57,300 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,294,862.

On July 1, 2008, a fourth drawdown was made on the Series 2007 CN-1 Notes in the amount of $44,330,000. These proceeds were used on the same day to refund bonds previously issued in the Mortgage Finance Program and the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $35,785,000 early redemption and $8,545,000 current maturities). The carrying amount of these bonds was $45,277,489. The refunding resulted in a difference of $947,489 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. Because notes were used to refund long-term bonds, neither the change in debt service nor the economic gain or loss disclosures are appropriate.

On August 7, 2008, the agency issued $50,000,000 in Homeownership Bonds, Issue 2008-2. On August 14, 2008, the agency used these bonds to refund the convertible drawdown notes, 2007 CN-1, which were used November 1, 2007, January 2, 2008, and July 1, 2008 to refund certain bonds previously issued in the Mortgage Finance and Homeownership programs. The refunding increased the agency's debt service by $20,171,444 over the next 14 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $1,628,880.

On December 18, 2008, the agency issued $30,000,000 in Homeownership Bonds, Issue 2008-4. On January 2, 2009, the agency used $4,820,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Mortgage Finance Program and the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $675,000 early redemption and $4,145,000 current maturities). The carrying amount of these bonds was $4,814,144. The refunding resulted in a difference of $5,856 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding increased the agency's debt service by $2,590,125 over the next 10.5 years, and the agency realized an economic loss (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $51,209.

e. Notes Issued and Outstanding

The Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture, dated December 1, 1997 (the "Trust Indenture"), provided for the issuance of agency drawdown notes with a maximum aggregate principal amount of $65,000,000. On April 1, 1999, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $200,000,000. On December 1, 2002, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $450,000,000.

The notes bear interest, payable on the second Thursday of each succeeding month with respect to the principal amount drawn down by the agency. The interest rate is equal to ninety-nine percent (99%) of the bond equivalent yield as determined on the related rate date.

There was no drawdown activity during the year ended June 30, 2010.

Promissory Note. On December 22, 2008, the agency borrowed $3,250,000 for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Interest is being charged quarterly at 3% with the principal maturing on December 22, 2011. On August 3, 2009, the agency borrowed $500,000 at 3% for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Principal and interest are paid monthly with the principal maturing on August 4, 2012.

The activity of the 2007CN-1 notes shown above as well as the promissory note are also included in the summary of long-term liability activity in part d. of this note.

In October 2008, the Internal Revenue Service issued Notice 2008-88, amending Notice 2008-41. With an effective date of March 28, 2008, this notice provides temporary relief to issuers by allowing them to purchase their own bonds and commercial paper without causing an extinguishment of the debt for tax purposes. Therefore, on October 9, 2008, due to unstable credit markets, the Tennessee Housing Development Agency purchased at par $83,050,000 of its Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2009, after which the notes were to be available to reissue. Due to continuing unstable credit markets, on December 31, 2009, the Internal Revenue Service extended the amount of time the agency is allowed to hold its outstanding notes purchased from Morgan Keegan. The agency is allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2010, after which the notes will be available to reissue. However, in accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement 76 Paragraph 3, the outstanding notes are not recorded for financial reporting purposes.

NOTE 5. RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

The amount shown on the Statement of Net Assets as Restricted for Single Family Bond Programs is contractually pledged, under the bond resolutions of the agency, to the owners of the bonds issued under such bond resolutions. As pledged assets, the contractual provisions of the bond resolutions restrict the use of such assets. However, the assets may be removed from the lien of the bond resolutions if certain parity tests, as established by the respective bond resolutions, are satisfied. Assets removed from the lien of the respective bond resolutions may be used for other purposes.

The amount shown as Restricted for Grant Programs represents unexpended grant money that has been awarded to grantees through various grant programs administered by the agency.

The amount shown as Restricted for Homebuyers Revolving Loan Program represents the amount of net assets that are restricted for a pilot program that funds zero interest loans for down payment and closing costs. The use of these net assets is restricted under legislation enacted in fiscal year 1986.

NOTE 6. DEFINED BENEFIT PENSION PLAN

The agency contributes to the State Employees, Teachers, and Higher Education Employees Pension Plan (SETHEEPP), a cost-sharing, multiple-employer defined benefit pension plan administered by the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS). TCRS provides retirement, death, and disability benefits as well as annual cost-of-living adjustments to plan members and their beneficiaries. Title 8, Chapters 34-37, Tennessee Code Annotated, establishes benefit provisions. State statutes are amended by the Tennessee General Assembly.

The TCRS issues a publicly available financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information for SETHEEPP. That report may be obtained by writing to the Tennessee Department of the Treasury, Consolidated Retirement System, 502 Deaderick Street, Nashville, Tennessee, 37243-0201 or by calling (615) 741-7063.

Plan members are noncontributory. The agency is required to contribute at an actuarially determined rate. The current rate is 13.02% of annual covered payroll. Contribution requirements for the agency are established and may be amended by the TCRS' Board of Trustees. The agency's contributions to TCRS for the years ended June 30, 2010, 2009, and 2008, were $1,295,272, $1,201,303, and $1,297,298. Those contributions met the required contributions for each year.

NOTE 7. PROVISIONS FOR MORTGAGE LOAN LOSSES

Most mortgage loans are insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or an approved private mortgage insurance company, or are guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs. The agency's Board of Directors has established a loan loss reserve of $750,000 as a provision for potential loan losses arising from participation in the Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) Loan Guarantee Program. An additional $232,000 was established as a loan loss reserve against potential losses on loans not specifically covered under one of the above programs, and $500,000 was established as a loan loss reserve for self-insurance of second mortgages.

Since the amount of net assets restricted for single family bond programs exceeds the amounts necessary for these loan loss reserves, it is not necessary to designate unrestricted net assets for this purpose.

NOTE 8. RISK MANAGEMENT

a. Commercial Insurance

The agency carries commercial insurance for risks of loss related to employee dishonesty; general liability protection; and theft of, damage to, or destruction of real and personal property. Settled claims resulting from these risks have not exceeded commercial insurance coverage in any of the past three fiscal years.

b. Risk Management Fund

The state has set aside assets for claim settlement in an internal service fund, the Risk Management Fund. This fund services all claims for risk of loss to which the state is exposed, including general liability, automobile liability, professional malpractice, and workers' compensation. The agency participates in the Risk Management Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on a percentage of the agency's expected loss costs which include both experience and exposures. This charge considers recent trends in actual claims experience of the state as a whole. An actuarial valuation is performed as of each fiscal year-end to determine the fund liability and premium allocation. Information regarding the determination of the claims liabilities and the changes in the balances of the claims liabilities for the years ended June 30, 2010, and June 30, 2009, are presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. Since the agency participates in the Risk Management Fund, it is subject to the liability limitations under the provisions of the Tennessee Claims Commission Act, Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 9-8-101 et seq. Liability for negligence of the agency for bodily injury and property damage is limited to $300,000 per person and $1,000,000 per occurrence. The limits of liability under workers’ compensation are set forth in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 50-6-101 et seq. Claims are paid through the state’s Risk Management Fund.

c. Employee Group Insurance Fund

The state has also set aside assets in the Employee Group Insurance Fund, an internal service fund, to provide a program of health insurance coverage for the employees of the state with the risk retained by the state. The agency participates in the Employee Group Insurance Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on estimates of the ultimate cost of claims, including the cost of claims that have been reported but not settled and of claims that have been incurred but not reported. Employees and providers have 13 months to file medical claims.

NOTE 9. OTHER POSTEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS (OPEB)

Healthcare is the only “other postemployment benefit” (OPEB) provided to employees. The State of Tennessee administers a group health insurance program which provides postemployment health insurance benefits to eligible THDA retirees. This program includes two plans – the State Employee Group Plan and the Medicare Supplement Plan. For accounting purposes, the plans are agent multiple-employer defined benefit OPEB plans. Benefits are established and amended by an insurance committee created by Tennessee Code Annotated (TCA) Section 8-27-201 for the state plan and TCA 8-27-701 for the Medicare Supplement Plan. Prior to reaching age 65, retirees may participate in the State Employee Group Plan. Members of this plan have the option of choosing a preferred provider organization (PPO), point of service (POS), or health maintenance organization (HMO) plan for healthcare benefits. The POS and HMO options will no longer be available to members after January 1, 2011. Subsequent to age 65, retirees who are also in the state’s retirement system may participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan that does not include pharmacy. The plans are reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report may be obtained by writing to the Tennessee Department of Finance and Administration, Division of Accounts, 14th Floor William R. Snodgrass Tennessee Tower, 312 Rosa L. Parks Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee 37243, or by calling (615) 741-2140.

Special Funding Situation. The State of Tennessee is legally responsible for contributions to the Medicare Supplement Plan that covers the retirees of other governmental entities, including the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. The state is the sole contributor for the THDA retirees that participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan and, therefore, is acting as the employer.

Funding Policy. The premium requirements of members of the State Employee Group Plan are established and may be amended by the insurance committee. The plan is self-insured and financed on a pay-as-you-go basis with the risk shared equally among the participants. Claims liabilities of the plan are periodically computed using actuarial and statistical techniques to establish premium rates. Administrative costs of the plan are allocated to participants. Retirees in the State Employee Group Plan pay the same base premium as active employees in the plan adjusted for years of service. Retirees with 30 years of service pay 20% of the total premium. Retirees with 20 but less than 30 years of service pay 30% of the total premium. Retirees with less than 20 years of service pay 40% of the total premium.

Funded Status and Funding Progress. The funded status of THDA's portion of the State Employee Group Plan as of July 1, 2009, was as follows (Thousands):

Actuarial valuation date	7/01/2009
Actuarial accrued liability (AAL)	$ 3,629
Actuarial value of plan assets	-0-
Unfunded actuarial accrued liability (UAAL)	$ 3,629
Actuarial value of assets as a % of the AAL	0%
Covered payroll (active plan members)	$ 9,238
UAAL as a percentage of covered payroll	39%

Actuarial valuations involve estimates of the value of reported amounts and assumptions about the probability of events far into the future, and actuarially determined amounts are subject to continual revision as actual results are compared to past expectations and new estimates are made about the future. The schedule of funding progress, presented as required supplementary information following the notes to the financial statements, presents multiyear trend information about whether the actuarial value of plan assets is increasing or decreasing over time relative to the actuarial accrued liability for benefits.

Actuarial Methods and Assumptions. Calculations are based on the types of benefits provided under the terms of the substantive plan at the time of each valuation and on the pattern of sharing of costs between the employer and plan members to that point. Actuarial calculations reflect a long-term perspective. Consistent with that perspective, actuarial methods and assumptions used include techniques that are designed to reduce short-term volatility in actuarial accrued liabilities and the actuarial value of assets.

In the July 1, 2009, actuarial valuation, the Projected Unit Credit actuarial cost method was used. The actuarial assumptions included a 4.5 percent investment rate of return (net of administrative expenses) and an annual healthcare cost trend rate of 6 percent initially, increased to 10 percent in the second year and then reduced by decrements to an ultimate rate of 5 percent in fiscal year 2021. All rates include a 3 percent inflation assumption. The unfunded actuarial accrued liability is being amortized as a level percentage of payroll on a closed basis over a 30 year period beginning with July 1, 2007.

NOTE 10. ON-BEHALF PAYMENTS

During the year ended June 30, 2010, the State of Tennessee made payments of $2,657 on behalf of THDA for retirees participating in the Medicare Supplement Plan, and during the year ended June 30, 2009, made payments of $2,528. The Medicare Supplement Plan is a postemployment benefit healthcare plan and is discussed further in Note 9. The plan is reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report may be obtained by writing to the Tennessee Department of Finance and Administration, Division of Accounts, 14th Floor William R. Snodgrass Tennessee Tower, 312 Rosa L. Parks Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee 37243, or by calling (615) 741-2140.

NOTE 11. PAYMENTS TO PRIMARY GOVERNMENT

From time to time, the State of Tennessee has called upon the agency and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to the agency. On June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 from the agency's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund. On June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from the agency to the State General Fund. The $43,000,000 transferred from the agency came from the following resources of the agency: (i) $15,459,157 from tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. On June 30, 2002, a transfer from the agency to the primary government in the amount of $35,367,449 was made from the Assets Fund for the sole purpose of meeting the requirements of funding the operations of the primary government for the year ended June 30, 2002.

NOTE 12. PRIOR – PERIOD ADJUSTMENT

For the years ended June 30, 2008 and June 30, 2009, the agency recorded federal administrative fee revenue on a cash basis instead of on an accrual basis. Therefore, the agency is restating its FY 2009 statements and effecting a prior period adjustment for FY 2008 for these fees.

For the year ended June 30, 2008, revenue in the amount of $1,286,244 was earned on or before June 30, 2008, but received on or after July 1, 2008. This revenue was recorded as an increase to cash and a recognition of revenue for the year ended June 30, 2009. If correctly recorded, this would have resulted in an increase to accounts receivable and recognition of revenue for the year ended June 30, 2008, and an increase to cash and a decrease to accounts receivable for the year ended June 30, 2009. As this error was made in a financial year prior to the comparative year, the opening Net Assets amount as of July 1, 2008 was increased by $1,286,244.

For the year ended June 30, 2009, revenue in the amount of $1,907,676 was earned on or before June 30, 2009, but received on or after July 1, 2009. If correctly recorded, this revenue would have resulted in an increase to accounts receivable and recognition of revenue for the year ended June 30, 2009.

The following financial statement line items for the year ended June 30, 2009 were affected by the correction of an error in previously issued financial statements on accrued federal administration fee revenue (expressed in thousands):

SUMMARY OF MORTGAGE INSURANCE AND GUARANTEE PROGRAMS

Introduction

All first lien Program Loans made or purchased by THDA with proceeds of Bonds issued under the General Resolution must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, or (b) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who, at the time of closing, have an acceptable equity interest in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price.

Originating Agents are responsible for obtaining Veteran's Administration ("VA") or U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD") guarantees, Federal Housing Administration ("FHA") insurance certificates or private mortgage insurance certificates as part of the process of originating and closing THDA Program Loans. Borrowers pay the costs associated with such insurance certificates or guarantees.

The following descriptions of certain mortgage insurance programs and loan guarantee programs are all only brief outlines and do not purport to summarize or describe all provisions of each respective program. For a more complete description of these programs, refer to the contract provisions embodied in FHA, USDA/RD (formerly FmHA) and VA regulations, respectively, and to the regulations, master insurance contracts and other such information from the private mortgage insurance providers.

FHA Insurance Programs

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, authorizes various FHA mortgage insurance programs, which differ primarily upon whether the property contains five or more dwelling units or less than five such units and whether the property is designed for occupancy by low and moderate income families.

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, imposes a minimum cash requirement for purchase money mortgages of 3.5% of the lesser of appraised value or sales price, resulting in a maximum loan to value percentage of 96.5%.

Under the FHA programs which insure THDA's Program Loans, insurance benefits generally are payable only upon foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance of the property to the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD"). The FHA insurance proceeds available under these programs upon conveyance of the property to HUD is equal to 100% of the outstanding principal balance of the Program Loan, plus interest and certain additional costs and expenses.

Under some FHA insurance programs, HUD pays insurance claims in cash unless the mortgage lender specifically requests payment in debentures issued by HUD. Under other programs, HUD, at its option, may pay insurance claims in cash or in such debentures. Currently, HUD makes insurance payments on mortgages covering less than five dwelling units in cash when it has discretion to determine the form of insurance payment. HUD debentures issued in satisfaction of FHA insurance claims bear interest at the HUD debentures interest rate in effect under HUD regulations on the date of the mortgage insurance commitment or of the initial insurance endorsement of the mortgage, whichever rate is higher.

When FHA insurance benefits are paid after foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance, the amount paid is computed as of the date of default by the borrower, as defined in HUD regulations, and the mortgage lender generally is not compensated for mortgage interest accrued and unpaid prior to that date. When FHA insurance benefits are paid under such circumstances, the insurance payment made is generally equal to the unpaid principal amount of the Program Loan, adjusted to reimburse the mortgage lender for certain tax, insurance and similar payments made by it and to deduct certain amounts received or retained by the mortgage lender after default, plus reimbursement not to exceed a specified percentage of the mortgage lender's foreclosure costs as determined by HUD based on certain criteria. The regulations under the FHA insurance programs which insure THDA's Program Loans provide that the insurance payment itself shall bear interest from the date of default to the date of payment of the claim at an interest rate equal to the monthly average yield, for the month in which the default occurred, on United States Treasury securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years.

When any property conveyed to HUD has been damaged by fire, earthquake, flood or tornado, it is generally required, as a condition to payment of an insurance claim, that the property be repaired by the mortgage lender prior to such conveyance or assignment.

To obtain title to and possession of the property upon foreclosure, the Trustee and the Servicer act under the power of sale provisions in the deed of trust, subject to constraints imposed by applicable state law and by HUD. HUD currently requires that, absent the consent of the borrower, at least three full monthly installments be due and unpaid under the deed of trust before the mortgage lender may initiate any action leading to foreclosure under the deed of trust. HUD also requires a face-to-face conference between the mortgage lender and the borrower in an effort to cure the delinquency without foreclosure. In any case, these requirements do not apply where the borrower has voluntarily abandoned the property, in which case, the mortgage lender may immediately initiate foreclosure proceedings (subject to applicable state law notice provisions).

Veterans Administration Guaranty Program

The Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended, permits a veteran (or in certain instances, the veteran's spouse or certain qualified reservists) to obtain a Program Loan guaranty from the VA covering the purchase of a one-to-four family dwelling unit at interest rates permitted by the VA. The program has no loan limits, requires no down payment from the purchaser and permits the guaranty of Program Loans of up to thirty years duration. The maximum guaranty that may be issued by the VA under this program is the lesser of the veteran's available entitlement or the statutory maximum guaranty based on date of origination, type of housing unit and loan amount. Notwithstanding the dollar and percentage limitations of the guaranty, a mortgage lender will ordinarily suffer a monetary loss only when the difference between the unsatisfied indebtedness and the proceeds of a foreclosure sale of a property is greater than the original guaranty, as adjusted. The VA may, at its option, and without regard to the guaranty, make full payment to a mortgage lender of unsatisfied indebtedness on a mortgage upon its assignment to the VA.

United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development (formerly Farmers Home Administration)

Guaranteed Rural Housing Program

The Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 revised and expanded the interest assistance program for guaranteed loans under Section 502 of Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, by creating the Guaranteed Rural Housing Loan Program. The guaranty covers the lesser of (a) any loss equal to 90% of the original principal amount of the loan or (b) any loss in full up to 35% of the original principal amount of the loan plus any additional loss on the remaining 65% to be shared approximately 85% by USDA/RD and approximately 15% by THDA.

Private Mortgage Insurance Programs

General

Program Loans are permitted under the General Resolution when insured under private mortgage insurance programs as described below.

Private mortgage insurance policies insure against certain losses sustained by reason of default in payments by borrowers. Under most policies, delinquencies must be reported to the insurer within two (2) months of default, and proceedings to recover title must, generally, be commenced within nine (9) months of default. It is standard practice for private mortgage insurers to require that the mortgage lender, prior to presenting a claim under the mortgage insurance policy, acquire and tender to the private mortgage insurer title to the property, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, including any right of redemption by the borrower. When such a claim is presented, the private mortgage insurer will normally retain the option to pay the claim in full and take title to the property and arrange for its sale, or to pay the insured percentage of the claim and allow the insured mortgage lender to retain title to the property. The amount of loss payable generally includes the principal balance due under the mortgage, plus accumulated interest, real estate taxes and hazard insurance premiums which have been advanced, expenses incurred in the preservation of the insured property, and other expenses necessarily incurred in the recovery proceedings.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

APPENDIX C

DESCRIPTION OF AGREEMENTS WITH ORIGINATING AGENTS AND SERVICERS

Working Agreements

THDA has working agreements with each of its Originating Agents (the "Working Agreements"). Under the Working Agreements, THDA reviews and makes or purchases approved Program Loans which have been originated and processed by an Originating Agent.

Each Working Agreement also contains certain representations and warranties by the Originating Agent regarding the Program Loan applications submitted to THDA to the effect that the Originating Agent has no adverse information regarding the credit or reputation of the applicant nor adverse information concerning the real property to be mortgaged that would materially lessen THDA's security or detract from the subsequent marketability of the Program Loan. Each Originating Agent further represents and warrants that it will receive and process for THDA all applications by applicants for Program Loans who qualify as lower and moderate income persons.

The Working Agreement requires that Program Loans meet all requirements contained in THDA's rules and regulations and the O. A. Guide (as defined below). These requirements include, among other things:

(1) a deed of trust securing the Program Loan in a form approved by THDA which creates a valid first lien on the property;

(2) for FHA insured or VA or USDA/RD guaranteed Program Loans, all FHA, VA or USDA/RD rules, regulations and requirements must be met;

(3) evidence of title satisfactory to THDA;

(4) an original hazard insurance policy, delivered at closing, which covers the property subject to the Program Loan, names THDA as first mortgagee, and is in an amount not less than the greater of 90% of the insurable value of the improvements on the property or the full amount of the Program Loan; and

(5) such other documents as are necessary to comply with the federal tax code.

Penalties may be imposed on Originating Agents for violating the Working Agreements. At the option of THDA, Originating Agents may also be required to purchase a Program Loan from THDA when there is a violation under the Working Agreement with respect to the Program Loan. THDA may terminate Working Agreements upon notice, with or without cause or, at its election, temporarily suspend Originating Agent's privilege to originate Program Loans as a result of inadequate performance.

Guide for Originating Agents

THDA provides each Originating Agent with a Guide for Originating Agents (the "O. A. Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax code requirements. The O. A. Guide sets forth requirements and procedures for originating, processing and closing Program Loans. The Guide includes a procedural checklist to be followed by the Originating Agent and copies of all THDA forms required in originating, processing and closing Program Loans.

Servicing Agreements

THDA currently has agreements with U.S. Bank, Magna Bank and First Horizon Bank (recently purchased by Met Life) (the "Servicers") to service Program Loans (the "Servicing Agreements"). U.S. Bank services approximately 80% of THDA's entire portfolio of mortgage loans. Magna Bank and Met Life, through a sub-servicing agreement with U.S. Bank, service the remainder. THDA itself is also permitted to service Program Loans although it has not done so to date. The Servicing Agreements provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. Prior to remittance, the Servicer deducts a servicing fee, late charges and amounts to be held in escrow accounts for real property taxes, mortgage and hazard insurance premiums, and assessments. The servicing fee under current Servicing Agreements is 3/8% annually. The Servicer is required to notify THDA in the event of any default on a Program Loan, and the Servicer may conduct foreclosure proceedings with the consent and at the expense of THDA. The Servicer is required to repurchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of the Servicer's failure to perform its obligations under the Servicing Agreement. THDA may also terminate a Servicing Agreement for inadequate performance by the Servicer.

Guide for Servicers

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers (the "Servicer Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax requirements. The Servicer Guide includes substantive servicing requirements, incorporates the limitation on assumption of mortgages contained in the federal tax code, and specifies the procedures to be followed by the Servicer to comply with THDA requirements and the federal tax code. The Servicer Guide also includes a list of the documents that must be maintained by the Servicer, copies of all THDA's servicing and loan assumption forms, together with instructions for their completion and a schedule for the submission of the required forms and reports to THDA.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers. Each Servicer's performance is monitored and its servicing record is subject to examination by THDA's staff. Examinations are performed monthly from documentation received from the Servicer.

Special Programs

For certain special programs, THDA may elect to enter into joint agreements for originating and servicing Program Loans made under such special programs. Any such joint agreements are substantially similar to the Working Agreements and Servicing Agreements described hereinabove.

SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION

The General Housing Finance Resolution, as amended (the "General Resolution"), contains various covenants and security provisions, certain of which are summarized below. This summary does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive and is subject to all the terms and provisions of the General Resolution, to which reference is hereby made and copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Definitions (Section 1.2)

"Bond" means one of the bonds authenticated and delivered pursuant to the Resolution, including any additional or Refunding Bonds issued pursuant to Article II.

Bond Reserve Fund" means the Bond Reserve Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Bond Reserve Fund Requirement" means, as of any date of calculation the greater of (i) an amount equal to the aggregate of the respective amounts for each Issue of Bonds established in the Supplemental Resolution authorizing such Issue or (ii) an amount equal to 3% of the then current balance of Program Loans plus any other amount on deposit in the Loan Fund which has not been designated to provide for the payment of Costs of Issuance or capitalized interest.

"Costs of Issuance" means all items of expense, directly or indirectly payable or reimbursable by or to THDA and related to the authorization, sale and issuance of Bonds, including but not limited to discount to be paid to the underwriters upon the initial delivery of Bonds, printing costs, costs of preparation and reproduction of documents, filing and recording fees, initial fees and charges of any Fiduciary, legal fees and charges, fees and disbursements of consultants and professionals, costs of credit ratings, fees and charges for the insurance of the payment of Bonds, initial premiums to obtain mortgage pool insurance, accrued interest in connection with the financing of Program Loans and any other cost, charge or fee in connection with the original issuance of Bonds.

"Debt Service" means, with respect to any particular Fiscal Year and any particular Series of Bonds, an amount equal to the sum of (i) all interest payable on such Bonds during such Fiscal Year, plus (ii) any Principal Installment of such Bonds during such Fiscal Year.

"Fund" means one or more, as the case may be, of the special Funds created and established pursuant to this Resolution.

"Interest Payment Date" means any date upon which interest on the Bonds is due and payable in accordance with their terms.

"Investment Securities" means and includes any of the following obligations, to the extent the same are at the time legal for investment of funds of THDA under the Act, including the amendments thereto hereafter made, or under other applicable law:

(1) Obligations of, or obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality thereof when such obligations are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America, including, but not limited to:

- All direct or fully guaranteed United States Treasury;
- Certificates of beneficial ownership issued by the Farmers Home Administration;
- Participation certificates issued by General Services Administration;
- U.S. Maritime Administration guaranteed Title XI financing;
- Guaranteed participation certificates and guaranteed pool certificates issued by the Small Business Administration;
- GNMA-guaranteed mortgage-backed securities and GNMA-guaranteed participation certificates issued by the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA);
- Local authority bonds of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development;

- Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority guaranteed transit bonds; and
- All fully guaranteed obligations of the United States Export-Import Bank;

(2) Federal Housing Administration debentures;

(3) Obligations of the following government-sponsored agencies which are not backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America:

- Participation certificates (those which are guaranteed as to timely payment of principal) and Senior debt obligations of Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. (FHLMC)
- Consolidated system-wide bonds and notes of the Farm Credit System (formerly: Federal Land Banks, Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, and Banks for Co-operatives)
- Consolidated debt obligations of the Federal Home Loan Banks (FHL Banks)
- Senior debt obligations and Mortgage-backed securities (excluding interest only stripped mortgage securities which are valued greater than par on the portion of unpaid principal) issued by Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA);
- Senior debt obligations (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date) and Letter of Credit (LOC) - backed issues issued by Student Loan Marketing Association (SLMA);
- Debt obligations issued by Financing Corp. (FICO);
- Debt obligations issued by Resolution Funding Corp. (REFCORP);

(4) Federal funds, unsecured certificates of deposit, time deposits, and banker's acceptances (having maturities of not more than 365 days) of any bank, the short-term obligations of which are rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(5) Deposits which are fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC);

(6) Debt obligations rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date);

(7) Commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's maturing not more than 365 days;

(8) Investment in money market funds rated at least 'aam' or 'AAm-G' by S&P and 'Aaa' by Moody's;

(9) Repurchase agreements and investment agreements with any financial institution with long-term unsecured debt rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's or commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(10) Stripped securities

(i) U.S. Treasury STRIPS

(ii) REFCORP STRIPS (stripped by Federal Reserve Bank of New York), and

(iii) Any stripped securities assessed or rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's; and

(11) Any other investments which would not adversely affect the then current rating assigned to the Bonds, as confirmed in writing by S&P and Moody's.

"Issuance Amount" shall mean the price, exclusive of accrued interest (if any) which is payable on a semiannual basis, at which a Bond was offered for sale to the public (or the price of such Bond to the initial purchaser if not publicly sold) at the time of issuance thereof by THDA pursuant to Section 2.6, irrespective of underwriter's compensation, commissions, placement agent's fees, concessions, THDA Costs of Issuance, or similar costs.

"Loan Fund" means the Loan Fund established in Section 5.1.

"Non-Mortgage Receipts" means all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses as a result of the investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, but shall not include Revenues.

"Outstanding", when used with reference to Bonds, means, as of any date, all Bonds theretofore or thereupon being authenticated and delivered under this Resolution except:

(1) any Bond canceled by the Trustee or delivered to the Trustee for cancellation at or prior to such date;

(2) any Bond (or portion of a Bond) for the payment or redemption of which there have been separately set aside and held in the Redemption Fund hereunder either:

(a) moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price thereof, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date;

(b) Investment Securities, as described in Section 12.1(13), in such principal amounts, of such maturities, bearing such interest and otherwise having such terms and qualifications as shall be necessary to provide moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price of such Bond, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date; or

(c) any combination of (a) and (b) above;

(3) any Bond in lieu of or in substitution for which other Bonds shall have been authenticated and delivered pursuant to Section 3.7, Section 6.6 or Section 9.6; and

(4) any Bond deemed to have been paid as provided in subsection (B) of Section 12.1.

"Program" means the program for the financing of loans for residential housing established by THDA pursuant to the Act and Program Guidelines, as the same may be amended from time to time consistent with this Resolution, but only to the extent that such program is financed through the issuance of Bonds or from amounts otherwise available out of the moneys and assets held or pledged pursuant to this Resolution.

"Program Expenses" means all of THDA's expenses in carrying out and administering its duties and corporate purposes under the Act and shall include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, salaries, supplies, utilities, mailing, labor, materials, office rent, maintenance, furnishings, equipment, machinery and apparatus, telephone, insurance premiums, legal, accounting, management, consulting and banking services and expenses, fees and expenses of the Fiduciaries, Costs of Issuance not paid from the proceeds of Bonds, travel, payments for pension, retirement, health and hospitalization and life and disability insurance benefits, payments for insurance against losses on the pool of Program Loans, payments to maintain letters of credit obtained to secure the ability of THDA to pay, redeem or purchase Bonds. Program Expenses may also include amounts for establishing and maintaining a two-month reserve to pay operating costs and a reasonable reserve for losses and expenses estimated to be incurred by THDA and amounts appropriate to reimburse THDA for Program Expenses paid from other sources. Program Expenses shall include the amount of any rebate required to be calculated and set aside by THDA pursuant to applicable federal tax law. THDA in its discretion may calculate the rebate amount annually or at the end of such other periods that it may choose as long as the first rebate calculation and all succeeding rebate calculations are performed no later than required by applicable federal tax law.

"Program Loan Loss Coverage" means that portion of the principal amount of Program Loans outstanding which must be treated as a loss for purposes of maintaining the current ratings on the Bonds.

"Projected Cash Flow Statement" means a certificate of an Authorized Officer of THDA setting forth for the current and each succeeding fiscal year in which Bonds are scheduled to be outstanding, THDA's estimate of, among other things: (i) the Revenues, other than Prepayments, expected to be received on all Program Loans financed or expected to be financed with proceeds of Outstanding Bonds; (ii) the aggregate amount of prepayments of Program Loans which THDA reasonably expects to receive with respect to such Program Loans and which are to be applied to the payment of Bonds as set forth in the Supplemental Resolution; (iii) all other Revenues, including the interest to be earned and other income to be derived from the investment of the Funds and Accounts and the rates used in estimating such amounts; (iv) the amount, if any, expected to be withdrawn from the Bond Reserve Fund, provided, the amount on deposit in such Fund is expected to at least equal the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such withdrawal and the withdrawal is permitted under the General Resolution; (v) the aggregate Debt Service on Outstanding Bonds during such fiscal year; and (vi) all Program Expenses during such fiscal year.

"Revenue Fund" means the Revenue Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Revenues" means all payments, proceeds, rents, charges, and other cash income received by THDA from or on account of any Program Loan including scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of any insurance proceeds with respect to principal and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicer as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loan and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan.

"Sinking Fund Payment" means, as of any particular date of calculation, the amount required to be paid at all events by THDA on a certain future date for the retirement of Outstanding Bonds which mature after said future date, but does not include any amount payable by THDA by reason of the maturity of a Bond or by call for redemption at the election of THDA.

Resolution Constitutes Contract (Section 2.2)

The General Resolution constitutes a contract between THDA and the holders of the Bonds and the pledges, covenants and agreements to be performed by THDA are for the equal benefit, protection and security of the holders of any and all of the Bonds..

Obligation of Bonds (Section 2.3)

The Bonds will be special limited obligations of THDA payable only from the revenues and assets pledged therefor. These revenues and assets include the following: mortgage receipts; non-mortgage receipts, including interest earned from the investment of funds in the Escrow Fund or any other Fund or Account; and right, title, and interest in and to the Program Loans.

Provisions for Issuance of Bonds (Sections 2.4, 2.6, 7.3, and 7.15)

The General Resolution authorizes Bonds to be issued from time to time in accordance with its terms without limitation as to amount except as provided by law. The Bonds of a Series may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things:

(1) a Bond Counsel's Opinion to the effect, among other things, that the Bonds of such Series have been duly and validly authorized and issued in accordance with the constitution and statutes of the State, including the Act as amended to the date of such opinion, and in accordance with the General Resolution;

(2) the amount of the proceeds of such Series to be deposited with the Trustee pursuant to the General Resolution (see "Application of Bond Proceeds" below):

(3) except in the case of the initial or a refunding issue, a certificate of an authorized officer stating that THDA is not in default in the performance of any of the covenants, conditions, agreements or provisions contained in the General Resolution and that all other conditions for the issuance of additional Bonds have been met; and

(4) except in the case of a refunding issue, a Projected Cash Flow Statement, as described in Appendix D, showing that the estimated Revenues for each fiscal year in which Bonds will be outstanding, together with any amount scheduled to be withdrawn from the Bond Reserve Fund (and permitted to be so withdrawn pursuant to the Resolution), will be sufficient for the payment of the estimated debt service and program expenses for such fiscal year.

Provisions for Refunding Issues (Section 2.7)

Refunding Bonds may be issued to refund any Outstanding Bonds. Refunding Bonds may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things, irrevocable instructions to give notice of the redemption of all Bonds to be refunded and to give published notice as required of the redemption of such Bonds and either (i) moneys sufficient to effect payment at the applicable Redemption Price of the Bonds to be refunded, together with interest accrued to the Redemption Date, or (ii) direct obligations of, or obligations insured or guaranteed by, the United States of America or certificates of deposit secured by such obligations, which by their terms will provide moneys sufficient to provide for the payment of such Redemption Price and accrued interest. Any such moneys, obligations or certificates are required to be held irrevocably in the Redemption Account established under the General Resolution.

Application of Bond Proceeds (Sections 4.1 and 4.3)

As soon as practicable upon the delivery of each Series of Bonds, other than refunding Bonds, an amount necessary to cause the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund to at least equal the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such delivery is required to be deposited in the Bond Reserve Fund. Proceeds of such Series of Bonds which are not to be deposited in such Fund are to be deposited at the direction of an Authorized Officer.

Amounts in the Loan Fund may not be expended and applied for the financing of a Program Loan unless the note issued to evidence the Program Loan and a mortgage securing the Program Loan have been duly executed and, among other things:

(1) the mortgage securing such Program Loan constitutes a first lien, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, on the real property or interest therein securing such Program Loan and on the fixtures acquired with the proceeds of the Program Loan attached to or used in connection with such residential housing;

(2) the eligible borrower has entered into a binding agreement with or for the benefit of THDA that it will pay or escrow all taxes, assessments, water rates, sewer rents and municipal and other charges and fees and any prior liens levied against the premises or any part thereof, and in the case of default in the payment thereof THDA, without notice or demand to the mortgagor, may pay the same and the amount will be a lien on the premises added to the amount of the Program Loan;

(3) the eligible borrower must covenant that the proceeds of the Program Loan will be used solely to pay the reasonable and necessary costs of obtaining the residential housing financed by the Program Loan;

(4) the eligible borrower must covenant that it will keep the buildings on the premises insured against loss by fire and other hazards as required by THDA and that it will maintain the premises in good repair and comply with all requirements of governmental authorities relating thereto; and

(5) the eligible borrower must obtain a policy of title insurance insuring THDA that the mortgage is valid and enforceable in the full amount of the Program Loan.

(6) the Program Loan must be (i) insured by the Federal Housing Administration, (ii) guaranteed by the Rural Economic Community Development Corp. (formerly Farmers Home Administration) or the Veteran's Administration, (iii) insured or guaranteed by a successor federal or state agency, (iv) have a principal amount not exceeding 78% of the value of the property securing such Program Loan as determined in an appraisal by or acceptable to THDA, or (v) be insured to the extent of any excess over such percentage by a private mortgage insurance company acceptable to THDA and meeting the requirements of the Resolution.

Deposits and Investments (Sections 4.5, 4.6 and 4.7)

All amounts held by the Trustee, any Paying Agent or any Depository under the General Resolution may be deposited in interest-bearing time deposits, repurchase agreements or certificates of deposit or be the subject of similar banking arrangements with commercial banks, savings and loans or investment dealers and, in addition, any amounts held by the Trustee thereunder may be invested in Investment Securities. All amounts held under the General Resolution which are not held in trust for the payment of particular Bonds or which do not represent an investment of amounts held thereunder must be continuously and fully secured for the benefit of THDA and the holders of the Bonds by lodging Investment Securities with the Trustee or in such other manner as may then be required by applicable federal or state laws regarding the deposit of trust funds. In computing the amount in any Fund or Account, obligations purchased as an investment of moneys therein shall be valued at market, except that for purposes of determining the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement at the time of initial funding from Bond proceeds, the issuance of additional obligations and for any other purpose under the General Resolution, such obligations shall be valued at par if purchased at par value or at amortized value if purchased at other than par value. Valuation shall be made as soon as practicable prior to each interest payment date and at any other time required under the General Resolution and on any particular date shall not include the amount of interest then earned or accrued to such date on any deposit or investment.

Establishment of Funds and Accounts (Section 5.1)

The General Resolution establishes the following special trust funds and accounts which are to be held by the Trustee:

(1) Loan Fund;

(2) Revenue Fund,

Debt Service and Expense Account,
Non-Mortgage Receipts Account, and
Redemption Account;

(3) Bond Reserve Fund; and

Loan Fund (Section 5.2)

In addition to proceeds of a Series of Bonds, amounts are required to be deposited in the Loan Fund from the Revenue Fund under certain circumstances as more fully described below (see “Revenue Fund”). Amounts in the Loan Fund may be expended only to pay the cost of financing Program Loans, to pay reasonable and necessary Costs of Issuance, and to make deposits in the Debt Service and Expense Account with respect to capitalized interest. Amounts in the Loan Fund may, however, be transferred to the Revenue Fund if a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee. At the direction of THDA, the Trustee may transfer amounts in the Loan Fund to the Redemption Account or apply such amounts directly to the redemption, purchase or retirement of Bonds at any time that such Bonds are subject to redemption or payment from such amounts, but only if there is delivered to the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement and a certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that, in the judgment of THDA, the estimated Revenues available after the payment of estimated Debt Service on the Bonds and Program expenses are greater than they would have been if all or a portion of such amounts had been applied to the financing of Program Loans.

Revenue Fund (Section 5.3)

The General Resolution establishes the following trust accounts within the Revenue Fund: the Debt Service and Expense Account, the Redemption Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account.

Debt Service and Expense Account. All Revenues are to be deposited promptly with a Depository and transmitted to the Trustee at least monthly for deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account within the Revenue Fund. The Trustee is required to make payments out of the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Paying Agents as follows: (a) on or before each interest payment date, the amounts required for the payment of principal installments, if any, and interest due on the Bonds on such date and (b) on or before the Redemption Date or date of purchase, the amounts required for the payment of accrued interest on Bonds redeemed or purchased for retirement, unless such interest is otherwise provided for.

Prior to the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee may, and if so directed by THDA is required to, apply any amount accumulated in the Debt Service and Expense Account up to the unsatisfied balance of such Sinking Fund Payment (together with amounts accumulated in the Revenue Fund with respect to interest on the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established) as follows: (a) to the purchase of the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established, at prices not exceeding the Redemption Price for such Bonds if they are redeemable by application of said Sinking Fund Payment plus unpaid interest accrued to the date of purchase, or (b) to the redemption of such Bonds if then redeemable by their terms at the Redemption Price referred to in clause (a) hereof. Upon such purchase or redemption of any Bond, an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bond so purchased or redeemed will be credited to the Sinking Fund Payment next coming due. The excess of the amounts so credited over the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment will be credited by the Trustee against future Sinking Fund Payments in direct chronological order, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

As soon as practicable after the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee is to proceed to call for redemption on such due date Bonds of the Series and Maturity for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established in a principal amount equal to the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment. The Trustee is required to call such Bonds for redemption whether or not it then has moneys in the Debt Service and Expense Account sufficient to pay the applicable Redemption Price on the Redemption Date.

Within ninety days after the close of each Fiscal Year, THDA is required to file with the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement as of the first day of the then current Fiscal Year (but assuming the transfer of any amount to the Loan Fund as provided in clause (b) of this sentence) which states (a) the amount remaining in the Debt Service and Expense Account as of such first day after deducting all payments made on each interest payment date as described above and (b) the amount required to be transferred to the Loan Fund in accordance with the assumptions made in such Projected Cash Flow Statement. Upon receipt thereof, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the amount stated in clause (a) above as follows:

> FIRST: From the amount so available the amount, if any, by which the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund is less than the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement shall be transferred to the Bond Reserve Fund.
> SECOND: From the amount, if any, so available after the transfer provided above has been made, the amount needed to be transferred to THDA to pay reasonable and necessary Program Expenses which are due and owing.
> THIRD: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after the transfers provided above have been made, the amount, if any, stated in such Projected Cash Flow Statement as to be transferred to the Loan Fund shall be so transferred and if such Projected Cash Flow Statement does not comply with subsection 7.11(C) the amount so available shall be transferred to the Loan Fund as set forth in the Certificate delivered in accordance with Section 5.3(H).
> FOURTH: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after any transfers provided for above have been made, the remaining amount shall be transferred to the Redemption Account as directed by THDA. If, however, the amount of Program Loans (valued at par) and Investment Securities held by the Trustee hereunder (other than Investment Securities in the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund) valued in accordance with this Resolution, is greater than 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, then the amount remaining, up to such excess above the 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, may be withdrawn from the Debt Service and Expense Account at any time during the then current Fiscal Year, upon receipt by the Trustee of a Certificate to such effect from an Authorized Officer of THDA and a Projected Cash Flow Statement after giving effect to such withdrawal, to be applied to any purpose of THDA consistent with THDA's tax covenants described below, free and clear of the lien of any pledge of this Resolution. The Projected Cash Flow Statement for purposes of this provision shall include all Program Loans, including any Program Loans which have been in payment default for sixty (60) or more consecutive days. For the purposes of this paragraph,

there shall be excluded from the amount of Program Loans and Investment Securities any Program Loans or Investment Securities which were acquired with amounts deposited in the Loan Fund or the Bond Reserve Fund from sources other than the proceeds of Bonds or transfers from the Revenue Fund, unless, at the time such amounts were deposited therein, the Trustee receives a Certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that such amounts are not necessary to be deposited therein in order to provide Revenues sufficient to provide for the payment of Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee may at any time, upon the written direction of an Authorized Officer (a) make transfers from the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Bond Reserve Fund or the Redemption Account for the purposes of such Fund or Account or (b) make payments to THDA for the purpose of paying reasonable and necessary Program Expenses for the then current Fiscal Year. No such transfer is to be made, however, unless there is on deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after such transfer or payment an amount equal to the principal and interest accrued on all Outstanding Bonds as of the date of such transfer or payment, plus an amount equal to the cumulative amount of prepayments received by THDA during such fiscal year which exceeds the amount of prepayments estimated to be applied to the payment of Debt Service during such fiscal year in the most recent Projected Cash Flow Statement delivered to the Trustee by THDA. In addition no such transfers shall be made until a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee and no payment for Program Expenses is to be made unless the revenue statement to be delivered to the Trustee for each preceding month as described below shows that accrued Revenues exceed accrued Debt Service.

No payments are required to be made into the Debt Service and Expense Account so long as the amount on deposit therein is sufficient to pay all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof) in accordance with their terms, and any Revenues thereafter received by THDA may be applied to any purpose of THDA free and clear of the lien of the pledge of the General Resolution.

Redemption Account. There are to be deposited in the Redemption Account any amounts required by the General Resolution to be so deposited and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein. The Trustee is required to apply the amounts deposited in the Redemption Account to the payment, purchase or redemption of Bonds at the earliest practicable Redemption Date as described under “Redemption of Bonds.”

Upon the purchase or redemption of Bonds of any Series and maturity for which Sinking Fund Payments have been established from amounts in the Redemption Account, each future Sinking Fund Payment for such Bonds will be credited by an amount bearing the same ratio to such Sinking Fund Payment as the total principal amount of such Bonds to be so purchased or redeemed bears to the total amount of all such Sinking Fund Payments, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. All Non-Mortgage Receipts received by the Trustee are to be promptly deposited in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. The Trustee is required to maintain records sufficient to determine the average daily balance of the amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund, the Bond Reserve Fund and the Debt Service and Expense Account and Redemption Account in the Revenue Fund. If so directed by THDA, the Trustee must maintain such records separately for each Series of Bonds.

Semi-annually not later than each Interest Payment Date, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account to the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount needed to enable the Trustee to pay Debt Service on the Bonds on such Interest Payment Date and (ii) the balance then on deposit in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. If at any time the amount available prior to any Interest Payment Date shall be insufficient for the making of such transfers, then the Trustee shall make transfers to the Debt Service and Expense Account from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account from the first available Non-Mortgage Receipts received subsequent to such Interest Payment Date and the amount so transferred shall not reduce the amount required to be transferred prior to the next Interest Payment Date.

Any amount remaining in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after the semi-annual transfer to the Debt Service and Expense Account shall be transferred, at the direction of an Authorized Officer, to the Loan Fund, the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund.

Bond Reserve Fund (Section 5.4)

If on any Interest Payment Date or Redemption Date, the amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund and the Redemption Fund are less than the amount required for the payments due on the Bonds on such date, the Trustee is to apply amounts from the Bond Reserve Fund to the extent required to make good the deficiency.

If concurrently with the allocation from the Revenue Fund, the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund is in excess of the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement, the Trustee may, if so directed, transfer the amount of such excess to the Redemption Account.

Whenever the amount in the Bond Reserve Fund, together with the amount in the Revenue Fund, is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof), all amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund are to be transferred to the Bond Reserve Fund. Prior to such transfer, all investments held in the Revenue Fund are to be liquidated and any Bonds constituting a part of such Fund will be deemed paid and canceled.

Escrow Fund (Section 5.5)

There shall be deposited in the Escrow Fund, all amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited therein and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein.

Amounts in the Escrow Fund may be applied to any lawful purpose of THDA consistent with the Resolution.

Redemption of Bonds (Sections 3.7, 5.3, 6.4 and 6.5)

Bonds may be redeemed from amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund or the Revenue Fund or from other amounts made available by THDA for such purpose. Amounts deposited in the Redemption Account within the Loan Fund must be applied to the redemption of Bonds at the earliest possible time, subject to their terms and the terms of their respective authorizing resolutions. If THDA directs the publication of a notice of redemption from amounts other than amounts in the Redemption Account, THDA is responsible to provide funds for such redemption to the appropriate Paying Agents prior to the date of redemption.

Amounts on deposit in the Revenue Account which are to be applied to the redemption of Bonds may, until the forty-fifth day prior to the date for redemption of such Bonds, be applied to the purchase of such Bonds at prices not exceeding the applicable redemption price, plus accrued interest, unless such Bonds are to be redeemed more than thirteen months from the date of purchase, in which event the purchase price may not exceed par. Any difference between the maximum price payable for such Bonds and the price actually paid is to be deposited in the Debt Service and Expense Account.

The selection of Bonds to be redeemed from the amounts to be applied to the redemption of Bonds of such particular Series and maturity is to be made by the Trustee by lot. For such purpose registered bonds of a denomination greater than $5,000 are to be assigned separate numbers for each $5,000 portion. In the event that the Trustee is required to redeem Appreciation Bonds by lot, the Trustee will assign a separate number to each Appreciation Bond on the basis of its Maturity Amount. The Trustee shall mail, postage prepaid, a copy of the notice of redemption not less than 20 days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to the provider of a central depository system) prior to the date of redemption to the registered owners of all registered Bonds subject to redemption at the last address of such registered owners appearing on the registry books in respect of the Bonds. Publication of notice of redemption is not required if all Bonds to be redeemed are registered bonds. THDA is not obliged to exchange or transfer Bonds within ten days preceding the giving of notice of redemption and is not obliged to exchange or transfer any Bonds which have previously been called for redemption.

Power as to Bonds and Pledge (Section 7.3)

THDA covenants that it is duly authorized pursuant to law to authorize and issue the Bonds and to adopt the General Resolution and to pledge the assets and revenues purported to be pledged by the General Resolution in the manner and to the extent provided in the General Resolution.

Payment of Bonds (Section 7.4)

THDA covenants that it will duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid the principal or Redemption Price, if any, of every Bond and the interest thereon, at the dates and places and in the manner stated in the Bonds, according to the true intent and meaning thereof, and shall duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid all Sinking Fund Payments, if any, becoming payable with respect to any Series of Bonds.

Tax Covenants (Section 7.9)

THDA covenants that (i) it will not permit at any time or times any of the proceeds of the Bonds or other funds of THDA to be used directly or indirectly to acquire any securities or obligations the acquisition of which would cause any Bond to be an “arbitrage bond” as defined in the applicable federal tax law and (ii) it will not permit such proceeds or other funds to be used in such manner as would result in the exclusion of any Bond from the treatment afforded by the applicable federal tax law by reason of the classification of such Bond as a “mortgage subsidy bond” pursuant to the applicable federal tax law or as an “industrial development bond” within the meaning of the applicable federal tax law, except in the case of Bonds held by a “substantial user” or “related person” within the meaning of Section 147(c) of the Code.

Accounts and Reports (Section 7.10)

THDA covenants that it will keep, or cause to be kept, proper books of record and account in which complete and accurate entries shall be made of all its transactions relating to the Housing Finance Program and all Funds established by the General Resolution which shall at all reasonable times be subject to the inspection of the Trustee and the holders of an aggregate of not less than 5% in principal amount of Bonds then Outstanding or their representatives duly authorized in writing.

On or before the twenty-fifth day of each month or as soon as practicable thereafter, THDA is required to submit to the Trustee a statement of account for the preceding month setting forth the amount received as Revenues during such month and stating the cumulative amount of Revenues (including individual totals for prepayments and monthly Program Loan receipts) and Non-Mortgage Receipts which have been received since the date upon which the last Principal Installment on Outstanding Bonds was payable.

THDA must annually, within ninety days after the close of each fiscal year, file with the Trustee (1) a copy of an annual report for such fiscal year, setting forth its operations and accomplishments during such fiscal year and (2) financial statements of THDA for such fiscal year setting forth in reasonable detail: (a) a balance sheet for THDA and its programs showing the assets and liabilities of the Housing Finance Program at the end of such fiscal year, and (b) a statement of revenues and expenses in accordance with the categories or classifications established by THDA so long as such financial statements for the Housing Finance Program are separately identified and are consistent with the requirements of the General Resolution and satisfactory to the Trustee. The financial statements shall be accompanied by the certificate of an independent accountant stating that the financial statements examined present fairly the financial position of THDA at the end of the fiscal year, the results of its operations and the changes in financial position for the period examined, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. A copy of each annual Projected Cash Flow Statement and annual report or special report and any accountant’s certificate shall be mailed promptly thereafter by THDA to each Bondholder who shall have filed his name and address with THDA for such purposes.

Budgets (Section 7.12)

THDA must adopt an annual budget covering its fiscal operations for the succeeding fiscal year not later than the first day of each such fiscal year, and file the same with the Trustee and with such officials of THDA as required under the Act. The annual budget shall at least set forth for such fiscal year the estimated revenues, principal installments and interest due and payable or estimated to become due and payable during such fiscal year and estimated expenses of the Housing Finance Program. THDA at any time may adopt and file with the Trustee an amended annual budget for the remainder of the then current fiscal year in the manner provided in the General Resolution for the adoption of the annual budget. Copies of the annual budget and any amended annual budget must be made available by the Trustee for inspection by any Bondholder.

THDA covenants from time to time, with all practical dispatch and in a sound and economical manner consistent in all respects with the Act, with the provisions of the General Resolution and with sound banking practices and principles, to use and apply the proceeds of the Bonds (to the extent not reasonably or otherwise required for other purposes of the Housing Finance Program) to finance Program Loans, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect Revenues sufficient to pay the expenses of the Program and to diligently enforce, and take all steps, actions and proceedings reasonably necessary in the judgment of THDA to maintain any insurance on Program Loans and to enforce all terms, covenants and conditions of Program Loans.

Whenever necessary in order to protect and enforce the interest and security of the holders of the Bonds, THDA covenants to commence foreclosure or pursue other appropriate remedies with respect to any Program Loan which is in default. In the event that THDA shall, in its discretion, determine such action to be in the best interests of the holders of the Bonds, THDA may bid for and purchase the premises covered by any such Program Loan at any foreclosure sale thereof or may otherwise take possession of or acquire such premises.

THDA may sell, assign or otherwise dispose of a Program Loan or the premises to which such Program Loan is related:

(1) in order to realize the benefits of insurance with respect to such Program Loan or premises;

(2) in order to provide funds to provide for the redemption or purchase of an amount of Bonds having a value corresponding to the value of such Program Loan; or

(3) if a Projected Cash Flow Statement has been filed with the Trustee giving effect to the proposed sale thereof.

Upon the happening of an Event of Default resulting from nonpayment of the Bonds and at the written request of the Trustee or of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, THDA is required to deliver the Program Loans to the Trustee and take any other steps requested by the Trustee or such Bondholders in order to further effectuate the assignment of all of the Program Loans to the Trustee.

Powers of Amendment (Section 9.2)

Except with respect to certain modifications or amendments that do not require consent of bondholders as described in the General Resolution, any modification or amendment of any provision of the General Resolution or of the rights and obligations of THDA and of the holders of the Bonds may be made by a Supplemental Resolution, with the written consent given as provided in the General Resolution (a) of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, (b) in case less than all of the several Series of Bonds would be affected by such modification or amendment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of each Series so affected, or (c) in case the modification or amendment changes the terms of any Sinking Fund Payment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of the particular Series and maturity entitled to such Sinking Fund Payment, except that if such modification or amendment will, by its terms, not take effect so long as any Bonds of any specified like Series and maturity remain Outstanding, the consent of the holders of such Bonds shall not be required. No such modification or amendment shall permit a change in the terms of redemption or maturity of the principal of any Outstanding Bond or of any installment of interest thereon or a reduction in the principal amount or the Redemption Price thereof or in the rate of interest thereon without the consent of the holder of such Bond or shall reduce the percentages or otherwise affect the classes of Bonds, the consent of the holders of which is required to effect any such modification or amendment.

Events of Default (Sections 10.1 and 10.10)

It is an "event of default" if: (a) THDA shall default in the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if any, on any Bond when and as the same shall become due, whether at maturity or upon call for redemption or otherwise; (b) payment of any installment of interest on any of the Bonds shall not be made within thirty days after the same shall become due; or (c) THDA fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of the General Resolution, or shall default in the performance or observance of any of the covenants, agreements or conditions contained therein, in any Supplemental Resolution, or in the Bonds, and such failure, refusal or default shall continue for a period of forty-five days after written notice thereof by the Trustee or the holders of not less than 5% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee must give the Bondholders notice of each event of default known to the Trustee within ninety days, unless such event of default has been remedied or cured, except that, in the case of default in the payment of the principal of or Redemption Price or interest on any of the Bonds, or in the making of any payment required to be made into the Loan Fund, the Trustee may withhold such notice if and so long as the board of directors, the executive committee, or a trust committee of directors or responsible officers of the Trustee in good faith determines that the withholding of such notice is in the interest of the Bondholders. Each such notice is to be given by mail: (i) to all registered holders of Bonds, as their names and addresses appear upon the books for registration and transfer of Bonds as kept by the Trustee, (ii) to such holders of Bonds as have filed their names and addresses with the Trustee for that purpose, and (iii) to such other persons as is required by law.

Remedies (Sections 10.2 and 10.3)

Upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (a) and (b) above, the Trustee shall proceed, or upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (c) above, the Trustee may proceed, and upon the written request of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds (75% with respect to an acceleration) shall proceed, in its own name, subject to the General Resolution, to protect and enforce the rights of the Bondholders by such of the following remedies as the Trustee, being advised by counsel, shall deem most effectual to protect and enforce such rights: (a) by mandamus or other suit, action or proceeding at law or in equity, to enforce all rights of the Bondholders, including the right to require THDA to receive and collect Revenues adequate to carry out the covenants and agreements as to, and the assignment of, the Program Loans and to require THDA to carry out any other covenant or agreement with Bondholders and to perform its duties under the Act; (b) by bringing suit upon the Bonds; (c) by action or suit in equity, to require THDA to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the holders of the Bonds; (d) by action or suit in equity, to enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the holders of the Bonds; (e) by declaring all Bonds due and payable, and if all defaults shall be made good, then, with the written consent of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, by annulling such declaration and its consequences; or (f) in the event that all Bonds are declared due and payable, by selling Program Loans and Investment Securities.

Except upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default under the Resolution, THDA reserves and retains the privilege to receive and, subject to the terms and provisions of the Resolution, to keep or dispose of, claim, bring suit upon or otherwise exercise, enforce or realize upon its rights and interest in and to the Program Loans and the proceeds and collections therefrom, and neither the Trustee nor any Bondholder will be deemed to be an indispensable party for such purposes.

In the event that during the continuance of an event of default, the funds held by the Trustee and Paying Agents are insufficient for the payment of principal or Redemption Price, if any, and interest then due on the Bonds, such funds (other than funds held for the payment or redemption of particular Bonds which have theretofore become due at maturity or by call for redemption) and any other moneys received or collected by the Trustee acting pursuant to the Act and the General Resolution, after making provision for the payment of any expenses necessary in the opinion of the Trustee to protect the interests of the holders of the Bonds and for the payment of the charges and expenses and liabilities incurred and advances made by the Trustee or any Paying Agents in the performance of their duties under the General Resolution, are to be applied as follows:

(1) Unless the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable:

FIRST: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of all installments of interest then due in the order of the maturity of such installments, and, if the amount available is not sufficient to pay in full any installment, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts due on such installment, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

SECOND: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of the unpaid principal or Redemption Price of any Bonds which shall have become due, whether at maturity or by call for redemption, in the order of their due dates and, if the amounts available shall not be sufficient to pay in full all the Bonds due on any date, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts of principal or Redemption Price, if any, due on such date, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

(2) If the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable, to the payment of the principal and interest then due and unpaid upon the Bond without preference or priority of principal over interest or of interest over principal, or of any installment of interest over any other installment of interest, or of any Bond over any other Bond, ratably, according to the amounts due respectively for principal and interest, to the persons entitled thereto without any discrimination or preference except as to any difference in the respective rates of interest specified in the Bonds.

Bondholders' Direction of Remedial Proceedings (Section 10.5)

The holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding retain the right, upon a written instruction, to direct the method used by the Trustee in conducting all remedial proceedings, but only if such direction is in accordance with the law and the provisions of the Resolution, and is not unjustly, prejudicial, in the Trustee's opinion, to the remaining Bondholders.

Limitation on Rights of Bondholders (Section 10.6)

No individual Bondholder may initiate legal proceedings to enforce rights under the General Resolution unless such holder shall have given to the Trustee written notice of the event of default or breach of duty on account of which such proceeding is to be taken, and unless the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding have made written request of the Trustee after the right to exercise such right of action has occurred, and have afforded the Trustee a reasonable opportunity either to exercise the powers granted to it under the General Resolution or to institute such proceedings in its name and unless, also, there has been offered to the Trustee reasonable security and indemnity against costs, expenses and liabilities and the Trustee has refused or neglected to comply with such request within a reasonable time. No provision in the General Resolution on defaults and remedies affects or impairs the right of any Bondholder to enforce the payment of the principal of and interest on his Bonds, or the obligation of THDA to pay the same.

Compensation of Trustee and Paying Agents (Section 11.5)

THDA is required to pay reasonable compensation to the Trustee and to each Paying Agent for all services rendered under the General Resolution, and also all reasonable expenses, charges, counsel fees and other disbursements, including those of their attorneys, agents and employees, incurred in and about the performance of their powers and duties under the General Resolution, and the Trustee and each Paying Agent shall have a lien therefor on any and all funds at any time held by it under the General Resolution.

Removal of Trustee (Sections 11.8 and 11.9)

The Trustee is required to be removed if so requested by the holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding, excluding any Bonds held by or for the account of THDA. THDA may remove the Trustee at any time, except during the existence of an event of default, for such cause as THDA may determine in its sole discretion. In either such event, a successor is required to be appointed.

Defeasance (Section 12.1)

If THDA shall pay or cause to be paid to the holders of the Bonds, the principal and interest and Redemption Price, if any, to become due thereon, at the times and in the manner stipulated therein and in the General Resolution, then the pledge of any revenues and assets thereby pledged and all other rights granted thereby shall be discharged and satisfied.

Bonds or interest installments for the payment or redemption of which moneys have been set aside and held in trust by Fiduciaries (through deposit by THDA of funds for such payment or redemption or otherwise) at the maturity or Redemption Date thereof will be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect expressed in the above paragraph. Any Bonds shall prior to the maturity or Redemption Date thereof be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect so expressed if (a) in case any of said Bonds are to be redeemed on any date prior to their maturity, THDA has given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as provided in the General Resolution, notice of redemption on said date of such Bonds, (b) there have been deposited with the Trustee either moneys in an amount which are sufficient, or Investment Securities, the principal of and the interest on which when due will provide moneys which, together with the moneys, if any, deposited with the Trustee at the same time, will be sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest due and to become due on said Bonds on and prior to the Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and (c) in the event said Bonds are not by their terms subject to redemption within the next succeeding sixty days, THDA has given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as soon as practicable, at least twice, at an interval of not less than seven days between publications, in the Authorized Newspapers a notice to the holders of such Bonds that the deposit required by (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid and stating such maturity or Redemption Date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, on said Bonds. Neither the Investment Securities nor the moneys so deposited with the Trustee nor principal or interest payments on any such Investment Securities shall be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than (and shall be held in trust for) the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest on said Bonds, but any cash received from such principal or interest payments on such Investment Securities deposited with the Trustee, if not then needed for such purpose, shall, to the extent practicable, be reinvested in Investment Securities maturing at times and in amounts sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest to become due on said Bonds on and prior to such Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and interest earned from such reinvestments shall be paid over to THDA, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution")

THDA has issued bonds in the initial aggregate principal amount of $191,885,000 under the 1974 General Resolution which were outstanding as shown on the table below after giving effect to redemptions and regularly scheduled payments of principal and accretion of interest:

Issue of Bonds	Dated	Issued	Outstanding as of January 31, 2011 (unaudited)	Mortgage Rates	Net Interest Cost
2003 Series A	September 4, 2003	$191,885,000	$78,665,000	7.05/7.75	4.90
TOTAL		$191,885,000	$78,665,000

Single Family Program Bond Resolution (the "1981 Resolution")

On February 2, 1994, THDA issued and sold Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 1994-1 (Taxable) in the aggregate principal amount of $33,500,000 (the "Issue 1994-1 Bonds") the proceeds of which were used to redeem all bonds then outstanding under the 1981 Resolution. All assets under the 1981 Resolution, including mortgages financed with the proceeds of bonds issued under the 1981 Resolution and remaining cash and investments held for the benefit of bondholders under the 1981 Resolution, were transferred out of the 1981 Resolution at the time of the issuance and sale of the Issue 1994-1 Bonds.

Other Information

The State Treasurer is the treasurer of THDA and is the custodian of the assets of THDA, except for those assets required to be in the custody of the Trustee pursuant to the provisions of the Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or any other resolution THDA may adopt. The Board of Directors of THDA has adopted an investment policy for THDA assets, other than its mortgage assets (the "non-mortgage assets"). These non-mortgage assets are invested only in investments authorized by the Act, THDA's investment policy, the Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution, any other resolution THDA may adopt, and by the Treasurer. The Treasurer has delegated all duties and responsibilities in connection with THDA's investment of THDA non-mortgage assets to the Executive Director of THDA.

APPENDIX G

BOOK-ENTRY-ONLY SYSTEM

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION CONCERNING DTC AND DTC'S BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM HAS BEEN OBTAINED FROM SOURCES THAT THDA BELIEVES TO BE RELIABLE, BUT THDA TAKES NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACCURACY THEREOF. NEITHER THDA NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT WILL HAVE ANY RESPONSIBILITY OR OBLIGATION TO DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS, BENEFICIAL OWNERS OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS FOR (1) SENDING TRANSACTION STATEMENTS; (2) MAINTAINING, SUPERVISING OR REVIEWING, OR THE ACCURACY OF, ANY RECORDS MAINTAINED BY DTC OR ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS; (3) PAYMENT OR THE TIMELINESS OF PAYMENT BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNER, OF ANY AMOUNT DUE IN RESPECT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF OR REDEMPTION PREMIUM, IF ANY, OR INTEREST ON BONDS; (4) DELIVERY OR TIMELY DELIVERY BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNERS, OF ANY NOTICE (INCLUDING NOTICE OF REDEMPTION) OR OTHER COMMUNICATION WHICH IS REQUIRED OR PERMITTED UNDER THE TERMS OF THE RESOLUTION TO BE GIVEN TO HOLDERS OR OWNERS OF BONDS; (5) THE SELECTION OF THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO RECEIVE PAYMENT IN THE EVENT OF ANY PARTIAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS; OR (6) ANY ACTION TAKEN BY DTC OR ITS NOMINEE AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS.

NEITHER THDA, NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT, NOR ANY UNDERWRITER (OTHER THAN IN ITS CAPACITY, IF ANY, AS DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS), WILL HAVE ANY OBLIGATION TO THE DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT AS NOMINEES WITH RESPECT TO DTC'S PROCEDURES OR ANY PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS BETWEEN DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS, INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS AND THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT RELATING TO THE MAKING OF ANY DEMAND BY CEDE & CO. AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS, THE ADHERENCE TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS OR THE EFFECTIVENESS OF ANY ACTION TAKEN PURSUANT TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS.

1. The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, NY, will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds will be issued as fully-registered securities registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC's partnership nominee) or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC.

2. DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. DTC holds securities that its participants ("Direct Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organizations. DTC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com and www.dtc.org.

3. Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each Bond ("Beneficial Owner") is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction.

Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

4. To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. or such other nominee do not effect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

5. Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to take certain steps to augment the transmission to them of notices of significant events with respect to the Bonds, such as redemptions, tenders, defaults, and proposed amendments to the security documents. For example, Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to ascertain that the nominee holding the Bonds for their benefit has agreed to obtain and transmit notices to Beneficial Owners. In the alternative, Beneficial Owners may wish to provide their names and addresses to the registrar and request that copies of the notices be provided directly to them.

6. Redemption notices shall be sent to DTC. If less than all of the Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

7. Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds unless authorized by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC’s Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to THDA as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

8. Redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments on the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts, upon DTC's receipt of funds and corresponding detail information from the Trustee on payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, or the Trustee or THDA, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the Trustee, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants will be the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners will be the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

9. DTC may discontinue providing its services as depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Trustee or THDA. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor depository is not obtained, Bonds certificates are required to be printed and delivered.

10. THDA may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry only transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bonds certificates will be printed and delivered.

PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES

Income and Acquisition Cost Limits

THDA limits the maximum gross annual household income for eligible borrowers and the maximum acquisition cost for homes financed by Program Loans in accordance with Section 143 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and applicable regulations promulgated thereunder (the "Code"). The limits vary from county to county and are periodically adjusted. The most recent household income limit adjustments were effective June 17, 2010. THDA's income limits range from $54,600 to $74,980 depending on household size and geographic location. See Appendix F for more information about income limits. THDA's income limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor income limits established under the Code.

THDA's acquisition cost limits are either within the safe-harbor limitations established under the Code or are established, based on procedures in the Code, using THDA's actual data which justifies a higher limit. The most recent acquisition cost limits were effective as of June 17, 2010. THDA's maximum acquisition cost limitations vary from $200,160 to $226,100, depending on geographic location. See Appendix F for more information about acquisition cost limits.

THDA has in the past and may, at any time, further restrict or otherwise modify income and acquisition cost limits for certain specialized Program Loans THDA may elect to finance.

Loan Origination

THDA's Program Loans are originated by certain financial institutions located throughout the State who are approved by THDA to originate Program Loans in its behalf ("Originating Agents"). THDA may purchase Program Loans once they are closed by the Originating Agent or THDA may offer funds to Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis prior to the closings of Program Loans. Originating Agents may charge borrowers a fee, not to exceed 1% of the Program Loan amount, for originating Program Loans. The Originating Agents who may originate Program Loans from Bond proceeds include mortgage banking firms, commercial banks, and savings and loan associations. The lendable proceeds of the Bonds are made available throughout the State. See Appendix C for a description of THDA's Working Agreement with Originating Agents and Guide for Originating Agents.

THDA will set aside a portion of the lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds to make Targeted Area loans for one year as necessary to comply with Section 143(j) of the Code. In the event any of the amounts so reserved by THDA for Targeted Areas remain at the end of the time period specified by the Code, THDA will offer such funds to its Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis.

Requirements Imposed by the Code

Interest on the Bonds is not included in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes only if certain requirements are met, including (i) eligibility requirements for Program Loans and borrowers (see "Mortgage Eligibility Requirements" below), (ii) yield and investment requirements (see "Requirements Related to Arbitrage" below), and (iii) certain other requirements related to the Bonds and the use of proceeds of the Bonds, that are also imposed by the Code.

Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to assure that the interest on the Bonds is not included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. In addition, covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. To comply with these covenants, THDA periodically reviews and modifies its procedures for Originating Agents and Servicers to the extent necessary to operate its single-family mortgage programs in compliance with federal tax law and has established procedures under which such requirements can be met. Such procedures include monitoring the Program Loan applications to be financed with Bond proceeds to ensure compliance with applicable acquisition cost and income limitations. THDA believes that the procedures established are sufficient to ensure that the Bonds will satisfy the requirements of the Code. In the opinion of Bond Counsel, the Guide for Originating Agents, the Guide for Servicers and the Resolution establish procedures under which, if followed, the requirements of applicable federal tax law can be met.

Mortgage Eligibility Requirements -- The Code requires that Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Bonds meet certain mortgage eligibility requirements. THDA must, among other things, reasonably expect at the time each Program Loan is made that the borrower will make the residence financed by the Program Loan the borrower's principal residence within a reasonable time after the financing is provided. Under the procedures which THDA has established, the borrower must certify, at the closing of the Program Loan, that the borrower intends to make the financed residence the borrower's principal residence within sixty days, which is within the period considered reasonable under the Code.

In general, except with respect to Program Loans made in Targeted Areas, borrowers are not permitted to have had a present ownership interest in their principal residence during the three-year period prior to the date on which the Program Loan is closed. THDA will, in cases where the prior ownership limitation applies, require the borrower (i) to provide the most recent federal income tax return and (ii) to certify at the closing of the Program Loan that the borrower has not had a present ownership interest in a principal residence within the preceding three years. In addition, THDA will obtain credit reports for each borrower to determine prior ownership of a principal residence by the borrower.

THDA has established maximum acquisition costs for residences financed with proceeds of Bonds and maximum household income limits, all as permitted by the Code. From time to time, THDA may revise the maximum acquisition cost and the income limits, but in no event will THDA's acquisition cost limits or income limits exceed limits established as permitted under the Code. THDA requires the borrower to certify household income in connection with applying the income limits and requires the borrower and the seller to certify the acquisition cost of the financed residence. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the affidavits of the borrower and the seller and to determine that the Code requirements with respect to acquisition cost limits and income limits are met.

An existing Program Loan or any other existing loan may not be acquired or replaced with proceeds of a Program Loan except for certain initial temporary financing not exceeding a term of 24 months. THDA requires a borrower to certify, at the closing of a Program Loan, that the proceeds of the Program Loan will not be used to acquire or replace an existing loan. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the borrower's federal income tax returns for the preceding year (unless the borrower is not required to file such returns) and a credit report prior to closing to determine if the borrower has any outstanding loans which may have been acquired or replaced with proceeds of the Program Loan.

Program Loans cannot be assumed unless the principal residence, prior home ownership, income and acquisition cost requirements are met at the time of assumption. THDA requires that each of its Program Loans have a "due on sale" clause so that THDA may accelerate the Program Loan if it is assumed and all such requirements are not met. The FHA and VA allow a "due on sale" clause in their respective guaranteed Program Loan programs, provided that the borrower is fully informed and consents in writing to such requirements.

Under the Code, an issue of Bonds is treated as meeting the mortgage eligibility requirements if (i) the issuer in good faith attempted to meet all of the mortgage eligibility requirements before the mortgages were executed, (ii) any failure to comply with the mortgage eligibility requirements is corrected within a reasonable period after such failure is first discovered, and (iii) 95% or more of the lendable proceeds of the issue used to make Program Loans was devoted to finance residences which met all such mortgage eligibility requirements at the time the loans were executed or assumed. In determining whether 95% of the proceeds have been so used, THDA relies on an affidavit of the borrower (the "Borrower Affidavit") and of the seller (the "Seller Affidavit") and on examination of copies of the borrower's most recent federal income tax return, together with credit reports and other relevant documentation.

Requirements Related to Arbitrage -- The Code imposes certain arbitrage requirements in connection with Program Loans financed with the proceeds of Bonds. Generally, the yield on Program Loans financed with lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds may not exceed the yield on such Bonds by more than 1 1/8% and the amount of funds held in certain accounts for such Bonds invested at a yield greater than the yield on such Bonds may not exceed 150% of the current year's debt service on such Bonds.

The Code also requires THDA to periodically rebate to the United States Treasury certain investment earnings on non-mortgage investments to the extent such investment earnings exceed the amount that would have been earned on such investments if those investments were earning a return equal to the yield on the Bonds. THDA has established accounting procedures to determine the amount of such excess investment earnings.

Public Hearing and Approval Requirement -- The Code requires that qualified mortgage bonds be approved prior to issuance by the applicable elected official of the appropriate governmental unit, as specified by statute, after a public hearing held following reasonable public notice or by a voter referendum. THDA has adopted procedures to give public notice, to conduct public hearings, and to obtain approval from the Governor of the State to ensure compliance with the Code.

Reporting Requirement -- The Code requires the issuer of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds to submit to the IRS certain information with respect to the issuer and the particular issue, based on information and reasonable expectations determined as of the date of issue. In addition, each issuer must submit to the IRS a yearly report containing information with regard to the beneficiaries of the proceeds of Program Loans. THDA intends to file for each issue of tax-exempt mortgage bonds it issues, and for each year in which proceeds of any issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds are used to provide Program Loans, the information and reports required.

Certification Requirement -- The Code requires that the aggregate amount of all private activity bonds issued each year in Tennessee be within the volume limitation imposed on the principal amount of tax-exempt mortgage bonds which may be issued in Tennessee for that year. To meet this requirement, THDA requests a certification from an appropriate State official that an issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds is within the volume limitation and files such certification with the IRS or takes alternative action to satisfy this certification requirement.

Targeted Area Requirements -- THDA makes lendable proceeds of Bonds in amounts and for time periods as specified in the Code, available for financing qualified Program Loans for residences in Targeted Areas. Targeted Areas are those census tracts in the State in which seventy percent or more of the families have an income which is eighty percent or less of the statewide median family income or those areas of economic distress designated by the State and approved by the Secretaries of Housing and Urban Development and the Treasury under criteria specified in the Code. THDA has designated certain areas of the State as being in economic distress and such designation has been approved by HUD and the Treasury.

Monitoring for Compliance with the Mortgage Eligibility and Arbitrage Requirements -- Under the procedures which THDA has established to comply with the Code, Originating Agents are responsible for reviewing each Program Loan application and the accompanying documentation, including the Application Affidavit and the Seller Affidavit, for compliance with the Code. Originating Agents are required to take normal and appropriate measures to verify the information given, either independently or concurrently with credit review, when applicable. Originating Agents must cross-check all documentation to ensure that the information presented is complete and consistent. Originating Agents give warranties as to each Program Loan delivered to THDA that, among other things, each Program Loan is in compliance with the Code.

Prior to issuing a commitment to finance a Program Loan and again prior to financing a Program Loan, THDA reviews the Program Loan application submitted by the Originating Agent, which includes the borrower's application, the Application Affidavit, the Seller Affidavit, and the borrower's federal income tax returns, for compliance with the Code. To the extent that these provisions are not complied with, the Originating Agent is contacted to provide additional explanation or documentation to enable THDA to make a determination regarding the status of the Program Loan application. If the Originating Agent does not comply with requests from THDA to correct or complete documentation for any Program Loan or if the Originating Agent fails to comply with the Guide for Originating Agents (which failure is determined in the sole discretion of THDA without regard as to whether the Originating Agent may be at fault), or if the Originating Agent violates any other agreement with THDA, the Originating Agent is required to repurchase the Program Loan.

Loan Servicing

THDA has agreements with qualified financial institutions located in Tennessee or in the eight contiguous states to service Program Loans ("Servicers"). Originating Agents, who also qualify as Servicers, may service the Program Loans they originate. If an Originating Agent declines to service these Program Loans, the Originating Agent, with the approval of THDA, may choose another Servicer to do so. Servicers may be mortgage banking firms, commercial banks or savings and loan associations. THDA may also service Program Loans although it has elected only to service multi-family loans made under the 1974 General Resolution to date. A Servicer may transfer any or all of the Program Loans it services to another approved Servicer, with prior THDA approval.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers updating the total number of Program Loans serviced and providing certain information for each Program Loan including, without limitation, delinquency and foreclosure data.

THDA's agreements with Servicers (the "Servicing Agreements") provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. The Servicers' records relating to serviced Program Loans are subject to examination by THDA's Mortgage Administration and Internal Audit Divisions.

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers which sets forth complete requirements and procedures for servicing Program Loans. THDA may terminate any Servicing Agreement when there is inadequate performance by the Servicer. THDA may also require that a Servicer purchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of a Servicer's failure to perform its obligations with respect to the Program Loans under the Servicing Agreement. For information about Servicing Agreements and substantive requirements relating to servicing Program Loans, see Appendix C.

Housing Finance Program Bonds

$40,000,000 Issue 2011-A (Non-AMT)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined a record of proceedings related to the issuance and sale of $40,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2011-A (Non-AMT) (the "Issue 2011-A Bonds") of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA"), a body politic and corporate, constituting a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State of Tennessee (the "State"), organized and existing under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency Act, constituting Chapter 23 of Title 13 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, as amended (the "Act"), and other laws of the State. Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the General Resolution (as hereinafter defined).

The Issue 2011-A Bonds were authorized to be issued pursuant to the Act, the General Housing Finance Resolution of THDA, adopted November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on January 25, 2011, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on March 24, 2011 (together, the "Supplemental Resolution" and, together with the General Resolution, the "Resolution").

THDA has issued and is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds are and, when issued, shall, with the Issue 2011-A Bonds (collectively, the "Housing Finance Program Bonds") be entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution.

The Issue 2011-A Bonds mature in the years and in the respective principal amounts, bear interest at the respective rates and are otherwise as described in the Supplemental Resolution. The Issue 2011-A Bonds are being issued to make funds available to make or purchase Program Loans, as defined in the General Resolution, in accordance with the program of THDA permitted under the Resolution (the "Program").

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), establishes certain requirements which must be met subsequent to the delivery of the Issue 2011-A Bonds in order that interest on the Issue 2011-A Bonds be excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation. We have examined the Resolution and other relevant single family housing program documents which set forth such various federal tax law requirements which must be met by THDA. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with such requirements of federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures.

Based upon the foregoing we are of the opinion that:

1. Under the Constitution and laws of the State, THDA has lawful power and authority, among other things, to carry out the Program, to provide funds therefor by the adoption of the Resolution and the issuance and sale of the Issue 2011-A Bonds and to perform its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Resolution, including the financing of single family mortgage loans and collecting and enforcing the collection of revenues and prepayments as covenanted in the Resolution.

2. The Resolution has been duly adopted by THDA and is valid and binding upon THDA.

3. The Issue 2011-A Bonds are valid and legally binding special obligations of THDA and are entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the Resolution.

4. The Resolution creates, for the benefit of the holders of the Housing Finance Program Bonds, including the Issue 2011-A Bonds, the valid pledge of and lien on revenues, as defined in the Resolution, and moneys and securities held or set aside or to be held or set aside in the Funds and Accounts established thereunder, subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application thereof for the purposes and on the terms and conditions set forth in the Resolution.

5. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has validly covenanted in the manner and to the extent provided in the Resolution, among other things, to make or purchase mortgage loans under the Program with the proceeds of the Issue 2011-A Bonds, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect revenues and, when applicable, prepayments.

6. The Issue 2011-A Bonds do not constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or a pledge of its full faith and credit or of its taxing power and are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

7. Under existing laws as presently enacted and construed and assuming compliance with the covenants concerning federal tax law described above, (i) interest on the Issue 2011-A Bonds is excludable from the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, and (ii) interest on the Issue 2011-A Bonds will not be treated as a preference item to be included in calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

8. Under the laws of the State as enacted and construed on the date hereof, the interest on the Issue 2011-A Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State on interest income; however, the Issue 2011-A Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State.

In addition to the opinions set forth in paragraph (7) above, certain individual owners of the Issue 2011-A Bonds may have to take interest on such Issue 2011-A Bonds into account for the purpose of calculating the amount of social security or railroad retirement benefits includible in gross income of such owners for federal income tax purposes. All owners of the Issue 2011-A Bonds (including, but not limited to, insurance companies, financial institutions, S corporations and United States branches of foreign corporations) should consult their tax advisors concerning the effects of these and other applicable provisions of the Code on their individual tax liabilities. The extent of certain indirect tax consequences will depend upon the recipient's particular tax status or other items of income or deduction. We express no opinion regarding any such consequences.

In rendering this opinion, we are advising you that the enforceability of rights and remedies with respect to the Resolution and the Issue 2011-A Bonds may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency and other laws affecting creditors' rights or remedies heretofore or hereafter enacted.

We express no opinion herein as to the adequacy or accuracy of the Official Statement pertaining to the issuance of the Issue 2011-A Bonds.

Very truly yours,

Tennessee Housing Development Agency
Housing Finance Program Bonds

$60,000,000 Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined a record of proceedings related to the deemed reissuance of a portion of the $60,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA"), a body politic and corporate, constituting a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State of Tennessee (the "State"), organized and existing under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency Act, constituting Chapter 23 of Title 13 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, as amended (the "Act"), and other laws of the State. Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the General Resolution (as hereinafter defined).

The Issue 2009-B Bonds were authorized to be issued pursuant to the Act, the General Housing Finance Resolution of THDA, adopted November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on December 23, 2009 (together, the "2009 Supplemental Resolution").

Proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds have been deposited in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund and are subject to release therefrom upon satisfaction of the conditions for such release set forth in the 2009 Supplemental Resolution. Pursuant to the General Resolution, the 2009 Supplemental Resolution and a Resolution adopted by THDA on January 25, 2011, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on March 24, 2011 (together, the "2011 Supplemental Resolution," and, together with the General Resolution and the 2009 Supplemental Resolution, the "Resolution"), THDA has elected to release $60,000,000 of proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund. Upon such release and in accordance with the Resolution, a corresponding amount of the Issue 2009-B Bonds will be redesignated as the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3 (Non-AMT) (the "Subseries B-3 Bonds").

THDA has issued and is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds are and, when issued, shall, with the Subseries B-3 Bonds (collectively, the "Housing Finance Program Bonds") be entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution.

The Subseries B-3 Bonds mature in the year, bear interest at the rates and are otherwise as described in the 2009 Supplemental Resolution and the 2010 Supplemental Resolution. Proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds are being released to make funds available to make or purchase Program Loans, as defined in the General Resolution, in accordance with the program of THDA permitted under the Resolution (the "Program").

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), establishes certain requirements which must be met subsequent to the delivery of the Subseries B-3 Bonds in order that interest on the Subseries B-3 Bonds be excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation. We have examined the Resolution and other relevant single family housing program documents which set forth such various federal tax law requirements which must be met by THDA. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with such requirements of federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures.

Based upon the foregoing we are of the opinion that:

1. Under the Constitution and laws of the State, THDA has lawful power and authority, among other things, to carry out the Program, to provide funds therefor by the adoption of the Resolution and the reissuance and redesignation of the Subseries B-3 Bonds and to perform its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Resolution, including the financing of single family mortgage loans and collecting and enforcing the collection of revenues and prepayments as covenanted in the Resolution.

2. The Resolution has been duly adopted by THDA and is valid and binding upon THDA.

3. The Subseries B-3 Bonds are valid and legally binding special obligations of THDA and are entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the Resolution.

4. The Resolution creates, for the benefit of the holders of the Housing Finance Program Bonds, including the Subseries B-3 Bonds, the valid pledge of and lien on revenues, as defined in the Resolution, and moneys and securities held or set aside or to be held or set aside in the Funds and Accounts established thereunder, subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application thereof for the purposes and on the terms and conditions set forth in the Resolution.

5. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has validly covenanted in the manner and to the extent provided in the Resolution, among other things, to make or purchase mortgage loans under the Program with funds allocable to the Subseries B-3 Bonds, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect revenues and, when applicable, prepayments.

6. The Subseries B-3 Bonds do not constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or a pledge of its full faith and credit or of its taxing power and are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

7. Under existing laws as presently enacted and construed and assuming compliance with the covenants concerning federal tax law described above, interest on the Subseries B-3 Bonds (i) is excludable from the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, (ii) will not be treated as a preference item to be included in calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and (iii) will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

8. Under the laws of the State as enacted and construed on the date hereof, the interest on the Subseries B-3 Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State on interest income; however, the Subseries B-3 Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State.

In addition to the opinions set forth in paragraph (7) above, certain individual owners of the Subseries B-3 Bonds may have to take interest on such Subseries B-3 Bonds into account for the purpose of calculating the amount of social security or railroad retirement benefits includible in gross income of such owners for federal income tax purposes. All owners of the Subseries B-3 Bonds (including, but not limited to, insurance companies, financial institutions, S corporations and United States branches of foreign corporations) should consult their tax advisors concerning the effects of these and other applicable provisions of the Code on their individual tax liabilities. The extent of certain indirect tax consequences will depend upon the recipient's particular tax status or other items of income or deduction. We express no opinion regarding any such consequences.

In rendering this opinion, we are advising you that the enforceability of rights and remedies with respect to the Resolution and the Subseries B-3 Bonds may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency and other laws affecting creditors' rights or remedies heretofore or hereafter enacted.

We express no opinion herein as to the adequacy or accuracy of the Official Statement pertaining to the issuance of the Subseries B-3 Bonds.

NEW ISSUE AND CONVERSION ISSUE BOOK-ENTRY ONLY

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under existing federal laws and assuming continuing compliance by THDA with federal tax law requirements, (i) interest on the Issue 2011-B Bonds (the "Issue 2011-B Bonds") and the Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4 Bonds (the "Subseries B-4 Bonds" and, collectively with the Issue 2011-B Bonds, the "Series Bonds") is excluded from gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes and (ii) interest on the Series Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and is not included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code. In addition, Bond Counsel is of the opinion that, under existing laws of the State of Tennessee, the interest on the Series Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Series Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee. See "TAX MATTERS" herein.

Housing Finance Program Bonds
$60,000,000 Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4 (Non-AMT)*

Dated: Issue 2011-B Bonds: Date of Delivery Due: As shown on inside front cover
Subseries B-4 Bonds: December 21, 2009
(Interest to accrue from August 25, 2011)

The Issue 2011-B Bonds are being issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in book-entry form and when delivered will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, New York, to which principal and interest payments on the Issue 2011-B Bonds will be made. So long as Cede & Co. or another nominee of DTC is the registered owner of the Issue 2011-B Bonds, payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Issue 2011-B Bonds will be made directly to DTC. Disbursement of such payments to DTC's Direct Participants (as herein defined) is the responsibility of DTC and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners (as herein defined) is the responsibility of the Direct Participants and Indirect Participants (as herein defined). Beneficial Owners of the Issue 2011-B Bonds will not receive physical delivery of bond certificates. See Appendix F "Book-Entry-Only System." The Issue 2011-B Bonds will be issued in denominations of $5,000 and integral multiples thereof. Interest on the Issue 2011-B Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and is payable on January 1, 2012, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, as more fully described herein.

Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") previously issued $300,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") and, in connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds expects to convert and re-designate a portion of such bonds as the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4. See "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM." Interest on the Subseries B-4 Bonds accrues from the date of delivery of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and is payable on October 25, 2011, and thereafter on each January 1 and July 1, commencing January 1, 2012.

The Series Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their stated maturities at the times and under the conditions set forth under the caption "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for the Series Bonds."

The Series Bonds are special limited obligations of THDA payable only from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution (as defined herein) for the payment of the principal or redemption price of and interest on the Bonds.

THDA has no taxing power. The Series Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State of Tennessee (the "State") or any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof, are pledged for the payment of the principal of or interest on the Series Bonds.

This cover page contains certain information for quick reference only. It is not a summary of this issue. Investors must read the entire Official Statement to obtain information essential to making an informed investment decision.

The Issue 2011-B Bonds are being offered when, as and if issued by THDA, subject to delivery of the opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel, and certain other conditions. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York, and certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller. Certain legal matters in connection with the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds will be passed upon by Kutak Rock LLP. It is expected that the Series Bonds will be available for book-entry delivery through DTC on or about August 25, 2011.

INTRODUCTION

This Official Statement (the "Official Statement") provides certain information in connection with the issuance by the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") of the Issue 2011-B Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $40,000,000 (the "Issue 2011-B Bonds") and the conversion and re-designation of a portion of THDA's Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") as the Issue 2009-B Bonds, Subseries B-4 (the "Subseries B-4 Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2011-B Bonds, the "Series Bonds") in the aggregate principal amount of $60,000,000.

THDA is authorized to issue and sell its bonds and to conduct its other activities by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 13-23-101 et seq., as amended (the "Act"). The issuance and sale of the Issue 2011-B Bonds is authorized by the General Housing Finance Resolution, adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a resolution adopted by THDA on May 24, 2011, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee of THDA (the "Bond Finance Committee") on August 4, 2011 (the "Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution"). The General Resolution and the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution are herein collectively referred to as the "Resolution."

The Issue 2009-B Bonds were issued in the aggregate principal amount of $300,000,000 pursuant to the General Resolution and a resolution adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee on December 3, 2009 (the "Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution") and the New Issue Bond Program described herein under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM." In connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds, THDA expects to convert and redesignate a portion of the Issue 2009-B Bonds as Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4 (the "Subseries B-4 Bonds") pursuant to the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution as supplemented by the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution. The Subseries B-4 Bonds are not being offered pursuant to this Official Statement. See a description of the New Issue Bond Program under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM" herein.

The General Resolution was adopted in connection with THDA's implementation of the New Issue Bond Program. No assurance can be provided that THDA will continue to issue Bonds under the General Resolution upon the release of all proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds held in escrow as described under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM" herein.

The Act requires submission to the Bond Finance Committee of THDA, which consists of the Chairman of THDA and the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, the Secretary of State of the State of Tennessee, the State Treasurer of the State of Tennessee, and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration of the State of Tennessee, of a plan of financing pertaining to the sale of any bonds or notes by THDA and to request that the Bond Finance Committee sell such bonds or notes on behalf of THDA, under the terms and conditions set forth in the Act. The Bond Finance Committee approved the plan of financing with respect to the Bonds on May 23, 2011. The Act does not permit THDA to have outstanding bonds and notes in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $2,930,000,000, excluding bonds and notes which have been refunded. As of June 30, 2011 (unaudited), bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $547,310,000 were outstanding under the General Resolution. In addition, as of June 30, 2011 (unaudited), bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $1,506,850,000 were outstanding under THDA's Homeownership Program Bond Resolution (the "1985 General Resolution"), and bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $75,280,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution").

Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Series Bonds, are and will be special limited obligations of THDA, payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution for the payment of the principal and redemption price thereof and the interest thereon, including the Bond Reserve Fund established pursuant to the

*The Subseries B-4 Bonds are not offered hereby as described herein.

Resolution, as more fully described herein under the caption “SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS”. Except as otherwise provided in the Resolution, all bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Series Bonds, are equally and ratably secured by the pledges and covenants contained therein and all such bonds, including the Series Bonds, are sometimes referred to herein as the “Bonds”. The security interest created by the pledge of the General Resolution is governed by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 9-22-101 et seq., as amended, relating to the perfection, priority and enforcement of public pledges and liens (the “Public Pledge Act”). Security interests governed under the Public Pledge Act are expressly exempt from Tennessee’s codification of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State or of any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of principal or interest on the Bonds.

The Issue 2011-B Bonds are being issued and the Subseries B-4 Bonds are being converted to make funds available to purchase Program Loans (or participations therein) to finance the ownership or improvement of single family housing within the State by eligible low and moderate income families. See “PROGRAM LOANS” herein. As used herein the term “Program Loan” includes mortgage loans originated since December 2009 directly financed with Bonds issued under the General Resolution together with certain loans transferred to the General Resolution (“Transferred Loans”) as a result of the refunding of certain obligations under the 1985 General Resolution with the proceeds of a prior issue of Bonds under the General Resolution.

THDA’s Program Loan portfolio includes only first lien, fixed interest rate single-family Program Loans with equal monthly installments of principal and interest. As of June 30, 2011 (unaudited), 4,490 Program Loans were outstanding under the Resolution having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $443,135,214. Based on the outstanding principal balance of Program Loans as of June 30, 2011, approximately 94.26% were FHA insured, approximately 1.01% were VA guaranteed, approximately 0.17% were insured by private mortgage insurance companies, approximately 3.46% were guaranteed by United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development (“USDA/RD”), and approximately 1.10% were uninsured (i.e. Program Loans for which the borrower has at least a 22% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing). See “HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS – Housing Finance Program Portfolio Data” and Appendix B under the heading “Private Mortgage Insurance Programs”.

THDA expects that the funds made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds, the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds, and a contribution from THDA, will be made available to: (i) finance first lien single-family Program Loans (or participations therein) for single-family, owner-occupied housing (one to four dwelling units); (ii) pay capitalized interest, if any; (iii) pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters’ Fees and other transaction costs; and (iv) fund the Bond Reserve Fund. See “APPLICATION OF BOND PROCEEDS”. The terms and conditions of Program Loans, including Program Loans financed with amounts made available by the issuance of the Series Bonds, are described herein under the caption “PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans” and in Appendix G.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds, will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

U.S. Bank National Association (the “Trustee”) is trustee and paying agent for all Bonds issued under the General Resolution.

A brief description of the Series Bonds, THDA and its Program Loans follows, together with summaries of the terms of the Series Bonds, the Resolution and certain provisions of the Act. Such summaries do not purport to be complete and all such summaries and references to the Act and the Resolution are qualified in their entirety by reference to each such document, copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Certain capitalized terms utilized herein are defined in Appendix D hereto. Capitalized terms utilized herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Resolution.

NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM

THDA issued $300,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Issue 2009-B Bonds in December 2009 as taxable, variable interest rate escrow bonds under the Single Family New Issue Bond Program (the "New Issue Bond Program") announced by the United States Department of the Treasury ("Treasury"), Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. The Issue 2009-B Bonds were purchased by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac (the "Purchasers") pursuant to the New Issue Bond Program and proceeds derived from the sale of the Issue 2009-B Bonds in an amount equal to $300,000,000 were deposited in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund established by the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution. Under the New Issue Bond Program, the Purchasers exchanged the Issue 2009-B Bonds for securities issued by the Purchasers ("GSE Securities") backed by the Issue 2009-B Bonds which were purchased by the Treasury. Such GSE Securities are not part of the security for the Issue 2009-B Bonds. The Issue 2009-B Bonds bear interest at a short term variable rate and the interest rate calculation method may be converted in up to six tranches prior to December 31, 2011 (each such date, a "Release Date").

The release of amounts held in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount to become available to purchase Program Loans depends upon compliance with various conditions set forth in the agreement with the Purchasers and in the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, including a requirement that THDA shall have sold additional bonds to investors in accordance with standard bond underwriting practices (the "Market Bonds") in an aggregate principal amount at least equal to two-thirds of the amount of funds released. In order to release all amounts held in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount, THDA must issue a minimum of $200,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Market Bonds. For purposes of the New Issue Bond Program, the Issue 2011-B Bonds constitute Market Bonds, and upon the satisfaction of the conditions precedent to the release of a portion of the funds from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount, THDA expects to release $60,000,000 from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount (the "Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds") on the applicable Release Date which is expected to be the delivery date of the Issue 2011-B Bonds. The portion of the Issue 2009-B Bonds corresponding to the Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds will be re-designated as the Subseries B-4 Bonds on such Release Date. THDA previously released an aggregate principal amount of $205,290,000 of proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds in three prior releases. Upon the release of the Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds, approximately $34,710,000 will remain on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount and available for future releases. No assurance can be provided that THDA will continue to issue Bonds under the General Resolution upon the release of all amounts on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount.

General

The Issue 2011-B Bonds will be issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in denominations of $5,000 and any integral multiple thereof and will be available in book-entry only form. Purchasers of the Issue 2011-B Bonds will not receive certificates representing their interest in the Issue 2011-B Bonds. The Depository Trust Company, ("DTC"), New York, New York, will act as securities depository for the Issue 2011-B Bonds. The ownership of one fully registered certificated bond, without coupons, for each series and maturity set forth on the inside cover page hereof, each in the aggregate principal amount of such series and maturity, will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for DTC, and deposited with DTC via the FAST system. See Appendix F "Book-Entry Only System" for a description of the DTC book-entry only system.

The Issue 2011-B Bonds will mature on the dates and bear interest from the date of delivery at the rates indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement. Interest on the Issue 2011-B Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and is payable on January 1, 2012, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

The Subseries B-4 Bonds will mature on July 1, 2041. The Subseries B-4 Bonds are dated December 21, 2009, and will bear interest from August 25, 2011, with rates calculated as indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement. Interest on the Subseries B-4 Bonds is payable on October 25, 2011, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, commencing January 1, 2012, on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds

Sinking Fund Redemption

The Issue 2011-B Bonds maturing on January 1, 2025, are subject to redemption in part by lot on each January 1 and July 1 beginning January 1, 2023, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments in the principal amount for each of the dates set forth below:

Sinking Fund Payments for Issue 2011-B
Term Bonds Due January 1, 2025

Year	Amount Due January 1	Amount Due July 1
2023	$1,370,000	$1,400,000
2024	1,430,000	1,460,000
2025	445,000 (maturity)

The Issue 2011-B Bonds maturing on January 1, 2028, are subject to redemption in part by lot on each January 1 and July 1 beginning January 1, 2025, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments in the principal amount for each of the dates set forth below:

Sinking Fund Payments for Issue 2011-B
PAC Term Bonds Due January 1, 2028

Year	Amount Due January 1	Amount Due July 1
2025	$1,045,000	$1,520,000

2035	2,160,000	2,200,000
2036	2,230,000	2,270,000
2037	2,310,000	2,340,000
2038	2,390,000	2,430,000
2039	2,470,000	2,510,000
2040	2,560,000	2,600,000

Optional Redemption. The Issue 2011-B Bonds maturing on and after July 1, 2021, are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their respective maturities, either as a whole or in part at any time, on or after January 1, 2021, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

The Subseries B-4 Bonds are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their maturity, either as a whole or in part on the first Business Day of each month commencing September 1, 2011, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds. The Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Account representing Excess 2011-B Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess 2011-B Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds on any Interest Payment Date commencing January 1, 2012; provided, however, Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds may be redeemed between Interest Payment Dates on the first Business Day of any month for which adequate notice of redemption may be given.

While any Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds remain Outstanding, Excess 2011-B Principal Payments shall be used as follows:

FIRST, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds are equal to or less than 400% PSA (as defined below under "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds"), as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2011-B Principal Payments shall first be applied to redeem Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) for Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, other than the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds; and

SECOND, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds are in excess of 400% PSA, as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2011-B Principal Payments up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) shall first be applied to redeem Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds (any such remainder used to redeem Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds being an "Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption"); provided, however, that (i) the source of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption is restricted to that portion of the available Excess 2011-B Principal Payments which is in excess of 400% PSA and (ii) the principal amount of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption may not be an amount in excess of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds' proportionate amount of all Issue 2011-B Bonds then Outstanding.

"Excess 2011-B Principal Payments" means, as of any date of computation, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds which do not constitute Excess Subseries B-4 Principal Payments to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Series Bonds.

"Planned Amortization Amount" means the dollar amount for each Interest Payment Date set forth in the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution. Each Planned Amortization Amount represents the cumulative principal amount of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds assumed to be redeemed from Excess 2011-B Principal Payments as of a particular Interest Payment Date based on receipt of principal prepayments at a 75% PSA prepayment rate for Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds" for a description of PSA prepayment rates.

The amortization schedule of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds, including the Planned Amortization Amounts for the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds (which assumes the full origination of Program Loans with proceeds allocable to the Series Bonds in accordance with the expected schedule for such origination and receipt of principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds at a rate equal to 75% of the PSA prepayment rate) as of each payment date is set forth below:

Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds Amortization Schedule

Date	Planned Amortization Amount
January 1, 2012	$ 35,000
July 1, 2012	235,000
January 1, 2013	605,000
July 1, 2013	1,125,000
January 1, 2014	1,790,000
July 1, 2014	2,540,000
January 1, 2015	3,265,000
July 1, 2015	3,950,000
January 1, 2016	4,600,000
July 1, 2016	5,215,000
January 1, 2017	5,795,000
July 1, 2017	6,335,000
January 1, 2018	6,840,000
July 1, 2018	7,315,000
January 1, 2019	7,750,000
July 1, 2019	8,150,000
January 1, 2020	8,520,000
July 1, 2020	8,850,000
January 1, 2021	9,145,000
July 1, 2021	9,410,000
January 1, 2022	9,485,000

Each Planned Amortization Amount, as set forth in the table above, is subject to proportionate reduction to the extent Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds are redeemed from amounts on deposit in the Issue 2011-B/Subseries B-4 Subaccount of the Loan Fund and not applied to finance Program Loans.

For a description of the impact on the weighted average life of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds on the receipt of prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds at various speeds, see "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds."

Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-4 Bonds. The Subseries B-4 Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such Subseries B-4 Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Fund representing Excess Subseries B-4 Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess Subseries B-4 Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of Subseries B-4 Bonds at least once during each semi-annual period ending on January 1, or July 1, commencing January 1, 2012, to the extent there are at least $10,000 of Excess Subseries B-4 Principal Payments received during such semi-annual period.

"Excess Subseries B-4 Principal Payments" means, while any Issue 2011-B Bonds are Outstanding, a pro rata portion (calculated based on the then outstanding principal amount of the Subseries B-4 Bonds divided by the then outstanding principal amount of the Series Bonds), and subsequent to the payment, in full, of the Issue 2011-B Bonds, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Series Bonds.

Special Redemption of the Series Bonds, including Cross Calls. The Series Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part, at any time prior to maturity, in accordance with the provisions of the Resolution, and in an amount equal to amounts available for such purposes from (i) proceeds of the Series Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans; (ii) except as otherwise described under the headings"DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds," "-Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-4 Bonds," and "-Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule" repayments and prepayments of Program Loans allocated to the Series Bonds in excess of regularly scheduled debt service payments on the Series Bonds; (iii) repayments and prepayments of Program Loans financed with the proceeds of any other Bonds issued under the Resolution, subject to limitations contained in the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and (iv) other amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund of the Resolution in excess of the amounts then required for the payment of Debt Service and Program Expenses; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds (a) are only subject to redemption under clause (ii) above as described under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds" and (b) shall not be subject to redemption as described in clauses (iii) and (iv) above if such redemption would cause amortization of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds to exceed the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds Amortization Schedule. The Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Series Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans.

The date of redemption shall be determined by the Trustee upon the direction of THDA, subject to the provisions of and in accordance with the Resolution. The Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the redemption date, if applicable; provided, however, the redemption price for the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds in the event of a redemption described in clause (i) above shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. The Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption, unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of Series Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in an amount in excess of their proportionate amount of all Issue 2011-B Bonds then Outstanding in the event of a redemption pursuant to clause (i) above. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Prepayments" and "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS - THDA Redemption Practices". See "TAX MATTERS" herein for a description of the potential tax consequences of a redemption of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds at their issue price.

Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule. To the extent not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments on the Series Bonds or otherwise required to be applied to the redemption of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds or the Subseries B-4 Bonds, repayments and prepayments of principal of the Program Loans or portions thereof allocable to the Series Bonds received on or after August 25, 2021, shall be applied to redeem Series Bonds in such principal amounts as are required to satisfy the requirements of the Code. The redemption price of Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable. Subject to the redemption procedures under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds," THDA shall direct the redemption of the Series Bonds pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Series Bonds to be redeemed; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds may be redeemed in an amount that exceeds the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds Amortization Table only if there are no other Series Bonds outstanding.

Mandatory Redemption – Unexpended Proceeds. The Series Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on May 1, 2012, in the event and to the extent that there are unexpended proceeds of the Series Bonds on deposit in the Issue 2011-B/Subseries B-4 Bonds Subaccount of the Loan Fund on April 1, 2012, provided that such redemption date may be extended, at the option of THDA, and subject to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution.

Notwithstanding any extension of the redemption date described above, in order to satisfy requirements of the Code, the Series Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on February 25, 2015, to the extent any amounts remain on deposit in the Issue 2011-B/Subseries B-4 Subaccount of the Loan Fund.

The redemption price of the Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable; provided, however, that the redemption price for the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. THDA shall direct the redemption of the Series Bonds pro rata among all maturities of such Series Bonds then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall also deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Series Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that (i) the Subseries B-4

Bonds shall be redeemed on a pro-rata basis from among all Series Bonds then Outstanding and (ii) the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in an amount in excess of their proportionate amount of all Series Bonds then Outstanding. See “TAX MATTERS” herein for a description of the potential tax consequences of a redemption of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds at their issue price.

Selection By Lot

If less than all of the Series Bonds of like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the particular Series Bonds of such series and maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in accordance with the Resolution.

Notice of Redemption

When the Trustee shall receive notice from THDA of its election or direction to redeem Bonds, and when redemption of Bonds is required by the Resolution, the Trustee shall give notice, in the name of THDA, of the redemption of such Bonds, which notice shall specify the series and maturities of the Bonds to be redeemed, the redemption date and the place or places where amounts due upon such redemption will be payable and, if less than all of the Bonds of any like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the letters and numbers or other distinguishing marks of such Bonds so to be redeemed, and, in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, such notice shall also specify the respective portions of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Such notice shall further state that on such date there shall become due and payable upon each Bond to be redeemed the Redemption Price thereof, or the Redemption Price of the specified portions of the principal thereof in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, together with interest accrued to the redemption date, and that from and after such date interest thereon shall cease to accrue and be payable. In the event that the Trustee does not, at the time notice of any redemption is required to be given under the Resolution, hold on deposit in the Redemption Fund an amount sufficient to pay the Redemption Price of, plus interest accrued and unpaid to the redemption, such notice shall further state that the redemption is conditional upon sufficient funds being so deposited or transferred by or at the direction of THDA to the Redemption Fund and that, in the event such funds are not so deposited or transferred, the redemption shall be canceled, or reduced to the extent of funds actually on deposit, and written notice of such cancellation or reduction shall be given to the holders of Bonds which are not to be redeemed within ten (10) days following the proposed redemption date in the same manner as provided for notice of the redemption.

Notice of redemption of Bonds shall be mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid (and by reputable overnight delivery service in the case of Bonds held by any securities depository), no less than twenty (20) days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to DTC) before the redemption date, to the registered owners of any Bonds or portions thereof which are to be redeemed at their last addresses appearing upon the registry book. So long as DTC or its nominee is the registered owner of the Bonds, THDA shall not be responsible for mailing notices of redemption to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants or to the Beneficial Owners of the Bonds. See Appendix F – “Book-Entry-Only System” for a discussion of DTC practices.

SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS

Security of Bonds and Sources of Payment

The Bonds are special limited obligations of THDA payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution. Subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application of certain monies for the purposes and under the terms set forth therein, and to the payment to the Trustee and the Paying Agents and depositories of compensation for their services and expenses, such Bonds are secured equally and ratably by a pledge of the following:

(a) Revenues, which include scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of principal of and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicers as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loans and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan;

(b) Non-Mortgage Receipts, which includes all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses from investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, including the Escrow Fund but excluding the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount, the investments in which are pledged solely to secure the Issue 2009-B Bonds which have not been the subject of a Conversion;

(c) All Funds and Accounts created by the Resolution, including the Bond Reserve Fund, and monies and securities therein, except amounts on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount which are pledged solely to secure the Issue 2009-B Bonds which have not been the subject of a Conversion and amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited in the Escrow Fund (see Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION"); and

(d) All right, title and interest of THDA in and to the Program Loans made or purchased pursuant to the Resolution.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds do not constitute a debt, liability or obligation of the State or any other political subdivision thereof (except THDA). Neither the full faith and credit nor taxing power of the State or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of the principal of, redemption price or interest on the Bonds. The Bonds are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

Bond Reserve Fund

The Act authorizes THDA to establish one or more reserve funds. In accordance with the Act and the Resolution, THDA has established a Bond Reserve Fund for the Bonds. The Resolution provides that THDA may not issue any Bond unless the amount in the Bond Reserve Fund is at least equal to the "Bond Reserve Fund Requirement". The Bond Reserve Fund Requirement is the greater of (i) an amount equal to the aggregate of the respective amounts for each Issue of Bonds established in the Supplemental Resolution authorizing such Issue or (ii) an amount equal to 3% of the then current balance of Program Loans plus any other amount on deposit in the Loan Fund which has not been designated to provide for the payment of Costs of Issuance or capitalized interest. On the date of issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds, the Bond Reserve Fund will contain an amount at least equal to the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement. The Resolution requires that if, at any time, there is not a sufficient amount available in the Debt Service and Expense Account to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund installments maturing and becoming due on the Bonds, the Trustee must transfer the amount of the deficiency from the Bond Reserve Fund to the Debt Service and Expense Account.

Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund

Amounts on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund are pledged solely to Issue 2009-B Bonds that have not been converted and re-designated as subseries bonds in connection with the issuance of Market Bonds, unless and until there is an Event of Default under the Resolution, in which event such funds shall be applied as required by the Resolution; provided, however, that THDA has agreed that upon any such Event of Default amounts on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund shall be applied to the payment of other Bonds under the Resolution only if there are no other funds under the Resolution available for such payment.

Additional Bonds

THDA is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds, when issued, shall, with the Series Bonds, be entitled to the equal benefit, protection, and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution, except as otherwise described herein.

ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS

General

The General Resolution requires THDA to file Projected Cash Flow Statements with the Trustee periodically in connection with various actions THDA may take pursuant to the General Resolution including, without limitation, the issuance of Bonds. (See Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION" for a description of Projected Cash Flow Statements and the circumstances under which they are required.) A Projected Cash Flow Statement meets the requirements of the General Resolution if it shows that sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service on Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution, including the Series Bonds, and Program Expenses and that the amount of all assets held under the General Resolution equals or exceeds the total liability of all Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution. In connection with the preparation of Projected Cash Flow Statements upon the issuance or remarketing of Bonds, including the Series Bonds, THDA makes certain assumptions concerning revenues derived from Program Loans, Program Expenses, rate and amount of prepayments, earnings on investments, rate of origination of Program Loans, and Bond redemptions.

THDA has prepared and filed a Projected Cash Flow Statement in connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds (the "Projected Cash Flow Statement"). The Projected Cash Flow Statement has been based, among other assumptions, on the assumption that THDA originates approximately $100,000,000 of thirty year Program Loans (or participations therein) bearing interest at a weighted average interest rate of approximately 5.05%. The maturities and Sinking Fund Payments for the Series Bonds have been structured on the assumption that Program Loans will experience no prepayments. The Projected Cash Flow Statement has evidenced that, upon the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds, sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service for Bonds Outstanding.

THDA believes the assumptions used in connection with the preparation of the Projected Cash Flow Statement are reasonable. THDA cannot, however, guarantee that actual results will not vary materially from such assumptions. If subsequent events do not correspond to such assumptions, the amount of Revenues available to make payments of principal and interest on the Bonds, including the Series Bonds, when scheduled, may be adversely affected and the expected life of the Series Bonds may be affected.

Payments of Principal and Interest on the Bonds

The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that payments of principal and interest on the Series Bonds will be made, when scheduled, from scheduled payments and prepayments of principal and interest on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Series Bonds and from other moneys available under the Resolution including, without limitation, income expected to be derived from the investment of monies in the funds and accounts established under the Resolution. For purposes of preparing the Projected Cash Flow Statement, it has been assumed that scheduled payments of principal and interest on Program Loans will be received 29 days from the date on which they are due. Such sources of available monies may be insufficient to make such payments in the event that (i) regularly scheduled payments on Program Loans are not made on a timely basis in accordance with their terms, (ii) THDA incurs uninsured losses in connection with the foreclosure of Program Loans or insured losses which the insurer does not pay, (iii) THDA is not able to finance Program Loans in accordance with its expectations, (iv) actual investment rates on Investment Securities are less than those assumed, or (v) prepayments are not received as anticipated to the extent the Projected Cash Flow Statement was based on an assumed level of prepayments.

Program Loans

Certain moneys made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds, will be deposited in the Issue 2011-B/Subseries B-4 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund and will be used to continue THDA's program of financing Program Loans for single family, owner occupied residential housing for low and moderate income persons and families. THDA may use amounts made available as a result of the issuance of Issue 2011-B Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds to finance Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans. The current interest rates on Great Rate Program Loans are expected to be below the prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee at the time of delivery of the Series Bonds. In addition, THDA may use amounts made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds to finance Program Loans on a blended basis with proceeds of other bonds of THDA, including participation interests bearing interest at 0% in order to satisfy mortgage yield limitations of the Code. See "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" – Homeownership Choices" and Appendix G – "PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES" for more information about specific program requirements.

On June 6, 2011, THDA began issuing commitments for Program Loans that, when closed and purchased, will be allocable to the Series Bonds. As of July 22, 2011, THDA had purchased Program Loans in the approximate aggregate principal amount of $9,069,558 and had commitments for additional Program Loans in the approximate aggregate principal amount of $8,911,688. The weighted average interest rate of such purchased and committed Program Loans is approximately 5.24%.

Program Loans are made on a continuing, first-come, first served basis by Originating Agents approved by THDA. The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that Program Loans (or participations therein) financed with the proceeds of Bonds, including the Series Bonds, will be first-lien, thirty-year, fixed-rate mortgages, with equal monthly installments of principal and interest and that Program Loans purchased by THDA from Originating Agents will be purchased at par.

THDA's general policy is to maintain a steadily available supply of funds to finance program loans at competitive interest rates. THDA generally establishes interest rates for its program loans when bonds are sold by taking into account the maximum permitted interest rate under the Code and the spread between that rate and the then prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. THDA prefers to maintain the same interest rates throughout the period of origination of program loans for each issue of bonds, however, THDA regularly reviews these interest rates in light of market conditions and retains the flexibility to modify its interest rates to meet changing needs and conditions. No assumptions can be made regarding the length of time an interest rate set by THDA will remain available or what effect a particular interest rate will have on the origination of program loans.

Nonorigination of Program Loans

While THDA retains the flexibility to modify the interest rates at which Program Loans are offered, there are circumstances under which these interest rates may not be competitive with prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. Under these circumstances, it will be more difficult for THDA to originate Program Loans. The ability of THDA to finance Program Loans as described may also be affected by the availability of residences that meet THDA's acquisition cost limits and the willingness of potential borrowers to assume potential federal recapture tax liability. Although THDA expects that all lendable proceeds available from the Bonds will be used to finance Program Loans, no assurance can be given whether this will occur or the speed at which this may occur.

THDA has not redeemed any bonds from unexpended proceeds under the General Resolution. The last transaction that resulted in an unexpended proceeds redemption was THDA's Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 1996-3 under the 1985 General Resolution. Notwithstanding past performance, no assurances can be given that proceeds from the Series Bonds will be fully expended for Program Loans.

Disruption in Mortgage Market and Other Financial Markets

The mortgage and financial markets have recently been subject to significant disruptions, including limited liquidity. Continuing instability in the mortgage market that adversely impacts financial institution participants may result in delays in originating Program Loans or failure to originate Program Loans which could result in redemption of the Series Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS".

Instability in the mortgage markets, increases in delinquencies and defaults and limited access to credit have placed pressures on all participants in the industry, including but not limited to lenders, servicers and mortgage insurers. These pressures may have an adverse impact on transaction participants and their ability to conduct business. THDA can offer no guidance as to whether the recent volatility in the mortgage market and the financial markets generally will continue, and if it does, how these conditions might impact the ability of such participants to perform their obligations in connection with the Series Bonds.

Changes in Federal or State Law

Legislation affecting the Series Bonds and THDA's single family mortgage loans may be considered and enacted by the United States Congress or the Tennessee General Assembly. No assurance can be given that the consideration or enactment of any such legislation will not have an adverse effect on the value of, the timing or amount of payments of, or the security for the Series Bonds or other risks.

Over the past several years a number of financial institutions and related entities have announced large losses as a result of their mortgage activities and the increasing number of defaults and foreclosures on such mortgages. The United States Congress has passed the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), and may pass additional consumer protection and bankruptcy legislation, as a result of the adverse effects of the mortgage situation on individuals and families in the United States. Likewise, the Tennessee General Assembly may enact consumer protection legislation relating to mortgage loan origination and servicing. The Dodd-Frank Act has not, to date, had a material adverse effect on THDA's single family mortgage program, including its ability to originate new single family mortgage loans, to collect payments under single family mortgage loans and to foreclose on property securing single family mortgage loans; however, additional legislation, if enacted, or regulations, if promulgated to effectuate the purposes of the Dodd-Frank Act or other state or federal regulations, could have an adverse effect on THDA's activities.

A number of state regulatory authorities have recently taken action against certain loan originators and servicers for alleged violations of state laws. Certain of those actions prohibit those servicers from pursuing foreclosure actions. In response to alleged abusive lending and servicing practices, the State of Tennessee could enact legislation or implement regulatory requirements that impose limitations on the ability of mortgage loan servicers to take actions (such as pursuing foreclosures) that may be essential to service and preserve the value of the single-family loans. Any such limitations that applied to the THDA's single-family loans could adversely affect the THDA's ability to collect amounts due on such loans and could impair the value of such loans.

On March 4, 2009, the U.S. Department of the Treasury announced guidelines to enable mortgage loan servicers to begin modifications of eligible mortgage loans under the Homeowner Affordability and Stability Plan. These guidelines stated that FHA would formulate a program for modification of FHA loans. FHA released the details of the program called the Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP") on July 31, 2009, with an effective date of August 15, 2009. By letter dated November 3, 2009, THDA received a variance to the HAMP requirements. As a consequence, THDA is not obligated to satisfy HAMP requirements with respect to Program Loans.

On July 7, 2011, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced changes to Federal Housing Administration and Making Home Affordable Program requirements that direct servicers to extend the period of time during which eligible borrowers may skip part or all of their monthly payments from three or four months to twelve months whenever possible. These requirements become effective on August 1, 2011, with a subsequent sixty day implementation period. At present, THDA cannot predict what effect, if any, these requirements would have on the Program Loan portfolio, which, together with other revenues and assets available under the Resolution, is the source of payment and security for the Series Bonds.

The Hardest Hit Housing Markets (HFA Hardest Hit Fund) initiative, under the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, is designed to support foreclosure prevention and housing market stabilization initiatives (the "HHF Program"). THDA is administering the HHF Program in Tennessee and was awarded $236 million which will provide loans to unemployed or substantially underemployed homeowners who, through no fault of their own, are financially unable to make their mortgage payments and are in danger of losing their homes to foreclosure. Loan proceeds will be used to pay all mortgage and mortgage-related expenses (e.g., property taxes, homeowner insurance, homeowner dues) up to $20,000 for up to 18 months in 29 targeted counties and up to $15,000 for up to 12 months in 66 counties. For homeowners who have found a new job, but during a period of unemployment accumulated payment arrearages, reinstatement assistance will be available. Homeowners with THDA Program Loans may be eligible for the HHF Program. As of June 30, 2011, 162 loans made under the HHF Program have closed. Four of these loans have been made with respect to Program Loans previously financed under the Resolution. None of the loans made under the HHF Program are pledged as security for the Bonds.

Prepayments

THDA, from time to time, receives monies from (i) partial or complete prepayment of Program Loans (which is permitted, without penalty) or (ii) termination of Program Loans prior to their respective final payment date due to default, sale, condemnation or casualty loss. In addition, the Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Series Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans. The rate at which such prepayments, if any, of Program Loans will be received by THDA cannot be predicted. The actual rate of such prepayments may be influenced by a variety of economic, social and other factors, including proposed legislative and regulatory changes and there is no reliable basis for predicting the actual average life of the Program Loans. Consequently, THDA makes no assumptions or representations as to the factors that will affect the rate of prepayments, if any, or the relative importance of such factors and their potential impact on the actual average life of Program Loans and the expected life of the Series Bonds. To the extent THDA is required or elects to redeem the Series Bonds, it is probable that the Series Bonds will have a shorter life than their stated maturity.

Subject to the requirements of the General Resolution, the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution (the "Bond Resolutions") and the Code, such prepayments may (i) be required to pay regularly scheduled debt service to the extent a series of the Bonds was based upon an assumed prepayment level; (ii) be used to redeem Bonds of the related series; (iii) be used to redeem Bonds of any series; or (iv) be recycled into additional Program Loans. Further, prepayments attributable to the Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds, or other Bonds, or portions thereof, may or will be applied to redeem Series Bonds as described herein under "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds," "– Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-4 Bonds," "- Special Redemption of the Series Bonds, including Cross Calls" and "– Mandatory Redemption – 10-Year Rule".

THDA Redemption Practices

The General Resolution and the Bond Resolutions specify when THDA is required to redeem Bonds and when THDA may elect to redeem Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds."

To the extent THDA has discretion to redeem Bonds and select the maturities and Issues to be redeemed, THDA's general redemption policy had been to first redeem those Bonds bearing the highest interest rate; however, due to universal cap implications and economic decisions by THDA, THDA's current general redemption policy is to call term bonds on a pro-rata basis within bond issues or to redeem the highest coupon serial bonds where doing so would reduce debt service requirements under the Resolution when possible. Adherence to either policy may be affected by a series of factors including, but not limited to, (i) certain restrictions or limitations imposed by the Code including, but not limited to, 10-year rule requirements and universal cap considerations; (ii) certain limitations or restrictions imposed by the General Resolution and/or the Bond Resolutions including, but not limited to, redemption provisions; (iii) economic considerations; (iv) cash flow requirements; and (v) the amount of prepayments and other monies available to THDA for optional redemption of Bonds.

These factors are regularly considered in determining which Bonds may be selected for redemption. No assumptions or representations can be made as to how or which of these factors or whether any other factors will affect THDA's determination, from time to time, regarding particular Bonds selected for redemption.

Payment of Program Expenses

THDA expects to pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees and certain Program Expenses, including ongoing Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs, Operating Fees and Capital Replacement Fees, and other similar costs, from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund. In preparing the Projected Cash Flow Statement, THDA has assumed that an amount equal to 0.20% of the outstanding principal amount of Programs Loans financed under the General Resolution is withdrawn annually for the payment of Program Expenses. To the extent funds are available therefor, THDA currently expects to continue to pay other Program Expenses and other operating and administrative costs and expenses of THDA from the Housing Program Fund, a fund of THDA created in 1988 that is not subject to the lien of the Resolution. To the extent funds are not available from the Housing Program Fund, THDA expects to pay Program Expenses from other THDA resources outside the Resolution. See "THDA – THDA Funds."

Investment Assumptions

Estimated available investment income attributable to the Series Bonds is calculated assuming that (i) existing Investment Securities in the Revenue Fund and the Bond Reserve Fund pay scheduled interest and principal payments until the earlier of their call date or maturity date; (ii) proceeds of Investment Securities and other receipts in the Revenue Fund are invested at 0% per annum until December 23, 2019, 1% until December 23, 2026, and 2% until the Series Bonds are fully redeemed; and (iii) funds on deposit in the Issue 2011-B/Subseries B-4 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund prior to origination of Program Loans, are invested at a rate of 0% per annum.

There can be no assurance that the Investment Securities will provide the investment income projected. If THDA experiences losses or delays in payments on the Investment Securities, there may be insufficient funds to make payments of principal and interest on the Series Bonds when scheduled.

Average Life of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds

The term "weighted average life" refers to the average amount of time that will elapse from the date of issuance of a security until each dollar of principal of such security will be repaid to the investor. The weighted average life of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds will be influenced by the rate at which principal of the Program Loans allocated to the Series Bonds is repaid. Principal payments of Program Loans may be in the form of scheduled amortization or prepayments (for this purpose, the term "prepayment" includes prepayments and liquidations due to default or other dispositions of the Program Loans, including payments on FHA mortgage insurance, VA guarantees, and private mortgage insurance policies). Prepayments on mortgage loans are commonly measured by a prepayment standard or model. The model used in the following discussion is the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association (formerly known as the Public Security Association ("PSA")) prepayment standard or model (commonly referred to as the "PSA Prepayment Model").

The PSA Prepayment Model is based on an assumed rate of prepayment each month of the then unpaid principal balance of a pool of mortgage loans. The PSA Prepayment Model starts with 0.2% annualized prepayment rate in the first month, increases the prepayment rate by 0.2% in each succeeding month until the thirtieth month (when a 6.0% annualized prepayment rate is reached) and then assumes a constant prepayment rate of 6.0% per annum of the unpaid principal balance for the remaining life of the mortgage loans.

Prepayment speeds are commonly referred to as a percentage of the PSA Prepayment Model. For instance, "0% PSA" assumes no prepayments of principal on the Program Loans. "25% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-quarter as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "50% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-half as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “75% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay three-quarters as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “100% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “150% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate 1.50 times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “200% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate twice as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “300% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate three times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “400% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate four times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “500% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate five times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model.

There is no assurance, however, that prepayment of the principal on Program Loans will conform to any particular level of the PSA Prepayment Model. The rate of principal payment on pools of mortgage loans is influenced by a variety of economic, geographic, social and other factors, including the level of mortgage loan interest rates, the rate at which homeowners sell their homes or default on their mortgage loans and changes in mortgagors’ housing needs, job transfers, unemployment and mortgagors’ net equity in the mortgage properties. In general, if prevailing interest rates fall significantly, the Program Loans are likely to be subject to higher prepayment rates than if prevailing rates remain at or above the interest rates on the Program Loans. As homeowners move or default on their mortgage loans, the houses are generally sold and the mortgage loan prepaid, although under certain circumstances, the mortgage loans may be assumed by a new buyer. Because of the foregoing influences upon prepayments and since the rate of prepayment of principal of Bonds will depend on the rate of repayment (including prepayments) of the Program Loans, the full repayment of any Bonds is likely to occur earlier, and could occur significantly earlier, than its stated maturity.

The Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds may be terminated prior to final maturity as a result of prepayment, default, sale, condemnation, casualty loss or noncompliance. In addition, matters discussed under “Changes in Federal or State Law” above could have an effect on terminations. Consequently, it is impossible to predict the timing of the repayment of principal of the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds and hence the weighted average life of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds. THDA has provided for the redemption of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds—Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds”, and the weighted average lives of the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds set forth below have been calculated based upon various assumptions, including assumptions that (i) 100% of the money deposited in the Issue 2011-B/Subseries B-4 Subaccount of the Loan Fund is applied to finance Program Loans, (ii) Excess 2011-B Principal Payments will be used to redeem Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds only on Interest Payment Dates, and (iii) the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds will be redeemed only in Planned Amortization Amounts as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds” and will not otherwise be redeemed in whole or in part. There can be no assurance that such assumptions will in fact prove accurate.

(1) Portions of such Bonds were previously converted and redesignated as Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-2, and Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3. An additional portion of such Bonds is being converted and redesignated as the Subseries B-4 Bonds in connection with the Issue 2011-B Bonds offered hereunder.

(2) Variable rate, taxable. May be converted to fixed rate, non-taxable in 2011. See “NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM.”

Origination Experience

THDA’s experience from December 23, 2009, to June 30, 2011, regarding origination of Program Loans[(1)] from lendable proceeds of Bonds issued since December 23, 2009, is shown in the following table:

Issue of Bonds	Lendable Proceeds	Program Loans Financed[(2)] as of June 30, 2011 Amount	%	Weighted Average Mortgage Interest Rate
2009-A	$ 98,833,984	$ 98,833,984	100.00%	5.38%

(1) See “HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS—Description of Program Loans” for more information about Program Loans.

(2) Only Program Loans that have closed are included. Program Loans for which THDA has issued commitments and Transferred Loans are not included.

(3) Excludes Transferred Loans.

In order to comply with the Code, certain Bonds issued by THDA resulted in the creation of pools of lendable proceeds which must be originated at very low or 0% interest to achieve yield compliance on such Bonds. The currently available amount of such pools of lendable proceeds, on an aggregate basis, is approximately $6,600,000 as of June 30, 2011. THDA intends to use such amounts, from time to time, to finance Program Loans on a blended basis, or at 0% interest, with the lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds or current or future Bonds to reduce interest rates on various types of Program Loans as determined by THDA.

HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS

Description of Program Loans

General

THDA generally offers a primary loan program and may, from time to time, offer certain special loan programs. THDA Household Income Limits for all loan programs have typically been more restrictive than those permitted under the Code. THDA Acquisition Cost Limits are set in compliance with Code requirements. Household Income Limits and Acquisition Cost Limits may be further restricted for certain special loan programs. The current THDA Acquisition Cost Limit is $200,160 for all counties except those counties in the Nashville Metropolitan Statistical Area (“MSA”). The THDA Acquisition Cost Limit is $226,100 for those counties in the Nashville MSA. The THDA

Household Income Limits range from $54,480 to $92,680 depending on household size and geographic location. See Appendix G for a description of Program Loan Procedures related to Code requirements.

THDA currently offers Homeownership Choices as its primary loan program. A brief description of this loan program, and the loan types available thereunder, together with a description of certain loan programs previously available follows.

Effective April 15, 2009, THDA imposed certain underwriting changes that apply to Program Loans made after that date. The changes include (i) a minimum credit score of 620 for all borrowers; (ii) no manual underwriting; and (iii) a required monthly debt to income ratio that does not exceed 45%. THDA may, from time to time, initiate certain special limited programs for which some of these requirements may be waived.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

Homeownership Choices

The Homeownership Choices Program includes Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans, with choice of loan type left to the borrower. Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans are thirty year, fixed interest rate loans, fully amortized, with full documentation, and secured by a first lien on the property purchased. Interest rates for each type of Program Loan are established at rates which result in a blended yield on such Program Loans not in excess of 1.125% above the yield on the related issue of Bonds. As of July 18, 2011, the current interest rate for Great Rate Program Loans is 4.25%, the current interest rate for the Great Advantage Program Loans is 4.55% and the current interest rate for Great Start Program Loans is 4.85%.

An amount equal to 4% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Start Program Loans. An amount equal to 2% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Advantage Program Loans. THDA finances this downpayment and closing cost assistance from excess revenues outside the General Resolution and retains a portion of the interest collected on Great Start Program Loans and Great Advantage Program Loans to reimburse itself for the amount of this assistance. All other THDA Program Loan requirements remain applicable.

See Appendix B for a summary of the mortgage insurance or guarantee programs applicable to these Program Loans.

Housing Finance Program Portfolio Data

General

As of June 30, 2011 (unaudited), 4,490 Program Loans for single-family owner-occupied housing having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $443,135,214 were outstanding under the General Resolution. These Program Loans had an approximate remaining weighted average maturity of 341.02 months and an approximate weighted average interest rate of 5.20%.

Program Loans By Type of Insurance or Guarantee

The following table summarizes, as of June 30, 2011 (unaudited), the types of insurance or guarantee for the outstanding Program Loans:

Type of Program Loan Made by THDA [(1)]	Number of Program Loans	Outstanding Balance [(4)]	Percent of Total Number of Program Loans [(4)]	Percent of Outstanding Balance [(4)]
FHA Insured…………………………	4,177	$417,692,291	93.03%	94.26%

Privately Insured Program Loans

Since January 2, 2009, THDA has not purchased conventional, privately insured loans because no private mortgage insurers, since January 2, 2009, have or have had ratings of at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Services, a division of the McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P"). Should any private mortgage insurers regain a rating of at least AA from S&P, THDA will reconsider whether to resume purchasing conventional loans. Notwithstanding the foregoing, certain Transferred Loans are privately insured and are shown under the heading "Privately insured" in the chart above.

Each private mortgage insurer insuring conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans was authorized by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in the State of Tennessee and was approved by THDA. Since June 1994, only private mortgage insurance providers rated at least AA by S&P were permitted to provide private mortgage insurance coverage for conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans. THDA does, however, have conventional, privately insured Program Loans that were made prior to January 2, 2009, outstanding under the Resolution that were insured by private mortgage insurers who are not currently rated at least AA by S&P.

THDA makes no representation regarding the financial condition of any of the private mortgage insurance companies or their ability to make full and timely payment to THDA of claims on Program Loans on which losses are incurred. Recent rating agency reviews of private mortgage insurers may be indicative of some future inability of private mortgage insurers generally to fulfill in full their obligations, if and when required upon a mortgage default, to make timely payments on policies. Any failure to make timely payments on the private mortgage insurance policies may disrupt the flow of revenues available for the payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

Delinquency and Foreclosure Process

For all Program Loans, THDA tracks (i) exceptions to normal, expected monthly payments; (ii) individual Program Loan balances; and (iii) remittances based on automated data received directly from its Servicers. THDA uses this data to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosures. Those Program Loans for which two payment dates have passed with no payment received by the last business day of the month in which the second payment was due are considered 60 to 89 days past due. Those Program Loans for which three or more payment dates have passed with no payments received by the last business day of the month in which the third payment was due are considered 90 or more days past due. The status of Program Loans to borrowers who are in bankruptcy is fixed beginning at the time bankruptcy proceedings commenced. The definitions used by THDA to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosure rates are consistent with those used by the Mortgage Bankers Association of America (“MBA”).

The financial institutions who service Program Loans manage delinquencies by working with borrowers in an attempt to avoid defaults and by sending payment requests to borrowers who are delinquent. THDA supports counseling programs for delinquent as well as prospective borrowers. These counseling services are provided by lenders, non-profit organizations and social service agencies located throughout the State. THDA maintains an inventory of housing counseling services, reviews materials used, and encourages grant recipients to provide counseling.

For information with respect to defaults and foreclosures relating to THDA's Homeownership Program under the 1985 General Resolution, see related Official Statements and quarterly reports on file with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board at www.msrb.org.

Investments

THDA's non-mortgage investments of funds held under the Resolution consist of Investment Securities as authorized in the Resolution. Bids are solicited by THDA in an effort to obtain the highest available yield with consideration given to maintaining a balanced portfolio. As of June 30, 2011 (unaudited), the short-term investment portfolio was placed as follows:

Types of Investments	Amount
Federal Farm Credit Bank Notes	$ 5,000,000
Federal Home Loan Bank Notes	2,405,911
Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Notes	4,020,833
Fannie Mae Notes	5,317,101
Repurchase Agreements[1]	9,600,000
United States Treasury Bonds	97,578,830[2]
TOTAL	$ 123,922,675

(1) Counterparties for these Repurchase Agreements are UBS ($5,500,000) and Morgan Stanley ($4,100,000).

(2) $94,710,000 of such investment is allocated to the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund; investments allocated to the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund will proportionately diminish upon each release of proceeds from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund, including the release of $60,000,000 principal amount of proceeds in connection with the conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-4 Bonds.

As of June 30, 2011 (unaudited), amounts in the Bond Reserve Fund, a portion of the short-term investment portfolio described above, were invested as follows:

Types of Investments	Amount
Federal Farm Credit Bank Notes	$ 5,000,000

TOTAL	$ 14,957,476

THDA

Purpose and Organization

THDA is a body, politic and corporate, and a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State. THDA was established in 1973 by the Act for the purpose, among other things, of raising funds through the issuance of its bonds and notes to assure a steady flow of production of new housing units for lower and moderate income persons and families. To carry out its public purposes, THDA has various powers under the Act including, without limitation, powers relating to the issuance of bonds or notes and the financing of residential housing in the State.

THDA is subject to periodic review by the General Assembly to evaluate the necessity for its continued existence. THDA's existence has been continued until June 30, 2014.

Under the Act, THDA may have bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $2,930,000,000. As of June 30, 2011 (unaudited), THDA has bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount of $2,129,440,000, calculated in accordance with the Act.

Board of Directors

THDA is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of THDA. The Act provides that the remaining board members be appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. The Act also provides that board members be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, the First, Second or Third U.S. Congressional District, the Fourth, Fifth or Sixth U.S. Congressional District and the Seventh, Eighth or Ninth U.S. Congressional District and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. Any change in the status or profession of an appointed board member does not affect the position or term of that board member. The Executive Director of THDA serves as Secretary to the board.

Board members (other than ex officio members and the federally required resident member) are appointed for four year terms, serve until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, and receive no compensation except for reimbursement of expenses. Certain board members may be affiliated with institutions which may originate or service Program Loans on behalf of THDA. One of the appointed board members is designated by the Governor to serve as Chairman. The Chairman's term extends until the earlier of the date of expiration of his or her term or a date six months after expiration of the term of the Governor designating such Chairman.

THDA Funds

Statutorily Created Funds

In 1988, the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee (the "State") amended the Act to provide for the creation of the Housing Program Fund, the Housing Program Reserve Fund and the Assets Fund, which funds are financially separate from the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program and any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Housing Program Fund originally contained, among other things, state tax revenue statutorily directed to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a statutorily authorized grant program administered by THDA that is not related to the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program or any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Assets Fund is a segregated fund of THDA that originally contained assets transferred in 1989 from THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) in accordance with its terms, together with related investment earnings. The Housing Program Reserve Fund was created as a reserve for THDA's non-mortgage programs. See Appendix E under the heading "OTHER THDA FINANCINGS" for a description of each of these statutorily created funds. These funds are not pledged as security for the Bonds.

Prior Transfers from THDA

The Constitution of the State requires, for current operations, that expenditures for any fiscal year not exceed the State's revenues and reserves, including the proceeds of any debt obligations, for that year. When faced with budget deficits in the past, the State has called upon THDA and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to THDA:

As of June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 in THDA's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1994-1995.

As of June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from THDA to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1997-1998. The $43,000,000 transferred from THDA to the State General Fund came from the following resources of THDA: (i) $15,459,157 from state tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. In addition, in conjunction with the transfer from the Housing Program Reserve Fund described in clause (ii), the Housing Program Reserve Fund was statutorily abolished.

Amendments to the Act in 1999 and in 2000, temporarily, then permanently, redirected to the State General Fund, all tax revenue previously directed by the Act to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a grant program described above. As a result of the permanent redirection of these state tax revenues, no state tax revenues currently are directed to THDA.

As of June 30, 2002, $35,367,449.26 was transferred from THDA's Assets Fund to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 2001-2002. The remaining balance of the Assets Fund, approximately $1,387,000 of mortgage loans, was not required to be liquidated and the proceeds transferred. THDA subsequently transferred these mortgage loans to the General Fund of the Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) which reduced the balance in the Assets Fund to $0.

No additional resources of THDA have been redirected or transferred to the State General Fund to close out any fiscal year since the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002. See "State Budget" below with respect to these matters for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012.

Payment of THDA Operating Expenses, Including Program Expenses

THDA administers certain federal programs such as the low income housing tax credit program, the Section 8 voucher program and the HOME program and pays operating expenses associated with these programs from administrative fees earned or other fees charged in connection with the administration of these programs. Neither investment earnings from the Assets Fund nor amounts in the General Resolution have been used to pay the operating expenses associated with these programs.

From 1988 to 2002, investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund, as supplemented with investment earnings on other THDA funds, were a primary source for paying THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses, including staff salaries, Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs) and substantially all other expenses associated with the Homeownership Program and the other general bond resolutions and mortgage loan programs of THDA. Investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund were annually transferred by THDA to the Housing Program Fund, from which referenced expenses were paid. Although such investment earnings on amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund no longer exist due to the transfers from the Assets Fund to the State General Fund described above, THDA currently expects to continue to pay Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure cost and other similar costs) and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses from the Housing Program Fund and other available funds under the 1974 General Resolution and the 1985 General Resolution. In the future, however, THDA expects to use more of the amounts available under THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution, for the payment of Program Expenses in addition to the payment of Costs of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs. From this combination of resources, THDA believes it will have sufficient resources to pay Program Expenses and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses. Regardless of THDA's best efforts and in the event of additional transfers, however, THDA could become reliant on State appropriations for the funding of THDA operations. No assurances can be given as to the amount of appropriation that may be available at any time.

State Budget

The State-approved budget for fiscal year 2011-2012 which ends June 30, 2012 (the "FY 2011-2012 Budget") is balanced and includes no redirection or transfer of THDA resources to the State General Fund. The FY 2011-2012 Budget, as adopted by the General Assembly, is based on State revenue growth estimates that reflect 3.35% growth in revenue collections in fiscal year 2011-2012.

For fiscal year 2010-2011, on an accrual basis, June 2011 was the eleventh month in the fiscal year. For the month, General Fund collections were $31.1 million above the official budgeted estimate, and overall revenues were $31.8 million more than budgeted. For the first eleven months of fiscal year 2010-2011, the General Fund was over collected by $219 million, and the four other funds that share in State tax revenue collections were $30.5 million over collected. The total over collection for the first eleven months of fiscal year 2010-2011 was $249.5 million.

If projected State budget needs outstrip actual or projected revenues, the State may seek additional sources of funds or seek to realize program savings through reductions or more efficient delivery of services; however, THDA cannot predict whether or not this will occur or, if it does, what actions may be proposed or eventually taken and what effect, if any, such actions may have on THDA. If action is taken to redirect or transfer THDA resources to the State General Fund, such amounts could include THDA resources that are not pledged to any bonds of THDA, as well as any available excess revenues eligible for withdrawal under THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution. No assurance can be made that the current ratings on the Bonds or other bonds of THDA can be maintained in the event funds are withdrawn from THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution.

Other Post-Employment Benefits

Certain Governmental Accounting Standards Board ("GASB") GASB Statements (nos. 43 and 45) provide accounting and financial reporting requirements for retiree healthcare plans and employer participants, commonly known as Other Post-Employment Benefits ("OPEB"). To date, the State has reported OPEB costs in the aggregate for all State employees. The State received an actuarial study as of July 1, 2009, which was updated as of July 1, 2010, that includes OPEB costs attributable to the State and, separately, for certain of its component units (including THDA) that are required to participate in the State's retirement and benefit plans. The study, which used a projected unit credit actuarial cost method, indicates that the total unfunded actuarial liability of THDA is approximately $3,316,000 and the annual required contribution for THDA is approximately $358,000. The annual required contribution consists of the normal cost (the portion of the actuarial present value of OPEB benefits which is allocated to a valuation year by the actuarial cost method) and an amortization of the unfunded actuarial liability. The report may be reviewed at http://www.tennessee.gov/finance/act/OPEB.html. A new actuarial study is expected to be published in the fall of 2012. The State does not currently expect to fund any actuarially determined OPEB liability, but will continue to use pay-as-you-go funding of actual costs of OPEB liabilities incurred for the fiscal year. The State will charge THDA for these actual costs allocable to THDA's employees, but not for any actuarially determined OPEB liability. The State has the flexibility to adjust the various plan options on an annual basis, and will continue to analyze the cost of the choices available to current employees and retirees and the cost of the choices on the employees, retirees and the State's cash flow to manage these expenditures going forward.

General Resolution Requirements

The General Resolution requires certain tests to be met prior to any withdrawal of funds from the lien of the General Resolution. See Appendix D. In addition, certain tests must also be met prior to any withdrawal of funds under the lien of the 1985 General Resolution or the 1974 General Resolution. THDA funds which are not pledged under the referenced Resolutions can be removed without meeting such tests.

Absence of Interest Rate Swap Transactions

THDA has never entered into an interest rate swap transaction and no such transaction is currently anticipated by THDA.

TAX MATTERS

THDA has included provisions in the Resolution, the Guide for Originating Agents issued by THDA and other relevant documents and has established procedures, including receipt of certain affidavits and warranties from Originating Agents and borrowers (the "Program Documents") in order to assure compliance with the Program Loan eligibility requirements and other requirements which must be met subsequent to the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and the conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-4 Bonds. Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with applicable federal tax law and, for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. THDA believes that the procedures and documentation requirements established for the purpose of fulfilling this covenant are sufficient to assure that the proceeds of the Series Bonds will be applied in accordance with the requirements of applicable federal tax law so as to assure that interest on the Series Bonds will not be included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes.

Opinion of Bond Counsel

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Bonds will be excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes under existing laws as enacted and construed on the date of the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-4 Bonds, assuming the accuracy of the certifications of THDA and continuing compliance by THDA with the requirements of the federal tax laws. Interest on the Series Bonds (i) will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, and (ii) is not included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

Ownership of the Series Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, financial institutions, property and casualty insurance companies, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, certain S corporations with "excess net passive income", taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred or continued debt to purchase or carry the Series Bonds and taxpayers otherwise eligible to claim the earned income credit. Bond Counsel expresses no opinion as to such collateral tax consequences.

Certain recipients of interest on the Series Bonds may be subject to backup withholding under Section 3406 of the Code, unless the recipient of interest furnishes its taxpayer identification number with the payor of the interest or is otherwise exempt from backup withholding tax.

From time to time, there are legislative proposals in the Congress and in the states that, if enacted, could alter or amend the federal and state tax matters referred to above or adversely affect the market value of the Series Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether or in what form any such proposal might be enacted or whether if enacted it would apply to bonds issued prior to enactment. In addition, regulatory actions are from time to time announced or proposed and litigation is threatened or commenced which, if implemented or concluded in a particular manner, could adversely affect the market value of the Series Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether any such regulatory action will be implemented, how any particular litigation or judicial action will be resolved, or whether the Series Bonds or the market value thereof would be impacted thereby. Purchasers of the Series Bonds should consult their tax advisors regarding any pending or proposed legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation. The opinions to be expressed by Bond Counsel will be based upon existing legislation and regulations as interpreted by relevant judicial and regulatory authorities as of the date of issuance and delivery, or conversion, as applicable, of the Series Bonds and Bond Counsel will express no opinion as of any date subsequent thereto or with respect to any pending legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under the laws of the State of Tennessee as enacted and construed on the date of issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and conversion of Subseries B-4 Bonds, as applicable, interest on the Series Bonds is exempt from income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Series Bonds and interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee.

An amount equal to the excess of the issue price of a Series Bond sold at a premium (a "Premium Bond") over its stated redemption price at maturity constitutes premium on such Premium Bond. An initial purchaser of a Premium Bond must amortize any premium over such Premium Bond's term using constant yield principles, based on the purchaser's yield to maturity (or, in the case of Premium Bonds callable prior to their maturity, by amortizing the premium to the call date, based on the purchaser's yield to the call date and giving effect to any call premium). As premium is amortized, the amount of the amortization offsets a corresponding amount of interest for the period and the purchaser's basis in such Premium Bond is reduced by a corresponding amount resulting in an increase in the gain (or decrease in the loss) to be recognized for federal income tax purposes upon a sale or disposition of such Premium Bond prior to its maturity. Even though the purchaser's basis may be reduced, no federal income tax deduction is allowed. Purchasers of the Premium Bonds should consult with their tax advisors with respect to the determination and treatment of premium for federal income tax purposes and with respect to the state and local tax consequences of owning a Premium Bond.

LEGAL INVESTMENT

The Act provides that the bonds of THDA are securities in which all public officers and bodies of the State and all municipal subdivisions, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on insurance business, all banks, bankers, trust companies, including savings and loan associations, building and loan associations, investment banking companies and other persons carrying on an investment banking business, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of the State, may properly and legally invest in the bonds of THDA with funds, including capital, in their own control or belonging to them.

RATING

Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned the Series Bonds a rating of Aa2. Such rating reflects only the views of the rating agency and an explanation of the criteria for and the significance of such ratings may be obtained from Moody's. THDA has furnished to Moody's certain information and materials with respect to the Series Bonds. Generally, rating agencies base their ratings on such information and materials, and on investigations, studies and assumptions made by the rating agencies. There is no assurance that the rating will continue for any given period of time or that the rating will not be revised or withdrawn entirely, if in the judgment of the rating agency, circumstances so warrant. A downward revision or withdrawal of the rating may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Series Bonds.

DISCLOSURE

Secondary Market Disclosure

THDA is currently disseminating and presently intends to continue to disseminate information relating to its various single-family mortgage revenue bonds in accordance with the quarterly secondary market disclosure project sponsored by the National Council of State Housing Agencies. THDA has filed quarterly reports, beginning with the quarter ending June 30, 1994, with each then nationally recognized municipal securities information repository. THDA also expects that its official statements, which contain audited financial information about THDA, with respect to bonds issued under the General Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, and the 1974 General Resolution will be filed with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (the "MSRB") through its Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA) system if and when bonds are so issued. It is the present intent of THDA to continue making voluntary secondary market disclosure as described above.

Continuing Disclosure Undertaking

In order to comply with the requirements of Rule 15c2-12 (the "Rule") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, without regard to whether such Rule applies to the placement of the Subseries B-4 Bonds, THDA, in the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution and in the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution for the benefit of the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds, agrees to file:

(a) With the MSRB, within 210 days after the end of each THDA fiscal year, a copy of its annual financial statements, prepared as described in "FINANCIAL STATEMENTS" below, and an annual updating of certain information relating to the Program Loans, including, without limitation, information with respect to the outstanding balances of such Program Loans, by mortgage type, and delinquency information, acquisition costs and income limits, and in Appendix E (collectively, "Annual Financial Information"). If unaudited financial statements are provided as part of the Annual Financial Information by the above date, then THDA shall provide, when and if available, a copy of THDA's audited financial statements to the MSRB;

(b) In a timely manner, with (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of the occurrence of any of the following events (if applicable) with respect to the Series Bonds: (i) principal and interest payment delinquencies; (ii) non-payment related defaults, if material; (iii) unscheduled draws on the Bond Reserve Fund reflecting financial difficulties; (iv) unscheduled draws on credit enhancements, if any, for the Series Bonds, reflecting financial difficulties; (v) substitution of credit or liquidity providers, if any, for the Series Bonds, or their failure to perform; (vi) adverse tax opinions, or material notices of determinations with respect to the tax status of the Series Bonds or other material events affecting the tax-exempt status of the Series Bonds; (vii) modifications to rights of holders of the Series Bonds, if material; (viii) bond calls, if material, and tender offers; (ix) defeasances; (x) release, substitution, or sale of property securing repayment of the Series Bonds, if material; (xi) rating changes; (xii) bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or similar event of the Issuer (which event is considered to occur when any of the following occur: the appointment of a receiver, fiscal agent of similar officer for the Issuer in a proceeding under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or in any other proceeding under state or federal law in which a court or government authority has assumed jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of the Issuer, or if such jurisdiction has been assumed by leaving the existing governing body and officials or officers in possession but subject to the supervision and orders of a court of governmental authority, or the entry of an order confirming a plan of reorganization, arrangement or liquidation by a court or governmental authority having supervision or jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of THDA); (xiii) the consummation of a merger, consolidation, or acquisition involving THDA or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of THDA, other than in the ordinary course of business, the entry into a definitive agreement to undertake such action or the termination of a definitive agreement relating to any such actions, other than pursuant to its terms, if material; and (xiv) appointment of a successor or additional trustee or the change of name of a trustee, if material.

(c) In a timely manner to (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of a failure by THDA to provide the Annual Financial Information set forth in (a) above within the time limit specified above.

THDA may amend the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, with respect to the above agreements, without the consent of the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds (except to the extent required under clause (4)(ii) below), if all of the following conditions are satisfied: (1) such amendment is made in connection with a change in circumstances that arises from a change in legal (including regulatory) requirements, a change in law (including rules or regulations) or in interpretations thereof, or a change in the identity, nature or status of THDA or the type of business conducted thereby; (2) these agreements as so amended would have complied with the requirements of the Rule as of the date of the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, as applicable, after taking into account any amendments or interpretations of the Rule, as well as any change in circumstances; (3) THDA shall have delivered to the Trustee an opinion of counsel, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the same effect as set forth in clause (2) above; (4) either (i) THDA shall deliver to the Trustee an opinion of or determination by a person unaffiliated with THDA (which may include the Trustee or bond counsel), acceptable to THDA and the Trustee, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the effect that the amendment does not materially impair the interests of the holders of the Series Bonds, or (ii) the holders of the Series Bonds consent to the amendment pursuant to the same procedures as are required for amendments to the General Resolution with consent of the holders of Series Bonds pursuant to the General Resolution as in effect on the date of the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, as applicable, and (5) THDA shall have delivered copies of such opinion(s) and the amendment to the MRSB.

THDA's obligations under these agreements as set forth in the Issue 2011-B Supplemental Resolution and the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution terminate upon a legal defeasance pursuant to the General Resolution, prior redemption or payment in full of all of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and the Issue 2009-B Bonds (including the Subseries B-4 Bonds), respectively. THDA shall give notice of any such termination to the MSRB.

THDA acknowledges that its undertaking pursuant to the Rule described under this heading is intended to be for the benefit for the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds whether or not the Rule applies to such Bonds. Breach of this undertaking will not be a default under the Resolution but this undertaking may be enforced by any Beneficial Owner of the Series Bonds exclusively by an action for specific performance. This undertaking shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State, and any suits and actions arising out of this undertaking shall be instituted in a court of competent jurisdiction in the State.

THDA has materially complied with all previous similar Rule undertakings during at least the past five years.

ABSENCE OF MATERIAL LITIGATION

At the time of delivery of and payment for the Series Bonds, a certificate of THDA and the opinion of the General Counsel of THDA will be furnished, dated the date of delivery, to the effect that there is no controversy or litigation of any nature at such time pending or threatened to restrain or enjoin the issuance, sale, execution or delivery of the Series Bonds, or in any way contesting or affecting the validity of the Series Bonds or any proceedings of THDA taken with respect to the issuance or sale thereof or the pledge or application of any moneys or security provided for the payment of the Series Bonds or the existence or powers of THDA.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds is subject to the delivery of the legal opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel with respect to legal matters incident to the authorization, issuance, sale, and delivery of the Issue 2011-B Bonds in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix H. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller, and for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York. Certain legal matters incident to the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds will be passed upon by Kutak Rock LLP.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Appendix A contains the audited financial statements of THDA and supplementary data as of and for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2010, and June 30, 2009, together with the letter thereon from Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA, Director, Division of State Audit in the Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, and the unaudited financial statements of THDA for the nine month periods ending March 31, 2011, and March 31, 2010. Such audited financial statements and supplementary data are included herein in reliance upon the report thereon of such official. The audited financial statements are audited in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (“GASB”).

UNDERWRITING

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated, RBC Capital Markets, LLC, Morgan Keegan & Company, Inc., Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Raymond James & Associates, Inc., M.R. Beal & Company and Edward Jones & Co. L.P. (collectively, the “Underwriters”) have agreed, subject to certain conditions (including the conversion of the Subseries B-4 Bonds), to purchase Issue 2011-B Bonds from THDA at a purchase price of 100% of the principal amount thereof and an initial issue premium with respect to the Issue 2011-B PAC Bonds in the amount of $597,839.55. The Underwriters will be paid a fee in connection with the purchase of the Issue 2011-B Bonds in an amount equal to $292,511.36. The obligations of the Underwriters to purchase the Issue 2011-B Bonds are subject to certain conditions precedent. The Underwriters will be obligated to purchase all such Issue 2011-B Bonds if any such Issue 2011-B Bonds are purchased. The Underwriters are not acting as placement agents with respect to the Subseries B-4 Bonds and such Subseries B-4 Bonds are not being offered or remarketed hereby.

The Underwriters and their respective affiliates are full service financial institutions engaged in various activities, which may include securities trading, commercial and investment banking, financial advisory, investment management, principal investment, hedging, financing and brokerage activities. Certain of the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may have, from time to time, performed and may in the future perform, various investment banking services for THDA, for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses. In the ordinary course of their various business activities, the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (which may include bank loans and/or credit default swaps) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers and may at any time hold long and short positions in such securities and instruments. Such investment and securities activities may involve securities and instruments of THDA.

Citigroup Inc., parent company of Citigroup Global Markets Inc., an underwriter of the 2011-B Bonds, has entered into a retail brokerage joint venture with Morgan Stanley. As part of the joint venture, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. will distribute municipal securities to retail investors through the financial advisor network of a new broker-dealer, Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC. This distribution arrangement became effective on June 1, 2009. As part of this arrangement, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. will compensate Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC for its selling efforts with respect to the Issue 2011-B Bonds.

MISCELLANEOUS

Any statements in this Official Statement involving matters of opinion or estimates, whether or not expressly so stated, are intended as such and not as representatives of fact. No representation is made that such statements will be realized. All financial and other information presented in this Official Statement has been provided by THDA from its records, except for information expressly attributed to other sources. The presentation of information is intended to show recent historic information, and it is not intended to indicate future or continuing trends in the financial position or other affairs of THDA. No representation is made that past experience, as it might be shown by such financial and other information, will necessarily continue or be repeated in the future. References to and summaries of provisions of the laws of the State or of any other documents referred to in this Official Statement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the complete provisions thereof. This Official Statement is not to be construed as a contract or agreement between THDA and the purchasers or holders of any of the Bonds.

With respect to the Subseries B-4 Bonds, this Official Statement is deemed to be a supplement to the Official Statement and Private Placement Memorandum of THDA dated December 3, 2009, provided in connection with the delivery of the Issue 2009-B Bonds.

The information contained herein is subject to change without notice and no implication should be derived therefrom or from the issuance, as applicable, of the Bonds that there has been no change in the affairs of THDA from the date hereof. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has covenanted to keep proper books of record and account in which full, true and correct entries will be made of all its dealings and transactions under the Resolution and to cause such books to be audited for each fiscal year. The Resolution requires that such books be open to inspection by the holder of any Bond during regular business hours of THDA and that THDA furnish a copy of the auditor's report, when available, upon request of the holder of any outstanding Bond. This Official Statement is submitted in connection with the sale of the securities referred to herein which are proposed to be issued by THDA. It may not be reproduced or used in part, or, as a whole or in part, for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report

December 30, 2010
(except for the last paragraph of this letter which is dated June 23, 2011)

The Honorable Phil Bredesen, Governor
and
Members of the General Assembly
State Capitol
Nashville, Tennessee 37243
and
Members of the Board of Directors
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
and
Mr. Ted Fellman, Executive Director
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
404 James Robertson Parkway, Suite 1200
Nashville, Tennessee 37243

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency, a component unit of the State of Tennessee, as of June 30, 2010, and June 30, 2009, and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the agency's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements, based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in generally accepted government auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion. Tennessee statutes, in addition to audit responsibilities, entrust certain other responsibilities to the Comptroller of the Treasury. Those responsibilities include serving as a member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. We do not believe that the Comptroller's service in this capacity affected our ability to conduct an independent audit of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency as of June 30, 2010, and June 30, 2009, and the changes in its financial position and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The management's discussion and analysis and the schedule of funding progress are not required parts of the basic financial statements but are supplementary information required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We have applied certain limited procedures, which consisted principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion on it.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements. The accompanying supplementary information, following the schedule of funding progress, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

In accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards, we have also issued our report dated December 30, 2010, on our consideration of the agency's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

The accompanying statements of net assets as of March 31, 2011, and March 31, 2010, and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets and cash flows for the nine months then ended were not audited by us and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion on them.

Sincerely,

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr.

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA
Director

This section of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency's (THDA) annual financial statements presents management's discussion and analysis of THDA's financial performance for the years ended June 30, 2010 and June 30, 2009. This information is being presented to provide additional information regarding the activities of THDA and to meet the reporting and disclosure requirements of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement Number 34, Basic Financial Statements -- and Management's Discussion and Analysis -- for State and Local Governments. This section should be read in conjunction with the Independent Auditor's Report and the audited financial statements and accompanying notes.

INTRODUCTION – THE TENNESSEE HOUSING DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

The mission statement of THDA is "Leading Tennessee Home by creating safe, sound, affordable housing opportunities." THDA's goal is to provide housing assistance to those in need by offering a variety of housing-related programs. One of the primary ways THDA assists people is by offering mortgages for first-time homebuyers at below conventional market interest rates. At the close of fiscal year 2010, THDA has originated over 104,000 single-family mortgage loans in its 37-year history, and serves as the master servicer for all active mortgages it funds. In addition to helping homebuyers, THDA administers Section 8 rental assistance programs, including the tenant-based Housing Choice Voucher program in approximately 74 of Tennessee's 95 counties, as well as project-based Contract Administration program for approximately 400 contracts throughout all of Tennessee. THDA also administers grant programs, awarded on a competitive annual cycle, for rehabilitation and new construction of owner-occupied units and small rental projects. THDA is also involved in the development and rehabilitation of multifamily rental housing for low-income families by administering the federal Low-Income Housing Tax Credit, which is a competitive process, and by setting aside a portion of bond authority to be allocated to local issuing authorities for specific multifamily developments.

As established by statute, "The agency shall have a board of directors which shall be responsible for carrying out the powers given to the agency. . ." (Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-105). This board meets regularly on a bi-monthly basis; however, some committees may meet more often as situations dictate.

OVERVIEW OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The basic financial statements include statements of net assets, statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets, statements of cash flows, as well as notes to the financial statements. The statements of net assets provide financial information on the overall financial position of THDA at each year end. The statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets summarize the results of operations over the course of each fiscal year. The statements of cash flows provide relevant information about THDA's cash receipts and cash payments during each fiscal year. The notes to the financial statements provide essential information regarding THDA's significant accounting policies, significant account balances and activities, certain material risks, obligations, commitments, contingencies and subsequent events. THDA's financial statements are presented using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. In addition to the basic financial statements, other supplementary information is included.

THDA is also considered to be a "component unit" for the State of Tennessee, and therefore, its financial information is reported in the State of Tennessee's government-wide Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. This report may be viewed at http://tennessee.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

- THDA's total net assets increased $8.8 million, or 1.7%, from $510.0 million at June 30, 2009 to $518.8 million at June 30, 2010. This resulted from operating revenues that exceeded operating expenses.

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $116.2 million, or 5.8%, from $1,999.4 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,115.6 million at June 30, 2010. This increase resulted from mortgage loan originations that exceeded mortgage loan prepayments and repayments.

- Total liabilities increased $346.0 million, or 16.9%, from $2,050.2 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,396.2 million at June 30, 2010. The increase is primarily due to a increase in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2010 as compared to fiscal year 2009, primarily, the issuance of bonds in the Housing Finance Program Bonds Resolution.

- THDA's total net assets increased $16.2 million, or 3.3%, from $493.8 million at June 30, 2008 to $510.0 million at June 30, 2009. This primarily resulted from an increase in mortgage interest income, and an increase in the fair value of investments. (The amount of net assets as of June 20, 2008 was revised from the amount previously reported as a result of a Prior Period Adjustment. Note 12 of the Notes to the Financial Statements contains full guidance regarding this adjustment.)

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $13.6 million, or 0.7%, from $1,985.8 million at June 30, 2008 to $1,999.4 million at June 30, 2009. This is not a significant change from the prior year.

- Total liabilities decreased $63.0 million, or 3.0%, from $2,113.1 million at June 30, 2008 to $2,050.2 million at June 30, 2009. The decrease is primarily due to a reduction in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2009 as compared to fiscal year 2008, as well as the redemption of $83.1 million of its Single Family Mortgage Notes (please refer to Note 4 of the Notes to the Financial Statements for more information).

Changes in Net Assets. The following table summarizes the changes in revenues, expenses and changes in net assets between fiscal years (expressed in thousands):

	2010	2009	2008
Operating revenues

Change in net assets	$ 8,789	$ 16,225	$ 36,356

2010 to 2009

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating revenues decreased $.9 million from $151.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2009, to $150.7 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating expenses increased $2.8 million, or 2.3%, from $123.0 million in 2009 to $125.8 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

While the total net assets for fiscal year 2010 increased $8.8 million from the previous year, the non-monetary change in the fair value of investments contributed $3.8 million toward this increase. When considered without these non-monetary components, net assets would have increased $5.0 million.

For the year ended June 30, 2009, total operating revenues decreased $12.8 million from $164.4 million for the year ended June 30, 2008 to $151.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2009. The primary reasons for this decrease are as follows:

- Mortgage interest income increased $8.4 million, or 7.5%, from $111.1 million in 2008 to $119.5 million in 2009. This increase is due to record high origination of new mortgage loans as experienced during FY 2007 and FY 2008.

- Investment income decreased $20.9 million, or 53.8%, from $38.8 million in 2008 to $17.9 million in 2009. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in the total amount of invested funds during FY 2009 as compared to FY 2008, as well as a decrease in the investment interest rates.

For the year ended June 30, 2009, total operating expenses decreased $4.3 million, or 3.3%, from $127.3 million in 2008 to $123.0 million in 2009. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in interest expense as a result of debt management practices.

DEBT ACTIVITY

Bonds and notes outstanding at June 30 were as follows (expressed in thousands):

	2010	2009	2008
Bonds payable	$ 2,316,748	$ 1,972,561	$ 1,952,295
Notes payable	3,672	3,250	88,720
Total bonds and notes payable	$ 2,320,420	$ 1,975,811	$ 2,041,015

Year Ended June 30, 2010
Total bonds and notes payable increased $344.6 million, or 17.4%, due primarily to an increase in the issuance of THDA's bonds. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $551.0 million, with activity arising from four bond issues. During FY 2010, THDA participated in the New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) as established by the United States Treasury Department. Principal redemptions during FY 2010 totaled $203.6 million.

Year Ended June 30, 2009
Total bonds and notes payable decreased $65.2 million, or 3.2%, due primarily to a redemption of THDA's Single Family Mortgage Notes in the amount of $83.1 million. Please see Note 4 (e) for more information regarding this transaction. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $267.6 million, with activity arising from four bond issues totaling $220.0 million and one note draw under the single family mortgage note program totaling $44.3 million. In addition, THDA obtained a $3.25 million loan from a local financial institution for the Housing Trust Fund. Principal redemptions decreased $256.1 million, from $584.4 million in FY 2008 to $328.2 million in FY 2009.

New Issue Bond Program (NIBP)

The New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) will provide temporary financing for Housing Finance Agencies (HFAs) to issue new housing bonds to fund new mortgages. The United States Treasury Department will purchase securities of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac backed by these new housing bonds. This will temporarily allow the HFAs to issue an amount of new housing bonds equal to what they would ordinarily be able to issue with the allocations provided them by Congress but are generally unable to issue given the current challenges in housing and related markets.

On December 23, 2009, THDA issued $360 Million of bonds under the NIBP, which were $60 Million (Bond Issue 2009-A2) and $300 Million (Bond Issue 2009-B1). The $300 Million 2009-B1 bonds are variable-rate taxable debt, and are to be held in escrow. Upon being placed in escrow, the proceeds from these bonds are re-invested into permissible investments as required by the United States Treasury Department (generally, 28-day Treasury Bills purchased at auction). These bonds are scheduled to be released from escrow, re-designated and be converted to fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds upon the issuance of market bonds within the framework and guidelines of the NIBP.

Subsequently, on June 17, 2010, THDA released, re-designed, and converted $85,290,000 of escrowed bonds (Bond Issue 2009-B) into fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds (Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1).

Considering the investment requirements for the NIBP escrowed bonds as established by the United States Treasury Department, the proceeds of these escrowed bonds are presented on the Statements of Net Assets as Non-Current Assets, Restricted Assets, Cash and Cash Equivalents. Bonds issued under the NIBP have been placed in the Housing Finance Program Bonds resolution.

Bond Ratings

For bonds issued under the Mortgage Finance Program, Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2 and Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA.

For bonds issued under the Homeownership Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa1 and S&P has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA+.

For bonds issued under the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2. These bonds are not rated by S&P.

Debt Limits

In accordance with Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-121, THDA operates under a "debt ceiling" of $2,930,000,000.

GRANT PROGRAMS

During the past few years, the General Assembly has appropriated revenue to THDA for grant programs. Likewise, THDA's Board of Directors has allocated additional THDA funds for grants. These funds established a grant program that has been titled by the THDA as the "Tennessee Housing Trust Fund."

The four-level model for funding this grant program includes state appropriations, THDA funds, private sector investment, and matching funds from local grantees. The purpose of this grant program is to serve the needs of low and/or very low income, elderly, and special needs Tennesseans. Funding and uses for the Housing Trust Fund are as follows:

	FY 2010	FY 2009	FY 2008 and Prior	Total
Funding Sources:
THDA	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 12,000,000	$ 24,000,000
State Appropriation	-	350,000	4,000,000	4,350,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,350,000	$ 16,000,000	$ 28,350,000
Approved Uses:
Rural repair program (USDA)	$ 700,000	$ 700,000	$ 1,400,000	$ 2,800,000
Ramp Program (UCP)	-	-	50,000	50,000
Ramp Program	-	150,000	250,000	400,000
Hsg Modification & Ramp Prg	150,000	-	-	150,000
Homebuyer Education Initiative		-	300,000	300,000
Emergency Repairs for Elderly	2,000,000	2,000,000	4,000,000	8,000,000
Competitive Grants	3,150,000	3,500,000	10,000,000	16,650,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,350,000	$ 16,000,000	$ 28,350,000

In addition to the above funding, local grants could produce an additional $4 million or more funding each year. Also, the Emergency Repairs for the Elderly program and the Competitive Grants have a 50% grantee match requirement.

THDA is seeking additional private sector funding. In addition to the above approved uses, THDA received requests that merit funding. These requests totaled approximately $6 million more than the funds available.

During FY 2009, THDA received a loan of $3.25 million from a local financial institution for the Housing Trust Fund. Likewise, in FY 2010 THDA received a similar loan of $500,000. These funds will be used to fund short-term second mortgages for low income Tennesseans for homeowner rehabilitation. As required by these lending financial institutions, this program is limited to residents in geographic areas as specified by these financial institutions. THDA is actively pursuing additional financial institutions to also join this program throughout the state.

CURRENT MORTGAGE PRODUCTS AND ENVIRONMENT

THDA offers three primary choices for single-family mortgages. The Great Rate mortgage product offers a below market interest rate loan secured by a first mortgage. The Great Start program offers a loan with an interest rate that is 60 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, but provides 4% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance. In addition, THDA introduced the Great Advantage product during fiscal year 2006, which offers a loan with an interest rate that is 30 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, and 2% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance.

All loans made or purchased by THDA are fixed-rate mortgages with a maximum loan term of 360 months (30 years), and must conform to insurer / guarantor underwriting guidelines. THDA does not make or purchase adjustable rate mortgages (ARMs), interest-only mortgages, "buy-down" loans, mortgages with a future lump-sum payment due (balloon-type mortgage), or other similar mortgage terms. THDA does not make or purchase "sub-prime" mortgage loans.

Single-family mortgage loans purchased by THDA with Loan-to-value (LTV) ratios between 78% and 97% must have an acceptable insurer/guarantor, which includes:

- FHA (United States Department of Housing and Urban Development)
- VA (Veterans Administration Guaranty Program)
- USDA/RD (the United States Department of Agriculture - Rural Development, formerly Farmers Home Administration)
- Private mortgage insurance

THDA will accept private mortgage insurance provided from private mortgage insurers, who are licensed by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in Tennessee; who are rated at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Group; and who provide protection against involuntary job loss at no extra cost to the borrower. THDA will allow privately insured loans underwritten using nationally accepted underwriting guidelines established by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. These loans must be approved through an automated underwriting system such as Desktop Underwriter or Loan Prospector with no expanded approvals. Such privately insured mortgage loans may have loan-to-value ratios up to and including 97% of the lesser of the purchase price or the appraised value.

Loans with a 78% LTV or lower do not require mortgage insurance. The maximum acceptable LTV is 97%.

A detailed chart of these mortgage loan products and primary mortgage loan terms may be obtained from THDA's internet site at http://www.thda.org/singlefamily/hochoices.html.

More recently, media attention has focused on mortgage loan delinquencies and foreclosures. For the past several years, THDA has closely monitored its loan portfolio for delinquency and foreclosures. This monitoring has included analysis based on loan type (Great Rate, Great Start, and Great Advantage), insurer/guarantor (FHA, VA, RECD, private mortgage insurer), mortgage loan servicer, down-payment assistance, and other factors as deemed necessary.

As of June 30, 2010, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	26,756	657	46,015,708	2.46%
90+ Days Past Due	26,756	1,293	95,704,596	4.83%
In Foreclosure	26,756	136	10,466,566	0.51%

As of June 30, 2009, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	25,914	778	54,242,587	3.00%
90+ Days Past Due	25,914	1,452	103,219,318	5.60%
In Foreclosure	25,914	154	11,243,068	0.59%

Note: Percentage is calculated by dividing the "Number of Loans in Status" by the "Total Number of Loans Serviced."

ECONOMIC FACTORS

In accordance with THDA's investment policy, THDA typically invests in short-term collateralized repurchase agreements, as well as short-term and long-term fixed-rate debt securities from federal agencies. As a bench-mark, THDA uses the one-, three-, and five year Constant Maturity Treasury (CMT) rates as established by the United States Treasury.

The continuation of relatively low interest rates from a historic perspective increased the likelihood of negative arbitrage, in which the interest rates on THDA's bond issues exceeds the current investment interest rates. THDA monitors prepayments and bond investment yields, and seeks to reduce negative arbitrage by calling bonds with the funds from prepayments.

CONTACTING THDA's FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

This financial report is designed to provide THDA's stakeholders with a general overview of THDA's finances and to show accountability for the funds that it receives, invests, and expends. If you have questions about this report, or need additional financial information, contact Trent Ridley, Chief Financial Officer at (615) 815-2012 or via e-mail at TRidley@thda.org.

NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Reporting Entity

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency was created by an act of the legislature (Chapter 241, Public Acts, 1973). The act was approved by the Governor on May 14, 1973. The enabling legislation can be found in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 13-23-101 et seq. The purpose of the agency is to improve housing and living conditions for lower- and moderate-income persons and families in Tennessee by making loans and mortgages to qualified sponsors, builders, developers, and purchasers of low- and moderate-income family dwellings.

The agency is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of the Agency. The remaining members are appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. Board members are to be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, and the three grand divisions of the state and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. One member of the board is a resident board member as required by Section 505 of the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998 and 24 CFR Part 964, Subpart E.

In order to accomplish its objectives, the agency is authorized to raise funds through the issuance of bonds and notes. Bonds and notes issued by the agency are not general obligations of the State of Tennessee or any of its political subdivisions, and neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state or any political subdivision is pledged for payment of the principal or interest on such bonds or notes.

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency is a component unit of the State of Tennessee. Although the agency is a separate legal entity, the state appoints a majority of its governing body, approves its operating budget, and provides some financial support. The agency is discretely presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report.

b. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB). The agency generally follows private-sector standards of accounting and financial reporting issued prior to December 1, 1989, to the extent that these standards do not conflict with or contradict guidance of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. The agency also has the option of following subsequent private-sector guidance subject to this same limitation. The agency has elected not to follow subsequent private-sector guidance. Certain accounting policies and procedures are stipulated in the agency's Mortgage Finance Program, Single Family Program, Homeownership Program, and Housing Finance Program bond resolutions and the Single Family Mortgage Notes trust indenture. The agency follows these procedures in establishing and maintaining the various funds and accounts for its programs. Revenues and expenses applicable to each fund and account are recorded therein.

c. Basis of Accounting and Measurement Focus

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. Under this basis, revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recorded when liabilities are incurred. When both restricted and unrestricted resources are available for use, generally it is the agency's policy to use restricted resources first.

d. Capital Assets

Capital assets, which include furniture and office equipment, are defined by the agency as assets with an initial, individual cost of $5,000 or more.

Capital assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives of the assets.

Description	Estimated Life
Furniture	10 years
Computer equipment	3 years

e. Restricted Assets

Restricted assets are comprised of the Debt Service Reserve Funds. The bond resolutions require the agency to establish a Debt Service Reserve Fund for each bond issue. The bond resolutions require that if the Debt Service and Expense Funds or the Revenue Funds of a bond issue are not sufficient to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund requirements of that issue that funds be transferred from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to cover any deficiency.

f. Bond Issuance Costs and Refunding Costs

1. Bond Issuance Costs: The agency amortizes bond issuance costs using the interest method over the life of the related bond issue. Unamortized bond issuance costs are reported as deferred charges.

2. Bond and Note Refunding Costs: The agency amortizes bond and note refunding costs using the straight-line method. Bonds and notes payable are reported net of the deferred amount on refundings.

3. Bond Premiums and Discounts: Bond premiums and discounts are deferred and amortized over the life of the bonds using the interest method. Bonds payable are reported net of the applicable unamortized bond premium or discount.

4. Mortgage Discount: Discounts on 30-year mortgage loans purchased by the agency are amortized using the straight-line method over 17 years, the estimated average life of mortgages. The amount amortized is credited to interest income.

g. Cash and Cash Equivalents

In addition to demand deposits, petty cash, and deposits in the pooled investment fund administered by the State Treasurer, this classification includes short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

h. Investments

The agency has established guidelines for its funds to meet the requirements of the bond resolutions and to comply with the statutes of the State of Tennessee. Permitted investments include the following: direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury and U.S. Agencies; obligations guaranteed by the U.S.; public housing bonds secured by contracts with the U.S.; direct and general obligations of the State of Tennessee or obligations guaranteed by the State of Tennessee; obligations of other states or instrumentalities thereof which are rated in either of the two highest rating categories by Moody's Investor Service or Standard & Poor's Corporation; interest bearing time or demand deposits; collateralized certificates of deposit in authorized state depositories; and repurchase agreements collateralized by authorized securities.

Investments are stated at fair value.

i. Accrual of Interest Income

Interest on first mortgage loans receivable and investment securities is credited to income as earned and classified as interest receivable.

j. Mortgages

Mortgages are carried at their original amount less principal collected.

k. Operating Revenues and Expenses

The agency was created with the authority to issue bonds to the investing public in order to create a flow of private capital through the agency into mortgage loans to certain qualified individuals and qualified housing sponsors. The agency's primary operation is to borrow funds in the bond market and issue those funds to make single-family and multi-family loans. The primary operating revenue is the interest income on outstanding mortgages and the investment income from proceeds of bonds. The primary operating expense of the agency is the interest expense on bonds outstanding.

NOTE 2. DEPOSITS AND INVESTMENTS

a. Deposits

Custodial Credit Risk. Custodial credit risk for deposits is the risk that in the event of a bank failure, the agency's deposits may not be returned to it.

The laws of the State of Tennessee require that collateral be pledged to secure all uninsured deposits. The agency's bond resolutions require deposits to be fully secured.

The agency's deposits are in financial institutions which participate in the bank collateral pool administered by the State Treasurer. The securities pledged to protect these accounts are pledged in the aggregate rather than against each individual account. The members of the pool may be required by agreement to pay an assessment to cover any deficiency. Under this additional assessment agreement, public fund accounts covered by the pool are considered to be insured for purposes of credit risk disclosure.

At March 31, 2011, the bank balance was $10,664,461. At March 31, 2010, the bank balance was $770,076. At June 30, 2010, the bank balance was $533,214. At June 30, 2009, the bank balance was $1,404,893. All bank balances were insured. The agency has deposits in the State Pooled Investment Fund administered by the State Treasurer. The fund is not rated by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization. The fund's investment policy and required risk disclosures are presented in the State of Tennessee Treasurer's Report. That report may be obtained by writing to the Tennessee Department of the Treasury, 502 Deaderick Street, Nashville, Tennessee 37243-0225, or by calling (615) 741-2956.

b. Investments

As stated in the agency's investment policy, the "prudent man rule" shall be the standard of prudence used by all officials responsible for the investment of assets. Investments are made as a prudent person would be expected to act in the management of their own affairs. That would be to consider the safety of capital and the probability of income, while avoiding speculative investments.

The agency's investment policy states that the agency portfolios will be diversified in order to reduce the risk of loss resulting from over concentration of assets in a specific maturity, a specific issuer, or a specific class of securities. The agency may invest one hundred percent (100%) of its portfolio in U.S. government securities due to the absence of credit risk. A minimum of five percent (5%) of the par value of total investments must mature within five years. No more than fifty percent (50%) of the par value of the combined portfolios can be invested in maturities greater than fifteen (15) years without approval of the Bond Finance Committee.

Portfolio maturities shall be staggered in a way that avoids undue concentrations of assets in a specific maturity sector. Maturities shall be selected which provide for stability of income and reasonable liquidity. It is the intent of this policy that sufficient investments be scheduled to mature to provide for the required liquidity for debt service and other expenditures per resolution requirements.

Interest Rate Risk. Interest Rate Risk is the risk that changes in interest rates of debt investments will adversely affect the fair value of an investment.

Duration is a measure of a debt investment's exposure to fair value changes arising from changing interest rates. It uses the present value of cash flows, weighted for those cash flows as a percentage of the investment's full price.

The second release and conversion from 2009-B was on November 10, 2010, in the amount of $60,000,000. The $60,000,000 was blended with the market rate 2010-B bonds in the amount of $40,000,000 for a total of $100,000,000 which is in the ending balance at December 31, 2010 column.

The interest rate on the 2009-B bonds is tied to the investment rate on proceeds of the bonds. Proceeds are required to be invested in U.S. Treasury securities maturing in 28 days or less.

b. Debt Service Requirements

Debt service requirements to maturity at June 30, 2010 are as follows (expressed in thousands):

For the Year(s) Ending June 30	Principal	Interest	Total Requirements
2011	$269,962	$92,960	$362,922
2012	45,635	86,458	132,093
2013	42,210	84,986	127,196
2014	43,245	83,499	126,744
2015	44,640	81,861	126,501
2016 – 2020	197,848	381,358	579,206
2021 – 2025	249,383	336,647	586,030
2026 – 2030	273,457	270,967	544,424
2031 – 2035	270,933	208,491	479,424
2036 – 2040	585,366	97,301	682,667
2041 - 2042	300,000	5,066	305,066
Total	$2,322,679	$1,729,594	$4,052,273

The debt principal in the preceding table is $5,931,000 greater than that presented in the accompanying financial statements. This amount, which is a deduction from bonds payable for the deferred amount on refundings, is not reflected in the above presentation.

c. Redemption of Bonds and Notes

During the nine months ended March 31, 2011, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $8,875,000, in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $262,580,000 and in the Housing Finance program in the amount of $2,825,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $8,839,112, $265,239,578 and $2,815,573. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $35,888 and to the Housing Finance Program of $9,427 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,659,578.

On October 13, 2010, the agency issued $120,700,000 in Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2010-1. On November 1, 2010, the agency used $99,835,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $99,835,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $99,371,651. The refunding resulted in a difference of $463,349 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $22,227,781 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $10,476,679.

During the nine months ended March 31, 2010, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $10,695,000 and in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $148,030,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $10,651,667 and $150,460,729. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $43,333 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,430,729.

During the year ended June 30, 2010, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $10,695,000 and in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $168,625,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $10,651,667 and $170,939,715. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $43,333 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,314,715.

On June 17, 2010, the agency issued $74,710,000 in Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2010-A. On June 17, 2010, the agency used $20,595,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $20,595,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $20,478,986. The refunding resulted in a difference of $116,014 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $5,910,703 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $2,812,047.

During the year ended June 30, 2009, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $11,245,000 and in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $107,985,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $11,187,700 and $110,279,862. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $57,300 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,294,862.

On July 1, 2008, a fourth drawdown was made on the Series 2007 CN-1 Notes in the amount of $44,330,000. These proceeds were used on the same day to refund bonds previously issued in the Mortgage Finance Program and the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $35,785,000 early redemption and $8,545,000 current maturities). The carrying amount of these bonds was $45,277,489. The refunding resulted in a difference of $947,489 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. Because notes were used to refund long-term bonds, neither the change in debt service nor the economic gain or loss disclosures are appropriate.

On August 7, 2008, the agency issued $50,000,000 in Homeownership Bonds, Issue 2008-2. On August 14, 2008, the agency used these bonds to refund the convertible drawdown notes, 2007 CN-1, which were used November 1, 2007, January 2, 2008, and July 1, 2008 to refund certain bonds previously issued in the Mortgage Finance and Homeownership programs. The refunding increased the agency's debt service by $20,171,444 over the next 14 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $1,628,880.

On December 18, 2008, the agency issued $30,000,000 in Homeownership Bonds, Issue 2008-4. On January 2, 2009, the agency used $4,820,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Mortgage Finance Program and the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $675,000 early redemption and $4,145,000 current maturities). The carrying amount of these bonds was $4,814,144. The refunding resulted in a difference of $5,856 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding increased the agency's debt service by $2,590,125 over the next 10.5 years, and the agency realized an economic loss (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $51,209.

e. Notes Issued and Outstanding

The Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture, dated December 1, 1997 (the “Trust Indenture”), provided for the issuance of agency drawdown notes with a maximum aggregate principal amount of $65,000,000. On April 1, 1999, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $200,000,000. On December 1, 2002, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $450,000,000.

The notes bear interest, payable on the second Thursday of each succeeding month with respect to the principal amount drawn down by the agency. The interest rate is equal to ninety-nine percent (99%) of the bond equivalent yield as determined on the related rate date.

The following table is a summary of the drawdown note activity for the year ended June 30, 2009.

NOTES ISSUED AND OUTSTANDING
(Thousands)

Series	Maturity	Stated Principal	Interest Rate (Percent)	Beginning Balance 7/01/2008	Additions	Reductions	Ending Balance 6/30/2009

There was no drawdown activity during the nine months ended March 31, 2010 and during the year ended June 30, 2010.

Promissory Note. On December 22, 2008, the agency borrowed $3,250,000 for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Interest is being charged quarterly at 3% with the principal maturing on December 22, 2011. On August 3, 2009, the agency borrowed $500,000 at 3% for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Principal and interest are paid monthly with the principal maturing on August 4, 2012.

The activity of the 2007CN-1 notes shown above as well as the promissory note are also included in the summary of long-term liability activity in part d. of this note.

In October 2008, the Internal Revenue Service issued Notice 2008-88, amending Notice 2008-41. With an effective date of March 28, 2008, this notice provides temporary relief to issuers by allowing them to purchase their own bonds and commercial paper without causing an extinguishment of the debt for tax purposes. Therefore, on October 9, 2008, due to unstable credit markets, the Tennessee Housing Development Agency purchased at par $83,050,000 of its Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2009, after which the notes were to be available to reissue. Due to continuing unstable credit markets, on December 31, 2009, the Internal Revenue Service extended the amount of time the agency was allowed to hold its outstanding notes purchased from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2010, however the notes matured on August 12, 2010.
In accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement 76 Paragraph 3, the outstanding notes were not recorded for financial reporting purposes.

NOTE 5. RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

The amount shown on the Statement of Net Assets as Restricted for Single Family Bond Programs is contractually pledged, under the bond resolutions of the agency, to the owners of the bonds issued under such bond resolutions. As pledged assets, the contractual provisions of the bond resolutions restrict the use of such assets. However, the assets may be removed from the lien of the bond resolutions if certain parity tests, as established by the respective bond resolutions, are satisfied. Assets removed from the lien of the respective bond resolutions may be used for other purposes.

The amount shown as Restricted for Grant Programs represents unexpended grant money that has been awarded to grantees through various grant programs administered by the agency.

The amount shown as Restricted for Homebuyers Revolving Loan Program represents the amount of net assets that are restricted for a pilot program that funds zero interest loans for down payment and closing costs. The use of these net assets is restricted under legislation enacted in fiscal year 1986.

NOTE 6. DEFINED BENEFIT PENSION PLAN

The agency contributes to the State Employees, Teachers, and Higher Education Employees Pension Plan (SETHEEPP), a cost-sharing, multiple-employer defined benefit pension plan administered by the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS). TCRS provides retirement, death, and disability benefits as well as annual cost-of-living adjustments to plan members and their beneficiaries. Title 8, Chapters 34-37, Tennessee Code Annotated, establishes benefit provisions. State statutes are amended by the Tennessee General Assembly.

The TCRS issues a publicly available financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information for SETHEEPP. That report may be obtained by writing to the Tennessee Department of the Treasury, Consolidated Retirement System, 502 Deaderick Street, Nashville, Tennessee, 37243-0201 or by calling (615) 741-7063.

Plan members are noncontributory. The agency is required to contribute at an actuarially determined rate. The current rate is 13.02% of annual covered payroll. Contribution requirements for the agency are established and may be amended by the TCRS' Board of Trustees. The agency's contributions to TCRS for the years ended June 30, 2010, 2009, and 2008, were $1,295,272, $1,201,303, and $1,297,298. Those contributions met the required contributions for each year.

NOTE 7. PROVISIONS FOR MORTGAGE LOAN LOSSES

Most mortgage loans are insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or an approved private mortgage insurance company, or are guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs. The agency's Board of Directors has established a loan loss reserve of $750,000 as a provision for potential loan losses arising from participation in the Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) Loan Guarantee Program. An additional $232,000 was established as a loan loss reserve against potential losses on loans not specifically covered under one of the above programs, and $500,000 was established as a loan loss reserve for self-insurance of second mortgages.

Since the amount of net assets restricted for single family bond programs exceeds the amounts necessary for these loan loss reserves, it is not necessary to designate unrestricted net assets for this purpose.

NOTE 8. RISK MANAGEMENT

a. Commercial Insurance

The agency carries commercial insurance for risks of loss related to employee dishonesty; general liability protection; and theft of, damage to, or destruction of real and personal property. Settled claims resulting from these risks have not exceeded commercial insurance coverage in any of the past three fiscal years.

b. Risk Management Fund

The state has set aside assets for claim settlement in an internal service fund, the Risk Management Fund. This fund services all claims for risk of loss to which the state is exposed, including general liability, automobile liability, professional malpractice, and workers' compensation. The agency participates in the Risk Management Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on a percentage of the agency's expected loss costs which include both experience and exposures. This charge considers recent trends in actual claims experience of the state as a whole. An actuarial valuation is performed as of each fiscal year-end to determine the fund liability and premium allocation. Information regarding the determination of the claims liabilities and the changes in the balances of the claims liabilities for the years ended June 30, 2009, and June 30, 2008, are presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. Since the agency participates in the Risk Management Fund, it is subject to the liability limitations under the provisions of the Tennessee Claims Commission Act, Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 9-8-101 et seq. Liability for negligence of the agency for bodily injury and property damage is limited to $300,000 per person and $1,000,000 per occurrence. The limits of liability under workers' compensation are set forth in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 50-6-101 et seq. Claims are paid through the state's Risk Management Fund.

c. Employee Group Insurance Fund

The state has also set aside assets in the Employee Group Insurance Fund, an internal service fund, to provide a program of health insurance coverage for the employees of the state with the risk retained by the state. The agency participates in the Employee Group Insurance Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on estimates of the ultimate cost of claims, including the cost of claims that have been reported but not settled and of claims that have been incurred but not reported. Employees and providers have 13 months to file medical claims.

NOTE 9. OTHER POSTEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS (OPEB)

Healthcare is the only "other postemployment benefit" (OPEB) provided to employees. The State of Tennessee administers a group health insurance program which provides postemployment health insurance benefits to eligible THDA retirees. This program includes two plans – the State Employee Group Plan and the Medicare Supplement Plan. For accounting purposes, the plans are agent multiple-employer defined benefit OPEB plans. Benefits are established and amended by an insurance committee created by Tennessee Code Annotated (TCA) Section 8-27-201 for the state plan and TCA 8-27-701 for the Medicare Supplement Plan. Prior to reaching age 65, retirees may participate in the State Employee Group Plan. Members of this plan have the option of choosing a preferred provider organization (PPO), point of service (POS), or health maintenance organization (HMO) plan for healthcare benefits. The POS and HMO options will no longer be available to members after January 1, 2011. Subsequent to age 65, retirees who are also in the state's retirement system may participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan that does not include pharmacy. The plans are reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report may be obtained by writing to the Tennessee Department of Finance and Administration, Division of Accounts, 14th Floor William R. Snodgrass Tennessee Tower, 312 Rosa L. Parks Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee 37243, or by calling (615) 741-2140.

Special Funding Situation. The State of Tennessee is legally responsible for contributions to the Medicare Supplement Plan that covers the retirees of other governmental entities, including the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. The state is the sole contributor for the THDA retirees that participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan and, therefore, is acting as the employer.

Funding Policy. The premium requirements of members of the State Employee Group Plan are established and may be amended by the insurance committee. The plan is self-insured and financed on a pay-as-you-go basis with the risk shared equally among the participants. Claims liabilities of the plan are periodically computed using actuarial and statistical techniques to establish premium rates. Administrative costs of the plan are allocated to participants. Retirees in the State Employee Group Plan pay the same base premium as active employees in the plan adjusted for years of service. Retirees with 30 years of service pay 20% of the total premium. Retirees with 20 but less than 30 years of service pay 30% of the total premium. Retirees with less than 20 years of service pay 40% of the total premium.

Funded Status and Funding Progress. The funded status of THDA's portion of the State Employee Group Plan as of July 1, 2009, was as follows (Thousands):

Actuarial valuation date	7/01/2009
Actuarial accrued liability (AAL)	$ 3,629
Actuarial value of plan assets	-0-
Unfunded actuarial accrued liability (UAAL)	$ 3,629
Actuarial value of assets as a % of the AAL	0%
Covered payroll (active plan members)	$ 9,238
UAAL as a percentage of covered payroll	39%

Actuarial valuations involve estimates of the value of reported amounts and assumptions about the probability of events far into the future, and actuarially determined amounts are subject to continual revision as actual results are compared to past expectations and new estimates are made about the future. The schedule of funding progress, presented as required supplementary information following the notes to the financial statements, presents multiyear trend information about whether the actuarial value of plan assets is increasing or decreasing over time relative to the actuarial accrued liability for benefits.

Actuarial Methods and Assumptions. Calculations are based on the types of benefits provided under the terms of the substantive plan at the time of each valuation and on the pattern of sharing of costs between the employer and plan members to that point. Actuarial calculations reflect a long-term perspective. Consistent with that perspective, actuarial methods and assumptions used include techniques that are designed to reduce short-term volatility in actuarial accrued liabilities and the actuarial value of assets.

In the July 1, 2009, actuarial valuation, the Projected Unit Credit actuarial cost method was used. The actuarial assumptions included a 4.5 percent investment rate of return (net of administrative expenses) and an annual healthcare cost trend rate of 6 percent initially, increased to 10 percent in the second year and then reduced by decrements to an ultimate rate of 5 percent in fiscal year 2021. All rates include a 3 percent inflation assumption. The unfunded actuarial accrued liability is being amortized as a level percentage of payroll on a closed basis over a 30 year period beginning with July 1, 2007.

NOTE 10. ON-BEHALF PAYMENTS

During the year ended June 30, 2010, the State of Tennessee made payments of $2,657 on behalf of THDA for retirees participating in the Medicare Supplement Plan, and during the year ended June 30, 2009, made payments of $2,528. The Medicare Supplement Plan is a postemployment benefit healthcare plan and is discussed further in Note 9. The plan is reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report may be obtained by writing to the Tennessee Department of Finance and Administration, Division of Accounts, 14th Floor William R. Snodgrass Tennessee Tower, 312 Rosa L. Parks Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee 37243, or by calling (615) 741-2140.

NOTE 11. PAYMENTS TO PRIMARY GOVERNMENT

From time to time, the State of Tennessee has called upon the agency and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to the agency. On June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 from the agency’s Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund. On June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from the agency to the State General Fund. The $43,000,000 transferred from the agency came from the following resources of the agency: (i) $15,459,157 from tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. On June 30, 2002, a transfer from the agency to the primary government in the amount of $35,367,449 was made from the Assets Fund for the sole purpose of meeting the requirements of funding the operations of the primary government for the year ended June 30, 2002.

NOTE 12. PRIOR – PERIOD ADJUSTMENT

For the years ended June 30, 2008 and June 30, 2009, the agency recorded federal administrative fee revenue on a cash basis instead of on an accrual basis. Therefore, the agency is restating its FY 2009 statements and effecting a prior period adjustment for FY 2008 for these fees.

For the year ended June 30, 2008, revenue in the amount of $1,286,244 was earned on or before June 30, 2008, but received on or after July 1, 2008. This revenue was recorded as an increase to cash and a recognition of revenue for the year ended June 30, 2009. If correctly recorded, this would have resulted in an increase to accounts receivable and recognition of revenue for the year ended June 30, 2008, and an increase to cash and a decrease to accounts receivable for the year ended June 30, 2009. As this error was made in a financial year prior to the comparative year, the opening Net Assets amount as of July 1, 2008 was increased by $1,286,244.

For the year ended June 30, 2009, revenue in the amount of $1,907,676 was earned on or before June 30, 2009, but received on or after July 1, 2009. If correctly recorded, this revenue would have resulted in an increase to accounts receivable and recognition of revenue for the year ended June 30, 2009.

The following financial statement line items for the year ended June 30, 2009 were affected by the correction of an error in previously issued financial statements on accrued federal administration fee revenue (expressed in thousands):

APPENDIX B

SUMMARY OF MORTGAGE INSURANCE AND GUARANTEE PROGRAMS

Introduction

All first lien Program Loans made or purchased by THDA with proceeds of Bonds issued under the General Resolution must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, or (b) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who, at the time of closing, have an acceptable equity interest in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price.

Originating Agents are responsible for obtaining Veteran's Administration ("VA") or U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD") guarantees, Federal Housing Administration ("FHA") insurance certificates or private mortgage insurance certificates as part of the process of originating and closing THDA Program Loans. Borrowers pay the costs associated with such insurance certificates or guarantees.

The following descriptions of certain mortgage insurance programs and loan guarantee programs are all only brief outlines and do not purport to summarize or describe all provisions of each respective program. For a more complete description of these programs, refer to the contract provisions embodied in FHA, USDA/RD (formerly FmHA) and VA regulations, respectively, and to the regulations, master insurance contracts and other such information from the private mortgage insurance providers.

FHA Insurance Programs

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, authorizes various FHA mortgage insurance programs, which differ primarily upon whether the property contains five or more dwelling units or less than five such units and whether the property is designed for occupancy by low and moderate income families.

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, imposes a minimum cash requirement for purchase money mortgages of 3.5% of the lesser of appraised value or sales price, resulting in a maximum loan to value percentage of 96.5%.

Under the FHA programs which insure THDA's Program Loans, insurance benefits generally are payable only upon foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance of the property to the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD"). The FHA insurance proceeds available under these programs upon conveyance of the property to HUD is equal to 100% of the outstanding principal balance of the Program Loan, plus interest and certain additional costs and expenses.

Under some FHA insurance programs, HUD pays insurance claims in cash unless the mortgage lender specifically requests payment in debentures issued by HUD. Under other programs, HUD, at its option, may pay insurance claims in cash or in such debentures. Currently, HUD makes insurance payments on mortgages covering less than five dwelling units in cash when it has discretion to determine the form of insurance payment. HUD debentures issued in satisfaction of FHA insurance claims bear interest at the HUD debentures interest rate in effect under HUD regulations on the date of the mortgage insurance commitment or of the initial insurance endorsement of the mortgage, whichever rate is higher.

When FHA insurance benefits are paid after foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance, the amount paid is computed as of the date of default by the borrower, as defined in HUD regulations, and the mortgage lender generally is not compensated for mortgage interest accrued and unpaid prior to that date. When FHA insurance benefits are paid under such circumstances, the insurance payment made is generally equal to the unpaid principal amount of the Program Loan, adjusted to reimburse the mortgage lender for certain tax, insurance and similar payments made by it and to deduct certain amounts received or retained by the mortgage lender after default, plus reimbursement not to exceed a specified percentage of the mortgage lender's foreclosure costs as determined by HUD based on certain criteria. The regulations under the FHA insurance programs which insure THDA's Program Loans provide that the insurance payment itself shall bear interest from the date of default to the date of payment of the claim at an interest rate equal to the monthly average yield, for the month in which the default occurred, on United States Treasury securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years.

When any property conveyed to HUD has been damaged by fire, earthquake, flood or tornado, it is generally required, as a condition to payment of an insurance claim, that the property be repaired by the mortgage lender prior to such conveyance or assignment.

To obtain title to and possession of the property upon foreclosure, the Trustee and the Servicer act under the power of sale provisions in the deed of trust, subject to constraints imposed by applicable state law and by HUD. HUD currently requires that, absent the consent of the borrower, at least three full monthly installments be due and unpaid under the deed of trust before the mortgage lender may initiate any action leading to foreclosure under the deed of trust. HUD also requires a face-to-face conference between the mortgage lender and the borrower in an effort to cure the delinquency without foreclosure. In any case, these requirements do not apply where the borrower has voluntarily abandoned the property, in which case, the mortgage lender may immediately initiate foreclosure proceedings (subject to applicable state law notice provisions).

Veterans Administration Guaranty Program

The Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended, permits a veteran (or in certain instances, the veteran's spouse or certain qualified reservists) to obtain a Program Loan guaranty from the VA covering the purchase of a one-to-four family dwelling unit at interest rates permitted by the VA. The program has no loan limits, requires no down payment from the purchaser and permits the guaranty of Program Loans of up to thirty years duration. The maximum guaranty that may be issued by the VA under this program is the lesser of the veteran's available entitlement or the statutory maximum guaranty based on date of origination, type of housing unit and loan amount. Notwithstanding the dollar and percentage limitations of the guaranty, a mortgage lender will ordinarily suffer a monetary loss only when the difference between the unsatisfied indebtedness and the proceeds of a foreclosure sale of a property is greater than the original guaranty, as adjusted. The VA may, at its option, and without regard to the guaranty, make full payment to a mortgage lender of unsatisfied indebtedness on a mortgage upon its assignment to the VA.

United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development (formerly Farmers Home Administration)

Guaranteed Rural Housing Program

The Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 revised and expanded the interest assistance program for guaranteed loans under Section 502 of Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, by creating the Guaranteed Rural Housing Loan Program. The guaranty covers the lesser of (a) any loss equal to 90% of the original principal amount of the loan or (b) any loss in full up to 35% of the original principal amount of the loan plus any additional loss on the remaining 65% to be shared approximately 85% by USDA/RD and approximately 15% by THDA.

Private Mortgage Insurance Programs

General

Program Loans are permitted under the General Resolution when insured under private mortgage insurance programs as described below.

Private mortgage insurance policies insure against certain losses sustained by reason of default in payments by borrowers. Under most policies, delinquencies must be reported to the insurer within two (2) months of default, and proceedings to recover title must, generally, be commenced within nine (9) months of default. It is standard practice for private mortgage insurers to require that the mortgage lender, prior to presenting a claim under the mortgage insurance policy, acquire and tender to the private mortgage insurer title to the property, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, including any right of redemption by the borrower. When such a claim is presented, the private mortgage insurer will normally retain the option to pay the claim in full and take title to the property and arrange for its sale, or to pay the insured percentage of the claim and allow the insured mortgage lender to retain title to the property. The amount of loss payable generally includes the principal balance due under the mortgage, plus accumulated interest, real estate taxes and hazard insurance premiums which have been advanced, expenses incurred in the preservation of the insured property, and other expenses necessarily incurred in the recovery proceedings.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

DESCRIPTION OF AGREEMENTS WITH ORIGINATING AGENTS AND SERVICERS

Working Agreements

THDA has working agreements with each of its Originating Agents (the "Working Agreements"). Under the Working Agreements, THDA reviews and makes or purchases approved Program Loans which have been originated and processed by an Originating Agent.

Each Working Agreement also contains certain representations and warranties by the Originating Agent regarding the Program Loan applications submitted to THDA to the effect that the Originating Agent has no adverse information regarding the credit or reputation of the applicant nor adverse information concerning the real property to be mortgaged that would materially lessen THDA's security or detract from the subsequent marketability of the Program Loan. Each Originating Agent further represents and warrants that it will receive and process for THDA all applications by applicants for Program Loans who qualify as lower and moderate income persons.

The Working Agreement requires that Program Loans meet all requirements contained in THDA's rules and regulations and the O. A. Guide (as defined below). These requirements include, among other things:

(1) a deed of trust securing the Program Loan in a form approved by THDA which creates a valid first lien on the property;

(2) for FHA insured or VA or USDA/RD guaranteed Program Loans, all FHA, VA or USDA/RD rules, regulations and requirements must be met;

(3) evidence of title satisfactory to THDA;

(4) an original hazard insurance policy, delivered at closing, which covers the property subject to the Program Loan, names THDA as first mortgagee, and is in an amount not less than the greater of 90% of the insurable value of the improvements on the property or the full amount of the Program Loan; and

(5) such other documents as are necessary to comply with the federal tax code.

Penalties may be imposed on Originating Agents for violating the Working Agreements. At the option of THDA, Originating Agents may also be required to purchase a Program Loan from THDA when there is a violation under the Working Agreement with respect to the Program Loan. THDA may terminate Working Agreements upon notice, with or without cause or, at its election, temporarily suspend Originating Agent's privilege to originate Program Loans as a result of inadequate performance.

Guide for Originating Agents

THDA provides each Originating Agent with a Guide for Originating Agents (the "O. A. Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax code requirements. The O. A. Guide sets forth requirements and procedures for originating, processing and closing Program Loans. The Guide includes a procedural checklist to be followed by the Originating Agent and copies of all THDA forms required in originating, processing and closing Program Loans.

Servicing Agreements

THDA currently has agreements with U.S. Bank, Magna Bank and First Horizon Bank (recently purchased by Met Life) (the "Servicers") to service Program Loans (the "Servicing Agreements"). U.S. Bank services approximately 80% of THDA's entire portfolio of mortgage loans. Magna Bank and Met Life, through a sub-servicing agreement with U.S. Bank, service the remainder. THDA itself is also permitted to service Program Loans although it has not done so to date. The Servicing Agreements provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. Prior to remittance, the Servicer deducts a servicing fee, late charges and amounts to be held in escrow accounts for real property taxes, mortgage and hazard insurance premiums, and assessments. The servicing fee under current Servicing Agreements is 3/8% annually. The Servicer is required to notify THDA in the event of any default on a Program Loan, and the Servicer may conduct foreclosure proceedings with the consent and at the expense of THDA. The Servicer is required to repurchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of the Servicer's failure to perform its obligations under the Servicing Agreement. THDA may also terminate a Servicing Agreement for inadequate performance by the Servicer.

Guide for Servicers

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers (the "Servicer Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax requirements. The Servicer Guide includes substantive servicing requirements, incorporates the limitation on assumption of mortgages contained in the federal tax code, and specifies the procedures to be followed by the Servicer to comply with THDA requirements and the federal tax code. The Servicer Guide also includes a list of the documents that must be maintained by the Servicer, copies of all THDA's servicing and loan assumption forms, together with instructions for their completion and a schedule for the submission of the required forms and reports to THDA.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers. Each Servicer's performance is monitored and its servicing record is subject to examination by THDA's staff. Examinations are performed monthly from documentation received from the Servicer.

Special Programs

For certain special programs, THDA may elect to enter into joint agreements for originating and servicing Program Loans made under such special programs. Any such joint agreements are substantially similar to the Working Agreements and Servicing Agreements described hereinabove.

APPENDIX D

SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION

The General Housing Finance Resolution, as amended (the "General Resolution"), contains various covenants and security provisions, certain of which are summarized below. This summary does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive and is subject to all the terms and provisions of the General Resolution, to which reference is hereby made and copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Definitions (Section 1.2)

"Bond" means one of the bonds authenticated and delivered pursuant to the Resolution, including any additional or Refunding Bonds issued pursuant to Article II.

Bond Reserve Fund" means the Bond Reserve Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Bond Reserve Fund Requirement" means, as of any date of calculation the greater of (i) an amount equal to the aggregate of the respective amounts for each Issue of Bonds established in the Supplemental Resolution authorizing such Issue or (ii) an amount equal to 3% of the then current balance of Program Loans plus any other amount on deposit in the Loan Fund which has not been designated to provide for the payment of Costs of Issuance or capitalized interest.

"Costs of Issuance" means all items of expense, directly or indirectly payable or reimbursable by or to THDA and related to the authorization, sale and issuance of Bonds, including but not limited to discount to be paid to the underwriters upon the initial delivery of Bonds, printing costs, costs of preparation and reproduction of documents, filing and recording fees, initial fees and charges of any Fiduciary, legal fees and charges, fees and disbursements of consultants and professionals, costs of credit ratings, fees and charges for the insurance of the payment of Bonds, initial premiums to obtain mortgage pool insurance, accrued interest in connection with the financing of Program Loans and any other cost, charge or fee in connection with the original issuance of Bonds.

"Debt Service" means, with respect to any particular Fiscal Year and any particular Series of Bonds, an amount equal to the sum of (i) all interest payable on such Bonds during such Fiscal Year, plus (ii) any Principal Installment of such Bonds during such Fiscal Year.

"Fund" means one or more, as the case may be, of the special Funds created and established pursuant to this Resolution.

"Interest Payment Date" means any date upon which interest on the Bonds is due and payable in accordance with their terms.

"Investment Securities" means and includes any of the following obligations, to the extent the same are at the time legal for investment of funds of THDA under the Act, including the amendments thereto hereafter made, or under other applicable law:

(1) Obligations of, or obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality thereof when such obligations are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America, including, but not limited to:

- All direct or fully guaranteed United States Treasury;
- Certificates of beneficial ownership issued by the Farmers Home Administration;
- Participation certificates issued by General Services Administration;

- Debt obligations issued by Financing Corp. (FICO);
- Debt obligations issued by Resolution Funding Corp. (REFCORP);

(4) Federal funds, unsecured certificates of deposit, time deposits, and banker's acceptances (having maturities of not more than 365 days) of any bank, the short-term obligations of which are rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(5) Deposits which are fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC);

(6) Debt obligations rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date);

(7) Commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's maturing not more than 365 days;

(8) Investment in money market funds rated at least 'aam' or 'AAm-G' by S&P and 'Aaa' by Moody's;

(9) Repurchase agreements and investment agreements with any financial institution with long-term unsecured debt rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's or commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(10) Stripped securities

(i) U.S. Treasury STRIPS

(ii) REFCORP STRIPS (stripped by Federal Reserve Bank of New York), and

(iii) Any stripped securities assessed or rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's; and

(11) Any other investments which would not adversely affect the then current rating assigned to the Bonds, as confirmed in writing by S&P and Moody's.

"Issuance Amount" shall mean the price, exclusive of accrued interest (if any) which is payable on a semiannual basis, at which a Bond was offered for sale to the public (or the price of such Bond to the initial purchaser if not publicly sold) at the time of issuance thereof by THDA pursuant to Section 2.6, irrespective of underwriter's compensation, commissions, placement agent's fees, concessions, THDA Costs of Issuance, or similar costs.

"Loan Fund" means the Loan Fund established in Section 5.1.

"Non-Mortgage Receipts" means all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses as a result of the investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, but shall not include Revenues.

"Outstanding", when used with reference to Bonds, means, as of any date, all Bonds theretofore or thereupon being authenticated and delivered under this Resolution except:

(1) any Bond canceled by the Trustee or delivered to the Trustee for cancellation at or prior to such date;

(2) any Bond (or portion of a Bond) for the payment or redemption of which there have been separately set aside and held in the Redemption Fund hereunder either:

(a) moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price thereof, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date;

(b) Investment Securities, as described in Section 12.1(13), in such principal amounts, of such maturities, bearing such interest and otherwise having such terms and qualifications as shall be necessary to provide moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price of such Bond, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date; or

(c) any combination of (a) and (b) above;

(3) any Bond in lieu of or in substitution for which other Bonds shall have been authenticated and delivered pursuant to Section 3.7, Section 6.6 or Section 9.6; and

(4) any Bond deemed to have been paid as provided in subsection (B) of Section 12.1.

"Program" means the program for the financing of loans for residential housing established by THDA pursuant to the Act and Program Guidelines, as the same may be amended from time to time consistent with this Resolution, but only to the extent that such program is financed through the issuance of Bonds or from amounts otherwise available out of the moneys and assets held or pledged pursuant to this Resolution.

"Program Expenses" means all of THDA's expenses in carrying out and administering its duties and corporate purposes under the Act and shall include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, salaries, supplies, utilities, mailing, labor, materials, office rent, maintenance, furnishings, equipment, machinery and apparatus, telephone, insurance premiums, legal, accounting, management, consulting and banking services and expenses, fees and expenses of the Fiduciaries, Costs of Issuance not paid from the proceeds of Bonds, travel, payments for pension, retirement, health and hospitalization and life and disability insurance benefits, payments for insurance against losses on the pool of Program Loans, payments to maintain letters of credit obtained to secure the ability of THDA to pay, redeem or purchase Bonds. Program Expenses may also include amounts for establishing and maintaining a two-month reserve to pay operating costs and a reasonable reserve for losses and expenses estimated to be incurred by THDA and amounts appropriate to reimburse THDA for Program Expenses paid from other sources. Program Expenses shall include the amount of any rebate required to be calculated and set aside by THDA pursuant to applicable federal tax law. THDA in its discretion may calculate the rebate amount annually or at the end of such other periods that it may choose as long as the first rebate calculation and all succeeding rebate calculations are performed no later than required by applicable federal tax law.

"Program Loan Loss Coverage" means that portion of the principal amount of Program Loans outstanding which must be treated as a loss for purposes of maintaining the current ratings on the Bonds.

"Projected Cash Flow Statement" means a certificate of an Authorized Officer of THDA setting forth for the current and each succeeding fiscal year in which Bonds are scheduled to be outstanding, THDA's estimate of, among other things: (i) the Revenues, other than Prepayments, expected to be received on all Program Loans financed or expected to be financed with proceeds of Outstanding Bonds; (ii) the aggregate amount of prepayments of Program Loans which THDA reasonably expects to receive with respect to such Program Loans and which are to be applied to the payment of Bonds as set forth in the Supplemental Resolution; (iii) all other Revenues, including the interest to be earned and other income to be derived from the investment of the Funds and Accounts and the rates used in estimating such amounts; (iv) the amount, if any, expected to be withdrawn from the Bond Reserve Fund, provided, the amount on deposit in such Fund is expected to at least equal the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such withdrawal and the withdrawal is permitted under the General Resolution; (v) the aggregate Debt Service on Outstanding Bonds during such fiscal year; and (vi) all Program Expenses during such fiscal year.

"Revenue Fund" means the Revenue Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Revenues" means all payments, proceeds, rents, charges, and other cash income received by THDA from or on account of any Program Loan including scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of any insurance proceeds with respect to principal and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicer as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loan and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan.

"Sinking Fund Payment" means, as of any particular date of calculation, the amount required to be paid at all events by THDA on a certain future date for the retirement of Outstanding Bonds which mature after said future date, but does not include any amount payable by THDA by reason of the maturity of a Bond or by call for redemption at the election of THDA.

Resolution Constitutes Contract (Section 2.2)

The General Resolution constitutes a contract between THDA and the holders of the Bonds and the pledges, covenants and agreements to be performed by THDA are for the equal benefit, protection and security of the holders of any and all of the Bonds..

Obligation of Bonds (Section 2.3)

The Bonds will be special limited obligations of THDA payable only from the revenues and assets pledged therefor. These revenues and assets include the following: mortgage receipts; non-mortgage receipts, including interest earned from the investment of funds in the Escrow Fund or any other Fund or Account; and right, title, and interest in and to the Program Loans.

Provisions for Issuance of Bonds (Sections 2.4, 2.6, 7.3, and 7.15)

The General Resolution authorizes Bonds to be issued from time to time in accordance with its terms without limitation as to amount except as provided by law. The Bonds of a Series may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things:

(1) a Bond Counsel's Opinion to the effect, among other things, that the Bonds of such Series have been duly and validly authorized and issued in accordance with the constitution and statutes of the State, including the Act as amended to the date of such opinion, and in accordance with the General Resolution;

(2) the amount of the proceeds of such Series to be deposited with the Trustee pursuant to the General Resolution (see "Application of Bond Proceeds" below):

(3) except in the case of the initial or a refunding issue, a certificate of an authorized officer stating that THDA is not in default in the performance of any of the covenants, conditions, agreements or provisions contained in the General Resolution and that all other conditions for the issuance of additional Bonds have been met; and

(4) except in the case of a refunding issue, a Projected Cash Flow Statement, as described in Appendix D, showing that the estimated Revenues for each fiscal year in which Bonds will be outstanding, together with any amount scheduled to be withdrawn from the Bond Reserve Fund (and permitted to be so withdrawn pursuant to the Resolution), will be sufficient for the payment of the estimated debt service and program expenses for such fiscal year.

Provisions for Refunding Issues (Section 2.7)

Refunding Bonds may be issued to refund any Outstanding Bonds. Refunding Bonds may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things, irrevocable instructions to give notice of the redemption of all Bonds to be refunded and to give published notice as required of the redemption of such Bonds and either (i) moneys sufficient to effect payment at the applicable Redemption Price of the Bonds to be refunded, together with interest accrued to the Redemption Date, or (ii) direct obligations of, or obligations insured or guaranteed by, the United States of America or certificates of deposit secured by such obligations, which by their terms will provide moneys sufficient to provide for the payment of such Redemption Price and accrued interest. Any such moneys, obligations or certificates are required to be held irrevocably in the Redemption Account established under the General Resolution.

Application of Bond Proceeds (Sections 4.1 and 4.3)

As soon as practicable upon the delivery of each Series of Bonds, other than refunding Bonds, an amount necessary to cause the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund to at least equal the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such delivery is required to be deposited in the Bond Reserve Fund. Proceeds of such Series of Bonds which are not to be deposited in such Fund are to be deposited at the direction of an Authorized Officer.

Amounts in the Loan Fund may not be expended and applied for the financing of a Program Loan unless the note issued to evidence the Program Loan and a mortgage securing the Program Loan have been duly executed and, among other things:

(1) the mortgage securing such Program Loan constitutes a first lien, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, on the real property or interest therein securing such Program Loan and on the fixtures acquired with the proceeds of the Program Loan attached to or used in connection with such residential housing;

(2) the eligible borrower has entered into a binding agreement with or for the benefit of THDA that it will pay or escrow all taxes, assessments, water rates, sewer rents and municipal and other charges and fees and any prior liens levied against the premises or any part thereof, and in the case of default in the payment thereof THDA, without notice or demand to the mortgagor, may pay the same and the amount will be a lien on the premises added to the amount of the Program Loan;

(3) the eligible borrower must covenant that the proceeds of the Program Loan will be used solely to pay the reasonable and necessary costs of obtaining the residential housing financed by the Program Loan;

(4) the eligible borrower must covenant that it will keep the buildings on the premises insured against loss by fire and other hazards as required by THDA and that it will maintain the premises in good repair and comply with all requirements of governmental authorities relating thereto; and

(5) the eligible borrower must obtain a policy of title insurance insuring THDA that the mortgage is valid and enforceable in the full amount of the Program Loan.

(6) the Program Loan must be (i) insured by the Federal Housing Administration, (ii) guaranteed by the Rural Economic Community Development Corp. (formerly Farmers Home Administration) or the Veteran's Administration, (iii) insured or guaranteed by a successor federal or state agency, (iv) have a principal amount not exceeding 78% of the value of the property securing such Program Loan as determined in an appraisal by or acceptable to THDA, or (v) be insured to the extent of any excess over such percentage by a private mortgage insurance company acceptable to THDA and meeting the requirements of the Resolution.

Deposits and Investments (Sections 4.5, 4.6 and 4.7)

All amounts held by the Trustee, any Paying Agent or any Depository under the General Resolution may be deposited in interest-bearing time deposits, repurchase agreements or certificates of deposit or be the subject of similar banking arrangements with commercial banks, savings and loans or investment dealers and, in addition, any amounts held by the Trustee thereunder may be invested in Investment Securities. All amounts held under the General Resolution which are not held in trust for the payment of particular Bonds or which do not represent an investment of amounts held thereunder must be continuously and fully secured for the benefit of THDA and the holders of the Bonds by lodging Investment Securities with the Trustee or in such other manner as may then be required by applicable federal or state laws regarding the deposit of trust funds. In computing the amount in any Fund or Account, obligations purchased as an investment of moneys therein shall be valued at market, except that for purposes of determining the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement at the time of initial funding from Bond proceeds, the issuance of additional obligations and for any other purpose under the General Resolution, such obligations shall be valued at par if purchased at par value or at amortized value if purchased at other than par value. Valuation shall be made as soon as practicable prior to each interest payment date and at any other time required under the General Resolution and on any particular date shall not include the amount of interest then earned or accrued to such date on any deposit or investment.

Establishment of Funds and Accounts (Section 5.1)

The General Resolution establishes the following special trust funds and accounts which are to be held by the Trustee:

(1) Loan Fund;

(2) Revenue Fund,

Debt Service and Expense Account,
Non-Mortgage Receipts Account, and
Redemption Account;

(3) Bond Reserve Fund; and

Loan Fund (Section 5.2)

In addition to proceeds of a Series of Bonds, amounts are required to be deposited in the Loan Fund from the Revenue Fund under certain circumstances as more fully described below (see “Revenue Fund”). Amounts in the Loan Fund may be expended only to pay the cost of financing Program Loans, to pay reasonable and necessary Costs of Issuance, and to make deposits in the Debt Service and Expense Account with respect to capitalized interest. Amounts in the Loan Fund may, however, be transferred to the Revenue Fund if a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee. At the direction of THDA, the Trustee may transfer amounts in the Loan Fund to the Redemption Account or apply such amounts directly to the redemption, purchase or retirement of Bonds at any time that such Bonds are subject to redemption or payment from such amounts, but only if there is delivered to the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement and a certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that, in the judgment of THDA, the estimated Revenues available after the payment of estimated Debt Service on the Bonds and Program expenses are greater than they would have been if all or a portion of such amounts had been applied to the financing of Program Loans.

Revenue Fund (Section 5.3)

The General Resolution establishes the following trust accounts within the Revenue Fund: the Debt Service and Expense Account, the Redemption Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account.

Debt Service and Expense Account. All Revenues are to be deposited promptly with a Depository and transmitted to the Trustee at least monthly for deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account within the Revenue Fund. The Trustee is required to make payments out of the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Paying Agents as follows: (a) on or before each interest payment date, the amounts required for the payment of principal installments, if any, and interest due on the Bonds on such date and (b) on or before the Redemption Date or date of purchase, the amounts required for the payment of accrued interest on Bonds redeemed or purchased for retirement, unless such interest is otherwise provided for.

Prior to the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee may, and if so directed by THDA is required to, apply any amount accumulated in the Debt Service and Expense Account up to the unsatisfied balance of such Sinking Fund Payment (together with amounts accumulated in the Revenue Fund with respect to interest on the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established) as follows: (a) to the purchase of the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established, at prices not exceeding the Redemption Price for such Bonds if they are redeemable by application of said Sinking Fund Payment plus unpaid interest accrued to the date of purchase, or (b) to the redemption of such Bonds if then redeemable by their terms at the Redemption Price referred to in clause (a) hereof. Upon such purchase or redemption of any Bond, an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bond so purchased or redeemed will be credited to the Sinking Fund Payment next coming due. The excess of the amounts so credited over the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment will be credited by the Trustee against future Sinking Fund Payments in direct chronological order, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

As soon as practicable after the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee is to proceed to call for redemption on such due date Bonds of the Series and Maturity for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established in a principal amount equal to the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment. The Trustee is required to call such Bonds for redemption whether or not it then has moneys in the Debt Service and Expense Account sufficient to pay the applicable Redemption Price on the Redemption Date.

Within ninety days after the close of each Fiscal Year, THDA is required to file with the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement as of the first day of the then current Fiscal Year (but assuming the transfer of any amount to the Loan Fund as provided in clause (b) of this sentence) which states (a) the amount remaining in the Debt Service and Expense Account as of such first day after deducting all payments made on each interest payment date as described above and (b) the amount required to be transferred to the Loan Fund in accordance with the assumptions made in such Projected Cash Flow Statement. Upon receipt thereof, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the amount stated in clause (a) above as follows:

> FIRST: From the amount so available the amount, if any, by which the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund is less than the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement shall be transferred to the Bond Reserve Fund.
> SECOND: From the amount, if any, so available after the transfer provided above has been made, the amount needed to be transferred to THDA to pay reasonable and necessary Program Expenses which are due and owing.
> THIRD: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after the transfers provided above have been made, the amount, if any, stated in such Projected Cash Flow Statement as to be transferred to the Loan Fund shall be so transferred and if such Projected Cash Flow Statement does not comply with subsection 7.11(C) the amount so available shall be transferred to the Loan Fund as set forth in the Certificate delivered in accordance with Section 5.3(H).
> FOURTH: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after any transfers provided for above have been made, the remaining amount shall be transferred to the Redemption Account as directed by THDA. If, however, the amount of Program Loans (valued at par) and Investment Securities held by the Trustee hereunder (other than Investment Securities in the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund) valued in accordance with this Resolution, is greater than 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, then the amount remaining, up to such excess above the 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, may be withdrawn from the Debt Service and Expense Account at any time during the then current Fiscal Year, upon receipt by the Trustee of a Certificate to such effect from an Authorized Officer of THDA and a Projected Cash Flow Statement after giving effect to such withdrawal, to be applied to any purpose of THDA consistent with THDA's tax covenants described below, free and clear of the lien of any pledge of this Resolution. The Projected Cash Flow Statement for purposes of this provision shall include all Program Loans, including any Program Loans which have been in payment default for sixty (60) or more consecutive days. For the purposes of this paragraph,

there shall be excluded from the amount of Program Loans and Investment Securities any Program Loans or Investment Securities which were acquired with amounts deposited in the Loan Fund or the Bond Reserve Fund from sources other than the proceeds of Bonds or transfers from the Revenue Fund, unless, at the time such amounts were deposited therein, the Trustee receives a Certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that such amounts are not necessary to be deposited therein in order to provide Revenues sufficient to provide for the payment of Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee may at any time, upon the written direction of an Authorized Officer (a) make transfers from the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Bond Reserve Fund or the Redemption Account for the purposes of such Fund or Account or (b) make payments to THDA for the purpose of paying reasonable and necessary Program Expenses for the then current Fiscal Year. No such transfer is to be made, however, unless there is on deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after such transfer or payment an amount equal to the principal and interest accrued on all Outstanding Bonds as of the date of such transfer or payment, plus an amount equal to the cumulative amount of prepayments received by THDA during such fiscal year which exceeds the amount of prepayments estimated to be applied to the payment of Debt Service during such fiscal year in the most recent Projected Cash Flow Statement delivered to the Trustee by THDA. In addition no such transfers shall be made until a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee and no payment for Program Expenses is to be made unless the revenue statement to be delivered to the Trustee for each preceding month as described below shows that accrued Revenues exceed accrued Debt Service.

No payments are required to be made into the Debt Service and Expense Account so long as the amount on deposit therein is sufficient to pay all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof) in accordance with their terms, and any Revenues thereafter received by THDA may be applied to any purpose of THDA free and clear of the lien of the pledge of the General Resolution.

Redemption Account. There are to be deposited in the Redemption Account any amounts required by the General Resolution to be so deposited and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein. The Trustee is required to apply the amounts deposited in the Redemption Account to the payment, purchase or redemption of Bonds at the earliest practicable Redemption Date as described under "Redemption of Bonds."

Upon the purchase or redemption of Bonds of any Series and maturity for which Sinking Fund Payments have been established from amounts in the Redemption Account, each future Sinking Fund Payment for such Bonds will be credited by an amount bearing the same ratio to such Sinking Fund Payment as the total principal amount of such Bonds to be so purchased or redeemed bears to the total amount of all such Sinking Fund Payments, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. All Non-Mortgage Receipts received by the Trustee are to be promptly deposited in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. The Trustee is required to maintain records sufficient to determine the average daily balance of the amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund, the Bond Reserve Fund and the Debt Service and Expense Account and Redemption Account in the Revenue Fund. If so directed by THDA, the Trustee must maintain such records separately for each Series of Bonds.

Semi-annually not later than each Interest Payment Date, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account to the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount needed to enable the Trustee to pay Debt Service on the Bonds on such Interest Payment Date and (ii) the balance then on deposit in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. If at any time the amount available prior to any Interest Payment Date shall be insufficient for the making of such transfers, then the Trustee shall make transfers to the Debt Service and Expense Account from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account from the first available Non-Mortgage Receipts received subsequent to such Interest Payment Date and the amount so transferred shall not reduce the amount required to be transferred prior to the next Interest Payment Date.

Any amount remaining in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after the semi-annual transfer to the Debt Service and Expense Account shall be transferred, at the direction of an Authorized Officer, to the Loan Fund, the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund.

Bond Reserve Fund (Section 5.4)

If on any Interest Payment Date or Redemption Date, the amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund and the Redemption Fund are less than the amount required for the payments due on the Bonds on such date, the Trustee is to apply amounts from the Bond Reserve Fund to the extent required to make good the deficiency.

If concurrently with the allocation from the Revenue Fund, the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund is in excess of the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement, the Trustee may, if so directed, transfer the amount of such excess to the Redemption Account.

Whenever the amount in the Bond Reserve Fund, together with the amount in the Revenue Fund, is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof), all amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund are to be transferred to the Bond Reserve Fund. Prior to such transfer, all investments held in the Revenue Fund are to be liquidated and any Bonds constituting a part of such Fund will be deemed paid and canceled.

Escrow Fund (Section 5.5)

There shall be deposited in the Escrow Fund, all amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited therein and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein.

Amounts in the Escrow Fund may be applied to any lawful purpose of THDA consistent with the Resolution.

Redemption of Bonds (Sections 3.7, 5.3, 6.4 and 6.5)

Bonds may be redeemed from amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund or the Revenue Fund or from other amounts made available by THDA for such purpose. Amounts deposited in the Redemption Account within the Loan Fund must be applied to the redemption of Bonds at the earliest possible time, subject to their terms and the terms of their respective authorizing resolutions. If THDA directs the publication of a notice of redemption from amounts other than amounts in the Redemption Account, THDA is responsible to provide funds for such redemption to the appropriate Paying Agents prior to the date of redemption.

Amounts on deposit in the Revenue Account which are to be applied to the redemption of Bonds may, until the forty-fifth day prior to the date for redemption of such Bonds, be applied to the purchase of such Bonds at prices not exceeding the applicable redemption price, plus accrued interest, unless such Bonds are to be redeemed more than thirteen months from the date of purchase, in which event the purchase price may not exceed par. Any difference between the maximum price payable for such Bonds and the price actually paid is to be deposited in the Debt Service and Expense Account.

The selection of Bonds to be redeemed from the amounts to be applied to the redemption of Bonds of such particular Series and maturity is to be made by the Trustee by lot. For such purpose registered bonds of a denomination greater than $5,000 are to be assigned separate numbers for each $5,000 portion. In the event that the Trustee is required to redeem Appreciation Bonds by lot, the Trustee will assign a separate number to each Appreciation Bond on the basis of its Maturity Amount. The Trustee shall mail, postage prepaid, a copy of the notice of redemption not less than 20 days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to the provider of a central depository system) prior to the date of redemption to the registered owners of all registered Bonds subject to redemption at the last address of such registered owners appearing on the registry books in respect of the Bonds. Publication of notice of redemption is not required if all Bonds to be redeemed are registered bonds. THDA is not obliged to exchange or transfer Bonds within ten days preceding the giving of notice of redemption and is not obliged to exchange or transfer any Bonds which have previously been called for redemption.

Power as to Bonds and Pledge (Section 7.3)

THDA covenants that it is duly authorized pursuant to law to authorize and issue the Bonds and to adopt the General Resolution and to pledge the assets and revenues purported to be pledged by the General Resolution in the manner and to the extent provided in the General Resolution.

Payment of Bonds (Section 7.4)

THDA covenants that it will duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid the principal or Redemption Price, if any, of every Bond and the interest thereon, at the dates and places and in the manner stated in the Bonds, according to the true intent and meaning thereof, and shall duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid all Sinking Fund Payments, if any, becoming payable with respect to any Series of Bonds.

Tax Covenants (Section 7.9)

THDA covenants that (i) it will not permit at any time or times any of the proceeds of the Bonds or other funds of THDA to be used directly or indirectly to acquire any securities or obligations the acquisition of which would cause any Bond to be an “arbitrage bond” as defined in the applicable federal tax law and (ii) it will not permit such proceeds or other funds to be used in such manner as would result in the exclusion of any Bond from the treatment afforded by the applicable federal tax law by reason of the classification of such Bond as a “mortgage subsidy bond” pursuant to the applicable federal tax law or as an “industrial development bond” within the meaning of the applicable federal tax law, except in the case of Bonds held by a “substantial user” or “related person” within the meaning of Section 147(c) of the Code.

Accounts and Reports (Section 7.10)

THDA covenants that it will keep, or cause to be kept, proper books of record and account in which complete and accurate entries shall be made of all its transactions relating to the Housing Finance Program and all Funds established by the General Resolution which shall at all reasonable times be subject to the inspection of the Trustee and the holders of an aggregate of not less than 5% in principal amount of Bonds then Outstanding or their representatives duly authorized in writing.

On or before the twenty-fifth day of each month or as soon as practicable thereafter, THDA is required to submit to the Trustee a statement of account for the preceding month setting forth the amount received as Revenues during such month and stating the cumulative amount of Revenues (including individual totals for prepayments and monthly Program Loan receipts) and Non-Mortgage Receipts which have been received since the date upon which the last Principal Installment on Outstanding Bonds was payable.

THDA must annually, within ninety days after the close of each fiscal year, file with the Trustee (1) a copy of an annual report for such fiscal year, setting forth its operations and accomplishments during such fiscal year and (2) financial statements of THDA for such fiscal year setting forth in reasonable detail: (a) a balance sheet for THDA and its programs showing the assets and liabilities of the Housing Finance Program at the end of such fiscal year, and (b) a statement of revenues and expenses in accordance with the categories or classifications established by THDA so long as such financial statements for the Housing Finance Program are separately identified and are consistent with the requirements of the General Resolution and satisfactory to the Trustee. The financial statements shall be accompanied by the certificate of an independent accountant stating that the financial statements examined present fairly the financial position of THDA at the end of the fiscal year, the results of its operations and the changes in financial position for the period examined, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. A copy of each annual Projected Cash Flow Statement and annual report or special report and any accountant’s certificate shall be mailed promptly thereafter by THDA to each Bondholder who shall have filed his name and address with THDA for such purposes.

Budgets (Section 7.12)

THDA must adopt an annual budget covering its fiscal operations for the succeeding fiscal year not later than the first day of each such fiscal year, and file the same with the Trustee and with such officials of THDA as required under the Act. The annual budget shall at least set forth for such fiscal year the estimated revenues, principal installments and interest due and payable or estimated to become due and payable during such fiscal year and estimated expenses of the Housing Finance Program. THDA at any time may adopt and file with the Trustee an amended annual budget for the remainder of the then current fiscal year in the manner provided in the General Resolution for the adoption of the annual budget. Copies of the annual budget and any amended annual budget must be made available by the Trustee for inspection by any Bondholder.

THDA covenants from time to time, with all practical dispatch and in a sound and economical manner consistent in all respects with the Act, with the provisions of the General Resolution and with sound banking practices and principles, to use and apply the proceeds of the Bonds (to the extent not reasonably or otherwise required for other purposes of the Housing Finance Program) to finance Program Loans, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect Revenues sufficient to pay the expenses of the Program and to diligently enforce, and take all steps, actions and proceedings reasonably necessary in the judgment of THDA to maintain any insurance on Program Loans and to enforce all terms, covenants and conditions of Program Loans.

Whenever necessary in order to protect and enforce the interest and security of the holders of the Bonds, THDA covenants to commence foreclosure or pursue other appropriate remedies with respect to any Program Loan which is in default. In the event that THDA shall, in its discretion, determine such action to be in the best interests of the holders of the Bonds, THDA may bid for and purchase the premises covered by any such Program Loan at any foreclosure sale thereof or may otherwise take possession of or acquire such premises.

THDA may sell, assign or otherwise dispose of a Program Loan or the premises to which such Program Loan is related:

(1) in order to realize the benefits of insurance with respect to such Program Loan or premises;

(2) in order to provide funds to provide for the redemption or purchase of an amount of Bonds having a value corresponding to the value of such Program Loan; or

(3) if a Projected Cash Flow Statement has been filed with the Trustee giving effect to the proposed sale thereof.

Upon the happening of an Event of Default resulting from nonpayment of the Bonds and at the written request of the Trustee or of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, THDA is required to deliver the Program Loans to the Trustee and take any other steps requested by the Trustee or such Bondholders in order to further effectuate the assignment of all of the Program Loans to the Trustee.

Powers of Amendment (Section 9.2)

Except with respect to certain modifications or amendments that do not require consent of bondholders as described in the General Resolution, any modification or amendment of any provision of the General Resolution or of the rights and obligations of THDA and of the holders of the Bonds may be made by a Supplemental Resolution, with the written consent given as provided in the General Resolution (a) of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, (b) in case less than all of the several Series of Bonds would be affected by such modification or amendment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of each Series so affected, or (c) in case the modification or amendment changes the terms of any Sinking Fund Payment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of the particular Series and maturity entitled to such Sinking Fund Payment, except that if such modification or amendment will, by its terms, not take effect so long as any Bonds of any specified like Series and maturity remain Outstanding, the consent of the holders of such Bonds shall not be required. No such modification or amendment shall permit a change in the terms of redemption or maturity of the principal of any Outstanding Bond or of any installment of interest thereon or a reduction in the principal amount or the Redemption Price thereof or in the rate of interest thereon without the consent of the holder of such Bond or shall reduce the percentages or otherwise affect the classes of Bonds, the consent of the holders of which is required to effect any such modification or amendment.

Events of Default (Sections 10.1 and 10.10)

It is an "event of default" if: (a) THDA shall default in the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if any, on any Bond when and as the same shall become due, whether at maturity or upon call for redemption or otherwise; (b) payment of any installment of interest on any of the Bonds shall not be made within thirty days after the same shall become due; or (c) THDA fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of the General Resolution, or shall default in the performance or observance of any of the covenants, agreements or conditions contained therein, in any Supplemental Resolution, or in the Bonds, and such failure, refusal or default shall continue for a period of forty-five days after written notice thereof by the Trustee or the holders of not less than 5% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee must give the Bondholders notice of each event of default known to the Trustee within ninety days, unless such event of default has been remedied or cured, except that, in the case of default in the payment of the principal of or Redemption Price or interest on any of the Bonds, or in the making of any payment required to be made into the Loan Fund, the Trustee may withhold such notice if and so long as the board of directors, the executive committee, or a trust committee of directors or responsible officers of the Trustee in good faith determines that the withholding of such notice is in the interest of the Bondholders. Each such notice is to be given by mail: (i) to all registered holders of Bonds, as their names and addresses appear upon the books for registration and transfer of Bonds as kept by the Trustee, (ii) to such holders of Bonds as have filed their names and addresses with the Trustee for that purpose, and (iii) to such other persons as is required by law.

Remedies (Sections 10.2 and 10.3)

Upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (a) and (b) above, the Trustee shall proceed, or upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (c) above, the Trustee may proceed, and upon the written request of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds (75% with respect to an acceleration) shall proceed, in its own name, subject to the General Resolution, to protect and enforce the rights of the Bondholders by such of the following remedies as the Trustee, being advised by counsel, shall deem most effectual to protect and enforce such rights: (a) by mandamus or other suit, action or proceeding at law or in equity, to enforce all rights of the Bondholders, including the right to require THDA to receive and collect Revenues adequate to carry out the covenants and agreements as to, and the assignment of, the Program Loans and to require THDA to carry out any other covenant or agreement with Bondholders and to perform its duties under the Act; (b) by bringing suit upon the Bonds; (c) by action or suit in equity, to require THDA to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the holders of the Bonds; (d) by action or suit in equity, to enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the holders of the Bonds; (e) by declaring all Bonds due and payable, and if all defaults shall be made good, then, with the written consent of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, by annulling such declaration and its consequences; or (f) in the event that all Bonds are declared due and payable, by selling Program Loans and Investment Securities.

Except upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default under the Resolution, THDA reserves and retains the privilege to receive and, subject to the terms and provisions of the Resolution, to keep or dispose of, claim, bring suit upon or otherwise exercise, enforce or realize upon its rights and interest in and to the Program Loans and the proceeds and collections therefrom, and neither the Trustee nor any Bondholder will be deemed to be an indispensable party for such purposes.

In the event that during the continuance of an event of default, the funds held by the Trustee and Paying Agents are insufficient for the payment of principal or Redemption Price, if any, and interest then due on the Bonds, such funds (other than funds held for the payment or redemption of particular Bonds which have theretofore become due at maturity or by call for redemption) and any other moneys received or collected by the Trustee acting pursuant to the Act and the General Resolution, after making provision for the payment of any expenses necessary in the opinion of the Trustee to protect the interests of the holders of the Bonds and for the payment of the charges and expenses and liabilities incurred and advances made by the Trustee or any Paying Agents in the performance of their duties under the General Resolution, are to be applied as follows:

(1) Unless the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable:

FIRST: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of all installments of interest then due in the order of the maturity of such installments, and, if the amount available is not sufficient to pay in full any installment, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts due on such installment, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

SECOND: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of the unpaid principal or Redemption Price of any Bonds which shall have become due, whether at maturity or by call for redemption, in the order of their due dates and, if the amounts available shall not be sufficient to pay in full all the Bonds due on any date, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts of principal or Redemption Price, if any, due on such date, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

(2) If the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable, to the payment of the principal and interest then due and unpaid upon the Bond without preference or priority of principal over interest or of interest over principal, or of any installment of interest over any other installment of interest, or of any Bond over any other Bond, ratably, according to the amounts due respectively for principal and interest, to the persons entitled thereto without any discrimination or preference except as to any difference in the respective rates of interest specified in the Bonds.

Bondholders' Direction of Remedial Proceedings (Section 10.5)

The holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding retain the right, upon a written instruction, to direct the method used by the Trustee in conducting all remedial proceedings, but only if such direction is in accordance with the law and the provisions of the Resolution, and is not unjustly, prejudicial, in the Trustee's opinion, to the remaining Bondholders.

Limitation on Rights of Bondholders (Section 10.6)

No individual Bondholder may initiate legal proceedings to enforce rights under the General Resolution unless such holder shall have given to the Trustee written notice of the event of default or breach of duty on account of which such proceeding is to be taken, and unless the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding have made written request of the Trustee after the right to exercise such right of action has occurred, and have afforded the Trustee a reasonable opportunity either to exercise the powers granted to it under the General Resolution or to institute such proceedings in its name and unless, also, there has been offered to the Trustee reasonable security and indemnity against costs, expenses and liabilities and the Trustee has refused or neglected to comply with such request within a reasonable time. No provision in the General Resolution on defaults and remedies affects or impairs the right of any Bondholder to enforce the payment of the principal of and interest on his Bonds, or the obligation of THDA to pay the same.

Compensation of Trustee and Paying Agents (Section 11.5)

THDA is required to pay reasonable compensation to the Trustee and to each Paying Agent for all services rendered under the General Resolution, and also all reasonable expenses, charges, counsel fees and other disbursements, including those of their attorneys, agents and employees, incurred in and about the performance of their powers and duties under the General Resolution, and the Trustee and each Paying Agent shall have a lien therefor on any and all funds at any time held by it under the General Resolution.

Removal of Trustee (Sections 11.8 and 11.9)

The Trustee is required to be removed if so requested by the holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding, excluding any Bonds held by or for the account of THDA. THDA may remove the Trustee at any time, except during the existence of an event of default, for such cause as THDA may determine in its sole discretion. In either such event, a successor is required to be appointed.

Defeasance (Section 12.1)

If THDA shall pay or cause to be paid to the holders of the Bonds, the principal and interest and Redemption Price, if any, to become due thereon, at the times and in the manner stipulated therein and in the General Resolution, then the pledge of any revenues and assets thereby pledged and all other rights granted thereby shall be discharged and satisfied.

Bonds or interest installments for the payment or redemption of which moneys have been set aside and held in trust by Fiduciaries (through deposit by THDA of funds for such payment or redemption or otherwise) at the maturity or Redemption Date thereof will be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect expressed in the above paragraph. Any Bonds shall prior to the maturity or Redemption Date thereof be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect so expressed if (a) in case any of said Bonds are to be redeemed on any date prior to their maturity, THDA has given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as provided in the General Resolution, notice of redemption on said date of such Bonds, (b) there have been deposited with the Trustee either moneys in an amount which are sufficient, or Investment Securities, the principal of and the interest on which when due will provide moneys which, together with the moneys, if any, deposited with the Trustee at the same time, will be sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest due and to become due on said Bonds on and prior to the Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and (c) in the event said Bonds are not by their terms subject to redemption within the next succeeding sixty days, THDA has given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as soon as practicable, at least twice, at an interval of not less than seven days between publications, in the Authorized Newspapers a notice to the holders of such Bonds that the deposit required by (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid and stating such maturity or Redemption Date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, on said Bonds. Neither the Investment Securities nor the moneys so deposited with the Trustee nor principal or interest payments on any such Investment Securities shall be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than (and shall be held in trust for) the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest on said Bonds, but any cash received from such principal or interest payments on such Investment Securities deposited with the Trustee, if not then needed for such purpose, shall, to the extent practicable, be reinvested in Investment Securities maturing at times and in amounts sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest to become due on said Bonds on and prior to such Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and interest earned from such reinvestments shall be paid over to THDA, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution")

THDA has issued bonds in the initial aggregate principal amount of $191,885,000 under the 1974 General Resolution which were outstanding as shown on the table below after giving effect to redemptions and regularly scheduled payments of principal and accretion of interest:

Issue of Bonds	Dated	Issued	Outstanding as of June 30, 2011 (unaudited)	Mortgage Rates	Net Interest Cost
2003 Series A	September 4, 2003	$191,885,000	75,280,000	7.05/7.75	4.90
TOTAL		$191,885,000	$75,280,000

Single Family Program Bond Resolution (the "1981 Resolution")

On February 2, 1994, THDA issued and sold Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 1994-1 (Taxable) in the aggregate principal amount of $33,500,000 (the "Issue 1994-1 Bonds") the proceeds of which were used to redeem all bonds then outstanding under the 1981 Resolution. All assets under the 1981 Resolution, including mortgages financed with the proceeds of bonds issued under the 1981 Resolution and remaining cash and investments held for the benefit of bondholders under the 1981 Resolution, were transferred out of the 1981 Resolution at the time of the issuance and sale of the Issue 1994-1 Bonds.

Other Information

The State Treasurer is the treasurer of THDA and is the custodian of the assets of THDA, except for those assets required to be in the custody of the Trustee pursuant to the provisions of the Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or any other resolution THDA may adopt. The Board of Directors of THDA has adopted an investment policy for THDA assets, other than its mortgage assets (the "non-mortgage assets"). These non-mortgage assets are invested only in investments authorized by the Act, THDA's investment policy, the Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution, any other resolution THDA may adopt, and by the Treasurer. The Treasurer has delegated all duties and responsibilities in connection with THDA's investment of THDA non-mortgage assets to the Executive Director of THDA.

BOOK-ENTRY-ONLY SYSTEM

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION CONCERNING DTC AND DTC'S BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM HAS BEEN OBTAINED FROM SOURCES THAT THDA BELIEVES TO BE RELIABLE, BUT THDA TAKES NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACCURACY THEREOF. NEITHER THDA NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT WILL HAVE ANY RESPONSIBILITY OR OBLIGATION TO DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS, BENEFICIAL OWNERS OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS FOR (1) SENDING TRANSACTION STATEMENTS; (2) MAINTAINING, SUPERVISING OR REVIEWING, OR THE ACCURACY OF, ANY RECORDS MAINTAINED BY DTC OR ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS; (3) PAYMENT OR THE TIMELINESS OF PAYMENT BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNER, OF ANY AMOUNT DUE IN RESPECT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF OR REDEMPTION PREMIUM, IF ANY, OR INTEREST ON BONDS; (4) DELIVERY OR TIMELY DELIVERY BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNERS, OF ANY NOTICE (INCLUDING NOTICE OF REDEMPTION) OR OTHER COMMUNICATION WHICH IS REQUIRED OR PERMITTED UNDER THE TERMS OF THE RESOLUTION TO BE GIVEN TO HOLDERS OR OWNERS OF BONDS; (5) THE SELECTION OF THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO RECEIVE PAYMENT IN THE EVENT OF ANY PARTIAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS; OR (6) ANY ACTION TAKEN BY DTC OR ITS NOMINEE AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS.

NEITHER THDA, NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT, NOR ANY UNDERWRITER (OTHER THAN IN ITS CAPACITY, IF ANY, AS DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS), WILL HAVE ANY OBLIGATION TO THE DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT AS NOMINEES WITH RESPECT TO DTC'S PROCEDURES OR ANY PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS BETWEEN DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS, INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS AND THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT RELATING TO THE MAKING OF ANY DEMAND BY CEDE & CO. AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS, THE ADHERENCE TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS OR THE EFFECTIVENESS OF ANY ACTION TAKEN PURSUANT TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS.

1. The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, NY, will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds will be issued as fully-registered securities registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC's partnership nominee) or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC.

2. DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. DTC holds securities that its participants ("Direct Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organizations. DTC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com and www.dtc.org.

3. Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each Bond ("Beneficial Owner") is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction.

Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

4. To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. or such other nominee do not affect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

5. Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to take certain steps to augment the transmission to them of notices of significant events with respect to the Bonds, such as redemptions, tenders, defaults, and proposed amendments to the security documents. For example, Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to ascertain that the nominee holding the Bonds for their benefit has agreed to obtain and transmit notices to Beneficial Owners. In the alternative, Beneficial Owners may wish to provide their names and addresses to the registrar and request that copies of the notices be provided directly to them.

6. Redemption notices shall be sent to DTC. If less than all of the Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

7. Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds unless authorized by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC’s Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to THDA as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

8. Redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments on the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts, upon DTC's receipt of funds and corresponding detail information from the Trustee on payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, or the Trustee or THDA, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the Trustee, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants will be the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners will be the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

9. DTC may discontinue providing its services as depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Trustee or THDA. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor depository is not obtained, Bonds certificates are required to be printed and delivered.

10. THDA may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry only transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bonds certificates will be printed and delivered.

PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES

Income and Acquisition Cost Limits

THDA limits the maximum gross annual household income for eligible borrowers and the maximum acquisition cost for homes financed by Program Loans in accordance with Section 143 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and applicable regulations promulgated thereunder (the "Code"). The limits vary from county to county and are periodically adjusted. THDA's current income limits range from $54,480 to $92,680 depending on household size and geographic location. THDA's income limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor income limits established under the Code.

THDA's acquisition cost limits are either within the safe-harbor limitations established under the Code or are established, based on procedures in the Code, using THDA's actual data which justifies a higher limit. THDA's current maximum acquisition cost limit is $200,160 for all counties except counties in the Nashville MSA. For counties in the Nashville MSA, the maximum acquisition cost limit is $226,100. THDA acquisition cost limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor acquisition cost limits established under the Code.

THDA has in the past and may, at any time, further restrict or otherwise modify income and acquisition cost limits for certain specialized Program Loans THDA may elect to finance.

Loan Origination

THDA's Program Loans are originated by certain financial institutions located throughout the State who are approved by THDA to originate Program Loans in its behalf ("Originating Agents"). THDA may purchase Program Loans once they are closed by the Originating Agent or THDA may offer funds to Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis prior to the closings of Program Loans. Originating Agents may charge borrowers a fee, not to exceed 1% of the Program Loan amount, for originating Program Loans. The Originating Agents who may originate Program Loans from Bond proceeds include mortgage banking firms, commercial banks, and savings and loan associations. The lendable proceeds of the Bonds are made available throughout the State. See Appendix C for a description of THDA's Working Agreement with Originating Agents and Guide for Originating Agents.

THDA will set aside a portion of the lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds to make Targeted Area loans for one year as necessary to comply with Section 143(j) of the Code. In the event any of the amounts so reserved by THDA for Targeted Areas remain at the end of the time period specified by the Code, THDA will offer such funds to its Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis.

Requirements Imposed by the Code

Interest on the Bonds is not included in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes only if certain requirements are met, including (i) eligibility requirements for Program Loans and borrowers (see "Mortgage Eligibility Requirements" below), (ii) yield and investment requirements (see "Requirements Related to Arbitrage" below), and (iii) certain other requirements related to the Bonds and the use of proceeds of the Bonds, that are also imposed by the Code.

Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to assure that the interest on the Bonds is not included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. In addition, covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. To comply with these covenants, THDA periodically reviews and modifies its procedures for Originating Agents and Servicers to the extent necessary to operate its single-family mortgage programs in compliance with federal tax law and has established procedures under which such requirements can be met. Such procedures include monitoring the Program Loan applications to be financed with Bond proceeds to ensure compliance with applicable acquisition cost and income limitations. THDA believes that the procedures established are sufficient to ensure that the Bonds will satisfy the requirements of the Code. In the opinion of Bond Counsel, the Guide for Originating Agents, the Guide for Servicers and the Resolution establish procedures under which, if followed, the requirements of applicable federal tax law can be met.

Mortgage Eligibility Requirements -- The Code requires that Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Bonds meet certain mortgage eligibility requirements. THDA must, among other things, reasonably expect at the time each Program Loan is made that the borrower will make the residence financed by the Program Loan the borrower's principal residence within a reasonable time after the financing is provided. Under the procedures which THDA has established, the borrower must certify, at the closing of the Program Loan, that the borrower intends to make the financed residence the borrower's principal residence within sixty days, which is within the period considered reasonable under the Code.

In general, except with respect to Program Loans made in Targeted Areas, borrowers are not permitted to have had a present ownership interest in their principal residence during the three-year period prior to the date on which the Program Loan is closed. THDA will, in cases where the prior ownership limitation applies, require the borrower (i) to provide the most recent federal income tax return and (ii) to certify at the closing of the Program Loan that the borrower has not had a present ownership interest in a principal residence within the preceding three years. In addition, THDA will obtain credit reports for each borrower to determine prior ownership of a principal residence by the borrower.

THDA has established maximum acquisition costs for residences financed with proceeds of Bonds and maximum household income limits, all as permitted by the Code. From time to time, THDA may revise the maximum acquisition cost and the income limits, but in no event will THDA's acquisition cost limits or income limits exceed limits established as permitted under the Code. THDA requires the borrower to certify household income in connection with applying the income limits and requires the borrower and the seller to certify the acquisition cost of the financed residence. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the affidavits of the borrower and the seller and to determine that the Code requirements with respect to acquisition cost limits and income limits are met.

An existing Program Loan or any other existing loan may not be acquired or replaced with proceeds of a Program Loan except for certain initial temporary financing not exceeding a term of 24 months. THDA requires a borrower to certify, at the closing of a Program Loan, that the proceeds of the Program Loan will not be used to acquire or replace an existing loan. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the borrower's federal income tax returns for the preceding year (unless the borrower is not required to file such returns) and a credit report prior to closing to determine if the borrower has any outstanding loans which may have been acquired or replaced with proceeds of the Program Loan.

Program Loans cannot be assumed unless the principal residence, prior home ownership, income and acquisition cost requirements are met at the time of assumption. THDA requires that each of its Program Loans have a "due on sale" clause so that THDA may accelerate the Program Loan if it is assumed and all such requirements are not met. The FHA and VA allow a "due on sale" clause in their respective guaranteed Program Loan programs, provided that the borrower is fully informed and consents in writing to such requirements.

Under the Code, an issue of Bonds is treated as meeting the mortgage eligibility requirements if (i) the issuer in good faith attempted to meet all of the mortgage eligibility requirements before the mortgages were executed, (ii) any failure to comply with the mortgage eligibility requirements is corrected within a reasonable period after such failure is first discovered, and (iii) 95% or more of the lendable proceeds of the issue used to make Program Loans was devoted to finance residences which met all such mortgage eligibility requirements at the time the loans were executed or assumed. In determining whether 95% of the proceeds have been so used, THDA relies on an affidavit of the borrower (the "Borrower Affidavit") and of the seller (the "Seller Affidavit") and on examination of copies of the borrower's most recent federal income tax return, together with credit reports and other relevant documentation.

Requirements Related to Arbitrage -- The Code imposes certain arbitrage requirements in connection with Program Loans financed with the proceeds of Bonds. Generally, the yield on Program Loans financed with lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds may not exceed the yield on such Bonds by more than 1 1/8% and the amount of funds held in certain accounts for such Bonds invested at a yield greater than the yield on such Bonds may not exceed 150% of the current year's debt service on such Bonds.

The Code also requires THDA to periodically rebate to the United States Treasury certain investment earnings on non-mortgage investments to the extent such investment earnings exceed the amount that would have been earned on such investments if those investments were earning a return equal to the yield on the Bonds. THDA has established accounting procedures to determine the amount of such excess investment earnings.

Public Hearing and Approval Requirement -- The Code requires that qualified mortgage bonds be approved prior to issuance by the applicable elected official of the appropriate governmental unit, as specified by statute, after a public hearing held following reasonable public notice or by a voter referendum. THDA has adopted procedures to give public notice, to conduct public hearings, and to obtain approval from the Governor of the State to ensure compliance with the Code.

Reporting Requirement -- The Code requires the issuer of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds to submit to the IRS certain information with respect to the issuer and the particular issue, based on information and reasonable expectations determined as of the date of issue. In addition, each issuer must submit to the IRS a yearly report containing information with regard to the beneficiaries of the proceeds of Program Loans. THDA intends to file for each issue of tax-exempt mortgage bonds it issues, and for each year in which proceeds of any issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds are used to provide Program Loans, the information and reports required.

Certification Requirement -- The Code requires that the aggregate amount of all private activity bonds issued each year in Tennessee be within the volume limitation imposed on the principal amount of tax-exempt mortgage bonds which may be issued in Tennessee for that year. To meet this requirement, THDA requests a certification from an appropriate State official that an issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds is within the volume limitation and files such certification with the IRS or takes alternative action to satisfy this certification requirement.

Targeted Area Requirements -- THDA makes lendable proceeds of Bonds in amounts and for time periods as specified in the Code, available for financing qualified Program Loans for residences in Targeted Areas. Targeted Areas are those census tracts in the State in which seventy percent or more of the families have an income which is eighty percent or less of the statewide median family income or those areas of economic distress designated by the State and approved by the Secretaries of Housing and Urban Development and the Treasury under criteria specified in the Code. THDA has designated certain areas of the State as being in economic distress and such designation has been approved by HUD and the Treasury.

Monitoring for Compliance with the Mortgage Eligibility and Arbitrage Requirements -- Under the procedures which THDA has established to comply with the Code, Originating Agents are responsible for reviewing each Program Loan application and the accompanying documentation, including the Application Affidavit and the Seller Affidavit, for compliance with the Code. Originating Agents are required to take normal and appropriate measures to verify the information given, either independently or concurrently with credit review, when applicable. Originating Agents must cross-check all documentation to ensure that the information presented is complete and consistent. Originating Agents give warranties as to each Program Loan delivered to THDA that, among other things, each Program Loan is in compliance with the Code.

Prior to issuing a commitment to finance a Program Loan and again prior to financing a Program Loan, THDA reviews the Program Loan application submitted by the Originating Agent, which includes the borrower's application, the Application Affidavit, the Seller Affidavit, and the borrower's federal income tax returns, for compliance with the Code. To the extent that these provisions are not complied with, the Originating Agent is contacted to provide additional explanation or documentation to enable THDA to make a determination regarding the status of the Program Loan application. If the Originating Agent does not comply with requests from THDA to correct or complete documentation for any Program Loan or if the Originating Agent fails to comply with the Guide for Originating Agents (which failure is determined in the sole discretion of THDA without regard as to whether the Originating Agent may be at fault), or if the Originating Agent violates any other agreement with THDA, the Originating Agent is required to repurchase the Program Loan.

Loan Servicing

THDA has agreements with qualified financial institutions located in Tennessee or in the eight contiguous states to service Program Loans ("Servicers"). Originating Agents, who also qualify as Servicers, may service the Program Loans they originate. If an Originating Agent declines to service these Program Loans, the Originating Agent, with the approval of THDA, may choose another Servicer to do so. Servicers may be mortgage banking firms, commercial banks or savings and loan associations. THDA may also service Program Loans although it has elected only to service multi-family loans made under the 1974 General Resolution to date. A Servicer may transfer any or all of the Program Loans it services to another approved Servicer, with prior THDA approval.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers updating the total number of Program Loans serviced and providing certain information for each Program Loan including, without limitation, delinquency and foreclosure data.

THDA's agreements with Servicers (the "Servicing Agreements") provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. The Servicers' records relating to serviced Program Loans are subject to examination by THDA's Mortgage Administration and Internal Audit Divisions.

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers which sets forth complete requirements and procedures for servicing Program Loans. THDA may terminate any Servicing Agreement when there is inadequate performance by the Servicer. THDA may also require that a Servicer purchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of a Servicer's failure to perform its obligations with respect to the Program Loans under the Servicing Agreement. For information about Servicing Agreements and substantive requirements relating to servicing Program Loans, see Appendix C.

Housing Finance Program Bonds

$40,000,000 Issue 2011-B (Non-AMT)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined a record of proceedings related to the issuance and sale of $40,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2011-B (Non-AMT) (the "Issue 2011-B Bonds") of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA"), a body politic and corporate, constituting a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State of Tennessee (the "State"), organized and existing under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency Act, constituting Chapter 23 of Title 13 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, as amended (the "Act"), and other laws of the State. Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the General Resolution (as hereinafter defined).

The Issue 2011-B Bonds were authorized to be issued pursuant to the Act, the General Housing Finance Resolution of THDA, adopted November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on May 24, 2011, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on August 4, 2011 (together, the "Supplemental Resolution" and, together with the General Resolution, the "Resolution").

THDA has issued and is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds are and, when issued, shall, with the Issue 2011-B Bonds (collectively, the "Housing Finance Program Bonds") be entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution.

The Issue 2011-B Bonds mature in the years and in the respective principal amounts, bear interest at the respective rates and are otherwise as described in the Supplemental Resolution. The Issue 2011-B Bonds are being issued to make funds available to make or purchase Program Loans, as defined in the General Resolution, in accordance with the program of THDA permitted under the Resolution (the "Program").

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), establishes certain requirements which must be met subsequent to the delivery of the Issue 2011-B Bonds in order that interest on the Issue 2011-B Bonds be excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation. We have examined the Resolution and other relevant single family housing program documents which set forth such various federal tax law requirements which must be met by THDA. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with such requirements of federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures.

Based upon the foregoing we are of the opinion that:

1. Under the Constitution and laws of the State, THDA has lawful power and authority, among other things, to carry out the Program, to provide funds therefor by the adoption of the Resolution and the issuance and sale of the Issue 2011-B Bonds and to perform its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Resolution, including the financing of single family mortgage loans and collecting and enforcing the collection of revenues and prepayments as covenanted in the Resolution.

2. The Resolution has been duly adopted by THDA and is valid and binding upon THDA.

3. The Issue 2011-B Bonds are valid and legally binding special obligations of THDA and are entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the Resolution.

4. The Resolution creates, for the benefit of the holders of the Housing Finance Program Bonds, including the Issue 2011-B Bonds, the valid pledge of and lien on revenues, as defined in the Resolution, and moneys and securities held or set aside or to be held or set aside in the Funds and Accounts established thereunder, subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application thereof for the purposes and on the terms and conditions set forth in the Resolution.

5. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has validly covenanted in the manner and to the extent provided in the Resolution, among other things, to make or purchase mortgage loans under the Program with the proceeds of the Issue 2011-B Bonds, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect revenues and, when applicable, prepayments.

6. The Issue 2011-B Bonds do not constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or a pledge of its full faith and credit or of its taxing power and are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

7. Under existing laws as presently enacted and construed and assuming compliance with the covenants concerning federal tax law described above, (i) interest on the Issue 2011-B Bonds is excludable from the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, and (ii) interest on the Issue 2011-B Bonds will not be treated as a preference item to be included in calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

8. Under the laws of the State as enacted and construed on the date hereof, the interest on the Issue 2011-B Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State on interest income; however, the Issue 2011-B Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State.

In addition to the opinions set forth in paragraph (7) above, certain individual owners of the Issue 2011-B Bonds may have to take interest on such Issue 2011-B Bonds into account for the purpose of calculating the amount of social security or railroad retirement benefits includible in gross income of such owners for federal income tax purposes. All owners of the Issue 2011-B Bonds (including, but not limited to, insurance companies, financial institutions, S corporations and United States branches of foreign corporations) should consult their tax advisors concerning the effects of these and other applicable provisions of the Code on their individual tax liabilities. The extent of certain indirect tax consequences will depend upon the recipient's particular tax status or other items of income or deduction. We express no opinion regarding any such consequences.

In rendering this opinion, we are advising you that the enforceability of rights and remedies with respect to the Resolution and the Issue 2011-B Bonds may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency and other laws affecting creditors' rights or remedies heretofore or hereafter enacted.

We express no opinion herein as to the adequacy or accuracy of the Official Statement pertaining to the issuance of the Issue 2011-B Bonds.

Very truly yours,

Housing Finance Program Bonds

$60,000,000 Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined a record of proceedings related to the deemed reissuance of a portion of the $60,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA"), a body politic and corporate, constituting a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State of Tennessee (the "State"), organized and existing under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency Act, constituting Chapter 23 of Title 13 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, as amended (the "Act"), and other laws of the State. Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the General Resolution (as hereinafter defined).

The Issue 2009-B Bonds were authorized to be issued pursuant to the Act, the General Housing Finance Resolution of THDA, adopted November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on December 23, 2009 (together, the "2009 Supplemental Resolution").

Proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds have been deposited in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund and are subject to release therefrom upon satisfaction of the conditions for such release set forth in the 2009 Supplemental Resolution. Pursuant to the General Resolution, the 2009 Supplemental Resolution and a Resolution adopted by THDA on May 24, 2011, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on August 4, 2011 (together, the "2011 Supplemental Resolution," and, together with the General Resolution and the 2009 Supplemental Resolution, the "Resolution"), THDA has elected to release $60,000,000_of proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund. Upon such release and in accordance with the Resolution, a corresponding amount of the Issue 2009-B Bonds will be redesignated as the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4 (Non-AMT) (the "Subseries B-4 Bonds").

THDA has issued and is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds are and, when issued, shall, with the Subseries B-4 Bonds (collectively, the "Housing Finance Program Bonds") be entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution.

The Subseries B-4 Bonds mature in the year, bear interest at the rates and are otherwise as described in the 2009 Supplemental Resolution and the 2010 Supplemental Resolution. Proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds are being released to make funds available to make or purchase Program Loans, as defined in the General Resolution, in accordance with the program of THDA permitted under the Resolution (the "Program").

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), establishes certain requirements which must be met subsequent to the delivery of the Subseries B-4 Bonds in order that interest on the Subseries B-4 Bonds be excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation. We have examined the Resolution and other relevant single family housing program documents which set forth such various federal tax law requirements which must be met by THDA. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with such requirements of federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures.

Based upon the foregoing we are of the opinion that:

1. Under the Constitution and laws of the State, THDA has lawful power and authority, among other things, to carry out the Program, to provide funds therefor by the adoption of the Resolution and the reissuance and redesignation of the Subseries B-4 Bonds and to perform its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Resolution, including the financing of single family mortgage loans and collecting and enforcing the collection of revenues and prepayments as covenanted in the Resolution.

2. The Resolution has been duly adopted by THDA and is valid and binding upon THDA.

3. The Subseries B-4 Bonds are valid and legally binding special obligations of THDA and are entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the Resolution.

4. The Resolution creates, for the benefit of the holders of the Housing Finance Program Bonds, including the Subseries B-4 Bonds, the valid pledge of and lien on revenues, as defined in the Resolution, and moneys and securities held or set aside or to be held or set aside in the Funds and Accounts established thereunder, subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application thereof for the purposes and on the terms and conditions set forth in the Resolution.

5. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has validly covenanted in the manner and to the extent provided in the Resolution, among other things, to make or purchase mortgage loans under the Program with funds allocable to the Subseries B-4 Bonds, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect revenues and, when applicable, prepayments.

6. The Subseries B-4 Bonds do not constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or a pledge of its full faith and credit or of its taxing power and are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

7. Under existing laws as presently enacted and construed and assuming compliance with the covenants concerning federal tax law described above, interest on the Subseries B-4 Bonds (i) is excludable from the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, (ii) will not be treated as a preference item to be included in calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and (iii) will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

8. Under the laws of the State as enacted and construed on the date hereof, the interest on the Subseries B-4 Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State on interest income; however, the Subseries B-4 Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State.

In addition to the opinions set forth in paragraph (7) above, certain individual owners of the Subseries B-4 Bonds may have to take interest on such Subseries B-4 Bonds into account for the purpose of calculating the amount of social security or railroad retirement benefits includible in gross income of such owners for federal income tax purposes. All owners of the Subseries B-4 Bonds (including, but not limited to, insurance companies, financial institutions, S corporations and United States branches of foreign corporations) should consult their tax advisors concerning the effects of these and other applicable provisions of the Code on their individual tax liabilities. The extent of certain indirect tax consequences will depend upon the recipient's particular tax status or other items of income or deduction. We express no opinion regarding any such consequences.

In rendering this opinion, we are advising you that the enforceability of rights and remedies with respect to the Resolution and the Subseries B-4 Bonds may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency and other laws affecting creditors' rights or remedies heretofore or hereafter enacted.

We express no opinion herein as to the adequacy or accuracy of the Official Statement pertaining to the issuance of the Subseries B-4 Bonds.

Very truly yours,

NEW ISSUE AND CONVERSION ISSUE BOOK-ENTRY ONLY

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under existing federal laws and assuming continuing compliance by THDA with federal tax law requirements, (i) interest on the Issue 2011-C Bonds (the "Issue 2011-C Bonds") and the Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5 Bonds (the "Subseries B-5 Bonds" and, collectively with the Issue 2011-C Bonds, the "Series Bonds") is excluded from gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes and (ii) interest on the Series Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and is not included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code. In addition, Bond Counsel is of the opinion that, under existing laws of the State of Tennessee, the interest on the Series Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Series Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee. See "TAX MATTERS" herein.

Housing Finance Program Bonds
$65,290,000 Issue 2011-C (Non-AMT)
$34,710,000 Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5 (Non-AMT)*

Dated: Issue 2011-C Bonds: Date of Delivery Due: As shown on inside front cover
Subseries B-5 Bonds: December 21, 2009
(Interest to accrue from November 3, 2011)

The Issue 2011-C Bonds are being issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in book-entry form and when delivered will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, New York, to which principal and interest payments on the Issue 2011-C Bonds will be made. So long as Cede & Co. or another nominee of DTC is the registered owner of the Issue 2011-C Bonds, payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Issue 2011-C Bonds will be made directly to DTC. Disbursement of such payments to DTC's Direct Participants (as herein defined) is the responsibility of DTC and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners (as herein defined) is the responsibility of the Direct Participants and Indirect Participants (as herein defined). Beneficial Owners of the Issue 2011-C Bonds will not receive physical delivery of bond certificates. See Appendix F "Book-Entry-Only System." The Issue 2011-C Bonds will be issued in denominations of $5,000 and integral multiples thereof. Interest on the Issue 2011-C Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and is payable on July 1, 2012, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, as more fully described herein.

Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") previously issued $300,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") and, in connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds expects to convert and re-designate a portion of such bonds as the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5. See "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM." Interest on the Subseries B-5 Bonds accrues from the date of delivery of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and is payable January 3, 2012, and thereafter on each January 1 and July 1, commencing July 1, 2012.

The Series Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their stated maturities at the times and under the conditions set forth under the caption "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for the Series Bonds."

The Series Bonds are special limited obligations of THDA payable only from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution (as defined herein) for the payment of the principal or redemption price of and interest on the Bonds.

THDA has no taxing power. The Series Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State of Tennessee (the "State") or any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof, are pledged for the payment of the principal of or interest on the Series Bonds.

This cover page contains certain information for quick reference only. It is not a summary of this issue. Investors must read the entire Official Statement to obtain information essential to making an informed investment decision.

The Issue 2011-C Bonds are being offered when, as and if issued by THDA, subject to delivery of the opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel, and certain other conditions. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York, and certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller. Certain legal matters in connection with the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds will be passed upon by Kutak Rock LLP. It is expected that the Series Bonds will be available for book-entry delivery through DTC on or about November 3, 2011.

INTRODUCTION

This Official Statement (the "Official Statement") provides certain information in connection with the issuance by the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") of the Issue 2011-C Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $65,290,000 (the "Issue 2011-C Bonds") and the conversion and re-designation of a portion of THDA's Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") as the Issue 2009-B Bonds, Subseries B-5 (the "Subseries B-5 Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2011-C Bonds, the "Series Bonds") in the aggregate principal amount of $34,710,000.

THDA is authorized to issue and sell its bonds and to conduct its other activities by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 13-23-101 et seq., as amended (the "Act"). The issuance and sale of the Issue 2011-C Bonds is authorized by the General Housing Finance Resolution, adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a resolution adopted by THDA on September 27, 2011, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee of THDA (the "Bond Finance Committee") on October 5, 2011 (the "Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution"). The General Resolution and the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution are herein collectively referred to as the "Resolution."

The Issue 2009-B Bonds were issued in the aggregate principal amount of $300,000,000 pursuant to the General Resolution and a resolution adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee on December 3, 2009 (the "Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution") and the New Issue Bond Program described herein under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM." In connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds, THDA expects to convert and redesignate a portion of the Issue 2009-B Bonds as Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5 (the "Subseries B-5 Bonds") pursuant to the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution as supplemented by the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution. The Subseries B-5 Bonds are not being offered pursuant to this Official Statement. See a description of the New Issue Bond Program under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM" herein.

The General Resolution was adopted in connection with THDA's implementation of the New Issue Bond Program. No assurance can be provided that THDA will continue to issue Bonds under the General Resolution upon the release of all proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds held in escrow as described under the heading "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM" herein.

The Act requires submission to the Bond Finance Committee of THDA, which consists of the Chairman of THDA and the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, the Secretary of State of the State of Tennessee, the State Treasurer of the State of Tennessee, and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration of the State of Tennessee, of a plan of financing pertaining to the sale of any bonds or notes by THDA and to request that the Bond Finance Committee sell such bonds or notes on behalf of THDA, under the terms and conditions set forth in the Act. The Bond Finance Committee approved the plan of financing with respect to the Bonds on August 24, 2011. The Act does not permit THDA to have outstanding bonds and notes in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $2,930,000,000, excluding bonds and notes which have been refunded. As of August 31, 2011 (unaudited), bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $584,730,000 were outstanding under the General Resolution. In addition, as of August 31, 2011 (unaudited), bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $1,460,245,000 were outstanding under THDA's Homeownership Program Bond Resolution (the "1985 General Resolution"), and bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $72,195,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution").

Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Series Bonds, are and will be special limited obligations of THDA, payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution for the payment of the principal and redemption price thereof and the interest thereon, including the Bond Reserve Fund established pursuant to the

*The Subseries B-5 Bonds are not offered hereby as described herein.

Resolution, as more fully described herein under the caption "SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS". Except as otherwise provided in the Resolution, all bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Series Bonds, are equally and ratably secured by the pledges and covenants contained therein and all such bonds, including the Series Bonds, are sometimes referred to herein as the "Bonds". The security interest created by the pledge of the General Resolution is governed by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 9-22-101 et seq., as amended, relating to the perfection, priority and enforcement of public pledges and liens (the "Public Pledge Act"). Security interests governed under the Public Pledge Act are expressly exempt from Tennessee's codification of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State or of any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of principal or interest on the Bonds.

The Issue 2011-C Bonds are being issued and the Subseries B-5 Bonds are being converted to make funds available to purchase Program Loans (or participations therein) to finance the ownership or improvement of single family housing within the State by eligible low and moderate income families. See "PROGRAM LOANS" herein. As used herein the term "Program Loan" includes mortgage loans originated since December 2009 directly financed with Bonds issued under the General Resolution together with certain loans transferred to the General Resolution ("Transferred Loans") as a result of the refunding of certain obligations under the 1985 General Resolution with the proceeds of a prior issue of Bonds under the General Resolution.

THDA's Program Loan portfolio includes only first lien, fixed interest rate single-family Program Loans with equal monthly installments of principal and interest. As of August 31, 2011 (unaudited), 4,784 Program Loans were outstanding under the Resolution having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $471,357,585. Based on the outstanding principal balance of Program Loans as of August 31, 2011, approximately 94.51% were FHA insured, approximately 0.93% were VA guaranteed, approximately 0.15% were insured by private mortgage insurance companies, approximately 3.31% were guaranteed by United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD"), and approximately 1.10% were uninsured (i.e. Program Loans for which the borrower has at least a 22% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing). See "HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS – Housing Finance Program Portfolio Data" and Appendix B under the heading "Private Mortgage Insurance Programs".

THDA expects that the funds made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds, the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds, and a contribution from THDA, will be made available to: (i) finance first lien single-family Program Loans (or participations therein) for single-family, owner-occupied housing (one to four dwelling units); (ii) pay capitalized interest, if any; (iii) pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' Fees and other transaction costs; and (iv) fund the Bond Reserve Fund. See "APPLICATION OF BOND PROCEEDS". The terms and conditions of Program Loans, including Program Loans financed with amounts made available by the issuance of the Series Bonds, are described herein under the caption "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" and in Appendix G.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee") is trustee and paying agent for all Bonds issued under the General Resolution.

A brief description of the Series Bonds, THDA and its Program Loans follows, together with summaries of the terms of the Series Bonds, the Resolution and certain provisions of the Act. Such summaries do not purport to be complete and all such summaries and references to the Act and the Resolution are qualified in their entirety by reference to each such document, copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Certain capitalized terms utilized herein are defined in Appendix D hereto. Capitalized terms utilized herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Resolution.

NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM

THDA issued $300,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Issue 2009-B Bonds in December 2009 as taxable, variable interest rate escrow bonds under the Single Family New Issue Bond Program (the "New Issue Bond Program") announced by the United States Department of the Treasury ("Treasury"), Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. The Issue 2009-B Bonds were purchased by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac (the "Purchasers") pursuant to the New Issue Bond Program and proceeds derived from the sale of the Issue 2009-B Bonds in an amount equal to $300,000,000 were deposited in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund established by the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution. Under the New Issue Bond Program, the Purchasers exchanged the Issue 2009-B Bonds for securities issued by the Purchasers ("GSE Securities") backed by the Issue 2009-B Bonds which were purchased by the Treasury. Such GSE Securities are not part of the security for the Issue 2009-B Bonds. The Issue 2009-B Bonds bear interest at a short term variable rate and the interest rate calculation method may be converted in up to six tranches prior to December 31, 2011 (each such date, a "Release Date").

The release of amounts held in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount to become available to purchase Program Loans depends upon compliance with various conditions set forth in the agreement with the Purchasers and in the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, including a requirement that THDA shall have sold additional bonds to investors in accordance with standard bond underwriting practices (the "Market Bonds") in an aggregate principal amount at least equal to two-thirds of the amount of funds released. In order to release all amounts held in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount, THDA must issue a minimum of $200,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Market Bonds. For purposes of the New Issue Bond Program, the Issue 2011-C Bonds constitute Market Bonds, and upon the satisfaction of the conditions precedent to the release of a portion of the funds from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount, THDA expects to release $34,710,000 from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount (the "Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds") on the applicable Release Date which is expected to be the delivery date of the Issue 2011-C Bonds. The portion of the Issue 2009-B Bonds corresponding to the Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds will be re-designated as the Subseries B-5 Bonds on such Release Date. THDA previously released an aggregate principal amount of $265,290,000 of proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds in four prior releases. Upon the release of the Released Issue 2009-B Proceeds, no funds will remain on deposit in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount. No assurance can be provided that THDA will continue to issue Bonds under the General Resolution subsequent to the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and the conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-5 Bonds.

General

The Issue 2011-C Bonds will be issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in denominations of $5,000 and any integral multiple thereof and will be available in book-entry only form. Purchasers of the Issue 2011-C Bonds will not receive certificates representing their interest in the Issue 2011-C Bonds. The Depository Trust Company, ("DTC"), New York, New York, will act as securities depository for the Issue 2011-C Bonds. The ownership of one fully registered certificated bond, without coupons, for each series and maturity set forth on the inside cover page hereof, each in the aggregate principal amount of such series and maturity, will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for DTC, and deposited with DTC via the FAST system. See Appendix F "Book-Entry Only System" for a description of the DTC book-entry only system.

The Issue 2011-C Bonds will mature on the dates and bear interest from the date of delivery at the rates indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement. Interest on the Issue 2011-C Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and is payable on July 1, 2012, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

The Subseries B-5 Bonds will mature on July 1, 2041. The Subseries B-5 Bonds are dated December 21, 2009, and will bear interest from November 3, 2011, with rates calculated as indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement. Interest on the Subseries B-5 Bonds is payable on January 3, 2012, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, commencing July 1, 2012, on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds

Sinking Fund Redemption

The Issue 2011-C Bonds maturing on January 1, 2026, are subject to redemption in part by lot on each January 1 and July 1 beginning January 1, 2023, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments in the principal amount for each of the dates set forth below:

Sinking Fund Payments for Issue 2011-C
Term Bonds Due January 1, 2026

Year	Amount Due January 1	Amount Due July 1

2038	2,400,000	2,420,000
2039	2,460,000	2,480,000
2040	2,520,000	2,540,000
2041	2,580,000	2,610,000	(maturity)

Optional Redemption. The Issue 2011-C Bonds maturing on and after July 1, 2021, are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their respective maturities, either as a whole or in part at any time, on or after January 1, 2021, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

The Subseries B-5 Bonds are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their maturity, either as a whole or in part on the first Business Day of each month commencing December 1, 2011, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds. The Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Account representing Excess 2011-C Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess 2011-C Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds on any Interest Payment Date commencing July 1, 2012; provided, however, Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds may be redeemed between Interest Payment Dates on the first Business Day of any month for which adequate notice of redemption may be given.

While any Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds remain Outstanding, Excess 2011-C Principal Payments shall be used as follows:

FIRST, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds are equal to or less than 400% PSA (as defined below under "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds"), as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2011-C Principal Payments shall first be applied to redeem Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) for Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, other than the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds; and

SECOND, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds are in excess of 400% PSA, as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2011-C Principal Payments up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) shall first be applied to redeem Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds (any such remainder used to redeem Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds being an "Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption"); provided, however, that (i) the source of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption is restricted to that portion of the available Excess 2011-C Principal Payments which is in excess of 400% PSA and (ii) the principal amount of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption may not be an amount in excess of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds' proportionate amount of all Issue 2011-C Bonds then Outstanding.

"Excess 2011-C Principal Payments" means, as of any date of computation, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds which do not constitute Excess Subseries B-5 Principal Payments to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Series Bonds.

"Planned Amortization Amount" means the dollar amount for each Interest Payment Date set forth in the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution. Each Planned Amortization Amount represents the cumulative principal amount of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds assumed to be redeemed from Excess 2011-C Principal Payments as of a particular Interest Payment Date based on receipt of principal prepayments at a 75% PSA prepayment rate for Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds" for a description of PSA prepayment rates.

The amortization schedule of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds, including the Planned Amortization Amounts for the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds (which assumes the full origination of Program Loans with proceeds allocable to the Series Bonds in accordance with the expected schedule for such origination and receipt of principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds at a rate equal to 75% of the PSA prepayment rate) as of each payment date is set forth below:

Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds Amortization Schedule

Date	Planned Amortization Amount
July 1, 2012	$ 120,000
January 1, 2013	525,000
July 1, 2013	1,205,000
January 1, 2014	2,140,000
July 1, 2014	3,305,000
January 1, 2015	4,580,000
July 1, 2015	5,805,000
January 1, 2016	6,980,000
July 1, 2016	8,110,000
January 1, 2017	9,195,000
July 1, 2017	10,230,000
January 1, 2018	11,220,000
July 1, 2018	12,170,000
January 1, 2019	13,075,000
July 1, 2019	13,935,000
January 1, 2020	14,755,000
July 1, 2020	15,530,000
January 1, 2021	15,965,000

Each Planned Amortization Amount, as set forth in the table above, is subject to proportionate reduction to the extent Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds are redeemed from amounts on deposit in the Issue 2011-C/Subseries B-5 Subaccount of the Loan Fund and not applied to finance Program Loans.

For a description of the impact on the weighted average life of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds on the receipt of prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds at various speeds, see "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Average Life of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds."

Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-5 Bonds. The Subseries B-5 Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such Subseries B-5 Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Fund representing Excess Subseries B-5 Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess Subseries B-5 Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of Subseries B-5 Bonds at least once during each semi-annual period ending on January 1, or July 1, commencing July 1, 2012, to the extent there are at least $10,000 of Excess Subseries B-5 Principal Payments received during such semi-annual period.

"Excess Subseries B-5 Principal Payments" means, while any Issue 2011-C Bonds are Outstanding, a pro rata portion (calculated based on the then outstanding principal amount of the Subseries B-5 Bonds divided by the then outstanding principal amount of the Series Bonds), and subsequent to the payment, in full, of the Issue 2011-C Bonds, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Series Bonds.

Special Redemption of the Series Bonds, including Cross Calls. The Series Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part, at any time prior to maturity, in accordance with the provisions of the Resolution, and in an amount equal to amounts available for such purposes from (i) proceeds of the Series Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans; (ii) except as otherwise described under the headings "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds," "-Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-5 Bonds," and "-Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule" repayments and prepayments of Program Loans allocated to the Series Bonds in excess of regularly scheduled debt service payments on the Series Bonds; (iii) repayments and prepayments of Program Loans financed with the proceeds of any other Bonds issued under the Resolution, subject to limitations contained in the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and (iv) other amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund of the Resolution in excess of the amounts then required for the payment of Debt Service and Program Expenses; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds (a) are only subject to redemption under clause (ii) above as described under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds" and (b) shall not be subject to redemption as described in clauses (iii) and (iv) above if such redemption would cause amortization of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds to exceed the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds Amortization Schedule. The Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Series Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans.

The date of redemption shall be determined by the Trustee upon the direction of THDA, subject to the provisions of and in accordance with the Resolution. The Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the redemption date, if applicable; provided, however, the redemption price for the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds in the event of a redemption described in clause (i) above shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium, if any) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. The Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption, unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of Series Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in an amount in excess of their proportionate amount of all Issue 2011-C Bonds then Outstanding in the event of a redemption pursuant to clause (i) above. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS – Prepayments" and "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS - THDA Redemption Practices". See "TAX MATTERS" herein for a description of the potential tax consequences of a redemption of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds at their issue price.

Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule. To the extent not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments on the Series Bonds or otherwise required to be applied to the redemption of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds or the Subseries B-5 Bonds, repayments and prepayments of principal of the Program Loans or portions thereof allocable to the Series Bonds received on or after November 3, 2021, shall be applied to redeem Series Bonds in such principal amounts as are required to satisfy the requirements of the Code. The redemption price of Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable. Subject to the redemption procedures under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds," THDA shall direct the redemption of the Series Bonds pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Series Bonds to be redeemed; provided, however, that the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds may be redeemed in an amount that exceeds the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds Amortization Table only if there are no other Series Bonds outstanding.

Mandatory Redemption – Unexpended Proceeds. The Series Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on July 1, 2012, in the event and to the extent that there are unexpended proceeds of the Series Bonds on deposit in the Issue 2011-C/Subseries B-5 Bonds Subaccount of the Loan Fund on June 1, 2012, provided that such redemption date may be extended, at the option of THDA, and subject to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution.

Notwithstanding any extension of the redemption date described above, in order to satisfy requirements of the Code, the Series Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on May 3, 2015, to the extent any amounts remain on deposit in the Issue 2011-C/Subseries B-5 Subaccount of the Loan Fund.

The redemption price of the Series Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable; provided, however, that the redemption price for the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium, if any) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. THDA shall direct the redemption of the Series Bonds pro rata among all maturities of such Series Bonds then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall also deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Series Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that (i) the Subseries B-5 Bonds shall be redeemed on a pro-rata basis from among all Series Bonds then Outstanding and (ii) the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in an amount in excess of their proportionate amount of all Series Bonds then Outstanding. See "TAX MATTERS" herein for a description of the potential tax consequences of a redemption of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds at their issue price.

Selection By Lot

If less than all of the Series Bonds of like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the particular Series Bonds of such series and maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in accordance with the Resolution.

Notice of Redemption

When the Trustee shall receive notice from THDA of its election or direction to redeem Bonds, and when redemption of Bonds is required by the Resolution, the Trustee shall give notice, in the name of THDA, of the redemption of such Bonds, which notice shall specify the series and maturities of the Bonds to be redeemed, the redemption date and the place or places where amounts due upon such redemption will be payable and, if less than all of the Bonds of any like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the letters and numbers or other distinguishing marks of such Bonds so to be redeemed, and, in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, such notice shall also specify the respective portions of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Such notice shall further state that on such date there shall become due and payable upon each Bond to be redeemed the Redemption Price thereof, or the Redemption Price of the specified portions of the principal thereof in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, together with interest accrued to the redemption date, and that from and after such date interest thereon shall cease to accrue and be payable. In the event that the Trustee does not, at the time notice of any redemption is required to be given under the Resolution, hold on deposit in the Redemption Fund an amount sufficient to pay the Redemption Price of, plus interest accrued and unpaid to the redemption, such notice shall further state that the redemption is conditional upon sufficient funds being so deposited or transferred by or at the direction of THDA to the Redemption Fund and that, in the event such funds are not so deposited or transferred, the redemption shall be canceled, or reduced to the extent of funds actually on deposit, and written notice of such cancellation or reduction shall be given to the holders of Bonds which are not to be redeemed within ten (10) days following the proposed redemption date in the same manner as provided for notice of the redemption.

Notice of redemption of Bonds shall be mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid (and by reputable overnight delivery service in the case of Bonds held by any securities depository), no less than twenty (20) days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to DTC) before the redemption date, to the registered owners of any Bonds or portions thereof which are to be redeemed at their last addresses appearing upon the registry book. So long as DTC or its nominee is the registered owner of the Bonds, THDA shall not be responsible for mailing notices of redemption to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants or to the Beneficial Owners of the Bonds. See Appendix F – "Book-Entry-Only System" for a discussion of DTC practices.

SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS

Security of Bonds and Sources of Payment

The Bonds are special limited obligations of THDA payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution. Subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application of certain monies for the purposes and under the terms set forth therein, and to the payment to the Trustee and the Paying Agents and depositories of compensation for their services and expenses, such Bonds are secured equally and ratably by a pledge of the following:

(a) Revenues, which include scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of principal of and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicers as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loans and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan;

(b) Non-Mortgage Receipts, which includes all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses from investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, including the Escrow Fund;

(c) All Funds and Accounts created by the Resolution, including the Bond Reserve Fund, and monies and securities therein, and amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited in the Escrow Fund (see Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION"); and

(d) All right, title and interest of THDA in and to the Program Loans made or purchased pursuant to the Resolution.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds do not constitute a debt, liability or obligation of the State or any other political subdivision thereof (except THDA). Neither the full faith and credit nor taxing power of the State or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of the principal of, redemption price or interest on the Bonds. The Bonds are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

Bond Reserve Fund

The Act authorizes THDA to establish one or more reserve funds. In accordance with the Act and the Resolution, THDA has established a Bond Reserve Fund for the Bonds. The Resolution provides that THDA may not issue any Bond unless the amount in the Bond Reserve Fund is at least equal to the "Bond Reserve Fund Requirement". The Bond Reserve Fund Requirement is the greater of (i) an amount equal to the aggregate of the respective amounts for each Issue of Bonds established in the Supplemental Resolution authorizing such Issue or (ii) an amount equal to 3% of the then current balance of Program Loans plus any other amount on deposit in the Loan Fund which has not been designated to provide for the payment of Costs of Issuance or capitalized interest. On the date of issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds, the Bond Reserve Fund will contain an amount at least equal to the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement. The Resolution requires that if, at any time, there is not a sufficient amount available in the Debt Service and Expense Account to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund installments maturing and becoming due on the Bonds, the Trustee must transfer the amount of the deficiency from the Bond Reserve Fund to the Debt Service and Expense Account.

Additional Bonds

THDA is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds, when issued, shall, with the Series Bonds, be entitled to the equal benefit, protection, and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution, except as otherwise described herein.

ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE SERIES BONDS

General

The General Resolution requires THDA to file Projected Cash Flow Statements with the Trustee periodically in connection with various actions THDA may take pursuant to the General Resolution including, without limitation, the issuance of Bonds. (See Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION" for a description of Projected Cash Flow Statements and the circumstances under which they are required.) A Projected Cash Flow Statement meets the requirements of the General Resolution if it shows that sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service on Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution, including the Series Bonds, and Program Expenses and that the amount of all assets held under the General Resolution equals or exceeds the total liability of all Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution. In connection with the preparation of Projected Cash Flow Statements upon the issuance or remarketing of Bonds, including the Series Bonds, THDA makes certain assumptions concerning revenues derived from Program Loans, Program Expenses, rate and amount of prepayments, earnings on investments, rate of origination of Program Loans, and Bond redemptions.

THDA has prepared and filed a Projected Cash Flow Statement in connection with the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds (the "Projected Cash Flow Statement"). The Projected Cash Flow Statement has been based, among other assumptions, on the assumption that THDA originates approximately $100,000,000 of thirty year Program Loans (or participations therein) bearing interest at a weighted average interest rate of approximately 4.50%. The maturities and Sinking Fund Payments for the Series Bonds have been structured on the assumption that Program Loans will experience no prepayments. The Projected Cash Flow Statement has evidenced that, upon the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds, sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service for Bonds Outstanding. THDA believes the assumptions used in connection with the preparation of the Projected Cash Flow Statement are reasonable. THDA cannot, however, guarantee that actual results will not vary materially from such assumptions. If subsequent events do not correspond to such assumptions, the amount of Revenues available to make payments of principal and interest on the Bonds, including the Series Bonds, when scheduled, may be adversely affected and the expected life of the Series Bonds may be affected.

Payments of Principal and Interest on the Bonds

The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that payments of principal and interest on the Series Bonds will be made, when scheduled, from scheduled payments and prepayments of principal and interest on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Series Bonds and from other moneys available under the Resolution including, without limitation, income expected to be derived from the investment of monies in the funds and accounts established under the Resolution. For purposes of preparing the Projected Cash Flow Statement, it has been assumed that scheduled payments of principal and interest on Program Loans will be received 29 days from the date on which they are due. Such sources of available monies may be insufficient to make such payments in the event that (i) regularly scheduled payments on Program Loans are not made on a timely basis in accordance with their terms, (ii) THDA incurs uninsured losses in connection with the foreclosure of Program Loans or insured losses which the insurer does not pay, (iii) THDA is not able to finance Program Loans in accordance with its expectations, (iv) actual investment rates on Investment Securities are less than those assumed, or (v) prepayments are not received as anticipated to the extent the Projected Cash Flow Statement was based on an assumed level of prepayments.

Program Loans

Certain moneys made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds, will be deposited in the Issue 2011-C/Subseries B-5 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund and will be used to continue THDA's program of financing Program Loans for single family, owner occupied residential housing for low and moderate income persons and families. THDA may use amounts made available as a result of the issuance of Issue 2011-C Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds to finance Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans. The current interest rates on Great Rate Program Loans are expected to be below the prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee at the time of delivery of the Series Bonds. In addition, THDA may use amounts made available from the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds to finance Program Loans on a blended basis with proceeds of other bonds of THDA, including participation interests bearing interest at 0% in order to satisfy mortgage yield limitations of the Code. See "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" – Homeownership Choices" and Appendix G – "PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES" for more information about specific program requirements.

Program Loans are made on a continuing, first-come, first served basis by Originating Agents approved by THDA. The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that Program Loans (or participations therein) financed with the proceeds of Bonds, including the Series Bonds, will be first-lien, thirty-year, fixed-rate mortgages, with equal monthly installments of principal and interest and that Program Loans purchased by THDA from Originating Agents will be purchased at par.

THDA's general policy is to maintain a steadily available supply of funds to finance program loans at competitive interest rates. THDA generally establishes interest rates for its program loans when bonds are sold by taking into account the maximum permitted interest rate under the Code and the spread between that rate and the then prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. THDA prefers to maintain the same interest rates throughout the period of origination of program loans for each issue of bonds, however, THDA regularly reviews these interest rates in light of market conditions and retains the flexibility to modify its interest rates to meet changing needs and conditions. No assumptions can be made regarding the length of time an interest rate set by THDA will remain available or what effect a particular interest rate will have on the origination of program loans.

Nonorigination of Program Loans

While THDA retains the flexibility to modify the interest rates at which Program Loans are offered, there are circumstances under which these interest rates may not be competitive with prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. Under these circumstances, it will be more difficult for THDA to originate Program Loans. The ability of THDA to finance Program Loans as described may also be affected by the availability of residences that meet THDA's acquisition cost limits and the willingness of potential borrowers to assume potential federal recapture tax liability. Although THDA expects that all lendable proceeds available from the Bonds will be used to finance Program Loans, no assurance can be given whether this will occur or the speed at which this may occur.

As of September 26, 2011, THDA committed approximately $64,000,000 of the proceeds of Issue 2011-B/Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4 for the financing of Program Loans. Of that amount, approximately $43,400,000 has been expended for the financing of Program Loans. Approximately $36,000,000 of the proceeds of Issue 2011-B/Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4 remain uncommitted. No assurance can be provided that all of such commitments will result in Program Loans financed under the Resolution.

THDA has not redeemed any bonds from unexpended proceeds under the General Resolution. The last transaction that resulted in an unexpended proceeds redemption was THDA's Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 1996-3 under the 1985 General Resolution. Notwithstanding past performance, no assurances can be given that proceeds from the Series Bonds will be fully expended for Program Loans.

Disruption in Mortgage Market and Other Financial Markets

The mortgage and financial markets have recently been subject to significant disruptions, including limited liquidity. Continuing instability in the mortgage market that adversely impacts financial institution participants may result in delays in originating Program Loans or failure to originate Program Loans which could result in redemption of the Series Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS".

Instability in the mortgage markets, increases in delinquencies and defaults and limited access to credit have placed pressures on all participants in the industry, including but not limited to lenders, servicers and mortgage insurers. These pressures may have an adverse impact on transaction participants and their ability to conduct business. THDA can offer no guidance as to whether the recent volatility in the mortgage market and the financial markets generally will continue, and if it does, how these conditions might impact the ability of such participants to perform their obligations in connection with the Series Bonds.

Changes in Federal or State Law

Legislation affecting the Series Bonds and THDA's single family mortgage loans may be considered and enacted by the United States Congress or the Tennessee General Assembly. No assurance can be given that the consideration or enactment of any such legislation will not have an adverse effect on the value of, the timing or amount of payments of, or the security for the Series Bonds or other risks.

Over the past several years a number of financial institutions and related entities have announced large losses as a result of their mortgage activities and the increasing number of defaults and foreclosures on such mortgages. The United States Congress has passed the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), and may pass additional consumer protection and bankruptcy legislation, as a result of the adverse effects of the mortgage situation on individuals and families in the United States. Likewise, the Tennessee General Assembly may enact consumer protection legislation relating to mortgage loan origination and servicing. The Dodd-Frank Act has not, to date, had a material adverse effect on THDA's single family mortgage program, including its ability to originate new single family mortgage loans, to collect payments under single family mortgage loans and to foreclose on property securing single family mortgage loans; however, additional legislation, if enacted, or regulations, if promulgated to effectuate the purposes of the Dodd-Frank Act or other state or federal regulations, could have an adverse effect on THDA's activities.

A number of state regulatory authorities have recently taken action against certain loan originators and servicers for alleged violations of state laws. Certain of those actions prohibit those servicers from pursuing foreclosure actions. In response to alleged abusive lending and servicing practices, the State of Tennessee could enact legislation or implement regulatory requirements that impose limitations on the ability of mortgage loan servicers to take actions (such as pursuing foreclosures) that may be essential to service and preserve the value of the single-family loans. Any such limitations that applied to the THDA's single-family loans could adversely affect the THDA's ability to collect amounts due on such loans and could impair the value of such loans.

On March 4, 2009, the U.S. Department of the Treasury announced guidelines to enable mortgage loan servicers to begin modifications of eligible mortgage loans under the Homeowner Affordability and Stability Plan. These guidelines stated that FHA would formulate a program for modification of FHA loans. FHA released the details of the program called the Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP") on July 31, 2009, with an effective date of August 15, 2009. By letter dated November 3, 2009, THDA received a variance to the HAMP requirements. As a consequence, THDA is not obligated to satisfy HAMP requirements with respect to Program Loans.

On July 7, 2011, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced changes to Federal Housing Administration and Making Home Affordable Program requirements that direct servicers to extend the period of time during which eligible borrowers may skip part or all of their monthly payments from three or four months to twelve months whenever possible. These requirements become effective on August 1, 2011, with a subsequent sixty day implementation period. At present, THDA cannot predict what effect, if any, these requirements would have on the Program Loan portfolio, which, together with other revenues and assets available under the Resolution, is the source of payment and security for the Series Bonds.

The Hardest Hit Housing Markets (HFA Hardest Hit Fund) initiative, under the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, is designed to support foreclosure prevention and housing market stabilization initiatives (the "HHF Program"). THDA is administering the HHF Program in Tennessee and was awarded $236 million which will provide loans to unemployed or substantially underemployed homeowners who, through no fault of their own, are financially unable to make their mortgage payments and are in danger of losing their homes to foreclosure. Loan proceeds will be used to pay all mortgage and mortgage-related expenses (e.g., property taxes, homeowner insurance, homeowner dues) up to $20,000 for up to 18 months in 29 targeted counties and up to $15,000 for up to 12 months in 66 counties. For homeowners who have found a new job, but during a period of unemployment accumulated payment arrearages, reinstatement assistance will be available. Homeowners with THDA Program Loans may be eligible for the HHF Program. As of August 31, 2011, 340 loans made under the HHF Program have closed. Five of these loans have been made with respect to Program Loans previously financed under the Resolution. None of the loans made under the HHF Program are pledged as security for the Bonds.

Prepayments

THDA, from time to time, receives monies from (i) partial or complete prepayment of Program Loans (which is permitted, without penalty) or (ii) termination of Program Loans prior to their respective final payment date due to default, sale, condemnation or casualty loss. In addition, the Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Series Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans. The rate at which such prepayments, if any, of Program Loans will be received by THDA cannot be predicted. The actual rate of such prepayments may be influenced by a variety of economic, social and other factors, including proposed legislative and regulatory changes and there is no reliable basis for predicting the actual average life of the Program Loans. Consequently, THDA makes no assumptions or representations as to the factors that will affect the rate of prepayments, if any, or the relative importance of such factors and their potential impact on the actual average life of Program Loans and the expected life of the Series Bonds. To the extent THDA is required or elects to redeem the Series Bonds, it is probable that the Series Bonds will have a shorter life than their stated maturity.

Subject to the requirements of the General Resolution, the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution (the "Bond Resolutions") and the Code, such prepayments may (i) be required to pay regularly scheduled debt service to the extent a series of the Bonds was based upon an assumed prepayment level; (ii) be used to redeem Bonds of the related series; (iii) be used to redeem Bonds of any series; or (iv) be recycled into additional Program Loans. Further, prepayments attributable to the Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds, or other Bonds, or portions thereof, may or will be applied to redeem Series Bonds as described herein under "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds," "– Special Mandatory Redemption of Subseries B-5 Bonds," "- Special Redemption of the Series Bonds, including Cross Calls" and "– Mandatory Redemption – 10-Year Rule".

THDA Redemption Practices

The General Resolution and the Bond Resolutions specify when THDA is required to redeem Bonds and when THDA may elect to redeem Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds."

To the extent THDA has discretion to redeem Bonds and select the maturities and Issues to be redeemed, THDA's general redemption policy had been to first redeem those Bonds bearing the highest interest rate; however, due to universal cap implications and economic decisions by THDA, THDA's current general redemption policy is to call term bonds on a pro-rata basis within bond issues or to redeem the highest coupon serial bonds where doing so would reduce debt service requirements under the Resolution when possible. Adherence to either policy may be affected by a series of factors including, but not limited to, (i) certain restrictions or limitations imposed by the Code including, but not limited to, 10-year rule requirements and universal cap considerations; (ii) certain limitations or restrictions imposed by the General Resolution and/or the Bond Resolutions including, but not limited to, redemption provisions; (iii) economic considerations; (iv) cash flow requirements; and (v) the amount of prepayments and other monies available to THDA for optional redemption of Bonds.

These factors are regularly considered in determining which Bonds may be selected for redemption. No assumptions or representations can be made as to how or which of these factors or whether any other factors will affect THDA's determination, from time to time, regarding particular Bonds selected for redemption.

Payment of Program Expenses

THDA expects to pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees and certain Program Expenses, including ongoing Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs, Operating Fees and Capital Replacement Fees, and other similar costs, from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund. In preparing the Projected Cash Flow Statement, THDA has assumed that an amount equal to 0.20% of the outstanding principal amount of Programs Loans financed under the General Resolution is withdrawn annually for the payment of Program Expenses. To the extent funds are available therefor, THDA currently expects to continue to pay other Program Expenses and other operating and administrative costs and expenses of THDA from the Housing Program Fund, a fund of THDA created in 1988 that is not subject to the lien of the Resolution. To the extent funds are not available from the Housing Program Fund, THDA expects to pay Program Expenses from other THDA resources outside the Resolution. See "THDA – THDA Funds."

Investment Assumptions

Estimated available investment income attributable to the Series Bonds is calculated assuming that (i) existing Investment Securities in the Revenue Fund and the Bond Reserve Fund pay scheduled interest and principal payments until the earlier of their call date or maturity date; (ii) proceeds of Investment Securities and other receipts in the Revenue Fund are invested at 0% per annum until December 23, 2019, 1% until December 23, 2026, and 2% until the Series Bonds are fully redeemed; and (iii) funds on deposit in the Issue 2011-C/Subseries B-5 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund prior to origination of Program Loans, are invested at a rate of 0% per annum.

There can be no assurance that the Investment Securities will provide the investment income projected. If THDA experiences losses or delays in payments on the Investment Securities, there may be insufficient funds to make payments of principal and interest on the Series Bonds when scheduled.

Average Life of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds

The term "weighted average life" refers to the average amount of time that will elapse from the date of issuance of a security until each dollar of principal of such security will be repaid to the investor. The weighted average life of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds will be influenced by the rate at which principal of the Program Loans allocated to the Series Bonds is repaid. Principal payments of Program Loans may be in the form of scheduled amortization or prepayments (for this purpose, the term "prepayment" includes prepayments and liquidations due to default or other dispositions of the Program Loans, including payments on FHA mortgage insurance, VA guarantees, and private mortgage insurance policies). Prepayments on mortgage loans are commonly measured by a prepayment standard or model. The model used in the following discussion is the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association (formerly known as the Public Security Association ("PSA")) prepayment standard or model (commonly referred to as the "PSA Prepayment Model").

The PSA Prepayment Model is based on an assumed rate of prepayment each month of the then unpaid principal balance of a pool of mortgage loans. The PSA Prepayment Model starts with 0.2% annualized prepayment rate in the first month, increases the prepayment rate by 0.2% in each succeeding month until the thirtieth month (when a 6.0% annualized prepayment rate is reached) and then assumes a constant prepayment rate of 6.0% per annum of the unpaid principal balance for the remaining life of the mortgage loans.

Prepayment speeds are commonly referred to as a percentage of the PSA Prepayment Model. For instance, "0% PSA" assumes no prepayments of principal on the Program Loans. "25% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-quarter as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "50% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-half as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "75% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay three-quarters as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "100% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "150% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate 1.50 times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment

Model. “200% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate twice as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “300% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate three times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “400% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate four times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. “500% PSA” assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate five times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model.

There is no assurance, however, that prepayment of the principal on Program Loans will conform to any particular level of the PSA Prepayment Model. The rate of principal payment on pools of mortgage loans is influenced by a variety of economic, geographic, social and other factors, including the level of mortgage loan interest rates, the rate at which homeowners sell their homes or default on their mortgage loans and changes in mortgagors’ housing needs, job transfers, unemployment and mortgagors’ net equity in the mortgage properties. In general, if prevailing interest rates fall significantly, the Program Loans are likely to be subject to higher prepayment rates than if prevailing rates remain at or above the interest rates on the Program Loans. As homeowners move or default on their mortgage loans, the houses are generally sold and the mortgage loan prepaid, although under certain circumstances, the mortgage loans may be assumed by a new buyer. Because of the foregoing influences upon prepayments and since the rate of prepayment of principal of Bonds will depend on the rate of repayment (including prepayments) of the Program Loans, the full repayment of any Bonds is likely to occur earlier, and could occur significantly earlier, than its stated maturity.

The Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Series Bonds may be terminated prior to final maturity as a result of prepayment, default, sale, condemnation, casualty loss or noncompliance. In addition, matters discussed under “Changes in Federal or State Law” above could have an effect on terminations. Consequently, it is impossible to predict the timing of the repayment of principal of the Program Loans allocable to the Series Bonds and hence the weighted average life of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds. THDA has provided for the redemption of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds—Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds”, and the weighted average lives of the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds set forth below have been calculated based upon various assumptions, including assumptions that (i) 100% of the money deposited in the Issue 2011-C/Subseries B-5 Subaccount of the Loan Fund is applied to finance Program Loans, (ii) Excess 2011-C Principal Payments will be used to redeem Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds only on Interest Payment Dates, and (iii) the Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds will be redeemed only in Planned Amortization Amounts as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Series Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of Issue 2011-C PAC Bonds” and will not otherwise be redeemed in whole or in part. There can be no assurance that such assumptions will in fact prove accurate.

(1) Portions of such Bonds were previously converted and redesignated as Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-2, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3 and Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4. The remainder of such Bonds is being converted and redesignated as the Subseries B-5 Bonds in connection with the Issue 2011-C Bonds offered hereunder.

(2) Variable rate, taxable. See "NEW ISSUE BOND PROGRAM."

Origination Experience

THDA's experience from December 23, 2009, to August 31, 2011, regarding origination of Program Loans[1] from lendable proceeds of Bonds issued since December 23, 2009, is shown in the following table:

Issue of Bonds	Lendable Proceeds	Program Loans Financed[2] as of August 31, 2011 Amount	%	Weighted Average Mortgage Interest Rate
2009-A	$ 98,833,984	$ 98,833,984	100.00%	5.38%

(1) See "HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS—Description of Program Loans" for more information about Program Loans.

(2) Only Program Loans that have closed are included. Program Loans for which THDA has issued commitments and Transferred Loans are not included.

(3) As of September 26, 2011, THDA has issued commitments for Program Loans in the aggregate principal amount of approximately $64,000,000. Of this amount, approximately $43,400,000 of Program Loans have been purchased. No assurance can be provided that all of such commitments will result in Program Loans to be purchased.

(4) Excludes Transferred Loans.

In order to comply with the Code, certain Bonds issued by THDA resulted in the creation of pools of lendable proceeds which must be originated at very low or 0% interest to achieve yield compliance on such Bonds. The currently available amount of such pools of lendable proceeds, on an aggregate basis, is approximately $12,515,000 as of August 31, 2011. THDA intends to use such amounts, from time to time, to finance Program Loans on a blended basis, or at 0% interest, with the lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds or current or future Bonds to reduce interest rates on various types of Program Loans as determined by THDA.

HOUSING FINANCE PROGRAM LOANS

Description of Program Loans

General

THDA generally offers a primary loan program and may, from time to time, offer certain special loan programs. THDA Household Income Limits for all loan programs have typically been more restrictive than those permitted under the Code. THDA Acquisition Cost Limits are set in compliance with Code requirements. Household Income Limits and Acquisition Cost Limits may be further restricted for certain special loan programs. The current THDA Acquisition Cost Limit is $200,160 for all counties except those counties in the Nashville Metropolitan Statistical Area (“MSA”). The THDA Acquisition Cost Limit is $226,100 for those counties in the Nashville MSA. The THDA Household Income Limits range from $54,480 to $92,680 depending on household size and geographic location. See Appendix G for a description of Program Loan Procedures related to Code requirements.

THDA currently offers Homeownership Choices as its primary loan program. A brief description of this loan program, and the loan types available thereunder, together with a description of certain loan programs previously available follows.

Effective April 15, 2009, THDA imposed certain underwriting changes that apply to Program Loans made after that date. The changes include (i) a minimum credit score of 620 for all borrowers; (ii) no manual underwriting; and (iii) a required monthly debt to income ratio that does not exceed 45%. THDA may, from time to time, initiate certain special limited programs for which some of these requirements may be waived.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

Homeownership Choices

The Homeownership Choices Program includes Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans, with choice of loan type left to the borrower. Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans are thirty year, fixed interest rate loans, fully amortized, with full documentation, and secured by a first lien on the property purchased. Interest rates for each type of Program Loan are established at rates which result in a blended yield on such Program Loans not in excess of 1.125% above the yield on the related issue of Bonds. As of September 1, 2011, the current interest rate for Great Rate Program Loans is 3.95%, the current interest rate for the Great Advantage Program Loans is 4.25% and the current interest rate for Great Start Program Loans is 4.55%.

An amount equal to 4% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Start Program Loans. An amount equal to 2% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Advantage Program Loans. THDA finances this downpayment and closing cost assistance from excess revenues outside the General Resolution and retains a portion of the interest collected on Great Start Program Loans and Great Advantage Program Loans to reimburse itself for the amount of this assistance. All other THDA Program Loan requirements remain applicable.

See Appendix B for a summary of the mortgage insurance or guarantee programs applicable to these Program Loans.

Housing Finance Program Portfolio Data

General

As of August 31, 2011 (unaudited), 4,784 Program Loans for single-family owner-occupied housing having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $471,357,585 were outstanding under the General Resolution. These Program Loans had an approximate remaining weighted average maturity of 340.36 months and an approximate weighted average interest rate of 5.20%.

Program Loans By Type of Insurance or Guarantee

The following table summarizes, as of August 31, 2011 (unaudited), the types of insurance or guarantee for the outstanding Program Loans:

Privately Insured Program Loans

Since January 2, 2009, THDA has not purchased conventional, privately insured loans because no private mortgage insurers, since January 2, 2009, have or have had ratings of at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Services, a division of the McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P"). Should any private mortgage insurers regain a rating of at least AA from S&P, THDA will reconsider whether to resume purchasing conventional loans. Notwithstanding the foregoing, certain Transferred Loans are privately insured and are shown under the heading "Privately insured" in the chart above.

Each private mortgage insurer insuring conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans was authorized by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in the State of Tennessee and was approved by THDA. Since June 1994, only private mortgage insurance providers rated at least AA by S&P were permitted to provide private mortgage insurance coverage for conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans. THDA does, however, have conventional, privately insured Program Loans that were made prior to January 2, 2009, outstanding under the Resolution that were insured by private mortgage insurers who are not currently rated at least AA by S&P.

THDA makes no representation regarding the financial condition of any of the private mortgage insurance companies or their ability to make full and timely payment to THDA of claims on Program Loans on which losses are incurred. Recent rating agency reviews of private mortgage insurers may be indicative of some future inability of private mortgage insurers generally to fulfill in full their obligations, if and when required upon a mortgage default, to make timely payments on policies. Any failure to make timely payments on the private mortgage insurance policies may disrupt the flow of revenues available for the payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

As of August 31, 2011 (unaudited), 15 privately insured Program Loans all of which are Transferred Loans, having an aggregate balance of approximately $708,521 were outstanding under the General Resolution as shown below:

Delinquency and Foreclosure Process

For all Program Loans, THDA tracks (i) exceptions to normal, expected monthly payments; (ii) individual Program Loan balances; and (iii) remittances based on automated data received directly from its Servicers. THDA uses this data to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosures. Those Program Loans for which two payment dates have passed with no payment received by the last business day of the month in which the second payment was due are considered 60 to 89 days past due. Those Program Loans for which three or more payment dates have passed with no payments received by the last business day of the month in which the third payment was due are considered 90 or more days past due. The status of Program Loans to borrowers who are in bankruptcy is fixed beginning at the time bankruptcy proceedings commenced. The definitions used by THDA to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosure rates are consistent with those used by the Mortgage Bankers Association of America (“MBA”).

The financial institutions who service Program Loans manage delinquencies by working with borrowers in an attempt to avoid defaults and by sending payment requests to borrowers who are delinquent. THDA supports counseling programs for delinquent as well as prospective borrowers. These counseling services are provided by lenders, non-profit organizations and social service agencies located throughout the State. THDA maintains an inventory of housing counseling services, reviews materials used, and encourages grant recipients to provide counseling.

For information with respect to defaults and foreclosures relating to THDA's Homeownership Program under the 1985 General Resolution, see related Official Statements and quarterly reports on file with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board at www.msrb.org.

Delinquencies and Foreclosures as of August 31, 2011

THDA

Purpose and Organization

THDA is a body, politic and corporate, and a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State. THDA was established in 1973 by the Act for the purpose, among other things, of raising funds through the issuance of its bonds and notes to assure a steady flow of production of new housing units for lower and moderate income persons and families. To carry out its public purposes, THDA has various powers under the Act including, without limitation, powers relating to the issuance of bonds or notes and the financing of residential housing in the State.

THDA is subject to periodic review by the General Assembly to evaluate the necessity for its continued existence. THDA's existence has been continued until June 30, 2014.

Under the Act, THDA may have bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $2,930,000,000. As of August 31, 2011 (unaudited), THDA has bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount of $2,117,170,000, calculated in accordance with the Act.

Board of Directors

THDA is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of THDA. The Act provides that the remaining board members be appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. The Act also provides that board members be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, the First, Second or Third U.S. Congressional District, the Fourth, Fifth or Sixth U.S. Congressional District and the Seventh, Eighth or Ninth U.S. Congressional District and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. Any change in the status or profession of an appointed board member does not affect the position or term of that board member. The Executive Director of THDA serves as Secretary to the board.

Board members (other than ex officio members and the federally required resident member) are appointed for four year terms, serve until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, and receive no compensation except for reimbursement of expenses. Certain board members may be affiliated with institutions which may originate or service Program Loans on behalf of THDA. One of the appointed board members is designated by the Governor to serve as Chairman. The Chairman's term extends until the earlier of the date of expiration of his or her term or a date six months after expiration of the term of the Governor designating such Chairman.

THDA Funds

Statutorily Created Funds

In 1988, the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee (the "State") amended the Act to provide for the creation of the Housing Program Fund, the Housing Program Reserve Fund and the Assets Fund, which funds are financially separate from the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program and any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Housing Program Fund originally contained, among other things, state tax revenue statutorily directed to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a statutorily authorized grant program administered by THDA that is not related to the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program or any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Assets Fund is a segregated fund of THDA that originally contained assets transferred in 1989 from THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) in accordance with its terms, together with related investment earnings. The Housing Program Reserve Fund was created as a reserve for THDA's non-mortgage programs. See Appendix E under the heading "OTHER THDA FINANCINGS" for a description of each of these statutorily created funds. These funds are not pledged as security for the Bonds.

Prior Transfers from THDA

The Constitution of the State requires, for current operations, that expenditures for any fiscal year not exceed the State's revenues and reserves, including the proceeds of any debt obligations, for that year. When faced with budget deficits in the past, the State has called upon THDA and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to THDA:

As of June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 in THDA's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1994-1995.

As of June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from THDA to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1997-1998. The $43,000,000 transferred from THDA to the State General Fund came from the following resources of THDA: (i) $15,459,157 from state tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. In addition, in conjunction with the transfer from the Housing Program Reserve Fund described in clause (ii), the Housing Program Reserve Fund was statutorily abolished.

Amendments to the Act in 1999 and in 2000, temporarily, then permanently, redirected to the State General Fund, all tax revenue previously directed by the Act to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a grant program described above. As a result of the permanent redirection of these state tax revenues, no state tax revenues currently are directed to THDA.

As of June 30, 2002, $35,367,449.26 was transferred from THDA's Assets Fund to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 2001-2002. The remaining balance of the Assets Fund, approximately $1,387,000 of mortgage loans, was not required to be liquidated and the proceeds transferred. THDA subsequently transferred these mortgage loans to the General Fund of the Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) which reduced the balance in the Assets Fund to $0.

No additional resources of THDA have been redirected or transferred to the State General Fund to close out any fiscal year since the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002. See "State Budget" below with respect to these matters for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012.

Payment of THDA Operating Expenses, Including Program Expenses

THDA administers certain federal programs such as the low income housing tax credit program, the Section 8 voucher program and the HOME program and pays operating expenses associated with these programs from administrative fees earned or other fees charged in connection with the administration of these programs. Neither investment earnings from the Assets Fund nor amounts in the General Resolution have been used to pay the operating expenses associated with these programs.

From 1988 to 2002, investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund, as supplemented with investment earnings on other THDA funds, were a primary source for paying THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses, including staff salaries, Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs) and substantially all other expenses associated with the Homeownership Program and the other general bond resolutions and mortgage loan programs of THDA. Investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund were annually transferred by THDA to the Housing Program Fund, from which referenced expenses were paid. Although such investment earnings on amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund no longer exist due to the transfers from the Assets Fund to the State General Fund described above, THDA currently expects to continue to pay Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure cost and other similar costs) and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses from the Housing Program Fund and other available funds under the 1974 General Resolution and the 1985 General Resolution. In the future, however, THDA expects to use more of the amounts available under THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution, for the payment of Program Expenses in addition to the payment of Costs of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs. From this combination of resources, THDA believes it will have sufficient resources to pay Program Expenses and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses. Regardless of THDA's best efforts and in the event of additional transfers, however, THDA could become reliant on State appropriations for the funding of THDA operations. No assurances can be given as to the amount of appropriation that may be available at any time.

State Budget

The State-approved budget for fiscal year 2011-2012 which ends June 30, 2012 (the "FY 2011-2012 Budget") is balanced and includes no redirection or transfer of THDA resources to the State General Fund. The FY 2011-2012 Budget, as adopted by the General Assembly, is based on State revenue growth estimates that reflect 3.35% growth in revenue collections in fiscal year 2011-2012.

For fiscal year 2011-2012, on an accrual basis, September 2011 was the second month in the fiscal year. For the second month of fiscal year 2011-2012, the General Fund was over collected by $4.5 million, and the four other funds that share in State tax revenue collections were under collected by $0.10 million. The total over collection for the two months of fiscal year 2011-2012 was $23.6 million.

If projected State budget needs outstrip actual or projected revenues, the State may seek additional sources of funds or seek to realize program savings through reductions or more efficient delivery of services; however, THDA cannot predict whether or not this will occur or, if it does, what actions may be proposed or eventually taken and what effect, if any, such actions may have on THDA. If action is taken to redirect or transfer THDA resources to the State General Fund, such amounts could include THDA resources that are not pledged to any bonds of THDA, as well as any available excess revenues eligible for withdrawal under THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution. No assurance can be made that the current ratings on the Bonds or other bonds of THDA can be maintained in the event funds are withdrawn from THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution.

Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System

General Information

THDA employees are authorized to participate in the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System ("TCRS"), a defined benefit pension plan, pursuant to Tennessee Code Annotated Section 13-23-115(21). The general administration and responsibility for the proper operation of TCRS are vested in a twenty member Board of Trustees. The Treasury Department, a constitutional office in the legislative branch of state government, is responsible for the administration of TCRS, including the investment of assets in the plan, in accordance with state statute and in accordance with the policies, rules, and regulations established by the Board of Trustees.

The TCRS covers four large groups of public employees; state employees (including THDA employees), higher education employees, teachers, and employees of certain local governments. There are 58,551 active members in TCRS in the state and higher education employee group at June 30, 2011. This total includes 219 employees of THDA who are members of TCRS.

The state of Tennessee is ultimately responsible for the financial obligation of the benefits provided by TCRS to state employees (including THDA employees) and higher education employees to the extent such obligations are not covered by employee contributions and investment earnings. The obligation is funded by employer contributions as determined by an actuarial valuation. Employees in the state and higher education group, including THDA employees, are noncontributory.

By statute, an actuarial valuation of TCRS is to be conducted at least once in each two year period. The purpose of the actuarial valuation is to determine the financial position of the plan and to determine the appropriate employer contribution rate. By practice, an actuarial valuation is performed every other year. The last valuation was effective July 1, 2009. The next valuation was effective July 1, 2011, and the results should be available in late December 2011.

Actuarial

At June 30, 2009, the date of the latest actuarial valuation, the unfunded actuarial liability when based on the actuarial value of assets was $2.719 billion, resulting in a funded ratio of 90.6%. The unfunded actuarial liability would have been $7.108 billion if based on the market value of assets. The employer contribution rate, as determined by an actuarial valuation, includes funding for the normal cost, the accrued liability cost, and the TCRS administrative cost.

THDA Employer Contributions to TCRS

For THDA, the employer contribution rate, stated as a percentage of salary, for the period beginning July 1, 2011, and ending June 30, 2012, is 14.91% based on the actuarial valuation effective July 1, 2009. The July 1, 2011, actuarial valuation will establish the employer contribution rate for the two year period beginning July 1, 2012, and ending June 30, 2014. The results of the 2011 valuation should be available in late December of 2011.

A history of THDA's contributions to TCRS is reflected in the following table:

2012	14.91%	$12,151,100*	$1,811,729*	1.36%
2011	14.91%	10,593,944	1,585,654	1.25
2010	13.02%	9,956,646	1,295,272	1.03
2009	13.02%	9,267,262	1,201,303	0.98
2008	13.66%	9,602,067	1,297,298	1.02
2007	13.58%	8,644,241	1,175,459	0.96

*Estimated

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2011, the salary of THDA employees totaled $10,593,944, which represents 0.43% of the $2.510 billion of salary for all state and higher education employees in TCRS.

It is anticipated that there will be upward pressure on the employer contribution rate in future actuarial valuations as deferred market losses that have been actuarially smoothed are recognized over the next ten years.

GASB Exposure Draft Amending Statement 27

The Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) has issued an exposure draft amending GASB statement number 27 relative to accounting and reporting for pensions. If adopted as proposed, it would separate pension accounting from pension funding, which heretofore have been tied together. The amendment proposes a methodology for measuring pension expense to be presented in the employer's financial statements. Moreover, the amendment proposes a methodology for measuring the pension liability to be presented in the employer's financial statement. No prediction can be made as to whether and in what form it might be adopted and as to any actual effects. However, financial statement presentation will not affect the pension funding methodologies described herein.

Other Post-Employment Benefits

Certain Governmental Accounting Standards Board ("GASB") GASB Statements (nos. 43 and 45) provide accounting and financial reporting requirements for retiree healthcare plans and employer participants, commonly known as Other Post-Employment Benefits ("OPEB"). To date, the State has reported OPEB costs in the aggregate for all State employees. The State received an actuarial study as of July 1, 2009, which was updated as of July 1, 2010, that includes OPEB costs attributable to the State and, separately, for certain of its component units (including THDA) that are required to participate in the State's retirement and benefit plans. The study, which used a projected unit credit actuarial cost method, indicates that the total unfunded actuarial liability of THDA is approximately $3,316,000 and the annual required contribution for THDA is approximately $358,000. The annual required contribution consists of the normal cost (the portion of the actuarial present value of OPEB benefits which is allocated to a valuation year by the actuarial cost method) and an amortization of the unfunded actuarial liability. The report may be reviewed at http://www.tennessee.gov/finance/act/OPEB.html. A new actuarial study is expected to be published in the fall of 2012. The State does not currently expect to fund any actuarially determined OPEB liability, but will continue to use pay-as-you-go funding of actual costs of OPEB liabilities incurred for the fiscal year. The State will charge THDA for these actual costs allocable to THDA's employees, but not for any actuarially determined OPEB liability. The State has the flexibility to adjust the various plan options on an annual basis, and will continue to analyze the cost of the choices available to current employees and retirees and the cost of the choices on the employees, retirees and the State's cash flow to manage these expenditures going forward.

General Resolution Requirements

The General Resolution requires certain tests to be met prior to any withdrawal of funds from the lien of the General Resolution. See Appendix D. In addition, certain tests must also be met prior to any withdrawal of funds under the lien of the 1985 General Resolution or the 1974 General Resolution. THDA funds which are not pledged under the referenced Resolutions can be removed without meeting such tests.

Absence of Interest Rate Swap Transactions

THDA has never entered into an interest rate swap transaction and no such transaction is currently anticipated by THDA.

TAX MATTERS

THDA has included provisions in the Resolution, the Guide for Originating Agents issued by THDA and other relevant documents and has established procedures, including receipt of certain affidavits and warranties from Originating Agents and borrowers (the “Program Documents”) in order to assure compliance with the Program Loan eligibility requirements and other requirements which must be met subsequent to the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and the conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-5 Bonds. Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with applicable federal tax law and, for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. THDA believes that the procedures and documentation requirements established for the purpose of fulfilling this covenant are sufficient to assure that the proceeds of the Series Bonds will be applied in accordance with the requirements of applicable federal tax law so as to assure that interest on the Series Bonds will not be included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes.

Opinion of Bond Counsel

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Bonds will be excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes under existing laws as enacted and construed on the date of the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and conversion and redesignation of the Subseries B-5 Bonds, assuming the accuracy of the certifications of THDA and continuing compliance by THDA with the requirements of the federal tax laws. Interest on the Series Bonds (i) will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, and (ii) is not included in corporations’ calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

Ownership of the Series Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, financial institutions, property and casualty insurance companies, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, certain S corporations with “excess net passive income”, taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred or continued debt to purchase or carry the Series Bonds and taxpayers otherwise eligible to claim the earned income credit. Bond Counsel expresses no opinion as to such collateral tax consequences.

Certain recipients of interest on the Series Bonds may be subject to backup withholding under Section 3406 of the Code, unless the recipient of interest furnishes its taxpayer identification number with the payor of the interest or is otherwise exempt from backup withholding tax.

From time to time, there are legislative proposals in the Congress and in the states that, if enacted, could alter or amend the federal and state tax matters referred to above or adversely affect the market value of the Series Bonds. An example of such legislation is the American Jobs Act of 2011 (S. 1549), proposed by the President and introduced in the Senate on September 13, 2011. If enacted as introduced, a provision of S. 1549 would limit the amount of exclusions (including tax-exempt interest) and deductions available to certain high income taxpayers for taxable years after 2012, and as a result could affect the market price or marketability of the Series Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether or in what form any such proposal might be enacted or whether if enacted it would apply to bonds issued prior to enactment. In addition, regulatory actions are from time to time announced or proposed and litigation is threatened or commenced which, if implemented or concluded in a particular manner, could adversely affect the market value of the Series Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether any such regulatory action will be implemented, how any particular litigation or judicial action will be resolved, or whether the Series Bonds or the market value thereof would be impacted thereby. Purchasers of the Series Bonds should consult their tax advisors regarding any pending or proposed legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation. The opinions to be expressed by Bond Counsel will be based upon existing legislation and regulations as interpreted by relevant judicial and regulatory authorities as of the date of issuance and delivery, or conversion, as applicable, of the Series Bonds and Bond Counsel will express no opinion as of any date subsequent thereto or with respect to any pending legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under the laws of the State of Tennessee as enacted and construed on the date of issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and conversion of Subseries B-5 Bonds, as applicable, interest on the Series Bonds is exempt from income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Series Bonds and interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee.

LEGAL INVESTMENT

The Act provides that the bonds of THDA are securities in which all public officers and bodies of the State and all municipal subdivisions, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on insurance business, all banks, bankers, trust companies, including savings and loan associations, building and loan associations, investment banking companies and other persons carrying on an investment banking business, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of the State, may properly and legally invest in the bonds of THDA with funds, including capital, in their own control or belonging to them.

RATING

Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned the Series Bonds a rating of Aa2. Such rating reflects only the views of the rating agency and an explanation of the criteria for and the significance of such ratings may be obtained from Moody's. THDA has furnished to Moody's certain information and materials with respect to the Series Bonds. Generally, rating agencies base their ratings on such information and materials, and on investigations, studies and assumptions made by the rating agencies. There is no assurance that the rating will continue for any given period of time or that the rating will not be revised or withdrawn entirely, if in the judgment of the rating agency, circumstances so warrant. A downward revision or withdrawal of the rating may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Series Bonds.

DISCLOSURE

Secondary Market Disclosure

THDA is currently disseminating and presently intends to continue to disseminate information relating to its various single-family mortgage revenue bonds in accordance with the quarterly secondary market disclosure project sponsored by the National Council of State Housing Agencies. THDA has filed quarterly reports, beginning with the quarter ending June 30, 1994, with each then nationally recognized municipal securities information repository. THDA also expects that its official statements, which contain audited financial information about THDA, with respect to bonds issued under the General Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, and the 1974 General Resolution will be filed with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (the "MSRB") through its Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA) system if and when bonds are so issued. It is the present intent of THDA to continue making voluntary secondary market disclosure as described above.

Continuing Disclosure Undertaking

In order to comply with the requirements of Rule 15c2-12 (the "Rule") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, without regard to whether such Rule applies to the placement of the Subseries B-5 Bonds, THDA, in the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution and in the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution for the benefit of the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds, agrees to file:

(a) With the MSRB, within 210 days after the end of each THDA fiscal year, a copy of its annual financial statements, prepared as described in "FINANCIAL STATEMENTS" below, and an annual updating of certain information relating to the Program Loans, including, without limitation, information with respect to the outstanding balances of such Program Loans, by mortgage type, and delinquency information, acquisition costs and income limits, and in Appendix E (collectively, "Annual Financial Information") and annual required contributions for employee pension plan and other post-employment benefits to the extent not included in annual financial statements. If unaudited financial statements are provided as part of the Annual Financial Information by the above date, then THDA shall provide, when and if available, a copy of THDA's audited financial statements to the MSRB;

(b) In a timely manner, with (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of the occurrence of any of the following events (if applicable) with respect to the Series Bonds: (i) principal and interest payment delinquencies; (ii) non-payment related defaults, if material; (iii) unscheduled draws on the Bond Reserve Fund reflecting financial difficulties;

(iv) unscheduled draws on credit enhancements, if any, for the Series Bonds, reflecting financial difficulties; (v) substitution of credit or liquidity providers, if any, for the Series Bonds, or their failure to perform; (vi) adverse tax opinions, or material notices of determinations with respect to the tax status of the Series Bonds or other material events affecting the tax-exempt status of the Series Bonds; (vii) modifications to rights of holders of the Series Bonds, if material; (viii) bond calls, if material, and tender offers; (ix) defeasances; (x) release, substitution, or sale of property securing repayment of the Series Bonds, if material; (xi) rating changes; (xii) bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or similar event of the Issuer (which event is considered to occur when any of the following occur: the appointment of a receiver, fiscal agent of similar officer for the Issuer in a proceeding under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or in any other proceeding under state or federal law in which a court or government authority has assumed jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of the Issuer, or if such jurisdiction has been assumed by leaving the existing governing body and officials or officers in possession but subject to the supervision and orders of a court of governmental authority, or the entry of an order confirming a plan of reorganization, arrangement or liquidation by a court or governmental authority having supervision or jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of THDA); (xiii) the consummation of a merger, consolidation, or acquisition involving THDA or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of THDA, other than in the ordinary course of business, the entry into a definitive agreement to undertake such action or the termination of a definitive agreement relating to any such actions, other than pursuant to its terms, if material; and (xiv) appointment of a successor or additional trustee or the change of name of a trustee, if material.

(c) In a timely manner to (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of a failure by THDA to provide the Annual Financial Information set forth in (a) above within the time limit specified above.

THDA may amend the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, with respect to the above agreements, without the consent of the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds (except to the extent required under clause (4)(ii) below), if all of the following conditions are satisfied: (1) such amendment is made in connection with a change in circumstances that arises from a change in legal (including regulatory) requirements, a change in law (including rules or regulations) or in interpretations thereof, or a change in the identity, nature or status of THDA or the type of business conducted thereby; (2) these agreements as so amended would have complied with the requirements of the Rule as of the date of the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, as applicable, after taking into account any amendments or interpretations of the Rule, as well as any change in circumstances; (3) THDA shall have delivered to the Trustee an opinion of counsel, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the same effect as set forth in clause (2) above; (4) either (i) THDA shall deliver to the Trustee an opinion of or determination by a person unaffiliated with THDA (which may include the Trustee or bond counsel), acceptable to THDA and the Trustee, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the effect that the amendment does not materially impair the interests of the holders of the Series Bonds, or (ii) the holders of the Series Bonds consent to the amendment pursuant to the same procedures as are required for amendments to the General Resolution with consent of the holders of Series Bonds pursuant to the General Resolution as in effect on the date of the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution or the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution, as applicable, and (5) THDA shall have delivered copies of such opinion(s) and the amendment to the MRSB.

THDA's obligations under these agreements as set forth in the Issue 2011-C Supplemental Resolution and the Issue 2009-A/B Supplemental Resolution terminate upon a legal defeasance pursuant to the General Resolution, prior redemption or payment in full of all of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and the Issue 2009-B Bonds (including the Subseries B-5 Bonds), respectively. THDA shall give notice of any such termination to the MSRB.

THDA acknowledges that its undertaking pursuant to the Rule described under this heading is intended to be for the benefit for the Beneficial Owners of the Series Bonds whether or not the Rule applies to such Bonds. Breach of this undertaking will not be a default under the Resolution but this undertaking may be enforced by any Beneficial Owner of the Series Bonds exclusively by an action for specific performance. This undertaking shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State, and any suits and actions arising out of this undertaking shall be instituted in a court of competent jurisdiction in the State.

THDA has materially complied with all previous similar Rule undertakings during at least the past five years.

ABSENCE OF MATERIAL LITIGATION

At the time of delivery of and payment for the Series Bonds, a certificate of THDA and the opinion of the General Counsel of THDA will be furnished, dated the date of delivery, to the effect that there is no controversy or litigation of any nature at such time pending or threatened to restrain or enjoin the issuance, sale, execution or delivery of the Series Bonds, or in any way contesting or affecting the validity of the Series Bonds or any proceedings of THDA taken with respect to the issuance or sale thereof or the pledge or application of any moneys or security provided for the payment of the Series Bonds or the existence or powers of THDA.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds is subject to the delivery of the legal opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel with respect to legal matters incident to the authorization, issuance, sale, and delivery of the Issue 2011-C Bonds in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix H. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller, and for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York. Certain legal matters incident to the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds will be passed upon by Kutak Rock LLP.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Appendix A contains the audited financial statements of THDA and supplementary data as of and for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, together with the letter thereon from Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA, Director, Division of State Audit in the Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee. Such audited financial statements and supplementary data are included herein in reliance upon the report thereon of such official. The audited financial statements are audited in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (“GASB”).

UNDERWRITING

Morgan Keegan & Company, Inc., Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated, RBC Capital Markets, LLC, Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Raymond James & Associates, Inc., M.R. Beal & Company and Wiley Bros.—Aintree Capital LLC (collectively, the “Underwriters”) have agreed, subject to certain conditions (including the conversion of the Subseries B-5 Bonds), to purchase Issue 2011-C Bonds from THDA at a purchase price of 100% of the principal amount thereof. The Underwriters will be paid a fee in connection with the purchase of the Issue 2011-C Bonds in an amount equal to $470,950.00. The obligations of the Underwriters to purchase the Issue 2011-C Bonds are subject to certain conditions precedent. The Underwriters will be obligated to purchase all such Issue 2011-C Bonds if any such Issue 2011-C Bonds are purchased. The Underwriters are not acting as placement agents with respect to the Subseries B-5 Bonds and such Subseries B-5 Bonds are not being offered or remarketed hereby.

The Underwriters and their respective affiliates are full service financial institutions engaged in various activities, which may include securities trading, commercial and investment banking, financial advisory, investment management, principal investment, hedging, financing and brokerage activities. Certain of the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may have, from time to time, performed and may in the future perform, various investment banking services for THDA, for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses. In the ordinary course of their various business activities, the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (which may include bank loans and/or credit default swaps) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers and may at any time hold long and short positions in such securities and instruments. Such investment and securities activities may involve securities and instruments of THDA.

Citigroup Inc., parent company of Citigroup Global Markets Inc., an underwriter of the 2011-C Bonds, has entered into a retail brokerage joint venture with Morgan Stanley. As part of the joint venture, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. will distribute municipal securities to retail investors through the financial advisor network of a new broker-dealer, Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC. This distribution arrangement became effective on June 1, 2009. As part of this arrangement, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. will compensate Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC for its selling efforts with respect to the Issue 2011-C Bonds.

M.R. Beal & Company has entered into an agreement (the “Distribution Agreement”) with TD Ameritrade, Inc. for the retail distribution of certain municipal securities offerings, at the original issue prices. Pursuant to the Distribution Agreement (as applicable for this transaction), M.R. Beal & Company will share a portion of its underlying compensation with respect to the transaction with TD Ameritrade, Inc.

MISCELLANEOUS

Any statements in this Official Statement involving matters of opinion or estimates, whether or not expressly so stated, are intended as such and not as representatives of fact. No representation is made that such statements will be realized. All financial and other information presented in this Official Statement has been provided by THDA from its records, except for information expressly attributed to other sources. The presentation of information is intended to show recent historic information, and it is not intended to indicate future or continuing trends in the financial position or other affairs of THDA. No representation is made that past experience, as it might be shown by such financial and other information, will necessarily continue or be repeated in the future. References to and summaries of provisions of the laws of the State or of any other documents referred to in this Official Statement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the complete provisions thereof. This Official Statement is not to be construed as a contract or agreement between THDA and the purchasers or holders of any of the Bonds.

With respect to the Subseries B-5 Bonds, this Official Statement is deemed to be a supplement to the Official Statement and Private Placement Memorandum of THDA dated December 3, 2009, provided in connection with the delivery of the Issue 2009-B Bonds.

The information contained herein is subject to change without notice and no implication should be derived therefrom or from the issuance, as applicable, of the Bonds that there has been no change in the affairs of THDA from the date hereof. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has covenanted to keep proper books of record and account in which full, true and correct entries will be made of all its dealings and transactions under the Resolution and to cause such books to be audited for each fiscal year. The Resolution requires that such books be open to inspection by the holder of any Bond during regular business hours of THDA and that THDA furnish a copy of the auditor's report, when available, upon request of the holder of any outstanding Bond. This Official Statement is submitted in connection with the sale of the securities referred to herein which are proposed to be issued by THDA. It may not be reproduced or used in part, or, as a whole or in part, for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report

September 30, 2011

The Honorable Bill Haslam, Governor
and
Members of the General Assembly
State Capitol
Nashville, Tennessee 37243
and
Members of the Board of Directors
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
and
Mr. Ted Fellman, Executive Director
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
404 James Robertson Parkway, Suite 1200
Nashville, Tennessee 37243

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency, a component unit of the State of Tennessee, as of June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the agency's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements, based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in generally accepted government auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion. Tennessee statutes, in addition to audit responsibilities, entrust certain other responsibilities to the Comptroller of the Treasury. Those responsibilities include serving as a member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. We do not believe that the Comptroller's service in this capacity affected our ability to conduct an independent audit of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency as of June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, and the changes in its financial position and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The management's discussion and analysis and the schedule of funding progress are not required parts of the basic financial statements but are supplementary information required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We have applied certain limited procedures, which consisted principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion on it.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements. The accompanying supplementary information, following the schedule of funding progress, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

In accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards, we will issue a report dated September 30, 2011, on our consideration of the agency's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Sincerely,

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr.

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA
Director

This section of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency's (THDA) annual financial statements presents management's discussion and analysis of THDA's financial performance for the years ended June 30, 2011 and June 30, 2010. This information is being presented to provide additional information regarding the activities of THDA and to meet the reporting and disclosure requirements of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement Number 34, Basic Financial Statements -- and Management's Discussion and Analysis -- for State and Local Governments. This section should be read in conjunction with the Independent Auditor's Report and the audited financial statements and accompanying notes.

INTRODUCTION – THE TENNESSEE HOUSING DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

The mission statement of THDA is "Leading Tennessee Home by creating safe, sound, affordable housing opportunities." THDA's goal is to provide housing assistance to those in need by offering a variety of housing-related programs. One of the primary ways THDA assists Tennesseans is by offering mortgages for first-time homebuyers at below conventional market interest rates. At the close of fiscal year 2011, THDA has originated over 106,000 single-family mortgage loans in its 38-year history, and serves as the master servicer for all active mortgages it funds. In addition to helping homebuyers, THDA administers Section 8 rental assistance programs, including the tenant-based Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program in approximately 74 of Tennessee's 95 counties, as well as the project-based Contract Administration program for approximately 400 contracts throughout all of Tennessee. THDA also administers grant programs, awarded on a competitive annual cycle, for rehabilitation and new construction of owner-occupied units and small rental projects. THDA is also involved in the development and rehabilitation of multifamily rental housing for low-income families by administering the federal Low-Income Housing Tax Credit, which is a competitive process, and by setting aside a portion of bond authority to be allocated to local issuing authorities for specific multifamily developments.

More recently, THDA has administered programs under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), including the Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program (HPRP), the Tax Credit Assistance Program (TCAP), the Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP), and a Low Income Housing Tax Credit exchange program under Section 1602 of the Act.

As established by statute, "The agency shall have a board of directors which shall be responsible for carrying out the powers given to the agency. . ." (Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-105). This board meets regularly on a bi-monthly basis; however, some committees may meet more often as situations dictate.

OVERVIEW OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The basic financial statements include statements of net assets, statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets, statements of cash flows, as well as notes to the financial statements. The statements of net assets provide financial information on the overall financial position of THDA at each year end. The statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets summarize the results of operations over the course of each fiscal year. The statements of cash flows provide relevant information about THDA's cash receipts and cash payments during each fiscal year. The notes to the financial statements provide essential information regarding THDA's significant accounting policies, significant account balances and activities, certain material risks, obligations, commitments, contingencies and subsequent events. THDA's financial statements are presented using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. In addition to the basic financial statements, other supplementary information is included.

THDA is also considered to be a "component unit" for the State of Tennessee, and therefore, its financial information is reported in the State of Tennessee's government-wide Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. This report may be viewed at http://tennessee.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

Unrestricted net assets	2,212	4,300	1,908

- THDA's total net assets increased $1.2 million, or 0.2%, from $518.8 million at June 30, 2010 to $520.0 million at June 30, 2011. While various factors accounted for this change, the most significant factors include a decrease in interest expense, an increase in mortgage interest income, a decrease in the net increase/decrease in the fair value of investments, an increase in other program expenses, and a decrease in federal grant administration fees.

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $3.8 million, or 0.2%, from $2,115.6 million at June 30, 2010 to $2,119.4 million at June 30, 2011. During FY 2011, single-family mortgage loan originations decreased $113.0 million, or 32.8% from $344.1 million in FY 2010 to $231.1 million in FY 2011. Conversely, mortgage loan prepayments (which includes loans in which a foreclosure sale has occurred) increased $0.9 million, or 0.5%, from $179.3 million in FY 2010 to $180.2 million in FY 2011.

- Total liabilities decreased $181.2 million, or 7.6%, from $2,396.2 million at June 30, 2010 to $2,215.0 million at June 30, 2011. The decrease is primarily due to a reduction in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2011 as compared to fiscal year 2010, as well as an increase in the redemption of bonds as compared to fiscal year 2010.

- THDA's total net assets increased $8.8 million, or 1.7%, from $510.0 million at June 30, 2009 to $518.8 million at June 30, 2010. This resulted from operating revenues that exceeded operating expenses.

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $116.2 million, or 5.8%, from $1,999.4 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,115.6 million at June 30, 2010. This increase resulted from mortgage loan originations that exceeded mortgage loan prepayments and repayments.

- Total liabilities increased $346.0 million, or 16.9%, from $2,050.2 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,396.2 million at June 30, 2010. The increase is primarily due to a increase in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2010 as compared to fiscal year 2009, primarily, the issuance of bonds in the Housing Finance Program Bonds Resolution.

Changes in Net Assets. The following table summarizes the changes in revenues, expenses and changes in net assets between fiscal years (expressed in thousands):

	2011	2010	2009
Operating revenues

Change in net assets	$ 1,194	$ 8,789	$ 16,225

2011 to 2010
Total operating revenues decreased $8.1 million from $150.7 million for the year ended June 30, 2010 to $142.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2011. The primary reasons for this decrease are as follows:

- Investment income decreased $8.4 million, or 57.6%, from $14.5 million in 2010 to $6.2 million in 2011. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in the fair value of investments of $4.9 million in FY 2011 as compared to an increase in the fair value of investments of $1.7 million in FY 2010.

- Federal grant administration fees decreased $1.2 million, or 8.1%, from $15.1 million in 2010 to $13.9 million in 2011. This primarily resulted from a decrease in federal administrative fees earned on the Section 8 tenant-based HCV program.

For the year ended June 30, 2011, total operating expenses increased $1.4 million, or 1.1%, from $125.8 million in 2010 to $127.2 million in 2011. The primary reasons for this increase are as follows:

- Interest expense decreased $4.9 million, or 5.2%, from $93.2 million in 2010 to $88.3 million in 2011. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in bonds payable during FY 2011.

- Other program expenses increased $5.4 million, or 84.6%, from $6.4 million in 2010 to $11.9 million in 2011. There were several factors that contributed to this increase, among which were an increase in expenses related to mortgage loan foreclosures and incurring administrative expenses in administering ARRA grants as well as in implementing the Hardest Hit Fund (HHF).

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating revenues decreased $.9 million from $151.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2009, to $150.7 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating expenses increased $2.8 million, or 2.3%, from $123.0 million in 2009 to $125.8 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

While the total net assets for fiscal year 2010 increased $8.8 million from the previous year, the non-monetary change in the fair value of investments contributed $3.8 million toward this increase. When considered without these non-monetary components, net assets would have increased $5.0 million.

DEBT ACTIVITY

Bonds and notes outstanding at June 30 were as follows (expressed in thousands):

	2011	2010	2009
Bonds payable	$ 2,140,486	$ 2,316,748	$ 1,972,561
Notes payable	3,250	3,672	3,250
Total bonds and notes payable	$ 2,143,736	$ 2,320,420	$ 1,975,811

Year Ended June 30, 2011
Total bonds and notes payable decreased $176.7 million, or 7.6%, due primarily to a decrease in the amount of bonds issued as well as an increase in the redemption of bonds as compared to recent fiscal years. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $201.9 million, with activity arising from three bond issues.

Year Ended June 30, 2010
Total bonds and notes payable increased $344.6 million, or 17.4%, due primarily to an increase in the issuance of THDA's bonds. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $551.0 million, with activity arising from four bond issues. During FY 2010, THDA participated in the New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) as established by the United States Treasury Department. Principal redemptions during FY 2010 totaled $203.6 million.

New Issue Bond Program (NIBP)
The New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) provides temporary financing for Housing Finance Agencies (HFAs) to issue new housing bonds to fund new mortgages. The United States Treasury Department will purchase securities of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac backed by these new housing bonds. This will temporarily allow the HFAs to issue an amount of new housing bonds equal to what they would ordinarily be able to issue with the allocations provided them by Congress but are generally unable to issue given the current challenges in housing and related markets.

On December 23, 2009, THDA issued $360 million of bonds under the NIBP, which were $60 million (Bond Issue 2009-A2) and $300 million (Bond Issue 2009-B1). The $300 million 2009-B1 bonds are variable-rate taxable debt, and are to be held in escrow. Upon being placed in escrow, the proceeds from these bonds are re-invested into permissible investments as required by the United States Treasury Department (generally, 28-day Treasury Bills purchased at auction). These bonds are scheduled to be released from escrow, re-designated and be converted to fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds upon the issuance of market bonds within the framework and guidelines of the NIBP.

Subsequently, THDA released, re-designed, and converted escrowed bonds (Bond Issue 2009-B) into fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds as noted below:

Date	Amount	New Bond Issue
June 17, 2010	$ 85,290,000	Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1
October 27, 2010	60,000,000	Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-2

As of June 30, 2011, the amount of bonds remaining in the Issue 2009-B1 escrowed bonds was $94,710.000.

Considering the investment requirements for the NIBP escrowed bonds as established by the United States Treasury Department, the proceeds of these escrowed bonds are presented on the Statements of Net Assets as Non-Current Assets, Restricted Assets, Cash and Cash Equivalents. Bonds issued under the NIBP have been placed in the Housing Finance Program Bonds resolution.

Bond Ratings
For bonds issued under the Mortgage Finance Program, Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2 and Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA.

For bonds issued under the Homeownership Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa1 and S&P has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA+.

For bonds issued under the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2. These bonds are not rated by S&P.

There were no revisions to THDA's bond ratings during FY 2011 or FY 2010.

Debt Limits
In accordance with Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-121, THDA operates under a "debt ceiling" of $2,930,000,000.

GRANT PROGRAMS

During FY 2007 through FY 2009, the General Assembly has appropriated revenue to THDA for grant programs. Likewise, THDA's Board of Directors has allocated additional THDA funds for grants. These funds established a grant program that has been titled by the THDA as the "Tennessee Housing Trust Fund."

The four-level model for funding this grant program includes state appropriations, THDA funds, private sector investment, and matching funds from local grantees. The purpose of this grant program is to serve the needs of low and/or very low income, elderly, and special needs Tennesseans. Funding and uses for the Housing Trust Fund are as follows:

	FY 2011	FY 2010	FY 2009 and Prior	Total
Funding Sources:
THDA	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 18,000,000	$ 30,000,000
State Appropriation	-	-	4,350,000	4,350,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 22,350,000	$ 34,350,000
Approved Uses:
Rural repair program (USDA)	$ 700,000	$ 700,000	$ 2,100,000	$ 3,500,000
Ramp Program (UCP)	-	-	50,000	50,000
Ramp Program	-	-	400,000	400,000
Hsg Modification & Ramp Prg	150,000	150,000	-	300,000
Homebuyer Education Initiative	-	-	300,000	300,000
Emergency Repairs for Elderly	2,000,000	2,000,000	6,000,000	10,000,000
Competitive Grants	3,150,000	3,150,000	13,500,000	19,800,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 22,350,000	$ 34,350,000

In addition to the above funding, local grants could produce an additional $4 million or more funding each year. Also, the Emergency Repairs for the Elderly program and the Competitive Grants have a 50% grantee match requirement.

THDA is seeking additional private sector funding. In addition to the above approved uses, THDA received requests that merit funding. These requests totaled approximately $6 million more than the funds available.

CURRENT MORTGAGE PRODUCTS AND ENVIRONMENT

THDA offers three primary choices for single-family mortgages. The Great Rate mortgage product offers an attractive interest rate loan secured by a first mortgage. The Great Start program offers a loan with an interest rate that is, as of June 30, 2011, 60 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, but provides 4% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance. In addition, THDA introduced the Great Advantage product during fiscal year 2006, which offers a loan with an interest rate that is, as of June 30, 2011, 30 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, and 2% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance.

All loans made or purchased by THDA are fixed-rate mortgages with a maximum loan term of 360 months (30 years), and must conform to insurer / guarantor underwriting guidelines. THDA does not make or purchase adjustable rate mortgages (ARMs), interest-only mortgages, "buy-down" loans, mortgages with a future lump-sum payment due (balloon-type mortgage), or with other similar mortgage terms. THDA does not make or purchase "sub-prime" mortgage loans.

Single-family mortgage loans purchased by THDA with Loan-to-value (LTV) ratios between 78% and 97% must have an acceptable insurer/guarantor, which includes:

- FHA (United States Department of Housing and Urban Development)
- VA (Veterans Administration Guaranty Program)
- USDA/RD (the United States Department of Agriculture - Rural Development, formerly Farmers Home Administration)
- Private mortgage insurance

THDA will accept private mortgage insurance provided from private mortgage insurers, who are licensed by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in Tennessee; and are rated at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Group. THDA will allow privately insured loans underwritten using nationally accepted underwriting guidelines established by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. These loans must be approved through an automated underwriting system such as Desktop Underwriter or Loan Prospector with no expanded approvals. Such privately insured mortgage loans may have loan-to-value ratios up to and including 97% of the lesser of the purchase price or the appraised value.

Loans with a 78% LTV or lower do not require mortgage insurance.

A detailed chart of these mortgage loan products and primary mortgage loan terms may be obtained from THDA's internet site at http://www.thda.org/singlefamily/hochoices.html.

More recently, media attention has focused on mortgage loan delinquencies and foreclosures. For the past several years, THDA has closely monitored its loan portfolio for delinquency and foreclosures. This monitoring has included analysis based on loan type (Great Rate, Great Start, and Great Advantage), insurer/guarantor (FHA, VA, RECD, private mortgage insurer), mortgage loan servicer, down-payment assistance, and other factors as deemed necessary.

As of June 30, 2011, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	26,725	521	39,122,105	1.95%
90+ Days Past Due	26,725	1,085	81,167,263	4.06%
In Foreclosure	26,725	308	24,127,169	1.15%

As of June 30, 2010, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	26,756	657	46,015,708	2.46%
90+ Days Past Due	26,756	1,293	95,704,596	4.83%
In Foreclosure	26,756	136	10,466,566	0.51%

Note: Percentage is calculated by dividing the "Number of Loans in Status" by the "Total Number of Loans Serviced."

ECONOMIC FACTORS

In accordance with THDA's investment policy, THDA typically invests in short-term collateralized repurchase agreements, as well as short-term and long-term fixed-rate debt securities from federal agencies. As a bench-mark, THDA uses the one-, three-, and five year Constant Maturity Treasury (CMT) rates as established by the United States Treasury.

The continuation of relatively low interest rates from a historic perspective increased the likelihood of negative arbitrage, in which the interest rates on THDA's bond issues exceeds the current investment interest rates. THDA monitors prepayments and bond investment yields, and seeks to reduce negative arbitrage by calling bonds with the funds from prepayments.

CONTACTING THDA's FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

This financial report is designed to provide THDA's stakeholders with a general overview of THDA's finances and to show accountability for the funds that it receives, invests, and expends. NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Reporting Entity

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency was created by an act of the legislature (Chapter 241, Public Acts, 1973). The act was approved by the Governor on May 14, 1973. The enabling legislation can be found in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 13-23-101 et seq. The purpose of the agency is to improve housing and living conditions for lower- and moderate-income persons and families in Tennessee by making loans and mortgages to qualified sponsors, builders, developers, and purchasers of low- and moderate-income family dwellings.

The agency is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of the Agency. The remaining members are appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. Board members are to be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, and the three grand divisions of the state and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. One member of the board is a resident board member as required by Section 505 of the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998 and 24 CFR Part 964, Subpart E.

In order to accomplish its objectives, the agency is authorized to raise funds through the issuance of bonds and notes. Bonds and notes issued by the agency are not general obligations of the State of Tennessee or any of its political subdivisions, and neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state or any political subdivision is pledged for payment of the principal or interest on such bonds or notes.

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency is a component unit of the State of Tennessee. Although the agency is a separate legal entity, the state appoints a majority of its governing body, and approves its operating budget. The agency is discretely presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report.

b. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB). The agency generally follows private-sector standards of accounting and financial reporting issued prior to December 1, 1989, to the extent that these standards do not conflict with or contradict guidance of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. The agency also has the option of following subsequent private-sector guidance subject to this same limitation. The agency has elected not to follow subsequent private-sector guidance. Certain accounting policies and procedures are stipulated in the agency's Mortgage Finance Program, Single Family Program, Homeownership Program, and Housing Finance Program bond resolutions and the Single Family Mortgage Notes trust indenture. The agency follows these procedures in establishing and maintaining the various funds and accounts for its programs. Revenues and expenses applicable to each fund and account are recorded therein.

c. Basis of Accounting and Measurement Focus

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. Under this basis, revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recorded when liabilities are incurred. When both restricted and unrestricted resources are available for use, generally it is the agency's policy to use the restricted resources first.

d. Capital Assets

Capital assets, which include furniture and office equipment, are defined by the agency as assets with an initial, individual cost of $5,000 or more.

Capital assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives of the assets.

Description	Estimated Life
Furniture	10 years
Computer equipment	3 years

e. Restricted Assets

Restricted assets are comprised of the Debt Service Reserve Funds and the New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) 2009-B escrowed bond investments.

The bond resolutions require the agency to establish a Debt Service Reserve Fund for each bond issue. The bond resolutions require that if the Debt Service and Expense Funds or the Revenue Funds of a bond issue are not sufficient to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund requirements of that issue that funds be transferred from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to cover any deficiency.

The NIBP 2009-B escrowed bond investments are restricted for use in the 2009 resolution. These invested funds are restricted to be released, converted and blended with market rate bonds.

f. Bond Issuance Costs and Refunding Costs

1. Bond Issuance Costs: The agency amortizes bond issuance costs using the interest method over the life of the related bond issue. Unamortized bond issuance costs are reported as deferred charges.

2. Bond Refunding Costs: The agency amortizes bond refunding costs using the straight-line method. Bonds payable is reported net of the deferred amount on refundings.

3. Bond Premiums and Discounts: Bond premiums and discounts are deferred and amortized over the life of the bonds using the interest method. Bonds payable are reported net of the applicable unamortized bond premium or discount.

g. Cash and Cash Equivalents

In addition to demand deposits, petty cash, and deposits in the pooled investment fund administered by the State Treasurer, this classification includes short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

h. Investments

The agency has established guidelines for its funds to meet the requirements of the bond resolutions and to comply with the statutes of the State of Tennessee. Permitted investments include the following: direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury and U.S. Agencies; obligations guaranteed by the U.S.; public housing bonds secured by contracts with the U.S.; direct and general obligations of the State of Tennessee or obligations guaranteed by the State of Tennessee; obligations of other states or instrumentalities thereof which are rated in either of the two highest rating categories by Moody's Investor Service or Standard & Poor's Corporation; interest bearing time or demand deposits; collateralized certificates of deposit in authorized state depositories; and repurchase agreements collateralized by authorized securities.

Investments are stated at fair value, except for repurchase agreements which are reported at cost.

i. Accrual of Interest Income

Interest on first mortgage loans receivable and investment securities is credited to income as earned and classified as interest receivable.

j. Mortgages

Mortgages are carried at their original amount less principal collected.

k. Operating Revenues and Expenses

The agency was created with the authority to issue bonds to the investing public in order to create a flow of private capital through the agency into mortgage loans to certain qualified individuals and qualified housing sponsors. The agency's primary operation is to borrow funds in the bond market and issue those funds to make single-family and multi-family loans. The primary operating revenue is the interest income on outstanding mortgages and the investment income from proceeds of bonds. The primary operating expense of the agency is the interest expense on bonds outstanding.

NOTE 2. DEPOSITS AND INVESTMENTS

a. Deposits

Custodial Credit Risk. Custodial credit risk for deposits is the risk that in the event of a bank failure, the agency's deposits may not be returned to it.

The laws of the State of Tennessee require that collateral be pledged to secure all uninsured deposits. The agency's bond resolutions require deposits to be fully secured.

The agency's deposits are in financial institutions which participate in the bank collateral pool administered by the State Treasurer, except as noted below. The securities pledged to protect these accounts are pledged in the aggregate rather than against each individual account. The members of the pool may be required by agreement to pay an assessment to cover any deficiency. Under this additional assessment agreement, public fund accounts covered by the pool are considered to be insured for purposes of credit risk disclosure.

At June 30, 2011, the bank balance was $6,806,625. At June 30, 2010, the bank balance was $4,327,770. All bank balances at June 30, 2011 were insured, except the Bank of New York Mellon (BNYM) accounts. All bank balances at June 30, 2010 were insured. U.S. Department of the Treasury required the funds for the Hardest Hit Fund program to be deposited in the BNYM accounts. THDA has no obligation to ensure that the funds in the accounts are collateralized should the amount of money in the account be in excess of the FDIC insurance coverage of $250,000. THDA will not be responsible for a loss of the funds due to the bank's failure and the lack of adequate collateral. Of the bank balance at June 30, 2011, $4,304,256 was in the BNYM. Of this amount, $4,054,256 was above the FDIC insurance coverage. The agency has deposits in the State Pooled Investment Fund administered by the State Treasurer. The fund is not rated by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization. The fund's investment policy and required risk disclosures are presented in the State of Tennessee Treasurer's Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/treasury.

b. Investments

As stated in the agency's investment policy, the "prudent man rule" shall be the standard of prudence used by all officials responsible for the investment of assets. Investments are made as a prudent person would be expected to act in the management of their own affairs. That would be to consider the safety of capital and the probability of income, while avoiding speculative investments.

The agency's investment policy states that the agency portfolios will be diversified in order to reduce the risk of loss resulting from over concentration of assets in a specific maturity, a specific issuer, or a specific class of securities. The agency may invest one hundred percent (100%) of its portfolio in U.S. government securities due to the absence of credit risk. A minimum of five percent (5%) of the par value of total investments must mature within five years. No more than fifty percent (50%) of the par value of the combined portfolios can be invested in maturities greater than fifteen (15) years without approval of the Bond Finance Committee.

Portfolio maturities shall be staggered in a way that avoids undue concentrations of assets in a specific maturity sector. Maturities shall be selected which provide for stability of income and reasonable liquidity. It is the intent of this policy that sufficient investments be scheduled to mature to provide for the required liquidity for debt service and other expenditures per resolution requirements.

Interest Rate Risk. Interest Rate Risk is the risk that changes in interest rates of debt investments will adversely affect the fair value of an investment.

Duration is a measure of a debt investment's exposure to fair value changes arising from changing interest rates. It uses the present value of cash flows, weighted for those cash flows as a percentage of the investment's full price.

Concentration of Credit Risk. Concentration of credit risk is the risk of loss attributed to the magnitude of the agency's investment in a single issuer.

More than five percent of the agency's investments are invested in the following single issuers:

Issuer	June 30, 2011 Fair Value	June 30, 2011 % of Portfolio	June 30, 2010 Fair Value	June 30, 2010 % of Portfolio

[1] This column includes obligations of the U.S. government or obligations explicitly guaranteed by the U.S. government. As stated in GASB Statement 40, these are not considered to have credit risk.
[2] A-1+ is the highest rating category for short-term debt.
[3] Includes securities that are implicitly guaranteed by the U.S. government, but are not rated by Standard & Poor's or Moody's.

NOTE 3. WARRANTS / WIRES PAYABLE

This amount includes the sum of warrants and wires initiated by the agency at year-end in excess of the agency's balance in the State Pooled Investment Fund that have not completely processed through the banking system. These warrants and wires are primarily for grant payments for the Section 8 grant programs and will be reimbursed by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The Housing Finance Program Bonds were established on December 23, 2009, to allow the agency to participate in the U.S. Department of Treasury New Issue Bond Program (NIBP), which was created to assist state and local housing finance agencies in acquiring cost-effective mortgage loan capital. THDA may release funds from issue 2009-B up to six times before December 31, 2011.

The first release and conversion from 2009-B was on June 17, 2010, in the amount of $85,290,000. The $85,290,000 was blended with the market rate 2010-A bonds in the amount of $74,710,000 for a total of $160,000,000.

The second release and conversion from 2009-B was on November 10, 2010, in the amount of $60,000,000. The $60,000,000 was blended with the market rate 2010-B bonds in the amount of $40,000,000 for a total of $100,000,000.

The third release and conversion from 2009-B was on April 14, 2011, in the amount of $60,000,000. The $60,000,000 was blended with the market rate 2011-A bonds in the amount of $40,000,000 for a total of $100,000,000.

The interest rate on the 2009-B bonds is tied to the investment rate on proceeds of the bonds. Proceeds are required to be invested in U.S. Treasury securities maturing in 28 days or less.

b. Debt Service Requirements

Debt service requirements to maturity at June 30, 2011 are as follows (expressed in thousands):

For the Year(s) Ending June 30	Principal	Interest	Total Requirements
2012	$78,021	$90,083	$168,104
2013	50,000	89,091	139,091
2014	50,865	87,530	138,395
2015	51,550	85,803	137,353
2016	53,635	83,911	137,546
2017 – 2021	231,488	389,628	621,116
2022 – 2026	332,608	333,122	665,730

2032 – 2036	320,252	196,089	516,341
2037 – 2041	432,373	84,174	516,547
2042	299,770	3,743	303,513
Total	$2,146,560	$1,700,644	$3,847,204

The debt principal in the preceding table is $6,074,000 greater than that presented in the accompanying financial statements. This amount, which is a deduction from bonds payable for the deferred amount on refundings, is not reflected in the above presentation.

c. Redemption of Bonds and Notes

During the year ended June 30, 2011, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $12,260,000, in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $317,390,000 and in the Housing Finance Program in the amount of $5,780,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $12,214,245, $321,059,321 and $5,768,558. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $45,755 and to the Housing Finance Program of $11,442 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $3,669,321.

On October 13, 2010, the agency issued $120,700,000 in Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2010-1. On November 1, 2010, the agency used $99,835,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $99,835,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $99,371,651. The refunding resulted in a difference of $463,349 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $22,227,781 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $10,476,679.

During the year ended June 30, 2010, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $10,695,000 and in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $168,625,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $10,651,667 and $170,939,715. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $43,333 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,314,715.

On June 17, 2010, the agency issued $74,710,000 in Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2010-A. On June 17, 2010, the agency used $20,595,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $20,595,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $20,478,986. The refunding resulted in a difference of $116,014 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $5,910,703 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $2,812,047.

e. Notes Issued and Outstanding

The Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture, dated December 1, 1997 (the “Trust Indenture”), provided for the issuance of agency drawdown notes with a maximum aggregate principal amount of $65,000,000. On April 1, 1999, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $200,000,000. On December 1, 2002, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $450,000,000.

The notes bear interest, payable on the second Thursday of each succeeding month with respect to the principal amount drawn down by the agency. The interest rate is equal to ninety-nine percent (99%) of the bond equivalent yield as determined on the related rate date.

In October 2008, the Internal Revenue Service issued Notice 2008-88, amending Notice 2008-41. With an effective date of March 28, 2008, this notice provided temporary relief to issuers by allowing them to purchase their own bonds and commercial paper without causing an extinguishment of the debt for tax purposes. Therefore, on October 9, 2008, due to unstable credit markets, the Tennessee Housing Development Agency purchased at par $83,050,000 of its Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2009, after which the notes were to be available to reissue. Due to continuing unstable credit markets, on December 31, 2009, the Internal Revenue Service extended the amount of time the agency was allowed to hold its outstanding notes purchased from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2010; however, the notes matured on August 12, 2010. In accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement 76 Paragraph 3, the outstanding notes are not recorded for financial reporting purposes.

Promissory Note. On December 22, 2008, the agency borrowed $3,250,000 for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Interest is being charged quarterly at 3% with the principal maturing on December 22, 2011. On August 3, 2009, the agency borrowed $500,000 at 3% for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Principal and interest are paid monthly with the principal maturing on August 4, 2012, however the note was paid off on June 17, 2011.

The activity of the promissory note is also included in the summary of long-term liability activity in part d. of this note.

NOTE 5. RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

The amount shown on the Statement of Net Assets as Restricted for Single Family Bond Programs is contractually pledged, under the bond resolutions of the agency, to the owners of the bonds issued under such bond resolutions. As pledged assets, the contractual provisions of the bond resolutions restrict the use of such assets. However, the assets may be removed from the lien of the bond resolutions if certain parity tests, as established by the respective bond resolutions, are satisfied. Assets removed from the lien of the respective bond resolutions may be used for other purposes.

The amount shown as Restricted for Grant Programs represents unexpended grant money that has been awarded to grantees through various grant programs administered by the agency.

The amount shown as Restricted for Homebuyers Revolving Loan Program represents the amount of net assets that are restricted for a pilot program that funds zero interest loans for down payment and closing costs. The use of these net assets is restricted under legislation enacted in fiscal year 1986.

NOTE 6. DEFINED BENEFIT PENSION PLAN

The agency contributes to the State Employees, Teachers, and Higher Education Employees Pension Plan (SETHEEPP), a cost-sharing, multiple-employer defined benefit pension plan administered by the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS). TCRS provides retirement, death, and disability benefits as well as annual cost-of-living adjustments to plan members and their beneficiaries. Title 8, Chapters 34-37, Tennessee Code Annotated, establishes benefit provisions. State statutes are amended by the Tennessee General Assembly.

The TCRS issues a publicly available financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information for SETHEEPP. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/treasury/tcrs.

Plan members are noncontributory. The agency is required to contribute at an actuarially determined rate. The current rate is 14.91% of annual covered payroll. Contribution requirements for the agency are established and may be amended by the TCRS' Board of Trustees. The agency's contributions to TCRS for the years ended June 30, 2011, 2010, and 2009, were $1,585,654, $1,295,272, and $1,201,303. Those contributions met the required contributions for each year.

NOTE 7. PROVISIONS FOR MORTGAGE LOAN LOSSES

Most mortgage loans are insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or an approved private mortgage insurance company, or are guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs. The agency's Board of Directors has established a loan loss reserve of $750,000 as a provision for potential loan losses arising from participation in the Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) Loan Guarantee Program. An additional $232,000 was established as a loan loss reserve against potential losses on loans not specifically covered under one of the above programs, and $500,000 was established as a loan loss reserve for self-insurance of second mortgages.

Since the amount of net assets restricted for single family bond programs exceeds the amounts necessary for these loan loss reserves, it is not necessary to designate unrestricted net assets for this purpose.

NOTE 8. RISK MANAGEMENT

a. Commercial Insurance

The agency carries commercial insurance for risks of loss related to employee dishonesty; general liability protection; and theft of, damage to, or destruction of real and personal property. Settled claims resulting from these risks have not exceeded commercial insurance coverage in any of the past three fiscal years.

b. Risk Management Fund

The state has set aside assets for claim settlement in an internal service fund, the Risk Management Fund. This fund services all claims for risk of loss to which the state is exposed, including general liability, automobile liability, professional malpractice, and workers' compensation. The agency participates in the Risk Management Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on a percentage of the agency's expected loss costs which include both experience and exposures. This charge considers recent trends in actual claims experience of the state as a whole. An actuarial valuation is performed as of each fiscal year-end to determine the fund liability and premium allocation. Information regarding the determination of the claims liabilities and the changes in the balances of the claims liabilities for the years ended June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, are presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. Since the agency participates in the Risk Management Fund, it is subject to the liability limitations under the provisions of the Tennessee Claims Commission Act, Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 9-8-101 et seq. Liability for negligence of the agency for bodily injury and property damage is limited to $300,000 per person and $1,000,000 per occurrence. The limits of liability under workers’ compensation are set forth in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 50-6-101 et seq. Claims are paid through the state’s Risk Management Fund.

c. Employee Group Insurance Fund

The state has also set aside assets in the Employee Group Insurance Fund, an internal service fund, to provide a program of health insurance coverage for the employees of the state with the risk retained by the state. The agency participates in the Employee Group Insurance Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on estimates of the ultimate cost of claims, including the cost of claims that have been reported but not settled and of claims that have been incurred but not reported. Employees and providers have 13 months to file medical claims.

NOTE 9. OTHER POSTEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS (OPEB)

Healthcare is the only “other postemployment benefit” (OPEB) provided to employees. The State of Tennessee administers a group health insurance program which provides postemployment health insurance benefits to eligible THDA retirees. This program includes two plans – the State Employee Group Plan and the Medicare Supplement Plan. For accounting purposes, the plans are agent multiple-employer defined benefit OPEB plans. Benefits are established and amended by an insurance committee created by Tennessee Code Annotated (TCA) Section 8-27-101. In previous fiscal years, prior to reaching the age of 65 all members had the option of choosing a preferred provider organization (PPO), point of service (POS), or health maintenance organization (HMO) plan for healthcare benefits. However, as of January 1, 2011, the insurance plan structure was changed and as a result all members now have the option of choosing between the standard or partnership preferred provider organization (PPO) plan for healthcare benefits. Subsequent to age 65, retirees who are also in the state's retirement system may participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan that does not include pharmacy. The plans are reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

Special Funding Situation. The State of Tennessee is legally responsible for contributions to the Medicare Supplement Plan that covers the retirees of other governmental entities, including the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. The state is the sole contributor for the THDA retirees that participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan and, therefore, is acting as the employer.

Funding Policy. The premium requirements of members of the State Employee Group Plan are established and may be amended by the insurance committee. The plan is self-insured and financed on a pay-as-you-go basis with the risk shared equally among the participants. Claims liabilities of the plan are periodically computed using actuarial and statistical techniques to establish premium rates. Administrative costs of the plan are allocated to participants. Retirees in the State Employee Group Plan who have not reached the age of 65 pay the same base premium as active employees in the plan adjusted for years of service. Retirees with 30 years of service pay 20% of the total premium. Retirees with 20 but less than 30 years of service pay 30% of the total premium. Retirees with less than 20 years of service pay 40% of the total premium. Retired employees who are 65 years of age or older have flat rate premium subsidies based on years of service. Retirees with 30 years of service receive $50 per month; 25 years, $37.50; and 20 years, $25.

Funded Status and Funding Progress. The funded status of THDA's portion of the State Employee Group Plan as of July 1, 2010, was as follows (Thousands):

Actuarial valuation date	7/01/2010
Actuarial accrued liability (AAL)	$ 3,316
Actuarial value of plan assets	-0-
Unfunded actuarial accrued liability (UAAL)	$ 3,316
Actuarial value of assets as a % of the AAL	0%
Covered payroll (active plan members)	$ 8,640
UAAL as a percentage of covered payroll	38%

Actuarial valuations involve estimates of the value of reported amounts and assumptions about the probability of events far into the future, and actuarially determined amounts are subject to continual revision as actual results are compared to past expectations and new estimates are made about the future. The schedule of funding progress, presented as required supplementary information following the notes to the financial statements, presents multiyear trend information about whether the actuarial value of plan assets is increasing or decreasing over time relative to the actuarial accrued liability for benefits.

Actuarial Methods and Assumptions. Calculations are based on the types of benefits provided under the terms of the substantive plan at the time of each valuation and on the pattern of sharing of costs between the employer and plan members to that point. Actuarial calculations reflect a long-term perspective. Consistent with that perspective, actuarial methods and assumptions used include techniques that are designed to reduce short-term volatility in actuarial accrued liabilities and the actuarial value of assets.

In the July 1, 2010, actuarial valuation for the Employee Group Plan, the Projected Unit Credit actuarial cost method was used. The actuarial assumptions included a 4.5 percent investment rate of return (net of administrative expenses) and an annual healthcare cost trend rate of 10 percent for fiscal year 2011. The rate decreased to 9.5 percent for fiscal year 2012 and then reduced by decrements of .5 percent per year to an ultimate rate of 5 percent in fiscal year 2021. All rates include a 3 percent inflation assumption. The unfunded actuarial accrued liability is being amortized as a level percentage of payroll on a closed basis over a 30 year period beginning with July 1, 2007.

NOTE 10. ON-BEHALF PAYMENTS

During the year ended June 30, 2011, the State of Tennessee made payments of $3,525 on behalf of THDA for retirees participating in the Medicare Supplement Plan, and during the year ended June 30, 2010, made payments of $2,657. The Medicare Supplement Plan is a postemployment benefit healthcare plan and is discussed further in Note 9. The plan is reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

NOTE 11. PAYMENTS TO PRIMARY GOVERNMENT

From time to time, the State of Tennessee has called upon the agency and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to the agency. On June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 from the agency's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund. On June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from the agency to the State General Fund. The $43,000,000 transferred from the agency came from the following resources of the agency: (i) $15,459,157 from tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. On June 30, 2002, a transfer from the agency to the primary government in the amount of $35,367,449 was made from the Assets Fund for the sole purpose of meeting the requirements of funding the operations of the primary government for the year ended June 30, 2002.

SUMMARY OF MORTGAGE INSURANCE AND GUARANTEE PROGRAMS

Introduction

All first lien Program Loans made or purchased by THDA with proceeds of Bonds issued under the General Resolution must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, or (b) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who, at the time of closing, have an acceptable equity interest in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price.

Originating Agents are responsible for obtaining Veteran's Administration ("VA") or U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD") guarantees, Federal Housing Administration ("FHA") insurance certificates or private mortgage insurance certificates as part of the process of originating and closing THDA Program Loans. Borrowers pay the costs associated with such insurance certificates or guarantees.

The following descriptions of certain mortgage insurance programs and loan guarantee programs are all only brief outlines and do not purport to summarize or describe all provisions of each respective program. For a more complete description of these programs, refer to the contract provisions embodied in FHA, USDA/RD (formerly FmHA) and VA regulations, respectively, and to the regulations, master insurance contracts and other such information from the private mortgage insurance providers.

FHA Insurance Programs

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, authorizes various FHA mortgage insurance programs, which differ primarily upon whether the property contains five or more dwelling units or less than five such units and whether the property is designed for occupancy by low and moderate income families.

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, imposes a minimum cash requirement for purchase money mortgages of 3.5% of the lesser of appraised value or sales price, resulting in a maximum loan to value percentage of 96.5%.

Under the FHA programs which insure THDA's Program Loans, insurance benefits generally are payable only upon foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance of the property to the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD"). The FHA insurance proceeds available under these programs upon conveyance of the property to HUD is equal to 100% of the outstanding principal balance of the Program Loan, plus interest and certain additional costs and expenses.

Under some FHA insurance programs, HUD pays insurance claims in cash unless the mortgage lender specifically requests payment in debentures issued by HUD. Under other programs, HUD, at its option, may pay insurance claims in cash or in such debentures. Currently, HUD makes insurance payments on mortgages covering less than five dwelling units in cash when it has discretion to determine the form of insurance payment. HUD debentures issued in satisfaction of FHA insurance claims bear interest at the HUD debentures interest rate in effect under HUD regulations on the date of the mortgage insurance commitment or of the initial insurance endorsement of the mortgage, whichever rate is higher.

When FHA insurance benefits are paid after foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance, the amount paid is computed as of the date of default by the borrower, as defined in HUD regulations, and the mortgage lender generally is not compensated for mortgage interest accrued and unpaid prior to that date. When FHA insurance benefits are paid under such circumstances, the insurance payment made is generally equal to the unpaid principal amount of the Program Loan, adjusted to reimburse the mortgage lender for certain tax, insurance and similar payments made by it and to deduct certain amounts received or retained by the mortgage lender after default, plus reimbursement not to exceed a specified percentage of the mortgage lender's foreclosure costs as determined by HUD based on certain criteria. The regulations under the FHA insurance programs which insure THDA's Program Loans provide that the insurance payment itself shall bear interest from the date of default to the date of payment of the claim at an interest rate equal to the monthly average yield, for the month in which the default occurred, on United States Treasury securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years.

When any property conveyed to HUD has been damaged by fire, earthquake, flood or tornado, it is generally required, as a condition to payment of an insurance claim, that the property be repaired by the mortgage lender prior to such conveyance or assignment.

To obtain title to and possession of the property upon foreclosure, the Trustee and the Servicer act under the power of sale provisions in the deed of trust, subject to constraints imposed by applicable state law and by HUD. HUD currently requires that, absent the consent of the borrower, at least three full monthly installments be due and unpaid under the deed of trust before the mortgage lender may initiate any action leading to foreclosure under the deed of trust. HUD also requires a face-to-face conference between the mortgage lender and the borrower in an effort to cure the delinquency without foreclosure. In any case, these requirements do not apply where the borrower has voluntarily abandoned the property, in which case, the mortgage lender may immediately initiate foreclosure proceedings (subject to applicable state law notice provisions).

Veterans Administration Guaranty Program

The Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended, permits a veteran (or in certain instances, the veteran's spouse or certain qualified reservists) to obtain a Program Loan guaranty from the VA covering the purchase of a one-to-four family dwelling unit at interest rates permitted by the VA. The program has no loan limits, requires no down payment from the purchaser and permits the guaranty of Program Loans of up to thirty years duration. The maximum guaranty that may be issued by the VA under this program is the lesser of the veteran's available entitlement or the statutory maximum guaranty based on date of origination, type of housing unit and loan amount. Notwithstanding the dollar and percentage limitations of the guaranty, a mortgage lender will ordinarily suffer a monetary loss only when the difference between the unsatisfied indebtedness and the proceeds of a foreclosure sale of a property is greater than the original guaranty, as adjusted. The VA may, at its option, and without regard to the guaranty, make full payment to a mortgage lender of unsatisfied indebtedness on a mortgage upon its assignment to the VA.

United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development (formerly Farmers Home Administration)

Guaranteed Rural Housing Program

The Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 revised and expanded the interest assistance program for guaranteed loans under Section 502 of Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, by creating the Guaranteed Rural Housing Loan Program. The guaranty covers the lesser of (a) any loss equal to 90% of the original principal amount of the loan or (b) any loss in full up to 35% of the original principal amount of the loan plus any additional loss on the remaining 65% to be shared approximately 85% by USDA/RD and approximately 15% by THDA.

Private Mortgage Insurance Programs

General

Program Loans are permitted under the General Resolution when insured under private mortgage insurance programs as described below.

Private mortgage insurance policies insure against certain losses sustained by reason of default in payments by borrowers. Under most policies, delinquencies must be reported to the insurer within two (2) months of default, and proceedings to recover title must, generally, be commenced within nine (9) months of default. It is standard practice for private mortgage insurers to require that the mortgage lender, prior to presenting a claim under the mortgage insurance policy, acquire and tender to the private mortgage insurer title to the property, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, including any right of redemption by the borrower. When such a claim is presented, the private mortgage insurer will normally retain the option to pay the claim in full and take title to the property and arrange for its sale, or to pay the insured percentage of the claim and allow the insured mortgage lender to retain title to the property. The amount of loss payable generally includes the principal balance due under the mortgage, plus accumulated interest, real estate taxes and hazard insurance premiums which have been advanced, expenses incurred in the preservation of the insured property, and other expenses necessarily incurred in the recovery proceedings.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Series Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

APPENDIX C

DESCRIPTION OF AGREEMENTS WITH ORIGINATING AGENTS AND SERVICERS

Working Agreements

THDA has working agreements with each of its Originating Agents (the "Working Agreements"). Under the Working Agreements, THDA reviews and makes or purchases approved Program Loans which have been originated and processed by an Originating Agent.

Each Working Agreement also contains certain representations and warranties by the Originating Agent regarding the Program Loan applications submitted to THDA to the effect that the Originating Agent has no adverse information regarding the credit or reputation of the applicant nor adverse information concerning the real property to be mortgaged that would materially lessen THDA's security or detract from the subsequent marketability of the Program Loan. Each Originating Agent further represents and warrants that it will receive and process for THDA all applications by applicants for Program Loans who qualify as lower and moderate income persons.

The Working Agreement requires that Program Loans meet all requirements contained in THDA's rules and regulations and the O. A. Guide (as defined below). These requirements include, among other things:

(1) a deed of trust securing the Program Loan in a form approved by THDA which creates a valid first lien on the property;

(2) for FHA insured or VA or USDA/RD guaranteed Program Loans, all FHA, VA or USDA/RD rules, regulations and requirements must be met;

(3) evidence of title satisfactory to THDA;

(4) an original hazard insurance policy, delivered at closing, which covers the property subject to the Program Loan, names THDA as first mortgagee, and is in an amount not less than the greater of 90% of the insurable value of the improvements on the property or the full amount of the Program Loan; and

(5) such other documents as are necessary to comply with the federal tax code.

Penalties may be imposed on Originating Agents for violating the Working Agreements. At the option of THDA, Originating Agents may also be required to purchase a Program Loan from THDA when there is a violation under the Working Agreement with respect to the Program Loan. THDA may terminate Working Agreements upon notice, with or without cause or, at its election, temporarily suspend Originating Agent's privilege to originate Program Loans as a result of inadequate performance.

Guide for Originating Agents

THDA provides each Originating Agent with a Guide for Originating Agents (the "O. A. Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax code requirements. The O. A. Guide sets forth requirements and procedures for originating, processing and closing Program Loans. The Guide includes a procedural checklist to be followed by the Originating Agent and copies of all THDA forms required in originating, processing and closing Program Loans.

Servicing Agreements

THDA currently has agreements with U.S. Bank, Magna Bank and First Horizon Bank (recently purchased by Met Life) (the "Servicers") to service Program Loans (the "Servicing Agreements"). U.S. Bank services approximately 80% of THDA's entire portfolio of mortgage loans. Magna Bank and Met Life, through a sub-servicing agreement with U.S. Bank, service the remainder. THDA itself is also permitted to service Program Loans although it has not done so to date. The Servicing Agreements provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. Prior to remittance, the Servicer deducts a servicing fee, late charges and amounts to be held in escrow accounts for real property taxes, mortgage and hazard insurance premiums, and assessments. The servicing fee under current Servicing Agreements is 3/8% annually. The Servicer is required to notify THDA in the event of any default on a Program Loan, and the Servicer may conduct foreclosure proceedings with the consent and at the expense of THDA. The Servicer is required to repurchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of the Servicer's failure to perform its obligations under the Servicing Agreement. THDA may also terminate a Servicing Agreement for inadequate performance by the Servicer.

Guide for Servicers

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers (the "Servicer Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax requirements. The Servicer Guide includes substantive servicing requirements, incorporates the limitation on assumption of mortgages contained in the federal tax code, and specifies the procedures to be followed by the Servicer to comply with THDA requirements and the federal tax code. The Servicer Guide also includes a list of the documents that must be maintained by the Servicer, copies of all THDA's servicing and loan assumption forms, together with instructions for their completion and a schedule for the submission of the required forms and reports to THDA.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers. Each Servicer's performance is monitored and its servicing record is subject to examination by THDA's staff. Examinations are performed monthly from documentation received from the Servicer.

Special Programs

For certain special programs, THDA may elect to enter into joint agreements for originating and servicing Program Loans made under such special programs. Any such joint agreements are substantially similar to the Working Agreements and Servicing Agreements described hereinabove.

APPENDIX D

SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION

The General Housing Finance Resolution, as amended (the "General Resolution"), contains various covenants and security provisions, certain of which are summarized below. This summary does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive and is subject to all the terms and provisions of the General Resolution, to which reference is hereby made and copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Definitions (Section 1.2)

"Bond" means one of the bonds authenticated and delivered pursuant to the Resolution, including any additional or Refunding Bonds issued pursuant to Article II.

Bond Reserve Fund" means the Bond Reserve Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Bond Reserve Fund Requirement" means, as of any date of calculation the greater of (i) an amount equal to the aggregate of the respective amounts for each Issue of Bonds established in the Supplemental Resolution authorizing such Issue or (ii) an amount equal to 3% of the then current balance of Program Loans plus any other amount on deposit in the Loan Fund which has not been designated to provide for the payment of Costs of Issuance or capitalized interest.

"Costs of Issuance" means all items of expense, directly or indirectly payable or reimbursable by or to THDA and related to the authorization, sale and issuance of Bonds, including but not limited to discount to be paid to the underwriters upon the initial delivery of Bonds, printing costs, costs of preparation and reproduction of documents, filing and recording fees, initial fees and charges of any Fiduciary, legal fees and charges, fees and disbursements of consultants and professionals, costs of credit ratings, fees and charges for the insurance of the payment of Bonds, initial premiums to obtain mortgage pool insurance, accrued interest in connection with the financing of Program Loans and any other cost, charge or fee in connection with the original issuance of Bonds.

"Debt Service" means, with respect to any particular Fiscal Year and any particular Series of Bonds, an amount equal to the sum of (i) all interest payable on such Bonds during such Fiscal Year, plus (ii) any Principal Installment of such Bonds during such Fiscal Year.

"Fund" means one or more, as the case may be, of the special Funds created and established pursuant to this Resolution.

"Interest Payment Date" means any date upon which interest on the Bonds is due and payable in accordance with their terms.

"Investment Securities" means and includes any of the following obligations, to the extent the same are at the time legal for investment of funds of THDA under the Act, including the amendments thereto hereafter made, or under other applicable law:

(1) Obligations of, or obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality thereof when such obligations are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America, including, but not limited to:

- All direct or fully guaranteed United States Treasury;
- Certificates of beneficial ownership issued by the Farmers Home Administration;
- Participation certificates issued by General Services Administration;
- U.S. Maritime Administration guaranteed Title XI financing;
- Guaranteed participation certificates and guaranteed pool certificates issued by the Small Business Administration;
- GNMA-guaranteed mortgage-backed securities and GNMA-guaranteed participation certificates issued by the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA);
- Local authority bonds of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development;

- Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority guaranteed transit bonds; and
- All fully guaranteed obligations of the United States Export-Import Bank;

(2) Federal Housing Administration debentures;

(3) Obligations of the following government-sponsored agencies which are not backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America:

- Participation certificates (those which are guaranteed as to timely payment of principal) and Senior debt obligations of Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. (FHLMC)
- Consolidated system-wide bonds and notes of the Farm Credit System (formerly: Federal Land Banks, Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, and Banks for Co-operatives)
- Consolidated debt obligations of the Federal Home Loan Banks (FHL Banks)
- Senior debt obligations and Mortgage-backed securities (excluding interest only stripped mortgage securities which are valued greater than par on the portion of unpaid principal) issued by Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA);
- Senior debt obligations (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date) and Letter of Credit (LOC) - backed issues issued by Student Loan Marketing Association (SLMA);
- Debt obligations issued by Financing Corp. (FICO);
- Debt obligations issued by Resolution Funding Corp. (REFCORP);

(4) Federal funds, unsecured certificates of deposit, time deposits, and banker's acceptances (having maturities of not more than 365 days) of any bank, the short-term obligations of which are rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(5) Deposits which are fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC);

(6) Debt obligations rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date);

(7) Commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's maturing not more than 365 days;

(8) Investment in money market funds rated at least 'aam' or 'AAm-G' by S&P and 'Aaa' by Moody's;

(9) Repurchase agreements and investment agreements with any financial institution with long-term unsecured debt rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's or commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(10) Stripped securities

(i) U.S. Treasury STRIPS

(ii) REFCORP STRIPS (stripped by Federal Reserve Bank of New York), and

(iii) Any stripped securities assessed or rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's; and

(11) Any other investments which would not adversely affect the then current rating assigned to the Bonds, as confirmed in writing by S&P and Moody's.

"Issuance Amount" shall mean the price, exclusive of accrued interest (if any) which is payable on a semiannual basis, at which a Bond was offered for sale to the public (or the price of such Bond to the initial purchaser if not publicly sold) at the time of issuance thereof by THDA pursuant to Section 2.6, irrespective of underwriter's compensation, commissions, placement agent's fees, concessions, THDA Costs of Issuance, or similar costs.

"Loan Fund" means the Loan Fund established in Section 5.1.

"Non-Mortgage Receipts" means all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses as a result of the investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, but shall not include Revenues.

"Outstanding", when used with reference to Bonds, means, as of any date, all Bonds theretofore or thereupon being authenticated and delivered under this Resolution except:

(1) any Bond canceled by the Trustee or delivered to the Trustee for cancellation at or prior to such date;

(2) any Bond (or portion of a Bond) for the payment or redemption of which there have been separately set aside and held in the Redemption Fund hereunder either:

(a) moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price thereof, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date;

(b) Investment Securities, as described in Section 12.1(13), in such principal amounts, of such maturities, bearing such interest and otherwise having such terms and qualifications as shall be necessary to provide moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price of such Bond, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date; or

(c) any combination of (a) and (b) above;

(3) any Bond in lieu of or in substitution for which other Bonds shall have been authenticated and delivered pursuant to Section 3.7, Section 6.6 or Section 9.6; and

(4) any Bond deemed to have been paid as provided in subsection (B) of Section 12.1.

"Program" means the program for the financing of loans for residential housing established by THDA pursuant to the Act and Program Guidelines, as the same may be amended from time to time consistent with this Resolution, but only to the extent that such program is financed through the issuance of Bonds or from amounts otherwise available out of the moneys and assets held or pledged pursuant to this Resolution.

"Program Expenses" means all of THDA's expenses in carrying out and administering its duties and corporate purposes under the Act and shall include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, salaries, supplies, utilities, mailing, labor, materials, office rent, maintenance, furnishings, equipment, machinery and apparatus, telephone, insurance premiums, legal, accounting, management, consulting and banking services and expenses, fees and expenses of the Fiduciaries, Costs of Issuance not paid from the proceeds of Bonds, travel, payments for pension, retirement, health and hospitalization and life and disability insurance benefits, payments for insurance against losses on the pool of Program Loans, payments to maintain letters of credit obtained to secure the ability of THDA to pay, redeem or purchase Bonds. Program Expenses may also include amounts for establishing and maintaining a two-month reserve to pay operating costs and a reasonable reserve for losses and expenses estimated to be incurred by THDA and amounts appropriate to reimburse THDA for Program Expenses paid from other sources. Program Expenses shall include the amount of any rebate required to be calculated and set aside by THDA pursuant to applicable federal tax law. THDA in its discretion may calculate the rebate amount annually or at the end of such other periods that it may choose as long as the first rebate calculation and all succeeding rebate calculations are performed no later than required by applicable federal tax law.

"Program Loan Loss Coverage" means that portion of the principal amount of Program Loans outstanding which must be treated as a loss for purposes of maintaining the current ratings on the Bonds.

"Projected Cash Flow Statement" means a certificate of an Authorized Officer of THDA setting forth for the current and each succeeding fiscal year in which Bonds are scheduled to be outstanding, THDA's estimate of, among other things: (i) the Revenues, other than Prepayments, expected to be received on all Program Loans financed or expected to be financed with proceeds of Outstanding Bonds; (ii) the aggregate amount of prepayments of Program Loans which THDA reasonably expects to receive with respect to such Program Loans and which are to be applied to the payment of Bonds as set forth in the Supplemental Resolution; (iii) all other Revenues, including the interest to be earned and other income to be derived from the investment of the Funds and Accounts and the rates used in estimating such amounts; (iv) the amount, if any, expected to be withdrawn from the Bond Reserve Fund, provided, the amount on deposit in such Fund is expected to at least equal the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such withdrawal and the withdrawal is permitted under the General Resolution; (v) the aggregate Debt Service on Outstanding Bonds during such fiscal year; and (vi) all Program Expenses during such fiscal year.

"Revenue Fund" means the Revenue Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Revenues" means all payments, proceeds, rents, charges, and other cash income received by THDA from or on account of any Program Loan including scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of any insurance proceeds with respect to principal and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicer as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loan and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan.

"Sinking Fund Payment" means, as of any particular date of calculation, the amount required to be paid at all events by THDA on a certain future date for the retirement of Outstanding Bonds which mature after said future date, but does not include any amount payable by THDA by reason of the maturity of a Bond or by call for redemption at the election of THDA.

Resolution Constitutes Contract (Section 2.2)

The General Resolution constitutes a contract between THDA and the holders of the Bonds and the pledges, covenants and agreements to be performed by THDA are for the equal benefit, protection and security of the holders of any and all of the Bonds..

Obligation of Bonds (Section 2.3)

The Bonds will be special limited obligations of THDA payable only from the revenues and assets pledged therefor. These revenues and assets include the following: mortgage receipts; non-mortgage receipts, including interest earned from the investment of funds in the Escrow Fund or any other Fund or Account; and right, title, and interest in and to the Program Loans.

Provisions for Issuance of Bonds (Sections 2.4, 2.6, 7.3, and 7.15)

The General Resolution authorizes Bonds to be issued from time to time in accordance with its terms without limitation as to amount except as provided by law. The Bonds of a Series may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things:

(1) a Bond Counsel's Opinion to the effect, among other things, that the Bonds of such Series have been duly and validly authorized and issued in accordance with the constitution and statutes of the State, including the Act as amended to the date of such opinion, and in accordance with the General Resolution;

(2) the amount of the proceeds of such Series to be deposited with the Trustee pursuant to the General Resolution (see "Application of Bond Proceeds" below):

(3) except in the case of the initial or a refunding issue, a certificate of an authorized officer stating that THDA is not in default in the performance of any of the covenants, conditions, agreements or provisions contained in the General Resolution and that all other conditions for the issuance of additional Bonds have been met; and

(4) except in the case of a refunding issue, a Projected Cash Flow Statement, as described in Appendix D, showing that the estimated Revenues for each fiscal year in which Bonds will be outstanding, together with any amount scheduled to be withdrawn from the Bond Reserve Fund (and permitted to be so withdrawn pursuant to the Resolution), will be sufficient for the payment of the estimated debt service and program expenses for such fiscal year.

Provisions for Refunding Issues (Section 2.7)

Refunding Bonds may be issued to refund any Outstanding Bonds. Refunding Bonds may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things, irrevocable instructions to give notice of the redemption of all Bonds to be refunded and to give published notice as required of the redemption of such Bonds and either (i) moneys sufficient to effect payment at the applicable Redemption Price of the Bonds to be refunded, together with interest accrued to the Redemption Date, or (ii) direct obligations of, or obligations insured or guaranteed by, the United States of America or certificates of deposit secured by such obligations, which by their terms will provide moneys sufficient to provide for the payment of such Redemption Price and accrued interest. Any such moneys, obligations or certificates are required to be held irrevocably in the Redemption Account established under the General Resolution.

Application of Bond Proceeds (Sections 4.1 and 4.3)

As soon as practicable upon the delivery of each Series of Bonds, other than refunding Bonds, an amount necessary to cause the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund to at least equal the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such delivery is required to be deposited in the Bond Reserve Fund. Proceeds of such Series of Bonds which are not to be deposited in such Fund are to be deposited at the direction of an Authorized Officer.

Amounts in the Loan Fund may not be expended and applied for the financing of a Program Loan unless the note issued to evidence the Program Loan and a mortgage securing the Program Loan have been duly executed and, among other things:

(1) the mortgage securing such Program Loan constitutes a first lien, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, on the real property or interest therein securing such Program Loan and on the fixtures acquired with the proceeds of the Program Loan attached to or used in connection with such residential housing;

(2) the eligible borrower has entered into a binding agreement with or for the benefit of THDA that it will pay or escrow all taxes, assessments, water rates, sewer rents and municipal and other charges and fees and any prior liens levied against the premises or any part thereof, and in the case of default in the payment thereof THDA, without notice or demand to the mortgagor, may pay the same and the amount will be a lien on the premises added to the amount of the Program Loan;

(3) the eligible borrower must covenant that the proceeds of the Program Loan will be used solely to pay the reasonable and necessary costs of obtaining the residential housing financed by the Program Loan;

(4) the eligible borrower must covenant that it will keep the buildings on the premises insured against loss by fire and other hazards as required by THDA and that it will maintain the premises in good repair and comply with all requirements of governmental authorities relating thereto; and

(5) the eligible borrower must obtain a policy of title insurance insuring THDA that the mortgage is valid and enforceable in the full amount of the Program Loan.

(6) the Program Loan must be (i) insured by the Federal Housing Administration, (ii) guaranteed by the Rural Economic Community Development Corp. (formerly Farmers Home Administration) or the Veteran’s Administration, (iii) insured or guaranteed by a successor federal or state agency, (iv) have a principal amount not exceeding 78% of the value of the property securing such Program Loan as determined in an appraisal by or acceptable to THDA, or (v) be insured to the extent of any excess over such percentage by a private mortgage insurance company acceptable to THDA and meeting the requirements of the Resolution.

Deposits and Investments (Sections 4.5, 4.6 and 4.7)

All amounts held by the Trustee, any Paying Agent or any Depository under the General Resolution may be deposited in interest-bearing time deposits, repurchase agreements or certificates of deposit or be the subject of similar banking arrangements with commercial banks, savings and loans or investment dealers and, in addition, any amounts held by the Trustee thereunder may be invested in Investment Securities. All amounts held under the General Resolution which are not held in trust for the payment of particular Bonds or which do not represent an investment of amounts held thereunder must be continuously and fully secured for the benefit of THDA and the holders of the Bonds by lodging Investment Securities with the Trustee or in such other manner as may then be required by applicable federal or state laws regarding the deposit of trust funds. In computing the amount in any Fund or Account, obligations purchased as an investment of moneys therein shall be valued at market, except that for purposes of determining the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement at the time of initial funding from Bond proceeds, the issuance of additional obligations and for any other purpose under the General Resolution, such obligations shall be valued at par if purchased at par value or at amortized value if purchased at other than par value. Valuation shall be made as soon as practicable prior to each interest payment date and at any other time required under the General Resolution and on any particular date shall not include the amount of interest then earned or accrued to such date on any deposit or investment.

Establishment of Funds and Accounts (Section 5.1)

The General Resolution establishes the following special trust funds and accounts which are to be held by the Trustee:

(1) Loan Fund;

(2) Revenue Fund,

Debt Service and Expense Account,
Non-Mortgage Receipts Account, and
Redemption Account;

(3) Bond Reserve Fund; and

Loan Fund (Section 5.2)

In addition to proceeds of a Series of Bonds, amounts are required to be deposited in the Loan Fund from the Revenue Fund under certain circumstances as more fully described below (see “Revenue Fund”). Amounts in the Loan Fund may be expended only to pay the cost of financing Program Loans, to pay reasonable and necessary Costs of Issuance, and to make deposits in the Debt Service and Expense Account with respect to capitalized interest. Amounts in the Loan Fund may, however, be transferred to the Revenue Fund if a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee. At the direction of THDA, the Trustee may transfer amounts in the Loan Fund to the Redemption Account or apply such amounts directly to the redemption, purchase or retirement of Bonds at any time that such Bonds are subject to redemption or payment from such amounts, but only if there is delivered to the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement and a certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that, in the judgment of THDA, the estimated Revenues available after the payment of estimated Debt Service on the Bonds and Program expenses are greater than they would have been if all or a portion of such amounts had been applied to the financing of Program Loans.

Revenue Fund (Section 5.3)

The General Resolution establishes the following trust accounts within the Revenue Fund: the Debt Service and Expense Account, the Redemption Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account.

Debt Service and Expense Account. All Revenues are to be deposited promptly with a Depository and transmitted to the Trustee at least monthly for deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account within the Revenue Fund. The Trustee is required to make payments out of the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Paying Agents as follows: (a) on or before each interest payment date, the amounts required for the payment of principal installments, if any, and interest due on the Bonds on such date and (b) on or before the Redemption Date or date of purchase, the amounts required for the payment of accrued interest on Bonds redeemed or purchased for retirement, unless such interest is otherwise provided for.

Prior to the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee may, and if so directed by THDA is required to, apply any amount accumulated in the Debt Service and Expense Account up to the unsatisfied balance of such Sinking Fund Payment (together with amounts accumulated in the Revenue Fund with respect to interest on the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established) as follows: (a) to the purchase of the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established, at prices not exceeding the Redemption Price for such Bonds if they are redeemable by application of said Sinking Fund Payment plus unpaid interest accrued to the date of purchase, or (b) to the redemption of such Bonds if then redeemable by their terms at the Redemption Price referred to in clause (a) hereof. Upon such purchase or redemption of any Bond, an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bond so purchased or redeemed will be credited to the Sinking Fund Payment next coming due. The excess of the amounts so credited over the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment will be credited by the Trustee against future Sinking Fund Payments in direct chronological order, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

As soon as practicable after the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee is to proceed to call for redemption on such due date Bonds of the Series and Maturity for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established in a principal amount equal to the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment. The Trustee is required to call such Bonds for redemption whether or not it then has moneys in the Debt Service and Expense Account sufficient to pay the applicable Redemption Price on the Redemption Date.

Within ninety days after the close of each Fiscal Year, THDA is required to file with the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement as of the first day of the then current Fiscal Year (but assuming the transfer of any amount to the Loan Fund as provided in clause (b) of this sentence) which states (a) the amount remaining in the Debt Service and Expense Account as of such first day after deducting all payments made on each interest payment date as described above and (b) the amount required to be transferred to the Loan Fund in accordance with the assumptions made in such Projected Cash Flow Statement. Upon receipt thereof, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the amount stated in clause (a) above as follows:

> FIRST: From the amount so available the amount, if any, by which the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund is less than the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement shall be transferred to the Bond Reserve Fund.
> SECOND: From the amount, if any, so available after the transfer provided above has been made, the amount needed to be transferred to THDA to pay reasonable and necessary Program Expenses which are due and owing.
> THIRD: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after the transfers provided above have been made, the amount, if any, stated in such Projected Cash Flow Statement as to be transferred to the Loan Fund shall be so transferred and if such Projected Cash Flow Statement does not comply with subsection 7.11(C) the amount so available shall be transferred to the Loan Fund as set forth in the Certificate delivered in accordance with Section 5.3(H).
> FOURTH: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after any transfers provided for above have been made, the remaining amount shall be transferred to the Redemption Account as directed by THDA. If, however, the amount of Program Loans (valued at par) and Investment Securities held by the Trustee hereunder (other than Investment Securities in the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund) valued in accordance with this Resolution, is greater than 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, then the amount remaining, up to such excess above the 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, may be withdrawn from the Debt Service and Expense Account at any time during the then current Fiscal Year, upon receipt by the Trustee of a Certificate to such effect from an Authorized Officer of THDA and a Projected Cash Flow Statement after giving effect to such withdrawal, to be applied to any purpose of THDA consistent with THDA's tax covenants described below, free and clear of the lien of any pledge of this Resolution. The Projected Cash Flow Statement for purposes of this provision shall include all Program Loans, including any Program Loans which have been in payment default for sixty (60) or more consecutive days. For the purposes of this paragraph,

there shall be excluded from the amount of Program Loans and Investment Securities any Program Loans or Investment Securities which were acquired with amounts deposited in the Loan Fund or the Bond Reserve Fund from sources other than the proceeds of Bonds or transfers from the Revenue Fund, unless, at the time such amounts were deposited therein, the Trustee receives a Certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that such amounts are not necessary to be deposited therein in order to provide Revenues sufficient to provide for the payment of Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee may at any time, upon the written direction of an Authorized Officer (a) make transfers from the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Bond Reserve Fund or the Redemption Account for the purposes of such Fund or Account or (b) make payments to THDA for the purpose of paying reasonable and necessary Program Expenses for the then current Fiscal Year. No such transfer is to be made, however, unless there is on deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after such transfer or payment an amount equal to the principal and interest accrued on all Outstanding Bonds as of the date of such transfer or payment, plus an amount equal to the cumulative amount of prepayments received by THDA during such fiscal year which exceeds the amount of prepayments estimated to be applied to the payment of Debt Service during such fiscal year in the most recent Projected Cash Flow Statement delivered to the Trustee by THDA. In addition no such transfers shall be made until a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee and no payment for Program Expenses is to be made unless the revenue statement to be delivered to the Trustee for each preceding month as described below shows that accrued Revenues exceed accrued Debt Service.

No payments are required to be made into the Debt Service and Expense Account so long as the amount on deposit therein is sufficient to pay all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof) in accordance with their terms, and any Revenues thereafter received by THDA may be applied to any purpose of THDA free and clear of the lien of the pledge of the General Resolution.

Redemption Account. There are to be deposited in the Redemption Account any amounts required by the General Resolution to be so deposited and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein. The Trustee is required to apply the amounts deposited in the Redemption Account to the payment, purchase or redemption of Bonds at the earliest practicable Redemption Date as described under “Redemption of Bonds.”

Upon the purchase or redemption of Bonds of any Series and maturity for which Sinking Fund Payments have been established from amounts in the Redemption Account, each future Sinking Fund Payment for such Bonds will be credited by an amount bearing the same ratio to such Sinking Fund Payment as the total principal amount of such Bonds to be so purchased or redeemed bears to the total amount of all such Sinking Fund Payments, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. All Non-Mortgage Receipts received by the Trustee are to be promptly deposited in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. The Trustee is required to maintain records sufficient to determine the average daily balance of the amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund, the Bond Reserve Fund and the Debt Service and Expense Account and Redemption Account in the Revenue Fund. If so directed by THDA, the Trustee must maintain such records separately for each Series of Bonds.

Semi-annually not later than each Interest Payment Date, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account to the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount needed to enable the Trustee to pay Debt Service on the Bonds on such Interest Payment Date and (ii) the balance then on deposit in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. If at any time the amount available prior to any Interest Payment Date shall be insufficient for the making of such transfers, then the Trustee shall make transfers to the Debt Service and Expense Account from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account from the first available Non-Mortgage Receipts received subsequent to such Interest Payment Date and the amount so transferred shall not reduce the amount required to be transferred prior to the next Interest Payment Date.

Any amount remaining in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after the semi-annual transfer to the Debt Service and Expense Account shall be transferred, at the direction of an Authorized Officer, to the Loan Fund, the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund.

Bond Reserve Fund (Section 5.4)

If on any Interest Payment Date or Redemption Date, the amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund and the Redemption Fund are less than the amount required for the payments due on the Bonds on such date, the Trustee is to apply amounts from the Bond Reserve Fund to the extent required to make good the deficiency.

If concurrently with the allocation from the Revenue Fund, the amount on deposit in the Bond Reserve Fund is in excess of the Bond Reserve Fund Requirement, the Trustee may, if so directed, transfer the amount of such excess to the Redemption Account.

Whenever the amount in the Bond Reserve Fund, together with the amount in the Revenue Fund, is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof), all amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund are to be transferred to the Bond Reserve Fund. Prior to such transfer, all investments held in the Revenue Fund are to be liquidated and any Bonds constituting a part of such Fund will be deemed paid and canceled.

Escrow Fund (Section 5.5)

There shall be deposited in the Escrow Fund, all amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited therein and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein.

Amounts in the Escrow Fund may be applied to any lawful purpose of THDA consistent with the Resolution.

Redemption of Bonds (Sections 3.7, 5.3, 6.4 and 6.5)

Bonds may be redeemed from amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund or the Revenue Fund or from other amounts made available by THDA for such purpose. Amounts deposited in the Redemption Account within the Loan Fund must be applied to the redemption of Bonds at the earliest possible time, subject to their terms and the terms of their respective authorizing resolutions. If THDA directs the publication of a notice of redemption from amounts other than amounts in the Redemption Account, THDA is responsible to provide funds for such redemption to the appropriate Paying Agents prior to the date of redemption.

Amounts on deposit in the Revenue Account which are to be applied to the redemption of Bonds may, until the forty-fifth day prior to the date for redemption of such Bonds, be applied to the purchase of such Bonds at prices not exceeding the applicable redemption price, plus accrued interest, unless such Bonds are to be redeemed more than thirteen months from the date of purchase, in which event the purchase price may not exceed par. Any difference between the maximum price payable for such Bonds and the price actually paid is to be deposited in the Debt Service and Expense Account.

The selection of Bonds to be redeemed from the amounts to be applied to the redemption of Bonds of such particular Series and maturity is to be made by the Trustee by lot. For such purpose registered bonds of a denomination greater than $5,000 are to be assigned separate numbers for each $5,000 portion. In the event that the Trustee is required to redeem Appreciation Bonds by lot, the Trustee will assign a separate number to each Appreciation Bond on the basis of its Maturity Amount. The Trustee shall mail, postage prepaid, a copy of the notice of redemption not less than 20 days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to the provider of a central depository system) prior to the date of redemption to the registered owners of all registered Bonds subject to redemption at the last address of such registered owners appearing on the registry books in respect of the Bonds. Publication of notice of redemption is not required if all Bonds to be redeemed are registered bonds. THDA is not obliged to exchange or transfer Bonds within ten days preceding the giving of notice of redemption and is not obliged to exchange or transfer any Bonds which have previously been called for redemption.

Power as to Bonds and Pledge (Section 7.3)

THDA covenants that it is duly authorized pursuant to law to authorize and issue the Bonds and to adopt the General Resolution and to pledge the assets and revenues purported to be pledged by the General Resolution in the manner and to the extent provided in the General Resolution.

Payment of Bonds (Section 7.4)

THDA covenants that it will duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid the principal or Redemption Price, if any, of every Bond and the interest thereon, at the dates and places and in the manner stated in the Bonds, according to the true intent and meaning thereof, and shall duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid all Sinking Fund Payments, if any, becoming payable with respect to any Series of Bonds.

Tax Covenants (Section 7.9)

THDA covenants that (i) it will not permit at any time or times any of the proceeds of the Bonds or other funds of THDA to be used directly or indirectly to acquire any securities or obligations the acquisition of which would cause any Bond to be an "arbitrage bond" as defined in the applicable federal tax law and (ii) it will not permit such proceeds or other funds to be used in such manner as would result in the exclusion of any Bond from the treatment afforded by the applicable federal tax law by reason of the classification of such Bond as a "mortgage subsidy bond" pursuant to the applicable federal tax law or as an "industrial development bond" within the meaning of the applicable federal tax law, except in the case of Bonds held by a "substantial user" or "related person" within the meaning of Section 147(c) of the Code.

Accounts and Reports (Section 7.10)

THDA covenants that it will keep, or cause to be kept, proper books of record and account in which complete and accurate entries shall be made of all its transactions relating to the Housing Finance Program and all Funds established by the General Resolution which shall at all reasonable times be subject to the inspection of the Trustee and the holders of an aggregate of not less than 5% in principal amount of Bonds then Outstanding or their representatives duly authorized in writing.

On or before the twenty-fifth day of each month or as soon as practicable thereafter, THDA is required to submit to the Trustee a statement of account for the preceding month setting forth the amount received as Revenues during such month and stating the cumulative amount of Revenues (including individual totals for prepayments and monthly Program Loan receipts) and Non-Mortgage Receipts which have been received since the date upon which the last Principal Installment on Outstanding Bonds was payable.

THDA must annually, within ninety days after the close of each fiscal year, file with the Trustee (1) a copy of an annual report for such fiscal year, setting forth its operations and accomplishments during such fiscal year and (2) financial statements of THDA for such fiscal year setting forth in reasonable detail: (a) a balance sheet for THDA and its programs showing the assets and liabilities of the Housing Finance Program at the end of such fiscal year, and (b) a statement of revenues and expenses in accordance with the categories or classifications established by THDA so long as such financial statements for the Housing Finance Program are separately identified and are consistent with the requirements of the General Resolution and satisfactory to the Trustee. The financial statements shall be accompanied by the certificate of an independent accountant stating that the financial statements examined present fairly the financial position of THDA at the end of the fiscal year, the results of its operations and the changes in financial position for the period examined, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. A copy of each annual Projected Cash Flow Statement and annual report or special report and any accountant's certificate shall be mailed promptly thereafter by THDA to each Bondholder who shall have filed his name and address with THDA for such purposes.

Budgets (Section 7.12)

THDA must adopt an annual budget covering its fiscal operations for the succeeding fiscal year not later than the first day of each such fiscal year, and file the same with the Trustee and with such officials of THDA as required under the Act. The annual budget shall at least set forth for such fiscal year the estimated revenues, principal installments and interest due and payable or estimated to become due and payable during such fiscal year and estimated expenses of the Housing Finance Program. THDA at any time may adopt and file with the Trustee an amended annual budget for the remainder of the then current fiscal year in the manner provided in the General Resolution for the adoption of the annual budget. Copies of the annual budget and any amended annual budget must be made available by the Trustee for inspection by any Bondholder.

THDA covenants from time to time, with all practical dispatch and in a sound and economical manner consistent in all respects with the Act, with the provisions of the General Resolution and with sound banking practices and principles, to use and apply the proceeds of the Bonds (to the extent not reasonably or otherwise required for other purposes of the Housing Finance Program) to finance Program Loans, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect Revenues sufficient to pay the expenses of the Program and to diligently enforce, and take all steps, actions and proceedings reasonably necessary in the judgment of THDA to maintain any insurance on Program Loans and to enforce all terms, covenants and conditions of Program Loans.

Whenever necessary in order to protect and enforce the interest and security of the holders of the Bonds, THDA covenants to commence foreclosure or pursue other appropriate remedies with respect to any Program Loan which is in default. In the event that THDA shall, in its discretion, determine such action to be in the best interests of the holders of the Bonds, THDA may bid for and purchase the premises covered by any such Program Loan at any foreclosure sale thereof or may otherwise take possession of or acquire such premises.

THDA may sell, assign or otherwise dispose of a Program Loan or the premises to which such Program Loan is related:

(1) in order to realize the benefits of insurance with respect to such Program Loan or premises;

(2) in order to provide funds to provide for the redemption or purchase of an amount of Bonds having a value corresponding to the value of such Program Loan; or

(3) if a Projected Cash Flow Statement has been filed with the Trustee giving effect to the proposed sale thereof.

Upon the happening of an Event of Default resulting from nonpayment of the Bonds and at the written request of the Trustee or of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, THDA is required to deliver the Program Loans to the Trustee and take any other steps requested by the Trustee or such Bondholders in order to further effectuate the assignment of all of the Program Loans to the Trustee.

Powers of Amendment (Section 9.2)

Except with respect to certain modifications or amendments that do not require consent of bondholders as described in the General Resolution, any modification or amendment of any provision of the General Resolution or of the rights and obligations of THDA and of the holders of the Bonds may be made by a Supplemental Resolution, with the written consent given as provided in the General Resolution (a) of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, (b) in case less than all of the several Series of Bonds would be affected by such modification or amendment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of each Series so affected, or (c) in case the modification or amendment changes the terms of any Sinking Fund Payment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of the particular Series and maturity entitled to such Sinking Fund Payment, except that if such modification or amendment will, by its terms, not take effect so long as any Bonds of any specified like Series and maturity remain Outstanding, the consent of the holders of such Bonds shall not be required. No such modification or amendment shall permit a change in the terms of redemption or maturity of the principal of any Outstanding Bond or of any installment of interest thereon or a reduction in the principal amount or the Redemption Price thereof or in the rate of interest thereon without the consent of the holder of such Bond or shall reduce the percentages or otherwise affect the classes of Bonds, the consent of the holders of which is required to effect any such modification or amendment.

Events of Default (Sections 10.1 and 10.10)

It is an "event of default" if: (a) THDA shall default in the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if any, on any Bond when and as the same shall become due, whether at maturity or upon call for redemption or otherwise; (b) payment of any installment of interest on any of the Bonds shall not be made within thirty days after the same shall become due; or (c) THDA fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of the General Resolution, or shall default in the performance or observance of any of the covenants, agreements or conditions contained therein, in any Supplemental Resolution, or in the Bonds, and such failure, refusal or default shall continue for a period of forty-five days after written notice thereof by the Trustee or the holders of not less than 5% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee must give the Bondholders notice of each event of default known to the Trustee within ninety days, unless such event of default has been remedied or cured, except that, in the case of default in the payment of the principal of or Redemption Price or interest on any of the Bonds, or in the making of any payment required to be made into the Loan Fund, the Trustee may withhold such notice if and so long as the board of directors, the executive committee, or a trust committee of directors or responsible officers of the Trustee in good faith determines that the withholding of such notice is in the interest of the Bondholders. Each such notice is to be given by mail: (i) to all registered holders of Bonds, as their names and addresses appear upon the books for registration and transfer of Bonds as kept by the Trustee, (ii) to such holders of Bonds as have filed their names and addresses with the Trustee for that purpose, and (iii) to such other persons as is required by law.

Remedies (Sections 10.2 and 10.3)

Upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (a) and (b) above, the Trustee shall proceed, or upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (c) above, the Trustee may proceed, and upon the written request of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds (75% with respect to an acceleration) shall proceed, in its own name, subject to the General Resolution, to protect and enforce the rights of the Bondholders by such of the following remedies as the Trustee, being advised by counsel, shall deem most effectual to protect and enforce such rights: (a) by mandamus or other suit, action or proceeding at law or in equity, to enforce all rights of the Bondholders, including the right to require THDA to receive and collect Revenues adequate to carry out the covenants and agreements as to, and the assignment of, the Program Loans and to require THDA to carry out any other covenant or agreement with Bondholders and to perform its duties under the Act; (b) by bringing suit upon the Bonds; (c) by action or suit in equity, to require THDA to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the holders of the Bonds; (d) by action or suit in equity, to enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the holders of the Bonds; (e) by declaring all Bonds due and payable, and if all defaults shall be made good, then, with the written consent of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, by annulling such declaration and its consequences; or (f) in the event that all Bonds are declared due and payable, by selling Program Loans and Investment Securities.

Except upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default under the Resolution, THDA reserves and retains the privilege to receive and, subject to the terms and provisions of the Resolution, to keep or dispose of, claim, bring suit upon or otherwise exercise, enforce or realize upon its rights and interest in and to the Program Loans and the proceeds and collections therefrom, and neither the Trustee nor any Bondholder will be deemed to be an indispensable party for such purposes.

In the event that during the continuance of an event of default, the funds held by the Trustee and Paying Agents are insufficient for the payment of principal or Redemption Price, if any, and interest then due on the Bonds, such funds (other than funds held for the payment or redemption of particular Bonds which have theretofore become due at maturity or by call for redemption) and any other moneys received or collected by the Trustee acting pursuant to the Act and the General Resolution, after making provision for the payment of any expenses necessary in the opinion of the Trustee to protect the interests of the holders of the Bonds and for the payment of the charges and expenses and liabilities incurred and advances made by the Trustee or any Paying Agents in the performance of their duties under the General Resolution, are to be applied as follows:

(1) Unless the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable:

FIRST: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of all installments of interest then due in the order of the maturity of such installments, and, if the amount available is not sufficient to pay in full any installment, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts due on such installment, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

SECOND: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of the unpaid principal or Redemption Price of any Bonds which shall have become due, whether at maturity or by call for redemption, in the order of their due dates and, if the amounts available shall not be sufficient to pay in full all the Bonds due on any date, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts of principal or Redemption Price, if any, due on such date, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

(2) If the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable, to the payment of the principal and interest then due and unpaid upon the Bond without preference or priority of principal over interest or of interest over principal, or of any installment of interest over any other installment of interest, or of any Bond over any other Bond, ratably, according to the amounts due respectively for principal and interest, to the persons entitled thereto without any discrimination or preference except as to any difference in the respective rates of interest specified in the Bonds.

Bondholders' Direction of Remedial Proceedings (Section 10.5)

The holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding retain the right, upon a written instruction, to direct the method used by the Trustee in conducting all remedial proceedings, but only if such direction is in accordance with the law and the provisions of the Resolution, and is not unjustly, prejudicial, in the Trustee's opinion, to the remaining Bondholders.

Limitation on Rights of Bondholders (Section 10.6)

No individual Bondholder may initiate legal proceedings to enforce rights under the General Resolution unless such holder shall have given to the Trustee written notice of the event of default or breach of duty on account of which such proceeding is to be taken, and unless the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding have made written request of the Trustee after the right to exercise such right of action has occurred, and have afforded the Trustee a reasonable opportunity either to exercise the powers granted to it under the General Resolution or to institute such proceedings in its name and unless, also, there has been offered to the Trustee reasonable security and indemnity against costs, expenses and liabilities and the Trustee has refused or neglected to comply with such request within a reasonable time. No provision in the General Resolution on defaults and remedies affects or impairs the right of any Bondholder to enforce the payment of the principal of and interest on his Bonds, or the obligation of THDA to pay the same.

Compensation of Trustee and Paying Agents (Section 11.5)

THDA is required to pay reasonable compensation to the Trustee and to each Paying Agent for all services rendered under the General Resolution, and also all reasonable expenses, charges, counsel fees and other disbursements, including those of their attorneys, agents and employees, incurred in and about the performance of their powers and duties under the General Resolution, and the Trustee and each Paying Agent shall have a lien therefor on any and all funds at any time held by it under the General Resolution.

Removal of Trustee (Sections 11.8 and 11.9)

The Trustee is required to be removed if so requested by the holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding, excluding any Bonds held by or for the account of THDA. THDA may remove the Trustee at any time, except during the existence of an event of default, for such cause as THDA may determine in its sole discretion. In either such event, a successor is required to be appointed.

Defeasance (Section 12.1)

If THDA shall pay or cause to be paid to the holders of the Bonds, the principal and interest and Redemption Price, if any, to become due thereon, at the times and in the manner stipulated therein and in the General Resolution, then the pledge of any revenues and assets thereby pledged and all other rights granted thereby shall be discharged and satisfied.

Bonds or interest installments for the payment or redemption of which moneys have been set aside and held in trust by Fiduciaries (through deposit by THDA of funds for such payment or redemption or otherwise) at the maturity or Redemption Date thereof will be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect expressed in the above paragraph. Any Bonds shall prior to the maturity or Redemption Date thereof be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect so expressed if (a) in case any of said Bonds are to be redeemed on any date prior to their maturity, THDA has given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as provided in the General Resolution, notice of redemption on said date of such Bonds, (b) there have been deposited with the Trustee either moneys in an amount which are sufficient, or Investment Securities, the principal of and the interest on which when due will provide moneys which, together with the moneys, if any, deposited with the Trustee at the same time, will be sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest due and to become due on said Bonds on and prior to the Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and (c) in the event said Bonds are not by their terms subject to redemption within the next succeeding sixty days, THDA has given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as soon as practicable, at least twice, at an interval of not less than seven days between publications, in the Authorized Newspapers a notice to the holders of such Bonds that the deposit required by (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid and stating such maturity or Redemption Date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, on said Bonds. Neither the Investment Securities nor the moneys so deposited with the Trustee nor principal or interest payments on any such Investment Securities shall be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than (and shall be held in trust for) the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest on said Bonds, but any cash received from such principal or interest payments on such Investment Securities deposited with the Trustee, if not then needed for such purpose, shall, to the extent practicable, be reinvested in Investment Securities maturing at times and in amounts sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest to become due on said Bonds on and prior to such Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and interest earned from such reinvestments shall be paid over to THDA, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

APPENDIX E

OTHER THDA FINANCINGS

General Homeownership Program Bond Resolution (the "1985 General Resolution")

THDA has issued $2,390,670,000 total original principal amount of bonds under the 1985 General Resolution as of August 31, 2011, of which $1,460,245,000 (unaudited) were outstanding as of August 31, 2011, as shown below:

Issue of Bonds	Dated	Issued	Amount Outstanding as of August 31, 2011 (unaudited)	Original Net Interest Cost[1]

Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution")

THDA has issued bonds in the initial aggregate principal amount of $191,885,000 under the 1974 General Resolution which were outstanding as shown on the table below after giving effect to redemptions and regularly scheduled payments of principal and accretion of interest:

Issue of Bonds	Dated	Issued	Outstanding as of August 31, 2011 (unaudited)	Mortgage Rates	Net Interest Cost
2003 Series A	September 4, 2003	$191,885,000	$72,195,000	7.05/7.75	4.90
TOTAL		$191,885,000	$72,195,000

Single Family Program Bond Resolution (the "1981 Resolution")

On February 2, 1994, THDA issued and sold Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 1994-1 (Taxable) in the aggregate principal amount of $33,500,000 (the "Issue 1994-1 Bonds") the proceeds of which were used to redeem all bonds then outstanding under the 1981 Resolution. All assets under the 1981 Resolution, including mortgages financed with the proceeds of bonds issued under the 1981 Resolution and remaining cash and investments held for the benefit of bondholders under the 1981 Resolution, were transferred out of the 1981 Resolution at the time of the issuance and sale of the Issue 1994-1 Bonds.

Other Information

The State Treasurer is the treasurer of THDA and is the custodian of the assets of THDA, except for those assets required to be in the custody of the Trustee pursuant to the provisions of the Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or any other resolution THDA may adopt. The Board of Directors of THDA has adopted an investment policy for THDA assets, other than its mortgage assets (the "non-mortgage assets"). These non-mortgage assets are invested only in investments authorized by the Act, THDA's investment policy, the Resolution, the 1985 General Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution, any other resolution THDA may adopt, and by the Treasurer. The Treasurer has delegated all duties and responsibilities in connection with THDA's investment of THDA non-mortgage assets to the Executive Director of THDA.

BOOK-ENTRY-ONLY SYSTEM

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION CONCERNING DTC AND DTC'S BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM HAS BEEN OBTAINED FROM SOURCES THAT THDA BELIEVES TO BE RELIABLE, BUT THDA TAKES NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACCURACY THEREOF. NEITHER THDA NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT WILL HAVE ANY RESPONSIBILITY OR OBLIGATION TO DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS, BENEFICIAL OWNERS OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS FOR (1) SENDING TRANSACTION STATEMENTS; (2) MAINTAINING, SUPERVISING OR REVIEWING, OR THE ACCURACY OF, ANY RECORDS MAINTAINED BY DTC OR ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS; (3) PAYMENT OR THE TIMELINESS OF PAYMENT BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNER, OF ANY AMOUNT DUE IN RESPECT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF OR REDEMPTION PREMIUM, IF ANY, OR INTEREST ON BONDS; (4) DELIVERY OR TIMELY DELIVERY BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNERS, OF ANY NOTICE (INCLUDING NOTICE OF REDEMPTION) OR OTHER COMMUNICATION WHICH IS REQUIRED OR PERMITTED UNDER THE TERMS OF THE RESOLUTION TO BE GIVEN TO HOLDERS OR OWNERS OF BONDS; (5) THE SELECTION OF THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO RECEIVE PAYMENT IN THE EVENT OF ANY PARTIAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS; OR (6) ANY ACTION TAKEN BY DTC OR ITS NOMINEE AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS.

NEITHER THDA, NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT, NOR ANY UNDERWRITER (OTHER THAN IN ITS CAPACITY, IF ANY, AS DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS), WILL HAVE ANY OBLIGATION TO THE DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT AS NOMINEES WITH RESPECT TO DTC'S PROCEDURES OR ANY PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS BETWEEN DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS, INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS AND THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT RELATING TO THE MAKING OF ANY DEMAND BY CEDE & CO. AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS, THE ADHERENCE TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS OR THE EFFECTIVENESS OF ANY ACTION TAKEN PURSUANT TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS.

1. The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, NY, will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds will be issued as fully-registered securities registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC's partnership nominee) or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC.

2. DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. DTC holds securities that its participants ("Direct Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organizations. DTC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com and www.dtc.org.

3. Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each Bond ("Beneficial Owner") is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction.

Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

4. To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. or such other nominee do not affect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

5. Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to take certain steps to augment the transmission to them of notices of significant events with respect to the Bonds, such as redemptions, tenders, defaults, and proposed amendments to the security documents. For example, Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to ascertain that the nominee holding the Bonds for their benefit has agreed to obtain and transmit notices to Beneficial Owners. In the alternative, Beneficial Owners may wish to provide their names and addresses to the registrar and request that copies of the notices be provided directly to them.

6. Redemption notices shall be sent to DTC. If less than all of the Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

7. Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds unless authorized by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC’s Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to THDA as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

8. Redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments on the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts, upon DTC's receipt of funds and corresponding detail information from the Trustee on payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, or the Trustee or THDA, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the Trustee, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants will be the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners will be the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

9. DTC may discontinue providing its services as depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Trustee or THDA. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor depository is not obtained, Bonds certificates are required to be printed and delivered.

10. THDA may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry only transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bonds certificates will be printed and delivered.

APPENDIX G

PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES

Income and Acquisition Cost Limits

THDA limits the maximum gross annual household income for eligible borrowers and the maximum acquisition cost for homes financed by Program Loans in accordance with Section 143 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and applicable regulations promulgated thereunder (the "Code"). The limits vary from county to county and are periodically adjusted. THDA's current income limits range from $54,480 to $92,680 depending on household size and geographic location. THDA's income limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor income limits established under the Code.

THDA's acquisition cost limits are either within the safe-harbor limitations established under the Code or are established, based on procedures in the Code, using THDA's actual data which justifies a higher limit. THDA's current maximum acquisition cost limit is $200,160 for all counties except counties in the Nashville MSA. For counties in the Nashville MSA, the maximum acquisition cost limit is $226,100. THDA acquisition cost limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor acquisition cost limits established under the Code.

THDA has in the past and may, at any time, further restrict or otherwise modify income and acquisition cost limits for certain specialized Program Loans THDA may elect to finance.

Loan Origination

THDA's Program Loans are originated by certain financial institutions located throughout the State who are approved by THDA to originate Program Loans in its behalf ("Originating Agents"). THDA may purchase Program Loans once they are closed by the Originating Agent or THDA may offer funds to Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis prior to the closings of Program Loans. Originating Agents may charge borrowers a fee, not to exceed 1% of the Program Loan amount, for originating Program Loans. The Originating Agents who may originate Program Loans from Bond proceeds include mortgage banking firms, commercial banks, and savings and loan associations. The lendable proceeds of the Bonds are made available throughout the State. See Appendix C for a description of THDA's Working Agreement with Originating Agents and Guide for Originating Agents.

THDA will set aside a portion of the lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds to make Targeted Area loans for one year as necessary to comply with Section 143(j) of the Code. In the event any of the amounts so reserved by THDA for Targeted Areas remain at the end of the time period specified by the Code, THDA will offer such funds to its Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis.

Requirements Imposed by the Code

Interest on the Bonds is not included in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes only if certain requirements are met, including (i) eligibility requirements for Program Loans and borrowers (see "Mortgage Eligibility Requirements" below), (ii) yield and investment requirements (see "Requirements Related to Arbitrage" below), and (iii) certain other requirements related to the Bonds and the use of proceeds of the Bonds, that are also imposed by the Code.

Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to assure that the interest on the Bonds is not included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. In addition, covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. To comply with these covenants, THDA periodically reviews and modifies its procedures for Originating Agents and Servicers to the extent necessary to operate its single-family mortgage programs in compliance with federal tax law and has established procedures under which such requirements can be met. Such procedures include monitoring the Program Loan applications to be financed with Bond proceeds to ensure compliance with applicable acquisition cost and income limitations. THDA believes that the procedures established are sufficient to ensure that the Bonds will satisfy the requirements of the Code. In the opinion of Bond Counsel, the Guide for Originating Agents, the Guide for Servicers and the Resolution establish procedures under which, if followed, the requirements of applicable federal tax law can be met.

Mortgage Eligibility Requirements -- The Code requires that Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Bonds meet certain mortgage eligibility requirements. THDA must, among other things, reasonably expect at the time each Program Loan is made that the borrower will make the residence financed by the Program Loan the borrower's principal residence within a reasonable time after the financing is provided. Under the procedures which THDA has established, the borrower must certify, at the closing of the Program Loan, that the borrower intends to make the financed residence the borrower's principal residence within sixty days, which is within the period considered reasonable under the Code.

In general, except with respect to Program Loans made in Targeted Areas, borrowers are not permitted to have had a present ownership interest in their principal residence during the three-year period prior to the date on which the Program Loan is closed. THDA will, in cases where the prior ownership limitation applies, require the borrower (i) to provide the most recent federal income tax return and (ii) to certify at the closing of the Program Loan that the borrower has not had a present ownership interest in a principal residence within the preceding three years. In addition, THDA will obtain credit reports for each borrower to determine prior ownership of a principal residence by the borrower.

THDA has established maximum acquisition costs for residences financed with proceeds of Bonds and maximum household income limits, all as permitted by the Code. From time to time, THDA may revise the maximum acquisition cost and the income limits, but in no event will THDA's acquisition cost limits or income limits exceed limits established as permitted under the Code. THDA requires the borrower to certify household income in connection with applying the income limits and requires the borrower and the seller to certify the acquisition cost of the financed residence. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the affidavits of the borrower and the seller and to determine that the Code requirements with respect to acquisition cost limits and income limits are met.

An existing Program Loan or any other existing loan may not be acquired or replaced with proceeds of a Program Loan except for certain initial temporary financing not exceeding a term of 24 months. THDA requires a borrower to certify, at the closing of a Program Loan, that the proceeds of the Program Loan will not be used to acquire or replace an existing loan. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the borrower's federal income tax returns for the preceding year (unless the borrower is not required to file such returns) and a credit report prior to closing to determine if the borrower has any outstanding loans which may have been acquired or replaced with proceeds of the Program Loan.

Program Loans cannot be assumed unless the principal residence, prior home ownership, income and acquisition cost requirements are met at the time of assumption. THDA requires that each of its Program Loans have a "due on sale" clause so that THDA may accelerate the Program Loan if it is assumed and all such requirements are not met. The FHA and VA allow a "due on sale" clause in their respective guaranteed Program Loan programs, provided that the borrower is fully informed and consents in writing to such requirements.

Under the Code, an issue of Bonds is treated as meeting the mortgage eligibility requirements if (i) the issuer in good faith attempted to meet all of the mortgage eligibility requirements before the mortgages were executed, (ii) any failure to comply with the mortgage eligibility requirements is corrected within a reasonable period after such failure is first discovered, and (iii) 95% or more of the lendable proceeds of the issue used to make Program Loans was devoted to finance residences which met all such mortgage eligibility requirements at the time the loans were executed or assumed. In determining whether 95% of the proceeds have been so used, THDA relies on an affidavit of the borrower (the "Borrower Affidavit") and of the seller (the "Seller Affidavit") and on examination of copies of the borrower's most recent federal income tax return, together with credit reports and other relevant documentation.

Requirements Related to Arbitrage -- The Code imposes certain arbitrage requirements in connection with Program Loans financed with the proceeds of Bonds. Generally, the yield on Program Loans financed with lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds may not exceed the yield on such Bonds by more than 1 1/8% and the amount of funds held in certain accounts for such Bonds invested at a yield greater than the yield on such Bonds may not exceed 150% of the current year's debt service on such Bonds.

The Code also requires THDA to periodically rebate to the United States Treasury certain investment earnings on non-mortgage investments to the extent such investment earnings exceed the amount that would have been earned on such investments if those investments were earning a return equal to the yield on the Bonds. THDA has established accounting procedures to determine the amount of such excess investment earnings.

Public Hearing and Approval Requirement -- The Code requires that qualified mortgage bonds be approved prior to issuance by the applicable elected official of the appropriate governmental unit, as specified by statute, after a public hearing held following reasonable public notice or by a voter referendum. THDA has adopted procedures to give public notice, to conduct public hearings, and to obtain approval from the Governor of the State to ensure compliance with the Code.

Reporting Requirement -- The Code requires the issuer of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds to submit to the IRS certain information with respect to the issuer and the particular issue, based on information and reasonable expectations determined as of the date of issue. In addition, each issuer must submit to the IRS a yearly report containing information with regard to the beneficiaries of the proceeds of Program Loans. THDA intends to file for each issue of tax-exempt mortgage bonds it issues, and for each year in which proceeds of any issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds are used to provide Program Loans, the information and reports required.

Certification Requirement -- The Code requires that the aggregate amount of all private activity bonds issued each year in Tennessee be within the volume limitation imposed on the principal amount of tax-exempt mortgage bonds which may be issued in Tennessee for that year. To meet this requirement, THDA requests a certification from an appropriate State official that an issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds is within the volume limitation and files such certification with the IRS or takes alternative action to satisfy this certification requirement.

Targeted Area Requirements -- THDA makes lendable proceeds of Bonds in amounts and for time periods as specified in the Code, available for financing qualified Program Loans for residences in Targeted Areas. Targeted Areas are those census tracts in the State in which seventy percent or more of the families have an income which is eighty percent or less of the statewide median family income or those areas of economic distress designated by the State and approved by the Secretaries of Housing and Urban Development and the Treasury under criteria specified in the Code. THDA has designated certain areas of the State as being in economic distress and such designation has been approved by HUD and the Treasury.

Monitoring for Compliance with the Mortgage Eligibility and Arbitrage Requirements -- Under the procedures which THDA has established to comply with the Code, Originating Agents are responsible for reviewing each Program Loan application and the accompanying documentation, including the Application Affidavit and the Seller Affidavit, for compliance with the Code. Originating Agents are required to take normal and appropriate measures to verify the information given, either independently or concurrently with credit review, when applicable. Originating Agents must cross-check all documentation to ensure that the information presented is complete and consistent. Originating Agents give warranties as to each Program Loan delivered to THDA that, among other things, each Program Loan is in compliance with the Code.

Prior to issuing a commitment to finance a Program Loan and again prior to financing a Program Loan, THDA reviews the Program Loan application submitted by the Originating Agent, which includes the borrower's application, the Application Affidavit, the Seller Affidavit, and the borrower's federal income tax returns, for compliance with the Code. To the extent that these provisions are not complied with, the Originating Agent is contacted to provide additional explanation or documentation to enable THDA to make a determination regarding the status of the Program Loan application. If the Originating Agent does not comply with requests from THDA to correct or complete documentation for any Program Loan or if the Originating Agent fails to comply with the Guide for Originating Agents (which failure is determined in the sole discretion of THDA without regard as to whether the Originating Agent may be at fault), or if the Originating Agent violates any other agreement with THDA, the Originating Agent is required to repurchase the Program Loan.

Loan Servicing

THDA has agreements with qualified financial institutions located in Tennessee or in the eight contiguous states to service Program Loans ("Servicers"). Originating Agents, who also qualify as Servicers, may service the Program Loans they originate. If an Originating Agent declines to service these Program Loans, the Originating Agent, with the approval of THDA, may choose another Servicer to do so. Servicers may be mortgage banking firms, commercial banks or savings and loan associations. THDA may also service Program Loans although it has elected only to service multi-family loans made under the 1974 General Resolution to date. A Servicer may transfer any or all of the Program Loans it services to another approved Servicer, with prior THDA approval.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers updating the total number of Program Loans serviced and providing certain information for each Program Loan including, without limitation, delinquency and foreclosure data.

THDA's agreements with Servicers (the "Servicing Agreements") provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. The Servicers' records relating to serviced Program Loans are subject to examination by THDA's Mortgage Administration and Internal Audit Divisions.

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers which sets forth complete requirements and procedures for servicing Program Loans. THDA may terminate any Servicing Agreement when there is inadequate performance by the Servicer. THDA may also require that a Servicer purchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of a Servicer's failure to perform its obligations with respect to the Program Loans under the Servicing Agreement. For information about Servicing Agreements and substantive requirements relating to servicing Program Loans, see Appendix C.

Tennessee Housing Development Agency
Housing Finance Program Bonds

$65,290,000 Issue 2011-C (Non-AMT)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined a record of proceedings related to the issuance and sale of $65,290,000 in aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2011-C (Non-AMT) (the "Issue 2011-C Bonds") of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA"), a body politic and corporate, constituting a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State of Tennessee (the "State"), organized and existing under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency Act, constituting Chapter 23 of Title 13 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, as amended (the "Act"), and other laws of the State. Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the General Resolution (as hereinafter defined).

The Issue 2011-C Bonds were authorized to be issued pursuant to the Act, the General Housing Finance Resolution of THDA, adopted November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on September 27, 2011, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on October 5, 2011 (together, the "Supplemental Resolution" and, together with the General Resolution, the "Resolution").

THDA has issued and is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds are and, when issued, shall, with the Issue 2011-C Bonds (collectively, the "Housing Finance Program Bonds") be entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution.

The Issue 2011-C Bonds mature in the years and in the respective principal amounts, bear interest at the respective rates and are otherwise as described in the Supplemental Resolution. The Issue 2011-C Bonds are being issued to make funds available to make or purchase Program Loans, as defined in the General Resolution, in accordance with the program of THDA permitted under the Resolution (the "Program").

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), establishes certain requirements which must be met subsequent to the delivery of the Issue 2011-C Bonds in order that interest on the Issue 2011-C Bonds be excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation. We have examined the Resolution and other relevant single family housing program documents which set forth such various federal tax law requirements which must be met by THDA. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with such requirements of federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures.

Based upon the foregoing we are of the opinion that:

1. Under the Constitution and laws of the State, THDA has lawful power and authority, among other things, to carry out the Program, to provide funds therefor by the adoption of the Resolution and the issuance and sale of the Issue 2011-C Bonds and to perform its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Resolution, including the financing of single family mortgage loans and collecting and enforcing the collection of revenues and prepayments as covenanted in the Resolution.

2. The Resolution has been duly adopted by THDA and is valid and binding upon THDA.

3. The Issue 2011-C Bonds are valid and legally binding special obligations of THDA and are entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the Resolution.

4. The Resolution creates, for the benefit of the holders of the Housing Finance Program Bonds, including the Issue 2011-C Bonds, the valid pledge of and lien on revenues, as defined in the Resolution, and moneys and securities held or set aside or to be held or set aside in the Funds and Accounts established thereunder, subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application thereof for the purposes and on the terms and conditions set forth in the Resolution.

5. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has validly covenanted in the manner and to the extent provided in the Resolution, among other things, to make or purchase mortgage loans under the Program with the proceeds of the Issue 2011-C Bonds, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect revenues and, when applicable, prepayments.

6. The Issue 2011-C Bonds do not constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or a pledge of its full faith and credit or of its taxing power and are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

7. Under existing laws as presently enacted and construed and assuming compliance with the covenants concerning federal tax law described above, (i) interest on the Issue 2011-C Bonds is excludable from the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, and (ii) interest on the Issue 2011-C Bonds will not be treated as a preference item to be included in calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

8. Under the laws of the State as enacted and construed on the date hereof, the interest on the Issue 2011-C Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State on interest income; however, the Issue 2011-C Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State.

In addition to the opinions set forth in paragraph (7) above, certain individual owners of the Issue 2011-C Bonds may have to take interest on such Issue 2011-C Bonds into account for the purpose of calculating the amount of social security or railroad retirement benefits includible in gross income of such owners for federal income tax purposes. All owners of the Issue 2011-C Bonds (including, but not limited to, insurance companies, financial institutions, S corporations and United States branches of foreign corporations) should consult their tax advisors concerning the effects of these and other applicable provisions of the Code on their individual tax liabilities. The extent of certain indirect tax consequences will depend upon the recipient's particular tax status or other items of income or deduction. We express no opinion regarding any such consequences.

In rendering this opinion, we are advising you that the enforceability of rights and remedies with respect to the Resolution and the Issue 2011-C Bonds may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency and other laws affecting creditors' rights or remedies heretofore or hereafter enacted.

We express no opinion herein as to the adequacy or accuracy of the Official Statement pertaining to the issuance of the Issue 2011-C Bonds.

Very truly yours,

Tennessee Housing Development Agency
Housing Finance Program Bonds

$34,710,000 Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined a record of proceedings related to the deemed reissuance of a portion of the $34,710,000 in aggregate principal amount of Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B (Taxable) (the "Issue 2009-B Bonds") of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA"), a body politic and corporate, constituting a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State of Tennessee (the "State"), organized and existing under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency Act, constituting Chapter 23 of Title 13 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, as amended (the "Act"), and other laws of the State. Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the General Resolution (as hereinafter defined).

The Issue 2009-B Bonds were authorized to be issued pursuant to the Act, the General Housing Finance Resolution of THDA, adopted November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on November 19, 2009, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on December 23, 2009 (together, the "2009 Supplemental Resolution").

Proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds have been deposited in the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund and are subject to release therefrom upon satisfaction of the conditions for such release set forth in the 2009 Supplemental Resolution. Pursuant to the General Resolution, the 2009 Supplemental Resolution and a Resolution adopted by THDA on September 27, 2011, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on October 5, 2011 (together, the "2011 Supplemental Resolution," and, together with the General Resolution and the 2009 Supplemental Resolution, the "Resolution"), THDA has elected to release $60,000,000 of proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds from the Issue 2009-B Escrow Subaccount of the Loan Fund. Upon such release and in accordance with the Resolution, a corresponding amount of the Issue 2009-B Bonds will be redesignated as the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5 (Non-AMT) (the "Subseries B-5 Bonds").

THDA has issued and is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds are and, when issued, shall, with the Subseries B-5 Bonds (collectively, the "Housing Finance Program Bonds") be entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution.

The Subseries B-5 Bonds mature in the year, bear interest at the rates and are otherwise as described in the 2009 Supplemental Resolution and the 2010 Supplemental Resolution. Proceeds of the Issue 2009-B Bonds are being released to make funds available to make or purchase Program Loans, as defined in the General Resolution, in accordance with the program of THDA permitted under the Resolution (the "Program").

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), establishes certain requirements which must be met subsequent to the delivery of the Subseries B-5 Bonds in order that interest on the Subseries B-5 Bonds be excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation. We have examined the Resolution and other relevant single family housing program documents which set forth such various federal tax law requirements which must be met by THDA. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with such requirements of federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures.

Based upon the foregoing we are of the opinion that:

1. Under the Constitution and laws of the State, THDA has lawful power and authority, among other things, to carry out the Program, to provide funds therefor by the adoption of the Resolution and the reissuance and redesignation of the Subseries B-5 Bonds and to perform its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Resolution, including the financing of single family mortgage loans and collecting and enforcing the collection of revenues and prepayments as covenanted in the Resolution.

2. The Resolution has been duly adopted by THDA and is valid and binding upon THDA.

3. The Subseries B-5 Bonds are valid and legally binding special obligations of THDA and are entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the Resolution.

4. The Resolution creates, for the benefit of the holders of the Housing Finance Program Bonds, including the Subseries B-5 Bonds, the valid pledge of and lien on revenues, as defined in the Resolution, and moneys and securities held or set aside or to be held or set aside in the Funds and Accounts established thereunder, subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application thereof for the purposes and on the terms and conditions set forth in the Resolution.

5. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has validly covenanted in the manner and to the extent provided in the Resolution, among other things, to make or purchase mortgage loans under the Program with funds allocable to the Subseries B-5 Bonds, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect revenues and, when applicable, prepayments.

6. The Subseries B-5 Bonds do not constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or a pledge of its full faith and credit or of its taxing power and are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

7. Under existing laws as presently enacted and construed and assuming compliance with the covenants concerning federal tax law described above, interest on the Subseries B-5 Bonds (i) is excludable from the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, (ii) will not be treated as a preference item to be included in calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations and (iii) will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

8. Under the laws of the State as enacted and construed on the date hereof, the interest on the Subseries B-5 Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State on interest income; however, the Subseries B-5 Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State.

In addition to the opinions set forth in paragraph (7) above, certain individual owners of the Subseries B-5 Bonds may have to take interest on such Subseries B-5 Bonds into account for the purpose of calculating the amount of social security or railroad retirement benefits includible in gross income of such owners for federal income tax purposes. All owners of the Subseries B-5 Bonds (including, but not limited to, insurance companies, financial institutions, S corporations and United States branches of foreign corporations) should consult their tax advisors concerning the effects of these and other applicable provisions of the Code on their individual tax liabilities. The extent of certain indirect tax consequences will depend upon the recipient's particular tax status or other items of income or deduction. We express no opinion regarding any such consequences.

In rendering this opinion, we are advising you that the enforceability of rights and remedies with respect to the Resolution and the Subseries B-5 Bonds may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency and other laws affecting creditors' rights or remedies heretofore or hereafter enacted.

We express no opinion herein as to the adequacy or accuracy of the Official Statement pertaining to the issuance of the Subseries B-5 Bonds.

Very truly yours,

NEW ISSUE BOOK-ENTRY ONLY

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under existing federal laws and assuming continuing compliance by THDA with federal tax law requirements, interest on the Issue 2012-1 Bonds is excluded from gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. Bond Counsel is also of the opinion that (i) interest on the Issue 2012-1A Bonds will be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax on individuals and corporations, (ii) interest on the Issue 2012-1B Bonds and the Issue 2012-1C Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, (iii) interest on the Issue 2012-1B Bonds will be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 as amended (the "Code"), and (iv) interest on the Issue 2012-1C Bonds will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code. In addition, Bond Counsel is of the opinion that, under existing laws of the State of Tennessee, the interest on the Issue 2012-1 Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Issue 2012-1 Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee. The Issue 2012-1A Bonds (the "Issue 2012-1A Bonds"), the Issue 2012-1B Bonds (the "Issue 2012-1B Bonds") and the Issue 2012-1C Bonds (the "Issue 2012-1C Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2012-1A Bonds and the Issue 2012-1B Bonds, the "Issue 2012-1 Bonds" or the "Offered Bonds") are being issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in book-entry form and when delivered will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, New York, to which principal and interest payments on the Offered Bonds will be made. So long as Cede & Co. or another nominee of DTC is the registered owner of the Offered Bonds, payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Offered Bonds will be made directly to DTC. Disbursement of such payments to DTC's Direct Participants (as herein defined) is the responsibility of DTC and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners (as herein defined) is the responsibility of the Direct Participants and Indirect Participants (as herein defined). Beneficial Owners of the Offered Bonds will not receive physical delivery of bond certificates. See Appendix F - "Book-Entry-Only System." The Offered Bonds will be issued in denominations of $5,000 and integral multiples thereof. Interest on the Offered Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Offered Bonds and is payable on January 1, 2013, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, as more fully described herein.

The Offered Bonds are subject to redemption at par prior to their stated maturities at the times and under the conditions set forth under the caption "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS."

The Offered Bonds are general obligations of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution (as defined herein) for the payment of the principal or redemption price of and interest on Offered Bonds and other funds of THDA legally available therefor.

THDA has no taxing power. The Offered Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State of Tennessee (the "State") or any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof, are pledged for the payment of the principal of or interest on the Offered Bonds.

This cover page contains certain information for quick reference only. It is not a summary of this issue. Investors must read the entire Official Statement to obtain information essential to making an informed investment decision.

The Offered Bonds are being offered when, as and if issued by THDA, subject to delivery of the opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel, and certain other conditions. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York, and certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller. It is expected that the Offered Bonds will be available for book-entry delivery through DTC on or about July 19, 2012.

INTRODUCTION

This Official Statement (the "Official Statement") provides certain information in connection with the issuance by the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") of its Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2012-1A in the aggregate principal amount of $27,285,000 (the "Issue 2012-1A Bonds"), the Issue 2012-1B in the aggregate principal amount of $15,825,000 (the "Issue 2012-1B Bonds") and the Issue 2012-1C in the aggregate principal amount of $90,000,000 (the "Issue 2012-1C Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2012-1A Bonds and the Issue 2012-1B Bonds, the "Issue 2012-1 Bonds" or the "Offered Bonds").

THDA is authorized to issue and sell its bonds and to conduct its other activities by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 13-23-101 et seq., as amended (the "Act"). The issuance and sale of the Offered Bonds is authorized by the General Homeownership Program Bond Resolution, adopted by THDA on June 6, 1985, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on March 27, 2012, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee of THDA (the "Bond Finance Committee") on June 27, 2012 (the "Issue 2012-1 Supplemental Resolution"). The General Resolution and the Issue 2012-1 Supplemental Resolution are herein collectively referred to as the "Resolution."

The Act requires submission to the Bond Finance Committee of THDA, which consists of the Chairman of THDA and the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, the Secretary of State of the State of Tennessee, the State Treasurer of the State of Tennessee, and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration of the State of Tennessee, of a plan of financing pertaining to the sale of any bonds or notes by THDA and to request that the Bond Finance Committee sell such bonds or notes on behalf of THDA, under the terms and conditions set forth in the Act. The Bond Finance Committee approved the plan of financing with respect to Issue 2012-1 Bonds on March 26, 2012. The Act does not permit THDA to have outstanding bonds and notes in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $2,930,000,000, excluding bonds and notes which have been refunded. As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $1,312,985,000 were outstanding under the Resolution, bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $61,400,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution") and bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $631,910,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Finance Program Resolution (the "2009 General Resolution").

On June 6, 2012, the State Funding Board approved the THDA Schedule of Financing for fiscal year 2013. The Schedule of Financing includes the issuance of bonds in 2013 to refund all outstanding bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution. Bonds issued to refund the bonds outstanding under the 1974 General Resolution could be issued under the General Resolution, the 2009 General Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or a new general resolution yet to be adopted. Approval of the Schedule of Financing by the State Funding Board is required by Tennessee law. THDA is not required, however, to carry out financings strictly in accordance with the Schedule of Financing. While THDA has approved the Schedule of Financing for purposes of submission to the State Funding Board, no further action has been taken by the THDA Board of Directors with respect to such refunding. No assurance can be provided with respect to the actual refunding of the bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution, the timing thereof, or the means by which such bonds are refunded.

Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Offered Bonds, are and will be general obligations of THDA, payable from (i) the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution for the payment of the principal and redemption price thereof and the interest thereon, including the Debt Service Reserve Fund established pursuant to the Resolution, as more fully described herein under the caption "SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS" and (ii) other funds of THDA legally available therefor. All bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Offered Bonds, are equally and ratably secured by the pledges and covenants contained therein and all such bonds, including the Offered Bonds, are sometimes referred to herein as the "Bonds". The security interest created by the pledge of the General Resolution is governed by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 9-22-101 et seq., as amended, relating to the perfection, priority and enforcement of public pledges and liens (the "Public Pledge Act"). Security interests governed under the Public Pledge Act are expressly exempt from Tennessee's codification of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

The revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution are not pledged as security for bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution or the 2009 General Resolution. The revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the 1974 General Resolution and the 2009 General Resolution, respectively, are not pledged as security for the Offered Bonds. See Appendix E for a description of the 1974 General Resolution and the 2009 General Resolution.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State or of any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of principal or interest on the Bonds.

THDA's Program Loan portfolio includes only first lien, fixed interest rate single-family Program Loans with equal monthly installments of principal and interest. As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), 17,447 Program Loans were outstanding under the Resolution having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $1,336,471,953. Based on the outstanding principal balance of Program Loans as of May 31, 2012, approximately 63.47% were FHA insured, approximately 2.94% were VA guaranteed, approximately 19.29% were insured by private mortgage insurance companies, approximately 10.73% were guaranteed by United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD"), and approximately 3.62% were uninsured (i.e. Program Loans for which the borrower has at least a 22% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing, or at least a 25% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing for Program Loans closed prior to July 29, 1999, or Program Loans which were privately insured at the time of closing but have since met the requirements of the Homeowner Protection Act of 1998 for termination of private mortgage insurance). See "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOAN PORTFOLIO – Homeownership Program Portfolio Data" and Appendix B under the heading "Private Mortgage Insurance Programs".

THDA expects to use the proceeds from the issuance of the Issue 2012-1A Bonds and the Issue 2012-1B Bonds to refund its Issue 2003-1 Bonds and Issue 2003-3 Bonds issued and outstanding under the General Resolution (the "Prior Bonds"). As a result of the refunding, mortgage loans previously allocable to the Prior Bonds in an expected aggregate outstanding amount of approximately $46,095,000 will be allocated to the Offered Bonds (the "Transferred Program Loans"). See "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOANS—Description of the Transferred Program Loans" for information about the Transferred Program Loans. In addition, Revenue Fund investments allocable to the Prior Bonds in the projected amount of approximately $1,175,000 will be transferred to accounts established for the Offered Bonds under the General Resolution (the "Transferred Investments"). It is anticipated that the Prior Bonds will be redeemed prior to maturity on September 1, 2012, at a redemption price of 100% plus accrued interest. No assurance can be provided that each such issue will actually be refunded.

THDA expects that the proceeds of the Issue 2012-1C Bonds, and a contribution from THDA, will be used to: (i) finance first lien single-family Program Loans (or participations therein) for single-family, owner-occupied housing (one to four dwelling units); (ii) pay capitalized interest, if any; (iii) pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' Fees and other transaction costs; and (iv) make a deposit to the Debt Service Reserve Fund, if required. See "APPLICATION OF BOND PROCEEDS." The terms and conditions of Program Loans, including Program Loans financed with amounts made available by the issuance of the Offered Bonds, are described herein under the caption "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" and in Appendix G.

As used herein, the term "Program Loans" refers to all mortgage loans financed under the General Resolution, including the Transferred Program Loans and mortgage loans to be financed with proceeds of the Offered Bonds, and the phrase "Program Loans allocable to (or allocated to) the Offered Bonds" shall include the Transferred Program Loans as well as any new Program Loans (or participations therein) financed with the proceeds of the Offered Bonds.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee") is trustee and paying agent for all Bonds issued under the General Resolution.

A brief description of the Offered Bonds, THDA and its Program Loans follows, together with summaries of the terms of the Bonds, the Resolution and certain provisions of the Act and other activities of THDA. Such summaries do not purport to be complete and all such summaries and references to the Act and the Resolution are qualified in their entirety by reference to each such document, copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Certain capitalized terms utilized herein are defined in Appendix D hereto. Capitalized terms utilized herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Resolution.

DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS

General

The Offered Bonds will be issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in denominations of $5,000 principal amount and any integral multiple thereof and will be available in book-entry only form. Purchasers of Offered Bonds will not receive certificates representing their interest in the Offered Bonds. The Depository Trust Company, ("DTC"), New York, New York, will act as securities depository for the Offered Bonds. The ownership of one fully registered certificated bond, without coupons, for each series and maturity set forth on the inside cover page hereof, each in the aggregate principal amount of such series and maturity, will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for DTC, and deposited with DTC via the FAST system. See Appendix F "Book-Entry Only System" for a description of the DTC book-entry only system.

The Offered Bonds will mature on the dates and bear interest from the date of delivery at the rates indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement. Interest on the Offered Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds and is payable on January 1, 2013, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

Optional Redemption. The Issue 2012-1 Bonds maturing on and after July 1, 2022, are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their respective maturities, either as a whole or in part, at any time, on or after January 1, 2022, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds. The Issue 2012-1A PAC Bonds and Issue 2012-1C PAC Bonds (collectively, the “PAC Bonds”) are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such PAC Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Account representing Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of PAC Bonds on any Interest Payment Date commencing January 1, 2013; provided, however, PAC Bonds may be redeemed between Interest Payment Dates on the first Business Day of any month for which adequate notice of redemption may be given.

While any PAC Bonds remain Outstanding, Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments shall be used as follows:

FIRST, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds are equal to or less than 400% PSA (as defined below under “ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE OFFERED BONDS – Average Life of PAC Bonds”), as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments shall first be applied to redeem PAC Bonds on a pro rata basis up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) for the related PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading “--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule,” the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, other than the PAC Bonds; and

SECOND, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds are in excess of 400% PSA, as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) for the related PAC Bonds shall first be applied to redeem PAC Bonds on a pro rata basis and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading “--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule,” the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the PAC Bonds (any such remainder used to redeem PAC Bonds being an “Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption”); provided, however, that (i) the source of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption is restricted to that portion of the available Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments which is in excess of 400% PSA, (ii) the principal amount of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption may not be an amount in excess of the PAC Bonds’ proportionate amount of all Issue 2012-1 Bonds then Outstanding and (iii) the PAC Bonds shall be redeemed on a pro rata basis.

“Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments” means, as of any date of computation, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Offered Bonds.

“Planned Amortization Amount” means the dollar amount for each Interest Payment Date set forth below. Each Planned Amortization Amount represents the cumulative principal amount of Issue 2012-1A PAC Bonds and Issue 2012-1C PAC Bonds, respectively, assumed to be redeemed from Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments as of a particular Interest Payment Date based on receipt of principal prepayments at a 75% PSA prepayment rate for Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds. See “ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE OFFERED BONDS – Average Life of PAC Bonds” for a description of PSA prepayment rates.

The Planned Amortization Amounts for the Issue 2012-1A PAC Bonds and Issue 2012-1C PAC Bonds (which assumes the full origination of Program Loans with proceeds allocable to the Offered Bonds in accordance with the expected schedule for such origination, the allocation of the Transferred Program Loans to the Offered Bonds in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $46,095,000 with an approximate weighted average maturity of 248 months, and receipt of principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds at a rate equal to 75% of the PSA prepayment rate), as of each payment date are set forth below:

PAC Bonds Planned Amortization Schedules

Special Optional Redemption of the Offered Bonds, including Cross Calls The Offered Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part, at any time prior to maturity, in accordance with the provisions of the Resolution, and in an amount equal to amounts available for such purposes from (i) proceeds of the Offered Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans; (ii) except as otherwise described under the headings “DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds”, and “-Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule”, repayments and prepayments of Program Loans allocated to the Offered Bonds in excess of regularly scheduled debt service payments on the Offered Bonds; (iii) repayments and prepayments of Program Loans financed with the proceeds of any other Bonds issued under the Resolution, subject to limitations contained in the Code, and (iv) other amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund of the Resolution in excess of the amounts then required for the payment of Debt Service and Program Expenses; provided, however, that PAC Bonds (a) are only subject to redemption under clause (ii) above as described under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds” and (b) shall not be subject to redemption as described in clauses (iii) and (iv) above if such redemption would cause amortization of the PAC Bonds to exceed the related Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the PAC Bonds Amortization Schedules. If PAC Bonds are redeemed from amounts described in clauses (i), (iii) and (iv) above, the PAC Bonds shall be redeemed on a pro rata basis. The Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Offered Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading “The Program”), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans.

The date of redemption shall be determined by the Trustee upon the direction of THDA, subject to the provisions of and in accordance with the Resolution. The Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the redemption date, if applicable; provided, however, that the redemption price of the PAC Bonds in the event of a redemption described in clause (i) above shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. The Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption, unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of Offered Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that the PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in amounts in excess of their proportionate amounts of all Offered Bonds then Outstanding in the event of a redemption pursuant to clause (i) above. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS – Prepayments" and "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS - THDA Redemption Practices".

Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule. To the extent not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments on the Offered Bonds or otherwise required to be applied to the redemption of the PAC Bonds, repayments and prepayments of principal of the Program Loans or portions thereof allocable to the Offered Bonds shall be applied to redeem Offered Bonds in such principal amounts as are required to satisfy the requirements of the Code. The redemption price of Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable. Subject to the redemption procedures under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds," THDA shall direct the redemption of the Offered Bonds pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Offered Bonds to be redeemed; provided, however, that the PAC Bonds may be redeemed in an amount that exceeds the related Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the PAC Bonds Planned Amortization Schedules only if there are no other Offered Bonds outstanding and if the PAC Bonds are to be redeemed pursuant to this paragraph, the PAC Bonds shall be redeemed on a pro rata basis.

THDA will, to the extent required by the Code, redeem Offered Bonds from prepayments and repayments on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Offered Bonds in accordance with the following approximate 10 year rule percentages to the extent such amounts are not otherwise applied to pay maturing principal on the Offered Bonds, to redeem Offered Bonds from Sinking Fund Payments or to redeem PAC Bonds:

Commencement Date	% Prepayments and Repayments Applied to Payment or Redemption
July 19, 2012	13.9%
January 2, 2013	14.0
February 27, 2013	20.2
July 1, 2013	22.4
November 5, 2013	32.4
July 19, 2022	100.0

THDA will redeem the Offered Bonds in accordance with this schedule to the extent required to comply with the Code. THDA reserves the right to modify this schedule at any time to the extent the Code permits or requires such modification.

Redemption of Offered Bonds from Unexpended Proceeds. The Offered Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part on any date, from proceeds of the Offered Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans (or participations therein). In addition, the Offered Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on January 1, 2016, in the event and to the extent that there are unexpended proceeds of the Offered Bonds on deposit in the Issue 2012-1 Bonds Subaccount of the Loan Fund on such date. Offered Bonds to be redeemed from unexpended proceeds shall be redeemed at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable; provided, however, that the redemption price of the PAC Bonds shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. THDA shall direct the redemption of the Offered Bonds pro rata among all maturities of such Offered Bonds then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall also deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Offered Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that the PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in amounts in excess of their proportionate amounts of all Offered Bonds then Outstanding.

Selection By Lot

If less than all of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds of like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the particular Issue 2012-1 Bonds of such series and maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in accordance with the Resolution.

Notice of Redemption

When the Trustee shall receive notice from THDA of its election or direction to redeem Bonds, and when redemption of Bonds is required by the Resolution, the Trustee shall give notice, in the name of THDA, of the redemption of such Bonds, which notice shall specify the series and maturities of the Bonds to be redeemed, the redemption date and the place or places where amounts due upon such redemption will be payable and, if less than all of the Bonds of any like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the letters and numbers or other distinguishing marks of such Bonds so to be redeemed, and, in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, such notice shall also specify the respective portions of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Such notice shall further state that on such date there shall become due and payable upon each Bond to be redeemed the Redemption Price thereof, or the Redemption Price of the specified portions of the principal thereof in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, together with interest accrued to the redemption date, and that from and after such date interest thereon shall cease to accrue and be payable. In the event that the Trustee does not, at the time notice of any redemption is required to be given under the Resolution, hold on deposit in the Redemption Fund an amount sufficient to pay the Redemption Price of, plus interest accrued and unpaid to the redemption, such notice shall further state that the redemption is conditional upon sufficient funds being so deposited or transferred by or at the direction of THDA to the Redemption Fund and that, in the event such funds are not so deposited or transferred, the redemption shall be canceled, or reduced to the extent of funds actually on deposit, and written notice of such cancellation or reduction shall be given to the holders of Bonds which are not to be redeemed within ten (10) days following the proposed redemption date in the same manner as provided for notice of the redemption.

Notice of redemption of Bonds shall be mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid (and by reputable overnight delivery service in the case of Bonds held by any securities depository), no less than twenty (20) days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to DTC) before the redemption date, to the registered owners of any Bonds or portions thereof which are to be redeemed at their last addresses appearing upon the registry book. So long as DTC or its nominee is the registered owner of the Bonds, THDA shall not be responsible for mailing notices of redemption to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants or to the Beneficial Owners of the Bonds. See Appendix F – "Book-Entry-Only System" for a discussion of DTC practices.

APPLICATION OF BOND PROCEEDS

SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS

Security of Bonds and Sources of Payment

The Bonds are general obligations of THDA payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution and other funds of THDA legally available therefor. Subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application of certain monies for the purposes and under the terms set forth therein, and to the payment to the Trustee and the Paying Agents and depositories of compensation for their services and expenses, such Bonds are secured equally and ratably by a pledge of the following:

(a) Revenues, which include scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of principal of and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicers as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loans and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan;

(b) Non-Mortgage Receipts, which includes all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses from investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, including the Escrow Fund;

(c) All Funds and Accounts created by the Resolution, including the Debt Service Reserve Fund, and monies and securities therein, and amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited in the Escrow Fund (see Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION");

(d) Any monies paid by the State and deposited in the Debt Service Reserve Fund pursuant to the Act and the Resolution;

(e) All right, title and interest of THDA in and to the Program Loans made or purchased pursuant to the Resolution; and

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds do not constitute a debt, liability or obligation of the State or any other political subdivision thereof (except THDA). Neither the full faith and credit nor taxing power of the State or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of the principal of, redemption price or interest on the Bonds. The Bonds are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

Debt Service Reserve Fund

The Act authorizes THDA to establish one or more reserve funds to be known as debt service reserve funds. In accordance with the Act and the Resolution, THDA has established a Debt Service Reserve Fund for the Bonds. The Resolution provides that THDA may not issue any Bond unless the amount in the Debt Service Reserve Fund is at least equal to the maximum amount of principal, sinking fund installments and interest required to be made and becoming due on all Bonds then outstanding for the then current or any succeeding State fiscal year (July 1 to June 30) or any succeeding calendar year, whichever is greater (the "Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement"). On the date of issuance of the Offered Bonds, the Debt Service Reserve Fund will contain an amount at least equal to the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement. The Resolution requires that if, at any time, there is not a sufficient amount available in the Debt Service and Expense Account to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund installments maturing and becoming due on the Bonds, the Trustee must transfer the amount of the deficiency from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to the Debt Service and Expense Account.

The Act establishes a mechanism for certifying an amount, if any, needed to restore the Debt Service Reserve Fund to an amount equal to the maximum amount of principal, or sinking fund payments, and interest, maturing, required to be made and becoming due in any succeeding state fiscal year on THDA's bonds. These provisions of the Act do not constitute a legally enforceable obligation upon the State to pay such amounts. Under the Constitution of the State, no monies may be withdrawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. With respect to any sum so certified by the Chairman of THDA to the Governor and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration in accordance with the Act, the General Assembly is authorized to appropriate, to expend and to provide for the payment of such sum, but is not legally required to do so. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with the provisions of the Act relating to the requisite certification by the Chairman of THDA to the Governor and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration concerning the Debt Service Reserve Fund and has also covenanted to make and deliver such certification annually on or before November 1 and to deposit all monies received pursuant to any such certification into the Debt Service Reserve Fund. THDA has never requested the State to appropriate monies for the Debt Service Reserve Fund or for any other debt service reserve fund established pursuant to the Act or any other bond resolution of THDA.

Additional Bonds

THDA is authorized to issue additional series of Bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such Bonds, when issued, shall, with the Offered Bonds and other outstanding Bonds, be entitled to the equal benefit, protection, and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution, except as otherwise described herein.

ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS

General

The General Resolution requires THDA to file Projected Cash Flow Statements with the Trustee periodically in connection with various actions THDA may take pursuant to the General Resolution including, without limitation, the issuance of Bonds. (See Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION" for a description of Projected Cash Flow Statements and the circumstances under which they are required.) A Projected Cash Flow Statement meets the requirements of the General Resolution if it shows that sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service on Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution, including the Offered Bonds, and Program Expenses and that the amount of all assets held under the General Resolution equals or exceeds the total liability of all Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution. In connection with the preparation of Projected Cash Flow Statements upon the issuance or remarketing of Bonds, including the Offered Bonds, THDA makes certain assumptions concerning revenues derived from Program Loans, Program Expenses, rate and amount of prepayments, earnings on investments, rate of origination of Program Loans, and Bond redemptions.

THDA has prepared and filed a Projected Cash Flow Statement in connection with the issuance of the Offered Bonds (the "Projected Cash Flow Statement"). The Projected Cash Flow Statement has been based, among other assumptions, on the assumptions that (i) Transferred Program Loans in the aggregate principal amount of approximately $46,095,000, with a weighted average maturity of approximately 248 months and a weighted average interest rate of approximately 5.53%, will be allocated to the Offered Bonds upon the refunding of the Prior Bonds and (ii) THDA originates approximately $90,000,000 of thirty year Program Loans (or participations therein) bearing interest at a weighted average interest rate of approximately 4.508%; approximately 5.0% of which are participations funded with proceeds of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds for which none of the interest is allocable to the Offered Bonds. The Projected Cash Flow Statement has evidenced that, upon the issuance of the Offered Bonds, sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service for all Bonds Outstanding, including the Offered Bonds. THDA believes the assumptions used in connection with the preparation of the Projected Cash Flow Statement are reasonable. THDA cannot, however, guarantee that actual results will not vary materially from such assumptions. If subsequent events do not correspond to such assumptions, the amount of Revenues available to make payments of principal and interest on the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds, when scheduled, may be adversely affected and the expected life of the Offered Bonds may be affected.

Payments of Principal and Interest on the Bonds

The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that payments of principal and interest on the Offered Bonds will be made, when scheduled, from scheduled payments and prepayments of principal and interest on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Offered Bonds and from other moneys available under the Resolution including, without limitation, income expected to be derived from the investment of monies in the funds and accounts established under the Resolution. For purposes of preparing the Projected Cash Flow Statement, it has been assumed that scheduled payments of principal and interest on the Program Loans will be received 29 days from the date on which they are due. Such sources of available monies may be insufficient to make such payments in the event that (i) regularly scheduled payments on Program Loans are not made on a timely basis in accordance with their terms, (ii) THDA incurs uninsured losses in connection with the foreclosure of Program Loans or insured losses which the insurer does not pay, (iii) THDA is not able to finance Program Loans in accordance with its expectations, (iv) actual investment rates on Investment Securities are less than those assumed, or (v) prepayments are not received as anticipated to the extent the Projected Cash Flow Statement was based on an assumed level of prepayments.

Program Loans

Certain moneys made available from the issuance of the Offered Bonds will be deposited in the Issue 2012-1 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund and will be used to continue THDA's program of financing Program Loans for single family, owner occupied residential housing for low and moderate income persons and families. THDA may use amounts made available as a result of the issuance of Offered Bonds to finance Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans. In addition, THDA may use amounts made available from the issuance of the Offered Bonds to finance Program Loans on a blended basis with proceeds of other bonds of THDA, including participation interests bearing interest at 0% in order to satisfy mortgage yield limitations of the Code. See "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" – Homeownership Choices" and Appendix G – "PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES" for more information about specific program requirements.

Program Loans are made on a continuing, first-come, first served basis by Originating Agents approved by THDA. The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that Program Loans (or participations therein) financed with the proceeds of the Issue 2012-1C Bonds, will be first-lien, thirty-year, fixed-rate mortgages, with equal monthly installments of principal and interest bearing interest at a weighted average of 4.508%; approximately $4,500,000 of which are participations for which none of the interest is allocable to the Offered Bonds and that Program Loans purchased by THDA from Originating Agents will be purchased at par.

THDA's general policy is to maintain a steadily available supply of funds to finance program loans at competitive interest rates. THDA generally establishes interest rates for its program loans when bonds are sold by taking into account the maximum permitted interest rate under the Code and the spread between that rate and the then prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. THDA prefers to maintain the same interest rates throughout the period of origination of program loans for each issue of bonds, however, THDA regularly reviews these interest rates in light of market conditions and retains the flexibility to modify its interest rates to meet changing needs and conditions. No assumptions can be made regarding the length of time an interest rate set by THDA will remain available or what effect a particular interest rate will have on the origination of Program Loans.

Nonorigination of Program Loans

While THDA retains the flexibility to modify the interest rates at which Program Loans are offered, there are circumstances under which these interest rates may not be competitive with prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. Under these circumstances, it will be more difficult for THDA to originate Program Loans. The ability of THDA to finance Program Loans as described may also be affected by the availability of residences that meet THDA's acquisition cost limits and the willingness of potential borrowers to assume potential federal recapture tax liability. Although THDA expects that all lendable proceeds available from the Issue 2012-1C Bonds will be used to finance Program Loans, no assurance can be given whether this will occur or the speed at which this may occur.

The last transaction that resulted in an unexpended proceeds redemption under the General Resolution was Issue 1996-3 as shown on the chart under the heading "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM BONDS – Origination Experience" herein. THDA has not redeemed any bonds from unexpended proceeds under the 2009 General Resolution or the 1974 General Resolution. Notwithstanding past performance, no assurances can be given that proceeds from the Issue 2012-1C Bonds will be fully expended for Program Loans.

THDA began committing Program Loans against the expected proceeds from the Offered Bonds in April 2012. As of June 18, 2012, THDA has committed a total principal amount of $32,534,694. Of that amount, $12,122,644 of Program Loans have been purchased by THDA using its own funds as of June 18, 2012. Assuming successful pricing and closing of the Offered Bonds, THDA expects to reimburse itself on the day of closing for all Program Loans previously purchased.

Disruption in Mortgage Market and Other Financial Markets

The mortgage and financial markets have recently been subject to significant disruptions, including limited liquidity. Continuing instability in the mortgage market that adversely impacts financial institution participants may result in delays in originating Program Loans or failure to originate Program Loans which could result in redemption of the Offered Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds".

Instability in the mortgage markets, increases in delinquencies and defaults and limited access to credit have placed pressures on all participants in the industry, including but not limited to lenders, servicers and mortgage insurers. These pressures may have an adverse impact on transaction participants and their ability to conduct business. THDA can offer no guidance as to whether the recent volatility in the mortgage market and the financial markets generally will continue, and if it does, how these conditions might impact the ability of such participants to perform their obligations in connection with the Offered Bonds.

Changes in Federal or State Law

Legislation affecting the Offered Bonds and THDA's single family mortgage loans may be considered and enacted by the United States Congress or the Tennessee General Assembly. No assurance can be given that the consideration or enactment of any such legislation will not have an adverse effect on the value of, the timing or amount of payments of, or the security for the Offered Bonds or other risks.

Over the past several years a number of financial institutions and related entities have announced large losses as a result of their mortgage activities and the increasing number of defaults and foreclosures on such mortgages. The United States Congress has passed the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), and may pass additional consumer protection and bankruptcy legislation, as a result of the adverse effects of the mortgage situation on individuals and families in the United States. Likewise, the Tennessee General Assembly may enact consumer protection legislation relating to mortgage loan origination and servicing. The Dodd-Frank Act has not, to date, had a material adverse effect on THDA's single family mortgage program, including its ability to originate new single family mortgage loans, to collect payments under single family mortgage loans and to foreclose on property securing single family mortgage loans; however, additional legislation, if enacted, or regulations, if promulgated to effectuate the purposes of the Dodd-Frank Act or other state or federal regulations, could have an adverse effect on THDA's activities.

A number of state regulatory authorities have recently taken action against certain loan originators and servicers for alleged violations of state laws. Certain of those actions prohibit those servicers from pursuing foreclosure actions. In response to alleged abusive lending and servicing practices, the State of Tennessee could enact legislation or implement regulatory requirements that impose limitations on the ability of mortgage loan servicers to take actions (such as pursuing foreclosures) that may be essential to service and preserve the value of the single-family loans. Any such limitations that applied to the THDA's single-family loans could adversely affect the THDA's ability to collect amounts due on such loans and could impair the value of such loans.

On March 4, 2009, the U.S. Department of the Treasury announced guidelines to enable mortgage loan servicers to begin modifications of eligible mortgage loans under the Homeowner Affordability and Stability Plan. These guidelines stated that FHA would formulate a program for modification of FHA loans. FHA released the details of the program called the Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP") on July 31, 2009, with an effective date of August 15, 2009. By letter dated November 3, 2009, THDA received a variance to the HAMP requirements. As a consequence, THDA is not obligated to satisfy HAMP requirements with respect to Program Loans.

On July 7, 2011, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced changes to Federal Housing Administration and Making Home Affordable Program requirements that direct servicers to extend the period of time during which eligible borrowers may skip part or all of their monthly payments from three or four months to twelve months whenever possible. These requirements became effective on August 1, 2011, with a subsequent sixty day implementation period. At present, THDA cannot predict what effect, if any, these requirements would have on the Program Loan portfolio, which, together with other revenues and assets available under the Resolution, is the source of payment and security for the Offered Bonds.

The Hardest Hit Housing Markets (HFA Hardest Hit Fund) initiative, under the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, is designed to support foreclosure prevention and housing market stabilization initiatives (the "HHF Program"). THDA is administering the HHF Program in Tennessee and was awarded $236 million which will provide loans to unemployed or substantially underemployed homeowners who, through no fault of their own, are financially unable to make their mortgage payments and are in danger of losing their homes to foreclosure. Loan proceeds will be used to pay all mortgage and mortgage-related expenses (e.g., property taxes, homeowner insurance, homeowner dues) up to $25,000 for up to 18 months in 29 targeted counties and up to $20,000 for up to 12 months in 66 counties. For homeowners who have found a new job, but during a period of unemployment accumulated payment arrearages, reinstatement assistance will be available. Homeowners with THDA Program Loans may be eligible for the HHF Program. As of May 31, 2012, 1,545 loans made under the HHF Program have closed. Thirty-three of these HHF Program loans have been made with respect to Program Loans previously financed under the Resolution. None of the HHF Program loans are pledged as security for the Bonds.

The Tennessee Attorney General and Reporter participated in the lawsuit brought by 49 states attorneys general against the five largest mortgage loan servicers in the United States. This lawsuit resulted in a settlement under which the affected servicers must, among other things, pay states attorneys general certain sums (the "AG Settlement"). The Tennessee Attorney General and Reporter is making $34,500,000 of the AG Settlement amount coming to Tennessee available to THDA for a program to assist borrowers who are at risk of foreclosure due to unexpected medical events. THDA has approved a program that will involve all HHF Program requirements, however, medical hardship rather than unemployment or under employment will be an eligibility requirement. THDA expects to begin this program as of July 1, 2012.

In addition to federal governmental actions designed to address economic difficulties, both the federal government and private lending institutions have undertaken programs to assist borrowers in refinancing their outstanding mortgage loans. On February 1, 2012, for example, USDA/RD announced its Single Family Housing Guaranteed Rural Refinance Pilot Program. The pilot program is intended to assist existing borrowers in refinancing USDA/RD guaranteed mortgage loans with greater speed and ease. Borrowers will be able to secure lower interest rates and payments without the need of obtaining a new appraisal or new property inspections. Additionally, on March 6, 2012, the Obama Administration announced a new streamlined refinancing plan under which FHA, effective June 11, 2012, will reduce its upfront and annual mortgage insurance premiums for refinancings of FHA insured mortgage loans originated before June 1, 2009. THDA has not yet determined whether or how these programs may affect the THDA Program Loan portfolio.

Prepayments

THDA, from time to time, receives monies from (i) partial or complete prepayment of Program Loans (which is permitted, without penalty) or (ii) termination of Program Loans prior to their respective final payment date due to default, sale, condemnation or casualty loss. In addition, the Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Offered Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans. The rate at which such prepayments, if any, of Program Loans (including Transferred Program Loans) will be received by THDA cannot be predicted. The actual rate of such prepayments may be influenced by a variety of economic, social and other factors, including proposed legislative and regulatory changes and there is no reliable basis for predicting the actual average life of the Program Loans. Consequently, THDA makes no assumptions or representations as to the factors that will affect the rate of prepayments, if any, or the relative importance of such factors and their potential impact on the actual average life of Program Loans and the expected life of the Offered Bonds. To the extent THDA is required or elects to redeem the Offered Bonds, it is probable that the Offered Bonds will have a shorter life than their stated maturity.

Subject to the requirements of the Resolution, the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution and the Code, such prepayments may (i) be required to pay regularly scheduled debt service to the extent a series of the Bonds was based upon an assumed prepayment level; (ii) be used to redeem Bonds of the related series; (iii) be used to redeem Bonds of any series; or (iv) be recycled into additional Program Loans. Further, prepayments attributable to the Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Offered Bonds, or other Bonds, or portions thereof, may or will be applied to redeem Offered Bonds as described herein under "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds," "- Special Optional Redemption of the Offered Bonds, including Cross Calls" and "– Mandatory Redemption – 10-Year Rule".

THDA Redemption Practices

The Resolution and the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution specify when THDA is required to redeem Bonds and when THDA may elect to redeem Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds."

To the extent THDA has discretion to redeem Bonds and select the maturities and Issues to be redeemed, THDA's general redemption policy had been to first redeem those Bonds bearing the highest interest rate; however, due to universal cap implications and economic decisions by THDA, THDA's current general redemption policy is to call term bonds on a pro-rata basis within bond issues or to redeem the highest coupon serial bonds where doing so would reduce debt service requirements under the Resolution when possible. Adherence to either policy may be affected by a series of factors including, but not limited to, (i) certain restrictions or limitations imposed by the Code including, but not limited to, 10-year rule requirements and universal cap considerations; (ii) certain limitations or restrictions imposed by the Resolution and/or resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution including, but not limited to, redemption provisions; (iii) economic considerations; (iv) cash flow requirements; and (v) the amount of prepayments and other monies available to THDA for optional redemption of Bonds.

These factors are regularly considered in determining which Bonds may be selected for redemption. No assumptions or representations can be made as to how or which of these factors or whether any other factors will affect THDA's determination, from time to time, regarding particular Bonds selected for redemption.

Payment of Program Expenses

The Resolution authorizes payment of all Program Expenses from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund established under the Resolution, so long as the Debt Service and Expense Account and the Debt Service Reserve Fund contain amounts sufficient to meet the requirements of the Resolution. See Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION" for a description of Program Expenses. THDA expects to pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees and certain Program Expenses, including ongoing Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs, and other similar costs, from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund. To the extent funds are available therefor, THDA currently expects to continue to pay other Program Expenses and other operating and administrative costs and expenses of THDA from the Housing Program Fund, a fund of THDA created in 1988 that is not subject to the lien of the Resolution. To the extent funds are not available from the Housing Program Fund, THDA expects to pay Program Expenses from the Debt Service and Expense Account of the Revenue Fund under the Resolution and other operating and administrative costs and expenses that are not Program Expenses from other resources of THDA. For more information about the payment of Program Expenses and other operating and administrative costs of THDA, see "THDA – THDA Funds" and for more information about the Housing Program Fund, see Appendix E – "OTHER FINANCINGS, THDA FUNDS AND THDA ACTIVITIES – THDA Funds".

While THDA does not currently receive funds from the State of Tennessee for operating and administrative costs and expenses, the Act establishes a mechanism for certifying an amount, if any, estimated to be required for payment of expenses of THDA for the next ensuing State fiscal year. The amount so certified is the amount by which anticipated operating expenses of THDA, including Program Expenses, will exceed available THDA operating revenues. The Act further provides that to assure the continued operation and solvency of THDA for the fulfillment of the purposes of the Act, there shall be apportioned and paid to THDA, after audit by appropriate State officials, not more than the amount so stated. These provisions of the Act do not constitute a legally enforceable obligation of the State to pay such amounts. Under the Constitution of the State of Tennessee, no monies may be withdrawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. The General Assembly is authorized to appropriate, to expend and to provide for the payment of the amount so certified, but is not legally required to do so.

THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with this provision of the Act relating to the certification of the amounts required for the payment of operating and administrative costs and expenses, to the extent such operating and administrative costs and expenses exceed available THDA operating revenues. THDA has never requested the State to appropriate monies to cover operating or administrative costs or expenses, including Program Expenses, of THDA.

Investment Assumptions

Estimated available investment income attributable to the Offered Bonds is calculated assuming that (i) existing Investment Securities in the Revenue Fund and the Debt Service Reserve Fund pay scheduled interest and principal payments until the earlier of their call date or maturity date; (ii) proceeds of Investment Securities and other receipts in the Revenue Fund are invested at 0.00% per annum until June 30, 2021, and, 0.75% per annum thereafter; and (iii) funds on deposit in the Issue 2012-1 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund prior to origination of Program Loans, are invested at a rate of 0.00% per annum.

There can be no assurance that the Investment Securities will provide the investment income projected. If THDA experiences losses or delays in payments on the Investment Securities, there may be insufficient funds to make payments of principal and interest on the Offered Bonds when scheduled.

Average Life of PAC Bonds

The term "weighted average life" refers to the average amount of time that will elapse from the date of issuance of a security until each dollar of principal of such security will be repaid to the investor. The weighted average life of the PAC Bonds will be influenced by the rate at which principal of the Program Loans allocated to the Offered Bonds is repaid. Principal payments of Program Loans may be in the form of scheduled amortization or prepayments (for this purpose, the term "prepayment" includes prepayments and liquidations due to default or other dispositions of the Program Loans, including payments on FHA mortgage insurance, VA guarantees, and private mortgage insurance policies). Prepayments on mortgage loans are commonly measured by a prepayment standard or model. The model used in the following discussion is the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association (formerly known as the Public Security Association ("PSA")) prepayment standard or model (commonly referred to as the "PSA Prepayment Model").

The PSA Prepayment Model is based on an assumed rate of prepayment each month of the then unpaid principal balance of a pool of mortgage loans, beginning at the inception of each mortgage loan. The PSA Prepayment Model starts with 0.2% annualized prepayment rate in the first month, increases the prepayment rate by 0.2% in each succeeding month until the thirtieth month (when a 6.0% annualized prepayment rate is reached) and then assumes a constant prepayment rate of 6.0% per annum of the unpaid principal balance for the remaining life of the mortgage loans.

Prepayment speeds are commonly referred to as a percentage of the PSA Prepayment Model. For instance, "0% PSA" assumes no prepayments of principal on the Program Loans. "25% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-quarter as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "50% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay one-half as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "75% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay three-quarters as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "100% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "150% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate 1.50 times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "200% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate twice as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "300% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate three times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "400% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate four times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model. "500% PSA" assumes the principal of Program Loans will prepay at a rate five times as fast as the prepayments rates for 100% of the PSA Prepayment Model.

There is no assurance, however, that prepayments of the principal on Program Loans will conform to any particular level of the PSA Prepayment Model. The rate of principal payment on pools of mortgage loans is influenced by a variety of economic, geographic, social and other factors, including the level of mortgage loan interest rates, the rate at which homeowners sell their homes or default on their mortgage loans and changes in mortgagors' housing needs, job transfers, unemployment and mortgagors' net equity in the mortgage properties. In general, if prevailing interest rates fall significantly, the Program Loans are likely to be subject to higher prepayment rates than if prevailing rates remain at or above the interest rates on the Program Loans. As homeowners move or default on their mortgage loans, the houses are generally sold and the mortgage loan prepaid, although under certain circumstances, the mortgage loans may be assumed by a new buyer. Because of the foregoing influences upon prepayments and since the rate of prepayment of principal of Bonds will depend on the rate of repayment (including prepayments) of the Program Loans, the full repayment of any Bonds is likely to occur earlier, and could occur significantly earlier, than its stated maturity.

The Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds may be terminated prior to final maturity as a result of prepayment, default, sale, condemnation, casualty loss or noncompliance. In addition, matters discussed under "Changes in Federal or State Law" above could have an effect on terminations. Consequently, it is impossible to predict the timing of the repayment of principal of the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds and hence the weighted average life of the PAC Bonds. THDA has provided for the redemption of the PAC Bonds as described under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds—Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds", and the weighted average lives of the PAC Bonds set forth below have been calculated based upon various assumptions, including assumptions that (i) 100% of the money deposited in the Issue 2012-1 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund is applied to finance Program Loans, (ii) approximately $46,905,000 of Transferred Program Loans with an approximate weighted average maturity of approximately 248 months and an approximate weighted average interest rate of 5.53% will be allocated to the Offered Bonds, (iii) Excess 2012-1 Principal Payments will be used to redeem PAC Bonds only on Interest Payment Dates, and (iv) the PAC Bonds will be redeemed only in the related Planned Amortization Amounts as described under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds" and will not otherwise be redeemed in whole or in part. There can be no assurance that such assumptions will in fact prove accurate. For certain information regarding Transferred Program Loans see "DESCRIPTION OF THE TRANSFERRED PROGRAM LOANS" herein.

Origination Experience

Other than bond issues currently being originated, between January 1, 1995, and May 31, 2012, THDA fully originated all bond issues with the exception of the following two transactions which experienced unexpended proceeds redemptions:

Issue of Bonds	Lendable Proceeds	Program Loans Financed Amount	Program Loans Financed %	Non-Origination Bond Redemptions	Mortgage Interest Rate(s)
1995-1	$ 59,309,056	$ 23,702,408	39.96%	$35,600,000	7.40/5.50
1996-3	64,303,700	42,049,898	65.39	22,250,000	6.75/6.50/6.25

THDA's experience from January 1, 2000, to May 31, 2012, regarding origination of Program Loans[1] from lendable proceeds of Bonds issued since January 1, 2000, is shown in the following table:

Issue of Bonds	Lendable Proceeds	Program Loans Financed[2] as of May 31, 2011 Amount	%	Mortgage Interest Rate(s)

(1) See "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOAN PORTFOLIO—Description of Program Loans" for more information about Program Loans.

(2) Only Program Loans that have closed are included. Program Loans for which THDA has issued commitments are not included.

(3) Includes initial issue premium paid with respect to planned amortization class bond.

(4) These lendable proceeds include $50,000,000 in proceeds from Issue 2008-2A/B plus $9,000,000 released from the lien of the 1974 General Resolution in accordance with its terms and transferred to the Issue 2008-2 Loan Fund of the General Resolution.

(5) These lendable proceeds do not include proceeds that must be lent at 0% interest as participations in other Program Loans.

From December 2009 to April 2012, THDA originated mortgage loans with the proceeds of bonds issued under the 2009 General Resolution through the New Issue Bond Program. Proceeds of Issue 2011-C, the most recent publicly offered bonds issued by THDA under the 2009 General Resolution, and proceeds of Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5, the last tranche of bonds released from escrow under the New Issue Bond Program, were used to purchase Program Loans through April 2012. No additional proceeds through the New Issue Bond Program and the 2009 General Resolution remain available.

THDA expects to reimburse itself for the full original principal amount of Program Loans purchased as of the day of closing. As of June 18, 2012, THDA has purchased $12,122,644 in Program Loans that will be reimbursed from the proceeds of the Offered Bonds.

HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOANS

Description of Homeownership Program Loans

General

THDA generally offers a primary loan program and may, from time to time, offer certain special loan programs. THDA Household Income Limits for all loan programs have typically been more restrictive than those permitted under the Code. THDA Acquisition Cost Limits are set in compliance with Code requirements. Household Income Limits and Acquisition Cost Limits may be further restricted for certain special loan programs. The current THDA Acquisition Cost Limit is $240,000 for all counties except those counties in the Nashville Metropolitan Statistical Area ("MSA"). The THDA Acquisition Cost Limit is $275,000 for those counties in the Nashville MSA. The THDA Household Income Limits range from $54,480 to $92,680 depending on household size and geographic location. See Appendix G for a description of Homeownership Program Loan Procedures related to Code requirements.

THDA currently offers Homeownership Choices as its primary loan program. A brief description of this loan program, and the loan types available thereunder, together with a description of certain loan programs previously available follows.

Effective April 15, 2009, THDA imposed certain underwriting changes that apply to Program Loans made after that date. The changes include (i) a minimum credit score of 620 for all borrowers; (ii) no manual underwriting; and (iii) a required monthly debt to income ratio that does not exceed 45%. THDA may, from time to time, initiate certain special limited programs for which some of these requirements may be waived.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

Homeownership Choices

The Homeownership Choices Program includes Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans, with choice of loan type left to the borrower. Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans are thirty year, fixed interest rate loans, fully amortized, with full documentation, and secured by a first lien on the property purchased. Interest rates for each type of Program Loan are established at rates which result in a blended yield on such Program Loans not in excess of 1.125% above the yield on the related issue of Bonds. As of May 31, 2012, the current interest rate for Great Rate Program Loans is 3.95%, the current interest rate for the Great Advantage Program Loans is 4.25% and the current interest rate for Great Start Program Loans is 4.55%.

An amount equal to 4% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Start Program Loans. An amount equal to 2% of the loan amount is made available to borrowers for downpayment and closing cost assistance in connection with Great Advantage Program Loans. THDA finances this downpayment and closing cost assistance from excess revenues in the General Resolution and retains a portion of the interest collected on Great Start Program Loans and Great Advantage Program Loans to reimburse itself for the amount of this assistance. All other THDA Program Loan requirements remain applicable.

See Appendix B for a summary of the mortgage insurance or guarantee programs applicable to these Program Loans.

New Start Program Loans

New Start Loan Program Loans are designed to promote the construction of new homes for very low-income Tennesseans. New Start Loan Program Loans are delivered through non-profit organizations with established programs for the construction of single family housing for low and very low income households. The non-profit organization selects the homebuyer, determines eligibility, constructs the home, provides homebuyer education, originates, processes, closes and services the New Start Program Loan. New Start Program Loans have loan terms up to thirty years and are secured by a first lien on the property purchased. A 0% interest rate is available to borrowers who have a maximum family income of $32,760, with a maximum loan amount equal to the lesser of 75% of the value of the property or the applicable county limit for the Homeownership Choices Program. An interest rate equal to one-half of the current interest rate for Great Rate Program Loans is available to borrowers who have a maximum family income of $38,220, with a maximum loan amount equal to the lesser of 75% of the value of the property or the applicable county limit for the Homeownership Choices Program. All other THDA Program Loan requirements remain applicable. As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), 367 New Start Program Loans, with an aggregate principal balance of approximately $18,037,000, were outstanding under the General Resolution. THDA may continue to finance New Start Program Loans, from time to time, from proceeds of the Offered Bonds as well as from proceeds of other bonds.

Prior Programs

THDA previously offered specialized mortgage loan products under the START Program, the RIC Program and the LIFT Program, which programs targeted lower income borrowers or borrowers who resided either in rural counties or inner cities. Program Loans under these programs constitute, in the aggregate, less than .01% of all Program Loans by principal amount and less than 1.5% of all Program Loans by number of loans. THDA no longer finances Program Loans under these programs.

Homeownership Program Portfolio Data

General

As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), 17,447 Program Loans for single-family owner-occupied housing having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $1,336,471,953 were outstanding under the General Resolution. These Program Loans had an approximate remaining weighted average maturity of 274.79 months and an approximate weighted average interest rate of 5.78%.

Privately Insured Program Loans

Since January 2, 2009, THDA has not purchased conventional, privately insured loans because no private mortgage insurers, since January 2, 2009, have or have had ratings of at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Services, a division of the McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P"). Should any private mortgage insurers regain a rating of at least AA from S&P, THDA will reconsider whether to resume purchasing conventional loans. Notwithstanding the foregoing, certain Transferred Loans are privately insured and are shown under the heading "Privately insured" in the chart above.

Each private mortgage insurer insuring conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans was authorized by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in the State of Tennessee and was approved by THDA. Since June 1994, only private mortgage insurance providers rated at least AA by S&P were permitted to provide private mortgage insurance coverage for conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans. THDA does, however, have conventional, privately insured Program Loans that were made prior to January 2, 2009, outstanding under the Resolution that were insured by private mortgage insurers who are not currently rated at least AA by S&P.

THDA makes no representation regarding the financial condition of any of the private mortgage insurance companies or their ability to make full and timely payment to THDA of claims on Program Loans on which losses are incurred. Recent rating agency reviews of private mortgage insurers may be indicative of some future inability of private mortgage insurers generally to fulfill in full their obligations, if and when required upon a mortgage default, to make timely payments on policies. Any failure to make timely payments on the private mortgage insurance policies may disrupt the flow of revenues available for the payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), 2,606[(1)] privately insured Program Loans having an aggregate balance of approximately $257,857,471 were outstanding under the General Resolution. As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), THDA had the following information regarding the private mortgage insurer for 2,344 of these privately insured Program Loans:

Name of Private Mortgage Insurer	Number of Program Loans	Outstanding Balance [(3)]	Percent of Total Number of Program Loans[(3)]	Percent of Outstanding Balance [(3)]

Delinquency and Foreclosure Process

For all Program Loans, THDA tracks (i) exceptions to normal, expected monthly payments; (ii) individual Program Loan balances; and (iii) remittances based on automated data received directly from its Servicers. THDA uses this data to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosures. Those Program Loans for which two payment dates have passed with no payment received by the last business day of the month in which the second payment was due are considered 60 to 89 days past due. Those Program Loans for which three or more payment dates have passed with no payments received by the last business day of the month in which the third payment was due are considered 90 or more days past due. The status of Program Loans to borrowers who are in bankruptcy is fixed beginning at the time bankruptcy proceedings commenced. The definitions used by THDA to calculate delinquency rates and foreclosure rates are consistent with those used by the Mortgage Bankers Association of America (“MBA”).

The financial institutions who service Program Loans manage delinquencies by working with borrowers in an attempt to avoid defaults and by sending payment requests to borrowers who are delinquent. THDA supports counseling programs for delinquent as well as prospective borrowers. These counseling services are provided by lenders, non-profit organizations and social service agencies located throughout the State. THDA maintains an inventory of housing counseling services, reviews materials used, and encourages grant recipients to provide counseling.

Delinquencies and Foreclosures as of May 31, 2012

DESCRIPTION OF THE TRANSFERRED PROGRAM LOANS

General

The Transferred Program Loans are expected to have an approximate weighted average maturity of 248 months and a weighted average interest rate of 5.53% per annum. Average prepayment rate information for the Transferred Program Loans is discussed in "DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Prepayment Experience of Transferred Program Loans" herein. It is anticipated that the characteristics of the pool of Transferred Program Loans will be substantially similar to the loans described below (such information below is as of May 31, 2012; the Transferred Program Loans will not be allocable to the Offered Bonds until September 1, 2012, and Transferred Program Loan characteristics may change slightly from May 31, 2012 to September 1, 2012).

Privately Insured Transferred Program Loans

Each private mortgage insurer insuring conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans was authorized by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in the State of Tennessee and was approved by THDA. Since June 1994, only private mortgage insurance providers rated at least AA by S&P were permitted to provide private mortgage insurance coverage for conventional, privately insured THDA Program Loans. THDA does, however, have conventional, privately insured Program Loans that were made prior to January 2, 2009, outstanding under the Resolution that were insured by private mortgage insurers who are not currently rated at least AA by S&P.

THDA makes no representation regarding the financial condition of any of the private mortgage insurance companies or their ability to make full and timely payment to THDA of claims on Program Loans on which losses are incurred. Recent rating agency reviews of private mortgage insurers may be indicative of some future inability of private mortgage insurers generally to fulfill in full their obligations, if and when required upon a mortgage default, to make timely payments on policies. Any failure to make timely payments on the private mortgage insurance policies may disrupt the flow of revenues available for the payment of principal and interest on the Bonds.

As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), $1,121,917 principal amount of the Transferred Program Loans are privately insured. As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), the private mortgage insurer is not identified with respect to the 18 privately insured Program Loans as these Program Loans were originated prior to the time THDA compiled data with respect to individual private mortgage insurance providers.

Prepayment Experience of Transferred Program Loans

The Transferred Program Loans are composed of mortgage loans originally allocable to Issue 2003-1 Bonds, and Issue 2003-3 Bonds, all issued and outstanding under the General Resolution. The table set forth below lists the actual average prepayment rate (principal only) experience as a percentage of the PSA Prepayment Model of the mortgage loans allocable to each series of the Prior Bonds for the 3 month, 6 month and 12 month periods ended on May 31, 2012, based on principal prepayment data available to THDA.

THDA

Purpose and Organization

THDA is a body, politic and corporate, and a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State. THDA was established in 1973 by the Act for the purpose, among other things, of raising funds through the issuance of its bonds and notes to assure a steady flow of production of new housing units for lower and moderate income persons and families. To carry out its public purposes, THDA has various powers under the Act including, without limitation, powers relating to the issuance of bonds or notes and the financing of residential housing in the State.

THDA is subject to periodic review by the General Assembly to evaluate the necessity for its continued existence. THDA's existence has been continued until June 30, 2014.

Under the Act, THDA may have bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $2,930,000,000. As of May 31, 2012 (unaudited), THDA has bonds and notes outstanding in an aggregate principal amount of $2,006,295,000, calculated in accordance with the Act.

Board of Directors

THDA is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of THDA. The Act provides that the remaining board members be appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. The Act also provides that board members be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, the First, Second or Third U.S. Congressional District, the Fourth, Fifth or Sixth U.S. Congressional District and the Seventh, Eighth or Ninth U.S. Congressional District and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. Any change in the status or profession of an appointed board member does not affect the position or term of that board member. The Executive Director of THDA serves as Secretary to the board.

Board members (other than ex officio members and the federally required resident member) are appointed for four year terms, serve until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, and receive no compensation except for reimbursement of expenses. Certain board members may be affiliated with institutions which may originate or service

Program Loans on behalf of THDA. One of the appointed board members is designated by the Governor to serve as Chairman. The Chairman's term extends until the earlier of the date of expiration of his or her term or a date six months after expiration of the term of the Governor designating such Chairman.

The name, term of office and principal occupation of the current members of the Board of Directors are shown below:

THDA's principal office is located at 404 James Robertson Parkway, Suite 1200, Nashville, Tennessee 37243-0900, and its telephone number is (615) 815-2200. THDA has regional offices in eight (8) locations elsewhere in the State for the purpose of administering the Section 8 program.

THDA Funds

Statutorily Created Funds

In 1988, the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee (the "State") amended the Act to provide, among other things, for the creation of the Housing Program Fund and the Assets Fund, which funds are financially separate from the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program and any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Housing Program Fund originally contained, among other things, state tax revenue statutorily directed to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a statutorily authorized grant program administered by THDA that is not related to the General Resolution, the Homeownership Program or any of the other general bond resolutions or mortgage loan programs of THDA. The Assets Fund is a segregated fund of THDA that originally contained assets transferred in 1989 from the 1974 General Resolution in accordance with its terms, together with related investment earnings. These funds are not pledged as security for the Bonds. See Appendix E under the heading "THDA Funds," for a description of each of these statutorily created funds.

While amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund are not specifically pledged as security for bonds issued under the General Resolution or any other bond resolution of THDA, the Assets Fund is a general asset of THDA and may, subject to the respective terms of the Act, the General Resolution, or any other general bond resolution of THDA, serve as supplemental security for bonds issued under any such general bond resolutions. As a result of transfers required by the State and subsequent action by THDA, no amounts are currently on deposit in the Assets Fund. See "SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS – Security of Bonds and Sources of Payment" herein for a description of sources of payment for the Offered Bonds.

Prior Transfers from THDA

The Constitution of the State requires, for current operations, that expenditures for any fiscal year not exceed the State's revenues and reserves, including the proceeds of any debt obligations, for that year. When faced with budget deficits in the past, the State has called upon THDA and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to THDA.

As of June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 in THDA's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1994-1995.

As of June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from THDA to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 1997-1998. The $43,000,000 transferred from THDA to the State General Fund came from the following resources of THDA: (i) $15,459,157 from state tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. In addition, in conjunction with the transfer from the Housing Program Reserve Fund described in clause (ii), the Housing Program Reserve Fund was statutorily abolished.

Amendments to the Act in 1999 and in 2000, temporarily, then permanently, redirected to the State General Fund, all tax revenue previously directed by the Act to THDA for the HOUSE Program, a grant program described above. As a result of the permanent redirection of these state tax revenues, no state tax revenues currently are directed to THDA.

As of June 30, 2002, $35,367,449.26 was transferred from THDA's Assets Fund to the State General Fund to assist in balancing the State budget for fiscal year 2001-2002. The remaining balance of the Assets Fund, approximately $1,387,000 of mortgage loans, was not required to be liquidated and the proceeds transferred. THDA subsequently transferred these mortgage loans to the General Fund of the Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) which reduced the balance in the Assets Fund to $0.

No additional resources of THDA have been redirected or transferred to the State General Fund to close out any fiscal year since the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002. See "State Budget" below with respect to these matters for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012.

Payment of THDA Operating Expenses, Including Program Expenses

THDA administers certain federal programs such as the low income housing tax credit program, the Section 8 voucher program and the HOME program and pays operating expenses associated with these programs from administrative fees earned or other fees charged in connection with the administration of these programs. Neither investment earnings from the Assets Fund nor amounts in the General Resolution have been used to pay the operating expenses associated with these programs.

From 1988 to 2002, investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund, as supplemented with investment earnings on other THDA funds, were a primary source for paying THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses, including staff salaries, Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs) and substantially all other expenses associated with the Homeownership Program and the other general bond resolutions and mortgage loan programs of THDA. Investment earnings from amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund were annually transferred by THDA to the Housing Program Fund, from which referenced expenses were paid. Although such investment earnings on amounts on deposit in the Assets Fund no longer exist due to the transfers from the Assets Fund to the State General Fund described above, THDA currently expects to continue to pay Program Expenses (other than Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure cost and other similar costs) and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses from the Housing Program Fund and other available funds under the 1974 General Resolution and the General Resolution. In the future, however, THDA expects to use more of the amounts available under the General Resolution and the 1974 General Resolution for the payment of Program Expenses in addition to the payment of Costs of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs. From this combination of resources, THDA believes it will have sufficient resources to pay Program Expenses and other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses. Regardless of THDA's best efforts and in the event of additional transfers, however, THDA could become reliant on State appropriations for the funding of THDA operations. No assurances can be given as to the amount of appropriation that may be available at any time.

State Budget

The State-approved budget for fiscal year 2011-2012, which ends June 30, 2012 (the "FY 2011-2012 Budget"), is balanced and includes no redirection or transfer of THDA resources to the State General Fund. The FY 2011-2012 Budget, as adopted by the General Assembly, is based on July 1, 2011, State revenue growth estimates that reflect 2.12% growth in total revenue collections and 2.16% in General Fund revenue collections in fiscal year 2011-2012, compared with the previous fiscal year.

On an accrual basis, May was the tenth month of fiscal year 2011-2012. Year-to-date state tax collections for the first 10 months of the fiscal year were $428.5 million more than the July 1, 2011, budgeted estimate, and the General Fund collections were $412.4 million more than budgeted. The FY 2011-2012 mid-year revised budget (at January 2012) assumed an over-collection of $209.6 million in General Fund taxes for FY 2011-2012. Therefore, the amount over-collected in the 10 months year-to-date, above and beyond the revised 12-month over-collection estimate, is $202.8 million in the General Fund ($412.4 million minus $209.6 million).

Actual revenue growth rates for the first 10 months of fiscal year 2011-2012, compared with the first 10 months of the previous fiscal year, are 8.01% in total taxes and 8.91% in the general fund.

The State-approved budget for fiscal year 2012-2013, which begins July 1, 2012, also is balanced and includes no redirection or transfer of THDA resources to the State General Fund. The budgeted revenue growth rates for fiscal year 2012-2013 are 3.56% in total taxes and 3.74% in the General Fund, before consideration of tax reductions enacted in the 2012 legislative session. (Reduction of the sales tax rate on grocery food from 5.5% to 5.25% and elimination of the State gift tax will increase the growth rate necessary to achieve the budgeted revenue estimates in 2012-2013.)

Reserves are available as an additional hedge against a revenue shortfall. The Rainy Day Fund was at $283.6 million at June 30, 2011, and is projected to be $306 million at June 30, 2012, and $356 million at June 30, 2013.

If projected State budget needs outstrip actual or projected revenues, the State may seek additional sources of funds or seek to realize program savings through reductions or more efficient delivery of services; however, THDA cannot predict whether or not this will occur or, if it does, what actions may be proposed or eventually taken and what effect, if any, such actions may have on THDA. If action is taken to redirect or transfer THDA resources to the State General Fund, such amounts could include THDA resources that are not pledged to any bonds of THDA, as well as any available excess revenues eligible for withdrawal under THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution. No assurance can be made that the current ratings on the Bonds or other bonds of THDA can be maintained in the event funds are withdrawn from THDA bond resolutions, including the General Resolution.

Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System

General Information

THDA employees are authorized to participate in the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System ("TCRS"), a defined benefit pension plan, pursuant to Tennessee Code Annotated Section 13-23-115(21). The general administration and responsibility for the proper operation of TCRS are vested in a twenty member Board of Trustees. The Treasury Department, a constitutional office in the legislative branch of state government, is responsible for the administration of TCRS, including the investment of assets in the plan, in accordance with state statute and in accordance with the policies, rules, and regulations established by the Board of Trustees.

The TCRS covers four large groups of public employees; state employees (including THDA employees), higher education employees, teachers, and employees of certain local governments. There are 58,551 active members in TCRS in the state and higher education employee group at June 30, 2012. This total includes 219 employees of THDA who are members of TCRS.

The State of Tennessee is ultimately responsible for the financial obligation of the benefits provided by TCRS to state employees (including THDA employees) and higher education employees to the extent such obligations are not covered by employee contributions and investment earnings. The obligation is funded by employer contributions as determined by an actuarial valuation. Employees in the state and higher education group, including THDA employees, are noncontributory.

By statute, an actuarial valuation of TCRS is to be conducted at least once in each two year period. The purpose of the actuarial valuation is to determine the financial position of the plan and to determine the appropriate employer contribution rate. By practice, an actuarial valuation is performed every other year. The last valuation was performed as of July 1, 2011.

Actuarial Valuation

At July 1, 2011, the date of the latest actuarial valuation, the unfunded actuarial liability for the state and higher education employee group when based on the actuarial value of assets was $1.555 billion, resulting in a funded ratio of 88.30%. The unfunded actuarial liability would have been $2.520 billion if based on the market value of assets. The employer contribution rate, as determined by an actuarial valuation, includes funding for the normal cost, the accrued liability cost, and the TCRS administrative cost.

THDA Employer Contributions to TCRS

For THDA, the employer contribution rate, stated as a percentage of salary, for the period beginning July 1, 2011, and ending June 30, 2012, is 14.91% based on the actuarial valuation performed as of July 1, 2009. The July 1, 2011, actuarial valuation establishes the employer contribution rate of 15.03% for the two year period beginning July 1, 2012, and ending June 30, 2014.

A history of THDA's contributions to TCRS is reflected in the following table:

2012	14.91%	$12,151,100*	$1,811,729*	1.36%
2011	14.91%	10,593,944	1,585,654	1.25
2010	13.02%	9,956,646	1,295,272	1.03
2009	13.02%	9,267,262	1,201,303	0.98
2008	13.66%	9,602,067	1,297,298	1.02
2007	13.58%	8,644,241	1,175,459	0.96

*Estimated

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2011, the salary of THDA employees totaled $10,593,944, which represents 0.44% of the $2.432 billion of salary for all state and higher education employees in TCRS.

It is anticipated that there will be upward pressure on the employer contribution rate in future actuarial valuations as deferred market losses that have been actuarially smoothed are recognized over the next ten years.

GASB Exposure Draft Amending Statement 27

The Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) has issued an exposure draft amending GASB statement number 27 relative to accounting and reporting for pensions. If adopted as proposed, it would separate pension accounting from pension funding, which heretofore have been tied together. The amendment proposes a methodology for measuring pension expense to be presented in the employer's financial statements. Moreover, the amendment proposes a methodology for measuring the pension liability to be presented in the employer's financial statement. No prediction can be made as to whether and in what form it might be adopted and as to any actual effects. However, financial statement presentation will not affect the pension funding methodologies described herein.

Other Post-Employment Benefits

Certain Governmental Accounting Standards Board ("GASB") GASB Statements (nos. 43 and 45) provide accounting and financial reporting requirements for retiree healthcare plans and employer participants, commonly known as Other Post-Employment Benefits ("OPEB"). To date, the State has reported OPEB costs in the aggregate for all State employees. The State received an actuarial study as of July 1, 2009, which was updated as of July 1, 2010, that includes OPEB costs attributable to the State and, separately, for certain of its component units (including THDA) that are required to participate in the State's retirement and benefit plans. The study, which used a projected unit credit actuarial cost method, indicates that the total unfunded actuarial liability of THDA is approximately $3,316,000 and the annual required contribution for THDA is approximately $358,000. The annual required contribution consists of the normal cost (the portion of the actuarial present value of OPEB benefits which is allocated to a valuation year by the actuarial cost method) and an amortization of the unfunded actuarial liability. The report may be reviewed at http://www.tennessee.gov/finance/act/OPEB.html. A new actuarial study is expected to be published in the fall of 2012. The State does not currently expect to fund any actuarially determined OPEB liability, but will continue to use pay-as-you-go funding of actual costs of OPEB liabilities incurred for the fiscal year. The State will charge THDA for these actual costs allocable to THDA's employees, but not for any actuarially determined OPEB liability. The State has the flexibility to adjust the various plan options on an annual basis, and will continue to analyze the cost of the choices available to current employees and retirees and the cost of the choices on the employees, retirees and the State's cash flow to manage these expenditures going forward.

General Resolution Requirements

The General Resolution requires certain tests to be met prior to any withdrawal of funds from the lien of the General Resolution. See Appendix D. In addition, certain tests must also be met prior to any withdrawal of funds under the lien of the 1974 General Resolution and the 2009 General Resolution. THDA funds which are not pledged under the General Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or the 2009 General Resolution can be removed without meeting such tests.

Absence of Interest Rate Swap Transactions

THDA has never entered into an interest rate swap transaction and no such transaction is currently anticipated by THDA.

TAX MATTERS

THDA has included provisions in the Resolution, the Guide for Originating Agents issued by THDA and other relevant documents and has established procedures, including receipt of certain affidavits and warranties from Originating Agents and borrowers (the "Program Documents") in order to assure compliance with the Program Loan eligibility requirements and other requirements which must be met subsequent to the issuance of the Offered Bonds. Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with applicable federal tax law and, for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. THDA believes that the procedures and documentation requirements established for the purpose of fulfilling this covenant are sufficient to assure that the proceeds of the Offered Bonds will be applied in accordance with the requirements of applicable federal tax law so as to assure that interest on the Offered Bonds will not be included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes.

Opinion of Bond Counsel

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Offered Bonds will be excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes under existing laws as enacted and construed on the date of the issuance of the Offered Bonds, assuming the accuracy of the certifications of THDA and continuing compliance by THDA with the requirements of the federal tax laws. Bond Counsel is also of the opinion that (i) interest on the Issue 2012-1A Bonds will be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations; (ii) interest on the Issue 2012-1B Bonds and the Issue 2012-1C Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, (iii) interest on the Issue 2012-1B Bonds will be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code, and (iv) interest on the Issue 2012-1C Bonds will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

Ownership of the Offered Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, financial institutions, property and casualty insurance companies, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, certain S corporations with "excess net passive income", taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred or continued debt to purchase or carry the Offered Bonds and taxpayers otherwise eligible to claim the earned income credit. Bond Counsel expresses no opinion as to such collateral tax consequences.

Certain recipients of interest on the Offered Bonds may be subject to backup withholding under Section 3406 of the Code, unless the recipient of interest furnishes its taxpayer identification number with the payor of the interest or is otherwise exempt from backup withholding tax.

From time to time, there are legislative proposals in the Congress and in the states that, if enacted, could alter or amend the federal and state tax matters referred to above or adversely affect the market value of the Offered Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether or in what form any such proposal might be enacted or whether if enacted it would apply to bonds issued prior to enactment. In addition, regulatory actions are from time to time announced or proposed and litigation is threatened or commenced which, if implemented or concluded in a particular manner, could adversely affect the market value of the Offered Bonds. It cannot be predicted whether any such regulatory action will be implemented, how any particular litigation or judicial action will be resolved, or whether the Offered Bonds or the market value thereof would be impacted thereby. Purchasers of the Offered Bonds should consult their tax advisors regarding any pending or proposed legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation. The opinions to be expressed by Bond Counsel will be based upon existing legislation and regulations as interpreted by relevant judicial and regulatory authorities as of the date of issuance and delivery of the Offered Bonds and Bond Counsel will express no opinion as of any date subsequent thereto or with respect to any pending legislation, regulatory initiatives or litigation.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under the laws of the State of Tennessee as enacted and construed on the date of issuance of the Offered Bonds, as applicable, interest on the Offered Bonds is exempt from income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Offered Bonds and interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee.

An amount equal to the excess of the issue price of an Offered Bond sold at a premium (a "Premium Bond") over its stated redemption price at maturity constitutes premium on such Premium Bond. An initial purchaser of a Premium Bond must amortize any premium over such Premium Bond's term using constant yield principles, based on the purchaser's yield to maturity (or, in the case of Premium Bonds callable prior to their maturity, by amortizing the premium to the call date, based on the purchaser's yield to the call date and giving effect to any call premium). As premium is amortized, the amount of the amortization offsets a corresponding amount of interest for the period and the purchaser's basis in such Premium Bond is reduced by a corresponding amount resulting in an increase in the gain (or decrease in the loss) to be recognized for federal income tax purposes upon a sale or disposition of such Premium Bond prior to its maturity. Even though the purchaser's basis may be reduced, no federal income tax deduction is allowed. Purchasers of the Premium Bonds should consult with their tax advisors with respect to the determination and treatment of premium for federal income tax purposes and with respect to the state and local tax consequences of owning a Premium Bond.

LEGAL INVESTMENT

The Act provides that the bonds of THDA are securities in which all public officers and bodies of the State and all municipal subdivisions, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on insurance business, all banks, bankers, trust companies, including savings and loan associations, building and loan associations, investment banking companies and other persons carrying on an investment banking business, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of the State, may properly and legally invest in the bonds of THDA with funds, including capital, in their own control or belonging to them.

RATINGS

Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned the Offered Bonds a rating of Aa1 and Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, a Standard & Poor's Financial Services LLP business ("S&P") has assigned the Offered Bonds a rating of AA+. Such ratings reflect only the views of the respective rating agency and an explanation of the criteria for and the significance of such ratings may be obtained from Moody's and Standard & Poor's. THDA has furnished to Moody's and Standard & Poor's certain information and materials with respect to the Offered Bonds. Generally, rating agencies base their ratings on such information and materials, and on investigations, studies and assumptions made by the rating agencies. There is no assurance that the ratings will continue for any given period of time or that the ratings will not be revised or withdrawn entirely by these rating agencies, if in the judgment of the rating agency, circumstances so warrant. A downward revision or withdrawal of the ratings may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Offered Bonds.

DISCLOSURE

Secondary Market Disclosure

THDA is currently disseminating and presently intends to continue to disseminate information relating to its various single-family mortgage revenue bonds in accordance with the quarterly secondary market disclosure project sponsored by the National Council of State Housing Agencies. THDA has filed quarterly reports, beginning with the quarter ending June 30, 1994, with each then nationally recognized municipal securities information repository. THDA also expects that its official statements, which contain audited financial information about THDA, with respect to bonds issued under the General Resolution, the 2009 General Resolution, and the 1974 General Resolution will be filed with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (the "MSRB") through its Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA) system if and when bonds are so issued. It is the present intent of THDA to continue making voluntary secondary market disclosure as described above.

Continuing Disclosure Undertaking

In order to comply with the requirements of Rule 15c2-12 (the "Rule") under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, THDA, in the Issue 2012-1 Supplemental Resolution for the benefit of the Beneficial Owners of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds, agrees to file:

(a) With the MSRB, within 210 days after the end of each THDA fiscal year, a copy of its annual financial statements, prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standard Board, as described in "FINANCIAL STATEMENTS" below, and an annual update of the type of information in this Official Statement (i) of the nature disclosed under "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM BONDS," "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOANS," and "FINANCIAL SUMMARY OF HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM," including, without limitation, information with respect to the outstanding balances of Program Loans, by mortgage type, and delinquency information, acquisition costs and income limits, (ii) contained in Appendix E hereto and (iii) annual required contributions for employee pension plan and other post-employment benefits to the extent not included in annual financial statements (collectively, "Annual Financial Information"). If unaudited financial statements are provided as part of the Annual Financial Information by the above date, then THDA shall provide, when and if available, a copy of THDA's audited financial statements to the MSRB;

(b) In a timely manner, not in excess of 10 business days after the occurrence of the event, with the MRSB and the Trustee, notice of the occurrence of any of the following events (if applicable) with respect to the Offered Bonds: (i) principal and interest payment delinquencies; (ii) non-payment related defaults, if material; (iii) unscheduled draws on the Debt Service Reserve Fund reflecting financial difficulties; (iv) unscheduled draws on any credit enhancement reflecting financial difficulties; (v) substitution of credit or liquidity providers, if any, for the Offered Bonds, or their failure to perform; (vi) adverse tax opinions, the issuance by the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") of proposed or final determinations of taxability, Notices of Proposed Issue (IRS Form 5701-TEB) or other material notices or determinations with respect to the tax status of the Offered Bonds, or other material events affecting the tax-exempt status of the Offered Bonds; (vii) modifications to rights of holders of the Offered Bonds, if material; (viii) bond calls, if material, and tender offers; (ix) defeasances; (x) release, substitution, or sale of property securing repayment of the Offered Bonds, if material; (xi) rating changes; (xii) bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or similar event of THDA (which event is considered to occur when any of the following occur: the appointment of a receiver, fiscal agent or similar officer for THDA in a proceeding under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or in any other proceeding under state or federal law in which a court or governmental authority has assumed jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of THDA, or if such jurisdiction has been assumed by leaving the existing governing body and officials or officers in possession but subject to the supervision and orders of a court or governmental authority, or the entry of an order confirming a plan of reorganization, arrangement or liquidation by a court or governmental authority having supervision or jurisdiction over substantially all of the assets or business of THDA); (xiii) the consummation of a merger, consolidation, or acquisition involving THDA or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of THDA, other than in the ordinary course of business, the entry into a definitive agreement to undertake such an action or the termination of a definitive agreement relating to any such actions, other than pursuant to its terms, if material; and (xiv) appointment of a successor or additional trustee or the change of name of a trustee, if material.

(c) In a timely manner, to (i) the MRSB and (ii) the Trustee, notice of a failure by THDA to provide the Annual Financial Information set forth in (a) above within the time limit specified above.

THDA may amend the Issue 2012-1 Supplemental Resolution, with respect to the above agreements, without the consent of the Beneficial Owners of the applicable Issue of Offered Bonds (except to the extent required under clause (4)(ii) below), if all of the following conditions are satisfied: (1) such amendment is made in connection with a change in circumstances that arises from a change in legal (including regulatory) requirements, a change in law (including rules or regulations) or in interpretations thereof, or a change in the identity, nature or status of THDA or the type of business conducted thereby; (2) these agreements as so amended would have complied with the requirements of the Rule as of the date of the Issue 2012-1 Supplemental Resolution, after taking into account any amendments or interpretations of the Rule, as well as any change in circumstances; (3) THDA shall have delivered to the Trustee an opinion of counsel, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the same effect as set forth in clause (2) above; (4) either (i) THDA shall deliver to the Trustee an opinion of or determination by a person unaffiliated with THDA (which may include the Trustee or bond counsel), acceptable to THDA and the Trustee, addressed to THDA and the Trustee, to the effect that the amendment does not materially impair the interests of the holders of the Offered Bonds, or (ii) the holders of the Offered Bonds consent to the amendment pursuant to the same procedures as are required for amendments to the General Resolution with consent of the holders of Offered Bonds pursuant to the General Resolution as in effect on the date of the Issue 2012-1 Supplemental Resolution, and (5) THDA shall have delivered copies of such opinion(s) and the amendment to the MRSB.

THDA's obligations under these agreements as set forth in the Issue 2012-1 Supplemental Resolution terminate upon a legal defeasance pursuant to the General Resolution, prior redemption or payment in full of all of the Offered Bonds. THDA shall give notice of any such termination to the MSRB.

THDA acknowledges that its undertaking pursuant to the Rule described under this heading is intended to be for the benefit for the Beneficial Owners of the Offered Bonds whether or not the Rule applies to such Bonds. Breach of this undertaking will not be a default under the Resolution but this undertaking may be enforced by any Beneficial Owner of the Offered Bonds exclusively by an action for specific performance. This undertaking shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State, and any suits and actions arising out of this undertaking shall be instituted in a court of competent jurisdiction in the State.

THDA has materially complied with all previous similar Rule undertakings during at least the past five years.

ABSENCE OF MATERIAL LITIGATION

At the time of delivery of and payment for the Offered Bonds, a certificate of THDA and an opinion of counsel will be furnished, dated the date of delivery, to the effect that there is no controversy or litigation of any nature at such time pending or threatened to restrain or enjoin the issuance, sale, execution or delivery of the Offered Bonds, or in any way contesting or affecting the validity of the Offered Bonds or any proceedings of THDA taken with respect to the issuance or sale thereof or the pledge or application of any moneys or security provided for the payment of the Offered Bonds or the existence or powers of THDA.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The issuance of the Offered Bonds is subject to the delivery of the legal opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel with respect to legal matters incident to the authorization, issuance, sale, and delivery of the Offered Bonds in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix H. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller, and for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The financial statements of THDA as of and for the years ended June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, included in Appendix A have been audited by the Division of State Audit in the Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, independent auditors, as stated in their report appearing herein.

Appendix A also contains unaudited financial information as of and for the nine months ended March 31, 2012, and March 31, 2011. This financial information has been derived from the unaudited internal records of THDA. THDA's independent auditors have not reviewed, examined, or performed any procedures with respect to the unaudited financial information, nor have they expressed an opinion or any other form of assurance on such information, and assume no responsibility for, and disclaim any association with the unaudited information. The unaudited information is preliminary and is subject to change as a result of the audit and may materially differ from the audited financial statements when they are released.

UNDERWRITING

Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Raymond James | Morgan Keegan, RBC Capital Markets, LLC, J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., and FTN Financial Capital Markets (collectively, the "Underwriters") have agreed, subject to certain conditions, to purchase the Offered Bonds from THDA at a purchase price of 100% of the principal amount thereof. The Underwriters will be paid a fee in connection with the purchase of the Offered Bonds in an amount equal to $898,353.62. The obligations of the Underwriters to purchase the Offered Bonds are subject to certain conditions precedent. The Underwriters will be obligated to purchase all such Offered Bonds if any such Offered Bonds are purchased.

The Underwriters and their respective affiliates are full service financial institutions engaged in various activities, which may include securities trading, commercial and investment banking, financial advisory, investment management, principal investment, hedging, financing and brokerage activities. Certain of the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may have, from time to time, performed and may in the future perform, various investment banking services for THDA, for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses. In the ordinary course of their various business activities, the Underwriters and their respective affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (which may include bank loans and/or credit default swaps) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers and may at any time hold long and short positions in such securities and instruments. Such investment and securities activities may involve securities and instruments of THDA.

Citigroup Inc., parent company of Citigroup Global Markets Inc., an underwriter of the Offered Bonds, has entered into a retail brokerage joint venture with Morgan Stanley. As part of the joint venture, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. will distribute municipal securities to retail investors through the financial advisor network of a new broker-dealer, Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC. This distribution arrangement became effective on June 1, 2009. As part of this arrangement, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. will compensate Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC for its selling efforts with respect to the Offered Bonds.

J.P. Morgan Securities LLC ("JPMS"), one of the Underwriters of the Offered Bonds, has entered into negotiated dealer agreements (each, a "Dealer Agreement") with each of UBS Financial Services Inc. ("UBSFS") and Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("CS&Co.") for the retail distribution of certain securities offerings at the original issue prices. Pursuant to each Dealer Agreement (if applicable to this transaction), each of UBSFS and CS& Co. will purchase the Offered Bonds from JPMS at the original issue price less a negotiated portion of the selling concession applicable to any Offered Bonds that such firm sells.

On April 2, 2012, Raymond James Financial, Inc. ("RJF"), the parent company of Raymond James & Associates, Inc. ("Raymond James"), acquired all of the stock of Morgan Keegan & Company, Inc. ("Morgan Keegan") from Regions Financial Corporation. Morgan Keegan and Raymond James are each registered broker-dealers. Both Morgan Keegan and Raymond James are wholly owned subsidiaries of RJF and, as such, are affiliated broker-dealer companies under the common control of RJF, utilizing the trade name "Raymond James I Morgan Keegan" that appears on the cover of this Official Statement. It is anticipated that the businesses of Raymond James and Morgan Keegan will be combined.

Morgan Keegan has entered into a distribution agreement with Raymond James for the distribution of the Offered Bonds at the original issue prices. Such arrangement generally provides that Morgan Keegan will share a portion of its underwriting compensation or selling concession with Raymond James.

Wells Fargo Securities is the trade name for certain capital markets and investment banking services of Wells Fargo & Company and its subsidiaries, including Wells Fargo Bank, National Association ("WFBNA"). WFBNA, one of the Underwriters of the Offered Bonds, has entered into an agreement (the "Distribution Agreement") with Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC ("WFA") for the retail distribution of certain municipal securities offerings, including the Offered Bonds. Pursuant to the Distribution Agreement, WFBNA will share a portion of its underwriting compensation with respect to the Offered Bonds with WFA. WFBNA and WFA are both subsidiaries of Wells Fargo & Company.

FTN Financial Capital Markets is a division of First Tennessee Bank National Association and First Tennessee Brokerage, Inc. is a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Tennessee Bank National Association.

FTN Financial Capital Markets has entered into a distribution agreement with First Tennessee Brokerage, Inc. for the distribution of the Offered Bonds at the original issue prices. Such arrangement generally provides that FTN Financial Capital Markets will share a portion of its underwriting compensation or selling concession with First Tennessee Brokerage, Inc.

MISCELLANEOUS

Any statements in this Official Statement involving matters of opinion or estimates, whether or not expressly so stated, are intended as such and not as representatives of fact. No representation is made that such statements will be realized. All financial and other information presented in this Official Statement has been provided by THDA from its records, except for information expressly attributed to other sources. The presentation of information is intended to show recent historic information, and it is not intended to indicate future or continuing trends in the financial position or other affairs of THDA. No representation is made that past experience, as it might be shown by such financial and other information, will necessarily continue or be repeated in the future. References to and summaries of provisions of the laws of the State or of any other documents referred to in this Official Statement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the complete provisions thereof. This Official Statement is not to be construed as a contract or agreement between THDA and the purchasers or holders of any of the Offered Bonds.

The information contained herein is subject to change without notice and no implication should be derived therefrom or from the issuance, as applicable, of the Offered Bonds that there has been no change in the affairs of THDA from the date hereof. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has covenanted to keep proper books of record and account in which full, true and correct entries will be made of all its dealings and transactions under the Resolution and to cause such books to be audited for each fiscal year. The Resolution requires that such books be open to inspection by the holder of any Bond during regular business hours of THDA and that THDA furnish a copy of the auditor's report, when available, upon request of the holder of any outstanding Bond. This Official Statement is submitted in connection with the sale of the securities referred to herein which are proposed to be issued by THDA. It may not be reproduced or used in part, or, as a whole or in part, for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report

September 30, 2011

The Honorable Bill Haslam, Governor
and
Members of the General Assembly
State Capitol
Nashville, Tennessee 37243
and
Members of the Board of Directors
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
and
Mr. Ted Fellman, Executive Director
Tennessee Housing Development Agency
404 James Robertson Parkway, Suite 1200
Nashville, Tennessee 37243

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency, a component unit of the State of Tennessee, as of June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, and the related statements of revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the agency's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements, based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in generally accepted government auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion. Tennessee statutes, in addition to audit responsibilities, entrust certain other responsibilities to the Comptroller of the Treasury. Those responsibilities include serving as a member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. We do not believe that the Comptroller's service in this capacity affected our ability to conduct an independent audit of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency as of June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, and the changes in its financial position and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The management's discussion and analysis and the schedule of funding progress are not required parts of the basic financial statements but are supplementary information required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We have applied certain limited procedures, which consisted principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion on it.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements. The accompanying supplementary information, following the schedule of funding progress, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

In accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards, we will issue a report dated September 30, 2011, on our consideration of the agency's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Sincerely,

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr.

Arthur A. Hayes, Jr., CPA
Director

This section of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency's (THDA) annual financial statements presents management's discussion and analysis of THDA's financial performance for the years ended June 30, 2011 and June 30, 2010. This information is being presented to provide additional information regarding the activities of THDA and to meet the reporting and disclosure requirements of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement Number 34, Basic Financial Statements -- and Management's Discussion and Analysis -- for State and Local Governments. This section should be read in conjunction with the Independent Auditor's Report and the audited financial statements and accompanying notes.

INTRODUCTION – THE TENNESSEE HOUSING DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

The mission statement of THDA is "Leading Tennessee Home by creating safe, sound, affordable housing opportunities." THDA's goal is to provide housing assistance to those in need by offering a variety of housing-related programs. One of the primary ways THDA assists Tennesseans is by offering mortgages for first-time homebuyers at below conventional market interest rates. At the close of fiscal year 2011, THDA has originated over 106,000 single-family mortgage loans in its 38-year history, and serves as the master servicer for all active mortgages it funds. In addition to helping homebuyers, THDA administers Section 8 rental assistance programs, including the tenant-based Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program in approximately 74 of Tennessee's 95 counties, as well as the project-based Contract Administration program for approximately 400 contracts throughout all of Tennessee. THDA also administers grant programs, awarded on a competitive annual cycle, for rehabilitation and new construction of owner-occupied units and small rental projects. THDA is also involved in the development and rehabilitation of multifamily rental housing for low-income families by administering the federal Low-Income Housing Tax Credit, which is a competitive process, and by setting aside a portion of bond authority to be allocated to local issuing authorities for specific multifamily developments.

More recently, THDA has administered programs under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA), including the Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program (HPRP), the Tax Credit Assistance Program (TCAP), the Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP), and a Low Income Housing Tax Credit exchange program under Section 1602 of the Act.

As established by statute, "The agency shall have a board of directors which shall be responsible for carrying out the powers given to the agency. . ." (Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-105). This board meets regularly on a bi-monthly basis; however, some committees may meet more often as situations dictate.

OVERVIEW OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The basic financial statements include statements of net assets, statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets, statements of cash flows, as well as notes to the financial statements. The statements of net assets provide financial information on the overall financial position of THDA at each year end. The statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets summarize the results of operations over the course of each fiscal year. The statements of cash flows provide relevant information about THDA's cash receipts and cash payments during each fiscal year. The notes to the financial statements provide essential information regarding THDA's significant accounting policies, significant account balances and activities, certain material risks, obligations, commitments, contingencies and subsequent events. THDA's financial statements are presented using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. In addition to the basic financial statements, other supplementary information is included.

THDA is also considered to be a "component unit" for the State of Tennessee, and therefore, its financial information is reported in the State of Tennessee's government-wide Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. This report may be viewed at http://tennessee.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

FINANCIAL ANALYSIS OF THE AGENCY

Net Assets. The following table focuses on the changes in net assets between fiscal years (expressed in thousands):

	2011	2010	2009
Current assets	$ 304,429	$ 397,864	$ 313,017
Capital assets	157	79	29
Other noncurrent assets	2,430,331	2,516,989	2,247,094
Total assets	2,734,917	2,914,932	2,560,140
Current liabilities	150,534	193,765	145,096
Noncurrent liabilities	2,064,427	2,202,405	1,905,071
Total liabilities	2,214,961	2,396,170	2,050,167
Invested in capital assets	157	79	29
Restricted net assets	517,587	514,383	508,036
Unrestricted net assets	2,212	4,300	1,908
Total net assets	$ 519,956	$ 518,762	$ 509,973

- THDA's total net assets increased $1.2 million, or 0.2%, from $518.8 million at June 30, 2010 to $520.0 million at June 30, 2011. While various factors accounted for this change, the most significant factors include a decrease in interest expense, an increase in mortgage interest income, a decrease in the net increase/decrease in the fair value of investments, an increase in other program expenses, and a decrease in federal grant administration fees.

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $3.8 million, or 0.2%, from $2,115.6 million at June 30, 2010 to $2,119.4 million at June 30, 2011. During FY 2011, single-family mortgage loan originations decreased $113.0 million, or 32.8% from $344.1 million in FY 2010 to $231.1 million in FY 2011. Conversely, mortgage loan prepayments (which includes loans in which a foreclosure sale has occurred) increased $0.9 million, or 0.5%, from $179.3 million in FY 2010 to $180.2 million in FY 2011.

- Total liabilities decreased $181.2 million, or 7.6%, from $2,396.2 million at June 30, 2010 to $2,215.0 million at June 30, 2011. The decrease is primarily due to a reduction in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2011 as compared to fiscal year 2010, as well as an increase in the redemption of bonds as compared to fiscal year 2010.

- THDA's total net assets increased $8.8 million, or 1.7%, from $510.0 million at June 30, 2009 to $518.8 million at June 30, 2010. This resulted from operating revenues that exceeded operating expenses.

- Mortgage loans receivable increased $116.2 million, or 5.8%, from $1,999.4 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,115.6 million at June 30, 2010. This increase resulted from mortgage loan originations that exceeded mortgage loan prepayments and repayments.

- Total liabilities increased $346.0 million, or 16.9%, from $2,050.2 million at June 30, 2009 to $2,396.2 million at June 30, 2010. The increase is primarily due to a increase in the amount of bonds issued during fiscal year 2010 as compared to fiscal year 2009, primarily, the issuance of bonds in the Housing Finance Program Bonds Resolution.

Changes in Net Assets. The following table summarizes the changes in revenues, expenses and changes in net assets between fiscal years (expressed in thousands):

	2011	2010	2009
Operating revenues
Mortgage interest income	$ 119,406	$ 118,572	$ 119,500
Investment income	6,156	14,517	17,905
Other	17,041	17,588	14,186
Total operating revenues	142,603	150,677	151,591
Operating expenses
Interest expense	88,301	93,154	93,103
Other	38,905	32,677	29,931
Total operating expenses	127,206	125,831	123,034
Operating income	15,397	24,846	28,557
Nonoperating revenues (expenses)
Grant revenues	355,754	254,417	186,800
Grant expenses	(369,957)	(270,474)	(199,132)
Total nonoperating revenues (expenses)	(14,203)	(16,057)	(12,332)
Change in net assets	$ 1,194	$ 8,789	$ 16,225

2011 to 2010
Total operating revenues decreased $8.1 million from $150.7 million for the year ended June 30, 2010 to $142.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2011. The primary reasons for this decrease are as follows:

- Investment income decreased $8.4 million, or 57.6%, from $14.5 million in 2010 to $6.2 million in 2011. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in the fair value of investments of $4.9 million in FY 2011 as compared to an increase in the fair value of investments of $1.7 million in FY 2010.

- Federal grant administration fees decreased $1.2 million, or 8.1%, from $15.1 million in 2010 to $13.9 million in 2011. This primarily resulted from a decrease in federal administrative fees earned on the Section 8 tenant-based HCV program.

For the year ended June 30, 2011, total operating expenses increased $1.4 million, or 1.1%, from $125.8 million in 2010 to $127.2 million in 2011. The primary reasons for this increase are as follows:

- Interest expense decreased $4.9 million, or 5.2%, from $93.2 million in 2010 to $88.3 million in 2011. This decrease is primarily due to a decrease in bonds payable during FY 2011.

- Other program expenses increased $5.4 million, or 84.6%, from $6.4 million in 2010 to $11.9 million in 2011. There were several factors that contributed to this increase, among which were an increase in expenses related to mortgage loan foreclosures and incurring administrative expenses in administering ARRA grants as well as in implementing the Hardest Hit Fund (HHF).

2010 to 2009

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating revenues decreased $.9 million from $151.6 million for the year ended June 30, 2009, to $150.7 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

For the year ended June 30, 2010, total operating expenses increased $2.8 million, or 2.3%, from $123.0 million in 2009 to $125.8 million for the year ended June 30, 2010.

While the total net assets for fiscal year 2010 increased $8.8 million from the previous year, the non-monetary change in the fair value of investments contributed $3.8 million toward this increase. When considered without these non-monetary components, net assets would have increased $5.0 million.

DEBT ACTIVITY

Bonds and notes outstanding at June 30 were as follows (expressed in thousands):

	2011	2010	2009
Bonds payable	$ 2,140,486	$ 2,316,748	$ 1,972,561
Notes payable	3,250	3,672	3,250
Total bonds and notes payable	$ 2,143,736	$ 2,320,420	$ 1,975,811

Year Ended June 30, 2011

Total bonds and notes payable decreased $176.7 million, or 7.6%, due primarily to a decrease in the amount of bonds issued as well as an increase in the redemption of bonds as compared to recent fiscal years. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $201.9 million, with activity arising from three bond issues.

Year Ended June 30, 2010

Total bonds and notes payable increased $344.6 million, or 17.4%, due primarily to an increase in the issuance of THDA's bonds. During the fiscal year, THDA issued debt totaling $551.0 million, with activity arising from four bond issues. During FY 2010, THDA participated in the New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) as established by the United States Treasury Department. Principal redemptions during FY 2010 totaled $203.6 million.

New Issue Bond Program (NIBP)
The New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) provides temporary financing for Housing Finance Agencies (HFAs) to issue new housing bonds to fund new mortgages. The United States Treasury Department will purchase securities of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac backed by these new housing bonds. This will temporarily allow the HFAs to issue an amount of new housing bonds equal to what they would ordinarily be able to issue with the allocations provided them by Congress but are generally unable to issue given the current challenges in housing and related markets.

On December 23, 2009, THDA issued $360 million of bonds under the NIBP, which were $60 million (Bond Issue 2009-A2) and $300 million (Bond Issue 2009-B1). The $300 million 2009-B1 bonds are variable-rate taxable debt, and are to be held in escrow. Upon being placed in escrow, the proceeds from these bonds are re-invested into permissible investments as required by the United States Treasury Department (generally, 28-day Treasury Bills purchased at auction). These bonds are scheduled to be released from escrow, re-designated and be converted to fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds upon the issuance of market bonds within the framework and guidelines of the NIBP.

Subsequently, THDA released, re-designated, and converted escrowed bonds (Bond Issue 2009-B) into fixed-rate, tax-exempt bonds as noted below:

Date	Amount	New Bond Issue
June 17, 2010	$ 85,290,000	Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1
October 27, 2010	60,000,000	Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-2
March 24, 2011	60,000,000	Bond Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3

As of June 30, 2011, the amount of bonds remaining in the Issue 2009-B1 escrowed bonds was $94,710.000.

Considering the investment requirements for the NIBP escrowed bonds as established by the United States Treasury Department, the proceeds of these escrowed bonds are presented on the Statements of Net Assets as Non-Current Assets, Restricted Assets, Cash and Cash Equivalents. Bonds issued under the NIBP have been placed in the Housing Finance Program Bonds resolution.

Bond Ratings
For bonds issued under the Mortgage Finance Program, Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2 and Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P") has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA.

For bonds issued under the Homeownership Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa1 and S&P has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of AA+.

For bonds issued under the Housing Finance Program Bonds, Moody's has assigned THDA's bonds a rating of Aa2. These bonds are not rated by S&P.

There were no revisions to THDA's bond ratings during FY 2011 or FY 2010.

Debt Limits

In accordance with Tennessee Code Annotated 13-23-121, THDA operates under a "debt ceiling" of $2,930,000,000.

GRANT PROGRAMS

During FY 2007 through FY 2009, the General Assembly has appropriated revenue to THDA for grant programs. Likewise, THDA's Board of Directors has allocated additional THDA funds for grants. These funds established a grant program that has been titled by the THDA as the "Tennessee Housing Trust Fund."

The four-level model for funding this grant program includes state appropriations, THDA funds, private sector investment, and matching funds from local grantees. The purpose of this grant program is to serve the needs of low and/or very low income, elderly, and special needs Tennesseans. Funding and uses for the Housing Trust Fund are as follows:

	FY 2011	FY 2010	FY 2009 and Prior	Total
Funding Sources:
THDA	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 18,000,000	$ 30,000,000
State Appropriation	-	-	4,350,000	4,350,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 22,350,000	$ 34,350,000
Approved Uses:
Rural repair program (USDA)	$ 700,000	$ 700,000	$ 2,100,000	$ 3,500,000
Ramp Program (UCP)	-	-	50,000	50,000
Ramp Program	-	-	400,000	400,000
Hsg Modification & Ramp Prg	150,000	150,000	-	300,000
Homebuyer Education Initiative	-	-	300,000	300,000
Emergency Repairs for Elderly	2,000,000	2,000,000	6,000,000	10,000,000
Competitive Grants	3,150,000	3,150,000	13,500,000	19,800,000
Totals	$ 6,000,000	$ 6,000,000	$ 22,350,000	$ 34,350,000

In addition to the above funding, local grants could produce an additional $4 million or more funding each year. Also, the Emergency Repairs for the Elderly program and the Competitive Grants have a 50% grantee match requirement.

THDA is seeking additional private sector funding. In addition to the above approved uses, THDA received requests that merit funding. These requests totaled approximately $6 million more than the funds available.

CURRENT MORTGAGE PRODUCTS AND ENVIRONMENT

THDA offers three primary choices for single-family mortgages. The Great Rate mortgage product offers an attractive interest rate loan secured by a first mortgage. The Great Start program offers a loan with an interest rate that is, as of June 30, 2011, 60 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, but provides 4% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance. In addition, THDA introduced the Great Advantage product during fiscal year 2006, which offers a loan with an interest rate that is, as of June 30, 2011, 30 basis points higher than the Great Rate product, and 2% of the loan amount as down payment and closing cost assistance.

All loans made or purchased by THDA are fixed-rate mortgages with a maximum loan term of 360 months (30 years), and must conform to insurer / guarantor underwriting guidelines. THDA does not make or purchase adjustable rate mortgages (ARMs), interest-only mortgages, "buy-down" loans, mortgages with a future lump-sum payment due (balloon-type mortgage), or with other similar mortgage terms. THDA does not make or purchase "sub-prime" mortgage loans.

Single-family mortgage loans purchased by THDA with Loan-to-value (LTV) ratios between 78% and 97% must have an acceptable insurer/guarantor, which includes:

- FHA (United States Department of Housing and Urban Development)
- VA (Veterans Administration Guaranty Program)
- USDA/RD (the United States Department of Agriculture - Rural Development, formerly Farmers Home Administration)
- Private mortgage insurance

THDA will accept private mortgage insurance provided from private mortgage insurers, who are licensed by the Tennessee Commissioner of Commerce and Insurance to do business in Tennessee; and are rated at least AA by Standard & Poor's Rating Group. THDA will allow privately insured loans underwritten using nationally accepted underwriting guidelines established by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. These loans must be approved through an automated underwriting system such as Desktop Underwriter or Loan Prospector with no expanded approvals. Such privately insured mortgage loans may have loan-to-value ratios up to and including 97% of the lesser of the purchase price or the appraised value.

Loans with a 78% LTV or lower do not require mortgage insurance.

A detailed chart of these mortgage loan products and primary mortgage loan terms may be obtained from THDA's internet site at http://www.thda.org/singlefamily/hochoices.html.

More recently, media attention has focused on mortgage loan delinquencies and foreclosures. For the past several years, THDA has closely monitored its loan portfolio for delinquency and foreclosures. This monitoring has included analysis based on loan type (Great Rate, Great Start, and Great Advantage), insurer/guarantor (FHA, VA, RECD, private mortgage insurer), mortgage loan servicer, down-payment assistance, and other factors as deemed necessary.

As of June 30, 2011, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	26,725	521	39,122,105	1.95%
90+ Days Past Due	26,725	1,085	81,167,263	4.06%
In Foreclosure	26,725	308	24,127,169	1.15%

As of June 30, 2010, the delinquency and foreclosure rates for its single-family loan portfolio are as follows:

Loan Status	Total Number of Loans Serviced	Number of Loans in Status	Principal Amount	Percentage
60-89 Days Past Due	26,756	657	46,015,708	2.46%
90+ Days Past Due	26,756	1,293	95,704,596	4.83%
In Foreclosure	26,756	136	10,466,566	0.51%

Note: Percentage is calculated by dividing the "Number of Loans in Status" by the "Total Number of Loans Serviced."

ECONOMIC FACTORS

In accordance with THDA's investment policy, THDA typically invests in short-term collateralized repurchase agreements, as well as short-term and long-term fixed-rate debt securities from federal agencies. As a bench-mark, THDA uses the one-, three-, and five year Constant Maturity Treasury (CMT) rates as established by the United States Treasury.

The continuation of relatively low interest rates from a historic perspective increased the likelihood of negative arbitrage, in which the interest rates on THDA's bond issues exceeds the current investment interest rates. THDA monitors prepayments and bond investment yields, and seeks to reduce negative arbitrage by calling bonds with the funds from prepayments.

CONTACTING THDA's FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

This financial report is designed to provide THDA's stakeholders with a general overview of THDA's finances and to show accountability for the funds that it receives, invests, and expends. NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Reporting Entity

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency was created by an act of the legislature (Chapter 241, Public Acts, 1973). The act was approved by the Governor on May 14, 1973. The enabling legislation can be found in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 13-23-101 et seq. The purpose of the agency is to improve housing and living conditions for lower- and moderate-income persons and families in Tennessee by making loans and mortgages to qualified sponsors, builders, developers, and purchasers of low- and moderate-income family dwellings.

The agency is governed by a board of directors. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, the Commissioner of the Department of Finance and Administration, and a Staff Assistant to the Governor serve as ex officio board members of the Agency. The remaining members are appointed by the Governor, the Speaker of the State Senate and the Speaker of the State House of Representatives. Board members are to be representatives of the housing, real estate, and home building industries, the mortgage profession, local governments, and the three grand divisions of the state and be knowledgeable about the problems of inadequate housing conditions in Tennessee. One member of the board is a resident board member as required by Section 505 of the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998 and 24 CFR Part 964, Subpart E.

In order to accomplish its objectives, the agency is authorized to raise funds through the issuance of bonds and notes. Bonds and notes issued by the agency are not general obligations of the State of Tennessee or any of its political subdivisions, and neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state or any political subdivision is pledged for payment of the principal or interest on such bonds or notes.

The Tennessee Housing Development Agency is a component unit of the State of Tennessee. Although the agency is a separate legal entity, the state appoints a majority of its governing body, and approves its operating budget. The agency is discretely presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report.

b. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB). The agency generally follows private-sector standards of accounting and financial reporting issued prior to December 1, 1989, to the extent that these standards do not conflict with or contradict guidance of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. The agency also has the option of following subsequent private-sector guidance subject to this same limitation. The agency has elected not to follow subsequent private-sector guidance. Certain accounting policies and procedures are stipulated in the agency's Mortgage Finance Program, Single Family Program, Homeownership Program, and Housing Finance Program bond resolutions and the Single Family Mortgage Notes trust indenture. The agency follows these procedures in establishing and maintaining the various funds and accounts for its programs. Revenues and expenses applicable to each fund and account are recorded therein.

c. Basis of Accounting and Measurement Focus

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the flow of economic resources measurement focus. Under this basis, revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recorded when liabilities are incurred. When both restricted and unrestricted resources are available for use, generally it is the agency's policy to use the restricted resources first.

d. Capital Assets

Capital assets, which include furniture and office equipment, are defined by the agency as assets with an initial, individual cost of $5,000 or more.

Capital assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives of the assets.

Description	Estimated Life
Furniture	10 years
Computer equipment	3 years

e. Restricted Assets

Restricted assets are comprised of the Debt Service Reserve Funds and the New Issue Bond Program (NIBP) 2009-B escrowed bond investments.

The bond resolutions require the agency to establish a Debt Service Reserve Fund for each bond issue. The bond resolutions require that if the Debt Service and Expense Funds or the Revenue Funds of a bond issue are not sufficient to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund requirements of that issue that funds be transferred from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to cover any deficiency.

The NIBP 2009-B escrowed bond investments are restricted for use in the 2009 resolution. These invested funds are restricted to be released, converted and blended with market rate bonds.

f. Bond Issuance Costs and Refunding Costs

1. Bond Issuance Costs: The agency amortizes bond issuance costs using the interest method over the life of the related bond issue. Unamortized bond issuance costs are reported as deferred charges.

2. Bond Refunding Costs: The agency amortizes bond refunding costs using the straight-line method. Bonds payable is reported net of the deferred amount on refundings.

3. Bond Premiums and Discounts: Bond premiums and discounts are deferred and amortized over the life of the bonds using the interest method. Bonds payable are reported net of the applicable unamortized bond premium or discount.

g. Cash and Cash Equivalents

In addition to demand deposits, petty cash, and deposits in the pooled investment fund administered by the State Treasurer, this classification includes short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

h. Investments

The agency has established guidelines for its funds to meet the requirements of the bond resolutions and to comply with the statutes of the State of Tennessee. Permitted investments include the following: direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury and U.S. Agencies; obligations guaranteed by the U.S.; public housing bonds secured by contracts with the U.S.; direct and general obligations of the State of Tennessee or obligations guaranteed by the State of Tennessee; obligations of other states or instrumentalities thereof which are rated in either of the two highest rating categories by Moody's Investor Service or Standard & Poor's Corporation; interest bearing time or demand deposits; collateralized certificates of deposit in authorized state depositories; and repurchase agreements collateralized by authorized securities.

Investments are stated at fair value, except for repurchase agreements which are reported at cost.

i. Accrual of Interest Income

Interest on first mortgage loans receivable and investment securities is credited to income as earned and classified as interest receivable.

j. Mortgages

Mortgages are carried at their original amount less principal collected.

k. Operating Revenues and Expenses

The agency was created with the authority to issue bonds to the investing public in order to create a flow of private capital through the agency into mortgage loans to certain qualified individuals and qualified housing sponsors. The agency's primary operation is to borrow funds in the bond market and issue those funds to make single-family and multi-family loans. The primary operating revenue is the interest income on outstanding mortgages and the investment income from proceeds of bonds. The primary operating expense of the agency is the interest expense on bonds outstanding.

NOTE 2. DEPOSITS AND INVESTMENTS

a. Deposits

Custodial Credit Risk. Custodial credit risk for deposits is the risk that in the event of a bank failure, the agency's deposits may not be returned to it.

The laws of the State of Tennessee require that collateral be pledged to secure all uninsured deposits. The agency's bond resolutions require deposits to be fully secured.

The agency's deposits are in financial institutions which participate in the bank collateral pool administered by the State Treasurer, except as noted below. The securities pledged to protect these accounts are pledged in the aggregate rather than against each individual account. The members of the pool may be required by agreement to pay an assessment to cover any deficiency. Under this additional assessment agreement, public fund accounts covered by the pool are considered to be insured for purposes of credit risk disclosure.

At June 30, 2011, the bank balance was $6,806,625. At June 30, 2010, the bank balance was $4,327,770. All bank balances at June 30, 2011 were insured, except the Bank of New York Mellon (BNYM) accounts. All bank balances at June 30, 2010 were insured. U.S. Department of the Treasury required the funds for the Hardest Hit Fund program to be deposited in the BNYM accounts. THDA has no obligation to ensure that the funds in the accounts are collateralized should the amount of money in the account be in excess of the FDIC insurance coverage of $250,000. THDA will not be responsible for a loss of the funds due to the bank's failure and the lack of adequate collateral. Of the bank balance at June 30, 2011, $4,304,256 was in the BNYM. Of this amount, $4,054,256 was above the FDIC insurance coverage. The agency has deposits in the State Pooled Investment Fund administered by the State Treasurer. The fund is not rated by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization. The fund's investment policy and required risk disclosures are presented in the State of Tennessee Treasurer's Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/treasury.

b. Investments

As stated in the agency's investment policy, the "prudent man rule" shall be the standard of prudence used by all officials responsible for the investment of assets. Investments are made as a prudent person would be expected to act in the management of their own affairs. That would be to consider the safety of capital and the probability of income, while avoiding speculative investments.

The agency's investment policy states that the agency portfolios will be diversified in order to reduce the risk of loss resulting from over concentration of assets in a specific maturity, a specific issuer, or a specific class of securities. The agency may invest one hundred percent (100%) of its portfolio in U.S. government securities due to the absence of credit risk. A minimum of five percent (5%) of the par value of total investments must mature within five years. No more than fifty percent (50%) of the par value of the combined portfolios can be invested in maturities greater than fifteen (15) years without approval of the Bond Finance Committee.

Portfolio maturities shall be staggered in a way that avoids undue concentrations of assets in a specific maturity sector. Maturities shall be selected which provide for stability of income and reasonable liquidity. It is the intent of this policy that sufficient investments be scheduled to mature to provide for the required liquidity for debt service and other expenditures per resolution requirements.

Interest Rate Risk. Interest Rate Risk is the risk that changes in interest rates of debt investments will adversely affect the fair value of an investment.

Duration is a measure of a debt investment's exposure to fair value changes arising from changing interest rates. It uses the present value of cash flows, weighted for those cash flows as a percentage of the investment's full price.

The Housing Finance Program Bonds were established on December 23, 2009, to allow the agency to participate in the U.S. Department of Treasury New Issue Bond Program (NIBP), which was created to assist state and local housing finance agencies in acquiring cost-effective mortgage loan capital. THDA may release funds from issue 2009-B up to six times before December 31, 2011.

The first release and conversion from 2009-B was on June 17, 2010, in the amount of $85,290,000. The $85,290,000 was blended with the market rate 2010-A bonds in the amount of $74,710,000 for a total of $160,000,000.

The second release and conversion from 2009-B was on November 10, 2010, in the amount of $60,000,000. The $60,000,000 was blended with the market rate 2010-B bonds in the amount of $40,000,000 for a total of $100,000,000.

The third release and conversion from 2009-B was on April 14, 2011, in the amount of $60,000,000. The $60,000,000 was blended with the market rate 2011-A bonds in the amount of $40,000,000 for a total of $100,000,000.

The interest rate on the 2009-B bonds is tied to the investment rate on proceeds of the bonds. Proceeds are required to be invested in U.S. Treasury securities maturing in 28 days or less.

b. Debt Service Requirements

Debt service requirements to maturity at June 30, 2011 are as follows (expressed in thousands):

For the Year(s) Ending June 30	Principal	Interest	Total Requirements
2012	$78,021	$90,083	$168,104
2013	50,000	89,091	139,091
2014	50,865	87,530	138,395
2015	51,550	85,803	137,353
2016	53,635	83,911	137,546
2017 – 2021	231,488	389,628	621,116
2022 – 2026	332,608	333,122	665,730
2027 – 2031	245,998	257,470	503,468
2032 – 2036	320,252	196,089	516,341
2037 – 2041	432,373	84,174	516,547
2042	299,770	3,743	303,513
Total	$2,146,560	$1,700,644	$3,847,204

The debt principal in the preceding table is $6,074,000 greater than that presented in the accompanying financial statements. This amount, which is a deduction from bonds payable for the deferred amount on refundings, is not reflected in the above presentation.

c. Redemption of Bonds and Notes

During the year ended June 30, 2011, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $12,260,000, in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $317,390,000 and in the Housing Finance Program in the amount of $5,780,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $12,214,245, $321,059,321 and $5,768,558. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $45,755 and to the Housing Finance Program of $11,442 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $3,669,321.

On October 13, 2010, the agency issued $120,700,000 in Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2010-1. On November 1, 2010, the agency used $99,835,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $99,835,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $99,371,651. The refunding resulted in a difference of $463,349 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $22,227,781 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $10,476,679.

During the year ended June 30, 2010, bonds were retired at par before maturity in the Mortgage Finance Program in the amount of $10,695,000 and in the Homeownership Program in the amount of $168,625,000. The respective carrying values of the bonds were $10,651,667 and $170,939,715. This resulted in an expense to the Mortgage Finance Program of $43,333 and in income to the Homeownership Program of $2,314,715.

On June 17, 2010, the agency issued $74,710,000 in Housing Finance Program Bonds, Issue 2010-A. On June 17, 2010, the agency used $20,595,000 of these bonds to refund bonds previously issued in the Homeownership Program (this amount consists of $20,595,000 early redemption). The carrying amount of these bonds was $20,478,986. The refunding resulted in a difference of $116,014 between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of the old debt. The refunding reduced the agency's debt service by $5,910,703 over the next 15 years, and the agency realized an economic gain (the difference between the present values of the old and new debt service payments) of $2,812,047.

e. Notes Issued and Outstanding

The Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture, dated December 1, 1997 (the "Trust Indenture"), provided for the issuance of agency drawdown notes with a maximum aggregate principal amount of $65,000,000. On April 1, 1999, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $200,000,000. On December 1, 2002, the Trust Indenture was supplemented providing for the maximum aggregate principal amount to be $450,000,000.

The notes bear interest, payable on the second Thursday of each succeeding month with respect to the principal amount drawn down by the agency. The interest rate is equal to ninety-nine percent (99%) of the bond equivalent yield as determined on the related rate date.

In October 2008, the Internal Revenue Service issued Notice 2008-88, amending Notice 2008-41. With an effective date of March 28, 2008, this notice provided temporary relief to issuers by allowing them to purchase their own bonds and commercial paper without causing an extinguishment of the debt for tax purposes. Therefore, on October 9, 2008, due to unstable credit markets, the Tennessee Housing Development Agency purchased at par $83,050,000 of its Single Family Mortgage Notes Trust Indenture from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2009, after which the notes were to be available to reissue. Due to continuing unstable credit markets, on December 31, 2009, the Internal Revenue Service extended the amount of time the agency was allowed to hold its outstanding notes purchased from Morgan Keegan. The agency was allowed to hold the outstanding notes through December 31, 2010; however, the notes matured on August 12, 2010. In accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement 76 Paragraph 3, the outstanding notes are not recorded for financial reporting purposes.

Promissory Note. On December 22, 2008, the agency borrowed $3,250,000 for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Interest is being charged quarterly at 3% with the principal maturing on December 22, 2011. On August 3, 2009, the agency borrowed $500,000 at 3% for the Preserve Loan Program, which is part of the Housing Trust Fund. Principal and interest are paid monthly with the principal maturing on August 4, 2012, however the note was paid off on June 17, 2011.

The activity of the promissory note is also included in the summary of long-term liability activity in part d. of this note.

NOTE 5. RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

The amount shown on the Statement of Net Assets as Restricted for Single Family Bond Programs is contractually pledged, under the bond resolutions of the agency, to the owners of the bonds issued under such bond resolutions. As pledged assets, the contractual provisions of the bond resolutions restrict the use of such assets. However, the assets may be removed from the lien of the bond resolutions if certain parity tests, as established by the respective bond resolutions, are satisfied. Assets removed from the lien of the respective bond resolutions may be used for other purposes.

The amount shown as Restricted for Grant Programs represents unexpended grant money that has been awarded to grantees through various grant programs administered by the agency.

The amount shown as Restricted for Homebuyers Revolving Loan Program represents the amount of net assets that are restricted for a pilot program that funds zero interest loans for down payment and closing costs. The use of these net assets is restricted under legislation enacted in fiscal year 1986.

NOTE 6. DEFINED BENEFIT PENSION PLAN

The agency contributes to the State Employees, Teachers, and Higher Education Employees Pension Plan (SETHEEPP), a cost-sharing, multiple-employer defined benefit pension plan administered by the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS). TCRS provides retirement, death, and disability benefits as well as annual cost-of-living adjustments to plan members and their beneficiaries. Title 8, Chapters 34-37, Tennessee Code Annotated, establishes benefit provisions. State statutes are amended by the Tennessee General Assembly.

The TCRS issues a publicly available financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information for SETHEEPP. That report is available on the state’s website at www.tn.gov/treasury/tcrs.

Plan members are noncontributory. The agency is required to contribute at an actuarially determined rate. The current rate is 14.91% of annual covered payroll. Contribution requirements for the agency are established and may be amended by the TCRS’ Board of Trustees. The agency’s contributions to TCRS for the years ended June 30, 2011, 2010, and 2009, were $1,585,654, $1,295,272, and $1,201,303. Those contributions met the required contributions for each year.

NOTE 7. PROVISIONS FOR MORTGAGE LOAN LOSSES

Most mortgage loans are insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or an approved private mortgage insurance company, or are guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs. The agency's Board of Directors has established a loan loss reserve of $750,000 as a provision for potential loan losses arising from participation in the Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) Loan Guarantee Program. An additional $232,000 was established as a loan loss reserve against potential losses on loans not specifically covered under one of the above programs, and $500,000 was established as a loan loss reserve for self-insurance of second mortgages.

Since the amount of net assets restricted for single family bond programs exceeds the amounts necessary for these loan loss reserves, it is not necessary to designate unrestricted net assets for this purpose.

NOTE 8. RISK MANAGEMENT

a. Commercial Insurance

The agency carries commercial insurance for risks of loss related to employee dishonesty; general liability protection; and theft of, damage to, or destruction of real and personal property. Settled claims resulting from these risks have not exceeded commercial insurance coverage in any of the past three fiscal years.

b. Risk Management Fund

The state has set aside assets for claim settlement in an internal service fund, the Risk Management Fund. This fund services all claims for risk of loss to which the state is exposed, including general liability, automobile liability, professional malpractice, and workers' compensation. The agency participates in the Risk Management Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on a percentage of the agency's expected loss costs which include both experience and exposures. This charge considers recent trends in actual claims experience of the state as a whole. An actuarial valuation is performed as of each fiscal year-end to determine the fund liability and premium allocation. Information regarding the determination of the claims liabilities and the changes in the balances of the claims liabilities for the years ended June 30, 2011, and June 30, 2010, are presented in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. Since the agency participates in the Risk Management Fund, it is subject to the liability limitations under the provisions of the Tennessee Claims Commission Act, Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 9-8-101 et seq. Liability for negligence of the agency for bodily injury and property damage is limited to $300,000 per person and $1,000,000 per occurrence. The limits of liability under workers' compensation are set forth in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 50-6-101 et seq. Claims are paid through the state's Risk Management Fund.

c. Employee Group Insurance Fund

The state has also set aside assets in the Employee Group Insurance Fund, an internal service fund, to provide a program of health insurance coverage for the employees of the state with the risk retained by the state. The agency participates in the Employee Group Insurance Fund. The fund allocates the cost of providing claims servicing and claims payment by charging a premium to the agency based on estimates of the ultimate cost of claims, including the cost of claims that have been reported but not settled and of claims that have been incurred but not reported. Employees and providers have 13 months to file medical claims.

NOTE 9. OTHER POSTEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS (OPEB)

Healthcare is the only "other postemployment benefit" (OPEB) provided to employees. The State of Tennessee administers a group health insurance program which provides postemployment health insurance benefits to eligible THDA retirees. This program includes two plans – the State Employee Group Plan and the Medicare Supplement Plan. For accounting purposes, the plans are agent multiple-employer defined benefit OPEB plans. Benefits are established and amended by an insurance committee created by Tennessee Code Annotated (TCA) Section 8-27-101. In previous fiscal years, prior to reaching the age of 65 all members had the option of choosing a preferred provider organization (PPO), point of service (POS), or health maintenance organization (HMO) plan for healthcare benefits. However, as of January 1, 2011, the insurance plan structure was changed and as a result all members now have the option of choosing between the standard or partnership preferred provider organization (PPO) plan for healthcare benefits. Subsequent to age 65, retirees who are also in the state's retirement system may participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan that does not include pharmacy. The plans are reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

Special Funding Situation. The State of Tennessee is legally responsible for contributions to the Medicare Supplement Plan that covers the retirees of other governmental entities, including the Tennessee Housing Development Agency. The state is the sole contributor for the THDA retirees that participate in the Medicare Supplement Plan and, therefore, is acting as the employer.

Funding Policy. The premium requirements of members of the State Employee Group Plan are established and may be amended by the insurance committee. The plan is self-insured and financed on a pay-as-you-go basis with the risk shared equally among the participants. Claims liabilities of the plan are periodically computed using actuarial and statistical techniques to establish premium rates. Administrative costs of the plan are allocated to participants. Retirees in the State Employee Group Plan who have not reached the age of 65 pay the same base premium as active employees in the plan adjusted for years of service. Retirees with 30 years of service pay 20% of the total premium. Retirees with 20 but less than 30 years of service pay 30% of the total premium. Retirees with less than 20 years of service pay 40% of the total premium. Retired employees who are 65 years of age or older have flat rate premium subsidies based on years of service. Retirees with 30 years of service receive $50 per month; 25 years, $37.50; and 20 years, $25.

Funded Status and Funding Progress. The funded status of THDA's portion of the State Employee Group Plan as of July 1, 2010, was as follows (Thousands):

Actuarial valuation date	7/01/2010
Actuarial accrued liability (AAL)	$ 3,316
Actuarial value of plan assets	-0-
Unfunded actuarial accrued liability (UAAL)	$ 3,316
Actuarial value of assets as a % of the AAL	0%
Covered payroll (active plan members)	$ 8,640
UAAL as a percentage of covered payroll	38%

Actuarial valuations involve estimates of the value of reported amounts and assumptions about the probability of events far into the future, and actuarially determined amounts are subject to continual revision as actual results are compared to past expectations and new estimates are made about the future. The schedule of funding progress, presented as required supplementary information following the notes to the financial statements, presents multiyear trend information about whether the actuarial value of plan assets is increasing or decreasing over time relative to the actuarial accrued liability for benefits.

Actuarial Methods and Assumptions. Calculations are based on the types of benefits provided under the terms of the substantive plan at the time of each valuation and on the pattern of sharing of costs between the employer and plan members to that point. Actuarial calculations reflect a long-term perspective. Consistent with that perspective, actuarial methods and assumptions used include techniques that are designed to reduce short-term volatility in actuarial accrued liabilities and the actuarial value of assets.

In the July 1, 2010, actuarial valuation for the Employee Group Plan, the Projected Unit Credit actuarial cost method was used. The actuarial assumptions included a 4.5 percent investment rate of return (net of administrative expenses) and an annual healthcare cost trend rate of 10 percent for fiscal year 2011. The rate decreased to 9.5 percent for fiscal year 2012 and then reduced by decrements of .5 percent per year to an ultimate rate of 5 percent in fiscal year 2021. All rates include a 3 percent inflation assumption. The unfunded actuarial accrued liability is being amortized as a level percentage of payroll on a closed basis over a 30 year period beginning with July 1, 2007.

NOTE 10. ON-BEHALF PAYMENTS

During the year ended June 30, 2011, the State of Tennessee made payments of $3,525 on behalf of THDA for retirees participating in the Medicare Supplement Plan, and during the year ended June 30, 2010, made payments of $2,657. The Medicare Supplement Plan is a postemployment benefit healthcare plan and is discussed further in Note 9. The plan is reported in the Tennessee Comprehensive Annual Financial Report. That report is available on the state's website at www.tn.gov/finance/act/cafr.html.

NOTE 11. PAYMENTS TO PRIMARY GOVERNMENT

From time to time, the State of Tennessee has called upon the agency and its resources, together with resources of other departments, agencies and organizations in state government, to provide funds to the State General Fund to balance the State budget. The following is a description of these occurrences in relationship to the agency. On June 30, 1995, $15,000,000 from the agency's Housing Program Reserve Fund was transferred to the State General Fund. On June 30, 1998, $43,000,000 was transferred from the agency to the State General Fund. The $43,000,000 transferred from the agency came from the following resources of the agency: (i) $15,459,157 from tax revenues previously directed to the Housing Program Fund; (ii) $5,028,761 from the Housing Program Reserve Fund; and (iii) $22,512,082 from the Assets Fund. On June 30, 2002, a transfer from the agency to the primary government in the amount of $35,367,449 was made from the Assets Fund for the sole purpose of meeting the requirements of funding the operations of the primary government for the year ended June 30, 2002.

SUMMARY OF MORTGAGE INSURANCE AND GUARANTEE PROGRAMS

Introduction

All first lien Program Loans made or purchased by THDA with proceeds of Bonds issued under the General Resolution must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, or (b) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who, at the time of closing, have an acceptable equity interest in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price.

Originating Agents are responsible for obtaining Veteran's Administration ("VA") or U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD") guarantees, Federal Housing Administration ("FHA") insurance certificates or private mortgage insurance certificates as part of the process of originating and closing THDA Program Loans. Borrowers pay the costs associated with such insurance certificates or guarantees.

The following descriptions of certain mortgage insurance programs and loan guarantee programs are all only brief outlines and do not purport to summarize or describe all provisions of each respective program. For a more complete description of these programs, refer to the contract provisions embodied in FHA, USDA/RD (formerly FmHA) and VA regulations, respectively, and to the regulations, master insurance contracts and other such information from the private mortgage insurance providers.

FHA Insurance Programs

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, authorizes various FHA mortgage insurance programs, which differ primarily upon whether the property contains five or more dwelling units or less than five such units and whether the property is designed for occupancy by low and moderate income families.

The National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, imposes a minimum cash requirement for purchase money mortgages of 3.5% of the lesser of appraised value or sales price, resulting in a maximum loan to value percentage of 96.5%.

Under the FHA programs which insure THDA's Program Loans, insurance benefits generally are payable only upon foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance of the property to the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD"). The FHA insurance proceeds available under these programs upon conveyance of the property to HUD is equal to 100% of the outstanding principal balance of the Program Loan, plus interest and certain additional costs and expenses.

Under some FHA insurance programs, HUD pays insurance claims in cash unless the mortgage lender specifically requests payment in debentures issued by HUD. Under other programs, HUD, at its option, may pay insurance claims in cash or in such debentures. Currently, HUD makes insurance payments on mortgages covering less than five dwelling units in cash when it has discretion to determine the form of insurance payment. HUD debentures issued in satisfaction of FHA insurance claims bear interest at the HUD debentures interest rate in effect under HUD regulations on the date of the mortgage insurance commitment or of the initial insurance endorsement of the mortgage, whichever rate is higher.

When FHA insurance benefits are paid after foreclosure (or other acquisition of possession) and conveyance, the amount paid is computed as of the date of default by the borrower, as defined in HUD regulations, and the mortgage lender generally is not compensated for mortgage interest accrued and unpaid prior to that date. When FHA insurance benefits are paid under such circumstances, the insurance payment made is generally equal to the unpaid principal amount of the Program Loan, adjusted to reimburse the mortgage lender for certain tax, insurance and similar payments made by it and to deduct certain amounts received or retained by the mortgage lender after default, plus reimbursement not to exceed a specified percentage of the mortgage lender's foreclosure costs as determined by HUD based on certain criteria. The regulations under the FHA insurance programs which insure THDA's Program Loans provide that the insurance payment itself shall bear interest from the date of default to the date of payment of the claim at an interest rate equal to the monthly average yield, for the month in which the default occurred, on United States Treasury securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years.

When any property conveyed to HUD has been damaged by fire, earthquake, flood or tornado, it is generally required, as a condition to payment of an insurance claim, that the property be repaired by the mortgage lender prior to such conveyance or assignment.

To obtain title to and possession of the property upon foreclosure, the Trustee and the Servicer act under the power of sale provisions in the deed of trust, subject to constraints imposed by applicable state law and by HUD. HUD currently requires that, absent the consent of the borrower, at least three full monthly installments be due and unpaid under the deed of trust before the mortgage lender may initiate any action leading to foreclosure under the deed of trust. HUD also requires a face-to-face conference between the mortgage lender and the borrower in an effort to cure the delinquency without foreclosure. In any case, these requirements do not apply where the borrower has voluntarily abandoned the property, in which case, the mortgage lender may immediately initiate foreclosure proceedings (subject to applicable state law notice provisions).

Veterans Administration Guaranty Program

The Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended, permits a veteran (or in certain instances, the veteran's spouse or certain qualified reservists) to obtain a Program Loan guaranty from the VA covering the purchase of a one-to-four family dwelling unit at interest rates permitted by the VA. The program has no loan limits, requires no down payment from the purchaser and permits the guaranty of Program Loans of up to thirty years duration. The maximum guaranty that may be issued by the VA under this program is the lesser of the veteran's available entitlement or the statutory maximum guaranty based on date of origination, type of housing unit and loan amount. Notwithstanding the dollar and percentage limitations of the guaranty, a mortgage lender will ordinarily suffer a monetary loss only when the difference between the unsatisfied indebtedness and the proceeds of a foreclosure sale of a property is greater than the original guaranty, as adjusted. The VA may, at its option, and without regard to the guaranty, make full payment to a mortgage lender of unsatisfied indebtedness on a mortgage upon its assignment to the VA.

United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development (formerly Farmers Home Administration)

Guaranteed Rural Housing Program

The Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 revised and expanded the interest assistance program for guaranteed loans under Section 502 of Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, by creating the Guaranteed Rural Housing Loan Program. The guaranty covers the lesser of (a) any loss equal to 90% of the original principal amount of the loan or (b) any loss in full up to 35% of the original principal amount of the loan plus any additional loss on the remaining 65% to be shared approximately 85% by USDA/RD and approximately 15% by THDA.

Private Mortgage Insurance Programs

General

Program Loans are permitted under the General Resolution when insured under private mortgage insurance programs as described below.

Private mortgage insurance policies insure against certain losses sustained by reason of default in payments by borrowers. Under most policies, delinquencies must be reported to the insurer within two (2) months of default, and proceedings to recover title must, generally, be commenced within nine (9) months of default. It is standard practice for private mortgage insurers to require that the mortgage lender, prior to presenting a claim under the mortgage insurance policy, acquire and tender to the private mortgage insurer title to the property, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, including any right of redemption by the borrower. When such a claim is presented, the private mortgage insurer will normally retain the option to pay the claim in full and take title to the property and arrange for its sale, or to pay the insured percentage of the claim and allow the insured mortgage lender to retain title to the property. The amount of loss payable generally includes the principal balance due under the mortgage, plus accumulated interest, real estate taxes and hazard insurance premiums which have been advanced, expenses incurred in the preservation of the insured property, and other expenses necessarily incurred in the recovery proceedings.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

APPENDIX C

DESCRIPTION OF AGREEMENTS WITH ORIGINATING AGENTS AND SERVICERS

Working Agreements

THDA has working agreements with each of its Originating Agents (the "Working Agreements"). Under the Working Agreements, THDA reviews and makes or purchases approved Program Loans which have been originated and processed by an Originating Agent.

Each Working Agreement also contains certain representations and warranties by the Originating Agent regarding the Program Loan applications submitted to THDA to the effect that the Originating Agent has no adverse information regarding the credit or reputation of the applicant nor adverse information concerning the real property to be mortgaged that would materially lessen THDA's security or detract from the subsequent marketability of the Program Loan. Each Originating Agent further represents and warrants that it will receive and process for THDA all applications by applicants for Program Loans who qualify as lower and moderate income persons.

The Working Agreement requires that Program Loans meet all requirements contained in THDA's rules and regulations and the O. A. Guide (as defined below). These requirements include, among other things:

(1) a deed of trust securing the Program Loan in a form approved by THDA which creates a valid first lien on the property;

(2) for FHA insured or VA or USDA/RD guaranteed Program Loans, all FHA, VA or USDA/RD rules, regulations and requirements must be met;

(3) evidence of title satisfactory to THDA;

(4) an original hazard insurance policy, delivered at closing, which covers the property subject to the Program Loan, names THDA as first mortgagee, and is in an amount not less than the greater of 90% of the insurable value of the improvements on the property or the full amount of the Program Loan; and

(5) such other documents as are necessary to comply with the federal tax code.

Penalties may be imposed on Originating Agents for violating the Working Agreements. At the option of THDA, Originating Agents may also be required to purchase a Program Loan from THDA when there is a violation under the Working Agreement with respect to the Program Loan. THDA may terminate Working Agreements upon notice, with or without cause or, at its election, temporarily suspend Originating Agent's privilege to originate Program Loans as a result of inadequate performance.

Guide for Originating Agents

THDA provides each Originating Agent with a Guide for Originating Agents (the "O. A. Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax code requirements. The O. A. Guide sets forth requirements and procedures for originating, processing and closing Program Loans. The Guide includes a procedural checklist to be followed by the Originating Agent and copies of all THDA forms required in originating, processing and closing Program Loans.

Servicing Agreements

THDA currently has agreements with U.S. Bank, Magna Bank and First Horizon Bank (recently purchased by Met Life) (the "Servicers") to service Program Loans (the "Servicing Agreements"). U.S. Bank services approximately 80% of THDA's entire portfolio of mortgage loans. Magna Bank and Met Life, through a sub-servicing agreement with U.S. Bank, service the remainder. THDA itself is also permitted to service Program Loans although it has not done so to date. The Servicing Agreements provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. Prior to remittance, the Servicer deducts a servicing fee, late charges and amounts to be held in escrow accounts for real property taxes, mortgage and hazard insurance premiums, and assessments. The servicing fee under current Servicing Agreements is 3/8% annually. The Servicer is required to notify THDA in the event of any default on a Program Loan, and the Servicer may conduct foreclosure proceedings with the consent and at the expense of THDA. The Servicer is required to repurchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of the Servicer's failure to perform its obligations under the Servicing Agreement. THDA may also terminate a Servicing Agreement for inadequate performance by the Servicer.

Guide for Servicers

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers (the "Servicer Guide"), which is amended from time to time by THDA to reflect changes in THDA policy, statutory requirements or federal tax requirements. The Servicer Guide includes substantive servicing requirements, incorporates the limitation on assumption of mortgages contained in the federal tax code, and specifies the procedures to be followed by the Servicer to comply with THDA requirements and the federal tax code. The Servicer Guide also includes a list of the documents that must be maintained by the Servicer, copies of all THDA's servicing and loan assumption forms, together with instructions for their completion and a schedule for the submission of the required forms and reports to THDA.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers. Each Servicer's performance is monitored and its servicing record is subject to examination by THDA's staff. Examinations are performed monthly from documentation received from the Servicer.

Special Programs

For certain special programs, THDA may elect to enter into joint agreements for originating and servicing Program Loans made under such special programs. Any such joint agreements are substantially similar to the Working Agreements and Servicing Agreements described hereinabove.

APPENDIX D

SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION

The General Homeownership Resolution, as amended (the "General Resolution"), contains various covenants and security provisions, certain of which are summarized below. This summary does not purport to be comprehensive or definitive and is subject to all the terms and provisions of the General Resolution, to which reference is hereby made and copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Definitions (Section 1.2)

"Bond" means one of the bonds authenticated and delivered pursuant to the Resolution, including any additional or Refunding Bonds issued pursuant to Article II.

Debt Service Reserve Fund" means the Debt Service Reserve Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement" means, as of any date of calculation the greater of (i) an amount equal to the aggregate of the respective amounts for each Issue of Bonds established in the Supplemental Resolution authorizing such Issue or (ii) an amount equal to 3% of the then current balance of Program Loans plus any other amount on deposit in the Loan Fund which has not been designated to provide for the payment of Costs of Issuance or capitalized interest.

"Costs of Issuance" means all items of expense, directly or indirectly payable or reimbursable by or to THDA and related to the authorization, sale and issuance of Bonds, including but not limited to discount to be paid to the underwriters upon the initial delivery of Bonds, printing costs, costs of preparation and reproduction of documents, filing and recording fees, initial fees and charges of any Fiduciary, legal fees and charges, fees and disbursements of consultants and professionals, costs of credit ratings, fees and charges for the insurance of the payment of Bonds, initial premiums to obtain mortgage pool insurance, accrued interest in connection with the financing of Program Loans and any other cost, charge or fee in connection with the original issuance of Bonds.

"Debt Service" means, with respect to any particular Fiscal Year and any particular Series of Bonds, an amount equal to the sum of (i) all interest payable on such Bonds during such Fiscal Year, plus (ii) any Principal Installment of such Bonds during such Fiscal Year.

"Fund" means one or more, as the case may be, of the special Funds created and established pursuant to this Resolution.

"Interest Payment Date" means any date upon which interest on the Bonds is due and payable in accordance with their terms.

"Investment Securities" means and includes any of the following obligations, to the extent the same are at the time legal for investment of funds of THDA under the Act, including the amendments thereto hereafter made, or under other applicable law:

(1) Obligations of, or obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States of America or any agency or instrumentality thereof when such obligations are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America, including, but not limited to:

- All direct or fully guaranteed United States Treasury;
- Certificates of beneficial ownership issued by the Farmers Home Administration;
- Participation certificates issued by General Services Administration;
- U.S. Maritime Administration guaranteed Title XI financing;
- Guaranteed participation certificates and guaranteed pool certificates issued by the Small Business Administration;
- GNMA-guaranteed mortgage-backed securities and GNMA-guaranteed participation certificates issued by the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA);
- Local authority bonds of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development;

- Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority guaranteed transit bonds; and
- All fully guaranteed obligations of the United States Export-Import Bank;

(2) Federal Housing Administration debentures;

(3) Obligations of the following government-sponsored agencies which are not backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America:

- Participation certificates (those which are guaranteed as to timely payment of principal) and Senior debt obligations of Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. (FHLMC)
- Consolidated system-wide bonds and notes of the Farm Credit System (formerly: Federal Land Banks, Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, and Banks for Co-operatives)
- Consolidated debt obligations of the Federal Home Loan Banks (FHL Banks)
- Senior debt obligations and Mortgage-backed securities (excluding interest only stripped mortgage securities which are valued greater than par on the portion of unpaid principal) issued by Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA);
- Senior debt obligations (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date) and Letter of Credit (LOC) - backed issues issued by Student Loan Marketing Association (SLMA);
- Debt obligations issued by Financing Corp. (FICO);
- Debt obligations issued by Resolution Funding Corp. (REFCORP);

(4) Federal funds, unsecured certificates of deposit, time deposits, and banker's acceptances (having maturities of not more than 365 days) of any bank, the short-term obligations of which are rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(5) Deposits which are fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC);

(6) Debt obligations rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's (excluding securities that do not have a fixed par value and/or whose terms do not promise a fixed dollar amount at maturity or call date);

(7) Commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's maturing not more than 365 days;

(8) Investment in money market funds rated at least 'aam' or 'AAm-G' by S&P and 'Aaa' by Moody's;

(9) Repurchase agreements and investment agreements with any financial institution with long-term unsecured debt rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's or commercial paper rated at least 'A-1' by S&P and 'P-1' by Moody's;

(10) Stripped securities

(i) U.S. Treasury STRIPS

(ii) REFCORP STRIPS (stripped by Federal Reserve Bank of New York), and

(iii) Any stripped securities assessed or rated at least 'AA' by S&P and 'Aa' by Moody's; and

(11) Any other investments which would not adversely affect the then current rating assigned to the Bonds, as confirmed in writing by S&P and Moody's.

"Issuance Amount" shall mean the price, exclusive of accrued interest (if any) which is payable on a semiannual basis, at which a Bond was offered for sale to the public (or the price of such Bond to the initial purchaser if not publicly sold) at the time of issuance thereof by THDA pursuant to Section 2.6, irrespective of underwriter's compensation, commissions, placement agent's fees, concessions, THDA Costs of Issuance, or similar costs.

"Loan Fund" means the Loan Fund established in Section 5.1.

"Non-Mortgage Receipts" means all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses as a result of the investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, but shall not include Revenues.

"Outstanding", when used with reference to Bonds, means, as of any date, all Bonds theretofore or thereupon being authenticated and delivered under this Resolution except:

(1) any Bond canceled by the Trustee or delivered to the Trustee for cancellation at or prior to such date;

(2) any Bond (or portion of a Bond) for the payment or redemption of which there have been separately set aside and held in the Redemption Fund hereunder either:

(a) moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price thereof, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date;

(b) Investment Securities, as described in Section 12.1(13), in such principal amounts, of such maturities, bearing such interest and otherwise having such terms and qualifications as shall be necessary to provide moneys in an amount sufficient to effect payment of the principal or applicable Redemption Price of such Bond, together with accrued interest on such Bond to the Redemption Date; or

(c) any combination of (a) and (b) above;

(3) any Bond in lieu of or in substitution for which other Bonds shall have been authenticated and delivered pursuant to Section 3.7, Section 6.6 or Section 9.6; and

(4) any Bond deemed to have been paid as provided in subsection (B) of Section 12.1.

"Program" means the program for the financing of loans for residential housing established by THDA pursuant to the Act and Program Guidelines, as the same may be amended from time to time consistent with this Resolution, but only to the extent that such program is financed through the issuance of Bonds or from amounts otherwise available out of the moneys and assets held or pledged pursuant to this Resolution.

"Program Expenses" means all of THDA's expenses in carrying out and administering its duties and corporate purposes under the Act and shall include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, salaries, supplies, utilities, mailing, labor, materials, office rent, maintenance, furnishings, equipment, machinery and apparatus, telephone, insurance premiums, legal, accounting, management, consulting and banking services and expenses, fees and expenses of the Fiduciaries, Costs of Issuance not paid from the proceeds of Bonds, travel, payments for pension, retirement, health and hospitalization and life and disability insurance benefits, payments for insurance against losses on the pool of Program Loans, payments to maintain letters of credit obtained to secure the ability of THDA to pay, redeem or purchase Bonds. Program Expenses may also include amounts for establishing and maintaining a two-month reserve to pay operating costs and a reasonable reserve for losses and expenses estimated to be incurred by THDA and amounts appropriate to reimburse THDA for Program Expenses paid from other sources. Program Expenses shall include the amount of any rebate required to be calculated and set aside by THDA pursuant to applicable federal tax law. THDA in its discretion may calculate the rebate amount annually or at the end of such other periods that it may choose as long as the first rebate calculation and all succeeding rebate calculations are performed no later than required by applicable federal tax law.

"Program Loan Loss Coverage" means that portion of the principal amount of Program Loans outstanding which must be treated as a loss for purposes of maintaining the current ratings on the Bonds.

"Projected Cash Flow Statement" means a certificate of an Authorized Officer of THDA setting forth for the current and each succeeding fiscal year in which Bonds are scheduled to be outstanding, THDA's estimate of, among other things: (i) the Revenues, other than Prepayments, expected to be received on all Program Loans financed or expected to be financed with proceeds of Outstanding Bonds; (ii) the aggregate amount of prepayments of Program Loans which THDA reasonably expects to receive with respect to such Program Loans and which are to be applied to the payment of Bonds as set forth in the Supplemental Resolution; (iii) all other Revenues, including the interest to be earned and other income to be derived from the investment of the Funds and Accounts and the rates used in estimating such amounts; (iv) the amount, if any, expected to be withdrawn from the Debt Service Reserve Fund, provided, the amount on deposit in such Fund is expected to at least equal the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such withdrawal and the withdrawal is permitted under the General Resolution; (v) the aggregate Debt Service on Outstanding Bonds during such fiscal year; and (vi) all Program Expenses during such fiscal year.

"Revenue Fund" means the Revenue Fund established pursuant to Section 5.1.

"Revenues" means all payments, proceeds, rents, charges, and other cash income received by THDA from or on account of any Program Loan including scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of any insurance proceeds with respect to principal and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicer as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loan and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan.

"Sinking Fund Payment" means, as of any particular date of calculation, the amount required to be paid at all events by THDA on a certain future date for the retirement of Outstanding Bonds which mature after said future date, but does not include any amount payable by THDA by reason of the maturity of a Bond or by call for redemption at the election of THDA.

Resolution Constitutes Contract (Section 2.2)

The General Resolution constitutes a contract between THDA and the holders of the Bonds and the pledges, covenants and agreements to be performed by THDA are for the equal benefit, protection and security of the holders of any and all of the Bonds..

Obligation of Bonds (Section 2.3)

The Bonds will be special limited obligations of THDA payable only from the revenues and assets pledged therefor. These revenues and assets include the following: mortgage receipts; non-mortgage receipts, including interest earned from the investment of funds in the Escrow Fund or any other Fund or Account; and right, title, and interest in and to the Program Loans.

Provisions for Issuance of Bonds (Sections 2.4, 2.6, 7.3, and 7.15)

The General Resolution authorizes Bonds to be issued from time to time in accordance with its terms without limitation as to amount except as provided by law. The Bonds of a Series may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things:

(1) a Bond Counsel's Opinion to the effect, among other things, that the Bonds of such Series have been duly and validly authorized and issued in accordance with the constitution and statutes of the State, including the Act as amended to the date of such opinion, and in accordance with the General Resolution;

(2) the amount of the proceeds of such Series to be deposited with the Trustee pursuant to the General Resolution (see "Application of Bond Proceeds" below):

(3) except in the case of the initial or a refunding issue, a certificate of an authorized officer stating that THDA is not in default in the performance of any of the covenants, conditions, agreements or provisions contained in the General Resolution and that all other conditions for the issuance of additional Bonds have been met; and

(4) except in the case of a refunding issue, a Projected Cash Flow Statement, as described in Appendix D, showing that the estimated Revenues for each fiscal year in which Bonds will be outstanding, together with any amount scheduled to be withdrawn from the Debt Service Reserve Fund (and permitted to be so withdrawn pursuant to the Resolution), will be sufficient for the payment of the estimated debt service and program expenses for such fiscal year.

Provisions for Refunding Issues (Section 2.7)

Refunding Bonds may be issued to refund any Outstanding Bonds. Refunding Bonds may be authenticated and delivered only upon receipt by the Trustee of, among other things, irrevocable instructions to give notice of the redemption of all Bonds to be refunded and to give published notice as required of the redemption of such Bonds and either (i) moneys sufficient to effect payment at the applicable Redemption Price of the Bonds to be refunded, together with interest accrued to the Redemption Date, or (ii) direct obligations of, or obligations insured or guaranteed by, the United States of America or certificates of deposit secured by such obligations, which by their terms will provide moneys sufficient to provide for the payment of such Redemption Price and accrued interest. Any such moneys, obligations or certificates are required to be held irrevocably in the Redemption Account established under the General Resolution.

Application of Bond Proceeds (Sections 4.1 and 4.3)

As soon as practicable upon the delivery of each Series of Bonds, other than refunding Bonds, an amount necessary to cause the amount on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Fund to at least equal the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement immediately after such delivery is required to be deposited in the Debt Service Reserve Fund. Proceeds of such Series of Bonds which are not to be deposited in such Fund are to be deposited at the direction of an Authorized Officer.

Amounts in the Loan Fund may not be expended and applied for the financing of a Program Loan unless the note issued to evidence the Program Loan and a mortgage securing the Program Loan have been duly executed and, among other things:

(1) the mortgage securing such Program Loan constitutes a first lien, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, on the real property or interest therein securing such Program Loan and on the fixtures acquired with the proceeds of the Program Loan attached to or used in connection with such residential housing;

(2) the eligible borrower has entered into a binding agreement with or for the benefit of THDA that it will pay or escrow all taxes, assessments, water rates, sewer rents and municipal and other charges and fees and any prior liens levied against the premises or any part thereof, and in the case of default in the payment thereof THDA, without notice or demand to the mortgagor, may pay the same and the amount will be a lien on the premises added to the amount of the Program Loan;

(3) the eligible borrower must covenant that the proceeds of the Program Loan will be used solely to pay the reasonable and necessary costs of obtaining the residential housing financed by the Program Loan;

(4) the eligible borrower must covenant that it will keep the buildings on the premises insured against loss by fire and other hazards as required by THDA and that it will maintain the premises in good repair and comply with all requirements of governmental authorities relating thereto; and

(5) the eligible borrower must obtain a policy of title insurance insuring THDA that the mortgage is valid and enforceable in the full amount of the Program Loan.

(6) the Program Loan must be (i) insured by the Federal Housing Administration, (ii) guaranteed by the Rural Economic Community Development Corp. (formerly Farmers Home Administration) or the Veteran’s Administration, (iii) insured or guaranteed by a successor federal or state agency, (iv) have a principal amount not exceeding 78% of the value of the property securing such Program Loan as determined in an appraisal by or acceptable to THDA, or (v) be insured to the extent of any excess over such percentage by a private mortgage insurance company acceptable to THDA and meeting the requirements of the Resolution.

Deposits and Investments (Sections 4.5, 4.6 and 4.7)

All amounts held by the Trustee, any Paying Agent or any Depository under the General Resolution may be deposited in interest-bearing time deposits, repurchase agreements or certificates of deposit or be the subject of similar banking arrangements with commercial banks, savings and loans or investment dealers and, in addition, any amounts held by the Trustee thereunder may be invested in Investment Securities. All amounts held under the General Resolution which are not held in trust for the payment of particular Bonds or which do not represent an investment of amounts held thereunder must be continuously and fully secured for the benefit of THDA and the holders of the Bonds by lodging Investment Securities with the Trustee or in such other manner as may then be required by applicable federal or state laws regarding the deposit of trust funds. In computing the amount in any Fund or Account, obligations purchased as an investment of moneys therein shall be valued at market, except that for purposes of determining the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement at the time of initial funding from Bond proceeds, the issuance of additional obligations and for any other purpose under the General Resolution, such obligations shall be valued at par if purchased at par value or at amortized value if purchased at other than par value. Valuation shall be made as soon as practicable prior to each interest payment date and at any other time required under the General Resolution and on any particular date shall not include the amount of interest then earned or accrued to such date on any deposit or investment.

Establishment of Funds and Accounts (Section 5.1)

The General Resolution establishes the following special trust funds and accounts which are to be held by the Trustee:

(1) Loan Fund;

(2) Revenue Fund,
Debt Service and Expense Account,
Non-Mortgage Receipts Account, and
Redemption Account;

(3) Debt Service Reserve Fund; and

(4) Escrow Fund.

Loan Fund (Section 5.2)

In addition to proceeds of a Series of Bonds, amounts are required to be deposited in the Loan Fund from the Revenue Fund under certain circumstances as more fully described below (see "Revenue Fund"). Amounts in the Loan Fund may be expended only to pay the cost of financing Program Loans, to pay reasonable and necessary Costs of Issuance, and to make deposits in the Debt Service and Expense Account with respect to capitalized interest. Amounts in the Loan Fund may, however, be transferred to the Revenue Fund if a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee. At the direction of THDA, the Trustee may transfer amounts in the Loan Fund to the Redemption Account or apply such amounts directly to the redemption, purchase or retirement of Bonds at any time that such Bonds are subject to redemption or payment from such amounts, but only if there is delivered to the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement and a certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that, in the judgment of THDA, the estimated Revenues available after the payment of estimated Debt Service on the Bonds and Program expenses are greater than they would have been if all or a portion of such amounts had been applied to the financing of Program Loans.

Revenue Fund (Section 5.3)

The General Resolution establishes the following trust accounts within the Revenue Fund: the Debt Service and Expense Account, the Redemption Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account.

Debt Service and Expense Account. All Revenues are to be deposited promptly with a Depository and transmitted to the Trustee at least monthly for deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account within the Revenue Fund. The Trustee is required to make payments out of the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Paying Agents as follows: (a) on or before each interest payment date, the amounts required for the payment of principal installments, if any, and interest due on the Bonds on such date and (b) on or before the Redemption Date or date of purchase, the amounts required for the payment of accrued interest on Bonds redeemed or purchased for retirement, unless such interest is otherwise provided for.

Prior to the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee may, and if so directed by THDA is required to, apply any amount accumulated in the Debt Service and Expense Account up to the unsatisfied balance of such Sinking Fund Payment (together with amounts accumulated in the Revenue Fund with respect to interest on the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established) as follows: (a) to the purchase of the Bonds for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established, at prices not exceeding the Redemption Price for such Bonds if they are redeemable by application of said Sinking Fund Payment plus unpaid interest accrued to the date of purchase, or (b) to the redemption of such Bonds if then redeemable by their terms at the Redemption Price referred to in clause (a) hereof. Upon such purchase or redemption of any Bond, an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bond so purchased or redeemed will be credited to the Sinking Fund Payment next coming due. The excess of the amounts so credited over the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment will be credited by the Trustee against future Sinking Fund Payments in direct chronological order, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

As soon as practicable after the forty-fifth day preceding the due date of any Sinking Fund Payment, the Trustee is to proceed to call for redemption on such due date Bonds of the Series and Maturity for which such Sinking Fund Payment was established in a principal amount equal to the amount of such Sinking Fund Payment. The Trustee is required to call such Bonds for redemption whether or not it then has moneys in the Debt Service and Expense Account sufficient to pay the applicable Redemption Price on the Redemption Date.

Within ninety days after the close of each Fiscal Year, THDA is required to file with the Trustee a Projected Cash Flow Statement as of the first day of the then current Fiscal Year (but assuming the transfer of any amount to the Loan Fund as provided in clause (b) of this sentence) which states (a) the amount remaining in the Debt Service and Expense Account as of such first day after deducting all payments made on each interest payment date as described above and (b) the amount required to be transferred to the Loan Fund in accordance with the assumptions made in such Projected Cash Flow Statement. Upon receipt thereof, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the amount stated in clause (a) above as follows:

> FIRST: From the amount so available the amount, if any, by which the amount on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Fund is less than the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement shall be transferred to the Debt Service Reserve Fund.
> SECOND: From the amount, if any, so available after the transfer provided above has been made, the amount needed to be transferred to THDA to pay reasonable and necessary Program Expenses which are due and owing.
> THIRD: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after the transfers provided above have been made, the amount, if any, stated in such Projected Cash Flow Statement as to be transferred to the Loan Fund shall be so transferred and if such Projected Cash Flow Statement does not comply with subsection 7.11(C) the amount so available shall be transferred to the Loan Fund as set forth in the Certificate delivered in accordance with Section 5.3(H).
> FOURTH: From the amount, if any, so available and remaining after any transfers provided for above have been made, the remaining amount shall be transferred to the Redemption Account as directed by THDA. If, however, the amount of Program Loans (valued at par) and Investment Securities held by the Trustee hereunder (other than Investment Securities in the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund) valued in accordance with this Resolution, is greater than 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, then the amount remaining, up to such excess above the 102% of the principal amount of all Bonds Outstanding plus the Program Loan Loss Coverage, may be withdrawn from the Debt Service and Expense Account at any time during the then current Fiscal Year, upon receipt by the Trustee of a Certificate to such effect from an Authorized Officer of THDA and a Projected Cash Flow Statement after giving effect to such withdrawal, to be applied to any purpose of THDA consistent with THDA's tax covenants described below, free and clear of the lien of any pledge of this Resolution. The Projected Cash Flow Statement for purposes of this provision shall include all Program Loans, including any Program Loans which have been in payment default for sixty (60) or more consecutive days. For the purposes of this paragraph,

there shall be excluded from the amount of Program Loans and Investment Securities any Program Loans or Investment Securities which were acquired with amounts deposited in the Loan Fund or the Debt Service Reserve Fund from sources other than the proceeds of Bonds or transfers from the Revenue Fund, unless, at the time such amounts were deposited therein, the Trustee receives a Certificate of an Authorized Officer stating that such amounts are not necessary to be deposited therein in order to provide Revenues sufficient to provide for the payment of Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee may at any time, upon the written direction of an Authorized Officer (a) make transfers from the Debt Service and Expense Account to the Debt Service Reserve Fund or the Redemption Account for the purposes of such Fund or Account or (b) make payments to THDA for the purpose of paying reasonable and necessary Program Expenses for the then current Fiscal Year. No such transfer is to be made, however, unless there is on deposit in the Debt Service and Expense Account and the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after such transfer or payment an amount equal to the principal and interest accrued on all Outstanding Bonds as of the date of such transfer or payment, plus an amount equal to the cumulative amount of prepayments received by THDA during such fiscal year which exceeds the amount of prepayments estimated to be applied to the payment of Debt Service during such fiscal year in the most recent Projected Cash Flow Statement delivered to the Trustee by THDA. In addition no such transfers shall be made until a Projected Cash Flow Statement is delivered to the Trustee and no payment for Program Expenses is to be made unless the revenue statement to be delivered to the Trustee for each preceding month as described below shows that accrued Revenues exceed accrued Debt Service.

No payments are required to be made into the Debt Service and Expense Account so long as the amount on deposit therein is sufficient to pay all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof) in accordance with their terms, and any Revenues thereafter received by THDA may be applied to any purpose of THDA free and clear of the lien of the pledge of the General Resolution.

Redemption Account. There are to be deposited in the Redemption Account any amounts required by the General Resolution to be so deposited and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein. The Trustee is required to apply the amounts deposited in the Redemption Account to the payment, purchase or redemption of Bonds at the earliest practicable Redemption Date as described under “Redemption of Bonds.”

Upon the purchase or redemption of Bonds of any Series and maturity for which Sinking Fund Payments have been established from amounts in the Redemption Account, each future Sinking Fund Payment for such Bonds will be credited by an amount bearing the same ratio to such Sinking Fund Payment as the total principal amount of such Bonds to be so purchased or redeemed bears to the total amount of all such Sinking Fund Payments, unless otherwise directed by THDA.

Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. All Non-Mortgage Receipts received by the Trustee are to be promptly deposited in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. The Trustee is required to maintain records sufficient to determine the average daily balance of the amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund, the Debt Service Reserve Fund and the Debt Service and Expense Account and Redemption Account in the Revenue Fund. If so directed by THDA, the Trustee must maintain such records separately for each Series of Bonds.

Semi-annually not later than each Interest Payment Date, the Trustee is required to transfer from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account to the Debt Service and Expense Account an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount needed to enable the Trustee to pay Debt Service on the Bonds on such Interest Payment Date and (ii) the balance then on deposit in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account. If at any time the amount available prior to any Interest Payment Date shall be insufficient for the making of such transfers, then the Trustee shall make transfers to the Debt Service and Expense Account from the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account from the first available Non-Mortgage Receipts received subsequent to such Interest Payment Date and the amount so transferred shall not reduce the amount required to be transferred prior to the next Interest Payment Date.

Any amount remaining in the Non-Mortgage Receipts Account after the semi-annual transfer to the Debt Service and Expense Account shall be transferred, at the direction of an Authorized Officer, to the Loan Fund, the Redemption Account or the Escrow Fund.

Debt Service Reserve Fund (Section 5.4)

If on any Interest Payment Date or Redemption Date, the amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund and the Redemption Fund are less than the amount required for the payments due on the Bonds on such date, the Trustee is to apply amounts from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to the extent required to make good the deficiency.

If concurrently with the allocation from the Revenue Fund, the amount on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Fund is in excess of the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement, the Trustee may, if so directed, transfer the amount of such excess to the Redemption Account.

Whenever the amount in the Debt Service Reserve Fund, together with the amount in the Revenue Fund, is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on all Outstanding Bonds (including the Sinking Fund Payments for the retirement thereof), all amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund are to be transferred to the Debt Service Reserve Fund. Prior to such transfer, all investments held in the Revenue Fund are to be liquidated and any Bonds constituting a part of such Fund will be deemed paid and canceled.

Escrow Fund (Section 5.5)

There shall be deposited in the Escrow Fund, all amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited therein and any other amounts available therefor and determined by THDA to be deposited therein.

Amounts in the Escrow Fund may be applied to any lawful purpose of THDA consistent with the Resolution.

Redemption of Bonds (Sections 3.7, 5.3, 6.4 and 6.5)

Bonds may be redeemed from amounts on deposit in the Loan Fund or the Revenue Fund or from other amounts made available by THDA for such purpose. Amounts deposited in the Redemption Account within the Loan Fund must be applied to the redemption of Bonds at the earliest possible time, subject to their terms and the terms of their respective authorizing resolutions. If THDA directs the publication of a notice of redemption from amounts other than amounts in the Redemption Account, THDA is responsible to provide funds for such redemption to the appropriate Paying Agents prior to the date of redemption.

Amounts on deposit in the Revenue Account which are to be applied to the redemption of Bonds may, until the forty-fifth day prior to the date for redemption of such Bonds, be applied to the purchase of such Bonds at prices not exceeding the applicable redemption price, plus accrued interest, unless such Bonds are to be redeemed more than thirteen months from the date of purchase, in which event the purchase price may not exceed par. Any difference between the maximum price payable for such Bonds and the price actually paid is to be deposited in the Debt Service and Expense Account.

The selection of Bonds to be redeemed from the amounts to be applied to the redemption of Bonds of such particular Series and maturity is to be made by the Trustee by lot. For such purpose registered bonds of a denomination greater than $5,000 are to be assigned separate numbers for each $5,000 portion. In the event that the Trustee is required to redeem Appreciation Bonds by lot, the Trustee will assign a separate number to each Appreciation Bond on the basis of its Maturity Amount. The Trustee shall mail, postage prepaid, a copy of the notice of redemption not less than 20 days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to the provider of a central depository system) prior to the date of redemption to the registered owners of all registered Bonds subject to redemption at the last address of such registered owners appearing on the registry books in respect of the Bonds. Publication of notice of redemption is not required if all Bonds to be redeemed are registered bonds. THDA is not obliged to exchange or transfer Bonds within ten days preceding the giving of notice of redemption and is not obliged to exchange or transfer any Bonds which have previously been called for redemption.

Power as to Bonds and Pledge (Section 7.3)

THDA covenants that it is duly authorized pursuant to law to authorize and issue the Bonds and to adopt the General Resolution and to pledge the assets and revenues purported to be pledged by the General Resolution in the manner and to the extent provided in the General Resolution.

Payment of Bonds (Section 7.4)

THDA covenants that it will duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid the principal or Redemption Price, if any, of every Bond and the interest thereon, at the dates and places and in the manner stated in the Bonds, according to the true intent and meaning thereof, and shall duly and punctually pay or cause to be paid all Sinking Fund Payments, if any, becoming payable with respect to any Series of Bonds.

Tax Covenants (Section 7.9)

THDA covenants that (i) it will not permit at any time or times any of the proceeds of the Bonds or other funds of THDA to be used directly or indirectly to acquire any securities or obligations the acquisition of which would cause any Bond to be an "arbitrage bond" as defined in the applicable federal tax law and (ii) it will not permit such proceeds or other funds to be used in such manner as would result in the exclusion of any Bond from the treatment afforded by the applicable federal tax law by reason of the classification of such Bond as a "mortgage subsidy bond" pursuant to the applicable federal tax law or as an "industrial development bond" within the meaning of the applicable federal tax law, except in the case of Bonds held by a "substantial user" or "related person" within the meaning of Section 147(c) of the Code.

Accounts and Reports (Section 7.10)

THDA covenants that it will keep, or cause to be kept, proper books of record and account in which complete and accurate entries shall be made of all its transactions relating to the Homeownership Program and all Funds established by the General Resolution which shall at all reasonable times be subject to the inspection of the Trustee and the holders of an aggregate of not less than 5% in principal amount of Bonds then Outstanding or their representatives duly authorized in writing.

On or before the twenty-fifth day of each month or as soon as practicable thereafter, THDA is required to submit to the Trustee a statement of account for the preceding month setting forth the amount received as Revenues during such month and stating the cumulative amount of Revenues (including individual totals for prepayments and monthly Program Loan receipts) and Non-Mortgage Receipts which have been received since the date upon which the last Principal Installment on Outstanding Bonds was payable.

THDA must annually, within ninety days after the close of each fiscal year, file with the Trustee (1) a copy of an annual report for such fiscal year, setting forth its operations and accomplishments during such fiscal year and (2) financial statements of THDA for such fiscal year setting forth in reasonable detail: (a) a balance sheet for THDA and its programs showing the assets and liabilities of the Homeownership Program at the end of such fiscal year, and (b) a statement of revenues and expenses in accordance with the categories or classifications established by THDA so long as such financial statements for the Homeownership Program are separately identified and are consistent with the requirements of the General Resolution and satisfactory to the Trustee. The financial statements shall be accompanied by the certificate of an independent accountant stating that the financial statements examined present fairly the financial position of THDA at the end of the fiscal year, the results of its operations and the changes in financial position for the period examined, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. A copy of each annual Projected Cash Flow Statement and annual report or special report and any accountant's certificate shall be mailed promptly thereafter by THDA to each Bondholder who shall have filed his name and address with THDA for such purposes.

Budgets (Section 7.12)

THDA must adopt an annual budget covering its fiscal operations for the succeeding fiscal year not later than the first day of each such fiscal year, and file the same with the Trustee and with such officials of THDA as required under the Act. The annual budget shall at least set forth for such fiscal year the estimated revenues, principal installments and interest due and payable or estimated to become due and payable during such fiscal year and estimated expenses of the Homeownership Program. THDA at any time may adopt and file with the Trustee an amended annual budget for the remainder of the then current fiscal year in the manner provided in the General Resolution for the adoption of the annual budget. Copies of the annual budget and any amended annual budget must be made available by the Trustee for inspection by any Bondholder.

THDA covenants from time to time, with all practical dispatch and in a sound and economical manner consistent in all respects with the Act, with the provisions of the General Resolution and with sound banking practices and principles, to use and apply the proceeds of the Bonds (to the extent not reasonably or otherwise required for other purposes of the Homeownership Program) to finance Program Loans, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect Revenues sufficient to pay the expenses of the Program and to diligently enforce, and take all steps, actions and proceedings reasonably necessary in the judgment of THDA to maintain any insurance on Program Loans and to enforce all terms, covenants and conditions of Program Loans.

Whenever necessary in order to protect and enforce the interest and security of the holders of the Bonds, THDA covenants to commence foreclosure or pursue other appropriate remedies with respect to any Program Loan which is in default. In the event that THDA shall, in its discretion, determine such action to be in the best interests of the holders of the Bonds, THDA may bid for and purchase the premises covered by any such Program Loan at any foreclosure sale thereof or may otherwise take possession of or acquire such premises.

THDA may sell, assign or otherwise dispose of a Program Loan or the premises to which such Program Loan is related:

(1) in order to realize the benefits of insurance with respect to such Program Loan or premises;

(2) in order to provide funds to provide for the redemption or purchase of an amount of Bonds having a value corresponding to the value of such Program Loan; or

(3) if a Projected Cash Flow Statement has been filed with the Trustee giving effect to the proposed sale thereof.

Upon the happening of an Event of Default resulting from nonpayment of the Bonds and at the written request of the Trustee or of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, THDA is required to deliver the Program Loans to the Trustee and take any other steps requested by the Trustee or such Bondholders in order to further effectuate the assignment of all of the Program Loans to the Trustee.

Powers of Amendment (Section 9.2)

Except with respect to certain modifications or amendments that do not require consent of bondholders as described in the General Resolution, any modification or amendment of any provision of the General Resolution or of the rights and obligations of THDA and of the holders of the Bonds may be made by a Supplemental Resolution, with the written consent given as provided in the General Resolution (a) of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, (b) in case less than all of the several Series of Bonds would be affected by such modification or amendment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of each Series so affected, or (c) in case the modification or amendment changes the terms of any Sinking Fund Payment, of the holders of at least two-thirds in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds of the particular Series and maturity entitled to such Sinking Fund Payment, except that if such modification or amendment will, by its terms, not take effect so long as any Bonds of any specified like Series and maturity remain Outstanding, the consent of the holders of such Bonds shall not be required. No such modification or amendment shall permit a change in the terms of redemption or maturity of the principal of any Outstanding Bond or of any installment of interest thereon or a reduction in the principal amount or the Redemption Price thereof or in the rate of interest thereon without the consent of the holder of such Bond or shall reduce the percentages or otherwise affect the classes of Bonds, the consent of the holders of which is required to effect any such modification or amendment.

Events of Default (Sections 10.1 and 10.10)

It is an "event of default" if: (a) THDA shall default in the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if any, on any Bond when and as the same shall become due, whether at maturity or upon call for redemption or otherwise; (b) payment of any installment of interest on any of the Bonds shall not be made within thirty days after the same shall become due; or (c) THDA fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of the General Resolution, or shall default in the performance or observance of any of the covenants, agreements or conditions contained therein, in any Supplemental Resolution, or in the Bonds, and such failure, refusal or default shall continue for a period of forty-five days after written notice thereof by the Trustee or the holders of not less than 5% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds.

The Trustee must give the Bondholders notice of each event of default known to the Trustee within ninety days, unless such event of default has been remedied or cured, except that, in the case of default in the payment of the principal of or Redemption Price or interest on any of the Bonds, or in the making of any payment required to be made into the Loan Fund, the Trustee may withhold such notice if and so long as the board of directors, the executive committee, or a trust committee of directors or responsible officers of the Trustee in good faith determines that the withholding of such notice is in the interest of the Bondholders. Each such notice is to be given by mail: (i) to all registered holders of Bonds, as their names and addresses appear upon the books for registration and transfer of Bonds as kept by the Trustee, (ii) to such holders of Bonds as have filed their names and addresses with the Trustee for that purpose, and (iii) to such other persons as is required by law.

Remedies (Sections 10.2 and 10.3)

Upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (a) and (b) above, the Trustee shall proceed, or upon the happening and continuance of any event of default specified in clause (c) above, the Trustee may proceed, and upon the written request of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds (75% with respect to an acceleration) shall proceed, in its own name, subject to the General Resolution, to protect and enforce the rights of the Bondholders by such of the following remedies as the Trustee, being advised by counsel, shall deem most effectual to protect and enforce such rights: (a) by mandamus or other suit, action or proceeding at law or in equity, to enforce all rights of the Bondholders, including the right to require THDA to receive and collect Revenues adequate to carry out the covenants and agreements as to, and the assignment of, the Program Loans and to require THDA to carry out any other covenant or agreement with Bondholders and to perform its duties under the Act; (b) by bringing suit upon the Bonds; (c) by action or suit in equity, to require THDA to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the holders of the Bonds; (d) by action or suit in equity, to enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the holders of the Bonds; (e) by declaring all Bonds due and payable, and if all defaults shall be made good, then, with the written consent of the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Bonds, by annulling such declaration and its consequences; or (f) in the event that all Bonds are declared due and payable, by selling Program Loans and Investment Securities.

Except upon the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default under the Resolution, THDA reserves and retains the privilege to receive and, subject to the terms and provisions of the Resolution, to keep or dispose of, claim, bring suit upon or otherwise exercise, enforce or realize upon its rights and interest in and to the Program Loans and the proceeds and collections therefrom, and neither the Trustee nor any Bondholder will be deemed to be an indispensable party for such purposes.

In the event that during the continuance of an event of default, the funds held by the Trustee and Paying Agents are insufficient for the payment of principal or Redemption Price, if any, and interest then due on the Bonds, such funds (other than funds held for the payment or redemption of particular Bonds which have theretofore become due at maturity or by call for redemption) and any other moneys received or collected by the Trustee acting pursuant to the Act and the General Resolution, after making provision for the payment of any expenses necessary in the opinion of the Trustee to protect the interests of the holders of the Bonds and for the payment of the charges and expenses and liabilities incurred and advances made by the Trustee or any Paying Agents in the performance of their duties under the General Resolution, are to be applied as follows:

(1) Unless the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable:

FIRST: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of all installments of interest then due in the order of the maturity of such installments, and, if the amount available is not sufficient to pay in full any installment, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts due on such installment, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

SECOND: To the payment to the persons entitled thereto of the unpaid principal or Redemption Price of any Bonds which shall have become due, whether at maturity or by call for redemption, in the order of their due dates and, if the amounts available shall not be sufficient to pay in full all the Bonds due on any date, then to the payment thereof ratably, according to the amounts of principal or Redemption Price, if any, due on such date, to the persons entitled thereto, without any discrimination or preference.

(2) If the principal of all of the Bonds has become or been declared due and payable, to the payment of the principal and interest then due and unpaid upon the Bond without preference or priority of principal over interest or of interest over principal, or of any installment of interest over any other installment of interest, or of any Bond over any other Bond, ratably, according to the amounts due respectively for principal and interest, to the persons entitled thereto without any discrimination or preference except as to any difference in the respective rates of interest specified in the Bonds.

Bondholders' Direction of Remedial Proceedings (Section 10.5)

The holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding retain the right, upon a written instruction, to direct the method used by the Trustee in conducting all remedial proceedings, but only if such direction is in accordance with the law and the provisions of the Resolution, and is not unjustly, prejudicial, in the Trustee's opinion, to the remaining Bondholders.

Limitation on Rights of Bondholders (Section 10.6)

No individual Bondholder may initiate legal proceedings to enforce rights under the General Resolution unless such holder shall have given to the Trustee written notice of the event of default or breach of duty on account of which such proceeding is to be taken, and unless the holders of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding have made written request of the Trustee after the right to exercise such right of action has occurred, and have afforded the Trustee a reasonable opportunity either to exercise the powers granted to it under the General Resolution or to institute such proceedings in its name and unless, also, there has been offered to the Trustee reasonable security and indemnity against costs, expenses and liabilities and the Trustee has refused or neglected to comply with such request within a reasonable time. No provision in the General Resolution on defaults and remedies affects or impairs the right of any Bondholder to enforce the payment of the principal of and interest on his Bonds, or the obligation of THDA to pay the same.

Compensation of Trustee and Paying Agents (Section 11.5)

THDA is required to pay reasonable compensation to the Trustee and to each Paying Agent for all services rendered under the General Resolution, and also all reasonable expenses, charges, counsel fees and other disbursements, including those of their attorneys, agents and employees, incurred in and about the performance of their powers and duties under the General Resolution, and the Trustee and each Paying Agent shall have a lien therefor on any and all funds at any time held by it under the General Resolution.

Removal of Trustee (Sections 11.8 and 11.9)

The Trustee is required to be removed if so requested by the holders of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding, excluding any Bonds held by or for the account of THDA. THDA may remove the Trustee at any time, except during the existence of an event of default, for such cause as THDA may determine in its sole discretion. In either such event, a successor is required to be appointed.

Defeasance (Section 12.1)

If THDA shall pay or cause to be paid to the holders of the Bonds, the principal and interest and Redemption Price, if any, to become due thereon, at the times and in the manner stipulated therein and in the General Resolution, then the pledge of any revenues and assets thereby pledged and all other rights granted thereby shall be discharged and satisfied.

Bonds or interest installments for the payment or redemption of which moneys have been set aside and held in trust by Fiduciaries (through deposit by THDA of funds for such payment or redemption or otherwise) at the maturity or Redemption Date thereof will be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect expressed in the above paragraph. Any Bonds shall prior to the maturity or Redemption Date thereof be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect so expressed if (a) in case any of said Bonds are to be redeemed on any date prior to their maturity, THDA has given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as provided in the General Resolution, notice of redemption on said date of such Bonds, (b) there have been deposited with the Trustee either moneys in an amount which are sufficient, or Investment Securities, the principal of and the interest on which when due will provide moneys which, together with the moneys, if any, deposited with the Trustee at the same time, will be sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest due and to become due on said Bonds on and prior to the Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and (c) in the event said Bonds are not by their terms subject to redemption within the next succeeding sixty days, THDA has given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to publish, as soon as practicable, at least twice, at an interval of not less than seven days between publications, in the Authorized Newspapers a notice to the holders of such Bonds that the deposit required by (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid and stating such maturity or Redemption Date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, on said Bonds. Neither the Investment Securities nor the moneys so deposited with the Trustee nor principal or interest payments on any such Investment Securities shall be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than (and shall be held in trust for) the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest on said Bonds, but any cash received from such principal or interest payments on such Investment Securities deposited with the Trustee, if not then needed for such purpose, shall, to the extent practicable, be reinvested in Investment Securities maturing at times and in amounts sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest to become due on said Bonds on and prior to such Redemption Date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be, and interest earned from such reinvestments shall be paid over to THDA, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

OTHER THDA FINANCINGS, THDA FUNDS AND THDA ACTIVITIES

Other Financings

General Housing Finance Resolution (the "2009 General Resolution")

THDA has issued bonds in the initial aggregate principal amount of $660,000,000 under the 2009 General Resolution which were outstanding as shown on the table below after giving effect to releases from escrow and conversion, redemptions and regularly scheduled payments of principal and accretion of interest:

Issue of Bonds	Issue/Release Date	Issued	Released from Escrow/Converted	Outstanding as of May 31, 2012 (unaudited)	Original Net Interest Cost
2009-A	December 23, 2009	$100,000,000	--	$ 91,845,000	3.96%

2010-A/2009-B-1	June 17, 2010	74,710,000	$ 85,290,000	146,225,000	3.85
2010-B/2009-B-2	November 10, 2010	40,000,000	60,000,000	96,795,000	3.15
2011-A/2009-B-3	April 14, 2011	40,000,000	60,000,000	97,475,000	3.70
2011-B/2009-B-4	August 25, 2011	40,000,000	60,000,000	99,575,000	3.01
2011-C/2009-B-5	November 3, 2011	65,290,000	34,710,000	99,995,000	3.01
TOTAL		$660,000,000	$300,000,000	$631,910,000

(1) Portions of such Bonds were converted and redesignated as Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-1, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-2, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-3, Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-4, and Issue 2009-B, Subseries B-5.

(2) Variable rate, taxable.

As of May 31, 2012, 6,123 mortgage loans in the approximate aggregate principal amount of $614,189,127 were outstanding under the 2009 General Resolution.

THDA may, in the future, elect to issue new bonds under the 2009 General Resolution. The mortgage loans and investments financed with the proceeds of any new bonds issued under the 2009 General Resolution and the revenues therefrom will be pledged to the payment of such bonds (and will not be pledged to the payment of the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds, and will be available for the general purposes of THDA only as provided in the 2009 General Resolution).

Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution")

THDA has issued bonds in the initial aggregate principal amount of $191,885,000 under the 1974 General Resolution which were outstanding as shown on the table below after giving effect to redemptions and regularly scheduled payments of principal and accretion of interest:

Issue of Bonds	Dated	Issued	Outstanding as of May 31, 2012 (unaudited)	Mortgage Rates	Net Interest Cost
2003 Series A	September 4, 2003	$191,885,000	$61,400,000	7.05/7.75	4.90
TOTAL		$191,885,000	$61,400,000

As of May 31, 2012, 2,832 mortgage loans in the approximate aggregate principal amount of $136,213,992 were outstanding under the 1974 General Resolution.

THDA may, in the future, elect to issue new bonds under the 1974 General Resolution. The mortgage loans and investments financed with the proceeds of any new bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution and the revenues therefrom will be pledged to the payment of such bonds (and will not be pledged to the payment of the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds) and will be available for general purposes of THDA only as provided in the 1974 General Resolution.

Single Family Program Bond Resolution (the "1981 Resolution")

On February 2, 1994, THDA issued and sold Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 1994-1 (Taxable) in the aggregate principal amount of $33,500,000 (the "Issue 1994-1 Bonds") the proceeds of which were used to redeem all bonds then outstanding under the 1981 Resolution. All assets under the 1981 Resolution, including mortgages financed with the proceeds of bonds issued under the 1981 Resolution and remaining cash and investments held for the benefit of bondholders under the 1981 Resolution, were transferred out of the 1981 Resolution at the time of the issuance and sale of the Issue 1994-1 Bonds.

While no mortgages or bonds are currently outstanding under the 1981 Resolution, THDA may, in the future, elect to issue new bonds under the 1981 Resolution. The mortgages and investments financed with the proceeds of any new bonds issued under the 1981 Resolution and the revenues therefrom will be pledged to the payment of such bonds (and will not be pledged to the payment of the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds) and will be available for general purposes of THDA only as provided in the 1981 Resolution.

THDA Funds

Introduction

In 1988, the General Assembly of the State amended THDA's Act to create the Assets Fund, the Housing Program Fund, the Housing Program Reserve Fund, and the HOUSE Program. The funds were created to ensure the stability of the HOUSE Program and to enhance the self-sufficiency of THDA. The Housing Program Fund, the Housing Program Reserve Fund and the HOUSE Program, as well as other activities of THDA described herein, are financially separate from THDA's bond resolutions and loan programs, including the Resolution and the Homeownership Program. See Appendix A for additional financial information. Certain actions by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee have and may affect amounts in these funds. See "THDA - THDA Funds" for more information.

Assets Fund

The Act established the Assets Fund as a segregated fund and general asset of THDA. In 1989, THDA transferred monies and Mortgage Loans to the Assets Fund from the 1974 General Resolution; however, subsequent actions by the General Assembly resulted in the transfer of all monies in the Assets Fund to the State General Fund. THDA subsequently transferred all Mortgage Loans back to the General Fund of the 1974 General Resolution; consequently, the Assets Fund currently has a zero balance. For a description of these transfers, see "THDA – THDA Funds."

While there are no monies currently in the Assets Fund, the statutory structure of the Assets Fund remains. The statutory structure for the Assets Fund currently provides for the following:

1. Monies in the Assets Fund cannot be used for grant programs, may not be co-mingled with any proceeds of bonds issued by THDA and can be used only for the following purposes:
    a. To invest in investments permitted under State law and THDA's bond resolutions;
    b. To support rental rehabilitation programs supported by federal funds administered by THDA; and
    c. For constructions loans for housing as otherwise authorized by the Act.
2. Investment income and principal from the Assets Fund may be transferred to the Housing Program Fund in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

Housing Program Fund

The Housing Program Fund is the vehicle for funding non-mortgage programs not otherwise funded through federal programs. THDA also pays operating and administrative expenses, including certain Program Expenses of the Homeownership Program, from the Housing Program Fund. See "THDA - THDA Funds" and "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS - Payment of Program Expenses" for more information.

Essentially, all revenues of THDA derived from sources other than its Homeownership Program or its other bond resolutions are deposited into the Housing Program Fund. These revenues include state tax revenue, if any, and investment income. Specifically, the sources of the monies in the Housing Program Fund(1) are:

1. Investment income transferred from the Assets Fund(2);
2. Investment income from the Housing Program Fund;
3. Appropriate principal, if any, transferred from the Assets Fund(2);
4. Federal funds THDA receives for federal programs it administers; and
5. Fees charged by THDA in connection with its non-mortgage programs, including fees received from the Low Income Housing Tax Credit Program, the multi-family bond authority program and other programs.

THDA receives no funds from the State of Tennessee for operating and administrative expenses. THDA pays most operating and administrative expenses with funds available therefor in the Housing Program Fund. Although THDA is authorized to pay all expenses associated with its loan programs, including Program Expenses of the Homeownership Program, from monies held under THDA's bond resolutions, including the General Resolution, in accordance with their respective terms, THDA has elected to pay only certain expenses, such as Cost of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs from its bond resolutions. THDA currently expects to continue to pay Program Expenses (other than Cost of Issuance, Underwriter's fees, Trustee's fees, servicing fees, foreclosure costs and other similar costs) and all other THDA operating and administrative costs and expenses from the Housing Program Fund to the extent possible. Certain actions by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee may affect future payment of operating and administrative expenses, and THDA may elect, in the future, to pay some or all additional Program Expenses from the Resolution. See "THDA - THDA Funds" for more information.

In addition to paying THDA operating and administrative expenses, monies in the Housing Program Fund can be used to (i) pay certain expenses of THDA bond issues; (ii) support future bond issues by providing additional funds to make lower interest rate loans to targeted groups; and (iii) make HOUSE Program grants. See "THDA Activities – HOUSE Program" below for more information. THDA no longer makes HOUSE Program grants.

Other Information

The State Treasurer is the treasurer of THDA and is the custodian of the assets of THDA, except for those assets required to be in the custody of the Trustee pursuant to the provisions of the Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or any other resolution THDA may adopt. The Board of Directors of THDA has adopted an investment policy for THDA assets, other than its mortgage assets (the "non-mortgage assets"). These non-mortgage assets are invested only in investments authorized by the Act, THDA's investment policy, the Resolution, the 1981 Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution, the 2009 General Resolution or any other resolution THDA may adopt, and by the Treasurer. The Treasurer has delegated all duties and responsibilities in connection with THDA's investment of THDA non-mortgage assets to the Executive Director of THDA.

(1) Previously, state tax revenues, as authorized by T.C.A Section 13-23-402, consisting of 15.15% of the real estate transfer tax levied by T.C.A. Section 67-4-409(a) and 13% of the mortgage recording tax levied by T.C.A. Section 67-4-409(b) were deposited to the Housing Program Fund for HOUSE Program Grants. For fiscal year 1999-2000 and thereafter, these tax revenues are not available to THDA. See "THDA – THDA Funds" for a discussion of amendments to the Act that affect these tax revenues.

(2) The current Asset Fund balance is $0; therefore, no investment income or principal is currently available for transfer to the Housing Program Fund.

APPENDIX F

BOOK-ENTRY-ONLY SYSTEM

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION CONCERNING DTC AND DTC'S BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM HAS BEEN OBTAINED FROM SOURCES THAT THDA BELIEVES TO BE RELIABLE, BUT THDA TAKES NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACCURACY THEREOF. NEITHER THDA NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT WILL HAVE ANY RESPONSIBILITY OR OBLIGATION TO DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS, BENEFICIAL OWNERS OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS FOR (1) SENDING TRANSACTION STATEMENTS; (2) MAINTAINING, SUPERVISING OR REVIEWING, OR THE ACCURACY OF, ANY RECORDS MAINTAINED BY DTC OR ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNERS; (3) PAYMENT OR THE TIMELINESS OF PAYMENT BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNER, OF ANY AMOUNT DUE IN RESPECT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF OR REDEMPTION PREMIUM, IF ANY, OR INTEREST ON BONDS; (4) DELIVERY OR TIMELY DELIVERY BY DTC TO ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT, OR BY ANY DTC DIRECT OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANT OR OTHER NOMINEES OF BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO ANY BENEFICIAL OWNERS, OF ANY NOTICE (INCLUDING NOTICE OF REDEMPTION) OR OTHER COMMUNICATION WHICH IS REQUIRED OR PERMITTED UNDER THE TERMS OF THE RESOLUTION TO BE GIVEN TO HOLDERS OR OWNERS OF BONDS; (5) THE SELECTION OF THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS TO RECEIVE PAYMENT IN THE EVENT OF ANY PARTIAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS; OR (6) ANY ACTION TAKEN BY DTC OR ITS NOMINEE AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS.

NEITHER THDA, NOR THE TRUSTEE, REGISTRAR OR PAYING AGENT, NOR ANY UNDERWRITER (OTHER THAN IN ITS CAPACITY, IF ANY, AS DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS), WILL HAVE ANY OBLIGATION TO THE DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS OR THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT AS NOMINEES WITH RESPECT TO DTC'S PROCEDURES OR ANY PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS BETWEEN DIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS, INDIRECT DTC PARTICIPANTS AND THE PERSONS FOR WHOM THEY ACT RELATING TO THE MAKING OF ANY DEMAND BY CEDE & CO. AS THE REGISTERED OWNER OF BONDS, THE ADHERENCE TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS OR THE EFFECTIVENESS OF ANY ACTION TAKEN PURSUANT TO SUCH PROCEDURES OR ARRANGEMENTS.

1. The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, NY, will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds will be issued as fully-registered securities registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC's partnership nominee) or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC.

2. DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. DTC holds securities that its participants ("Direct Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organizations. DTC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com.

3. Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each Bond ("Beneficial Owner") is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction.

Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

4. To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. or such other nominee do not affect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

5. Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to take certain steps to augment the transmission to them of notices of significant events with respect to the Bonds, such as redemptions, tenders, defaults, and proposed amendments to the security documents. For example, Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to ascertain that the nominee holding the Bonds for their benefit has agreed to obtain and transmit notices to Beneficial Owners. In the alternative, Beneficial Owners may wish to provide their names and addresses to the registrar and request that copies of the notices be provided directly to them.

6. Redemption notices shall be sent to DTC. If less than all of the Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

7. Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds unless authorized by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC’s Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to THDA as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

8. Redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments on the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts, upon DTC's receipt of funds and corresponding detail information from the Trustee on payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, or the Trustee or THDA, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the Trustee, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants will be the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners will be the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

9. DTC may discontinue providing its services as depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Trustee or THDA. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor depository is not obtained, Bonds certificates are required to be printed and delivered.

10. THDA may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry only transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bonds certificates will be printed and delivered.

HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES

Income and Acquisition Cost Limits

THDA limits the maximum gross annual household income for eligible borrowers and the maximum acquisition cost for homes financed by Program Loans in accordance with Section 143 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and applicable regulations promulgated thereunder (the "Code"). The limits vary from county to county and are periodically adjusted. THDA's current income limits range from $54,480 to $92,680 depending on household size and geographic location. THDA's income limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor income limits established under the Code.

THDA's acquisition cost limits are either within the safe-harbor limitations established under the Code or are established, based on procedures in the Code, using THDA's actual data which justifies a higher limit. THDA's current maximum acquisition cost limit is $240,000 for all counties except counties in the Nashville MSA. For counties in the Nashville MSA, the maximum acquisition cost limit is $275,000. THDA acquisition cost limits are equal to or less than the safe-harbor acquisition cost limits established under the Code.

THDA has in the past and may, at any time, further restrict or otherwise modify income and acquisition cost limits for certain specialized Program Loans THDA may elect to finance.

Loan Origination

THDA's Program Loans are originated by certain financial institutions located throughout the State who are approved by THDA to originate Program Loans in its behalf ("Originating Agents"). THDA may purchase Program Loans once they are closed by the Originating Agent or THDA may offer funds to Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis prior to the closings of Program Loans. Originating Agents may charge borrowers a fee, not to exceed 1% of the Program Loan amount, for originating Program Loans. The Originating Agents who may originate Program Loans from Bond proceeds include mortgage banking firms, commercial banks, and savings and loan associations. The lendable proceeds of the Bonds are made available throughout the State. See Appendix C for a description of THDA's Working Agreement with Originating Agents and Guide for Originating Agents.

THDA will set aside a portion of the lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds to make Targeted Area loans for one year as necessary to comply with Section 143(j) of the Code. In the event any of the amounts so reserved by THDA for Targeted Areas remain at the end of the time period specified by the Code, THDA will offer such funds to its Originating Agents on a "first-come, first-serve" basis.

Requirements Imposed by the Code

Interest on the Bonds is not included in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes only if certain requirements are met, including (i) eligibility requirements for Program Loans and borrowers (see "Mortgage Eligibility Requirements" below), (ii) yield and investment requirements (see "Requirements Related to Arbitrage" below), and (iii) certain other requirements related to the Bonds and the use of proceeds of the Bonds, that are also imposed by the Code.

Covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to assure that the interest on the Bonds is not included in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. In addition, covenants in the Resolution obligate THDA to do and perform all acts and things permitted by law and necessary or desirable to comply with federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures. To comply with these covenants, THDA periodically reviews and modifies its procedures for Originating Agents and Servicers to the extent necessary to operate its single-family mortgage programs in compliance with federal tax law and has established procedures under which such requirements can be met. Such procedures include monitoring the Program Loan applications to be financed with Bond proceeds to ensure compliance with applicable acquisition cost and income limitations. THDA believes that the procedures established are sufficient to ensure that the Bonds will satisfy the requirements of the Code. In the opinion of Bond Counsel, the Guide for Originating Agents, the Guide for Servicers and the Resolution establish procedures under which, if followed, the requirements of applicable federal tax law can be met.

Mortgage Eligibility Requirements -- The Code requires that Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Bonds meet certain mortgage eligibility requirements. THDA must, among other things, reasonably expect at the time each Program Loan is made that the borrower will make the residence financed by the Program Loan the borrower's principal residence within a reasonable time after the financing is provided. Under the procedures which THDA has established, the borrower must certify, at the closing of the Program Loan, that the borrower intends to make the financed residence the borrower's principal residence within sixty days, which is within the period considered reasonable under the Code.

In general, except with respect to Program Loans made in Targeted Areas and Program Loans made to qualified veterans, borrowers are not permitted to have had a present ownership interest in their principal residence during the three-year period prior to the date on which the Program Loan is closed. THDA will, in cases where the prior ownership limitation applies, require the borrower (i) to provide the most recent federal income tax return and (ii) to certify at the closing of the Program Loan that the borrower has not had a present ownership interest in a principal residence within the preceding three years. In addition, THDA will obtain credit reports for each borrower to determine prior ownership of a principal residence by the borrower.

THDA has established maximum acquisition costs for residences financed with proceeds of Bonds and maximum household income limits, all as permitted by the Code. From time to time, THDA may revise the maximum acquisition cost and the income limits, but in no event will THDA's acquisition cost limits or income limits exceed limits established as permitted under the Code. THDA requires the borrower to certify household income in connection with applying the income limits and requires the borrower and the seller to certify the acquisition cost of the financed residence. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the affidavits of the borrower and the seller and to determine that the Code requirements with respect to acquisition cost limits and income limits are met.

An existing Program Loan or any other existing loan may not be acquired or replaced with proceeds of a Program Loan except for certain initial temporary financing not exceeding a term of 24 months. THDA requires a borrower to certify, at the closing of a Program Loan, that the proceeds of the Program Loan will not be used to acquire or replace an existing loan. In addition, the Originating Agent is required to review the borrower's federal income tax returns for the preceding year (unless the borrower is not required to file such returns) and a credit report prior to closing to determine if the borrower has any outstanding loans which may have been acquired or replaced with proceeds of the Program Loan.

Program Loans cannot be assumed unless the principal residence, prior home ownership, income and acquisition cost requirements are met at the time of assumption. THDA requires that each of its Program Loans have a "due on sale" clause so that THDA may accelerate the Program Loan if it is assumed and all such requirements are not met. The FHA and VA allow a "due on sale" clause in their respective guaranteed Program Loan programs, provided that the borrower is fully informed and consents in writing to such requirements.

Under the Code, an issue of Bonds is treated as meeting the mortgage eligibility requirements if (i) the issuer in good faith attempted to meet all of the mortgage eligibility requirements before the mortgages were executed, (ii) any failure to comply with the mortgage eligibility requirements is corrected within a reasonable period after such failure is first discovered, and (iii) 95% or more of the lendable proceeds of the issue used to make Program Loans was devoted to finance residences which met all such mortgage eligibility requirements at the time the loans were executed or assumed. In determining whether 95% of the proceeds have been so used, THDA relies on an affidavit of the borrower (the "Borrower Affidavit") and of the seller (the "Seller Affidavit") and on examination of copies of the borrower's most recent federal income tax return, together with credit reports and other relevant documentation.

Requirements Related to Arbitrage -- The Code imposes certain arbitrage requirements in connection with Program Loans financed with the proceeds of Bonds. Generally, the yield on Program Loans financed with lendable proceeds of an issue of Bonds may not exceed the yield on such Bonds by more than 1 1/8% and the amount of funds held in certain accounts for such Bonds invested at a yield greater than the yield on such Bonds may not exceed 150% of the current year's debt service on such Bonds.

The Code also requires THDA to periodically rebate to the United States Treasury certain investment earnings on non-mortgage investments to the extent such investment earnings exceed the amount that would have been earned on such investments if those investments were earning a return equal to the yield on the Bonds. THDA has established accounting procedures to determine the amount of such excess investment earnings.

Public Hearing and Approval Requirement -- The Code requires that qualified mortgage bonds be approved prior to issuance by the applicable elected official of the appropriate governmental unit, as specified by statute, after a public hearing held following reasonable public notice or by a voter referendum. THDA has adopted procedures to give public notice, to conduct public hearings, and to obtain approval from the Governor of the State to ensure compliance with the Code.

Reporting Requirement -- The Code requires the issuer of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds to submit to the IRS certain information with respect to the issuer and the particular issue, based on information and reasonable expectations determined as of the date of issue. In addition, each issuer must submit to the IRS a yearly report containing information with regard to the beneficiaries of the proceeds of Program Loans. THDA intends to file for each issue of tax-exempt mortgage bonds it issues, and for each year in which proceeds of any issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds are used to provide Program Loans, the information and reports required.

Certification Requirement -- The Code requires that the aggregate amount of all private activity bonds issued each year in Tennessee be within the volume limitation imposed on the principal amount of tax-exempt mortgage bonds which may be issued in Tennessee for that year. To meet this requirement, THDA requests a certification from an appropriate State official that an issue of tax-exempt qualified mortgage bonds is within the volume limitation and files such certification with the IRS or takes alternative action to satisfy this certification requirement.

Targeted Area Requirements -- THDA makes lendable proceeds of Bonds in amounts and for time periods as specified in the Code, available for financing qualified Program Loans for residences in Targeted Areas. Targeted Areas are those census tracts in the State in which seventy percent or more of the families have an income which is eighty percent or less of the statewide median family income or those areas of economic distress designated by the State and approved by the Secretaries of Housing and Urban Development and the Treasury under criteria specified in the Code. THDA has designated certain areas of the State as being in economic distress and such designation has been approved by HUD and the Treasury.

Monitoring for Compliance with the Mortgage Eligibility and Arbitrage Requirements -- Under the procedures which THDA has established to comply with the Code, Originating Agents are responsible for reviewing each Program Loan application and the accompanying documentation, including the Application Affidavit and the Seller Affidavit, for compliance with the Code. Originating Agents are required to take normal and appropriate measures to verify the information given, either independently or concurrently with credit review, when applicable. Originating Agents must cross-check all documentation to ensure that the information presented is complete and consistent. Originating Agents give warranties as to each Program Loan delivered to THDA that, among other things, each Program Loan is in compliance with the Code.

Prior to issuing a commitment to finance a Program Loan and again prior to financing a Program Loan, THDA reviews the Program Loan application submitted by the Originating Agent, which includes the borrower's application, the Application Affidavit, the Seller Affidavit, and the borrower's federal income tax returns, for compliance with the Code. To the extent that these provisions are not complied with, the Originating Agent is contacted to provide additional explanation or documentation to enable THDA to make a determination regarding the status of the Program Loan application. If the Originating Agent does not comply with requests from THDA to correct or complete documentation for any Program Loan or if the Originating Agent fails to comply with the Guide for Originating Agents (which failure is determined in the sole discretion of THDA without regard as to whether the Originating Agent may be at fault), or if the Originating Agent violates any other agreement with THDA, the Originating Agent is required to repurchase the Program Loan.

Loan Servicing

THDA has agreements with qualified financial institutions located in Tennessee or in the eight contiguous states to service Program Loans ("Servicers"). Originating Agents, who also qualify as Servicers, may service the Program Loans they originate. If an Originating Agent declines to service these Program Loans, the Originating Agent, with the approval of THDA, may choose another Servicer to do so. Servicers may be mortgage banking firms, commercial banks or savings and loan associations. THDA may also service Program Loans although it has elected only to service multi-family loans made under the 1974 General Resolution to date. A Servicer may transfer any or all of the Program Loans it services to another approved Servicer, with prior THDA approval.

THDA requires monthly reports from Servicers updating the total number of Program Loans serviced and providing certain information for each Program Loan including, without limitation, delinquency and foreclosure data.

THDA's agreements with Servicers (the "Servicing Agreements") provide for the collection and remittance of Program Loan payments to THDA or a designated depository. The Servicers' records relating to serviced Program Loans are subject to examination by THDA's Mortgage Administration and Internal Audit Divisions.

THDA provides each Servicer with a Guide for Servicers which sets forth complete requirements and procedures for servicing Program Loans. THDA may terminate any Servicing Agreement when there is inadequate performance by the Servicer. THDA may also require that a Servicer purchase any Program Loan from THDA at any time THDA suffers or is threatened with a material loss by reason of a Servicer's failure to perform its obligations with respect to the Program Loans under the Servicing Agreement. For information about Servicing Agreements and substantive requirements relating to servicing Program Loans, see Appendix C.

$90,000,000 Issue 2012-1C (Non-AMT)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We have examined a record of proceedings related to the issuance and sale of $27,285,000 in aggregate principal amount of Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2012-1A (AMT) (the "Issue 2012-1A Bonds"), $15,825,000 in aggregate principal amount of Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2012-1B (Non-AMT) (the "Issue 2012-1B Bonds") and $90,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2012-1C (Non-AMT) (the "Issue 2012-1C Bonds," and, together with the Issue 2012-1A Bonds and the Issue 2012-1B Bonds, the "Issue 2012-1 Bonds") of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA"), a body politic and corporate, constituting a political subdivision and instrumentality of the State of Tennessee (the "State"), organized and existing under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency Act, constituting Chapter 23 of Title 13 of the Tennessee Code Annotated, as amended (the "Act"), and other laws of the State. Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings set forth in the General Resolution (as hereinafter defined).

The Issue 2012-1 Bonds were authorized to be issued pursuant to the Act, the General Homeownership Program Bond Resolution of THDA, adopted June 6, 1985, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on March 27, 2012, as amended and supplemented by a resolution of the Bond Finance Committee of THDA adopted on June 27, 2012 (together, the "Supplemental Resolution," and, together with the General Resolution, the "Resolution").

THDA has issued and is authorized to issue additional series of bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such bonds are and, when issued, shall, with the Issue 2012-1 Bonds (collectively, the "Homeownership Program Bonds") be entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution.

The Issue 2012-1 Bonds mature in the years and in the respective principal amounts, bear interest at the respective rates and are otherwise as described in the Supplemental Resolution. The Issue 2012-1 Bonds are being issued to refund certain outstanding obligations of THDA and to make funds available to make or purchase Program Loans, as defined in the General Resolution, in accordance with the program of THDA permitted under the Resolution (the "Program").

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), establishes certain requirements which must be met subsequent to the delivery of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds in order that interest on the Issue 2012-1 Bonds be excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation. We have examined the Resolution and other relevant single family housing program documents which set forth such various federal tax law requirements which must be met by THDA. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with such requirements of federal tax law and for such purpose, to adopt and maintain appropriate procedures.

Based upon the foregoing we are of the opinion that:

1. Under the Constitution and laws of the State, THDA has lawful power and authority, among other things, to carry out the Program, to provide funds therefor by the adoption of the Resolution and the issuance and sale of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds and to perform its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Resolution, including the financing of single family mortgage loans and collecting and enforcing the collection of revenues and prepayments as covenanted in the Resolution.

2. The Resolution has been duly adopted by THDA and is valid and binding upon THDA.

3. The Issue 2012-1 Bonds are valid and legally binding general obligations of THDA, for the payment of which, in accordance with their terms, the full faith and credit of THDA have been legally and validly pledged and are entitled to the equal benefit, protection and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the Resolution.

4. The Resolution creates, for the benefit of the holders of the Homeownership Program Bonds, including the Issue 2012-1 Bonds, the valid pledge of and lien on revenues, as defined in the Resolution, and moneys and securities held or set aside or to be held or set aside in the Funds and Accounts established thereunder, subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application thereof for the purposes and on the terms and conditions set forth in the Resolution.

5. Pursuant to the Resolution, THDA has validly covenanted in the manner and to the extent provided in the Resolution, among other things, to make or purchase mortgage loans under the Program with the proceeds of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds, to do all acts and things necessary to receive and collect revenues and, when applicable, prepayments and to cause its Chairman on or before November 1 of each year to make and deliver to the Governor and Commissioner of Finance and Administration of the State his certificate stating such sum, if any, as may be necessary to restore the Debt Service Reserve Fund to an amount equal to the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement provided for by the Resolution pursuant to the Act. The provisions of the Constitution of Tennessee prohibit moneys from being withdrawn from the Treasury except in consequence of an appropriation made by law. However, the General Assembly of the State may validly appropriate the amount of such sum as so certified and upon such appropriation, such amount may validly be paid to THDA for deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Fund established pursuant to the Resolution, although the provisions of the Act do not constitute a legally enforceable obligation upon the State to pay such amounts.

6. The Issue 2011-C Bonds do not constitute a debt or liability or obligation of the State or a pledge of its full faith and credit or of its taxing power and are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

7. Under existing federal laws as presently enacted and construed and assuming continuing compliance by THDA with the covenants concerning federal tax described above, (i) interest on the Issue 2012-1 Bonds is excluded from gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes; (ii) interest on the Issue 2012-1A Bonds will be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax on individuals and corporations, (iii) interest on the Issue 2012-1B Bonds and the Issue 2012-1C Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, (iv) interest on the Issue 2012-1B Bonds will be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code and (v) interest on the Issue 2012-1C Bonds will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

8. Under the laws of the State as enacted and construed on the date hereof, the interest on the Issue 2012-1 Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State on interest income; however, the Issue 2012-1 Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State.

In addition to the opinions set forth in paragraph (7) above, certain individual owners of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds may have to take interest on such Issue 2012-1 Bonds into account for the purpose of calculating the amount of social security or railroad retirement benefits includible in gross income of such owners for federal income tax purposes. All owners of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds (including, but not limited to, insurance companies, financial institutions, S corporations and United States branches of foreign corporations) should consult their tax advisors concerning the effects of these and other applicable provisions of the Code on their individual tax liabilities. The extent of certain indirect tax consequences will depend upon the recipient's particular tax status or other items of income or deduction. We express no opinion regarding any such consequences.

In rendering this opinion, we are advising you that the enforceability of rights and remedies with respect to the Resolution and the Issue 2012-1 Bonds may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency and other laws affecting creditors' rights or remedies heretofore or hereafter enacted.

We express no opinion herein as to the adequacy or accuracy of the Official Statement pertaining to the issuance of the Issue 2012-1 Bonds.

Very truly yours,

NEW ISSUE BOOK-ENTRY ONLY

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under existing federal laws and assuming continuing compliance by THDA with federal tax law requirements, interest on the Issue 2012-2 Bonds is excluded from gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. Bond Counsel is also of the opinion that (i) interest on the Issue 2012-2A Bonds will be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax on individuals and corporations, (ii) interest on the Issue 2012-2B Bonds and the Issue 2012-2C Bonds will not be treated as a preference item for purposes of calculating the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals and corporations, (iii) interest on the Issue 2012-2B Bonds will be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 as amended (the "Code"), and (iv) interest on the Issue 2012-2C Bonds will not be included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code. In addition, Bond Counsel is of the opinion that, under existing laws of the State of Tennessee, the interest on the Issue 2012-2 Bonds is exempt from the income tax imposed by the State of Tennessee on interest income; however, the Issue 2012-2 Bonds and the interest received thereon are included in the measure of privilege taxes imposed by the State of Tennessee. See "TAX MATTERS" herein.

Dated: Date of Delivery Due: As shown on inside front cover

The Issue 2012-2A Bonds (the "Issue 2012-2A Bonds"), the Issue 2012-2B Bonds (the "Issue 2012-2B Bonds") and the Issue 2012-2C Bonds (the "Issue 2012-2C Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2012-2A Bonds and the Issue 2012-2B Bonds, the "Issue 2012-2 Bonds" or the "Offered Bonds") are being issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in book-entry form and when delivered will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, New York, to which principal and interest payments on the Offered Bonds will be made. So long as Cede & Co. or another nominee of DTC is the registered owner of the Offered Bonds, payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Offered Bonds will be made directly to DTC. Disbursement of such payments to DTC's Direct Participants (as herein defined) is the responsibility of DTC and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners (as herein defined) is the responsibility of the Direct Participants and Indirect Participants (as herein defined). Beneficial Owners of the Offered Bonds will not receive physical delivery of bond certificates. See Appendix F - "Book-Entry-Only System." The Offered Bonds will be issued in denominations of $5,000 and integral multiples thereof. Interest on the Offered Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Offered Bonds and is payable on July 1, 2013, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter, as more fully described herein.

The Offered Bonds are subject to redemption at par prior to their stated maturities at the times and under the conditions set forth under the caption "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS."

The Offered Bonds are general obligations of the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution (as defined herein) for the payment of the principal or redemption price of and interest on Offered Bonds and other funds of THDA legally available therefor.

THDA has no taxing power. The Offered Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State of Tennessee (the "State") or any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof, are pledged for the payment of the principal of or interest on the Offered Bonds.

This cover page contains certain information for quick reference only. It is not a summary of this issue. Investors must read the entire Official Statement to obtain information essential to making an informed investment decision.

The Offered Bonds are being offered when, as and if issued by THDA, subject to delivery of the opinion of Kutak Rock LLP, Atlanta, Georgia, Bond Counsel, and certain other conditions. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Underwriters by Hawkins Delafield & Wood LLP, New York, New York, and certain legal matters will be passed upon for THDA by its Chief Legal Counsel, Lynn E. Miller. It is expected that the Offered Bonds will be available for book-entry delivery through DTC on or about November 15, 2012.

INTRODUCTION

This Official Statement (the "Official Statement") provides certain information in connection with the issuance by the Tennessee Housing Development Agency ("THDA") of its Homeownership Program Bonds, Issue 2012-2A in the aggregate principal amount of $14,355,000 (the "Issue 2012-2A Bonds"), Issue 2012-2B in the aggregate principal amount of $8,270,000 (the "Issue 2012-2B Bonds") and Issue 2012-2C in the aggregate principal amount of $75,000,000 (the "Issue 2012-2C Bonds" and, together with the Issue 2012-2A Bonds and the Issue 2012-2B Bonds, the "Issue 2012-2 Bonds" or the "Offered Bonds").

THDA is authorized to issue and sell its bonds and to conduct its other activities by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 13-23-101 et seq., as amended (the "Act"). The issuance and sale of the Offered Bonds is authorized by the General Homeownership Program Bond Resolution, adopted by THDA on June 6, 1985, as amended and supplemented (the "General Resolution") and by a Resolution adopted by THDA on July 24, 2012, as amended and supplemented by the Bond Finance Committee of THDA (the "Bond Finance Committee") on October 16, 2012 (the "Issue 2012-2 Supplemental Resolution"). The General Resolution and the Issue 2012-2 Supplemental Resolution are herein collectively referred to as the "Resolution."

The Act requires submission to the Bond Finance Committee of THDA, which consists of the Chairman of THDA and the Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Tennessee, the Secretary of State of the State of Tennessee, the State Treasurer of the State of Tennessee, and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration of the State of Tennessee, of a plan of financing pertaining to the sale of any bonds or notes by THDA and to request that the Bond Finance Committee sell such bonds or notes on behalf of THDA, under the terms and conditions set forth in the Act. The Bond Finance Committee approved the plan of financing with respect to Issue 2012-2 Bonds on July 23, 2012. The Act does not permit THDA to have outstanding bonds and notes in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $2,930,000,000, excluding bonds and notes which have been refunded. As of August 31, 2012 (unaudited), Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $1,386,065,000 were outstanding under the Resolution, bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $57,400,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Bond Resolution (Mortgage Finance Program) (the "1974 General Resolution") and bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $620,490,000 were outstanding under THDA's Housing Finance Program Resolution (the "2009 General Resolution").

On June 6, 2012, the State Funding Board approved the THDA Schedule of Financing for fiscal year 2013. The Schedule of Financing includes the issuance of bonds in 2013 to refund all outstanding bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution. Bonds issued to refund the bonds outstanding under the 1974 General Resolution could be issued under the General Resolution, the 2009 General Resolution, the 1974 General Resolution or a new general resolution yet to be adopted. Approval of the Schedule of Financing by the State Funding Board is required by Tennessee law. THDA is not required, however, to carry out financings strictly in accordance with the Schedule of Financing. While THDA has approved the Schedule of Financing for purposes of submission to the State Funding Board, no further action has been taken by the THDA Board of Directors with respect to such refunding. No assurance can be provided with respect to the actual refunding of the bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution, the timing thereof, or the means by which such bonds are refunded.

Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the Offered Bonds, are and will be general obligations of THDA, payable from (i) the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution for the payment of the principal and redemption price thereof and the interest thereon, including the Debt Service Reserve Fund established pursuant to the Resolution, as more fully described herein under the caption "SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS" and (ii) other funds of THDA legally available therefor. All bonds issued under the Resolution, including the [†] Interest on the Issue 2012-2C Bonds is not included in corporations' calculations of adjusted current earnings under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code.

Offered Bonds, are equally and ratably secured by the pledges and covenants contained therein and all such bonds, including the Offered Bonds, are sometimes referred to herein as the "Bonds". The security interest created by the pledge of the General Resolution is governed by Tennessee Code Annotated Sections 9-22-101 et seq., as amended, relating to the perfection, priority and enforcement of public pledges and liens (the "Public Pledge Act"). Security interests governed under the Public Pledge Act are expressly exempt from Tennessee's codification of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

The revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution are not pledged as security for bonds issued under the 1974 General Resolution or the 2009 General Resolution. The revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the 1974 General Resolution and the 2009 General Resolution, respectively, are not pledged as security for the Offered Bonds. See Appendix E for a description of the 1974 General Resolution and the 2009 General Resolution.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds are not a debt, liability or obligation of the State or of any political subdivision thereof except THDA. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State, or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of principal or interest on the Bonds.

THDA's Program Loan portfolio includes only first lien, fixed interest rate single-family Program Loans with equal monthly installments of principal and interest. As of August 31, 2012 (unaudited), 17,369 Program Loans were outstanding under the Resolution having an aggregate outstanding principal balance of approximately $1,332,709,223. Based on the outstanding principal balance of Program Loans as of August 31, 2012, approximately 64.61% were FHA insured, approximately 2.84% were VA guaranteed, approximately 18.57% were insured by private mortgage insurance companies, approximately 10.40% were guaranteed by United States Department of Agriculture, Rural Development ("USDA/RD"), and approximately 3.58% were uninsured (i.e. Program Loans for which the borrower has at least a 22% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing, or at least a 25% equity interest in the residence on the date of closing for Program Loans closed prior to July 29, 1999, or Program Loans which were privately insured at the time of closing but have since met the requirements of the Homeowner Protection Act of 1998 for termination of private mortgage insurance). See "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOAN PORTFOLIO – Homeownership Program Portfolio Data" and Appendix B under the heading "Private Mortgage Insurance Programs".

THDA expects to use the proceeds from the issuance of the Issue 2012-2A Bonds and the Issue 2012-2B Bonds to refund its Issue 2003-2 Bonds issued and outstanding under the General Resolution (the "Prior Bonds"). As a result of the refunding, mortgage loans previously allocable to the Prior Bonds in an expected aggregate outstanding amount of approximately $24,191,000 will be allocated to the Offered Bonds (the "Transferred Program Loans"). See "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM LOANS—Description of the Transferred Program Loans" for information about the Transferred Program Loans. In addition, Revenue Fund investments allocable to the Prior Bonds in the projected amount of approximately $1,994,000 will be transferred to accounts established for the Offered Bonds under the General Resolution (the "Transferred Investments"). It is anticipated that the Prior Bonds will be redeemed prior to maturity on January 2, 2013, at a redemption price of 100% plus accrued interest. No assurance can be provided that the Prior Bonds will actually be refunded.

THDA expects that the proceeds of the Issue 2012-2C Bonds will be used to: (i) finance first lien single-family Program Loans (or participations therein) for single-family, owner-occupied housing (one to four dwelling units); (ii) pay capitalized interest, if any; (iii) pay Costs of Issuance, Underwriters' Fees and other transaction costs; and (iv) make a deposit to the Debt Service Reserve Fund, if required. See "APPLICATION OF BOND PROCEEDS." The terms and conditions of Program Loans, including Program Loans financed with amounts made available by the issuance of the Offered Bonds, are described herein under the caption "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" and in Appendix G.

As used herein, the term "Program Loans" refers to all mortgage loans financed under the General Resolution, including the Transferred Program Loans and mortgage loans to be financed with proceeds of the Offered Bonds, and the phrase "Program Loans allocable to (or allocated to) the Offered Bonds" shall include the Transferred Program Loans as well as any new Program Loans (or participations therein) financed with the proceeds of the Offered Bonds.

All Program Loans to be financed with lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds will be made in accordance with the Program Loan Procedures described in Appendix G. All such Program Loans must be (i) insured or guaranteed or have a commitment for insurance or guarantee by (a) the United States or any instrumentality thereof, (b) a private mortgage insurer qualified to issue such insurance or guarantee in the State and approved by THDA (for a description of certain mortgage insurance programs, including certain conditions on recovery and limitations on coverage, see Appendix B) or (c) any agency or instrumentality of the State authorized by law to issue such insurance; or (ii) made to borrowers who have an equity interest of at least 22% in the property based on the lesser of appraised value or the sale price. These Program Loans must be secured by a first lien on a fee simple or leasehold estate in real property located in the State. Notwithstanding the foregoing, THDA does not expect to use lendable proceeds of the Offered Bonds to purchase Program Loans insured by private mortgage insurance.

U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee") is trustee and paying agent for all Bonds issued under the General Resolution.

A brief description of the Offered Bonds, THDA and its Program Loans follows, together with summaries of the terms of the Bonds, the Resolution and certain provisions of the Act and other activities of THDA. Such summaries do not purport to be complete and all such summaries and references to the Act and the Resolution are qualified in their entirety by reference to each such document, copies of which are available from THDA or the Trustee.

Certain capitalized terms utilized herein are defined in Appendix D hereto. Capitalized terms utilized herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Resolution.

DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS

General

The Offered Bonds will be issued only as fully registered bonds without coupons in denominations of $5,000 principal amount and any integral multiple thereof and will be available in book-entry only form. Purchasers of Offered Bonds will not receive certificates representing their interest in the Offered Bonds. The Depository Trust Company, ("DTC"), New York, New York, will act as securities depository for the Offered Bonds. The ownership of one fully registered certificated bond, without coupons, for each series and maturity set forth on the inside cover page hereof, each in the aggregate principal amount of such series and maturity, will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for DTC, and deposited with DTC via the FAST system. See Appendix F "Book-Entry Only System" for a description of the DTC book-entry only system.

The Offered Bonds will mature on the dates and bear interest from the date of delivery at the rates indicated on the inside front cover page of this Official Statement. Interest on the Offered Bonds accrues from the dated date of the Issue 2012-2 Bonds and is payable on July 1, 2013, and semi-annually on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

The Issue 2012-2C Bonds maturing on July 1, 2028, are subject to redemption in part by lot on each January 1 and July 1 beginning January 1, 2025, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments in the principal amount for each of the dates set forth below:

Sinking Fund Payments for Issue 2012-2C
Term Bonds Due July 1, 2028

Year	Amount Due January 1	Amount Due July 1
2025	$1,560,000	$1,580,000
2026	1,615,000	1,640,000
2027	1,665,000	1,695,000
2028	1,725,000	1,755,000	(maturity)

The Issue 2012-2C Bonds maturing on January 1, 2031, are subject to redemption in part by lot on each January 1 and July 1 beginning January 1, 2029, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments in the principal amount for each of the dates set forth below:

Sinking Fund Payments for Issue 2012-2C
Term Bonds Due January 1, 2031

Year	Amount Due January 1	Amount Due July 1
2029	$1,780,000	$1,810,000
2030	1,850,000	1,880,000
2031	1,415,000 (maturity)

The Issue 2012-2C Bonds maturing on July 1, 2038, are subject to redemption in part by lot on each January 1 and July 1 beginning July 1, 2031, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments in the principal amount for each of the dates set forth below:

Sinking Fund Payments for Issue 2012-2C
PAC Term Bonds Due July 1, 2038

Year	Amount Due January 1	Amount Due July 1
2031		$1,985,000
2032	$2,030,000	2,060,000
2033	2,100,000	2,135,000
2034	2,180,000	1,455,000
2035	1,480,000	1,505,000
2036	1,535,000	1,565,000
2037	1,590,000	1,620,000
2038	1,655,000	1,680,000 (maturity)

The Issue 2012-2C Bonds maturing on July 1, 2043, are subject to redemption in part by lot on each January 1 and July 1 beginning January 1, 2039, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments in the principal amount for each of the dates set forth below:

Sinking Fund Payments for Issue 2012-2C
Term Bonds Due July 1, 2043

Year	Amount Due January 1	Amount Due July 1
2039	$1,680,000	$1,715,000

Optional Redemption. The Issue 2012-2 Bonds maturing on and after July 1, 2022, are subject to redemption at the option of THDA prior to their respective maturities, either as a whole or in part, at any time, on or after January 1, 2022, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds. The Issue 2012-2C Bonds maturing July 1, 2038 (the "PAC Bonds") are subject to redemption prior to their maturity, in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount of such PAC Bonds to be redeemed, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, from amounts transferred to the Redemption Account representing Excess 2012-2 Principal Payments (as defined below). Any Excess 2012-2 Principal Payments so deposited in the Redemption Account shall be applied to the redemption of PAC Bonds on any Interest Payment Date commencing July 1, 2013; provided, however, PAC Bonds may be redeemed between Interest Payment Dates on the first Business Day of any month for which adequate notice of redemption may be given.

While any PAC Bonds remain Outstanding, Excess 2012-2 Principal Payments shall be used as follows:

FIRST, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds are equal to or less than 400% PSA (as defined below under "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE OFFERED BONDS – Average Life of PAC Bonds"), as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2012-2 Principal Payments shall first be applied to redeem PAC Bonds up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) for the PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, other than the PAC Bonds; and

SECOND, if principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds are in excess of 400% PSA, as determined by THDA, then available Excess 2012-2 Principal Payments up to an amount correlating to the Planned Amortization Amount (as defined below) for the PAC Bonds shall first be applied to redeem PAC Bonds and, subject to the application of the 10-year rule as described below under the heading "--Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule," the remainder may be applied to any purpose permissible under the Resolution, including to redeem any Bonds issued under the Resolution, including the PAC Bonds (any such remainder used to redeem PAC Bonds being an "Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption"); provided, however, that (i) the source of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption is restricted to that portion of the available Excess 2012-2 Principal Payments which is in excess of 400% PSA and (ii) the principal amount of an Excess Principal PAC Bond Redemption may not be an amount in excess of the PAC Bond's proportionate amount of all Issue 2012-2 Bonds then Outstanding.

"Excess 2012-2 Principal Payments" means, as of any date of computation, 100% of all regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments on Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds to the extent such regularly scheduled principal payments and prepayments are not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments, including Sinking Fund Payments, on the Offered Bonds.

"Planned Amortization Amount" means the dollar amount for each Interest Payment Date set forth below. The Planned Amortization Amount represents the cumulative principal amount of the PAC Bonds assumed to be redeemed from Excess 2012-2 Principal Payments as of a particular Interest Payment Date based on receipt of principal prepayments at a 75% PSA prepayment rate for Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds. See "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE OFFERED BONDS – Average Life of PAC Bonds" for a description of PSA prepayment rates.

The Planned Amortization Amount for the PAC Bonds (which assumes the full origination of Program Loans with proceeds allocable to the Offered Bonds in accordance with the expected schedule for such origination, the allocation of the Transferred Program Loans to the Offered Bonds in an aggregate principal amount of approximately $24,191,000 with an approximate weighted average maturity of 247 months, and receipt of principal prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds at a rate equal to 75% of the PSA prepayment rate), as of each payment date are set forth below:

PAC Bonds Planned Amortization Schedule

Date	Planned Amortization Amount
July 1, 2013	$ 540,000
January 1, 2014	1,460,000
July 1, 2014	2,680,000
January 1, 2015	4,190,000
July 1, 2015	5,965,000
January 1, 2016	7,885,000
July 1, 2016	9,755,000
January 1, 2017	11,560,000
July 1, 2017	13,305,000
January 1, 2018	14,990,000
July 1, 2018	16,615,000
January 1, 2019	18,180,000
July 1, 2019	19,690,000
January 1, 2020	21,140,000
July 1, 2020	22,540,000
January 1, 2021	23,885,000
July 1, 2021	25,180,000
January 1, 2022	26,420,000
July 1, 2022	26,575,000

For a description of the impact on the weighted average life of the PAC Bonds on the receipt of prepayments on the Program Loans allocable to the Offered Bonds at various speeds, see "ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING THE OFFERED BONDS – Average Life of PAC Bonds."

Special Optional Redemption of the Offered Bonds, including Cross Calls The Offered Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part, at any time prior to maturity, in accordance with the provisions of the Resolution, and in an amount equal to amounts available for such purposes from (i) proceeds of the Offered Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans; (ii) except as otherwise described under the headings "DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds", and "-Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule", repayments and prepayments of Program Loans allocated to the Offered Bonds in excess of regularly scheduled debt service payments on the Offered Bonds; (iii) repayments and prepayments of Program Loans financed with the proceeds of any other Bonds issued under the Resolution, subject to limitations contained in the Code, and (iv) other amounts on deposit in the Revenue Fund of the Resolution in excess of the amounts then required for the payment of Debt Service and Program Expenses; provided, however, that PAC Bonds (a) are only subject to redemption under clause (ii) above as described under the heading "DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds" and (b) shall not be subject to redemption as described in clauses (iii) and (iv) above if such redemption would cause amortization of the PAC Bonds to exceed the related Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the PAC Bonds Amortization Schedule. The Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Offered Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans.

The date of redemption shall be determined by the Trustee upon the direction of THDA, subject to the provisions of and in accordance with the Resolution. The Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the redemption date, if applicable; provided, however, that the redemption price of the PAC Bonds in the event of a redemption described in clause (i) above shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. The Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be redeemed pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption, unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of Offered Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that the PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in amounts in excess of their proportionate amount of all Offered Bonds then Outstanding in the event of a redemption pursuant to clause (i) above. See “ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS – Prepayments” and “ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS - THDA Redemption Practices”.

Mandatory Redemption – 10 Year Rule. To the extent not required to make regularly scheduled principal payments on the Offered Bonds or otherwise required to be applied to the redemption of the PAC Bonds, repayments and prepayments of principal of the Program Loans or portions thereof allocable to the Offered Bonds shall be applied to redeem Offered Bonds in such principal amounts as are required to satisfy the requirements of the Code. The redemption price of Offered Bonds to be so redeemed shall be 100% of the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable. Subject to the redemption procedures under the heading “DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds,” THDA shall direct the redemption of the Offered Bonds pro rata among all maturities then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Offered Bonds to be redeemed; provided, however, that the PAC Bonds may be redeemed in an amount that exceeds the Planned Amortization Amount shown above in the PAC Bonds Planned Amortization Schedule only if there are no other Offered Bonds outstanding.

THDA will, to the extent required by the Code, redeem Offered Bonds from prepayments and repayments on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Offered Bonds in accordance with the following approximate 10 year rule percentages to the extent such amounts are not otherwise applied to pay maturing principal on the Offered Bonds, to redeem Offered Bonds from Sinking Fund Payments or to redeem PAC Bonds:

Commencement Date	% Prepayments and Repayments Applied to Payment or Redemption
November 15, 2012	10.1%
July 31, 2013	22.8
November 15, 2022	100.0

THDA will redeem the Offered Bonds in accordance with this schedule to the extent required to comply with the Code. THDA reserves the right to modify this schedule at any time to the extent the Code permits or requires such modification.

Redemption of Offered Bonds from Unexpended Proceeds. The Offered Bonds are subject to redemption, at the election of THDA, in whole or in part on any date, from proceeds of the Offered Bonds not expected to be applied to the financing of Program Loans (or participations therein). In addition, the Offered Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption on May 15, 2016, in the event and to the extent that there are unexpended proceeds of the Offered Bonds on deposit in the Issue 2012-2 Bonds Subaccount of the Loan Fund on such date. Offered Bonds to be redeemed from unexpended proceeds shall be redeemed at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus interest accrued to the date of redemption, if applicable; provided, however, that the redemption price of the PAC Bonds shall be the issue price thereof (par plus initial premium) plus accrued interest to the redemption date. THDA shall direct the redemption of the Offered Bonds pro rata among all maturities of such Offered Bonds then Outstanding and eligible for redemption unless THDA shall also deliver a Projected Cash Flow Statement indicating a different selection of the Offered Bonds to be so redeemed; provided, however, that the PAC Bonds may not be redeemed in amounts in excess of their proportionate amounts of all Offered Bonds then Outstanding.

Selection By Lot

If less than all of the Issue 2012-2 Bonds of like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the particular Issue 2012-2 Bonds of such series and maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in accordance with the Resolution.

Notice of Redemption

When the Trustee shall receive notice from THDA of its election or direction to redeem Bonds, and when redemption of Bonds is required by the Resolution, the Trustee shall give notice, in the name of THDA, of the redemption of such Bonds, which notice shall specify the series and maturities of the Bonds to be redeemed, the redemption date and the place or places where amounts due upon such redemption will be payable and, if less than all of the Bonds of any like series and maturity are to be redeemed, the letters and numbers or other distinguishing marks of such Bonds so to be redeemed, and, in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, such notice shall also specify the respective portions of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Such notice shall further state that on such date there shall become due and payable upon each Bond to be redeemed the Redemption Price thereof, or the Redemption Price of the specified portions of the principal thereof in the case of Bonds to be redeemed in part only, together with interest accrued to the redemption date, and that from and after such date interest thereon shall cease to accrue and be payable. In the event that the Trustee does not, at the time notice of any redemption is required to be given under the Resolution, hold on deposit in the Redemption Fund an amount sufficient to pay the Redemption Price of, plus interest accrued and unpaid to the redemption, such notice shall further state that the redemption is conditional upon sufficient funds being so deposited or transferred by or at the direction of THDA to the Redemption Fund and that, in the event such funds are not so deposited or transferred, the redemption shall be canceled, or reduced to the extent of funds actually on deposit, and written notice of such cancellation or reduction shall be given to the holders of Bonds which are not to be redeemed within ten (10) days following the proposed redemption date in the same manner as provided for notice of the redemption.

Notice of redemption of Bonds shall be mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid (and by reputable overnight delivery service in the case of Bonds held by any securities depository), no less than twenty (20) days (or such shorter period as may be acceptable to DTC) before the redemption date, to the registered owners of any Bonds or portions thereof which are to be redeemed at their last addresses appearing upon the registry book. So long as DTC or its nominee is the registered owner of the Bonds, THDA shall not be responsible for mailing notices of redemption to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants or to the Beneficial Owners of the Bonds. See Appendix F – “Book-Entry-Only System” for a discussion of DTC practices.

SECURITY AND SOURCES OF PAYMENT OF BONDS

Security of Bonds and Sources of Payment

The Bonds are general obligations of THDA payable from the revenues and assets of THDA pledged under the Resolution and other funds of THDA legally available therefor. Subject only to the provisions of the Resolution permitting the application of certain monies for the purposes and under the terms set forth therein, and to the payment to the Trustee and the Paying Agents and depositories of compensation for their services and expenses, such Bonds are secured equally and ratably by a pledge of the following:

(a) Revenues, which include scheduled, delinquent and advance payments of principal of and interest on Program Loans made pursuant to the Resolution (less the amount thereof retained by the servicers as compensation for services rendered in connection with the Program Loans and for other payments, including those for guaranty or insurance of Program Loans and for taxes, assessments and insurance premiums) and the net income, if any, derived by THDA from premises owned by THDA as a result of action taken in the event of a default on a Program Loan;

(b) Non-Mortgage Receipts, which includes all interest earned or gain realized in excess of losses from investment of the amount in any Fund or Account established under the Resolution, including the Escrow Fund;

(c) All Funds and Accounts created by the Resolution, including the Debt Service Reserve Fund, and monies and securities therein, and amounts required by the Resolution to be deposited in the Escrow Fund (see Appendix D - “SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION”);

(d) Any monies paid by the State and deposited in the Debt Service Reserve Fund pursuant to the Act and the Resolution;

(e) All right, title and interest of THDA in and to the Program Loans made or purchased pursuant to the Resolution; and

(f) Any other funds of THDA legally available therefor.

THDA has no taxing power. The Bonds do not constitute a debt, liability or obligation of the State or any other political subdivision thereof (except THDA). Neither the full faith and credit nor taxing power of the State or of any other political subdivision thereof is pledged for the payment of the principal of, redemption price or interest on the Bonds. The Bonds are payable solely from the funds provided therefor pursuant to the Resolution and the Act.

Debt Service Reserve Fund

The Act authorizes THDA to establish one or more reserve funds to be known as debt service reserve funds. In accordance with the Act and the Resolution, THDA has established a Debt Service Reserve Fund for the Bonds. The Resolution provides that THDA may not issue any Bond unless the amount in the Debt Service Reserve Fund is at least equal to the maximum amount of principal, sinking fund installments and interest required to be made and becoming due on all Bonds then outstanding for the then current or any succeeding State fiscal year (July 1 to June 30) or any succeeding calendar year, whichever is greater (the “Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement”). On the date of issuance of the Offered Bonds, the Debt Service Reserve Fund will contain an amount at least equal to the Debt Service Reserve Fund Requirement. The Resolution requires that if, at any time, there is not a sufficient amount available in the Debt Service and Expense Account to provide for interest or principal and sinking fund installments maturing and becoming due on the Bonds, the Trustee must transfer the amount of the deficiency from the Debt Service Reserve Fund to the Debt Service and Expense Account.

The Act establishes a mechanism for certifying an amount, if any, needed to restore the Debt Service Reserve Fund to an amount equal to the maximum amount of principal, or sinking fund payments, and interest, maturing, required to be made and becoming due in any succeeding state fiscal year on THDA’s bonds. These provisions of the Act do not constitute a legally enforceable obligation upon the State to pay such amounts. Under the Constitution of the State, no monies may be withdrawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. With respect to any sum so certified by the Chairman of THDA to the Governor and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration in accordance with the Act, the General Assembly is authorized to appropriate, to expend and to provide for the payment of such sum, but is not legally required to do so. THDA has covenanted in the Resolution to comply with the provisions of the Act relating to the requisite certification by the Chairman of THDA to the Governor and the Commissioner of Finance and Administration concerning the Debt Service Reserve Fund and has also covenanted to make and deliver such certification annually on or before November 1 and to deposit all monies received pursuant to any such certification into the Debt Service Reserve Fund. THDA has never requested the State to appropriate monies for the Debt Service Reserve Fund or for any other debt service reserve fund established pursuant to the Act or any other bond resolution of THDA.

Additional Bonds

THDA is authorized to issue additional series of Bonds upon the terms and conditions set forth in the General Resolution and such Bonds, when issued, shall, with the Offered Bonds and other outstanding Bonds, be entitled to the equal benefit, protection, and security of the provisions, covenants and agreements of the General Resolution, except as otherwise described herein.

ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING OFFERED BONDS

General

The General Resolution requires THDA to file Projected Cash Flow Statements with the Trustee periodically in connection with various actions THDA may take pursuant to the General Resolution including, without limitation, the issuance of Bonds. (See Appendix D - "SUMMARY OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE RESOLUTION" for a description of Projected Cash Flow Statements and the circumstances under which they are required.) A Projected Cash Flow Statement meets the requirements of the General Resolution if it shows that sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service on Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution, including the Offered Bonds, and Program Expenses and that the amount of all assets held under the General Resolution equals or exceeds the total liability of all Bonds Outstanding under the General Resolution. In connection with the preparation of Projected Cash Flow Statements upon the issuance or remarketing of Bonds, including the Offered Bonds, THDA makes certain assumptions concerning revenues derived from Program Loans, Program Expenses, rate and amount of prepayments, earnings on investments, rate of origination of Program Loans, and Bond redemptions.

THDA has prepared and filed a Projected Cash Flow Statement in connection with the issuance of the Offered Bonds (the "Projected Cash Flow Statement"). The Projected Cash Flow Statement has been based, among other assumptions, on the assumptions that (i) Transferred Program Loans in the aggregate principal amount of approximately $24,191,000, with a weighted average maturity of approximately 247 months and a weighted average interest rate of approximately 5.07%, will be allocated to the Offered Bonds upon the refunding of the Prior Bonds and (ii) THDA originates approximately $76,817,055 of thirty year Program Loans (or participations therein) bearing interest at a weighted average interest rate of approximately 4.16%; approximately 1% of which are participations funded with proceeds of the Issue 2012-2 Bonds for which all of the interest is allocable to the Offered Bonds. The Projected Cash Flow Statement has evidenced that, upon the issuance of the Offered Bonds, sufficient amounts will be available under the General Resolution to pay Debt Service for all Bonds Outstanding, including the Offered Bonds. THDA believes the assumptions used in connection with the preparation of the Projected Cash Flow Statement are reasonable. THDA cannot, however, guarantee that actual results will not vary materially from such assumptions. If subsequent events do not correspond to such assumptions, the amount of Revenues available to make payments of principal and interest on the Bonds, including the Offered Bonds, when scheduled, may be adversely affected and the expected life of the Offered Bonds may be affected.

Payments of Principal and Interest on the Bonds

The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that payments of principal and interest on the Offered Bonds will be made, when scheduled, from scheduled payments and prepayments of principal and interest on the Program Loans (or portions thereof) allocable to the Offered Bonds and from other moneys available under the Resolution including, without limitation, income expected to be derived from the investment of monies in the funds and accounts established under the Resolution. For purposes of preparing the Projected Cash Flow Statement, it has been assumed that scheduled payments of principal and interest on the Program Loans will be received 29 days from the date on which they are due. Such sources of available monies may be insufficient to make such payments in the event that (i) regularly scheduled payments on Program Loans are not made on a timely basis in accordance with their terms, (ii) THDA incurs uninsured losses in connection with the foreclosure of Program Loans or insured losses which the insurer does not pay, (iii) THDA is not able to finance Program Loans in accordance with its expectations, (iv) actual investment rates on Investment Securities are less than those assumed, or (v) prepayments are not received as anticipated to the extent the Projected Cash Flow Statement was based on an assumed level of prepayments.

Program Loans

Certain moneys made available from the issuance of the Offered Bonds will be deposited in the Issue 2012-2 Bond Subaccount of the Loan Fund and will be used to continue THDA's program of financing Program Loans for single family, owner occupied residential housing for low and moderate income persons and families. THDA may use amounts made available as a result of the issuance of Offered Bonds to finance Great Rate Program Loans, Great Advantage Program Loans, and Great Start Program Loans. In addition, THDA may use amounts made available from the issuance of the Offered Bonds to finance Program Loans on a blended basis with proceeds of other bonds of THDA, including participation interests bearing interest at 0% in order to satisfy mortgage yield limitations of the Code. See "PROGRAM LOANS – Description of Program Loans" – Homeownership Choices" and Appendix G – "PROGRAM LOAN PROCEDURES" for more information about specific program requirements.

Program Loans are made on a continuing, first-come, first served basis by Originating Agents approved by THDA. The Projected Cash Flow Statement assumes that Program Loans (or participations therein) financed with the proceeds of the Issue 2012-2C Bonds, will be first-lien, thirty-year, fixed-rate mortgages, with equal monthly installments of principal and interest bearing interest at a weighted average of 4.16%; approximately $500,000 of which are participations for which all of the interest is allocable to the Offered Bonds and that Program Loans purchased by THDA from Originating Agents will be purchased at par.

THDA's general policy is to maintain a steadily available supply of funds to finance program loans at competitive interest rates. THDA generally establishes interest rates for its program loans when bonds are sold by taking into account the maximum permitted interest rate under the Code and the spread between that rate and the then prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. THDA prefers to maintain the same interest rates throughout the period of origination of program loans for each issue of bonds, however, THDA regularly reviews these interest rates in light of market conditions and retains the flexibility to modify its interest rates to meet changing needs and conditions. No assumptions can be made regarding the length of time an interest rate set by THDA will remain available or what effect a particular interest rate will have on the origination of Program Loans.

Nonorigination of Program Loans

While THDA retains the flexibility to modify the interest rates at which Program Loans are offered, there are circumstances under which these interest rates may not be competitive with prevailing home mortgage interest rates offered by mortgage lenders in Tennessee. Under these circumstances, it will be more difficult for THDA to originate Program Loans. The ability of THDA to finance Program Loans as described may also be affected by the availability of residences that meet THDA's acquisition cost limits and the willingness of potential borrowers to assume potential federal recapture tax liability. Although THDA expects that all lendable proceeds available from the Issue 2012-2C Bonds will be used to finance Program Loans, no assurance can be given whether this will occur or the speed at which this may occur.

The last transaction that resulted in an unexpended proceeds redemption under the General Resolution was Issue 1996-3 as shown on the chart under the heading "HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAM BONDS – Origination Experience" herein. THDA has not redeemed any bonds from unexpended proceeds under the 2009 General Resolution or the 1974 General Resolution. Notwithstanding past performance, no assurances can be given that proceeds from the Issue 2012-2C Bonds will be fully expended for Program Loans.

THDA began committing Program Loans against the expected proceeds from the Offered Bonds on September 24, 2012. As of October 8, 2012, THDA has committed a total principal amount of approximately $10,500,000 of Program Loans that will be allocated to the Offered Bonds. Assuming successful pricing and closing of the Offered Bonds, THDA expects to reimburse itself on the day of closing for all Program Loans previously purchased.

Disruption in Mortgage Market and Other Financial Markets

The mortgage and financial markets have recently been subject to significant disruptions, including limited liquidity. Continuing instability in the mortgage market that adversely impacts financial institution participants may result in delays in originating Program Loans or failure to originate Program Loans which could result in redemption of the Offered Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds".

Instability in the mortgage markets, increases in delinquencies and defaults and limited access to credit have placed pressures on all participants in the industry, including but not limited to lenders, servicers and mortgage insurers. These pressures may have an adverse impact on transaction participants and their ability to conduct business. THDA can offer no guidance as to whether the recent volatility in the mortgage market and the financial markets generally will continue, and if it does, how these conditions might impact the ability of such participants to perform their obligations in connection with the Offered Bonds.

Changes in Federal or State Law

Legislation affecting the Offered Bonds and THDA's single family mortgage loans may be considered and enacted by the United States Congress or the Tennessee General Assembly. No assurance can be given that the consideration or enactment of any such legislation will not have an adverse effect on the value of, the timing or amount of payments of, or the security for the Offered Bonds or other risks.

Over the past several years a number of financial institutions and related entities have announced large losses as a result of their mortgage activities and the increasing number of defaults and foreclosures on such mortgages. The United States Congress has passed the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), and may pass additional consumer protection and bankruptcy legislation, as a result of the adverse effects of the mortgage situation on individuals and families in the United States. Likewise, the Tennessee General Assembly may enact consumer protection legislation relating to mortgage loan origination and servicing. The Dodd-Frank Act has not, to date, had a material adverse effect on THDA's single family mortgage program, including its ability to originate new single family mortgage loans, to collect payments under single family mortgage loans and to foreclose on property securing single family mortgage loans; however, additional legislation, if enacted, or regulations, if promulgated to effectuate the purposes of the Dodd-Frank Act or other state or federal regulations, could have an adverse effect on THDA's activities.

A number of state regulatory authorities have recently taken action against certain loan originators and servicers for alleged violations of state laws. Certain of those actions prohibit those servicers from pursuing foreclosure actions. In response to alleged abusive lending and servicing practices, the State of Tennessee could enact legislation or implement regulatory requirements that impose limitations on the ability of mortgage loan servicers to take actions (such as pursuing foreclosures) that may be essential to service and preserve the value of the single-family loans. Any such limitations that applied to the THDA's single-family loans could adversely affect the THDA's ability to collect amounts due on such loans and could impair the value of such loans.

On March 4, 2009, the U.S. Department of the Treasury announced guidelines to enable mortgage loan servicers to begin modifications of eligible mortgage loans under the Homeowner Affordability and Stability Plan. These guidelines stated that FHA would formulate a program for modification of FHA loans. FHA released the details of the program called the Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP") on July 31, 2009, with an effective date of August 15, 2009. By letter dated November 3, 2009, THDA received a variance to the HAMP requirements. As a consequence, THDA is not obligated to satisfy HAMP requirements with respect to Program Loans.

On July 7, 2011, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced changes to Federal Housing Administration and Making Home Affordable Program requirements that direct servicers to extend the period of time during which eligible borrowers may skip part or all of their monthly payments from three or four months to twelve months whenever possible. These requirements became effective on August 1, 2011, with a subsequent sixty day implementation period. At present, THDA cannot predict what effect, if any, these requirements will have on the Program Loan portfolio, which, together with other revenues and assets available under the Resolution, is the source of payment and security for the Offered Bonds.

The Hardest Hit Housing Markets (HFA Hardest Hit Fund) initiative, under the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, is designed to support foreclosure prevention and housing market stabilization initiatives (the "HHF Program"). THDA is administering the HHF Program in Tennessee and was awarded $217 million which will provide loans to unemployed or substantially underemployed homeowners who, through no fault of their own, are financially unable to make their mortgage payments and are in danger of losing their homes to foreclosure. Loan proceeds will be used to pay all mortgage and mortgage-related expenses (e.g., property taxes, homeowner insurance, homeowner dues) up to $25,000 for up to 18 months in 29 targeted counties and up to $20,000 for up to 12 months in 66 counties. For homeowners who have found a new job, but during a period of unemployment accumulated payment arrearages, reinstatement assistance will be available. Homeowners with THDA Program Loans may be eligible for the HHF Program. As of August 31, 2012, 2,064 loans made under the HHF Program have closed. 232 of these HHF Program loans have been made with respect to Program Loans previously financed under the Resolution. None of the HHF Program loans are pledged as security for the Bonds.

The Tennessee Attorney General and Reporter participated in the lawsuit brought by 49 states attorneys general against the five largest mortgage loan servicers in the United States. This lawsuit resulted in a settlement under which the affected servicers must, among other things, pay states attorneys general certain sums (the "AG Settlement"). The Tennessee Attorney General and Reporter made $34,500,000 of the AG Settlement amount paid to Tennessee available to THDA for a program to assist borrowers who are at risk of foreclosure due to unexpected medical events. On July 1, 2012, THDA implemented a program that includes all HHF Program requirements described above, however, long term medical hardship is also an eligibility requirement.

In addition to federal governmental actions designed to address economic difficulties, both the federal government and private lending institutions have undertaken programs to assist borrowers in refinancing their outstanding mortgage loans. On February 1, 2012, for example, USDA/RD announced its Single Family Housing Guaranteed Rural Refinance Pilot Program. The pilot program is intended to assist existing borrowers in refinancing USDA/RD guaranteed mortgage loans with greater speed and ease. Borrowers will be able to secure lower interest rates and payments without the need of obtaining a new appraisal or new property inspections. Additionally, on March 6, 2012, the Obama Administration announced a new streamlined refinancing plan under which FHA, effective June 11, 2012, will reduce its upfront and annual mortgage insurance premiums for refinancings of FHA insured mortgage loans originated before June 1, 2009. THDA has not yet determined whether or how these programs may affect the THDA Program Loan portfolio.

Prepayments

THDA, from time to time, receives monies from (i) partial or complete prepayment of Program Loans (which is permitted, without penalty) or (ii) termination of Program Loans prior to their respective final payment date due to default, sale, condemnation or casualty loss. In addition, the Resolution permits the sale of Program Loans, including those allocated to the Offered Bonds, and application of the sale proceeds to the redemption of Bonds (see Appendix D under the heading "The Program"), subject to limitations contained in the Code; however, THDA has no current plans to sell Program Loans. The rate at which such prepayments, if any, of Program Loans (including Transferred Program Loans) will be received by THDA cannot be predicted. The actual rate of such prepayments may be influenced by a variety of economic, social and other factors, including proposed legislative and regulatory changes and there is no reliable basis for predicting the actual average life of the Program Loans. Consequently, THDA makes no assumptions or representations as to the factors that will affect the rate of prepayments, if any, or the relative importance of such factors and their potential impact on the actual average life of Program Loans and the expected life of the Offered Bonds. To the extent THDA is required or elects to redeem the Offered Bonds, it is probable that the Offered Bonds will have a shorter life than their stated maturity.

Subject to the requirements of the Resolution, the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution and the Code, such prepayments may (i) be required to pay regularly scheduled debt service to the extent a series of the Bonds was based upon an assumed prepayment level; (ii) be used to redeem Bonds of the related series; (iii) be used to redeem Bonds of any series; or (iv) be recycled into additional Program Loans. Further, prepayments attributable to the Program Loans financed with the proceeds of the Offered Bonds, or other Bonds, or portions thereof, may or will be applied to redeem Offered Bonds as described herein under "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS – Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds – Special Mandatory Redemption of PAC Bonds," "- Special Optional Redemption of the Offered Bonds, including Cross Calls" and "– Mandatory Redemption – 10-Year Rule".

THDA Redemption Practices

The Resolution and the resolutions adopted in connection with other issues of Bonds under the General Resolution specify when THDA is required to redeem Bonds and when THDA may elect to redeem Bonds. See "DESCRIPTION OF OFFERED BONDS - Redemption Provisions for Offered Bonds."
